Because Of Activity In Summer Resorts and On the Farms

Further reduction in the ranks of Maine WPA workers will take place immediately, according to Maine WPA Administrator Albert Abrahamson, who announced yesterday that the WPA is closing its projects in summer resort areas.

"Summer resorts, even in normal years, import thousands of workers from outside the State," Mr. Abrahamson said. "Reports indicate that the summer business this year will be better than normal. It seems reasonable to suppose that needy employable persons resident in the areas concerned should be able to obtain employment."

The Maine WPA is also continuing its policy of suspending projects in areas where there exist demands for labor by farming and lumbering interests, Mr. Abrahamson added. With the closing of several projects the past week the employment quota for the Maine WPA dropped to 5,732 as of May 22, Mr. Abrahamson said.

ARTISTIC GENIUS OF NATION DEVOTED TO MEMORIALIZING AMERICA'S BELOVED DEAD

Observances on Memorial Day Also Do Honor to Artists and Architects Who Are Advancing Memorial Arts Throughout the Country

WHEN Americans by the million turn out on Decoration Day to honor the nation's heroes, they also pay a tribute to the artistic genius of the country as expressed in numerous memorials.

The desire of patriotic communities to offer homage to those who gave their lives for their fellowmen has been a challenge to the sculptors, designers and architects of the country. The variety and beauty of American war memorials and other public and private monuments are proof that the challenge has been met.

Each of these monuments is the center of patriotic ceremonies in which local communities show their gratitude for the sacrifices of their countrymen in the paths of war and of peace. A committee of seventy-five prominent Americans, including outstanding educators, religious leaders and heads of patriotic societies, this year appealed to the country to make Memorial Day observances wider and more revered.

The achievement of higher standards of monument and memorial art in the United States is one of the primary objects of the Memorial Extension Commission.

On the basis of a survey of public and private monuments erected in recent years, the organization declared that "we are witnessing what amounts to a renaissance of memorial art in America."

"The natural human impulse to memorialize those whose work is done," said Roswell M. Austin, secretary of the Commission, "has been through all history the greatest single stimulus to art. A large proportion of the art that has come down to us from ancient times—from the Egyptian sphinx to the Roman sarcophagi—is memorial in its nature. It is only in recent generations that this art form has taken a secondary place in the workshops of the Muses. The tendency to revive that art points, we believe, to a deepening of the sentiments of national patriotism and family loyalty which find expression in memorials."

REDONNETT SPOKE

Wiscasset Orator Gives Lions Patriotic Address — Ludwick For King Lion

The Rockland Lions yesterday had an opportunity of hearing one of Maine's best platform speakers—Bradford C. Redonnett of Wiscasset—always at his best when speaking on a patriotic subject, which was what he did yesterday because of the proximity to Memorial Day.

The speaker declared that if the battle of Gettysburg had resulted differently it would have changed the map of our Nation, and there would probably have been two governments in the continent of North America. The North and South, he said were both at fault in the Civil War because the subject of slavery had not been anticipated in the Constitution. It was that question which brought about the hostile feeling between the North and the South. It became a test case of whether 11 States had a right to secede from the Union. The firing on Fort Sumter precipitated the great conflict.

The United States was termed by the speaker as the best government on God's green earth in spite of all its mistakes.

Memorial Day should have a place in the hearts of our young people. They should see, know and understand that it is the people's day to mark the memory and deeds of those who fought for the Union cause.

"We have reached the place where the flood of immigration should be stemmed," emphatically declared the speaker. "For the benefit of our people the gates should be partly closed."

"The generation of youth is the generation which must carry on to posterity. It is bound to be the underwriters of the future."

"I lose my patience with those who condemn the youth of today. I know boys' problems, and the youth of today is just as good as it was in my day. We're at fault if the boys of today are doing things that should not be done. We have forgotten the guide posts and the sacred things of our history."

(The nominating committee presented the following list of officers to be voted upon at the next meeting:

King Lion—C. Earle Ludwick.
First Vice President—Harold Leach.
Second Vice President—Eugene (Dan) Boone.
Secretary—Lendon C. Jackson, Jr.
Treasurer—Clifton Cross.
Tall Twister—George Sleeper.
Lion Tamer—Parker E. Worrey.
Directors—Frank A. Tirrell, Jr., and Bradford Burgess.

Guests yesterday were Dr. Clyde Figley of Akron, Ohio and Lloyd Daniels.

The members listened with much interest to the letter from Wilbur Senter, who was about to make a trip from the West Coast into Mexico.

LIEUTENANT KUHN

Naval Academy authorities announced Tuesday that 25 members of the class to graduate June 3 would be commissioned second lieutenants in the Marine Corps. They included, C. H. Kuhn, Waldoboro.

"If an afternoon-tea guest begins to talk scandal, the hostess should give her a gentle hint to cease," says a writer. One tactful method is to pour out a saucer of milk and place it on the floor in front of the offender.

MEMORIAL DAY

With flags half-mast, and muffled drums,
With slow and rhythmic tread;
We march once more to hallowed ground,
Where sleep our soldier dead.

We think of them as once they were,
So young, so brave, so strong;
Who said "We'll do our best to right,
Injustices and wrong."

Fathers there were, and brothers, sons,
Husbands and lovers dear;
They parted with a gallant smile,
And brushed away the tear.

Flowers we place upon their graves,
Prayer grips the troubled heart;
Faith visions realms where loved ones meet,
Never again to part.

War! What a dreadful thing it is!
No tongue there is can tell,
The miseries it spreads around,
War makes of earth a hell.

Offspring it is of greed and hate,
A false philosophy;
It mocks the Love that gave us Christ,
Our Christianity.

War fails. It neither helps nor heals,
The sorrows that oppress;
The nations that resort to arms,
War adds to their distress.

God's hour has struck. The time has come,
For world-wide lasting Peace;
Let Brotherhood now build the world,
Ill-will forever cease.

Beside the graves of those who died,
In agony and pain;
We pledge ourselves, so help us God,
War shall not come again.

Then will the dead whose memories,
Today we cherish here;
Rejoice they did not die in vain,
Nor think their death too dear.

THE FISH AND GAMERS

Membership Meeting At Union Last Night Had Distinguished Guests

The spring membership meeting of the Knox County Fish and Game Association was held at Masonic Hall, Union, last night, and while the attendance did not quite meet up with expectations, the event was a complete success, commencing with that excellent chicken supper, and ending

Sleeper of Rockland and Albert B. Elliot of Thomaston; Attorney General Franz U. Burkett of Portland, who said that the Knox County Fish and Game Association was a recognized factor in the State's affairs; P. A. Winslow of The Courier-Gazette and ex-Senator Harold Schnurle, who is now a member of the Executive Council.

Mr. Schnurle was the chief speaker, and the audience was in almost constant laughter over his witty sallies, intermingled with which were words of appreciation. Specially mentioned in his talk were Supervisor Joe Stickney, Representatives Sleeper and Elliot, Ernest C. Davis, E. Stewart Orbeton, Mrs. Fred E. Burkett, Dr. Walter P. Conley, Senator Burkett and Frank E. Morrow.

Mr. Schnurle praised the work of the State Federation of Fish and Game Associations, representing 14 counties and having 22,000 members. Speaking of Commissioner Stobie he said: "We might have a better man on the job, but I don't know where we could find him."

"Stand by the Department!" was the message which the speaker left. Supervisor Stickney showed 1600 feet of film descriptive of hunting and fishing. Very interesting.

"No; he can't climb that high yet."—Windsor Star.

FIREMAN FATALLY SCALDED

Accident On Tug John C. Morrison Results In the Death Of Walter W. Conary

The blowing of a tube from the boiler of the tug John Chester Morrison at 9 o'clock yesterday forenoon filled the fireroom with scalding steam, and brought injuries to the fireman Walter W. Conary, from which he died in the hospital a few hours later.

Conary managed to crawl from the fireroom into the starboard quarter, and unaided climbed a ladder to the edge of the wharf, where he sat calmly awaiting the arrival of the Burpee ambulance.

The few spectators drawn to the scene by the explosion, beheld a pitiful spectacle, and it needed no words to tell them of the man's critical condition. Conary was treated by Dr. Charles D. North, but it was seen that the unfortunate fireman was beyond recovery.

His fate might have been shared by the engineer Edward G. Day, for the latter had come on deck only 10 seconds before the blowout. Capt. Irving Barbour, skipper of the tugboat, was standing on the edge of the wharf.

The Snow Marine Company, which owns the tugboat, promptly notified the federal steamboat inspectors, who came at once from Portland, and spent the greater part of the afternoon viewing the boiler. In the blow-out tube they said they found a hole about the size of a quarter dollar, and this was attributed as the cause of the accident.

The tug had its annual inspection in October and was given a certification for one year.

The victim of the disaster was 23 years of age, and was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett E. Conary. He is survived by his parents, his wife (formerly Marion Mitchell); six brothers, Leo, Lyford, Elmer, Harold, Henry and Eugene, and two sisters, Mrs. Erma Holbrook of Vinalhaven and Miss Viola Conary.

The funeral services will be held Saturday, whether in the forenoon or afternoon had not been determined when this paper went to press.

AN ALLEGED FORGED CHECK

Passed At Camden Yesterday—By Man Who Posed As Rockland Musician

A stranger posing as a well known Rockland musician walked into a Camden bank yesterday, and after a few moments of friendly conversation produced a check for $209, drawn on the town treasury at Beals Island.

Knowing the Rockland musician by reputation and ignorant of the stranger's real identity the cashier cashed the check and the man disappeared.

It was subsequently learned that the check was one of three alleged to have been stolen from the Beals Island town treasury and that the signature was an alleged forgery.

Sheriff C. Earl Ludwick got in touch with Sheriff Harold Hodgkins of Hancock County and gleaned some information which led him to call Portland police headquarters. There he learned from Sergeant Maguire that a man giving the name of George Green was already in custody on the charge of passing of alleged forged checks.

Green is believed to be the man who impersonated the Rockland musician, and thither Sheriff Ludwick went this morning.

BILL DAVIS SAYS

Union Warden Has a Very Optimistic Report On Fish and Game

Game Warden William Davis of Union has been busy this week depositing trout in Knox County waters—3000 eight-inch fish in Crawford's Pond, 1000 six-inch fish in Payson brook and 4000 in St. Georges River. The warden reports that trout fishing this season has been the best he has ever known in spite of the handicap of high water.

Word has been received that 32000 six-inch trout are being held at the Bud Rearing Pool until fall.

In a continued vein of optimism Warden Davis reports deer very plentiful in the woods, an increase of 50 percent in pheasants, and woodcock and partridge abundant.

ROUGH ON ESTEN

That one-time prominent Rockland boy, now wasting his talents as a more than prominent New York business man, loses no touch with what goes on in his old home town. Dropping a line to the editorial department, sez he:

Dear Will: I am sorry that somebody did not tip me off about birthday celebration for Frank Winslow? I regret I did not have opportunity to add my congratulations and best wishes to those of his many other friends at the recent dinner.

You know I take some credit for starting Frank on his journalistic career. Having been editor of the school paper and a Courier-Gazette contributor of "High School Notes" while attending Rockland High, naturally I become a reporter under the late General Herbert M. Lord. Incidentally to that work I arranged with Frank, who was in a class or two below me, to continue the "High School Notes." After he graduated he too went on the staff of the paper and has "made history" as one of the outstanding newspaper men of Maine and New England, and that's praise in plenty.

I have regretted the fact of not having had the privilege of listening to any of his lectures. More than once I suggested to him that they be put into book form or at least run in the Courier-Gazette so that many others might enjoy them. I hope this may be done.

When I recall the torture Frank experienced in his school days when obliged to "declaim," I can hardly realize that he has become a confident and eloquent "platform speaker" which from all reports seems to be the case.

While a little late for the dinner, please extend to Frank my hearty congratulations and every good wish.

Sincerely yours,
Esten W. Porter

WHAT MOVIE STARS EARN

Kay Francis Heads List With $27,500—No Sit-Down Strike

Movie salaries took a substantial lead over industrial pay checks in early filings of 1936 corporation reports at the Securities Commission.

The $227,500 pay that Kay Francis, tall brunette leading lady of Warner Brothers, received compared with the $85,000 top business salary reported to date for Harvey S. Firestone, chairman of the tire and rubber company he founded. Warner Brothers, however, reported a $100,000 retainer for their attorney, James A. Reed.

Cavernous-mouthed Joe E. Brown was listed at $201,562 and Leslie Howard at $185,000 by the same studio, while Universal Pictures reported paying Irene Dunn $102,777 and Director James Whale $105,000. Other studios have not reported for their last fiscal year yet.

The early reports show only one other person who earned more than the fixed $75,000 pay of the President of the United States. E. A. Cudahy, Jr. president of the Cudahy Packing Company of Chicago, drew $75,020.

ALEWIVES WERE RUNNING

But Other Things Were Not Running Quite So Well At "Scotty"

A sit-down strike and lack of barrels paralyzed the alewife packing industry Tuesday—with the Damascutta river teeming with fish.

Old-timers said that never had the fish been so plentiful. But there weren't any barrels to pack them in, so there wasn't much sense catching them.

The sit-down, among eight packers, demanding 30 cents an hour, instead of 25, kept the plant at a standstill until mid-afternoon.

By that time Manager Sella of New York agreed to the pay raise, barrels ran out and an expected delivery from Portland was not forthcoming.

AN OPEN LETTER

Com'r George W. Leadbetter
Strongly Endorses Work
Of Good Will Farm

Augusta, May 21

To the Citizens of the State of Maine:

As Commissioner of Health and Welfare of the State of Maine, and having had a large part in the charitable work of the State for many years prior to the passage of the law whereby the Department of Health and Welfare was established, I realize, perhaps, more than many, the great need for more care for children whose home life for various reasons has been denied them.

The demands upon the State and upon private agencies for this kind of service have been very heavy for the past few years.

Now Good Will Homes and Schools at Good Will Farm, Hinkley, Maine, the largest of its kind and whose character building program is nationally known, founded 48 years ago by Dr. George W. Hinkley, whose graduates have been outstanding in the life of this state and country, has come for the first time in its history to ask publicly the support of citizens in Maine, or close six of its cottage homes, sending out 90 children. This procedure would also bar children for years to come from being admitted.

Maine citizens cannot afford to see these homes closed to its needy children. Rather should the funds be sent to Good Will Farm, Hinkley, Maine, quickly, during the months of May and June, that the anxious hearts of the children there may be set at rest. Also that Dr. Hinkley may know that the citizens of Maine appreciate the great work that he has carried on for so many years for the youth of the State, depending wholly upon private contributions for its support.

SCHOOL BASEBALL BATTLES

The League Standing

The Sports Editor takes this occasion to thank Principal Hunnewell of St. George High School for providing the corrected standing of the Knox and Lincoln League. It would seem to be an almost foregone conclusion that St. George will win its first pennant in this league, although there is a decidedly remote possibility that St. George may lose all of its remaining games and Camden or Rockland might win all of the games not yet played. But the worst St. George can do is to let one of its rivals enter into a tie with it. If somebody kills the fatted calf down in St. George the eating thereof will probably not be postponed. The standing:

	W.	L.	P.C.
St. George	7	0	1.000
Camden	4	3	.571
Rockland	3	3	.500
Vinalhaven	2	3	.400
Thomaston	2	5	.285
Lincoln	1	5	.166

Rockland has a postponed game with Vinalhaven; and Vinalhaven and Lincoln have a postponed double-header which will be played at Community Park tomorrow afternoon.

Vinalhaven High and Lincoln Academy play a double-header at Community Park, Rockland, tomorrow afternoon, the first game to begin at 10 o'clock, daylight time. The Vinalhaven batteries will be: First game, Brown and Erickson; second game, Candage and Erickson. Erickson leads the team in batting, with Peterson a close second.

Watch Rockland High's smoke next season. The team loses but three players by graduation—Anderson, right field; Cuccinello, second base; and Morgan, third base.

St. George 3, Rockland 1

Deduct the trinity of errors from that first inning at St. George Tuesday afternoon and it would have been as fine a school game as one would care to see. The three errors cost Rockland three runs, and while St. George boys never again crossed the platter they did not have to, because the efficient Mr. Mackie was pitching airtight ball. He was a bit generous with passes but the score reveals that best Rockland could do off his delivery was four singles, and four singles rarely win a ball game.

Barlow was on the mound for Rockland when the game started but the youngster never had a chance, for his team-mates rolled up three errors behind him and these, coupled with singles by Mackie and Kinney, netted three markers and spilled the yellow-eyes.

With two-thirds of the first inning gone Barlow swapped jobs with Gray on the bench, and the interested spectators witnessed an exhibition of pitching by the latter which was good enough to have won nine games out of 10. The Rockland boy had excellent speed and control, and the game will go down in history as one of the best he ever pitched. And except in the last inning, when two inexpensive errors were made, he had the best of support from his Rockland team-mates. The double-play by Cuccinello, Billings and LaCrosse was big-time stuff, and the one-hand stop made by Morgan, on Hocking's spiteful grounder, rated in the same class.

The fans watched Billings with special interest and saw that cool-headed chap accept all but one of his nine chances.

Rockland frequently had men on bases but Mackie's brilliant pitching kept them there. Lots of work fell to Smalley behind the bat, and this disciple of Archie's chatter college was right on the job every minute.

Only two men hit safely on two occasions in this game. They were Winchenbach, who is attracting much attention by his work behind the bat; and Kinney, who seems to be the idol of certain Rockland lassies.

SOUTHWEST HARBOR

Mrs. Linda Cook has opened her house for the summer, having spent the winter in Medford, Mass., with her daughter, Mrs. George Sewall.

It was with sorrow that residents here learned of the death of Leonard Dudley at his home at Tepant's Harbor. With true kindness, Mr. Dudley was ever ready to lend a helping hand to all in need. The correspondent and family will never forget the occasion on which Mr. Dudley came from Vinalhaven while on leave of absence from Saddleback Light Station to bring medicine and mail to the keeper of Heron Neck Light and family who were ill with flu; also the pleasant visit with the Dudley family at Southern Island Light Station after they were transferred there from Saddleback.

Bath Times: Steam locomotive No. 1, purchased by Kennebec Wharf & Coal Co. from Rockland-Rockport Lime Co. arrived under its own power from Rockland Friday afternoon. It was operated as a special over the Maine Central system by a Maine Central crew. It left Rockland at ten o'clock, and after proceeding slowly arrived in the Bath freight yard at 3:07. It will be used for yard switching at the Kennebec Wharf & Coal Co. Fred Waite, a former railroad man, will operate the locomotive which will do the work that was performed by the switchers of the A.&K. Rd. Co. A gasoline locomotive is expected next week.

Robert H. House, a former resident of England, has an interesting and valuable souvenir of the recent Coronation, in the form of a faithful reproduction of the Anointing Spoon. Engraved upon it is this statement: "Authentic records show that it [the anointing spoon] dates back to the 12th century and has been used at ceremonies of the Coronation of Kings from that date. The spoon (and the ampulla) are the only existing items of the Original Regalia, part of which was disposed of by Charles I and the remainder melted down at the time of the Commonwealth." Mr. House has also shown us London newspapers with articles published prior to the Coronation and the beautifully illustrated story of the Coronation itself. The souvenir was sent to Mrs. House by Mr. House's sister, Mrs. Martin Northcott. Mr. House witnessed the crowning of King Edward VII.

Bob Allen seems to have tangled with some tough hombres in this scene from his new Columbia-Western drama, "Ranger Courage." The unsmiling fellow standing behind the tree is Bob Kortman, and facing Allen is Walter Miller, leader of a band of renegades. There appears to be a difference of opinion between Allen and the bandits, with the lawless gents winning the argument for the nonce. Martha Tibbets plays the leading feminine role in the film.—adv.

UNDYING LOVE

(For The Courier-Gazette)
So very beautiful is the soul in which Love's magic has been wrought.
That when its flesh to earth has turned
Its loveliness is not forgot.
But shining still amid the dust
It nurtures feeble seed to blossoms fair
And lives again, as Love Undying must.
An hour of fragrance wooing Air.
And you, who live and love today,
Trading a garden path at will
Indeed! indeed! you have reality—
But yours alone is not the thrill!

"On Midsummer's Day"

Scores of seats were added to care for the crowds that thronged the Opera House last night at the first night's presentation of the operetta, "On Midsummer's Day" by grade pupils.

A garden in the height of flowering glory was the brilliant scene of Act 1. Bees and butterflies in crisp cellophane wings hovered about, and all seemed happiness supreme till the flowers complained of being neglected by their mistress, Phyllis Arnold. A kind fairy queen, Wilma Dougherty, regal in crown and sceptre, promised to take the pretty posies to fairland as a lesson to their owner, whereupon they were whisked away on wings of song.

Subdued piano accompaniment by Miss Elizabeth Calder was attuned to the childish trebles, being perfect in pitch. Miss Calder also assisted the teachers in directing the operetta.

AT THE STRAND FRIDAY-SATURDAY

Other solo work in the first act consisted of a song and dance by Phyllis Leach and Mary Meserve. Tiny tots in yellow played the golden sunbeams, and the queen's fairy band were adorable in bespangled white dresses and bearing starry wands.

"Up the Airy Mountain" sang wood elves as the setting changed to the queen's realm of fairland. These pixies were brown kilts, red sashes, jaunty scarlet caps and performed a smart drill in military style. Buxom brownies brought a laugh as their puffed-up appearance contrasted sharply with that of their dainty partners, the fairies, as they tripped in a roundelay. Maxine Duffell sang a solo "A Wish" and Cynthia Rich with Walter Wadsworth figured in a duet.

To teach the child proper care of her garden, sunbonnet babes with watering pails appeared, closely followed by overall boys carrying hoes. Thomas McKay told in song, "How To Make Your Garden Grow" and so did Cedric Joyce, who though scarcely big enough to hold a hoe, was right there on his music.

Repentant of her neglect and resolving to do better in future, the child was presently made happy when her lovely flowers were restored to her by the fairy queen. A quartet of "air mysteries" was made up of Genie Daily, Barbara Dyer, Phyllis Leach, and Constance Bowden. In the finale and opening chorus the massed costumes of every hue and shape gave evidence of what amazing results can be obtained when interested parents turn satens and crepe paper to best advantage.

Subdued piano accompaniment by Miss Elizabeth Calder was attuned to the childish trebles, being perfect in pitch. Miss Calder also assisted the teachers in directing the operetta. Standing room only is the prospect for the second performance tonight.

Lincoln 18, Thomaston 13
Sounded like somebody beating a carpet on Styvie Hill, Thomaston, Tuesday afternoon, but it was only Lincoln Academy and Thomaston High swatting the ball for 32 hits and 31 scores. Thomaston happened to be on the wrong end of the endurance contest, but it was no fault of Anderson who came out of the fray with two singles, a double and a triple to his credit. Reed and Delano were the runners-up.

Alden Hall of Bunker Hill says that although last winter was hard on poultrymen he was able to make a slight profit with his flock. He has sold most of his cows and is planning to use the barn for a poultry house.

From all indications there is to be a big crop of apples this year as the trees are going to blossom full. Many of the orchardists have applied the pink bud spray.

Clifton Robbins of Hope, says that a good bound dog hatched in his poultry range is proving good insurance for him. He has several hundred pullets on range.

"I COMPARED THEM ALL... THEN PICKED CHRYSLER ROYAL!"

—says CHARLES H. BRINGMAN
CLEVELAND

"When I heard Chrysler was invading the low-priced field, I was intensely interested in what kind of car this Chrysler would be. I not only looked it over carefully... but compared it with the other cars in its field.

"I found nothing that approached the Chrysler Royal in sheer dollar-for-dollar value. And since I have owned it, it has exceeded my highest expectations... in economy... riding comfort... and performance.

"With a wealth of engine power available, all modern safety devices, and outstanding smartness of styling, the car affords a pride of ownership which surpasses all other cars at anywhere near its size and price."

"BEYOND COMPARISON FOR ROOM"
—Mrs. Oscar Hicks,
San Francisco

"I AM MORE pleased with the Chrysler Royal than any other car I have owned. Its styling is so distinctively different. And really—no other car, even those priced considerably higher, compares with it for roominess. The safety of its all-steel body gives me a genuine feeling of security."

ALL AMERICA IS TALKING ABOUT THIS AMAZING CAR!

"BEST LOOKING CAR OF THEM ALL!"
—Elmer Hirschhorn,
New York

"I THINK THAT the Chrysler Royal is the best looking car on the road... and it certainly is a wonder to drive. I use my Royal in business, and in all kinds of driving. I easily show 18 miles per gallon of gasoline. I never saw a better riding car."

"21 MILES PER GALLON ON COUNTRY TRIPS"
—Geo. C. Bourne,
Hammond, Ind.

"EVEN WITHOUT its remarkable economy, the Chrysler Royal would be a great car from the standpoint of power, pick-up, smoothness and riding comfort. But when you can have all those things in a great big roomy car, and still enjoy greater economy than smaller cars, you really have a miracle of engineering!"

CHRYSLER INVADERS THE LOW-PRICED FIELD!

THE BIG CHRYSLER Royal costs very little more than the lowest-priced cars. Easy to buy on convenient terms with the official Commercial Credit Company plan.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY
Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

A FABRICS EXPERT

Miss Curtis Tells the Fine
Points At the Store Of Senter Crane

"New materials are always found in piece goods first," says Miss Miriam L. Curtis, fabric expert from the Lux Laboratories, who is at Senter-Crane's this week. "The reason is obvious. The manufacturers who make up dresses must buy fabrics by the yard, too, so by the time they are on the market, you can have yours made."

"Almost every woman is a designer at heart. She knows what colors look well on her; whether she needs small prints or can wear gay sprawling ones, what necklines are most flattering, and what points of her figure are best revealed or concealed."

"When she makes her own clothes she can be satisfied on all points. It's much more economical, too, to stick to a planned out color scheme, than to be misled into buying orphan colors simply because the style doesn't 'come' in anything else."

"Then, too, it's so easy to get the new weaves and finishes in piece goods, sanforized-shrunk cottons, crease-resistant linens, pure dye silks, and velvety-surfaced rayon prints that Lux like a dream."

"Clever young brides-to-be are making their own, too. A wedding dress with one of the popular diminutive boleros, like the one Senter-Crane is showing in its window this week, can have a practical after-life as an evening dress. The new rayon satins can be swished through rich lukewarm suds right at home, and come out gleaming white, time after time."

"To protect colors, I always advise using lukewarm water. With plenty of rich suds they come out clean very quickly without any need of soaking. Soaking, hot water, and leaving colors rolled up are apt to streak and fade fabrics that otherwise will wash perfectly. To speed up drying, and discourage 'running,' it is well to press out the excess moisture in a Turkish towel; but be sure that you never leave colored fabrics rolled up while damp. Dry in the shade, of course. Most crinkled surfaces iron best when dry, smooth materials while slightly damp. To play safe, try ironing a small corner first. Dark-colored cottons should be pressed on the wrong side."—adv.

The husband drew up a chair beside his wife's sewing machine the other day and remarked:

"Don't you think it's running too fast? Look out, you sew the wrong seam. Slow down or you'll stick that needle in your finger!"

"Why, what's the matter with you? I've been running this machine for ten years."

"Oh, I was merely trying to assist you. Just as you try to help me drive the car."—Diamond Points.

Gen. Logan's Orders

At the request of Mrs. Eliza Plummer, press correspondent, and patriotic instructor of Ruth Mayhew Tent, D.U.V., and in memory of the late Capt. H. R. Huntley, who loved his order, the Grand Army of the Republic, and all matters pertaining to this sacred day, Gen. Logan's Memorial Day order is here republished:

The 30th day of May, 1868, is designated for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late rebellion, and whose bodies now lie in almost every city, village, and hamlet churchyard in the land. In this observance no form or ceremony is prescribed, but posts and comrades will in their own way arrange such fitting services and testimonials of respect as circumstances may permit.

We are organized, comrades, as our regulations tell us, for the purpose, among other things, "of preserving and strengthening those kind and fraternal feelings which have bound together the soldiers, sailors and marines who united to suppress the late rebellion." What can aid more to assure this result than by cherishing tenderly the memory of our heroic dead, who made their breasts a barricade between our country and its foes? Their soldier lives were the reveille of freedom to a race in chains, and their death a tattoo of rebellious tyranny in arms. We should guard their graves with sacred vigilance. All that the consecrated wealth and taste of the Nation can add to their adornment and security is but a fitting tribute to the memory of her slain defenders. Let no wanton foot tread rudely on such hallowed grounds. Let pleasant paths invite the coming and going of reverent visitors and fond mourners. Let no vandalism of avarice or neglect, no ravages of time, testify to the present or to the coming generations that we have forgotten, as a people, the cost of a free and undivided Republic.

If other eyes grow dull and other hands slack, and other hearts cold in the solemn trust, ours shall keep it well as long as the light and warmth of life remain in us.

Let us, then, at the time appointed gather around their sacred remains and garland the passionless mounds above them with choicest flowers of springtime; let us raise above them the dear old flag they saved from dishonor; let us, in this solemn presence renew our pledges to aid and assist those whom they have left among us a sacred charge upon the Nation's gratitude,—the soldier's and sailor's widow and orphan.

It is the purpose of the Commander-in-Chief to inaugurate this observance with the hope that it will be kept up from year to year, while a survivor of the war remains to honor the memory of his departed comrades. He earnestly desires the public press to call attention to this order, and lend its friendly aid in bringing it to the notice of comrades in all parts of the country in time for simultaneous compliance therewith.

Department commanders will use every effort to make this order effective.

Always a favorite among New England housewives because of its fine baking oven, this Glenwood will now also be cherished for its new, smart, smooth appearance, too. It has been re-styled—given an outside beauty treatment—so that now you will admire it for its looks just as much as for the way it cooks. Beneath its sleek surface there is still the same solid Glenwood cast-iron construction that will last a lifetime. The secret of its finer baking is the exclusive Glenwood 5-side flue principle which circulates the heat more evenly. The large, square, straight side oven is scientifically designed to bake better and to make the most of the fuel you burn. Get rid of that old range. Replace it with this new re-styled Glenwood "C" before the cold weather sets in. See it—today!

Heard Seen Said

AT THE NATION'S CAPITOL

By Clyde H. Smith, representing Maine's Second Congressional District.

"Just as the Twig is Bent, the Tree's Inclined."

Of education there can scarcely be too much, but perhaps we have placed the emphasis, more than we should on classical rather than practical knowledge. Favorably reported by the Committee on Labor and recently passed by the House of Representatives, recognizing that "Just as the twig is bent, the tree's inclined," the Fitzgerald Bill proposes to encourage the training of apprentices, to the end that better plumbers, more skillful carpenters, better informed agriculturists—more dexterous and efficient artisans in every line—shall better serve the coming generation and hence better serve themselves. The measure ensures greater security and permanence, for the period of training, both for the employer and the apprentice. The purpose of the legislation was very well put by a witness, at one of the hearings:

"The development of sound apprenticeship programs for the training of skilled workmen, in accordance with employment needs, is of recognized advantage to labor, to employers, to young people, and the public. Such training would become a very important part of our national economy; its need has long been recognized."

The most of us have discovered, quite suddenly it would seem, that there are an ample number of men who know what to do but too few men who know how to do it; or, at any rate, a disproportionate number of trained minds as compared with the number of trained hands. The Fitzgerald Bill proposes, to quite an extent, that the young man shall learn by doing, under expert supervision or with a suitable amount of classroom work. It provides for a definite contract between the prospective craftsman and his employer, with increase in wages from year to year.

The shortage of skilled help, in many—perhaps most—trades, is an embarrassment to the individual employer and a very real handicap to the nation. It has come about, in part, because those establishments which formerly maintained apprentice systems, have abandoned or curtailed them, during the depression. It is possible that the introduction of the assembly line and mass production have operated in some degree, to reduce the need for trained men, but the development of highly technical and complicated machines has more than offset that influence by the call for skilled workmen to build, repair and operate them.

In the hearing before the Labor Committee, it developed that employers who maintained an apprentice system were robbed of their trained men by those who took no trouble and went to no expense as to training. Others testified that there were a few chiseling employers who set up fake apprentice plans as a means of exploiting their younger employees. Such matters are hard to control by legislation but the Fitzgerald Bill would offer some protection in both instances. It also provides for a study of the trend of industry so that apprentices may enter the various trades, so far as may be, in sufficient number to fill, but not overfill, the need.

If thousands of young men throughout the nation, now employed at dispiriting, unremunerative tasks, or a bare subsistence wage, could have earlier had the training which will be made available by the Fitzgerald Bill, they could now be engaged in agreeable work, highly useful to themselves and others. As a member of the subcommittee on Labor, I was quite happy in helping to shape this legislation and in aiding to so present it to the House of Representatives as to secure its approval by that body.

MARK TWAIN OF SEVEN SEAS

Famous over the world as a story teller, guest of royalty in many lands, Captain Pat Tayler, this lover of children, will make his home at Vinal Haven Camp this summer. There he will pursue his vocation of instilling into the hearts of the young, a knowledge and an abiding affection for the romance of the sea which he has sailed for 67 years. Captain Tayler is a real living person, no matter how much he may sound like a character out of Joseph Conrad or Jack London. This sun tanned, weather beaten skipper, who knows exposure to the winds of the Seven Seas is indeed a traveling geography. His astonishing experiences, both on land and sea, are treasures of adventure, mystery, romance, thrills, all never-to-be-forgotten for those who are permitted to enjoy his friendship. This hardy perennial, sturdy "old salt" is an influence for companionship which will remain with boys throughout the years.

At the age of 14, Patrick Tayler stole away to sea. Sent on an errand in Eastport, he landed in Calcutta. At 24 he had his Master's papers, the youngest Captain in the Merchant Marine. After sailing the Seven Seas for many years, the Captain intended to take a short vacation in Africa. This "vacation" lasted 18 years. While in Africa he became a trail blazer, hunter, prospector, and a member of the Jungle Rangers.

While in the Bechuanaland Border Police, he joined the forces of Baden Powell, while the Boer War was in progress. The aftermath of this meeting gave Baden Powell the idea of a world-wide boy movement, known today as Scouting.

TWO BIG DAYS

The Subscription Campaign Workers Have Wonderful Opportunity

The most important period of the entire Courier-Gazette "Salesmanship" Contest comes to a fateful final close promptly at 9 p. m. Saturday.

All the Grand Prizes are to be given away for votes. And the biggest and best opportunity left for acquiring votes ends with the close of Second Period.

These final hours should see candidates hustling as they never have before. Every one of them should realize that the value of the three biggest prizes at stake runs into hundreds of dollars. And the next awards after the three are purses of cash and commissions—CASH. Think of it. Think what it means. Don't forget the $25 ending this Saturday.

It is entirely possible for any candidate in the list to absolutely get enough votes by 9 p. m. Saturday to "cinch" these big gifts. It is possible for a candidate to make over $600 in these next few hours. Simply by taking full advantage of the present big vote offer.

Understand, too, that this Bonus vote offer will never be repeated. It expires Saturday, 9 p. m. After that $18 Clubs will count for many less bonus votes. The vote schedule reduces rapidly during the short time that remains till the close of the big event.

It's the big subscriptions that count most votes. By getting a few of these it is possible for any candidate in the list to win a $500 by June 19. The race so far is slow and close. This is what you might call opportunity.

The Courier-Gazette campaign office will be open until 9 p. m. Saturday night to receive subscriptions on the $25 cash offer.

All subscriptions, however, mailed in any postoffice, anywhere, before 9 p. m. Saturday will count in on the big offer even though they do not reach the Courier-Gazette office until Monday or Tuesday. Candidates who cannot get their report post marked are allowed the privilege to call The Courier-Gazette Campaign office giving the amount of report.

This is no time to dilly dally. This is time for action. Now is the time to win the prize of your choice. If you are ever going to do anything big do it now.

Don't waste a minute. Get so interested that you think "win" in your sleep—it won't hurt you, and it will make you carry on. You must have it in your head to win if you are to win. No one is going to bring one of these wonderful cash prizes or any of the other extraordinary gifts to you on a platter. You've got to go and get what you want.

Then Get Another

After you think you have every subscription you can get, go out and get another, and another. That

FISH FOR "RELIEF"

The Federal Government Buys 33,000 Pounds From Com'r Feyler's Plant

The Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation said Saturday that nearly a quarter million pounds of surplus frozen fish had been bought, to date, in Maine for distribution to persons on relief.

Those from whom purchases have been made are: Boothbay Harbor Fish and Storage Company, 30,000 pounds; Busalacchi Bros., of Portland, 21,616 pounds; Marine Fish Company, of Portland, 3,060 pounds; Willard Daggett Company, of Portland, 32,000; The Portland Fish Company, 120,000 pounds; Feyler's Inc. of Rockland, 33,000.

From seven to ten million pounds of surplus fish are to be bought in the program of taking surplus frozen fish off the market in a bill passed last month by Congress authorizing the Corporation to spend a million dollars for the purpose. To date about five million pounds have been bought in New England. Offers are being asked from holders of large quantities of whiting, hake, cod, pollock and haddock. Prices vary from 3½ cents to 6 cents a pound. The bill puts June 3 as the deadline for purchase, though distribution may continue as long as fish remain.

MOTHER DOING WELL

Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh Will Soon Leave the Maternity Hospital

Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh is almost ready to leave the London maternity hospital where she gave birth to her third boy May 12.

She and the child are in a seventh floor room of the fashionable nursing home, where the flying colonel goes to see them regularly.

The jam of Coronation Day traffic, it was learned, almost kept Mrs. Lindbergh from reaching the home before the baby was born. She and the Colonel, motoring from their home in Kent, had to make a wide detour and arrived just in time.

Col. Lindbergh and their other surviving son, four-year-old Jon, were said to be living temporarily in London.

"One more" may be the deciding factor in your favor. Realize that later on the vote schedule is much less than what it is today. What you do now counts many times what it will later.

Can you be satisfied. Can you sit idly by while someone else gets out and takes away from you the prize of your choice—the prize you know can be yours if you will it so? You can win. You know you can. You have it in you. You have the ability. You have friends.

Study the special prize offer on another page of this issue and start now.

LIKED THE SERMON

Members of Patriotic Bodies Heard Answer To Query: "What Is Patriotism?"

Rev. Charles A. Marsteller of Littlefield Memorial Church answered the question "What Is Patriotism?" to members of Ruth Mayhew Tent, D.U.V. who accompanied Allen Kelley, 93, and other members of patriotic orders to church last Sunday. Those attending listened to as fine a sermon as they were ever privileged to hear.

Rev. Mr. Marsteller's subject was well chosen and would have pleased the scores of heroes who established the custom of attending divine service Sunday preceding Memorial Day in honor of the nation's dead, both North and South.

The speaker proved that true patriotism springs not from the urge to join the fighting forces, not the urge to finance loans to assist in protection of property or government, not from childhood teachings, but rather from the heart of God, that through His great sacrifice we might live to enjoy justice, truth and liberty.

The opening services were made beautiful by the responsive reading interpreted by singing "America the Beautiful" by the quartet; instrumental numbers by the Misses Harper; and address to the youth of the congregation.

The guests agreed that it was as fine a Memorial Day service as they had ever attended and with the patriotic instructor of Ruth Mayhew Tent, unite in thanking Rev. Mr. Marsteller and his workers for the invitation to attend this service.

SOUTHERN BAPTISTS

Southern Baptists have contributed $662,490 toward payment of church debts since the formation of the "Hundred Thousand Club" the annual convention was told. J. E. AT HOLLY INN

Will Be Held Annual Banquet of Lincoln Academy Alumni June 17

The Lincoln Academy Alumni banquet will take place Thursday night, June 17, at 7:30 daylight time. For the third year it will be held at Holly Inn, Christmas Cove.

Last year 207 graduates, former students and friends agreed that the Alumni banquet was becoming a more important event each year. This year many more are expected. However, it is absolutely necessary that you buy or reserve your tickets at least a week before the 17th of June. You may do so by writing or calling Miss Tillie Foster, Damariscotta, or sending directly to the L. A. Alumni Association, Newcastle.

The management of Holly Inn has promised a delicious chicken dinner. (The price is $1.25 per plate). Dr. Elmer Carleton of Hanover, N. H., a graduate of Lincoln in the class of 1889, and now connected with the medical school of Dartmouth College, will be the guest speaker. After the program there will be dancing in the dining room and a chance for renewing acquaintances and talking over old times in the lobby.

Those who have been present at either of the last two Alumni banquets have agreed that Holly Inn is the place for it and it is becoming a more important event each year.

AT CAMDEN HILLS

A Lady Friend Like Suzy—The C. C. C. Educational Program

Clarence Dubey of Ft. Kent and Walter Leach of Bar Harbor, enrollees at 1130 Co. CCC in Camden, report that if you get stuck with a lady friend like Suzy, the newest Camden Hills favorite, you will never as long as you live forget her distinguishing fine points. Suzy, the latest addition to the camp nature study zoo is a porcupine which the two young gentlemen presented to the camp this week. She lives in a large wire cage and eats heartily on bread and milk. Other porcupines may very likely be added to the collection in the near future as Walter "Winchell" Leavitt, Passadumkeag senior leader at the camp, predicts that a blessed event is in the offering.

The summer CCC educational program in Maine has been planned to include academic classes especially arranged to prepare for high school and college; recreation and sports of an educational nature, weekly excursions for nature study, geology study, photography clubs, and outing clubs; dramatics, carnivals, circuses, and field days organized in the camps for the community; summer sciences including agriculture, poultry raising, game management, and stock raising; vocational courses now in operation; and the hobby and craft groups now in operation.

W. D. MacLaughlin, Commanding Officer.

A new series of radio talks presented by county home demonstration agents and farm women begins May 27. The talks will be heard at 11:45 each Thursday morning over WLBZ Bangor, and at 2:30 each Thursday afternoon over WCSH, Portland.

Van Duren, William David, Gordon Duff, Jessamine Newcombe, Dorothy Bernard, Day Elliot and Winifred Law. Prices for Lakewood performances will be $1, plus tax, for the entire main floor and the centre balcony, and 50 cents plus tax for the side balconies.

Visitors to Lakewood Saturday will notice many improvements, particularly in the grounds, a crew of 20 men having worked for the last six weeks on new landscaping plans. Two new overnight bungalows have been added to the row of The Birches and backstage a new electrical switchboard has been added to the equipment.

Among stage and screen celebrities who will appear in bills during the season at Lakewood will be Mary Rogers, Edith Barrett, Frankie Thomas, Jean Dixon, Erin O'Brien-Moore, Martha Sleeper, Hardie Albright, Sally Rand, Nance O'Neill, Mary Servoss, Katherine Alexander, Owen Davis, Jr., Tom Keene Grace Stafford, James Rennie, Donald Diloway, Harold Gould, Beatrice Graham, Astrid Allyn and Albert Hackett.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, lumpy and the world looks lumpy.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get it the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. Doc.

Tenants Harbor Days

Capt. and Mrs. Alfred E. Rawley of Hampden Highlands came up to our landing recently, piloted by their son, Leon, of Wollaston, Mass., to return the call we made upon them some 30 years ago at their home. It was Mr. Rawley, then; Pilot, now.

The ladies talked shop in the saloon and the gray haired old men talked ship in the pilot house. The captain has all the hairs on his head that he ever had, and not a gray one, while Boze has some of the hairs on his head he once had, and every one a gray one. It was some "gam" and no doldrums during the two hours of the visit. How often the words of the song come to me these days, "O for the wings of a dove, I would fly over land and over sea." So many friends, but distance prevents my getting to see them.

We just got underway when Leon came for them. We had just time for a cup of coffee, and they sailed away on their journey. It was the first time we had met for more than 16 months. When shall we meet again? "Ships that pass in the night and speak to each other in passing. So on the ocean of life we pass and speak one to another."

We are very glad for the short call, Eddie, and on your next trip up you must plan for a longer stay and then we could really "gam." Well, a summer on the Penobscot River is not so bad after all. We hope you enjoy it.

FROM AN OLD PAPER

Some Interesting Local Items Found In 1895 Issue of the Lewiston Journal

N. F. Cobb, staunch friend of his home paper, The Courier-Gazette, hands us a copy of the Lewiston Saturday Journal dated Nov. 23, 1895, in which there was a column of Rockland news.

The candidacy of Col. Lorenzo D. Carver, for commandment of the Department of Maine, G.A.R. was being boosted.

Edwin Libby Post G.A.R. voted to remodel the Lovejoy house on Union and Limerock streets for a Grand Army hall.

A number of local saloons had been raided, and in one of them four men were arrested for playing the wicked game of poker.

Bowdoin College had just completed another football season. William W. Spear of Rockland was playing center on the '98 team.

Some familiar advertisements were published—California Syrup of Figs, True's Pin Work Elixir, Cuticura, Royal Baking Powder, Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

MOBILGAS WINS IN ROCKLAND

HERE ARE SOME of the reasons local motorists think of Socony when the gas gauge reads "Low!"

At the Socony Sign they get:

- 1 Mobilgas—America's largest-selling gasoline. Most popular in this community, too!
- 2 Quick Service—radiator, oil, tires, carefully checked.
- 3 A Clean Station—and washrooms that are kept spotless.

That's Friendly Service! It wins friends for Socony Dealers...because it makes motoring a lot more pleasant.

The next time you need gasoline, get Mobilgas (and Friendly Service) at your neighborhood Socony Dealer's.
