

The Courier-Gazette

THREE-TIMES-A-WEEK
Editor
WM. O. FULLER
Associate Editor
FRANK A. WINSLOW

Subscriptions $3.00 per year payable in advance; single copies three cents.
Advertising rates based upon circulation and very reasonable.
NEWSPAPER HISTORY
The Rockland Gazette was established in 1846. In 1874 the Courier was established and consolidated with the Gazette in 1882. The Free Press was established in 1853 and in 1891 changed its name to the Tribune. These papers consolidated March 17, 1897.

I am a great friend to public amusements, for they keep people from vice—Johnson.

Motor Licenses

Fourteen Of Them Suspended—What Was Done In Other Cases

Licenses of 14 motor vehicle operators of Maine were indefinitely suspended Thursday by Secretary of State Frederick Robie after he had conducted hearings on various complaints and petitions for restoration of operators' certificates.

Robie issued a conditional license to John B. Barry of Belfast, whose permit had been revoked because of a drunken driving charge. Robie said. He suspended for 30 days the licenses of Ephrem Cote of Augusta, speeding complaint, and Robert L. Sidel of Madison, reckless driving complaint.

The license of Alvin Brewer of West Southport was suspended to Jan. 1 of next year, because of a reckless driving complaint. Robie suspended until insurance security was filed the license of George F. Morrill of Rockport, reckless driving complaint.

Robie restored the license of William B. Greene of Milton, Mass., "pending final disposition of drunken driving case." He denied the petition of Harold J. French of Wadoboro for restoration of his license, revoked because of a drunken driving charge.

Robie said conditional licenses would be issued to August Apin of Togus, "misstatement of fact" complaint, and Almee Godbout of Lewiston, drunken driving complaint, when they "pass compulsory examinations."

Lady: "Please send me a leg of mutton."
Butcher: "I'm sorry, but I have had such a run on my legs today that I have none left."

FOR SALE

Sixty-six Hereford Cattle—one-half Heifers and one-half Steers; weight 400 pounds up; to arrive Oct. 7.
C. M. BURGESS
Telephone 6-4 Union Maine 118-128

FOR SALE OCT. 12

54 Head of Pure-bred Hereford Heifers. All T. B. and abortion tested. Five bulls and five steers. All T. B. tested.

WILLIAM SMALL
ROCKLAND, MAINE
121-122

PLEASANT VALLEY GRANGE, NO. 274

ANNUAL

BAZAAR

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 15

Afternoon and Evening
Free Admission

CHICKEN PIE SUPPER—5.30 TO 7.00
Adults, 50c; Children, 25c

121-122

FOR SALE

BUSINESS ON MAIN STREET

Good For $1000 to $1500 a Week
Owner has other plans

Inquire of

ELMER C. DAVIS

INSURANCE AND REAL ESTATE
375 MAIN ST. ROCKLAND TEL. 77

119-121

Big Black Bears

Claims For Bounties Indicate They're Plentiful—So Are Partridges

Big, shiny black bear which bellowed and cowered in an appearance of clumsiness are falling before accurately aimed rifles of quick shooting hunters in Maine's vast forests.

That the short-snouted beasts are plentiful in virtually all sections of the Pine Tree State is evidenced by bounty and damage claims paid by the State during the summer months. Many of the claims came from Island Falls, Willamette, Athens, Topsheld, Carroll, Prentiss and Lee.

Bear are just as thick, however, in other sections, especially in the 13,000,000 acres of woodland from which damage claims are only occasional because there are few if any camps or storehouses for bear to break into and no domestic animals for them to kill.

The bear season opened the same day as the partridge and woodcock seasons, Oct. 1. Bird shooters have returned with reports of having seen many bear signs and a lot of deer. Deer will become legal targets in the six northern counties commencing October 16 and in the rest of Maine beginning Nov. 1.

Many sportsmen who used to seek only the swift and wary deer now concentrate on bear as they have found that it requires just as much if not more skill to bag one of the under-slung beasts as it does to get a shot at a fleet-footed white-tail.

A map showing distribution of wild game in Maine, prepared from information supplied by wardens of the Maine Department of Inland Fisheries and Game, shows in graphic form that many kinds of wild animals inhabit virtually every section of the State, with moose, deer, bear, fox, raccoon and rabbits predominating.

State and Federal wardens report an abundance of ducks and geese on resting and feeding grounds. The water fowl season opened Oct. 9.

Commissioner Stoble of the State Fish and Game Department, after an aerial expedition into various parts of the State, reported partridge as "very thick everywhere."

BATES' DEBATING SEASON

A women's team from the University of Vermont will open Bates' fall debating season in Lewiston Oct. 21, discussing the question: "Resolved: that the several States should adopt the unicameral system of legislation." Elizabeth Kadjirooni '38, Lewiston; Ellen Craft '38, New York; and Caroline Pulsifer '39, Poland, will uphold the affirmative for Bates. Prof. Brooks Quimby, debating coach announced. Because the topic is the same as that for the high school debating leagues throughout the country this winter, invitations to attend have been sent to nearly 50 High Schools in Maine and New Hampshire, members of the Bates Inter-scholastic Debating League.

LIVE AND LET LIVE

Representative James C. Oliver (Rep.-Me.) declared in Portland Thursday Maine stood at the bottom of the list of 48 states in programs for old age assistance. Such old age aid as given in Maine, he told the 13 Class, a church organization, was "a living indictment of the apathy of Maine people and we should be ashamed of it." He advocated a "live and help live" social philosophy.

Arthur Orne Case

Local Insurance Man, Who Was In Collision With Locomotive, On Trial

Arthur L. Orne, prominent local insurance man, was arraigned before Judge Z. M. Dwinall in Municipal Court Thursday morning on a charge of violating traffic regulations. The complaint was the aftermath of an accident which occurred July 13 at the railroad crossing on upper Limerock street when an automobile driven by Mr. Orne was in collision with the locomotive of the Limerock Railroad Company.

An impressive array of witnesses appeared on behalf of the complainant, consisting of the engineer, fireman, conductor and other trainmen. The particular provision of the law relating to the case requires a traveler upon the way where a railroad crossing is located to reduce the speed of his vehicle and proceed cautiously over the crossing.

Witnesses called by the State told of an unusually heavy rain, accompanied by considerable wind. The whistle was blown 100 feet south of the crossing and the bell was ringing continuously. The train consisted only of the locomotive and the entire crew was in the cab. Only those on the left side witnessed the accident. The automobile was apparently not visible until the locomotive arrived at the street line. Its position was placed at between 30 and 40 feet at the time. Estimates of the automobile's speed varied from 20 to 30 miles an hour.

At the conclusion of the plaintiff's evidence, Mr. Orne's attorney, Charles T. Smalley, moved for a continuance for a reasonable time in which to prepare the defense. The case was accordingly continued for further hearing until Oct. 19 at 2 p. m.

County Attorney Burrows presented the case for the prosecution. Mr. Orne was severely injured at the time of the accident and bears some apparently permanent scars upon his forehead. His automobile sustained extensive damage and repairs to the locomotive are said to approximate $50. Mr. Orne claimed he was proceeding cautiously at the time, but owing to the heavy wind and rain did not hear the bell of the locomotive and because of the buildings, trees and flat cars on his right, was not aware of its approach until too late to avoid a collision.

From An Old Paper

Comes Story Of Putnam Company Raised In What Is Now Washington

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—In looking over some old papers I found something which will be of interest to some of your subscribers, especially those in Washington, as Putnam was a former name of Washington. I have copied the paper exactly, spelling and all:

"Putnam Company of Mark Hatches Battalion of 1813 and 1814.

"Jefferson did not believe in war in face of terrible fighting in Europe. The English robbed our vessels, took 1400 of our Seamen and hundreds of ships, built Forts on American Territory. People all in a cowardly sleep East of the Alleghenies. Patriotic in the West.

"Tecumseh, an Indian Chief, formed a nation of Sixteen tribes to exterminate all the Whites in the West.

"Henry Clay got a Declaration of war through Congress.

"A Battalion was formed here in 1813 on their hook (I presume this means on their own hook B. M. J.) of four Companies. Palermo two, Montville one, Putnam one. They were called out three times. Maine was the only place that was loyal to the West, except the Sailors.

"Putnam Company of Mark Hatch Battalion, James Daggett, Captain; Daniel McCurdy, Lieutenant; Sargent, William Witt, Calvin Starrett, William Priest, John Gil Patrick, John Bowman, John Clark.

Privates
Clark, Eliah
Cooland, Daniel
Cunningham, John
Cunningham, Samuel
Cunningham, John
Cunningham, Simon
Cunningham, Timothy
Davis, Daniel
Dearing, John
Dearing, William
Dodge, Teier
Doe, Samuel
Eastman, Enos
Farrar, Thomas
Fitch, Henry
Fish, John
Grove, Enoch
Gibbs, Thomas
Gil Patrick, Thomas
Gill Patrick, David
Grenell, Phillip
Heaton, Isaac
Hibbert, Daniel
Hopkins, Robert
Jones, Abinay
Lawton, James
Leigh, Henry
Leigh, Martin
Light, Peter
Lester, Charles
Lester, George
Manning, John
Marr, John, Jr.
Montgomery, Robert
Moody, John
Overlock, Joseph
Overlock, Jacob
Overlock, John
Overlock, Martin
Pelon, Joel
Pinkham, Anso
Pinkham, John
Razor, Charles Jr.
Razor, Jacob
Rawlin, Eliphalet
Speed, Benjamin
Speed, Robert
Taylor, John S.
Tibbets, Benjamin
Toby, Joseph
Walker, Henry
Wilson, Walter
Nelson, Randal
Wincapaw, Jacob
Witt, Sewell

By Blanche M. Johnston.
Washington, Oct. 6.

Law And Order

Rotarians Yesterday Given Interesting Pointers About It By Chief Richardson

It helps in many ways, in these days, to understand our world at large. If one can understand it, it is equally important that we understand our local communities and especially those who are endeavoring to serve us in some trusted public capacity.

Rotarians yesterday were treated to a comprehensive and informing talk by Chief of Police Almon P. Richardson; a talk that gave his hearers something of an insight into the problem of maintaining law and order among us. He emphasized the fact that police officers are appointed by the political party in power and stated that civil service applied to police departments in our American cities would be a marked gain for the public in law enforcement.

He gave very interesting figures on the different offenses for which offenders are taken into custody. He dwelt upon difficulties growing out of the fact that our country has a liquor license while surrounding countries do not.

The problem of law enforcement is one of cooperation between the public and the police department. This fact was driven home by Chief Richardson's talk.

Visiting Rotarians were Frank Poland, Boston; Gilbert Harmon, Camden; Gustos, Dwight Stanley, Monhegan; Arthur Robinson, Rockland.

Save The Pheasant

Appeal For Good Sportsmanship In Protecting This Bird

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—Now that the open season for taking upland game birds is here many hunters will go afield to enjoy their favorite sport.

In certain localities many pheasants will be found and due to the friendliness of the farmer and others who have fed them during the past few years they have become more or less domesticated. This quite naturally makes them an easy prey for the dog and gun and many can be taken unless the sportsmen show the disposition to protect them.

It was the consensus of opinion that the birds were not plentiful enough to warrant an open season on them in Maine this year and the Commissioner of Inland Fisheries and Game, guided by public opinion, acted accordingly. In some sections of the State they are numerous enough to perhaps have a short open season, and this seems self evident that if they are protected for a few more years their numbers will be sufficient to have a season when they can be taken legally throughout the State.

Knox County is most favorable for their well being as the winter months are not as severe as in some sections of the State. This being true what is most needed is the co-operation of the hunter.

One fine Camden sportsman has expended more than $100 of his own personal funds to propagate these birds and others have supplied food and shelter for them during the winter months. For this reason alone it seems most unfair for any one to take them after the other fellow has spent time and money so that in the future we may all have another game bird as well as the beautiful ring neck cockerel to admire as he struts along the highway and across the open field.

The writer wishes the sportsmen a most successful season and sincerely appeals to their good sportsmanship in the propagation and protection of the pheasant.

Mr. and Mrs. Pheasant.
ITS VALUE SHOWN

Finger Printing Apparatus Leads to Recovery Of Stolen Money

Appropos of the finger printing articles which have recently appeared in this paper, the following clipping from the Bangor commercial will be read with interest:

"Value of a new equipment recently installed at the police station was definitely proven this week. Miss Jenny Jones of West Palm Beach reported the loss of $500 in cash taken from her room Sunday night at the Y. W. C. A. She reported to Chief Abbott and Deputy Sheriff, Warren Tribou and they proceeded to take finger prints at once. After finger printing several suspects they found the guilty person and the money was restored to Miss Jones who has been during the summer a waitress at a local restaurant.

"The young girl found guilty was sentenced. She has been in this town but a short time and is an out of town residence. She was placed on six months probation."

CAME FROM ALL OVER

Camden Garden Club Entertains Workers From Twenty-One Of The States

An official and social success is credited to Camden Garden Club with completion today of its hostess role to the fall conference of the National Council and annual meeting of the North Atlantic Region of Garden Clubs which opened Thursday at Whitehall Inn. Registrations from 21 States were recorded by Mrs. William B. Hay and Mrs. Walter E. Tobie of Portland.

Preparations for entertainment reached the perfected stage through committee appointment of Mrs. E. J. Cornelius and Miss Emma Alden who were supported by the local club officers: Mrs. Pearl O. Willey, president; Mrs. Allston K. Thordike, Mrs. Charles A. Perry, vice presidents; and Miss Bessie Bowers, secretary-treasurer. The general chairman was Mrs. Fred S. Woods of Portland, past president of the Maine Federation.

Several members of the summer colony who remained late for the autumnal foliage, held open house for the visitors. Mrs. E. J. Cornelius was hostess at a 4.30 tea Thursday at her estate which overlooks Camden harbor, the mountains Battle and Megunticook forming a background for a setting acclaimed a gem by the assembled nature lovers. Mrs. Donald D. Dodge also entertained that day at an afternoon luncheon, her gorgeous gardens at Beauchamp Point proving a delight of the first rank.

The group of hospitality guardians consisted of Mrs. C. Omer Porter, Mrs. Walter B. Brockway, Portland; Mrs. William R. Pattangall, Augusta; Mrs. Thomas E. Greenway, Skowhegan; Mrs. Ernest A. Robbins and Mrs. W. Griffin Gribbel. Evidences of their thoughtful welcoming touch were found in souvenir gifts typical of Maine at this season of the year. Aroostook Region presented small boxes of choice potatoes attractively boxed, while Camden's gift was a selection of graded apples from the Parker Deane orchards arranged with evergreen in a wooden bowl, the latter to serve as a permanent memento. Decorations were in charge of Mrs. Albert R. Benedict of Medomak.

Preliminaries by the Committee of Eleven were conducted Wednesday night with Mrs. O. W. Dynes of Hinsdale, Ill., in the chair as president of the National Council. "Maine Day" was observed Thursday when Mrs. Joseph S. Leach, regional vice president, of Walpole, Mass., and East Boothbay opened the meeting of the words were a tribute to Mrs. Woods, past president of the Maine Federation; following which Mrs. Harrie S. Coe of Portland, the new president, gave a report, in the course of which she commended the Caribou Club for securing the Prof. Olaf Nylander collection of 50,000 specimens; and the Camden Club for its medal work in conservation.

All New England presidents, with the exception of New Hampshire's were in attendance. Mrs. Coe responding for Maine; Miss Ethel Winneck, Vermont; Mrs. Phillip L. Spaulding, Massachusetts; Mrs. Peter P. Chase, Rhode Island; Mrs. Malcolm Edgerly, Connecticut; and Mrs. William Champlin serving as proxy for the Granite State leader.

Conservation, horticulture and roadside beautification were the projects stressed at this session. An illustrated lecture on New England, with descriptive slides of scenic beauties in each State was an unique contribution which, at the conclusion of the display, was presented to the National Council for use in garden club gatherings throughout the nation. Mrs. Walter S. Williams of East Norton, Mass., was speaker and Mrs. Coe showed the pictures.

The National Council meeting of Thursday was opened by the president, and achievements in the various States were reported briefly. In answer to the roll call, Arkansas had one member present; Connecticut, 4; Colorado, 1; Georgia, 3; Illinois, 2; Iowa, 3; Maine, 43; Massachusetts, 13; Michigan, 6; Missouri, 1; New Hampshire, 1; New Jersey, 4; New York, 6; Ohio, 4; Pennsylvania, 3; Rhode Island, 3; South Carolina, 1; Vermont, 2; West Virginia, 2; Kentucky (letter); 1; Florida (letter) 4.

It was voted at this meeting that a resolution be drawn up asking that the name "North Atlantic Region" be changed to "New England Region."

As a crowning pleasure to the initial day's program, Zlatko Belokovic, internationally known as a violinist, presented a musicale at his Judson Hill home. Helmut Baerwald was at the piano for the 10-piece program which contained: Praeludium (Pugnani-Kreutzer), Adagio (Bach), Rondo (Mozart), Poeme (Chausson), Song of the Nightingale (Grannados-Siegl), The Flight of the Bumble Bee (Rimsky-Korsakow), The Widow's Lament (Manojlovic, At the Fountain (Schumann-Siegl), Song and Dance (Slavenski); Motto Perpetuo (Novacek).

Yesterday's Proceedings

Running the middle course yesterday, regional vice presidents reviewed concisely the attainments in their immediate localities. Mrs. Peter Corpstein of Phoenix, Arizona, being the only official absent. The financial report of the council was supplied by Mrs. Brice P. Disque of New York who also recounted the general activities and aims of the organizations in her State.

Mrs. Kemble White of Clarksburg, W. Va., dealt with conservation work in her committee report; Mrs. Windsor T. White of Ohio, garden centers; Mrs. Jerome W. Coombs, horticulture; Mrs. E. W. Frost of Texarkana, Ark., roadside beautification; Mrs. Waldo Cummer of Jacksonville, Fla., visiting gardens; Mrs. F. Joel Swift of Nyack-on-Hudson, N. Y., advisory council.

An old fashioned clam bake in Maine style is becoming something of a lost art but Dr. Fred S. Woods of Portland, husband of the general chairman, remembers the technique and put it in execution for the garden devotees at noon Friday at Hosmer Pond Outing Club Lodge, with 94 partaking of the feast. Pearl O. Willey, husband of the Camden Club's president, proved an energetic co-worker and handled to good advantage several bushels of clams with accompanying yards of seaweed. Lobsters and corn were also featured on the menu.

Mid-westerners and others hailing from as far distant as Colorado viewed the coastwise proceedings with skeptical eye, doubtful if the clouds of smoke arising from the steaming shellfish could possibly forebode anything edible. Pears were allayed, however and gave place to epicurean delight when the succulent morsels were sampled. President E. C. C. Rich of the Outing Club addressed the group, explaining the Snow-Bowl project.

A turnpike drive around Megunticook Lake ushered in the afternoon, visits being also made to other points of interest such as the Bok Amphitheatre and State Park. Special provision had been made for open house to the visitors at "Montpelier." Antique shops supplied attractive browsing for those thus inclined. Returning for a banquet at Whitehall Inn, members were treated to a surprise in the form of individual miniature pine trees planted in flower pots, the latter being the gifts of Mrs. W. Griffin Gribbel of Philadelphia. The trees were from the nurseries in Fryeburg and were presented to the guests as souvenirs. Maine pictures provided by Harrie S. Coe of Portland were shown as a dinner postlude.

Decorative touches, under the supervision of Mrs. Albert R. Benedict of Medomak, included a display of Maine grasses and hand drawn silk tapestries by Mrs. Perry Collesiole of Kingfield.

Events will be climaxed today with a motorcade to Mt. Desert Island. A visit enroute will be made at the Black Mansion in Ellsworth and the trip there resumed to Acadia National Park and Mt. Cadillac. Tea will be served at the Jordan Pond House in Bar Harbor, the Mt. Desert Garden Club to act as hostess.

Garden Club History

The first Garden Club in Maine was organized in Camden on March 4, 1915, for the exchange of experience, discussion of best methods for cultivation of house and garden plants and to instruct school children in knowledge of plant life. The club was federated in 1931.

In 1916 the club became interested in civic work and sponsored the first Community Christmas Tree on the Library lot. Later it was considered more practical to prepare and distribute Christmas dinner baskets to needy families, and this custom has been continued annually with the co-operation of the town's citizens.

The Bok Garden Awards are sponsored by this organization, $1000 being yearly contributed by Mrs. Mary Louise Bok to winners in contests for lawns, gardens and homes attractively planted. Flower shows are held each summer, this year's innovation being a fall show which was successful to such a degree that a second is a foregone conclusion.

A conservation medal was recently awarded to the Camden group for the most meritorious work of the 46 garden clubs in the State, presentation made by Mrs. S. V. R. Crosby,

ANOTHER KELP CONCERN

New York Corporation Is Negotiating For the Crockett's Point Lime Privilege

Those large brown seaweeds, which are classed by the dictionary under the head of kelp, and which grow profusely along the North Atlantic shores, may yet play an important part in Rockland's industrial scheme.

One plant has been in operation on the Southend waterfront the past year—established by W. H. and L. B. Betz. It has pursued the even tenor of its way, apparently to the satisfaction of the proprietors.

Comes now the interesting report that another concern is coming here to operate in an experimental way for the present, but with a very fair prospect that a large production plant may eventually be built.

The new concern is known as Algine Corporation of New York which, through the production of algine from kelp may discover new processes which will have a profitable industrial value.

The Algine Corporation is said to be negotiating for a portion of the Crockett's Point property owned by the Rockland & Rockport Lime Co., Inc., and if the deal is successful will there inaugurate an industrial plant, employing for the moment about 12 men.

Carrying coals to Newcastle applies to the method by which the corporation will obtain its material, for the kelp will be brought here from Nova Scotia waters, and thus, it may be explained, is necessitated by the fact that the Governor and Council leased to the Betz concern the kelp rights along the Maine coast, it apparently not having been taken into consideration that a second company would appear.

In Nova Scotia the Alzine company is understood to have already leased a wharf and made plans for a large warehouse. The kelp would be gathered by Nova Scotia fishermen, and shipped to Rockland by water.

In the new proposition there are possibilities which make for pleasant consideration, to say the least.

FISHWAY NEARS COMPLETION

Knox Fish and Gamers Are Now Considering Another At Warren's Upper Dam

It would be difficult to imagine a more congenial gathering than that which surrounded the tables in the Slias Watts bridge restaurant in Warren, last night. Comprising it were the directors and advisory board members of the Knox County Fish and Game Association, with Oscar Starrett, president of the Association, acting as host. The supper proved so pleasing to the palates of the nimrods and anglers that they promptly voted to hold their next board meeting at the same place two weeks from that date.

It was also voted to have a membership meeting in one of the Thomaston churches Nov. 19. A new member of the official board was welcomed last night. He was John C. Creighton, a prominent Union merchant, who succeeds his late fellow townsman, Frank Gorden.

Much of the talk last night concerned the new fishway which is approaching completion near the Georges River Mills in Warren, and which is pronounced by experts to be one of the best in the State, if not the best. There has been expended on this project $600 for materials, $600 for labor and the whole proposition will cost about $1,500.

Coupled with it is the necessity of having another fishway at the upper dam, and many of the contributors made their pledges on the strength of completed service. It is understood that salmon will be available as soon as this has been brought about.

A committee comprising C. Earle Ludwick, John C. Creighton, Charles Starrett, Arthur McDonald, Albert B. Elliot and Austin M. Moody was appointed to confer with officials of the Georges River Mills who will be told of the Fish and Game Association's willingness to turn over the sum of $1,000 when the fishway at the upper dam is completed. The Association has on hand $700 and plans to raise the balance that would bring it to $1,000.

Warren Everett of Thomaston was strongly endorsed for a position at one of the State game camps, and a committee will see Commissioner Stoble to see why the appointment, as promised, has not been forthcoming.

There was also some discussion in regard to a sportsmen's show at the Rockland Community Building the coming winter.

Richard O. Elliot will be chairman of the membership meeting in Thomaston, Nov. 19, and Dr. Walter P. Conley of Camden and A. C. Hocking of St. George will arrange the entertainment.

Teachers Coming

Will Hold Forth In Rockland Monday With a Full Program

Knox County teachers invade Rockland next Monday for their annual convention, and will discuss the following program:

General session, auditorium, 9.30-10.30 a. m., presiding, Superintendent George J. Cumming or Rockland; singing, led by Harrison C. Lyseth, director of Secondary Education, Augusta, accompanist, Mrs. Esther Rogers, Rockland; prayer, Rev. Corwin H. Olds, Rockland; business report of the N.E.A. convention, Superintendent Frank D. Rowe, Warren; greetings from the State Department, Dr. Bertram E. Packard, Commissioner of Education.

Department sessions 10.30-12 Secondary schools, Room 24. Principal Walter Gay, Warren, chairman; address, Dr. J. C. Brown, superintendent of schools, Pelham, N. Y.; discussion.

Elementary schools, Junior High study hall, Mrs. Florence Davis, Warren, chairman; address, Miss Phila M. Griffin, Elementary State Supervisor, Concord, N. H., discussion.

Home Economics, round table discussion.

Sister of J. Pierpont Morgan, who is president of the New England Wild Flower Preservation Society. With a record of worthwhile achievement, this society is not, however, content to rest on its laurels, but aggressively forces ahead on new ventures, among which is the sending of a delegate this year to the Audubon Nature Camp for study purposes. The Camden Club is respected for its ambitious programs, carefully planned and efficiently executed.

Piano Is Wanted

Realizing that the public has been loyal to the local Salvation Army Corps in the past, Captain Carl Bowness through the courtesy of The Courier-Gazette would like to ask that anyone wishing to do something worth while for the local Unit, can if they will, furnish our hall with a new piano or at least one that is in good condition.

We have a very comfortable hall here and are planning real good and helpful meetings this fall and winter. A good piano to furnish music would certainly be a worthy contribution at this time.

Capt. Carl Bowness.

The Courier-Gazette

THREE TIMES-A-WEEK

Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me hath everlasting life.—John 6:47.

To The Unemployed

Will Go Sixty Million Census Cards and Fourteen Questions

An order to print 60,000,000 cards, each bearing a message from President Roosevelt to the unemployed and 14 questions calculated to elicit the facts of unemployment, will go to the Public Printer within a few days, it was announced by John D. Biggers, Director of the National Unemployment Census.

Mr. Biggers said that he expected the cards to be printed and ready by Nov. 17, when they will be distributed to an estimated total of 31,000,000 American families. The President's message requests the unemployed workers who receive cards to fill them in and return them not later than Nov. 20, and Mr. Biggers promised that within six weeks of that date he would be able to offer the public the first over-all, reasonably accurate figure on the number of unemployed which this country has ever had.

Mr. Biggers said that every effort would be made to get a complete response to this mail check, down to follow-up work by the postmen on their routes. "For instance, they will visit every trailer camp," Mr. Biggers said, "and leave registration forms in every trailer. They will go to shacks along the rivers and railroads where transients gather."

He added that as a preliminary he planned to put on what he agreed to describe as a "big ballyhoo." The "ballyhoo" will take place in the weeks immediately preceding the census, and it is expected that the President, who has given Mr. Biggers carte blanche, will take a considerable part in it.

The President's message to every worker is only the first step. It follows:

A Message From The President Of The United States

The White House, Washington.

To every worker:

If you are unemployed or partly unemployed and are able to work and are seeking work, please fill out this card right away and mail it before midnight, Saturday, Nov. 20, 1937. No postage stamp is needed.

The Congress directed me to take this census. It is important to the unemployed and to every one in this land that the census be complete, honest, and accurate. If you give me the facts I shall try to use them for the benefit of all who need and want and do not now have it.

The President's message will be printed in large, clear type on the exterior of each card. The cards will be yellow, 9 by 8 inches, and folded once, so that the President's message will be on one side and the other will carry the return address to the National Unemployment Census. Within will be the fourteen questions, covering the answering workers' age, sex, color, degree of need, length of unemployment, number of dependents, type of trade, and total resources.

The 14 questions on the cards should supply the facts about unemployment pretty adequately, if the queries are properly answered and the cards returned. Name and address, and whether the answerer lives on a farm is the first question. The second inquires whether the answerer is totally or only partially unemployed and in need of work. The third is "Are you able to work?" And the fourth reveals the answerer's age. The fifth deals with color and race, the sixth with sex, and the seventh inquires how many hours the answerer worked in the preceding week.

The eighth goes to the more general problem, how much work the answerer has had in the past twelve months, while the ninth inquires what the answerer's common trade or occupation is. The tenth fits the answerer's trade into a general business frame, giving the kind of industry to which his trade is attached, while the eleventh inquires how many other workers there are in the answerer's family, not counting himself. The twelfth asks how many of the workers in the answerer's family are unemployed; the thirteenth requests information as to the number of persons dependent on the answerer, and the fourteenth is "what was your total cash income last week?"

Only one farm in five in the United States has a kitchen sink; one in five has cold water piped into the house; one in ten has flush toilets.

Liver is high in vitamins A and C, a good source of vitamins B and G—and if the animal has been well fed and has had plenty of sunlight—a good source of vitamin D.

At The High School

(By the Pupils)

Substitutes this week were Mrs. Charlotte Hopkins and Mrs. Clara Kelsey.

Miss Eliza Steele gave physical examinations this week to all members of the Junior and Senior High, which included weighing, height, examinations of teeth and throat.

In observance of Fire Prevention Week a program was presented at Tuesday's assembly made up of: Song, "Scotland's Burning" by school, led by Richard Ellingwood; "Origins of Fire Prevention Week," Mary Cross; "Fire Prevention in Rockland High School," Inez Bowley; "Electrical Service with Safety," Patricia Hall; "A Visit to the Fire Station," Irving McConchie; "Chemical Extinguishers," Gordon Richardson and Frederick Perry; remarks by Chief Van Russell; first aid demonstration by Elmer Pinkham of Central Maine Power Co.; song, "Keep the Home Fires Burning," by school, led by Richard Ellingwood; announcements, Mr. Blaisdell. The program chairman was Nell Russell and devotional exercises were led by Jessie Olds. The assembly ended with a fire drill.

Elizabeth Hammond is school stenographer this week.

Under "Public Speaking and Dramatics" in Pres. Clifton E. Gray's 1937 report of Bates College, mention is made of Miss Dorothy E. Parker, a Bates graduate, as winning, with her players, last spring, the State One-Act play contest sponsored by the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Rev. Corwin Olds addressed the Junior High Assembly Wednesday morning, giving a vivid and interesting description of "Life on a Cattle Ranch." William East conducted devotional exercises. Principal Blaisdell made several important announcements, and Ernest Dondis introduced Rev. Mr. Olds. This program was arranged by Room 10-11.

The Junior High Orchestra is this year organized thus: Violins, Phillip French, Veronica Murphy, Calvin Sherman, Samuel Rankin; trumpets, Dudley Harvey, Virginia White; clarinets, Miriam Dorman, Priscilla McCaslin; saxophones, Harrison Dow, Herbert Ellingwood; horn, Harry Simmons; trombone, Albert Munro; drums, John Florer, Harold Blackington; piano, John Knight, Nancy Parker.

New members of the Junior High Girls' Glee Club, as announced by Miss Hagar, include Joan Ripley, Nancy Parker, Lucille Sweeney, Lena Lohrhop, Alice Cross, Bertha Combs, Maxine Oliver, Jean Calderwood, Beverly Havener, Dorothy Havener, Mary F. Perry, Mary Wolfen, Barbara Wood and Leona Flanders. Accompanists are Dorothy Peterson and Lucille Stanley.

The annual High School Apple Day held last Saturday was an immense success. A profit of $130.30 was realized for the school. Dorothy Melvin and Angelina D'Agostino won heavy sweaters for bringing in the most money. Miss Melvin turned in over $25. Credit should be given to Mr. McCarty, who directed the sale in such a capable manner.

There will be no school Monday due to the Knox County Teachers' Convention held at this school.

Donald MacMillan who has recently visited the Arctic will be at the High School, Oct. 22. He will give a talk on his visit to the Arctic and there will be moving pictures to go along with his talk. There will be a matinee in the afternoon for the Junior High and an evening performance for the Senior High and adults. The admission fees will be 25 cents for the matinee and 40 cents in the evening. The time of each performance is 4 o'clock and 8 o'clock.—Naomi Rackliff.

The officers of the High School Boy Scout Troop are being entertained at Mr. Blaisdell's farm in Sidney this weekend, leaving Rockland at 8 today and returning Sunday afternoon. Merit badges tests will be done and a model patrol meeting will be put on by the scoutmaster. Members going are Scoutmaster Chick, Assistant Scoutmasters Blaisdell and Robinson, Patrol leaders Robishaw, Newhall, Hewett and Borgerson, Assistant Patrol Leaders East, Brown and Weed, and Quartermaster Law.

The freshmen who are in the third period English class have had as a project this last week the writing of school news suitable for publication in The Courier-Gazette—or the weekly school paper—The Highlight. Many interesting and well-written articles have been passed in, among them an article written by Donald Curtis concerning experiments in science; an account of the Rockland-Dexter football game by Robert Chisholm and also by Christy Adams; an article by Clarence Butler outlining the work to be done this year by freshmen in the manual training course; a report, "Rockland High School Assembly on Oct. 5" by Louise Harden; "The Subscription Contest" by Barbara Robinson; "Donald MacMillan to Lecture Again in Rockland" by Naomi Rackliff and "Rockland's Next Football Game" by Richard S. Brown.

Next Tuesday's assembly, under the direction of Miss Stahl, will be in observance of Columbus Day.

The second issue of the Highlight came out this week.

The pupils hope that when Rockland motors to Augusta to play Cony High School at 2.30 today it will show both offense and defense; for all the school is rooting for them to win.

Old Lady Luck as not been with the team for the last two games, but it is hoped it will be with them today. The fact that Cony is a large school should be the reason for Rockland working all the harder.

It is expected that the stars, Skinner, Karl, LaCrosse and Billings will get in there and do their stuff. Students want to see the line do its blocking and defending. The school also hopes that Coach Matheson has some new plays up his sleeve.—Richard S. Brown.

Again this year, this school will have the privilege of having six entertainments from the Royal Attractions Company of Boston, of which Pitt Parker is manager. These assemblies are scheduled for Oct. 26, Nov. 18, Dec. 6, Jan. 26, March 2 and April 13.

At a recent meeting of the basketball squad, Eugenia Brault was elected manager, Stella Young, captain of out of town games, and Winifred Dimick captain of home games for this season.

The subscription contest ended this week with the "Live Wires" captained by Dick Marsh, winning by $17 worth of subscriptions. Prizes will be awarded by the Curtis Publishing Co. at a later date.

The beginning lessons of manual training consisted of learning the seven rules for planning, division of the inch, and planing itself. After this was completed sand blocks were constructed. Those who received "A" were given mahogany for the second project. Gum wood was given to the students who received "B." If they received "C" the second project was made from pine.

The second project consists of making a necktie rack of original design, the third project is one's own choice, the fourth is a project given by the instructor, after which students will take up various projects in the text book.—Clarence Butler.

The school band will play at the Knox County Teachers' Convention Monday, with Mrs. Rogers directing. Numbers will be "The Lovers," "Conway," "Precision," and "Officer of the Day."

Shirley Stanley has returned to school as a post graduate.

At the Junior High School social held last night in the auditorium and gym, this program was presented:

Piano solo, Nancy Parker; dance, Veronica and Charlotte Murphy; song, Barbara Lasalle, Carol Hall, Madeline Monroe, Dorothy Peterson, Eliene Beech; recitation, Marie Dodge; song, William East; dance, Barbara Newbert; duet, Dorothy and Beverly Havener; jokes, Trafton Sprowl and Milton Roberts; tap dance, Cynthia Brown and Eleanor Tracy; reading, Barbara Lamb group of songs, "My Cabin of Dreams," "Did Your Mother Come from Ireland?" "Pig Roam," Margery Mills, Anson Olds, Frederick Morrison; dance, Ruth Robinson; harmonica skit, Dudley Harvey, Arthur Sullivan; dance, Jennie and Lucy Thompson.

Refreshments were in charge of Harriet Clark, Ruth Johnson, Ruth Worlton, Dorothy Trask, Margaret Havener, Joan Ripley; decorations, Gene Stickney, Harry Richardson, John Munsey, Edward Olsen, Jeanette Shannon. Special offers were Christy Demetri, Charles Wooster, Kendall Wooster, Anson Olds, Judson Rector, Clarence DeRochemont, Charles Breen, Myron Cummings, Robert Fogarty, Richard Sukeforth, Charles Nystrom, Barbara Black and Barbara Lamb planned the entertainment at which Walter Butler was announcer. Edward Hewitt was assistant stage manager and John Storer and Sam Rankin were in charge of tickets.

"What time shall I waken you, sir?"

"I will ring when I wish to be awakened."—Montreal Star.

Children's Colds
Checked without
"dosing." Rub on VICKS
VapoRub
OVER 21 MILLION JARS USED YEARLY

Farley And Fish

National Leaders, In Rival Camps, Discuss Political Situation

Postmaster General James A. Farley as Chairman of the Democratic National Committee cites the recent Connery election in Massachusetts and New York primary results as evidence of continuing popularity of the President and the New Deal.

Representative Hamilton Fish, Republican of New York, however, in a comment on the forecast by Senator Royal S. Copeland, Democrat, of New York, that the New Deal would be continued in power in 1940, predicted that fierce conflict between the New Deal and the "liberal and constitutional Democrats" would prevent such a result.

Calling on former President Hoover and Alfred M. Landon to forget their "mythical title" of party leadership, Mr. Fish predicted that if the Democrats should nominate President Roosevelt or an ardent New Deal follower in 1940, the "liberal and constitutional Democrats" will align themselves, at least temporarily, with the Republican party, provided it liberalizes its policies and leadership within the confines of the Constitution and our American system of government.

"If the Republican party does not thus 'liberalize' itself," he said, Democrats affronted by a New Deal victory in 1940 will form their own independent or constitutional party and the Republicans will not carry any more states than they did in 1932 or 1936.

"The trouble with the Republican leadership today," he continued, "is that it is still living in the ten-horsepower period of 30 years ago instead of meeting the problems of the present fifty-horsepower age."

If the Roosevelt-New Deal faction is defeated in the 1940 Democratic convention, he predicted most of its adherents "will go over to the Farmer-Labor party, to be headed by Senator LaFollette, John L. Lewis, or even Mayor LaGuardia." In that case, he thought the Republican party, "with new leadership," could "sweep the country."

WARREN

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney W. Vinal have returned home from Brighton, Mass. where they spent a few weeks at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Vinal.

Mrs. Charles Conant and children, Charles and Nettie motored to Appleton with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Grover and daughter Mildred of Rockland. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Whitney for the day.

Mrs. A. Paul Graham of Cambridge, Mass., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. K. F. Wright for a week.

Mrs. Christian Andersen and Mrs. Helen Rodick of Scarborough were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Starrett, in Pleasantville.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Moody have moved from South Union to the Ralph Spear place.

Visitors Tuesday at Mr. and Mrs. Oliver B. Libby's were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hood of Lynn, Mass. and Mr. Trask of Auburn.

Mrs. George Gibson of Canton, Mass. and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Sidelinger of Bedford, Mass., who have been guests of their uncle, Edward Clements returned home Thursday. While here they were callers on William Mank, Wilbur Stratton, and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Feyler in North Waldoboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Davis of Waterville are spending a few days at their home here.

Mrs. Nettie Jameson and Mrs. Abbie Newbert entertained the Christmas Club yesterday at the home of the former, at dinner. Present besides the hostesses were Miss Susan Stevens, Mrs. Alice Mathews, Miss M. Grace Walker, Mrs. Belle Walker, Mrs. N. B. Eastman, Mrs. Sadie Barrows, and Mrs. Addie Vinal all of this place, and Mrs. Clara Leonard of Rockland.

Ralph Spear is painting the Mrs. Ida Libby buildings.

The Contract Club of three tables met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Abbie Newbert.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Thomas and children, Raymond and Jane returned Thursday to Malden, Mass., after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Creamer.

Forget-Me-Not Troop of Girl Scouts is present today at the Scout Play Day held in Lewiston.

Mystic Rebekah Lodge meets Monday night.

The Baptist Sewing Club met Wednesday with Mrs. Isa Teague. Present were Mrs. Laura Seavey, Mrs. Avis Norwood, Mrs. Reta Coburn, Mrs. Jennie Kenniston, Mrs. Martha Welch, Mrs. Effie Hysler, Mrs. Carrie Teague, Mrs. Grace Wyllie, and Mrs. Herbert Waltz. Mrs. Mildred Gammon, Mrs. Carrie Teague observing her birthday anniversary, was pleasantly surprised with gifts and decorated cake.

Mrs. Augusta Moon became a member of the Woman's Club at the September meeting.

The sermon topic for Sunday morning at the Congregational Church

WHAT'S DOING AT THE BUILDING

Winslow-Holbrook Post will hold its annual Armistice Ball in Community Building. Dr. Taylor and the co-operating groups, gladly turned over the hall to the Legion for its one big night in the year. This represents a fine piece of public spirit and is highly approved by the Legionnaires and public alike.

Community Building is designed to fill a tremendously important place in the social and civic life of this city. It will give opportunity for organized games and healthful social contacts to hundreds of boys and girls now forced to play in the streets; it will give leisure hour games and reading to High and Junior High members; it will reach the all-important "beyond school age" group with theatricals, bowling, etc.; it will reach the adult man and woman through use of auditorium and reading rooms; it will give women's clubs and men's groups ideal, centrally located meeting places at very low rates; it will serve citizens and merchants alike in affording adequate rest room facilities for shoppers; it will bring all Knox County closer as a central meeting spot and it will make Rockland a convention city.

It must be borne in mind however that these benefits can only come if citizens, men's clubs, women's clubs, and boys and girls co-operate in aiding the building, attending its functions and giving its ultimate objective verbal support. Its present activities are limited by adequate equipment and lack of funds. The operating group is working its collective head off to make the building go and give the boys and girls of today and tomorrow a break. All that is necessary is that those who believe in the work the payless operating group are doing, to pitch in and help, and for those who are prejudiced against the building to lay aside their antipathy for a while and see if the project hasn't some merit after all.

With Representatives Smith and Oliver as speakers, Townsend Club No. 1 is arranging a date for Community hall.

Plans are being made for a series of card parties to be held through the winter in the tower room.

The return engagement of the crack W.P.A. vaudeville troupe and orchestra is assured for this month and is now in the hands of the committee to determine the exact date. By an arrangement in effect several weeks, a regular admission can be charged when the beneficiary is a worthy one. The tickets will be made ready priced in order that all may see this truly splendid show.

Charles and Laurie Taylor, nationally famous evangelists, will conduct meetings at Community Building every night except Saturday from Nov. 7 to 29 in the auditorium. This great series of meetings in which all Knox County is co-operating, is sponsored locally by the Littlefield Memorial Church, Pratt Memorial M. E. Church and the First Baptist Church.

Tentative engagement of the entire building has been made for the first week in December for Knox County's first major "Hobby Show." This is being staged by a large organization in this city and committees are already at work on the ground work of the project.

will be "Pool Theories of Social Justice."

The senior class netted $11 from a cooked food sale Wednesday.

Rockport High played Warren High in Warren, Monday the visiting team the winner, by 11 to 6.

Rev. and Mrs. H. I. Holt who spent the summer in Rockport, took up winter residence in the Congregational parsonage today.

New lock boxes have been installed at the postoffice.

Mrs. Robert Andrews has closed her home here, and went Thursday to Safety Harbor, Fla. She will stop in Boston for a few days.

The Union girls and Warren High School girls clashed in a game of soft ball, here Tuesday. Warren was the victor, 19 to 12.

BATES' BIG YEAR

Student Body Third Largest In History of That Institution

The guest night of the Woman's Club was attended Thursday by 150 members and guests. On the program committee were Mrs. Eleanor Barrett, Mrs. Nancy Clark, Mrs. Carrie Wyllie, Mrs. Evelyn Powers and Mrs. Flora McKellar.

A fine and varied program was presented by local talent, containing: Musical selections, a one-act comedy, ladies' quartet selections, "Oh Country" and "At the Close of Day," Mrs. Albert Burdick, Mrs. Carrie Wyllie, Mrs. Evelyn Powers and Mrs. Willis Vinal, with Mrs. Carrie Smith accompanist; vocal duets, "Home To Our Mountains" with encore, "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," Roger Teague and Chester Wyllie, Mrs. Grace Wyllie the accompanist; guitar solo, Wilfred Erklia, accompanist Mrs. Albert Burdick; duets, "Go, Pretty Rose" and "Nearest and Dearest," Mrs. Carrie Wyllie and Mrs. Albert Burdick, Mrs. Carrie Smith accompanist; tenor solos, "O Sole Mio" and "Thank God For a Garden."

Chester Wyllie accompanist, Mrs. Wyllie; cornet solo, "Minuet In G," Josef Vinal, Mrs. Willis Vinal accompanist; instrumental number, Josef Vinal cornet, Wilfred Erklia guitar, Mrs. Willis Vinal piano.

The cast of the one-act comedy, "Sardines," included Miss Christine Starrett, Mrs. Alzada Simmons, Mrs. Annie Starrett Lehto, Mrs. Flora McKellar and Mrs. Nancy Clark.

Decorations included autumn leaves, Chinese lanterns, pumpkins, dahlias, calendulas.

New members admitted were Miss Bertha Starrett, Mrs. Julia Watts, and Mrs. James MacDougall.

Ice cream and cake were served.

ONE-SIDED VICTORY

Over Hill and Dale Lincoln Academy Boys Lead Hebron Contenders

The Lincoln Academy cross country team scored a one-sided victory over the Hebron hill-and-dalers at Newcastle Thursday when six of the Lincoln team came home before Doie of Hebron crossed the line over the two and seven-tenths mile course.

Yarborough of Lincoln won the race in 14 minutes and 49 seconds as five of his teammates followed to give Lincoln 15 points to Hebron's 49.

The two teams finished in the following order: Yarborough (L), Simmons (L), Oliver (L), Humason (L), Swift (L), Dole (H), Hussey (L), Holm (H), Field (H), Reynolds (H), and Guppy (H).

TOMMY REGAN HELD

Thomas Regan, Bangor boxer, well known in Rockland, was held for the grand jury of the January term of the Superior Court in bonds of $1000 when arraigned before Judge Clinton C. Stevens in the Municipal Court in Bangor Thursday on a charge of assault and battery on Annie B. Ayer, of Bangor, Wednesday evening. Hearing was waived and Judge Stevens in setting the high bail, said it was a case of aggravated assault.

AN EASIER WAY TO SEND MONEY

There is an easier way to send money away than by postal order.

Just come to this bank and tell the amount of money you wish to send and its destination.

Without the scratch of a pen upon your part, without a bit of red tape or lost time, a money order will be prepared for you to mail.

The cost?—Less than at the post office.

KNOX COUNTY TRUST CO.

ROCKLAND, CAMDEN, UNION, VINELAND, WARREN

MEMBER OF FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

H. M. PAYSON & CO.

Investment Bankers

93 Exchange Street

Portland,

Maine

Established 1854

Representative, E. T. RUNDLETT, The Thorndike Hotel

18-19T&Stt

New Football Game

Famous Magazine, American Boy, Presents Six-Man Team

In the early fall issues of The American Boy there'll be presented the story of a new game—six-man football—fast as professional football, wide open as basketball, thrilling as hockey!

The game came to life through the need of small schools for some substitute for 11-man football, which was too expensive. Stephen Epier, a Nebraska graduate student in athletics, developed the game of six-man football to meet this need. In six-man football anybody can score, the possibility of injury from mass plays is minimized, and the game is open enough for spectators to follow every exciting development.

The new game is a hit. New schools are taking it up every day. In coming issues The American Boy tells the world about this practical new game. In addition, it presents The American Boy Official Handbook, which can be obtained from the magazine at 20 cents a copy, or 15 cents when bought in bulk.

Note: Subscription prices of The American Boy will be raised in the near future. Send your subscription order at once to take advantage of the bargain rates now in effect; one year at $1.00 or three years at $2.00. Foreign subscriptions 50c a year extra. Send your name, address and remittance to The American Boy 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Mich. On newstands the price is 15c a copy.—adv. 115&118-120

ONE-SIDED VICTORY

Over Hill and Dale Lincoln Academy Boys Lead Hebron Contenders

The Lincoln Academy cross country team scored a one-sided victory over the Hebron hill-and-dalers at Newcastle Thursday when six of the Lincoln team came home before Doie of Hebron crossed the line over the two and seven-tenths mile course.

Yarborough of Lincoln won the race in 14 minutes and 49 seconds as five of his teammates followed to give Lincoln 15 points to Hebron's 49.

The two teams finished in the following order: Yarborough (L), Simmons (L), Oliver (L), Humason (L), Swift (L), Dole (H), Hussey (L), Holm (H), Field (H), Reynolds (H), and Guppy (H).

TOMMY REGAN HELD

Thomas Regan, Bangor boxer, well known in Rockland, was held for the grand jury of the January term of the Superior Court in bonds of $1000 when arraigned before Judge Clinton C. Stevens in the Municipal Court in Bangor Thursday on a charge of assault and battery on Annie B. Ayer, of Bangor, Wednesday evening. Hearing was waived and Judge Stevens in setting the high bail, said it was a case of aggravated assault.

Where's George?

He's gone to...

MILLER'S GARAGE

To Look Over the Grand Assortment of Fine Used Cars

1936 Dodge Sedan

1936 Ford Tudor

1936 Plymouth Sedan

1935 Chevrolet Sedan

1934 Ford Coach

1934 Chevrolet Coupe

1933 Ford Sedan

1933 Chevrolet Sedan

1931 Ford Tudor

MANY OTHERS TO CHOOSE FROM

CONVENIENT TERMS WE BUY USED CARS

MILLER'S GARAGE

RANKIN ST., ROCKLAND, ME.

1937 OCTOBER 1937

S	M	T	W	T	F	S
					1	2
3	4	5	6	7	8	9
10	11	12	13	14	15	16
17	18	19	20	21	22	23
24	25	26	27	28	29	30

TALK OF THE TOWN

COMING NEIGHBORHOOD EVENTS

Oct. 11—Knox County Teachers' Convention at Rockland

Oct. 12—Columbus Day

Oct. 12—Union-Opening meeting of Community Club

Oct. 12—Camden, W.C.T.U. Institute at Methodist Church

Oct. 14—Thomaston-Parent-Teacher Association meets at High School assembly hall

Oct. 15—Union-Organ recital at Methodist auditorium

Oct. 15—Pleasant Valley Grange Fair, (Head Middle Street)

Oct. 15—Tenants' Harbor—Annual inspection of Naomi Chapter, O.E.S.

Oct. 20—Union—Annual Grange fair

Oct. 21—Opening meeting of Baptist Men's League

Oct. 21—Annual meeting of Knox-Litchfield Farm Bureau at Rockland Community Building

Oct. 22—Knox County Christian Endeavor union rally at Thomaston Baptist Church

Oct. 25—Annual fair of Golden Rod Chapter, O.E.S.

Nov. 7—Past Matrons and Past Patrons Association (O.E.S.) meets at Masonic hall, Rockport

Nov. 31—Halloween

Nov. 5—Thomaston—Inspection of Mayflower Temple, Prithian Sisters

Nov. 7—Charles and Laurie Taylor evangelistic services at Community Building

Nov. 11—Armistice Ball in Community Building, auspices Winslow-Holbrook Post, A. L.

Nov. 17—Anderson Camp Auxiliary fair at Grand Army hall

Nov. 19—Knox County Fish and Game Association holds membership meeting in Thomaston

TALK OF THE TOWN

Mrs. Robert U. Collins is re-occupying the Kirkpatrick homestead on Grove street.

R. S. Sherman has moved from Grove street into the upper flat of the A. C. Jones residence on Talbot avenue.

John W. Lane was exhibiting on the street yesterday some peanut plants sent from the south to V. Chisholm. "No peanut politics in that," said John.

Justice William H. Fisher, who is to preside over the November term of Superior Court in Knox County, was recently elected president of the Kennebec Bar Association.

Clayton Vose and Robert Smith, who were charged with the theft of materials belonging to the lime company, are on probation, their jail sentence of 30 days having been suspended.

Mary Elizabeth Henry of Thomaston, a junior in Home Economics in the College of Agriculture, has been elected treasurer of Baletine Hall, upper-class women's dormitory at the University of Maine.

Peter Mills of Farmington is a candidate for the Republican nomination as Representative to Legislature from his class. He is a son of former Senator Sumner P. Mills, who at one time resided in Stonington and Rockland.

The Colby Council of the Student Christian Movement held its first meeting of the year Wednesday and Phillips Brooks Henderson, 38 of Lowell, Mass. was elected chairman. Donna deRochemont of Rockland is a member of the Council.

Reckless driving and driving without a license were in collision on the Spruce Head road Wednesday, the former impersonated by Arthur Dow and the latter by Walter E. Drinkwater. In Municipal Court Thursday the South Thomaston drivers paid $10 and costs each.

Our newspaper gravely announced in Thursday's issue that 40 years ago Vermont farmers used "girdling chains" to "eliminate" the weight of livestock. Sheriff Ludwick says that the item would have been much more accurate if it had said that "girdling" chains had been used to "estimate" the weight of livestock. "When I was a kid around the farm," says Earl, "we always called them girdling chains."

In view of the fact that many members of Rockland Townsend Club No. 1 attend Tuesday night prayer meeting the club voted to change its weekly meeting night to Wednesday so, starting next week they will meet 7:30 at K. P. hall. Preparations have been started for a big rally and chicken supper, which will take place Oct. 27. Congressmen Smith and Oliver have been invited to speak.

Hillard H. Buzzell has been appointed Deputy District Governor of the Lions Clubs by District Governor Dr. Stanley N. Mason of Bangor. The district includes Waldoboro, Camden, Rockport, Rockland, Vinalhaven and Belfast Lions Clubs. He has been song leader and is at the present time the vice president in the local club. He is serving his second term as Waldo County Attorney, is a prominent member of the Masonic orders and a past worthy patron of Primrose Chapter, O.E.S.

Monday night at 7:45 in the vestry of the Littlefield Memorial Free Baptist Church the Teen Age Guild will present the play, "The Gateway to Friendship," with this cast of characters: Mrs. Alarcon, Porto Rican woman, Mabel Seavey; Mrs. Hernandez, Mrs. Josephine Grover; Manuela, Ellen Nye; Janet, Erma Mather; Sally, Genevieve Gray; Martha, Geneva Hill; Anne, Helen Whittemore; Rosalie, Marguerite Gray (American students at Bexley College); Teresa, from Mexico, Ruth Hammond Francese, from the Philippines, Laura Sylvester; La A. from China, Barbara Bartlett; Nyoda An American Indian, Evelyn Bragg; (foreign students at Bexley College); Miss Carroll, college counselor, Mrs. Bertha Gray. There will be musical selections. A welcome is extended to all.

$20,000.00 in cash! $15,000.00 first prize. A real contest based on a new idea. Study "Human Problems" and win cash. All Problems to date in this great contest will be Reprinted in the October 10th Boston Sunday Advertiser. 121-11

Our Memorials are permanent, of dignity and beauty, keeping memory of loved ones green today, tomorrow and forever.

This firm will continue under active direction of RALPH A. GLENDENING.

Rockland Marble & Granite Works

20 LINDSEY ST. ROCKLAND TEL. 502-W 118S130

FOR TODAY TOMORROW AND FOREVER

Our Memorials are permanent, of dignity and beauty, keeping memory of loved ones green today, tomorrow and forever.

This firm will continue under active direction of RALPH A. GLENDENING.

Rockland Marble & Granite Works

20 LINDSEY ST. ROCKLAND TEL. 502-W 118S130

FOR TODAY TOMORROW AND FOREVER

Our Memorials are permanent, of dignity and beauty, keeping memory of loved ones green today, tomorrow and forever.

This firm will continue under active direction of RALPH A. GLENDENING.

Rockland Marble & Granite Works

20 LINDSEY ST. ROCKLAND TEL. 502-W 118S130

FOR TODAY TOMORROW AND FOREVER

Our Memorials are permanent, of dignity and beauty, keeping memory of loved ones green today, tomorrow and forever.

This firm will continue under active direction of RALPH A. GLENDENING.

Rockland Marble & Granite Works

20 LINDSEY ST. ROCKLAND TEL. 502-W 118S130

Citizens with good eyesight peered through nearly frosted window panes this morning and saw thermometers registering only 25 above. Warmer than that last winter much of the time.

The high light of Rockland's Armistice Day will be the dedication of Walter H. Butler Square by Winslow-Holbrook Post, A. L., in conjunction with the City Government. The square will be located at the newly reconstructed and beautified corner junction of Broadway, North Main, Cedar and Birch streets.

The Yankees have now won three straight games in the World Series, scoring 21 runs to the Giants' 3. Most of the fans believe the series will wind up today, despite the fact that Carl Hubbell will seek to redeem himself. On the other hand many fans are hoping the Giants will win so there will be a Sunday broadcast.

The Clark Island wharf is a busy place these days, due to the numerous shipments being made to New York by John Meehan & Son. Yesterday the barge Thomas Sheridan carried away 1500 tons of paving and the Kathleen Sheridan is due the first of the week to take on 1600 tons. Activity of this sort has meant employment this summer to about 250 men.

Pleasant Valley Grange, head of Talbot avenue, will have its annual fair Friday, Oct. 15 afternoon and evening. Candy booth, Ethel Condon and Belle Bowley; grubs, Sue Spear and Hazel Bartlett; canned foods, Nettie Farrand; vegetables, Ed. Tolman, Fred Bartlett and Richard Winslow; beans, Richard Anderson, Russell Hickman, Ted Sylvester, Myron Young and Raymond Anderson; plants, Etta Anderson, Vivian Kimball and Nina McKinney; aprons, Eunice Morse, Julia Post and Alice Wiley; ice cream, F. L. S. Morse and Ruth Harrington; rummage, Audrey Teel and Dorothy Baxter; handkerchiefs, Kathleen Drake and Leona Hickman; 4-H Club Exhibit, cooked food, Rockland Farm Bureau. Other exhibits will be seen. Madam Pola Syki will read your horoscope in her usual charming manner. Chicken pie supper will be served by Florence Young, Evelyn Bartlett, Evangeline Sylvester, Dining room, Etta Anderson, Ethel Condon, Dorothy Baxter, Valie McLaughlin, Evelyn Bartlett, Audrey Teel, Mary Winslow, Hazel Bartlett, Mildred Sprague, Sue Spear, Vivian Kimball, Nina McKinney, Alice Fitzgerald, Alice Wiley, Eunice Morse. There will be a free entertainment at 8 o'clock and an auction sale at 10. Part of the proceeds go to local charity.

Funeral services were held at Crescent Beach Wednesday afternoon for Clyde Vining, whose death occurred there last Sunday after an illness of several weeks. The bearers were Lincoln E. McKee, Frank A. Tirrell, Jr., George W. Roberts, Walter C. Ladd, Ellis Watts and H. E. Keywood. The interment was in Achorn cemetery.

The deceased was a native of Strong, son of Leslie and Delle McKee Vining. He was a resident of Portland prior to coming to Rockland, and had handled fire insurance for several years, being special agent in Maine and New Hampshire for the Hanover Fire Insurance Co.

He graduated from University of Maine in 1921 and was a member of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity. He became a master mason in the lodge at Strong and belonged to Kora Temple, Order of the Mystic Shrine, and Winslow-Holbrook Post, A. L.

Mr. Vining is survived by his parents, his wife, Edith MacAlman Vining, and a half sister, Mrs. Reginald Pingree of Augusta.

BORN

MERRIFIELD—At South Hope, Sept. 5, to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Merrifield, a daughter, Bernice Janet—[Correction.]

MILLER—At East Waldoboro, Oct. 5, to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Miller, a daughter, Glensy Maxine.

DIED

STOCKWELL—At Togus, Oct. 8, Amos Davis Stockwell of Camden, aged 65 years, 7 days. Funeral Monday at 2 o'clock from Good's Funeral Home.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our thanks to friends and neighbors for their kindness, sympathy and floral tributes during the sickness and recent bereavement in our family.

Mrs. Annie Kinney, Miss Naomi Kinney, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Grant.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our neighbors and friends for the flowers sent, and to those who offered their cars we are very grateful. We also want to thank the employees of the Russell cottage for the beautiful flowers they sent in our recent bereavement; also Masons, Mrs. Ellen Blawie, Mrs. Ardelle Dean, Miss Lucille Dean.

BURPEE'S

MORTICIANS

Ambulance Service

TELS. 390 AND 781-1

361-365 MAIN ST. ROCKLAND

118S130

BUY with WANT-ADS

BURPEE'S

MORTICIANS

Ambulance Service

TELS. 390 AND 781-1

361-365 MAIN ST. ROCKLAND

118S130

Some Nice Suppers

And Committees Which Will Have Charge At Congregational Church

Here are the names of those who have charge of the suppers at the Congregational Church the coming season. Members are asked to retain this slip.

Oct. 27—Mrs. Glenn Lawrence, chairman; Mrs. Kennedy Crane, Mrs. George Foster, Miss Virginia Snow, Mrs. A. W. Foss, Mrs. H. F. Hicks, Mrs. C. H. Duff, Miss Flora Fish, Mrs. E. D. Spear, Mrs. Charles Emery, Mrs. Chauncey Keene.

Nov. 10—Mrs. Henry Bird, chairman; Mrs. G. M. Derry, Miss Caroline Littlefield, Miss Anne Blackington, Mrs. Carl Sonniag, Mrs. J. M. Pomeroy, Mrs. Leo Howard, Mrs. Theodore Bird, Miss Ruth Nichols, Miss Alena Young.

Dec. 8—Mrs. Carl Snow, chairman; Mrs. Edwin Scarlett, Mrs. C. F. Joy, Mrs. Archie Bowley, Mrs. Milton Griffin, Mrs. Ralph Smith, Mrs. Murray T. Whalen, Mrs. Don Kelsey, Mrs. Emory Howard, Mrs. George Wood, Mrs. J. E. Stevens, Mrs. L. A. Thurston.

Dec. 29—Rev. C. H. Olds, Milton Griffin, co-chairmen; Maurice Lovejoy, Fred Black, G. A. Lawrence, W. I. Ayer, H. B. Bird, W. S. Spear, E. K. Leighton, C. H. Duff, J. C. Perry, H. A. Buffum, C. F. Snow, A. J. Bird, A. L. Orne, H. B. Fales, John I. Snow, J. O. Stevens, C. I. Burrows, Leo Howard, Alvin Ramsdell, J. E. Stevens, E. J. Heiler, B. B. Smith, Henry Chatto, Victor Ramsdell, E. C. Davis, Dr. A. W. Foss, E. L. Spear, A. C. Jones, Alan L. Bird, C. A. Emery, Kennedy Crane, Homer Robinson, R. E. Thurston, Joseph Emery, J. E. Bradstreet, Charles Merritt.

Jan. 19—Mrs. Clarence Munsey, Miss Charlotte Buffum, co-chairmen; Mrs. J. O. Stevens, Mrs. A. C. Jones, Mrs. Neil Fogg, Mrs. Charles Rose, Mrs. M. P. Lovejoy, Mrs. Fred Black, Mrs. L. N. Lawrence, Mrs. Joseph Emery.

Feb. 2—Mrs. A. R. Havener, chairman; Mrs. A. J. Murray, Mrs. John G. Snow, Mrs. David S. Beach, Mrs. Jerome Burrows, Mrs. Kenneth Spear, Mrs. Donald Cummings, Mrs. A. J. Nichols, Mrs. Frank Marsh, Mrs. Carl Moffitt, Mrs. Corwin Olds.

Feb. 16—Mrs. A. L. Orne, chairman; Mrs. E. K. Leighton, Mrs. Ensign Otis, Mrs. B. B. Smith, Mrs. Eva Sleeper, Mrs. W. I. Ayer, Mrs. Henry Chatto, Miss Virginia Connon.

March 2—Mrs. Basil Stinson, Mrs. Nettie Bird Frost, co-chairmen; Mrs. Mary Harriman, Mrs. Ruth Peterson, Mrs. L. B. Cook, Mrs. Fred Treacart, Mrs. George Blaney, Mrs. Harold R. Connon, Mrs. Vance Norton, Mrs. Joseph Blaisdell, Miss Corice Thomas.

March 16—Major George Blaney, David Beach, co-chairmen; Earl Perry, A. J. Murray, Jerome Burrows, Cleveland Sleeper, Fred Treacart, Ralph A. Smith, A. R. Havener, L. A. Thurston, John G. Snow, Dr. N. A. Fogg, Harold Karl, C. F. Joy, C. E. Munsey, Joseph Blaisdell, Earle R. Gowell, Charles A. Rose, Donald G. Cummings, Dr. Emory Howard, Carl Sonniag, Charles G. Hewett, Eugene Lamb, Frank Marsh, Dr. E. L. Scarlett, Francis Orne, Theodore Bird, Ernest Keywood, J. M. Pomeroy, Chauncey Keene, Vance Norton, Murray Whalen, Bertram White, Donald Kelsey.

March 30—Mrs. Charles Hewett, chairman; Mrs. Robert Jewell, Mrs. J. E. Bradstreet, Mrs. Victor Ramsdell, Mrs. H. A. Buffum, Miss Ada Young, Mrs. Cleveland Sleeper, Mrs. W. S. Cameron, Mrs. Earl Perry, Miss Eleanor Bird, Miss Frances Chatto.

April 13—Mrs. H. B. Fales, chairman; Mrs. Harold Karl, Mrs. Charles Merritt, Mrs. Hazel Peterson, Mrs. Clarence Barnard, Mrs. E. L. Spear, Mrs. Edwin Edwards, Mrs. Harriet Frost, Miss Elizabeth Hahn.

April 27—Mrs. W. W. Spear, chairman; Mrs. C. E. Davis, Mrs. C. I. Burrows, Mrs. Homer Robinson, Mrs. John I. Snow, Mrs. A. J. Bird, Miss Pay Hodgkins, Mrs. E. J. Heiler, Mrs. Alan L. Bird, Mrs. Lizzie Clark.

May 4—Mrs. W. S. Cameron, Mrs. Earl Gowell, co-chairmen primary department.

May 5—Mrs. R. E. Philbrick, Mrs. Eugene Lamb, co-chairmen intermediate department.

At St. Peter's Church (Episcopal), Rev. E. O. Kenyon, rector, the services for tomorrow will be: Matins at 7:10; Holy Communion at 7:30; church school at 9:30; Holy Eucharist and sermon at 10:30; Vespers at 7:30 p.m.

Weekend services at the Salvation Army will include: Saturday, 7:30 p.m. open air; 8 p.m. praise meeting. "An Israel Indeed," Capt. Bowness speaker. Sunday, 10 a.m. Sunday school; 11 a.m. holiness meeting, "Peter Warmeth Himself," Capt. Bowness speaker; 6 p.m. Y.P.L. meeting, Miss Olive Elwell; 7:30 p.m. open air; 8 p.m. praise meeting, "Why Faith Hath Made Thee Whole," Lieut. Wright speaker.

At the Universalist Church Sunday morning, 10:45, Dr. Lowe's discourse will be a follow-up to his sermon of last Sunday in which he replied to Mr. Corbin's article on "Why I Don't Go To Church." His subject will be "Church Goers and Non-Church Goers As I See Them." The church school meets in the vestry at noon. The Kindergarten department of the church school for children from three to five years, will hold its first session during the church service hour 10:40 to 11:15 a.m. Parents are urged to bring their little ones to this important department of the church school.

Rally Day will be observed at the Congregational Church school on Sunday. The unified service of public worship and church school is at 10:30 a.m. with the children sharing in the worship and attending classes during the sermon. Dismissal is at 11:40. The theme of the sermon by Rev. Corwin H. Olds will be, "The Attitude of the Modern Church Toward Religious Education." Commentaries of the Way will hold their first meeting of the season in the vestry at 6:30 p.m. In addition to planning the season's activities, there will be a discussion of "Problems and Principles of Social Living Today," and a brief entertaining talk by Mr. Olds.

"Short and Narrow" will be the sermon topic of Rev. Charles E. Brooks at the Pratt Memorial Methodist Church Sunday morning. The vested choir under the direction of Mrs. Lydia Storer will render special musical numbers. Miss Carol Gardner will play the organ. The Friendly Men's Bible Class will meet at 9:30 a.m. the church school and Baraca Class at noon. Winfield Chatto will conduct the Epworth League at 6:30 p.m. Evening worship is at 7:30 p.m. with praise service in charge of Ralph U. Clark; sermon topic, "The World's Dormitory." Service of praise and prayer on Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock.

"Building Anew" will be the sermon topic by Rev. Charles A. Marsteller at the Littlefield Memorial Church Sunday morning at 10:30. There will be special music and a children's story will precede the sermon. A

SOME NICE SUPPERS

Here are the names of those who have charge of the suppers at the Congregational Church the coming season. Members are asked to retain this slip.

Oct. 27—Mrs. Glenn Lawrence, chairman; Mrs. Kennedy Crane, Mrs. George Foster, Miss Virginia Snow, Mrs. A. W. Foss, Mrs. H. F. Hicks, Mrs. C. H. Duff, Miss Flora Fish, Mrs. E. D. Spear, Mrs. Charles Emery, Mrs. Chauncey Keene.

Nov. 10—Mrs. Henry Bird, chairman; Mrs. G. M. Derry, Miss Caroline Littlefield, Miss Anne Blackington, Mrs. Carl Sonniag, Mrs. J. M. Pomeroy, Mrs. Leo Howard, Mrs. Theodore Bird, Miss Ruth Nichols, Miss Alena Young.

Dec. 8—Mrs. Carl Snow, chairman; Mrs. Edwin Scarlett, Mrs. C. F. Joy, Mrs. Archie Bowley, Mrs. Milton Griffin, Mrs. Ralph Smith, Mrs. Murray T. Whalen, Mrs. Don Kelsey, Mrs. Emory Howard, Mrs. George Wood, Mrs. J. E. Stevens, Mrs. L. A. Thurston.

Dec. 29—Rev. C. H. Olds, Milton Griffin, co-chairmen; Maurice Lovejoy, Fred Black, G. A. Lawrence, W. I. Ayer, H. B. Bird, W. S. Spear, E. K. Leighton, C. H. Duff, J. C. Perry, H. A. Buffum, C. F. Snow, A. J. Bird, A. L. Orne, H. B. Fales, John I. Snow, J. O. Stevens, C. I. Burrows, Leo Howard, Alvin Ramsdell, J. E. Stevens, E. J. Heiler, B. B. Smith, Henry Chatto, Victor Ramsdell, E. C. Davis, Dr. A. W. Foss, E. L. Spear, A. C. Jones, Alan L. Bird, C. A. Emery, Kennedy Crane, Homer Robinson, R. E. Thurston, Joseph Emery, J. E. Bradstreet, Charles Merritt.

Jan. 19—Mrs. Clarence Munsey, Miss Charlotte Buffum, co-chairmen; Mrs. J. O. Stevens, Mrs. A. C. Jones, Mrs. Neil Fogg, Mrs. Charles Rose, Mrs. M. P. Lovejoy, Mrs. Fred Black, Mrs. L. N. Lawrence, Mrs. Joseph Emery.

Feb. 2—Mrs. A. R. Havener, chairman; Mrs. A. J. Murray, Mrs. John G. Snow, Mrs. David S. Beach, Mrs. Jerome Burrows, Mrs. Kenneth Spear, Mrs. Donald Cummings, Mrs. A. J. Nichols, Mrs. Frank Marsh, Mrs. Carl Moffitt, Mrs. Corwin Olds.

Feb. 16—Mrs. A. L. Orne, chairman; Mrs. E. K. Leighton, Mrs. Ensign Otis, Mrs. B. B. Smith, Mrs. Eva Sleeper, Mrs. W. I. Ayer, Mrs. Henry Chatto, Miss Virginia Connon.

March 2—Mrs. Basil Stinson, Mrs. Nettie Bird Frost, co-chairmen; Mrs. Mary Harriman, Mrs. Ruth Peterson, Mrs. L. B. Cook, Mrs. Fred Treacart, Mrs. George Blaney, Mrs. Harold R. Connon, Mrs. Vance Norton, Mrs. Joseph Blaisdell, Miss Corice Thomas.

March 16—Major George Blaney, David Beach, co-chairmen; Earl Perry, A. J. Murray, Jerome Burrows, Cleveland Sleeper, Fred Treacart, Ralph A. Smith, A. R. Havener, L. A. Thurston, John G. Snow, Dr. N. A. Fogg, Harold Karl, C. F. Joy, C. E. Munsey, Joseph Blaisdell, Earle R. Gowell, Charles A. Rose, Donald G. Cummings, Dr. Emory Howard, Carl Sonniag, Charles G. Hewett, Eugene Lamb, Frank Marsh, Dr. E. L. Scarlett, Francis Orne, Theodore Bird, Ernest Keywood, J. M. Pomeroy, Chauncey Keene, Vance Norton, Murray Whalen, Bertram White, Donald Kelsey.

March 30—Mrs. Charles Hewett, chairman; Mrs. Robert Jewell, Mrs. J. E. Bradstreet, Mrs. Victor Ramsdell, Mrs. H. A. Buffum, Miss Ada Young, Mrs. Cleveland Sleeper, Mrs. W. S. Cameron, Mrs. Earl Perry, Miss Eleanor Bird, Miss Frances Chatto.

April 13—Mrs. H. B. Fales, chairman; Mrs. Harold Karl, Mrs. Charles Merritt, Mrs. Hazel Peterson, Mrs. Clarence Barnard, Mrs. E. L. Spear, Mrs. Edwin Edwards, Mrs. Harriet Frost, Miss Elizabeth Hahn.

April 27—Mrs. W. W. Spear, chairman; Mrs. C. E. Davis, Mrs. C. I. Burrows, Mrs. Homer Robinson, Mrs. John I. Snow, Mrs. A. J. Bird, Miss Pay Hodgkins, Mrs. E. J. Heiler, Mrs. Alan L. Bird, Mrs. Lizzie Clark.

May 4—Mrs. W. S. Cameron, Mrs. Earl Gowell, co-chairmen primary department.

May 5—Mrs. R. E. Philbrick, Mrs. Eugene Lamb, co-chairmen intermediate department.

At St. Peter's Church (Episcopal), Rev. E. O. Kenyon, rector, the services for tomorrow will be: Matins at 7:10; Holy Communion at 7:30; church school at 9:30; Holy Eucharist and sermon at 10:30; Vespers at 7:30 p.m.

Weekend services at the Salvation Army will include: Saturday, 7:30 p.m. open air; 8 p.m. praise meeting. "An Israel Indeed," Capt. Bowness speaker. Sunday, 10 a.m. Sunday school; 11 a.m. holiness meeting, "Peter Warmeth Himself," Capt. Bowness speaker; 6 p.m. Y.P.L. meeting, Miss Olive Elwell; 7:30 p.m. open air; 8 p.m. praise meeting, "Why Faith Hath Made Thee Whole," Lieut. Wright speaker.

At the Universalist Church Sunday morning, 10:45, Dr. Lowe's discourse will be a follow-up to his sermon of last Sunday in which he replied to Mr. Corbin's article on "Why I Don't Go To Church." His subject will be "Church Goers and Non-Church Goers As I See Them." The church school meets in the vestry at noon. The Kindergarten department of the church school for children from three to five years, will hold its first session during the church service hour 10:40 to 11:15 a.m. Parents are urged to bring their little ones to this important department of the church school.

Rally Day will be observed at the Congregational Church school on Sunday. The unified service of public worship and church school is at 10:30 a.m. with the children sharing in the worship and attending classes during the sermon. Dismissal is at 11:40. The theme of the sermon by Rev. Corwin H. Olds will be, "The Attitude of the Modern Church Toward Religious Education." Commentaries of the Way will hold their first meeting of the season in the vestry at 6:30 p.m. In addition to planning the season's activities, there will be a discussion of "Problems and Principles of Social Living Today," and a brief entertaining talk by Mr. Olds.

"Short and Narrow" will be the sermon topic of Rev. Charles E. Brooks at the Pratt Memorial Methodist Church Sunday morning. The vested choir under the direction of Mrs. Lydia Storer will render special musical numbers. Miss Carol Gardner will play the organ. The Friendly Men's Bible Class will meet at 9:30 a.m. the church school and Baraca Class at noon. Winfield Chatto will conduct the Epworth League at 6:30 p.m. Evening worship is at 7:30 p.m. with praise service in charge of Ralph U. Clark; sermon topic, "The World's Dormitory." Service of praise and prayer on Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock.

"Building Anew" will be the sermon topic by Rev. Charles A. Marsteller at the Littlefield Memorial Church Sunday morning at 10:30. There will be special music and a children's story will precede the sermon. A

At St. Peter's Church (Episcopal), Rev. E. O. Kenyon, rector, the services for tomorrow will be: Matins at 7:10; Holy Communion at 7:30; church school at 9:30; Holy Eucharist and sermon at 10:30; Vespers at 7:30 p.m.

Weekend services at the Salvation Army will include: Saturday, 7:30 p.m. open air; 8 p.m. praise meeting. "An Israel Indeed," Capt. Bowness speaker. Sunday, 10 a.m. Sunday school; 11 a.m. holiness meeting, "Peter Warmeth Himself," Capt. Bowness speaker; 6 p.m. Y.P.L. meeting, Miss Olive Elwell; 7:30 p.m. open air; 8 p.m. praise meeting, "Why Faith Hath Made Thee Whole," Lieut. Wright speaker.

At the Universalist Church Sunday morning, 10:45, Dr. Lowe's discourse will be a follow-up to his sermon of last Sunday in which he replied to Mr. Corbin's article on "Why I Don't Go To Church." His subject will be "Church Goers and Non-Church Goers As I See Them." The church school meets in the vestry at noon. The Kindergarten department of the church school for children from three to five years, will hold its first session during the church service hour 10:40 to 11:15 a.m. Parents are urged to bring their little ones to this important department of the church school.

Rally Day will be observed at the Congregational Church school on Sunday. The unified service of public worship and church school is at 10:30 a.m. with the children sharing in the worship and attending classes during the sermon. Dismissal is at 11:40. The theme of the sermon by Rev. Corwin H. Olds will be, "The Attitude of the Modern Church Toward Religious Education." Commentaries of the Way will hold their first meeting of the season in the vestry at 6:30 p.m. In addition to planning the season's activities, there will be a discussion of "Problems and Principles of Social Living Today," and a brief entertaining talk by Mr. Olds.

"Short and Narrow" will be the sermon topic of Rev. Charles E. Brooks at the Pratt Memorial Methodist Church Sunday morning. The vested choir under the direction of Mrs. Lydia Storer will render special musical numbers. Miss Carol Gardner will play the organ. The Friendly Men's Bible Class will meet at 9:30 a.m. the church school and Baraca Class at noon. Winfield Chatto will conduct the Epworth League at 6:30 p.m. Evening worship is at 7:30 p.m. with praise service in charge of Ralph U. Clark; sermon topic, "The World's Dormitory." Service of praise and prayer on Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock.

"Building Anew" will be the sermon topic by Rev. Charles A. Marsteller at the Littlefield Memorial Church Sunday morning at 10:30. There will be special music and a children's story will precede the sermon. A

CLYDE VINING

Funeral services were held at Crescent Beach Wednesday afternoon for Clyde Vining, whose death occurred there last Sunday after an illness of several weeks. The bearers were Lincoln E. McKee, Frank A. Tirrell, Jr., George W. Roberts, Walter C. Ladd, Ellis Watts and H. E. Keywood. The interment was in Achorn cemetery.

CLYDE VINING

Funeral services were held at Crescent Beach Wednesday afternoon for Clyde Vining, whose death occurred there last Sunday after an illness of several weeks. The bearers were Lincoln E. McKee, Frank A. Tirrell, Jr., George W. Roberts, Walter C. Ladd, Ellis Watts and H. E. Keywood. The interment was in Achorn cemetery.

CHURCHES

How Great Was John the Baptist?

VI

It is not hard to answer that question, if we do it fairly. The stone that blocked Jesus' tomb, we are told, was very great, and it can be said of John that he was very great; but you must measure him with men who were either prophets or preachers.

As either a prophet or preacher how did he compare with those blazoned on high in the history of Israel? Jesus knew all about the great ones of Israel and He discussed this very question with the multitude concerning John— "What went ye out to see? A reed shaken in the wind? A man clothed in soft raiment? Behold these are in King's houses. A prophet? Yea more than a prophet—Verily I say unto you among those born of woman there hath not arisen a greater than John the Baptist."

Jesus considered him the greatest of mortals. Josephus, the Jewish historian, thought John was very great, so great in fact, that he relates, "Many Jews believed that the defeat of Herod's army by Aretas was in punishment for John's beheading."

Herod Antipas knew John was great. You have to search history from John to Stanley Baldwin to find a braver preacher. "It is not lawful for thou to have her," The Pharisees knew John was great. They dared not interfere with him.

In the fortress of Machaerus, John the Baptist was slain, at the behest of an adulterous woman but his greatness did not die with his body. His clear perception of truth and his self effacement mark his superlative greatness—"Among those born of women, none greater," said Christ.

William A. Holman.

At St. Peter's Church (Episcopal), Rev. E. O. Kenyon, rector, the services for tomorrow will be: Matins at 7:10; Holy Communion at 7:30; church school at 9:30; Holy Eucharist and sermon at 10:30; Vespers at 7:30 p.m.

Weekend services at the Salvation Army will include: Saturday, 7:30 p.m. open air; 8 p.m. praise meeting. "An Israel Indeed," Capt. Bowness speaker. Sunday, 10 a.m. Sunday school; 11 a.m. holiness meeting, "Peter Warmeth Himself," Capt. Bowness speaker; 6 p.m. Y.P.L. meeting, Miss Olive Elwell; 7:30 p.m. open air; 8 p.m. praise meeting, "Why Faith Hath Made Thee Whole," Lieut. Wright speaker.

At the Universalist Church Sunday morning, 10:45, Dr. Lowe's discourse will be a follow-up to his sermon of last Sunday in which he replied to Mr. Corbin's article on "Why I Don't Go To Church." His subject will be "Church Goers and Non-Church Goers As I See Them." The church school meets in the vestry at noon. The Kindergarten department of the church school for children from three to five years, will hold its first session during the church service hour 10:40 to 11:15 a.m. Parents are urged to bring their little ones to this important department of the church school.

Rally Day will be observed at the Congregational Church school on Sunday. The unified service of public worship and church school is at 10:30 a.m. with the children sharing in the worship and attending classes during the sermon. Dismissal is at 11:40. The theme of the sermon by Rev. Corwin H. Olds will be, "The Attitude of the Modern Church Toward Religious Education." Commentaries of the Way will hold their first meeting of the season in the vestry at 6:30 p.m. In addition to planning the season's activities, there will be a discussion of "Problems and Principles of Social Living Today," and a brief entertaining talk by Mr. Olds.

"Short and Narrow" will be the sermon topic of Rev. Charles E. Brooks at the Pratt Memorial Methodist Church Sunday morning. The vested choir under the direction of Mrs. Lydia Storer will render special musical numbers. Miss Carol Gardner will play the organ. The Friendly Men's Bible Class will meet at 9:30 a.m. the church school and Baraca Class at noon. Winfield Chatto will conduct the Epworth League at 6:30 p.m. Evening worship is at 7:30 p.m. with praise service in charge of Ralph U. Clark; sermon topic, "The World's Dormitory." Service of praise and prayer on Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock.

"Building Anew" will be the sermon topic by Rev. Charles A. Marsteller at the Littlefield Memorial Church Sunday morning at 10:30. There will be special music and a children's story will precede the sermon. A

At St. Peter's Church (Episcopal), Rev. E. O. Kenyon, rector, the services for tomorrow will be: Matins at 7:10; Holy Communion at 7:30; church school at 9:30; Holy Eucharist and sermon at 10:30; Vespers at 7:30 p.m.

Weekend services at the Salvation Army will include: Saturday, 7:30 p.m. open air; 8 p.m. praise meeting. "An Israel Indeed," Capt. Bowness speaker. Sunday, 10 a.m. Sunday school; 11 a.m. holiness meeting, "Peter Warmeth Himself," Capt. Bowness speaker; 6 p.m. Y.P.L. meeting, Miss Olive Elwell; 7:30 p.m. open air; 8 p.m. praise meeting, "Why Faith Hath Made Thee Whole," Lieut. Wright speaker.

At the Universalist Church Sunday morning, 10:45, Dr. Lowe's discourse will be a follow-up to his sermon of last Sunday in which he replied to Mr. Corbin's article on "Why I Don't Go To Church." His subject will be "Church Goers and Non-Church Goers As I See Them." The church school meets in the vestry at noon. The Kindergarten department of the church school for children from three to five years, will hold its first session during the church service hour 10:40 to 11:15 a.m. Parents are urged to bring their little ones to this important department of the church school.

Rally Day will be observed at the Congregational Church school on Sunday. The unified service of public worship and church school is at 10:30 a.m. with the children sharing in the worship and attending classes during the sermon. Dismissal is at 11:40. The theme of the sermon by Rev. Corwin H. Olds will be, "The Attitude of the Modern Church Toward Religious Education." Commentaries of the Way will hold their first meeting of the season in the vestry at 6:30 p.m. In addition to planning the season's activities, there will be a discussion of "Problems and Principles of Social Living Today," and a brief entertaining talk by Mr. Olds.

"Short and Narrow" will be the sermon topic of Rev. Charles E. Brooks at the Pratt Memorial Methodist Church Sunday morning. The vested choir under the direction of Mrs. Lydia Storer will render special musical numbers. Miss Carol Gardner will play the organ. The Friendly Men's Bible Class will meet at 9:30 a.m. the church school and Baraca Class at noon. Winfield Chatto will conduct the Epworth League at 6:30 p.m. Evening worship is at 7:30 p.m. with praise service in charge of Ralph U. Clark; sermon topic, "The World's Dormitory." Service of praise and prayer on Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock.

"Building Anew" will be the sermon topic by Rev. Charles A. Marsteller at the Littlefield Memorial Church Sunday morning at 10:30. There will be special music and a children's story will precede the sermon. A

At St. Peter's Church (Episcopal), Rev. E. O. Kenyon, rector, the services for tomorrow will be: Matins at 7:10; Holy Communion at 7:30; church school at 9:30; Holy Eucharist and sermon at 10:30; Vespers at 7:30 p.m.

Weekend services at the Salvation Army will include: Saturday, 7:30 p.m. open air; 8 p.m. praise meeting. "An Israel Indeed," Capt. Bowness speaker. Sunday, 10 a.m. Sunday school; 11 a.m. holiness meeting, "Peter Warmeth Himself," Capt. Bowness speaker; 6 p.m. Y.P.L. meeting, Miss Olive Elwell; 7:30 p.m. open air; 8 p.m. praise meeting, "Why Faith Hath Made Thee Whole," Lieut

HOLLYWOOD STAR-LITES

(By Chuck Cochard)

Hollywood — (Exclusive)—Paulette Goddard for the role of Scarlett in "Gone With the Wind" is the hottest news in this film town right now. We understand it is hers if she can get Charlie Chaplin's consent. The trouble, I understand, is that he will not let her go because he is going to star her opposite himself in a talkie.

Douglas Fairbanks Jr. will play the heart interest opposite Ginger Rogers in "Having Wonderful Time." He is slated to leave for Hollywood from London sometime this week. It will be his first role since Rupert in "The Prisoner of Zenda."

England's queen bee of the films is going to sing and sing plenty in her first film in the United States. Evidently Darryl Zanuck, head of 20th Century-Fox, believes that music will solve all problems. The title of the film will be "He Was Her Man." It will be Gracie Fields' American film debut.

Still another musical is coming from the same studio in the form of "Alexander's Ragtime Band," starring Alice Faye with Don Ameche. Then to top this, Sonja Henie's next "Broad, Butter and Rhythm" is a musical.

Actresses can be made to look fat or thin in technicolor films. Blue dresses make them look thin, dark red at least ten pounds heavier.

Johnny Weissmuller, the original Tarzan, tells me that he is through with those outdoor roles and will go into the swimming demonstration business.

"Madame X," the famous French stage play, has been remade again by M-G-M with Gladys George in the lead and the production is excellent. Miss George's acting is marvelous. The picture still has a punch.

Mae West was born in Brooklyn, New York, August 17. . . her father was a prize fighter and her mother was French. . . she entered upon a stage career early in her life. . . in vaudeville she originated the shimmy dance. . . Her first film was in 1932 with George Raft in "Night After Night." . . her next vehicle, "She Done Him Wrong" made her a star overnight. . . she has a sister in vaudeville, Beverly West and a brother Jack Jr. . . She is married. . . she is five feet, four inches tall and weighs 126 pounds. . . her hair is platinum blonde and her eyes are violet.

Newest gag of the autograph hunters is to travel in gangs and when they spot a star driving out of a studio, join hands across the street in his or her path, giving the choice of running them down or signing up. . . Clara Bow's asking price for a film comeback has shut her out of Hal Roach's "Road Show." She asked $75,000 and a cut in the profits. "The Prisoner of Zenda" is doing the biggest business of any picture in the country right now.

Adolphe Menjou was born in Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 18, the son of Albert Menjou, French inn-keeper and linguist of nine languages. . . He went to Culver Military Academy. . . Then to Cornell University. . . His first screen work was with Vitaphone. . . Was a captain during the World War. . . Menjou has one brother, Henri, living in New York, where he is engaged in the oil business. . . He is five feet nine inches tall, weighs 153 pounds, has blue eyes and dark brown hair. . . Is married to Veree Teasdale. His latest picture is with Deanna Durbin "100 Men and a Girl."

PATRONIZE YOUR ESTABLISHED FLORIST

Who is ready to serve you 365 days in the year
Silsby's Flower Shop
TEL. 318-W
371 MAIN ST. ROCKLAND 10017

MAGIC CITY ON SAN FRANCISCO BAY FOR 1939 FAIR

Nations, States Participate In Golden Gate Exposition

SAN FRANCISCO.—Mammoth exhibit palaces are rising, spectacular towers are etching a new pattern on the skyline and a "magic city" is taking shape in San Francisco Bay for the $50,000,000 World's Fair of the West, to be held on Treasure Island in 1939.

On the largest man-made island in the world, dredged up from the bottom of the sea, a $16,000,000 building program is under way. Contracts totalling over $10,000,000 have been let and ten buildings are practically completed.

Two million dollars budgeted for landscaping and illumination will assure "the most beautiful World's Fair in history," experts declare. One outstanding building will be the Temple of Music.

More than half the states in the Union have already asked for exhibit space in the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition, millions already having been appropriated for state exhibits.

Japan, Mexico, the Dutch East Indies and Ecuador are the latest foreign nations to announce plans for colorful exhibits. Other countries which have announced participation are Cuba, Santo Domingo, Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Panama, Peru, Venezuela and El Salvador. Thus a true "Pageant of the Pacific" is assured.

Exhibit palaces will be windowless, with spectacular illumination by day and by night. In a 40-acre Midway, San Francisco will again reign as "Queen of the Amusement World," with a galaxy of kaleidoscopic amusements for millions of visitors.

Temple of Music, above. Right, Lenore Lombard shows Hawaiian Palace model.

This striking aerial photograph by Clyde Sunderland shows Treasure Island, San Francisco Bay site of the 1939 World's Fair of the West, adjoining Yerba Buena Island and the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, a portion of which is seen in foreground. Note World's Fair Palaces under construction on Treasure Island.

PORT CLYDE

Fred Waldo has returned home after spending four days with Allan B. Craven at "The Fo'Castle."

Mrs. K. D. Tower and Miss Hope Narey of Brookline, Mass., have returned home after spending the summer at Land's End.

Lt. Col. Kenneth Prince Lord has bought what was the Sineck cottage at Land's End. He and his family are here for two weeks. He also has bought the boat owned by his cousin Fred Waldo, and is converting it into a pleasure boat. Ford Davis is doing the work.

Mrs. Mary Gardner went Monday to Canton, Mass., where she will spend the winter.

Mrs. Maude Anthony has returned to Camden after a two weeks' vacation.

Clifton Morse went Sunday to Montville.

Mrs. Jennie Hupper and Mrs. Clara Morse are visiting in Thomaston.

The Los Angeles correspondent referred to in a recent issue was William Hutton a former resident of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Simmons, Mrs. Floyd Conant and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pendleton visited Wednesday in Portland.

Mrs. Electa Hopkins is guest of relatives in Augusta.

Miss Theodora Van Names has returned to New Haven, Conn.

UNITY'S OLD FAMILIES

James B. Vickery III, a sophomore at Bates College, is nearing the final stages of his work preparing a history of the old families of his home town, Unity. Work on the volume, including research into town, county, and State records, has been in progress four years.

Voice of Firestone Guest

Josephine Antoine, gifted Metropolitan soprano and brilliant radio, concert and oratorio star, will appear as guest artist on the Monday evening Voice of Firestone program, October 4, over the NBC-Red Network at 8:30 EST. She will substitute for Margaret Speaks who is on concert tour.

Still in her early twenties, this girl from the golden west has gloriously scaled the heights of song. After being graduated from the University of Colorado, Miss Antoine entered the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia on scholarship in 1929. Later she entered Juillard Graduate School in New York and studied under Mme. Marcella Sembrich on successive fellowships through June, 1935.

Miss Antoine made her debut at the Metropolitan as Philine in "Mignon" and shared honors with Richard Crooks, famous Voice of Firestone tenor. At the end of the first act, she won a rousing reception and her aria "Je Suis Titania" in the last scene of the second act, drew a ten-minute ovation from an audience which filled every seat and crowded the side aisles.

For her guest appearance on the Monday evening Voice of Firestone program, Josephine Antoine will sing "Carmena" by Wilson; "Songs My Mother Taught Me," Dvorak; "Lo, Hear the Gentle Lark" by Bishop. Miss Antoine will join the Firestone Choral Singers to give "Funiculi-Funicula" by Denza. The Firestone Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Alfred Wallenstein will interpret "Spanish Dance No. 1" by De Falla.

Truck covers, spray hoods, canvas of all kinds, Power machine stitching, Awnings stored. Rockland Awning Co., 16 Willow St.

WEST LIBERTY

Edward Bridges and son, Frank of Arizona are occupying one of the Glendinning camps for an indefinite period.

Ralph Pratt and Forrest Tibbetts won blue ribbons on steer and oxen at North Knox Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hammon and daughter Clara of Belfast are passing a few days at one of Claude Archer's cottages on St. Georges lake. Mr. Hammon is enjoying a bit of hunting.

Virgie Studley of Rockland and guests were at his cottage here last Sunday.

Forrest Tibbetts spent last week-end in Port Kent, accompanying his cousin, Charles Tibbetts and uncle who were guests of Mrs. Benjamin Sylvester.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Saban and son, Bernard, made a visit Sunday evening at the home of friends here.

Mrs. Annie Tibbetts has returned home after a week's stay with her daughter, Mrs. A. R. Leavitt of East Wintthrop.

Robert Overlock was guest Sunday evening of his sister, Mrs. Beulah Tibbetts.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kellen started Tuesday on a trip to the West Coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Williams of Reading, Mass., have been visiting Mrs. Lizzie Sherman, who accompanied them Thursday on their return trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Pomelean of Waterville were visitors Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wales Sherman.

Miss Thomas, teacher at Sherman's Corner School visited friends Sunday in Camden.

Mrs. Lydia Boynton returned Friday to Dr. Cates' in Vassalboro where she has employment.

LONG COVE

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Polky of Friendship were recent callers on William Polky.

Mrs. Ida Harjula of Georges River and Mrs. Gladys Harjula of Rockland spent Tuesday with Mrs. Edwin Stein.

Captain Hiram Champlain of Connecticut has been a frequent visitor at the home of Omar Conway while the barge on which he is employed has been stationed at Rockland for the past two weeks.

Victor Johnson passed last week-end with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson.

Mrs. Annie Kyllonen and sons, Arthur, Albert, Elnard and Elvin of Waldoboro were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harris and also visited at the home of Edwin Stein.

Floyd Simmons of Rockland is at the home of his sister, Mrs. Hester Hyvarinen while being employed on the State road.

Theodore Conway has resumed duties in New York after spending a two months' vacation with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Omar Conway.

Mrs. Sainea Autio is home from Thomaston where she had a summer's employment.

WALDOBORO

The Baptist Missionary Society met at the parsonage Friday afternoon with 16 members present to enjoy a pleasing program. Miss Edna M. Young gave a history of the society and Mrs. C. V. Overman spoke on China. Rev. C. V. Overman and Mrs. Overman also sang several selections. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. Nellie Overlock was hostess Thursday afternoon at the meeting of the Susannah Wesley Society.

Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Palmer have been in Framingham, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Mason of Pigeon Cove, Mass., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Mason. With their host and hostess they motored Monday to Cadillac Mountain.

Julia (Willey) wife of Justin Welt died at her home Tuesday. She was a native of Bremen but had lived here all of her married life. She leaves a son, Clarence A. Welt, and a daughter, Mrs. Annie L. Wallbridge of Gardiner.

An interesting account of the launching of the three-masted schooner, Mary J. Cook, is contained in a copy of the Lincoln County News of Oct. 9, 1874. This schooner was built in the ship yard of H. H. Kennedy & Co., and was of about 100 tons.

The vessel was designed by Franklin Cook of Friendship and was built under the superintendence of Albert Waltz of Nobleboro with Benjamin Storer and son, Johners; J. S. Hatch, blacksmith; Alphonso Ludwig, caulker; Kuhn and Haupt, fasteners; Osgood Miller, painter; John David, rigger.

The schooner was commanded by Capt. Albert G. Cook of Friendship and was owned by him and parties in Boston, New York and Alexandria, the article states. The old clipping is reminiscent of the days when vessels built in this town sailed the seven seas.

Guide Down East

The Volume Relating To Maine Will Have Much To Commend It

"Maine: A Guide Down East," third of the volumes on the New England states, written and compiled by the Federal Writers' Project will be published in the near future.

Similar in material and format to the two earlier volumes, "Massachusetts: A Guide to Its Places and People" and "Vermont: A Guide to the Green Mountains," the Maine book is expected to prove the same valuable and entertaining source of information to the native as well as to the millions who annually visit the "nation's playground."

Random glances through the manuscript disclose a number of facts probably as unfamiliar to the oldest native as to the newest tourist. For instance, Maine had the first English settlement in the Colonies, the first monastery east of California and the first prohibition law.

It has the only mountain on the Atlantic coast north of Rio de Janeiro. It is the only place where berylomite has been found and is the only state that has refused to export power.

It has the largest blueberry and potato crops, news print plant, lake and canoe factory in the United States, the oldest Catholic church and cemetery, public building and land deed in New England.

A large part of the book is given over to expertly arranged tours by which the stranger may easily find his way to the most remote corners of the hunting and fishing grounds as well as to the main squares of Portland and Bangor. Each important building and site along the way has been carefully documented so that the most important things may be seen in the least possible time and with the minimum of trouble.

Guidebooks on New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Connecticut, in that order, will follow the Maine book to complete the New England section of the American Guide Series which has been called "the most extensive attempt at surveying Americans and American conditions ever attempted."

ROCKPORT

Miss Ruth Miller entertained the members of her Sunday School class at her home on Mechanic street Wednesday evening. Those present were Constance Lane, Barbara Richardson, Alice MacDonald, Barbara Colby, Carolyn Burns, Lucille Dean and Mary Dauplet.

Roland Peppier and mother and Harold Shallow of Connecticut are visiting at the home of Joseph Marshall, Russell avenue.

The Trypophel Club will serve a public harvest supper at the Baptist vestry Oct. 20 from 5:30 to 7.

W. M. Marion Upham of Harbor Light Chapter O.E.S. will fill the station of Adah at Thomaston next Wednesday night when Grace Chapter observes visiting officers night with matrons of various chapters in the district occupying the chairs.

Mrs. Leslie C. Dean went to Boston Tuesday to accompany home Mr. Dean who has been a surgical patient at the Deaconess Hospital the past month.

An invitation has been extended Harbor Light Chapter O.E.S. to be guests of Seaside Chapter at their special meeting and inspection next Thursday. Supper at 6:30.

Mrs. William Ingraham is visiting relatives in New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur K. Walker returned Monday from a visit with relatives in Orono.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Crockett (Marie McFarland) have returned from Lynn, Mass., and are at the home of Mrs. Lillian Keller.

Mrs. Albert U. Rhoads underwent a surgical operation Thursday at Community Hospital.

At the Baptist Church Sunday services will begin with morning worship at 11 a. m. with sermon by the pastor, Rev. J. W. Hyssong, subject, "Is It Necessary to Believe?" 12 noon, Bible School with classes for all ages; 6 p. m., Christian Endeavor Meeting, speaker, Mrs. Ernest Whittemore; 7 p. m., Gospel Service, good singing; subject of sermon, "The Great Commission."

Methodist Church: N. F. Atwood, pastor: Church School at 10 a. m. morning worship at 11, sermon subject, "Able to Keep;" Epworth League at 6 p. m.; an illustrated talk by the pastor on "The Holy Land" will be given at 7 p. m.

Mrs. Clara Lane is substituting at the East Side primary school during the absence of the teacher, Mrs. Wilma Rhodes.

The Farm Bureau held an all-day session Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Margaret Gregory, Glen Cove, with 22 present. Dinner at noon was in charge of Mrs. Gregory. Mrs. Mildred Rhodes and Mrs. Inez Packard, "Tomatoes in Many Ways" was the subject discussed.

Officers of Harbor Light Chapter are requested to meet at Masonic hall, Tuesday at 7 p. m. for rehearsal of the work.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rider and Miss Helen Small returned Thursday from a three-days' visit in Boston.

COURIER-GAZETTE CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

HORIZONTAL

1—Was cognizant of
4—Deeds
8—Eternity
9—Glide
13—Portuguese coin
14—Terminating
16—Help
18—Raw metal
19—Girl's name
20—Brush a floor
22—Damp
24—Exile
25—Very swift
27—Comparative suffix
28—Indite
29—Depart
31—Rod for beating time
32—Five hundred fifty
34—Support for a picture

HORIZONTAL (Cont.)

36—Drive back
39—Small stream
40—Part of the body
42—Small tables
45—Dialma
47—Young hog
48—Part for one (pl.)
49—Born
50—Percolate
51—Sums up

VERTICAL

1—Sharp
2—Prefix, Not
3—Bestows
5—Wrinkle
6—Half a score
7—The lateral part
9—Scarf
10—Life Guard (abbr.)
11—Father

VERTICAL (Cont.)

12—Was erect
15—Anger
17—Prefix, Thrice
20—Burn
21—Pertaining to the
22—Less in extent
23—Sling tremulously
26—Fondle
30—Oars collectively
31—Twists
32—Approaches
33—Insist upon
35—Heavenly body
37—Prefix, Before
38—A serpent (pl.)
41—Tints
43—To lash
44—To this degree
45—Act
46—Crimson

(Solution to previous puzzle)

Maine Only State

To Be Free Of Rattlesnakes and Copperheads — At Least, So Thought

Do poisonous snakes exist in Maine? The Smithsonian Institution and Bureau of Biological Survey agree there have been no recent reports of specimens from that state, although they believe Maine to be within the possible area of the banded rattlesnake.

However, Dr. William H. Mann, director of the Washington Zoo, said he believed both rattlesnakes and copperheads might exist within the State's borders. Both the Biological Survey and the Smithsonian Institution have literature showing rattlesnakes were found in the southwest portion of the State as late as 1863.

Dr. Raymond L. Ditmars, New York authority on reptiles, reported recently that Maine appeared to be the only state in the Union in which no poisonous snakes exist.

The copperhead, he said, has been found in some areas in Massachusetts, but not in the three northern New England States, however, the banded rattlesnake has been found in Vermont, and, as late as 1929, in New Hampshire. The Boston Society of Natural History, however, has been unable recently to obtain a specimen from Maine.

R. H. Uhler of the Bureau of Biological Survey attributed the lack of poisonous snakes to the climate. The banded rattlesnake, the eastern variety, he said, was unable to exist in a region of severe winters.

Although rattlesnakes existed in regions of more severe climate than in Maine, such as North Dakota and other northern states, they were a different variety, adapted to the semi-arid conditions found in those areas. Such a snake would be unable to survive in the Maine climate, with its greater humidity.

Miss Doris M. Cochran of the Smithsonian Institution credited settlement, and in the introduction of hogs and ploughing, even more than climate, for the extinction of the rattlesnakes formerly found in southwestern Maine.

In the Smithsonian Library is a report made before the Boston Society of Natural History in 1863 saying rattlesnakes were very rare in Maine but that at that time a few were found in Albany and Raymond. None the report said, was found east of the Androscoggin River.

Miss Cochran has records only of the black snake and milk snake, of the larger non-poisonous snakes, being found in Maine, although there are several varieties of smaller snakes.

UNION

Mrs. Laura Daniels is visiting Miss Mabel Crawford in Warren for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Lowell and daughters Maxine and Helen of Rockport called Sunday on friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford Burgess of Vassalboro called on Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bryant recently.

Mrs. Mary E. Clark and Mrs. Ular Leach visited Monday with friends in Rockland.

Bryan Clark has bought the building known as Brown Bros. pants factory in South Union and will use it as an assembly shop. Since starting operations at Hills Mills his business has increased until it has far outgrown his present quarters.

Mrs. Annie Bartlett of Chelmsford, Mass., is guest of her niece Mrs. Fred Bessey.

Mrs. Schwartz has sold her place to Carl Cunningham, and returned to Massachusetts.

The Odd Fellows will hold installation jointly Oct. 16 with Mt. Horeb Encampment.

Mrs. Beulah Crichton and Charles Allen of North Yarmouth who were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bryant Fair week returned home Friday accompanied by Mrs. Lottie Bryant who had been spending several weeks at the Bryant home.

Mr. and Mrs. Edrick Edgcomb of Liberty were business callers Wednesday in this locality.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sukeforth who visited relatives and friends here and attended Union Fair have returned to Middleboro, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Senate of Wollaston, Mass., who have been guests of relatives and friends here and in Appleton have returned home.

Miss Lida Messer who has been visiting at her old home here, has resumed duties at Wellesley, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. George Newbert of Vinalhaven are visiting relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dotsen and two daughters of Augusta were visitors Sunday at Frank Watts'.

Mrs. Maude Bolster of Norway is at the home of her brother John Fuller on a visit.

Laurice Philbrook who has been employed in Bangor is now working for Bryan Clarke.

The Community Club will hold its first meeting of the season Tuesday afternoon at the new club rooms. Mrs. Edna McKinley is chairman of the program and has arranged to have two interesting speakers. Mrs. Laura Jameson of Waldoboro will speak and exhibit her collection of native butterflies. Mrs. Louise Orben of West Rockport will have present her collection of gourds and speak upon their cultivation. Columbus Day will also be observed with appropriate selections. Mrs. Hattie Leach, Mrs. Hattie Hoyt and Mrs. Mary Wallace will serve as hostesses.

NORTH BURKETTVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Harold McKee and Henry Turner of Bangor were visitors last weekend at the home of Mrs. Henry Turner. They also attended Union Fair, viewed the fireworks and reported a delightful time. This was Mr. and Mrs. McKee's first trip to this locality. They also visited the fish rearing pools.

Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Jackson of Lewiston were guests Sunday of Mrs. Jackson's sister, Mrs. Lella Turner. Everett Turner visited his sister in Lewiston last weekend.

Our Book Corner

During a recent trip to Lebanon, N. H., the writer of this column was privileged to go through the Library of Dartmouth College, at Hanover, Lebanon's neighbor town. It is of particular interest to know that Dartmouth has its own university press known as Dartmouth College Publications, and that its stands unique among college and university publishing enterprises in that it was originally conceived as a preventive measure. Its purpose at the time of its establishment was succinctly stated as to publish books which the College would have to publish anyway—and to prevent publishing other books. This burst of candor should not however, obscure the fact that sundry titles on the Dartmouth College Publications list have proved to be of quite general interest. Nor should it draw attention from future projects of Dartmouth College and New England history, and of popular interest in some cases as against the academic fare which constitutes most of the production of college and university presses.

The Dartmouth College Publications has to date, and quite properly, devoted major attention to works related directly or indirectly to the history of the College. A valuable uncollected collection of original manuscripts pertaining to early New England history has in the course of years come into the possession of Dartmouth College. Owing to Dartmouth's original establishment as a school for the education of Indians, much of the early documentary material which has been edited for publication has particular significance for students of the history of the American Indian. This material in large part constitutes the subject matter of the Dartmouth College Manuscript Series, of which three volumes have already been published, and a total of a dozen volumes are projected.

The first volume of this series is "Letters of Eleazar Wheelock's Indians," in which the Indian students tell their own story of their struggle to adapt themselves to the white man's civilization, and, specifically, to the 18th century religious ideology represented by Eleazar Wheelock. The second volume is entitled "An Indian Preacher in England," and is an account of the amazing success of the Rev. Samson Occom, an alumnus of Wheelock's Indian school, before English audiences on his mission which produced 11,000 pounds for the establishment of Dartmouth College. The story is told from the diaries of Occom and of Nathaniel Whitaker, a white man who went as "business manager" of the tour. The third is Harold Blodgett's "Samson Occom," a biography.

In fields apart from Dartmouth College history, the Dartmouth lectures on the Guernsey Center Moore Foundation, by Dr. Heinrich Bruening, former chancellor of Germany, contrasting the principles of democratic and totalitarian government, are scheduled for early publication. Among active recent titles are "The Orozco Frescoes of Dartmouth," a grave reproduction of the entire fresco series with supplementary descriptive information. And let me say right here, if you ever have the opportunity to visit this library, do not fail to see the Orozco murals—they are astounding. They represent Aztec civilization.

One could spend hours and hours and hours wandering through the rooms—in the stack rooms where there are books of every known type, arranged in a delightful way in alcoves around small tables, inviting easy chairs, shaded lamps; in the periodical room where there are magazines and pamphlets and newspapers in many languages dealing with religion, science, politics, philosophy, arts, etc.; in the reference rooms where there are imposing volumes—and sometimes thin enchanting ones, too—also in many languages. You can wander about at will—no one tags at your heels, and courteous attendants on the lower floor (as you enter) will show you unusual and unique books if you ask.

Robert P. Tristram Coffin, Professor of English at Bowdoin College, and well known Maine author, is conducting the book review department of Yankee Magazine, published at Dublin, N. H., his work having begun for the July issue.

The New England Poetry Society, by unanimous vote, has bestowed its annual award for the most distinguished contribution to poetry in the past year on John Hall Wheelock, for his volume, "Poems, 1911-1936," published by Charles Scribner's Sons.

Sept. 19, 1846 an English poet, accompanied by her maid and a dog named Flush, slipped out of, a True soil lover is Charles Morrow Wilson, well known writer, whose latest book, "Aroostook, Our Last Frontier," gives a true, thrilling picture of Maine's potato empire.

Aroostook County, its people, potatoes, past, present and future, are held under the microscope, probed by the surgeon's knife and peered at psychologically, sociologically and economically in Charles Morrow Wilson's new book, "Aroostook, Our Last Frontier." Handled competently by an author who knows how to give journalistic sparkle to the seemingly common-place, the contents should prove gratifying to Aroostookers, interesting to New Englanders and inspirational to Americans.

Quickly transporting his readers to Maine's picturesque potato empire, the author paves the way for later chapters with humanized descriptions of typical Aroostookers. Verbatim conversations with these characters, flavored with northeast Maine nasal accents and homely idioms, provides Mr. Wilson with the opportunity to introduce their horse-racing, culinary, aesthetic and manifold other extraneous, potato interests convincingly.

Acadia and the bloodless Aroostook War receive the attention merited historically which, oddly enough, almost every school book has neglected to give them. Chronologically, then, the author paints with swift, vivid strokes the coming of the lumbermen, the consequent transformation from forest to farm, the comparatively recent economic domination of the big farmer over the small landholder.

Relentlessly, Mr. Wilson does not spare the rod in describing the present-day situation of the Aroostook farmer, the many perils he faces. Encouragingly, he outlines the trademarking, packaging, advertising, and research program of the county as London house at 50 Wimpole street, and started for the Continent. Yes, Elizabeth Barrett Browning was on her way to join her poet-husband, to whom she had been secretly wed a week earlier. Sotheby's auction rooms in London recently offered some of Elizabeth Barrett Browning's letters. One of those sold was addressed to George Barrett, the poet's brother. Postmarked Sept. 19, 1846, it told of Browning's courtship of Elizabeth's love for him, of their elopement. It asked that the news be "broken gently" to "dearest papa." "Mr. Browning," the poet wrote her brother, "has been attracted to me for nearly two years . . . and made me feel . . . with every breath I draw in his presence that he loved me with no ordinary affection."

Mrs. Cresswell was a woman of infamous character who bequeathed 10 pounds for the funeral sermon in which nothing ill could be said of her. The Duke of Buckingham wrote the sermon, which was as follows: "All I shall say of her is this—she was born well, she married well, lived well, and died well; for she was born at Shadwell, married to Cresswell, lived at Clerkenwell and died at Bredwell."

The Bible is being recorded on scores of gramophone discs, so that blind people may hear the Gospels read by speakers with the most beautiful voices in Great Britain. Already completed are the Gospels of St. John and Mark, which have been read by Stuart Hibbard, British Broadcasting Corporation's chief announcer.

Those who prize Grace Noll Crowell's charming poems will want to have her new book of poems, "This Golden Summit." By sending $1.50 to her at 719 Lowell, Dallas, Texas, one can have an autographed copy, and an autographed photograph with each book. The book contains 70 of her latest poems and is beautifully bound.

well as the entire State. Concluding he blows reveille with the rousing statement: "Whatever the outcome, it is good to see the men of Aroostook still on the march."

Perhaps more important than the meaty facts crammed into "Aroostook, Our Last Frontier" is the significant picture the reader derives of the potato's importance on the American scene. It is impossible to close the book without realizing that the tuber, so often contemptuously dismissed as only a traveling companion for meat, is a mighty important fellow. Ranked among the first five or six greatest food crops of Europe and North America, its non-fattening food value is comparatively tremendous, it provides 500 menu-saving recipes, it solves the food-budget bugaboo for the poor man and his family, it supports hundreds of thousands of farmers in every State in the Union. Being a major crop in 18 of those States, it helps finance railroad operation, and so on ad infinitum. Cleverly illustrated with numerous photographs and a series of personal caricatures by Alden Woodworth, Aroostook District Superintendent of Schools, the volume should prove valuable to modern housewives with its concluding section devoted to more than 100 potato recipes.

Charles Morrow Wilson's articles have appeared in most of the leading magazines, including the Saturday Evening Post, Country Gentleman, Scribner's, Country Home and many other national magazines. Among his published books are "Meriwether Lewis," "Backwoods America," and "Boot of America."

TENANT'S HARBOR

Church Notes

Morning service at the Baptist church will be at 10.30. The pastor's subject will be the closing phrase of Christ the Way, the Truth and the Life.

Rally Day will be observed in the Bible School hour by children of the school presenting messages in song and word, under the direction of Agnes Sivewright and Mrs. Smith. At the "Bring One" night in the "Happy Hour of Music and Message" service Mr. Smith will speak on the theme "The Manner of the Death of Christ." The opening song-service, with interspersed special musical numbers, has been a time of real joy because of the hearty singing by everyone present.

The first monthly meeting of the Men's Baraca Class will be held Monday night, Rev. J. Charles MacDonald of the First Baptist Church of Rockland is to be the guest speaker, giving a lecture from his experiences of his recent trip to Europe and the Holy Land. Every man who has been a class attendant in the past, and who also wishes to start with the class for the coming months is invited to meet at the church at 7 o'clock.

Prayer and praise service will be in the vestry every Wednesday at 7 o'clock. Meditations have centered on the "Prayer Life of Christ."

SOUTH HOPE

Mrs. Ella Bowley is passing a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Watts in East Union.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyford Mills are great-grandparents by reason of a son born recently to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sprowl of Appleton.

Miss Bernice Payson has returned to Camden after spending the blueberry season with her aunt, Mrs. A. W. Heath.

ROCKVILLE

Once again the fall days are here and the autumnal foliage gives beauty to the country side. The trees in their richest of garb dress the hillsides with yellow and orange and a generous amount of red—a lovely sight. Even though it is the autumnal season there are tangible reminders of summer in that some in the village only this week had blueberry pie from fresh picked fruit and are still eating cucumbers, string beans, summer squash and ripe tomatoes right from the vines.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Joseph are in Fitchburg, having closed their summer home, Porter Acres, for the winter.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Perry were Mr. and Mrs. George Gurney and William Hodgman of Lewiston, and callers the same day were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Knowlton and children of Monmouth, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Campbell of Massachusetts, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lindsey, Mrs. Grace Flood, Miss Myrtle Herrick and Ralph Spear of Rockland.

Mrs. Dana A. Sherer spent Wednesday with Mrs. Charles W. Blackinton at Rockland Highlands. Callers Sunday at the Sherer's were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rising, Rockland; Mrs. Caroline Kallach, Concord, N. H.; Richard Rising, Swan's Island; Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Waldron and daughter Barbara, Glen Cove; and Mrs. Louise S. Rhodes, Camden.

Miss Margaret McKnight, Director of Rural Religious Education has returned from a vacation and is once more in the swing of her work. She will again hold mid-week meetings in this community until it becomes cold weather. The first meeting will be next Wednesday at 7 o'clock and the service will be in the school building.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Starr are making their winter home in Newton where Mr. Starr has employment.

John S. Ranlett, past commander of Ralph Ulmer Camp, S.W.V., has been appointed aide to the Commander-in-chief, Alfred J. Kennedy.

Mrs. Nathaniel Carroll observed her birthday anniversary Sunday night and was guest of Mrs. Elizabeth Crockett who gave a party in her honor.

Miss Lottie Ewell spent a few days this week with her cousin, Mrs. Ardie Thomas in St. George.

Miss Jane Ross of Brookline is visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Ranlett.

A service conducted by Bert Larcombe will be at the home of Mrs. Abbie Gibbs at 3 o'clock tomorrow. There will be a Sunday School at 1 o'clock.

Letters have been received from George Hall saying he is bell boy at a hotel at Fisher's Island.

Mrs. Florence Bolduc is visiting her mother and brother in New York.

TEELS ISLAND

Winfield Demuth of Friendship is employed by Mrs. Rose Atkins.

Basil Winchenbach arrived here Friday on his weekly trip.

Mrs. Dewey Maloney has been making a week's visit with Mr. Maloney on Eagle Island.

Mrs. Ruth Wilson was a Rockland visitor Tuesday.

Mrs. Fannie Wilson was guest Wednesday afternoon of her sister, Mrs. Atkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Vose passed last weekend in Friendship with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frankie Miller.

Birdie Simmons and Bernard Davis were on the island Thursday, the latter remaining for a few days.

Henry Teel, Winfield Demuth and Roy Vose spent Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Maloney on Eagle Island. As Mr. Teel and Mr. Demuth played violin selections, a delightful time was passed, luncheon also being a feature.

Floyd Conant and Forrest Morris dined Thursday with Donald Wilson. The lobster smack owned by Sherman Jameson of Friendship was here recently for a load of the shellfish.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Aldrich were callers Thursday afternoon on Mrs. Rose Atkins.

Donald Wilson, Jr., who has been visiting his grandmother in Port Clyde passed last weekend with his parents.

CLARK ISLAND

At the chapel a special re-opening service will be held Sunday at 3 o'clock. Guest speakers will be Rev. N. Smith of Tenant's Harbor and Rev. H. Leach of Thomaston. The picture "Christ in Gethsemane" will be unveiled. This picture is a gift to the chapel by the children and grandchildren of Mrs. Joseph Baum and is given in memory of their father and grandfather Joseph Baum. Music will consist of a solo by Elaine Ames of Rockland, special numbers by the men's chorus of Tenant's Harbor and "In the Garden" by the local Young People's chorus.

HOPE

Rally Day will be observed by the Sunday School Oct. 10 at 10.30 o'clock. A feature of the program will be the dramatization of the 24th Psalm.

At the STRAND Sunday - Monday - Tuesday

"PRISONER OF ZENDA"

Flavia and Ramendyll, the romantic principals of "The Prisoner of Zenda," are played by Madeleine Carroll and Ronald Colman in David O. Selznick's lavish screen version of the famous Anthony Hope romance. Artist Gene Aiello offers his impression of the stars.—adv.

CASTINE NORMAL

(By Ermo Scott)

Friday night, Roger A. Nye, tenor, and Marion McVea, pianist, Waterville, gave the first in the fall and winter series of concerts at the normal school auditorium. As usual, both artists gave freely of their fine talent and were roundly applauded by an appreciative audience. This is the second appearance of both these artists on the campus within the two seasons.

Under the direction of Coach Hatfield, two teams made up of the men in the school played the first in a series of touch football games in Port George on Monday afternoon. The game resulted in a 14-0 win for the Ramblers.

Mrs. Bray of Owl's Head was a guest of her daughter, Mary, on Sunday at campus.

Glendora Stevens of Brooks spent the weekend at home. Mr. and Mrs. Eaton of Belfast visited the campus on Sunday as the guest of their daughter, Norma.

The Castine Woman's Club met in the parlors of Richardson Hall Saturday afternoon. Assisting in the planning of the monthly get-together were Matron Emma McCullough, Elizabeth Sanborn and Elizabeth Sawyer, members of the school.

Miss Ethel Friend spent the weekend at her home in Etna.

After being Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Edna Harquail, Principal W. D. Hall and Mrs. Hall motored to Mount Cadillac in Bar Harbor with their hostess and Robert Sprague and Elizabeth Smart, both students.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gonia and Mrs. Larrabee of Rockland, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Orett Robinson at the latter's home in Castine.

As social director, Orett Robinson has been active in sponsoring two general events for the student body this week. On Thursday, 40 of the students and faculty chartered the Hippocampus, Belfast mail boat, and took a three hour sail around the west bay. Exceptional weather made for a very successful expedition, Saturday evening, assisted by Otis Davis of Danforth, Morgan Kendrick of East Freetown, Mass., and Mildred Smith of Bucksport, presidents of the three classes, the school took their picnic supper to the Ribamé Shpree beach for a meal and social evening.

Jennie Miller '39 of Portland has been assigned as student assistant in the rural school at East Orland for the next two weeks. The work is under supervision of Director Edith Leslie.

Fire drill in the training school on Monday resulted in complete emptying of the building in two minutes. This included the familiarizing of the upper grade children with a route of exit which, hitherto, had never been used in drill.

The Christian Association meeting on Tuesday was made of especial interest and value by the presentation of the topic "Teaching Religion to Children." Mrs. Hilton, wife of the local Unitarian pastor, spoke at some length on the subject and subsequently conducted an interesting discussion period. A large number of faculty and students were in attendance.

Officers for the Castine student Dramatic Club were elected at the first regular meeting of the organization, president Helyn Turski, Taunton, Mass., secretary-treasurer Francis Borroto '38 of Portland. Both members of the senior class have been outstanding in their previous dramatic activities on the campus.

Rev and Mrs. Randall Hilton have announced the organization of a class dealing with the training of teachers for church schools, the first meeting being held on Thursday evening. The course has been offered in response to many requests by interested normal school students.

County school nurse Dunphee began examining the children of the training school on Tuesday morning on the annual fall inspection program.

VINALHAVEN

Mrs. Preston Lincoln of Attleboro, Mass., is guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Ames.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Snowman of Claremont, N. H., are visiting relatives in town.

A supper was served Thursday at the Latter Day Saints Church.

Pleasant River Grange will attend Union Church on Harvest Sunday, Oct. 10.

L. Carver Relief Corps was inspected Tuesday night by Mrs. Hazel Ray, State superintendent; Mrs. Mabel Bessey, State inspecting officer; Mrs. Addie Ray, State director, all of Canton. There was a large attendance at the meeting which was preceded by a supper served by Cora Peterson, Hilma Webster, Dora Boman. The mystery package was drawn by Lillian Gregory. While in town the visiting officers were entertained by Mrs. Inez Conant, president of the local corps and on arrival were given an auto ride about town to several points of interest.

Dr. Stratton will be at his Vinalhaven office from the arrival of the boat Monday, Oct. 11 until its departure Wednesday morning.—adv.

CUSHING

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Wales with daughters Theima and Jeanette are on a two weeks' motor trip visiting relatives in New York State. They have been guests of Mr. Wales' brother Eugene, in Rome; his sister, Mrs. A. A. Woodbury in Walworth; and are now in Buffalo with his mother, Mrs. Jennie Wales, and sisters, Mrs. Ralph Rand and Mrs. William Munyall.

Miss Carrie E. Wallace went Sunday to Stonewall where she is guest of Mrs. Herman Heuber and will visit other relatives in Massachusetts.

Miss Mina A. Woodcock is in Union as guest of Mrs. Alice Williams. Eugene R. Killaran who recently returned to New Jersey after spending the summer at the home of his brother, Leland Killaran is very ill in a hospital.

Miss Cora E. Fogarty attended Tuesday the annual picnic of the Federated Sunday School in Thomaston at the home of Mrs. Fred Young in Friendship.

EAST WALDOBORO

Mrs. Eva Masters, Miss Dorothy Masters of Round Pond and Mrs. Maude Butler of Boston were visitors Sunday at Mrs. Ethel Hanna's. Stanton Hanna of Boston has also been recent guest there.

Mrs. Ivan Scott and Mrs. Gardner Mank attended the Auxiliary meeting Tuesday in East Friendship.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Steison of Damariscotta, S. J. Burrows, Misses Almada Sidelinger and Abbie Sidelinger were callers Monday at L. L. Mank's.

Emery D. Mank of Quincy, Mass., has been guest for a few days of his brother James Mank.

Otto Bowden was in Waterville Tuesday to attend funeral services for his sister, Mrs. Lemuel Bowden. Ralph Flanders of Portland, Leland Orff and family of North Waldo visited Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Flanders.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent G. Newbert and Miss Ellie Mank were callers Sunday on Mrs. Francena Bennett, Spruce Head.

Mrs. Sarah Sidsensparker, Mrs. O. Bowden and children, Carolyn and Charles, Wilbur Stratton and Mrs. Lillian Bond made a call Sunday on Alfredd Little in Bristol.

Guests last weekend of Mrs. Nellie Reeve and Miss Myrtle Reeve were Misses Una Clark Muriel Chase and Miss Tracey of Augusta. Miss Greta Walden of Togus, Levi Bucklin and Miss Eva Bucklin of South Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Barnard of Rockland were visitors Monday at the C. Bowers' home.

Miss Carolyn Bovey and J. Jean of New York City, who have been spending a vacation with Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Bovey, returned Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Bovey motoring with them to Portland. The group also enjoyed recent motor rides to Belfast, Augusta and Boothbay.

Judson Berper and Mr. Peabody of Warren have been shingling Miss Ellie Mank's house.

Men's Night was observed by the social club last Saturday with a picnic supper at the South Warren Grange hall. Seventy members and guests were present. Miss Muriel Chase of Augusta sang several solos and led the group in singing. Other entertainment consisted of violin solos by David White, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Edna White, violin solos by Miss Arvilla Winchenbach, piano accompaniment by Mrs. Dorothy Winchenbach. Games and dancing were enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller of Belfast passed last weekend at Norman Miller's.

Mrs. L. L. Mank was guest Thursday of Mrs. Emma Brown in South Waldoboro.

Lloyd Bean and family of Appleton were visitors Sunday at the home of his sister Mrs. N. Miller. Emery Simmons and family were callers at the Miller residence.

Waterproof truck covers and spray hoods made to order. Old covers waterproofed. Awning service. Rockland Awning Co., 16 Willow St.

RITE-BEST PRINTED STATIONERY

This is a fine quality writing paper in greytone or vartone.

Your name and address printed on sheets and envelopes with style A or B heading

Your choice of lettering in green, brown, blue or black ink.

48 folded sheets 5x8—48 envelopes 5 1-8x4 1-8

Perfect for your own correspondence and just the thing for gifts.

$1.00 postpaid

THE COURIER-GAZETTE
ROCKLAND, MAINE

THOMASTON

Mr. Weston Young motored Thursday to Bangor to attend a Board meeting in connection with her duties as vice president of the Third District, American Legion Auxiliary, Department of Maine. She was accompanied from Rockland by Mrs. Clifford Marshall.

Mrs. Richard O. Elliott entertained Wednesday afternoon at luncheon and contract at Mayflower Inn, Martin's Point, Friendship. Mrs. James E. Creighton had high score.

Mrs. Earl Woodcock was hostess to the Junior girls, her class of the Federated Sunday School at supper Wednesday with informal games in the evening. Those in the party were Misses Jean Crie, Jean Gilchrist, Marjorie Cushing, Isabelle Watts, Hazel Weaver, Eleanor Tuttle, Eleanor Gregory and Virginia Ross, with Mrs. Frank D. Hathorne as special guest.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Haffner, who have been occupying their summer home on Main street, have returned to Princeton, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Dunn have closed their home at Stone's Point, and are at their Knox street residence.

Miss Alice Tuttle is having a vacation from her duties at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Elliott, and went Wednesday to Annapolis, Penn., to visit Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pettor.

Warren Everett has arrived from Glassboro, N. J., where he has had employment for more than two years, and is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Alma Spear.

There was an unusually large attendance at the Baptist Circle supper, held in the vestry Wednesday, plates being laid for more than 50. On the committee were Mrs. Edith Kilborn, chairman, Mrs. Estelle Newbert, Mrs. William White and Mrs. Adelaide Jones.

In the afternoon, the Circle elected as president, Mrs. Herbert Newbert; vice president, Mrs. James E. Creighton; secretary, Mrs. H. S. Kilborn; treasurer, Mrs. N. F. Andrews. Committees appointed were: Work, Mrs. Minnie Wilson, Mrs. Lucy Silvery and Mrs. Gertrude Hahn; sick committee, Mrs. Letitia Starrett, Mrs. John Brown and Mrs. Henry B. Shaw. The Circle will serve the second in the winter series Oct. 20 with a group of men in charge. Chester A. Vose, chairman. The feature of the menu will be an old-fashioned New England boiled dinner. In the evening, the guest speaker will be Frank A. Winslow, associate editor of The Courier-Gazette, whose subject will be "Six Million Wild Horses."

At St. John's Church Sunday, 9:30 a. m. Holy Eucharist, with Rev. Eric Robinson, rector of St. Andrews Church, at Newcastle, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. James Brown of Portland are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Moody.

Officers of Grace Chapter, O.E.S. are requested to meet in Masonic hall at 7:30 o'clock, Monday night, for rehearsal in preparation for Matrons' and Patron's Night to be observed Wednesday.

At the Baptist Church Sunday, Bible School will be at 9:45; morning preaching service at 11 o'clock, with the pastor, Rev. H. S. Kilborn, will use as subject, "The First Duty of Every Man;" evening service at 7 o'clock, topic, "Believing." There will be no Christian Endeavor meeting on account of the Rally Day of that society in Bangor, which will be attended by the young people of this church. The musical numbers at the morning service will be: Anthem "Out of the Depths" by Marston, with incidental solos by Mrs. Hilda S. Keyes and Raymond K. Oreene; soprano solo, "Beautiful Land Called Home," by Baines, Mrs. Carrie W. Butler.

Among those who attended the inspection of Beach Chapter O.E.S. at Lincolnville Beach, Wednesday night were Mrs. Leah Davis, Mrs. Margaret A. Lakeman, Mrs. Avis Brazier, Mrs. Marian Grafton, Mrs. Doris Simmons, Mrs. Hazel Young. The inspecting officer was worthy Grand Patron Hartley M. Stewart of Houlton.

Mrs. E. A. Wing of Bangor is visiting Dr. and Mrs. Elmer R. Biggers. Mrs. Carleton H. Hammond and children Norman, Jean, Carleen, Malcolm and Cynthia of South Portland, are weekend guests of Dr. B. H. Keller.

The Friendly Club was pleasantly entertained Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Margaret Stewart and Miss Jessie M. Stewart. Plans were discussed for the annual Christmas Sale. It was also decided to hold a cooked food sale Oct. 15.

The Parent-Teacher Association will hold the first meeting of this season in the High School assembly hall Thursday at 7:30.

Irving Sawyer is visiting his uncle and aunt, Capt. and Mrs. I. E. Archibald.

Mrs. Amos S. Mills arrived home Thursday after a few weeks' visit with Mr. Mills, who is located in Loraine, Ohio.

Raymond Young, Randolph Henderson and Tauno Numminen, who are employed on the yacht Noparo,

First Annual Fair

Pleasant River Grange Meets With Success—Tables Are Sold Out Quickly

Pleasant River Grange held its first annual fair in many years at the Grange hall, Saturday, Oct. 2. The day was ideal for an occasion of this kind, a clear perfect day with a fresh wind that kept people on the move and ready to take part in the activities. The interior of the hall where the fair was held, was decorated with streamers of blue and yellow and the tables occupied by the various exhibits were decorated with white ground paper with blue and yellow streamers with rosettes of same colors.

The candy table was in charge of Barbara Brown and Florence Lawson, and was well patronized. Next in line was the fancy work, in charge of Kittie M. Webster and Agnes N. Smalley, and was the center of attraction. The apron table was in charge of Winnie C. Ames, Leola B. Smith and E. Jeanette Gregory. The cake table was presided over by Ava Brown and Agnes Oakes.

The table reserved for the Donations from out of town was in charge of C. Meservey F. Ames. The table of vegetables and groceries from the home-town stores was under the direction of Curtis M. Webster and Donald H. Shields. Members of The Fox Islander 4-H Club were welcome guests at another table. The attractions from the fancy work table were an Afghan that was awarded to Mrs. Spillman of "The Breakers," an Irish patchwork quilt awarded to Curtis M. Webster, a windmill quilt which went to Bertha M. Healey, a butterfly doily which went to Oscar Dawson; a chair set (crocheted) to Emma Arey; a tat-dolly to Emma Arey, large crocheted centerpiece to Mildred Peppard.

At the table of out of town donations, a rug went to James L. Calderwood, a ladies pocketbook to Mrs. Henry Newbert, an electric lamp to Mrs. Agnes Smalley, an oil silk umbrella to Leola B. Smith, an oil silk raincoat to Carolyn Alley.

A fine lunch was served in the dining room by Ella E. Ames, Agnes Oakes, E. G. Kittredge, Alton Oakes, and Hazel Kittredge. The fair was well attended even from the time when the doors were opened at 9 o'clock and when goods were offered for sale at 10 o'clock, the business was very brisk and some tables were sold out in a very few minutes. The proceeds realized by this fair far exceeded expectations and the Grange thanks all who helped us with their donations; especially the stores of Rockland and Camden who generously donated to the fair and wants to show that it really appreciates their kindness. The Grange thanks the stores in Vinalhaven for their donations and the individuals who gave various things for our good cause. It was the generosity of the public that enabled the Grange to make a very tidy sum on this occasion.

new at Jacob's Shipyard, City Island, New York, are to sail in ten days for South America.

The last meeting of the Garden Club for this season, which was to have been at the home of Miss Margaret G. Ruggles, will be held instead at the home of Miss Rita C. Smith. The date, Oct. 14 and program are as previously announced. Federated Church services Sunday will be: Sunday School at 9:45; the service at 11 o'clock will combine Rally Day and the Junior Service and the Junior Choir will sing the Anthem, "Master Let Me Walk With Thee." Rev. Hubert F. Leach will use as theme for his story sermon, "Fiddlers' Aids." Promotion certificates will also be presented at this service. Epworth League will meet at 5:30; evening service at 7, when the subject will be "Pioneer of Life."

Clearance Sale, all goods marked down to make room for new stock. beginning Oct. 11. Sign-of-the-Ship Gifts, 3 Elliot St., Thomaston—adv. 120-121

Vinalhaven & Rockland Steamboat Co. ROCKLAND

Effective Sept. 16, 1937

Service To: VINALHAVEN, NORTH HAVEN, STONINGTON, ISLE AU HAUT, SWAN'S ISLAND, AND FRENCHBORO

FALL SCHEDULE

SWAN'S ISLAND LINE

A. M.	P. M.
9:00 Arr. Rockland, Lv. 2:15
8:00 Arr. North Haven, Lv. 3:25
7:00 Arr. Stonington, Lv. 4:35
6:00 Lv. Swan's Island, Arr. 5:10

Read Up Read Down

VINALHAVEN LINE

A. M.	P. M.
9:20 Arr. Rockland, Lv. 2:15
8:00 Lv. Vinalhaven, Arr. 3:29

111-17

READ THE ADS Save Money

CAMDEN

Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Jamieson announce the engagement of their daughter Miss Virginia Jamieson to Kenneth Huntington Holt, son of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Holt of Brookline, Mass.

Capt. Curtis Weed gave a dinner party Tuesday night at his camp at Hobbs Pond in honor of his birthday.

The name of Roland Richards of Rockport was called this week at the Comique Theatre but as he was not there $120 will be given away next Tuesday night.

Miss Pauline Dillingham has returned to New York city after spending the summer at the Elmore cottage on High street.

A large delegation of young people from the Baptist Church will attend the Baptist Young People's conference at the Columbia Street Baptist Church in Bangor the coming Sunday. The conference begins at 10:30 and closes at 3:45.

Fred Gilchrist is on a vacation from his duties at the Boynton-McKay Drug Co.

Miss Mary Hanna has returned to Cincinnati, after spending the summer at her cottage on Chestnut street.

Earl Clark who during the summer was employed in Jamieson's garage, now has employment in New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dangier returned this week to New York city after passing the summer here.

Miss Marian Lowe has returned from a few days' visit in Boston.

During the morning service at the Baptist Church there will be a service of dedication of babies. Any parent, either a member of the church or parish, wishing to have their babies dedicated, may telephone or write Rev. W. F. Brown, Belmont avenue.

Wendell Gilchrist has employment in Rochester, N. H.

The Dandylions will meet Tuesday night with Mrs. William Kelley at her home on Main street.

Patrick Mahan and family have returned to Cincinnati after spending the summer at the Gerald Dalzell house on Rawson avenue.

The Lend-A-Hand Club will meet Monday night with Mrs. Forrest Magee at her home on Harden avenue.

The Baptist Philathea Class will hold a birthday party Oct. 15, with a covered dish supper.

The engagement of Marion Gertrude Lowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman A. Lowe, to Charles Winslow Lewis Jr. of Wellesley Hills, Mass. has been announced. Mr. Lewis is a grand nephew of the late Mary Jane Watts of Thomaston, and attended Bowdoin College. He is now in the employ of the General Electric Company at Bridgeport, Conn. Miss Lowe attended Northfield Seminary and the Boston Museum School of Fine Arts. She has been engaged in newspaper work in Boston, and at one time was a columnist in The Courier-Gazette, writing "Serious Sallies by Sally Lowe."

The Camden-Rockport Lions Club in an endeavor to aid the Community Hospital is sponsoring a benefit movie show at the Comique Theatre, Oct. 15. The feature pictures are "Sing and Be Happy" starring Tony Martin and Dixie Dunbar and there will be several other attractions. One-half the amount of receipts from tickets sold by members of the Lions Club will go to the hospital.

Rev. William E. Berger is having a month's vacation, part of which is being spent at the 52d triennial general convention in Cincinnati.

Eminent Sir Alexander A. Le Fleur of Portland, installed the new officers of Camden Commandery, K. T., assisted by Eminent Sir Henry A. Dyer as grand master of ceremonies; Sir Knight Carlos P. Hill, as grand prelate; and Sir Knight Edw. Burrett as grand marshal. The Portland Commandery sent a large delegation. The new officers of Camden Commandery are: Finlay Howard Calder, Eminent Commander; Frederick Burd Jagels, Generalissimo; Milton Cabot Stephenson, Captain General; A. Burton Stevenson, Jr., Senior Warden; Donald Henry Rollins, Junior Warden; Em. Sir William Frederick Rankin, prelate; Charles Clark Wood, treasurer; Em. Sir John Leslie Tewksbury, recorder; Fred Richmond Rice, Standard Bearer; Fred Wallace Elwell, warden; George William Ryder, Sentinel; Andrew Victor Elmore, U. S. Color Bearer.

Mrs. William J. Curtis has closed "Portlaw" on Penobscot avenue and returned to New York city for the winter.

The St. Thomas rummage sale will be held at the Parish house Oct. 15-16 from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

A District Nursing Association bridge party will be held Oct. 21 at Green Gables. Playing will begin at 2 o'clock. The proceeds will be used to buy milk and cod liver oil for school children.

Comique Theatre attractions, Sunday and Monday, "Wife, Doctor, Nurse," featuring Warner Baxter, Loreta Young and Virginia Bruce. Tuesday, Marion Davies and Robert Montgomery in "Ever Since Eve";

MAIL SCHEDULE

Effective October 1, 1937.

DEPARTURES	Mail Closes	Leaves Office	Leaves Sta.
Train No. 52	7:30 A. M.	7:40 A. M.	8:00 A. M.
Train No. 54	1:20 P. M.	1:30 P. M.	2:00 P. M.
Train No. 56	4:20 P. M.	4:30 P. M.	5:00 P. M.

Train No. 776 Sunday only 2:00 P. M.

Train No. 775 Sunday only 2:00 P. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

Train No. 775 arrives at depot 10:00 A. M.

SOCIETY

Tuesday Night Bridge Club was entertained by Mrs. Lawrence Leach at luncheon and cards, winners at the latter being Mrs. Ronald Messer, Mrs. Herbert Kallioch and Mrs. C. Waldo Lowe.

Miss Marie Melvin of Lawrence, Mass., has returned home after spending a week with Miss Goldie A. McAuliffe, Fulton street.

Mrs. Mabel Spring was home from Fall River to attend the funeral of Mrs. A. W. Butler at Owl's Head yesterday. She was the guest of Miss Alice Eskine.

Mrs. Wilbur Senter is in Boston on a brief visit.

Mrs. H. V. Tweedie has returned from Haverhill, Mass., where she attended the annual meeting of the New England Branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Church.

Chummy Club met Tuesday night with Mrs. E. W. Freeman, and the birthday of Mrs. Frank Fields was honored. The prizewinners were Mrs. Emerson Sadler, Mrs. Arthur Marsh and Mrs. Edward Gonla.

Mrs. J. F. Burgess, Beech street, entertained Tuesday Club. The winners were Mrs. L. B. Cook, Miss Anne McLaughlin and Mrs. Raymond Moulaison.

Miss Goldie McAuliffe and daughter, Diane, are in Boston for the weekend. They were accompanied by Miss McAuliffe's mother and brothers Earle and Walter.

Miss Helen York and Miss Mabel Holbrook returned Wednesday from a week's vacation in Bangor where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Crossman. During the time trips were made to Moosehead Lake, Cadillac Mountain, Beach Hill Lake and other places, enjoying the delightful weather and beautiful autumn scenery.

George Johnson of Tenant's Harbor, who has been visiting his granddaughter, Mrs. James Pettie, is now in a Portland hospital for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert N. Brazier and Mr. and Mrs. Forest Brazier have returned from a motor trip through Canada and Maine. Many interesting places were visited, among them Bingham Dam, St. Anne De Beupre, where the famous panoramic oil painting was viewed; Quebec, Mount Morency and Moosehead. They were overnight guests at the well known Baker Inn, Chateau Richer.

Mrs. Clara Pettie who recently suffered a serious fall, is slowly improving.

Mrs. Cleveland Sleeper, Sr., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ross Wilson in Philadelphia before proceeding to Whiting, Ind., where she will spend the Thanksgiving holiday season at the home of Henry Sleeper.

Dr. Perley Damon's farm in Waldoboro was the rendezvous for the Past Exalter Rulers Association of Rockland Lodge B.P.O.E. A lobster supper was one of the features of a very pleasant occasion. Those present were: Dr. Damon, Joseph Soffay, T. E. McInnis, Almon P. Richardson, E. W. Pike, Earl Barron, O. B. Butler, G. W. Bachelier, A. C. Jones and Thomas Anastasio.

Mrs. Hilda Somes and son Robert of Waldoboro are spending the weekend in the city guests of Mrs. W. G. Dimick. Mrs. Somes attended the meeting of Golden Rod Chapter O. E. S. Friday night.

Dr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Scarlott have returned from a vacation motor trip to Quebec.

Mrs. Carl Nelson has as guest Mrs. Ernest McCrumb (Mabel Kennedy) of Portland, formerly of Rockland.

Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Foss will entertain 14 guests tonight at a game dinner.

Mrs. Leola Rose, Mrs. Mona McIntosh, Mrs. Cleveland Sleeper and Mrs. Jane Tait went Wednesday to Boston, Mrs. Rose and Mrs. McIntosh proceeding on a motor trip to the White Mountains.

Rummage Sale at Congregational vestry, Friday, Oct. 15, open at 9 a. m.—adv.

Mrs. A. P. Blaisdell and daughter, Miss Barbara Blaisdell have returned from a week's motor trip through the White Mountains by way of the Mo-hawk Trail.

T. and E. Club members enjoyed an afternoon of sewing Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Myron Mank, Broadway. Luncheon was served.

Mrs. C. W. Jennys of Madison is visiting her cousin, Mrs. C. A. Jenkins, Myrtle street.

Mrs. Blanche MacIntyre and Clarence Munsey won high scores, and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Blisbee were low, at the bridge game played by members of the Nilsomson Club this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Spear.

A reception for Oliver Leavitt, Department commander of the G.A.R. was held at Auburn Wednesday night, under the direction of the Burnside Relief Corps. A large delegation was present from all parts of the state, the heads of the different departments in the receiving line. Those attending from this city were: Mrs. Millie Thomas, treasurer of the State Relief Corps; Mrs. Eliza Plummer, department president of D.U.V.; Mrs. Mae Cross, department vice president of S.U.V. Auxiliary; Mrs. Clara Curtis and Mrs. Doris Jordan.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Leach and daughter Jeannine, are spending the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Snow, at their home in Bath. Mr. and Mrs. Snow will entertain the B. B. Club tonight.

Mrs. Harold Karl, entertained members of the Christmas Sewing Club Wednesday afternoon, at a coffee, at her home on Granite street.

A card party given under the auspices of S.U.V. Auxiliary, Wednesday afternoon at Grand Army hall, had four tables with Mrs. A. D. Morey as hostess. Prize winners were Mrs. Gladys Thomas, Mrs. Pauline Hutchinson, Mrs. Belle Lewis, Miss Margaret Bowler and Mrs. Pauline Brewster. Next week's card party will have Mrs. Helen Paladino as hostess. The second in a series of beano parties will be held Tuesday night at Mrs. Evelyn St. Clair's home at Owl's Head.

The Industrious Debs met Wednesday night for sewing and luncheon at the home of Miss Barbara Blaisdell, Walker Place.

Members of Itoevik Club are invited to picnic Tuesday with Mrs. Warren Noyes at Holiday Beach.

Covers were laid for 50 people at the picnic supper Thursday night, when Opportunity Class members and families were guests of Miss Alice McIntosh at Holiday Beach. It was a source of regret that Rev. and Mrs. J. C. MacDonald were unable to attend. An evening of games, under the direction of Mrs. Clara Gregory, was enjoyed by both grown-ups and children. The needle threading contest for men, caused much merriment, with Raymond Pendleton finally winning first honors. Margaret Richards, Avis Williamson, Barbara Clarke, Jane Pendleton and Joyce Wotton, sang several songs from the Vacation Bible School collection. The party dispersed at a late hour, extending thanks to the hostess for a pleasant evening.

Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Leighton leave next week for Honolulu where they will spend two months before going to Miami, Fla. to spend the winter. Enroute to the Hawaiian metropolis they will visit relatives in Pasadena, Calif., and returning will come to the States via San Francisco.

The Rockland Society for the Hard of Hearing held the first fall meeting Thursday afternoon, at the Central Maine Club rooms, President Mrs. Nathan Witham, presiding. Plans were outlined for the winter's study, 14 members being present. Mrs. Freeman Brown gave an interesting talk on the Legion Convention, which she attended in New York. Announcement was made of National Hearing Week, Oct. 24-30. Anyone interested in the study of lip-reading is asked to join. Meetings are held each Thursday.

IS UP A FEW CENTS

Maine's dairy, poultry and meat markets were reported "steady" Thursday by the weekly market report of the State Department of Agriculture which added, however, that veal "is up a few cents."

The report said apple prices were low because of "heavy crops in other sections of the country."

"Continued mild weather," the report said, "permits a good supply of late vegetables which is unusual at this time of the season."

The report said shipped in vegetables "are lower than they were a week ago."

Mrs. Hall Chosen

Bangor Woman Heads the Daughters of Founders and Patriots of America

Daughters of Founders and Patriots of America held their annual meeting at "Montpelier," at which time 16 members and guests were present. The hostesses were Mrs. Evelyn Hix, Mrs. E. F. Glover, Mrs. Charles A. Rose and Mrs. H. P. Blodgett. A board meeting preceded the regular business session at which reports from the several officers were read and recorded. The president, Mrs. Oliver Hall, of Bangor, presiding, and made mention of the fact that the Maine Branch had increased its membership by three during the past year; sustained the loss of one charter member, Mrs. Delmont Merrill of Dover-Foxcroft.

The Historian reported one historical paper entitled "Aptuxet, Plymouth Colony's First Trading Post, Bourne, Cape Cod, Massachusetts" had been given, and urged members to collect so-called "fireside tales" from both members and non-members; that is, anecdotes and reminiscences of elderly people, not hitherto printed, regarding the early pioneers.

These officers for the ensuing year were elected: President, Mrs. Oliver Hall of Bangor; vice president, Mrs. Oscar Look of Jonesport; corresponding secretary, Miss Gladys Merrill of Bangor; recording secretary, Mrs. H. P. Blodgett, of Rockland; organizing secretary, Mrs. Samuel Small of Dexter; color bearer, Mrs. William Sampson of Dexter; historian, Mrs. Frank Peck of Lewiston; chaplain, Mrs. Henry Whitman of Augusta; treasurer, Mrs. J. H. Huddleston, of Orono; registrar, Mrs. Edward Mansfield, 3d of Augusta. Three new Councillors for a term of three years were elected: Mrs. Charles A. Rose of Tenant's Harbor, Mrs. Evelyn Hix of Rockland and Mrs. Wallace White of Auburn and Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Wallace White was elected as delegate of the Society to attend the General Court held in Washington, D. C. in April 1938.

Inspection of beautiful Montpelier was made by members and guests, several of whom had never before visited this historical shrine. A delicious luncheon was served by Mrs. Anne Snow, president of Knox Memorial Association; assisted by Mrs. Susie Lamb, Mrs. Mary Ladd and Mrs. Clara Thurston. The table appointments were in keeping with the occasion; the centerpiece being a large dish of tuberoses rooted begonias, donated by Mrs. Leforest A. Thurston. The place cards were cute little colonial figures hovering over a crepe paper bouquet.

The insignia of the National Society consists of a badge formed by the combination of a gold, eight-pointed star in blue enamel outlined in white, arranged to accommodate eight small stars of red enamel appearing between the points. These stars represent the eight provinces or settlements of America, prior to 1657, namely, Virginia, New York, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Connecticut, Maryland, Rhode Island and Jersey. In the center of the jewel is depicted in relief a Colonist and a Continental soldier. Surrounding these is a blue enamel band upon which are the words, "Daughters of Founders and Patriots of America, 1607-1898," in letters and figures of gold.

SPRUCE HEAD

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Tinney and Mr. and Mrs. Alec Phillips of Quincy, Mass., spent last weekend at Lindenhurst, the Tinney cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Batty have returned home from their honeymoon which included a motor trip through New England.

Mrs. Emma Walker and daughter Dorothy went Sunday to South Portland for a short visit with Mrs. Ruth Randall before returning to Wilmington, Del. The Walkers have been occupying the Callie Morrill house for the past four months.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbridge Simmons and daughters are visiting Mrs. Simmons' mother in Minto.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Mann and daughter June of Manset were guests last weekend of Mrs. Carrie McLeod.

Mrs. Beatrice Spinney returned Monday to West Concord, Mass.

Mrs. L. C. Elwell and children spent last weekend on Hewitt's Island, with Mr. Elwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Palmer of Guilford visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Allard.

Arthur Hill and daughter Leona are with Mrs. Carrie McLeod while Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Faulkingham are on a 10 day trip to Jonesport.

Mrs. Callie Morrill entertained the Bridge Club Wednesday night. There were two tables, honors going to Mrs. Margaret Carr, Mrs. Alice Allard and Miss Ethel Holbrook. Lunch was served.

WE BUY OLD GOLD AND SILVER CLARENCE E. DANIELS JEWELER 370 MAIN ST. ROCKLAND

REALM OF MUSIC

by Gladys St. Clair Heistad

Yehudi Menuhin, who is about to emerge from his two-year retirement in the Santa Cruz Mountains, has obtained the right to play, and in St. Louis on Nov. 12 will present for the first time a long-hidden Violin Concerto by Robert Schumann. This Concerto in D Minor, comprising three movements, was composed in 1853, the year before Schumann's mind gave way; was written for and given to Joseph Joachim, and it was Schumann's hope to lead the Dusseldorf orchestra in the first performance of it with Joachim as soloist. But it was never played in public. The reasons for Joachim's subsequent dealings with the concerto are shrouded in mystery. Not only did he refuse to play it himself, or even edit it, but in his will he ordered that it should not be played or published until 100 years after Schumann's death. That would be 1956.

The manuscript score is in the State Library of Berlin where, since Joachim's death in 1907, it has lain in the care of Georg Schunemann, archivist. Through the untiring efforts of Herr Strecker of the publishing firm of B. Schott's Sohne of Mainz, which is to print the work, Yehudi has obtained the consent of Herr Schunemann, of the German government, of Joachim's son, of Schunemann's 86-year old daughter (now living in Switzerland), and of various other heirs to give the first public performance of the concerto.

The young violinist received a photostat copy of the score from Germany on April 7 last. The more he studied it the more enthusiastic he became. He pronounces it a great classical concerto worthy to rank with those of Beethoven and Mendelssohn—From Musical America, of September.

Do you know, it will come as a surprise to many people, that Yehudi will be 21 during the season of 1937-38. Boys do grow up, you know—even prodigies. But some of us have gotten in the habit of thinking of the gifted Yehudi still in the "bustle-brown collar" stage. He has been before the public 11 years, but despite this fact, he is inclined to think that he is just beginning his career.

Though he is barely 30, Fernando Germani is already recognized in Europe as one of the few truly great figures of contemporary music. Coming to America this year in a concert tour that begins on Oct. 27, in Boston, Germani will play the Hammond Organ exclusively. His will be the first organ tour in history in which concerts can be held in the finest hall in every city—and in which the fire of the virtuoso's genius can burn as brilliantly in smaller cities as in the largest metropolitan centers.

I have before me "The Keynote," a musical publication dated December, 1890, and in a resume of artists of the day note with interest a brief sketch and picture of Ellen Beach Yaw, whom Maine Festival attendants of some years ago heard sing in Portland and Bangor. The Keynote's mention of Miss Yaw reads: "The youthful and charming vocalist whose picture appears above, is winning favor far and near for her excellent singing and sweet, unaffected style. She has the reputation of being the youngest soprano prima donna at present on the concert stage, and the press has given her many flattering notices on the clearness and strength of her interpretations, and the surprising range of her voice."

Here is a story about the British Museum. A musician or writer or what-not was doing research on Haydn, and in the course of his investigation came to the Museum to see the score of a certain symphony. He asked for it, sat down and waited. Soon the attendant returned, looking very superior as if he had caught the inquirer that time, and said there was no such symphony. There were protestations that there was, and the attendant politely went away to continue his search. Twenty minutes passed, and he appeared again, asking: "Are you sure there is such a symphony?" Upon assurance that there was, away went the attendant. At last he returned, beaming all over. The matter was solved, his manner seemed to say, and he said: "I am sorry, sir, but the Museum does not keep that symphony as it feels that it is a distinctly inferior work."

The Curtis Institute of Music announces the addition of four new faculty members for the season 1937-38: Samuel Chotzinoff, musical criticism. Elizabeth Schumann, German lieder; Vera Brodsky and Harold Triggs, two piano playing.

A delightful culler at my home on a recent Sunday was Walter Mills. New York baritone on his way to Caribou for a brief outing. Mr. Mills who gave a jecital at Kineo this summer, is arranging some Maine concerts to preface his Boston appearance in November which opens a busy season for this artistic singer. We still would like to hear Mr. Mills in such a program as he presents on tour—giving songs of Brahms, Handel, and Schubert, as well as Russian and English.

It is rumored that Paderewski, who made a recent screen appearance in the motion-picture "Moonlight Sonata," is at work on the score of a screen opera which will shortly be filmed at Hollywood.

Variety being the spice of life, Helen Jepson of the Metropolitan has a rabbit farm on the outskirts of Utica, N. Y. She had the animals for breeding purposes, laboratories and furs. Several of the rabbits are named for professional friends, including Galli-Curci and Rose Bampton.

The Richard Wagner Society, Inc., is offering a prize of $150 for the best translation of a scene from Wagner's "Siegfried," with additional prizes of $100 and $50 each. It is the desire of the society to have the text of the entire Ring translated and should the judges decide that one or more of the prize winners is capable of undertaking the work, this will be done. Particulars may be obtained from Dr. Ernest Lert, Richard Wagner Society, Inc., 528 W. 111th street, New York. The judges in the contest will be Lauritz Melchior, Dr. Leopold Stokowski, Lawrence Tibbett and Dr. Lert.

Under the auspices of the International Mozartum Foundation, with Landeshauptmann Dr. Rehrl acting as host, Mozart's grand piano was played upon, the first time in perhaps a hundred years. This was at a select Salzburg concert, with comparatively few listeners. The piano had belonged to the Mozartum since 1856 and stands usually in the house of Mozart's birth. In September, 1936, someone had it put in good repair again, motivated by the idea that a musical instrument is not something to be looked at, but ought to be played at least now and then.

So there was heard at the late evening Salzburg concert in a magnificent, candle-lit, intimate room of the Residenz, in which Mozart is supposed to have played often, his Piano Variations, three songs, the so-called Kegestatt-Trio for piano, clarinet and viola, and finally the D Major Sonata for two pianos, for there was also available a second old instrument from the workshop of the same Anton Walter.

What was the sound of the piano? It reminded one a little of those old upright pianos which one finds handed down through the years in not a few families and it had something touching sometimes, often distinctly awkward about it. It revealed little power, offered scarcely a legato, pearly runs very nicely. However, looked at from an historical point of view, it was an impressive moment when one could hear Mozart's piano.

GERMANY'S LARGEST FAMILY

The 38th child of which August Thiele, a farmer, in Rethem, Hannover Province, was the father, was born Thursday. Thirty-four children were said to be living as well as 60 grandchildren. Thiele, who has been married three times, was acclaimed as the father of the largest family in Germany.

COMIQUE CAMDEN

TODAY DOUBLE FEATURE Martin Johnson's Last Picture Of The Jungle!

'BORNEO'

LEWIS STONE in "THE MAN WHO CRIED WOLF"

SUNDAY-MONDAY LORETTA YOUNG, VIRGINIA BRUCE WARNER BAXTER in

"WIFE, DOCTOR, NURSE"

Sat. Shows, 2.00, 6.15 to 11.00 Sunday Shows 2.30 and 7.30

TRY THE NEW TURNABOUT BOB

For your fall and winter hat
This new bob can be worn in three different styles—
For Evening
For Business
For Day Time
Why not come in and let our stylist advise you
AL'S HAIRDRESSING SALON
Telephone 826

Dancing Classes

Charlotte Cahill Rauser Will Utilize the Tower Room, Community Building

Rockland and Thomaston friends of Charlotte Cahill Rauser will be interested to know that she is returning to Rockland to teach dancing after an absence of several years. Her ability as a dancer is still remembered by those who witnessed her performance of "Golden Butterfly," "Blue Danube" and "Joy" when she was teaching here with Jennie Harvey Percival at the Copper Kettle.

She began dancing at the age of five and made her first professional appearance at Keith's Bijou Theatre in Boston a month before her sixteenth birthday. After a season's engagement at the Keith House she joined the Boston Opera House ballet in 1912 and 1913. After two seasons in the Boston Company she became a member of the ballet at the New York Hippodrome under the name of Anne Genu and in 1915 appeared in the Diaghilev ballet.

Early in 1916 she began to teach dancing while in Rochester, Mass., and at the end of 1917 moved back to Bath with her family. From 1920 to 1922 she was associated with Jennie Harvey Percival, teaching in Bath, Brunswick, Rockland and Damariscotta. From 1922 to 1925 she successfully conducted her own dancing school in Bath, then left for New York, where she joined a Ziegfeld show and remained there until the show went on the road.

While in New York during 1927 to 1931 she taught private pupils and coached teachers and plays for several clubs. Among the dancers and teachers she has instructed are James Britton and Miss Corinne a well known dance team who are now teaching in Petersburg, Ind., and Stroudsburg, Penn. also Don Burke, now teaching in Montreal and Mary Cunningham of Bath.

The artists she has studied with include the late Isadora Duncan and Vernan Castle, Veronine Vestoff, Serova, Arnova, Kedrina, Denishaws, Fekine, Chalf, Perry, Mansfield and Mary Wigman.

She will be at the tower room at 3 o'clock next Thursday, Oct. 14 for interviews and registrations.

Kents Hill News

The Kents Hill girls' field hockey team journeyed to Winslow High School, Friday afternoon, for the first contest of the year. Miss Sylvia Steadman, coach of the Kents Hill aggregation, has a team of green material and has been hard put to find the right individuals for the various positions. The starting line-up for the Winslow game was: Center forward, Mitzi Kerr, right inner, Evelyn Fogg; left inner, Marion Fogg; right wing, Marilyn Smith; left wing, Jane Moran; left half, June Goodwin; right half, Hilda Robertson; center half, Freda McKenney; left fullback, Althea Walker; right fullback, Rebecca Curtis; goalie, Edith Perry.

Substitutes—Terry Greco, Pearl Perry, Janet Spaulding and Betty Storey.

The four Kents Hill Literary Societies, the Adelphians, the Eromatheans, the Callopeans, and the Literati, have completed their fall initiations of new members. Thursday evening the Eromatheans and Adelphians will tender a banquet to their new members. The Callopeans and the Literati have already offered spreads to the new members following the initiation ceremonies. The new members taken into the various societies are given below:

The Eromatheans—Marjorie Turner, Joyce Holbrook, Hope Mansfield, Martha Rich, Francis Ricker, Marjorie Howland, Joan Vance, Marjorie Simmons, Janet Spaulding. Terry Greco, Betty Storey, Marguerite Currier, Shirley Crosby, Betty Hobart, Jannette Robertson, Lillian MacDonald, Barbara McCloud, Ann Jacques, Miss Bangs, Miss Stewart, Miss Steadman.

The Literati—Norman Worrad, William Bovard, George Hinkley, Philip Brown, Milton Bodman, Donald Brown, Frank Wood, Lester Turner. The Adelphians—Adolphe Patrick, Alberta Abbott, Rachel Cates, Pearl Berry, Edith Berry, Ruth Stoddard, Miss Cole.

The Callopeans—Woodrow Dou-

LAUNDERED CHICKENS That's How They Win Prizes in South Carolina, Or So They Say

"Laundry" your chickens if you want them to win state fair prizes. Extension Specialist C. F. Parrish, of North Carolina State College, advised Thursday. Here's how:

"Put the chicken in a tub of water heated to about 100 degrees Fahrenheit. Use soap to work up a good lather and let the dirt soak out. Do not scrub."

"Then rinse in second and third tubs and top off the operation with a dip into a fourth tub of water containing bluing."

"Let the bird dry 25 hours in a coop heated to 80 degrees."

Then Parrish concludes, if the chicken doesn't win a prize, you at least have the moral satisfaction of knowing it is clean.

MONDAY AND TUESDAY PARK TEL. 409

A NEW THRILL FROM FICTION'S MOST DARING ADVENTURER!

Adolph Zukor presents "BULLDOG DRUMMOND COMES BACK"

A Paramount Picture with JOHN BARRYMORE JOHN HOWARD LOUISE CAMPBELL REGINALD DENNY E. E. CLIVE

TODAY "HOPALONG CASSIDY RIDES AGAIN" with WM. BOYD, GEO. HAYES

SUNDAY-MONDAY-TUESDAY

Adolph Zukor presents RONALD COLMAN in "THE PRISONER OF ZENDA"

MADELINE CARROLL DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS, JR. Produced by DAVID O. SELZNICK

For love He turned a country upside down!

Plunged by destiny into a maelstrom of fighting—threats—and intrigue. Commanded to woo a woman he could never marry—but whom he madly loved. Ronald Colman in his most romantic role will thrill you—amaze you and fire your imagination.

Sunday Shows Benefit Winslow-Holbrook Post, No. 1, A. L.

NOW PLAYING "LIFE OF THE PARTY" with JOE FENNER

Strand Rockland Tel. 892

Shows: Matinee 2; Eve. 6.30, 8.30. Cont. Saturday 2.00 to 10.30

GUARDIANS OF OUR COAST

What our lightkeepers and coast guardsmen are doing to protect coastwise shipping by day and by night. The day's news from many lonely outposts along Maine's waterfront.

I will not doubt, though all my ships
Come drifting home with broken masts and sails.
I shall believe the hand that never fails.
From seeming evil worketh good to me;
And though I weep because my sails are battered Still will I cry, while my best hopes lie shattered.
"I trust in Thee!"

Portland Head

Robert Thayer Sterling returned Wednesday from a short vacation trip during which he gathered material for his new book which is to come out in early spring. He visited and interviewed many aged retired sea captains at Sailors Snug Harbor, N. Y., and enjoyed meeting these veterans of the sea.

Clyde Grant and brother Chester were guests at dinner last Saturday of F. O. Hilt and family.

Misses Elizabeth Sterling and Marion Sterling of Peaks Island were recent guests of Mrs. R. T. Sterling.

F. O. Hilt and Willard Hilt motored to St. George Wednesday to attend the Grange Fair.

Adolph Stevens was dinner guest Monday of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Goff in Westbrook.

Sympathy from the Portland Head Light Keepers and their families are extended to Gov. and Mrs. Barrows. We are indeed sorry for them in the tragic death of their son Robert W. Barrows.

Mrs. F. O. Hilt received word last Saturday that her nephew Earl E. Kinney of St. George had died that morning. Mr. Kinney was ill for a long time and a most patient sufferer, which was a wonderful help to his wife, sister and daughter. Nearly every day he could smile through the awful suffering. He appreciated all the beautiful flowers sent to his room. Mr. Kinney loved children and they were always with him. He will surely be missed in his large circle of friends and at Portland Head where he visited when given the opportunity. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved family.

Doubling Point Range

W. H. Woodward, former keeper of Monhegan Light arrived Oct. 8 to fill the vacancy made by the death Sept. 1 of Capt. Harry L. Nye.

Additional Keeper Philip A. Davis who has been in charge of the Range Lights since Aug. 19 has been appointed first Assistant Keeper of The Cuckolds.

Pond Island

Keeper Fickett's nephew, Donald Fickett of Bar Harbor has been visiting on the Light for a few days with Keeper and Mrs. Fickett. Donald and his uncle motored Monday to Portland where they were guests of Keeper Fickett's sister Mrs. C. D. Strout. Donald will remain a few days with his aunt before going home. Mrs. Strout is Keeper Fickett's sister.

Mrs. Fickett is under Dr. Gartland's care.

Mr. Fickett called on Mrs. Fickett's brother and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Hooper while in Portland.

HAND SETS CHEAPER

The New England Telephone and Telegraph Company announced Thursday it is filing with the public service commissions of Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire and Rhode Island a schedule discontinuing as of October 1 all monthly charges on hand telephone sets. Massachusetts ordered reductions in the hand set rates as of October 1 prior to the telephone company announcement.

GORHAM NORMAL

by Agnes Bickford

Miss Ruth Harper of Rockland, has been accepted into the Orchestra and Glee Club.

Miss Ruth Geale spent last week end at her home in Waldoboro.

Edward A. Race went to his home in East Boothbay last weekend.

Ernest Doyle of Thomaston and Portland is on the committee for the Dramatic banquet and dance.

Fifty-six Gorham Normal School students attended the concert of the United States Marine band Tuesday night at the Exposition Building, Portland. Among those who went were Miss Martelle Hamilton of Damariscotta, Miss Fern Brown of Rockland, and Mrs. Celia Gross of Waldoboro.

The faculty of Gorham Normal School is planning a picnic Friday of this week to Salmon Falls. Miss Keene and Mrs. Gross of Waldoboro, and Miss Trask of Rockland plan to attend.

Dr. Walter E. Russell went to Crawford Notch to the October Conference Monday and Tuesday of this week.

The Gorham Normal School Cross Country Track Team met Farmington Normal's Track Team Friday.

The Freshman and Junior-Senior hockey teams tied. Among those playing on the Junior-Senior team were Miss Agnes Bickford and Miss Martelle Hamilton of Damariscotta and Miss Rose Flanagan of Rockland. The score was 0 to 0.

Thursday, Oct. 21. Miss Muriel Lester of Kingsley Hall, London, will speak to the School in Chapel exercises. Miss Hall ranks along with our own Jane Addams in this country. Like Miss Addams's Hull House she has Kingsley Hall in London for the needy. She has traveled in this country before, lecturing also in Europe and Asia on social welfare. She was the hostess to Mahatma Gandhi on his last visit to London; she, herself, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gandhi while in India. She is associated on this trip with a group that is touring and preaching. Her coming visit to us is looked forward to with great anticipation.

An unusual party was given by the Poetry Club Wednesday. All members brought a cup and an appropriate verse; the cups were donated for future use of the Poetry Club. After the program lollipops and icecream were served. Among those who attended were the Misses Louise Eugley and Evelyn Knight of Lincolnville, the Misses Rose Flanagan and Catherine Chisholm of Rockland, and Miss Agnes Bickford of Damariscotta.

Horseback riding has been added to our sports this year. Miss Muriel McPhee of Rockland is one of those participating.

Miss Priscilla Saunders attended a house party at the home of Miss Louise Sanbourn in Standish.

Miss Evelyn Brown of Camden and Harleth Hobbs of Hope spent last weekend at their respective homes.

Miss Rose Flanagan is on the program committee for the annual Superintendent and Principals Day to be held Nov. 9.

Miss Muriel McPhee is on the decorating committee for the Art Club Dance to be given Oct. 9, in honor of the Manuel Arts students.

Summer cottagers. Let us take down your awnings, store them, insured through the winter, make necessary repairs and rehang them next spring. Very reasonable cost. Tel. 1262-W. Rockland Awning Co., 16 Willow St.

MICKIE SAYS—

OUR AMBITION IS TO PRINT AS MANY NAMES AS POSSIBLE IN EVERY ISSUE, AND OUR SLOGAN IS "EVERY READER A REPORTER." WE WANT TO PRINT THE NEWS ABOUT YOU AND YOURS—WILL YOU HELP US, BY PASSING IT ON TO US?

YANKS IN THE WORLD SERIES

The Three Big Guns of the Yankee Attack—Left to right, Joe Di Maggio, outfielder; Lou Gehrig, 1st baseman; Bill Dickey, catcher.

Yanks' Pitching Staff—Left to right: Pat Malone, Johnny Murphy, Monte Pearson, Vernon Gomez.

Tenants Harbor Days

Two stories of shipwreck are recorded in Dad's diaries, one under Aug. 1879 stating that "A despatch was received here tonight that the Sch. G. W. Andrews was run down and sunk. crew all saved. I lose $425." The other entry is dated Aug. 12, 1879 and reads: "Capt. Grover and family came home this morning without baggage, all lost when vessel sunk Oct. 7, 1879; Case of Sch. G. W. Andrews vs. Sp. Pride of the Ocean went against the ship (New York U. S. Court). The details I am writing from memory after a lapse of 58 years, so I do not vouch for the accuracy of them."

The three-masted schooner G. W. Andrews was built at the Harbor by Bean & Long in 1873. Charles Grover was master and my brother, William Crocker, was mate thereof. She was on voyage from Baltimore with coal, and the captain's wife and two children were on board as passengers.

It was a clear night, just a whole sail breeze, the schooner had everything set, and was on the starboard tack when she was run into by the British ship, Pride of the Ocean, out from New York, light, and the schooner sank in five minutes. She was not insured, hence the "I lose $425." Dad owned a share in her. Probably a 64th. Cause of collision? Probably drunken crew, no watch forward.

The ship was libeled, suit brought against her won by the schooner. The ship, sold at auction to satisfy judgment, was bid in by former owners for a low figure. Finis for the Andrews. It was said the schooner could be seen on the bottom for a long time after she went down with all sails set.

The second story bears the date, Nov. 14, 1884: "News tonight that Ship Andrew Johnson was lost and 17 of crew drowned." Here are the details from the record. American Merchant Ships (1930) published by the Marine Research Society of Salem. Mass. Ship Andrew Johnson built by Edward O'Brien at Thomaston, 1866; 215 ft. long, 41 ft. breadth, 30 dept, 2005 tons. She was owned by Edward O'Brien during the whole of her sea life. J. Hovey Kellerman, master, Oct. 20, 1884.

Ship in Lat. 20 degrees South, Long 41 degrees West, bound from Caleta Buena to Hamburg. The lookout shortly after 8 p. m. saw a light on port bow. Capt. Kellerman ordered second mate to light a torch and wave it over the port quarter to attract the attention of the approaching ship in case she did not see the sidelights.

The helmsman was ordered to keep the ship snugly by the wind, which was all that could be done under the circumstances. The chief officer with his watch, was shouting from the fore port rigging for the approaching ship to put her helm hard up but it was alleged later that their cries were not heard. No one on board the Johnson notices that the stranger altered her course at all. The Johnson was struck just forward of the mizzen rigging and cut a half way through, causing her to sink in two minutes with 17 of her crew. Capt. Kellerman and 11 men managed to jump aboard the other ship as his vessel for a moment swung alongside of her. The stranger proved to be the British ship Thirlmere, whose master, Capt. Smith, acknowledged in writing to Capt. Kellerman that the side lights of the Johnson had been seen fully five minutes before the collision occurred.

The Thirlmere was also bound from Caleta Buena to Hamburg and later landed the survivors of the Johnson at Pernambuco. "Dad told me once that Edward O'Brien never insured his ships, claiming he could lose a ship occasionally at a less cost than to insure them. I do not vouch for that statement."

Scituate, Mass., Oct. 5.

DON BRENNAN'S LUCK

Don Brennan of Augusta, a member of the New York Giants' pitching staff, has been voted a quarter share of that club's World Series cut. Don went up with the Giants but a few weeks ago. He won two against one defeat and his bonus should range between $1000 and $1500, depending on whether the Giants win or lose the classic.

THE CAPTAIN

THE captain is law aboard ship. Years of training, accumulated knowledge, and experience have moulded his character and formed his judgment. On the bridge of the Grace Line's "Santa Lucia" Capt. William C. Renault is about to shoot the sun.

Rocks Of Rockland

The Story Of a Scientist Which Starts Millions Of Years Ago

(by O. A. Ljungstedt)

(Second Installment)

However at the beginning of the next period, the Quarterly, because of some condition or combination of conditions, the weather was becoming inclement. One reason for the change may have been that the whole northern part of the continent seems to have risen several hundred or more feet.

But undoubtedly there was also other causes. However that may be, the fact remains that snow was falling in increasing quantities up in the North; one center of disturbance being east of Hudson's Bay, as already mentioned. The animals that could not adapt themselves to the oncoming cold, began slowly to move South. Many, such as the elephant tribe, were completely lost in the ensuing struggle for existence in the very much contracted area to the South. In the meantime the climate had become so bad, that the snow that was falling did not melt during the short summers. Each new snowstorm added to the thickness and weight of the cap, that finally became solid ice, estimated, variously, to have attained a thickness of up to 10,000 feet, and began to move out in all directions.

On its way towards what is now Rockland, it overtopped all of the mountains and valleys of New England with the probable exception of the very top of Mount Katahdin. When it reached the sea and the abrupt declivity of the continental shelf, it stood there as a towering shining cliff, maybe 1000 or more feet high, keeping up a constant cannonade, as the icebergs broke away, and plunged into the abyssal water beyond.

I leave it to your imagination what this cliff of ice would have been like when struck by the reflecting rays of the rising sun. How long the icecliff stood there we don't know, but it was a long time, no doubt. In course of time the weather improved, and under the onslaught of driving, warm rains, the ice sheet began its retreat, and Mother Earth heaved a sigh of relief when the load of the ice, that had depressed her breast for so long, was gradually removed.

How long ago the ice began its retreat is not known. It may have been 100,000 years—maybe more. Whenever that happened it is conjectured that the sea rolled in over the depressed coast, and stood for a short while at an elevation of 240 feet above the present sea level. After that the coast seems to have risen rapidly for 100 feet, when it again came to a halt, and a very important halt indeed, because, while it stood there, the fairly level plains of clay, on which Rockland and the other towns along the coast are built, were deposited in the sea. Finally the sea retreated to the present coastline and the wonderful scenery that attracts visitors from all over the country, was revealed in all its glory.

The withdrawal of the ice was closely followed by animals and plants very much as we find them today. Whether man mingled with them is a mooted question. Some firmly believe that he did; others as firmly that he did not. Thus again it is up to you. That he existed in Europe at the time is an undisputed fact, and he may most likely have found his way over here. If he did, he was a very primitive fellow, following the chase with the most rude of stone implements.

Thus runs the story. And now we will have to glance back, and see how the events that have unfolded themselves, are revealed on the surface of the land, as we find it today. The important thing to realize in this connection, is the fact, that had it not been for the thrust from the south-east, that folded up the rocks deposited in the sea of long ago, we would never have known of the existence of the deeper-seated formations. As it is, the oldest of them, the muds and limes that later became the slates and limestones of the Islesboro formation, were only pushed up just enough to be laid bare in a couple of narrow bands on the point east of Rockport harbor, although a small area of the limestone is sticking up through a later formation of slate and schist about two miles west of Camden, on the road to Hosmer Pond, and another one-half mile west of Simonton's Corner.

In the case of the Battle quartzite we will do better. The beautiful dome-like structure of Mount Battle, harmonious with the rest of the Camden Hills, where it rises 800 feet from the sea, is composed almost entirely of the quartzite. Fine exposures of the rock are found on every hand, in the great clean cut ledges, as well as on the path leading up to the summit. The next largest area of this rock you will find about one-half mile west of Rockport bridge. If you take the road toward Simonton's Corner, there you rise upon another dome-like structure and run for half a mile on the quartzite.

The Mount Battle dome is in fact

PARK THEATRE, MONDAY, TUESDAY

John Barrymore and John Howard, who head the cast of the new Paramount thriller, "Bulldog Drummond Comes Back," one of a series of pictures based on the "Sapper" McNeill stories. Barrymore plays an Inspector of the Scotland Yard detective force, while Howard plays Bulldog Drummond, swashbuckling amateur detective and adventurer.—adv.

a swelling on one of the great folds that runs parallel to the coast. In and around Rockport harbor the quartzite appears at the surface in several places. Thus, in Hog Cove, are found two narrow strips, dipping at steep angles on each side of the limestone already mentioned. On the west side of the point it again appears behind the limestone outcrop.

Two good sized areas are also seen along the water's edge on the west side of the harbor, and again in Pine Hill it was thrust up and laid bare by the wearing away of the overlying rocks. Conspicuous boulders of it can be found in many places, some with delicate pinkish colors, probably torn off some ledge on Mount Battle, and transported by the ice sheet.

There are some few minor outcrops besides those enumerated, but otherwise it is covered by the rocks of the next higher formation, the Penobscot. This you will not have any trouble in finding, as it is the rock at the surface over most of the country around Rockland. Thus on No. 1 Highway you run on it all the way from Rockland to Rockport, and wherever the road had to be blasted through the rock, you will see it as it was left—tilted and broken up into great blocks—after it had gone through the severe strain brought about by that thrust, these many years ago. Mt. Megunticook, Bald Mountain, Ragged Mountain, Bear Hill, Dodge's Mountain, are all made up of this slate and schist rock. To be sure it may only be skin deep in some places, as the underlying Battle quartzite is sticking through in a couple of spots on Mt. Megunticook. In its greater part the rock is shot to pieces, so to speak, by injections of igneous rock, which you will find outcropping at the surface mostly in streaks of various sizes, but also as vast bosses such as those, already mentioned, surrounding Spruce Head, for miles in every direction, as well as on the islands to the east. Another good-sized one lies northwest of South Hope, and is touched by the No. 17 highway, as it makes the turn towards East Union. This one is about half a mile in diameter.

The next higher rocks, those of the Rockland formation, have, of course, been by far the most important to the city of Rockland. These include the various limestones, so familiar to everybody, seen in the quarries west of the city. The main outcrop comes to the surface at the south end of Chickawaukie Pond, and runs from there, in more or less, a mile wide strip, along the Old County road to Thomaston, with several narrow strips branching off to the south. Then, when you drive out of Rockport on your way to Camden, you cross another outcrop of limestone of the same age, with Lily Pond lying in it to the right of the road. Still another one, just west of Simonton's Corner, is skirted by the road, running out of that settlement, and these are the only outcrops of any consequence in the area, and are also the only remnants of the once extensive formation, laid down in the ancient sea.

Thanks to the fact that the outcrops lie in basins, between two folds of the underlying rocks—synclines as the geologists call them—of the underlying rocks, they have escaped destruction, when the higher lying portions were planed off during the subsequent ages of erosion. So much for the solid earth.

Over some 500,000 square miles of the northern United States there is a mantle of boulders, cobble stones, gravel, sand, and clay. It comes in all kinds of combinations, from accumulations of mostly boulders to the finest silt. In places it attains a thickness of several hundred feet. However in New England it is mostly thin, and in the Rockland area it is never more than 50 feet. On the way down from its center east of Hudson's Bay, the great ice sheet plucked or scoured the underlying surface clean of all loose rocks and soil. Blocks, as large as houses, were picked off the valley sides and carried on its back to the sea, where all the matter, big or little, that the ice had gathered up on its way, was either dropped or floated away on icebergs torn loose from the ice sheet, as it cascaded over the continental shelf.

With the coming of warmer seasons the ice began to retreat which means that though its front was wasted away faster than the ice was pushed forward. It then unloaded itself on the surface of the land of its rocks and earth. This was let down promiscuously, helter skelter, except where carried off by one of the many streams that gushed forth at the front of the ice. Here the rushing waters sorted the material, and thus we have the extensive gravel deposits, we find around West Rockport, south and east of Chickawaukie Pond and elsewhere. There seems not to have been the usual numbers of halts of the ice front, in its withdrawal over Maine, as was the case west of New England where massive ridges, moraines, were built up by the debris, let down at the front, when it stood in a certain locality for any length of time. Nevertheless, there probably were halts within the Rockland area, as is indicated by a couple of remnants, which seem to be moraines, one just west of South Hope and the other about a mile south of the first. The most striking effect of the ice invasion on the New England landscape was undoubtedly the bringing into life of the thousands of lakes and ponds, that everywhere enrich the view. Like all else that is transient on this planet of ours, the lakes are born, live, and die. This fact is generally not realized, but it is nevertheless so. With very few exceptions, they owe their existence to the damming up of some stream valley, by one kind of debris or another, dumped there by the ice sheet.

As an example, let us take the Chickawaukie Pond. When the ice front stood in that neighborhood, a flood came out from under the ice, rushing down Meadow Brook, carrying with it sand, gravel, mud. The gravel and sand were deposited around the lower end of the present lake, and to some extent covered up by unsorted glacial material dropped by the melting ice. This was an effective barrier, behind which the water piled up. Thus the Pond was born. When the rising water had finally reached the lowest notch in the barrier, the Meadow Brook found its way down the meandering valley. But the man-made dam of the highway, sooner or later, it may have taken thousands of years, the brook would eat its way down through the obstruction, and even into the underlying bedrock, thus lowering the outlet, until the lake became drained of its water. Meantime, the vegetation in and around the lake will gradually have settled to the bottom, and by the time the outlet has deepened sufficiently, the lake would in all probability have become a bog, like the one a couple of miles west of the present lake, and thus have completed its life cycle. Of course, this was a very slow process, acting in most cases during thousands of years. Any other lake might just as well have been taken as a suitable example of the leveling agencies, constantly working in nature, but this was chosen on account of its proximity to Rockland.

It has already been mentioned how, as the final act of the drama, the sea came rolling in on the heels of the receding ice sheet, resulting in the deposition of the clay, that made it possible to build the towns along the coast on a comparatively level ground.

Senator Minton urged Senate and House Agriculture committees to get crop control legislation in shape for quick action whether Congress reconvenes in November or January.

Skipped Cattle

Dr. R. L. Emery Takes Reporter To Task For a Union Fair Delinquency

As reported in The Courier-Gazette, the Knox Fair "Rang down the Curtain" after putting it over with a boom. No doubt it was the best fair ever put on in Union. The writer has attended many fairs in Massachusetts and New Hampshire, but has never seen a better looking lot of humanity, a better behaved one, and yet a crowd that was thoroughly enjoying every minute.

The reporter for The Courier-Gazette gave a very fine description of the Fair in general, and of a lot of the sports, but very little space was given to the most important industry and part of the fair, that of the cattle and poultry exhibit.

Perhaps the reporter had at some time been tossed over the fence by a bull, or butted by a ram, for evidently he did not see the acres taken up by the oxen, heaves, cows, sheep and poultry. That alone was worth twice the price of admission. You could hardly believe there were as many yokes of oxen as were exhibited, in all of Maine. The beef cattle were as good as any seen at the Brockton or Springfield Fairs. The milk stock had a fine representation in the Holstein, Ayrshire, Guernsey, and Jersey. It must have taken a keen sense of judgment to be able to distinguish the fine points in each animal in order to present the prizes to the owners without making any hard feelings.

While there was a large representation of different animals from around Union and the thickly populated farming country to the North, Rockland district, or better the town of Owl's Head, got its share of praise and prizes. Outstanding were animals from Rose Hill Farm, Nashoba Septimus Valpride, No. 23953, the Farm's 2-year-old Guernsey bull pulled down first prize in his class, while his son, Rose Hill Pride, No. 252308, took second in the bull calf class. Rose Hill Julia, No. 301498 got third in cow class and her daughter Rose Hill April, No. 527931 took second in the calf class. In the sheep judging, Eastleigh 85, a 2-year old ram, took first easily, while both his son and daughter took first in the lamb class. All these are Hampshires. Among the hens, the Farm's "Thompson Strain" of White Plymouth Rocks, 2 pens took first and second prizes.

The Fair certainly gave many people an incentive to try and raise better animals, for it costs just as much to keep a poor one as it does a good one.

R. L. Emery.

[The Courier-Gazette reporter obtained his information regarding the Fair exhibits on Tuesday, which was to have been the opening day, but which was marked by a pouring rain storm. Conditions, naturally, afforded no opportunity for inspection. The reporter was too busy in the newspaper office to visit the Fair Wednesday or Friday and had no opportunity to visit the cattle exhibits Thursday. Dr. Emery's services will be requisitioned next year because he seem to know the job so well.]

A Special Session

President Roosevelt Will Call One Soon—The Intended Legislation

Administration supporters in Congress said Thursday they are prepared to push President Roosevelt's legislative program to quick enactment at either a special session or the regular meeting in January.

Senator Thomas (D-Utah), among others, indicated he would advise Mr. Roosevelt to call a special session. The President said at Hyde Park he would reach a decision within a week.

Such a session would begin a new attack on prime administration objectives, among them crop control, wage-hour and child labor laws, government reorganization and creation of regional planning boards. It would begin Nov. 8 and end Nov. 16.

Senator Thomas, who is slated to head the Senate Labor committee, said he would seek enactment of wage and hour legislation in the form it passed the Senate during the last session.

The wage-hour bill which would give a labor standards board power to establish minimum wages of not more than 40 cents an hour and a maximum work week of not less than 40 hours, was steered thru the Senate by Justice Hugo L. Black, then chairman of the Senate Labor committee. The measure was held up the House by the Rules committee.

Thomas said he would oppose modification of the bill to provide for flat standards for all industry.

Senator Minton urged Senate and House Agriculture committees to get crop control legislation in shape for quick action whether Congress reconvenes in November or January.

A special session, he added, "would be worse than none" unless a definite program was ready.