Hit And Run Driver

May Have Struck Chester Allen, Found In Critical Condition By Roadside

Apparently a victim of a hit and run driver, Chester Allen of South Thomaston was found in a ditch near Waterman's Beach at 9 o'clock Sunday forenoon, suffering from a broken leg, and in a very serious condition from exposure to the cold. The temperature at that time was about 12 above zero.

The discovery was made by Vaughn Godfrey, who caused the removal of the young man to Knox Hospital, where this morning his condition is reported as "comfortable." Allen is a World War veteran having served as second class ship's cook on the battleship Georgia, scout cruiser Salem and sub-chaser 408. He belongs to Winslow-Holbrook Post, having been transferred from the Bath Post.

He is a painter.

Man Who Made It Possible Extends Church's Thanks To Many

Rockland's first Hobby Show, sponsored by the Congregational Church and held in the Community Building last week, is now history and a pleasant memory. Its conspicuous success could not have been attained without the unstinted co-operation of the hundreds of committee people and exhibitors who gave freely of their time and loaned articles that were priceless to them.

It was a fine example of what can be done in a community when people

Rev. Corwin H. Olds, who conceived the idea and worked almost 24 hours a day putting it through work and pull together. "When people pull together they pull the world apart; when they pull apart, they pull the world together." The Hobby Show was only a suggestion of great things that can be accomplished in Rockland and Knox County when our community spirit is mobilized and put to work on a common project. It was also a demonstration of the usefulness of the Community Building can be put to.

I want to express our deepest thanks and appreciation to all who contributed to the success of this big show. It will be impossible for me here to list the names of all to whom our thanks are due, but I would like specially to mention: John Pomeroy, who planned and managed the building of booths; Oscar E. Wishman who was in charge of protection of exhibits, and the city police, firemen, Legion police, and Boy Scouts who assisted him; Joseph Emery and his corps of assistants who took charge of the tickets; Mrs. Donald Fuller, who directed the publicity; and The Courier-Gazette which so generously gave of its space; the owners of cars who carried "bumper strips" advertising the show; Joshua N. Southard for his untiring efforts at the building; and members of the general committee who devoted many evenings to advance planning. Also to Glenn Lawrence who secured equipment; to David Rubenstein and The Corner Drug Store for the loan of display cases; to Horatio Cowan for the loan of truck and driver; and to the Community Building committee for their excellent co-operation.

The chairman of all division committees deserve mention again, and

Died From Wounds

Jefferson Man Shot While Hunting, Expires In Damariscotta Hospital

Frank Rosenquist, 26, of Jefferson, allegedly shot accidentally Friday by Roy Cunningham, 26, also of Jefferson, a companion on an alleged deer poaching trip to the Jefferson Game Preserve, died Sunday morning in the Damariscotta Memorial Hospital. Cunningham was held in $7000 bail to the grand jury when arraigned Saturday in Wiscasset Municipal Court on charges of negligently shooting a human being while hunting, hunting out of season and hunting a game preserve. He pleaded not guilty to all charges.

only the limitations of space keep me from listing all the members of each committee and the individual exhibitors in each division: Mrs. Carl Snow, in charge of the Maine Home Industries salesroom; Mrs. Charles Hewitt, in charge of refreshments; Mrs. Edith Blaney, who planned and directed the elaborate procession of wedding gowns; The Theatre Guild, which presented the one-act play in spite of many difficulties; the Jolly Trollers 4-H Club, with their Finnish folk dances; Miss Winifred Coughlin, Library exhibit; Mrs. Joseph Emery in charge of the Doll exhibit; Mrs. William T. White, in charge of the snows, quilts, etc.; Miss Charlotte Buffum, antique glass ornaments, etc.; Mrs. Leforest Thurston and Mrs. H. P. Blodgett genealogy; Mrs. Ernest Davis, old hats; Mrs. Flora Merchant, art exhibit; Mrs. Rhama Philbrick, miscellaneous hobbies; Miss Frances Chatto, medals and trophies; Miss Lucinda Rich, 4-H Clubs; Dr. W. H. Hahn of Friendship, old lamps; Raymond Duff, postage stamps; William Gray of Thomaston, amateur radio; Henry B. Bird, ship models and marine exhibit; Dr. E. L. Scarlott, handmade rugs; Ernest Blackington, photography; William T. White, wood-working; Mrs. C. H. Olds, Button collectors; Homer Robinson, historical exhibit; Daniel Chick, juvenile hobbies; Mrs. Faltz Berry and Mrs. Nettie Bird Frost, music for the wedding procession; Mrs. Harriet Frost, who studied and contributed floral bouquets of the authentic kind to accompany each wedding gown; Benjamin Burbank who came from Brunswick to demonstrate woodworking machinery; Ernest Davis, old guns and hunting goods; and the Orie Hardware Co. for loan of machinery.

Although the Hobby Show did not make what might be called a large amount, still it was financially successful, a large percentage of the proceeds going to the Community Building, but its greatest success was in presenting such a big, interesting show of clean and wholesome nature. There has already been such a demand expressed for another show of this type next year that the same committee has decided to start plans now for a bigger and better show in 1938. The date will be determined later, but all hobbyists are warned to start now preparing something new to exhibit at the 1938 show.

Again I want to express on behalf of the committee, our sincere thanks to every person who helped to make this show an unqualified success.

An Attendance Race

Gene Stoddard and Ralph Smith Head the Roaring Lions Teams

Sounds like some kind of an automobile game, but in reality it relates to the attendance contest now being waged by the Rockland Lions Clubs, between two teams known as Stoddard's Self Starters and Smith's Speedometers. The respective captains are Eugene E. Stoddard and Ralph L. Smith, both of whom are valued workers in the club and most faithful in their attendance. The members of the contesting teams were drawn by lot.

Gene Stoddard selected for his Self Starters these members: Axel E. Brunberg, Harold B. Burgess, James F. Burgess, Ralph P. Conant, Stafford M. Congdon, Clifford A. Cross, David J. Daris, Arthur D. Fish, Levi R. Flint, B. F. Frye, E. K. Gould, Henry A. Howard, Lendon C. Jackson, Harold S. Leach, Crosby Ludwick, Allan J. Murray, Samuel B. Norwood, E. Stewart Orbeton, Almon P. Richardson, Wilbur P. Senter, Cleveland Sleeper, Jr., Joshua N. Southard, Frank A. Tirrell, Alden Uimer, Sr., Harry E. Wilbur, Allan Whitney, Edward C. Merrill, Percy W. Blaisdell, Chester L. Black, Alex Vardavoullis.

Is Coming Here

L. F. Kittredge, Social Security Manager, To Have Office At P. O. Building

Arrangements have been completed, through the courtesy of the Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue, for desk space in his office, in the Post Office Building, Rockland, Maine, in order that a representative of the Social Security Board may be contacted there at regular intervals regarding matters pertaining to Old-Age Insurance.

The manager, Leroy F. Kittredge, or his representative will be in Rockland from 1 p. m., to 5 p. m. on Thursday, Dec. 16, to furnish information regarding procedure in filing applications covering claims for lump-sum benefits as provided by Title II of the Social Security Act, in cases where the employee has reached the age of 65 or has died during the year 1937 and while engaged in covered employment.

The necessary forms required will be supplied to those desiring them. Benefits under the Old-Age Insurance Title or the Social Security Act should not be confused with Old-Age Assistance, which is, of course, administered by the State of Maine. Information regarding Social Security Account Numbers may also be obtained.

The Japs Apologize

The Japanese have offered a four-point apology for the bombing of the gunboat Panay, assuring Uncle Sam that the flyers will be punished and that a recurrence of the attack will be safeguarded. The Japanese policy of shooting first and apologizing afterward is getting on some people's nerves.

WINTER FINANCIAL CAPITAL

The annual migration of the nation's financial and business leaders to southern Florida is again underway. It is estimated that during the winter season more than $12,000,000,000 in corporate wealth is represented by executives who visit Palm Beach and Miami.

HE WOULD LIKE TO STAY

Com'r Feyler, Whose Term Soon Expires, Asks the Governor To Reappoint Him

Declaring that he stood on his record of effort and accomplishment, Rodney E. Feyler, today, announced that he had asked Gov. Lewis O. Barrows to reappoint him as Commissioner of the Department of Sea and Shore Fisheries. Appointed by ex-Governor Brann three years ago Feyler's term expires in January. He said that he had interviewed the Governor and explained the reasons why he wanted the job again and why he felt that he was entitled to it.

Citing many phases of a "progressive policy of administration," he stated that hundreds of citizens have asked him to remain on the ture. The sum of $20,000 was appropriated for this enterprise which he believes will do much to improve the lobster industry.

"A staunch believer in the value of publicity he has consistently kept the fisheries in the public eye. He believes that as a result of this activity the people of Maine are beginning to recognize the value of the industry and are becoming more interested in assisting in its development."

"In discussing his record of service he named a group of activities which he considered a good thing for industry. Among these were: Placing the warden force on a year around basis, thereby having a more satisfied and effective organization—the launching of a statistical department to keep a check on the industry's activities—the establishing of new groundfish laws which make conditions better for Maine fishermen—buying and releasing of seed lobsters—a program of education in the schools and service clubs—propagation of scallops and clams—a survey of the clam industry and efforts for improvement—close check on new developments in by-products, merchandising and packing—the establishment of a kelp plant which he expects to eventually become a big industry—a liberal policy towards the fisherman and the dealers—inclusion of the fisheries in the Maine Development Commission's activities and a general progressive attitude towards the industry as a whole."

Feyler said that he had received fine cooperation from the Governor and Executive Council and that this group as well as the Legislature had been very helpful in his efforts to rebuild the fisheries.

He also praised the Maine delegation in Washington for their ready efforts to cooperate. Among the Federal projects that he has worked for was the buying of surplus Maine fish last spring, a battle against misrepresentation of crawfish in direct competition with Maine lobsters and strict enforcement of the dryfish tariff laws.

"I have honestly tried to do something for this sick industry," he said. "I have had the help of a fine organization and we have the foundation for a big improvement already laid. When I took this job I attempted to run it as I would my own business and believe that this policy brought worthwhile results."

Feyler also stated that if reappointed he will continue on the same aggressive policy and predicts that another three years would see many of his projects in action and a general betterment seen in the industry and the business conditions along the coast.

Rodney E. Feyler, seeking reappointment, points to his achievements job and that he would like to complete "several important projects," that were now underway.

Announcing a program for rehabilitation of the fishing industry last year Feyler "would like to be allowed to see it through." He expressed the opinion that the industry was in the midst of a critical period and that an experienced Commissioner who is an experienced fish man was needed.

"Since taking office Feyler has consistently strived for improvement of the fisheries," said one of his admirers yesterday. He has been a firm advocate of conservation, propagation, the development of new industries, better conditions for the dealers and fishermen and modern merchandising. He has discarded many ancient theories and followed newer and proven trends.

"He points out that his 'pet' project was a lobster rearing station which was obtained after a long, hard battle. He first tried for Federal funds and when this failed took the matter to the people at Legisla-

Many Fingers Cold

And Many Shoes Out At the Toe—Let's All Help Miss Corbett

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—A great number of parents are buying new toys for their children this Yuletide, and I am putting in a plea for the old toys for my great family. Conditions are such that not much money will be spent by the ordinary working class this year for toys as not enough money is earned to buy sufficient food for the family. Going into the homes continually and seeing the pitiful conditions, I know so many of the playthings and toys which just now are being discarded for the new. I know these toys will brighten and cheer many a youngster. Quite a number of dolls were donated from the Hobby Fair, and are already in the hands of those who will place them in some girl's stocking Christmas Eve. Please do not send in toys that cannot be mended, but any toy that is useable will be appreciated.

I am besieged by children whose little fingers are cold with "Miss Corbett have yer got any mittens, me fingers are cold." Dozens of pairs have been distributed, knitted by friends, but dozens and dozens more are needed.

And what with cold hands and cold feet and bare toes sticking through the shoes, mittens, stockings and shoes are urgently needed.

George Greenrose Admits He Took $62 Belonging To Robert Heald

Following a blind trail for 11 days, Sheriff C. Earle Ludwick yesterday arrested George Greenrose of West Rockport on the charge of stealing $62 from Robert Heald's store in that village. A signed confession was given, according to Sheriff Ludwick. Greenrose, so the confession runs, found the store door locked, but managed to effect an entrance through another door, and helped himself to the money, which he found in a tin box. The solving of the crime relieved an embarrassing situation which had arisen when innocent parties fell under suspicion.

Greenrose was arraigned before Judge Z. M. Dwinall yesterday. He entered a plea of guilty. Probable cause was found and Greenrose was held for the February grand jury in the sum of $500.

BEYOND ALL TIME
With humble steps a Mystic walked
Among his fellowmen and talked
Of simple things and homely good
And all mankind in brotherhood.
Refusing power, foregoing creed,
Befriending whom he found in need.
What recompense for all he gave?
Defeat? A cross? A borrowed grave?
Not so! While men who thrilled their day
With creeds and cults have passed away
Although two thousand years have gone,
The Christmas impulse carries on
Because in Him a Sense Sublime
Knew not the bounds of place and time!

"The Black Cat"

By The Roving Reporter

It is quite possible that superstitious persons may not read this department, which I have inaugurated because the weather and road conditions do not permit me to go afield. It is also quite possible that others may not read it, but I am taking the plunge as a columnist, hoping that the new department will be favorably received and that my friends will make frequent suggestions that will serve to make it an interesting feature.

Watching the Christmas traffic Saturday afternoon, and incidentally noting the holiday decorations provided by some merchants my thoughts flew back several decades to the time when novelty decorating was very popular at this season of the year, and I am sure that other oldtimers wended their way with me to the corner of Main and Park streets where James Breck, confectioner always had a show window which drew sightseers from all parts of the county. Mr. Breck was a man of ponderous size, but an agile mind and could always be depended upon to offer some unique and attractive holiday feature. I don't think I shall ever forget the time he unveiled a ball game between the Business and Professional men on the old Broadway ground. He did it from the vantage of a comfortable rocking chair, safely ensconced behind the pitcher's box. I don't remember which team won; my attention was concentrated upon the amazing Mr. Breck.

Daniel McLoud, who labored in season and out for I. L. Snow Co. during a period of 68 years, was in town from Waldoboro Saturday for a special consultation with his barber. Didn't look his 94 years, particularly after the razor had performed its mission. Mr. McLoud is a former member of the Rockland City Government—always kindly and courteous.

Since the performances of "Big Hearted Herbert" Thursday and Friday nights, I have heard little else than astonishment expressed at the fine performance given by our High School students. "You don't have to go to Boston to see a good play," said ex-Mayor McLoud, who is not only a staunch supporter of his alma mater, but a believer that praise should be bestowed when so richly earned. My associate, John M. Richardson, is the proud father of the student who held the title role, Gordon Richardson, and his right ear must burn if he hears the fine things said about the lad.

Up here in the North and out West on the coast it is customary to be a bit sarcastic when Florida has a touch of nipping temperature, but no section of the country is quite immune from weather casualties, and I rather suspect that there would be a general exodus in the direction of the Everglades State if financial and other conditions permitted.

I chatted a few moments Saturday with that genial candy distributor George W. Newbert, whom I have always counted one of my best friends ever since we fought on Rockland and Warren baseball fields many years ago. George is one of Knox County's pioneers in the art of automobile navigation, having driven a car for St. Clair & Allen since 1914. Told me Saturday how he threw down the reins over the old nag and was fairly forced into the driver's seat of a new motor delivery car.

"Now drive!" commanded the salesman. "But I never had my hand on a wheel in my life!" expostulated the candy man. But he tackled the various gadgets, as directed by the auto salesman, and was soon sailing over Knox County roads with the utmost sang froid. "Wonder I didn't kill somebody," he explained to me, as he recalled his initial experience.

Only one more Saturday before Christmas, which means that lots of shopping will have to be done in the next nine days. Don't wait until the last minute, because it may be too stormy to shop. And buy your postage stamps now instead of standing in line 15 minutes at the Post Office.

THE WEATHER

This is the fourth consecutive day of real winter cold; in which the zero mark has escaped by a hair's breadth. Six above is the coldest local report received at this office, but there may be some unfavorable localities where it creeps a little lower. The weather vane has pointed steadily into the Northwest, and shows little indication of changing its uncertain mind. Traveling men express surprise at finding little or no snow here, with heavy falls elsewhere in the State. But they may hit us, so shop early.

George Ryan is clerking for Burpee & Lamb Inc.

Willis Hurd has gone to Palm Beach, Fla., where he will have winter employment.

A special meeting of Aurora Lodge will be held Wednesday night, with work on the Fellowship degree.

The Knox Hospital Nurses' Association will have an alumnae meeting Wednesday afternoon at 2:30. There will be a Christmas tree and all members are invited.

Tending these Salvation Army kettles is a cold job days like these. But the Salvation Army workers ask no pity for themselves; they seek your generous offering for the needy.

One of the State's best orators will address the Baptist Men's League Thursday night, in the person of Rev. Dr. John Smith Lowe, and he will have a subject which is especially timely—"Some Aspects of the International Situation."

A sort of "Mountains and Mohammed" act was staged in front of The Courier-Gazette yesterday afternoon when Kenneth Hurd's motor car took fire and Engine 2 did her stuff with the reportorial staff observing from the warm vantage point of the office window.

Five first class wooden settees have been presented to Community Building by the Mountain View Society, a gift thoroughly appreciated. More settees are needed and any one wishing to make such a gift should get in touch with Mayor Thurston, 457 or with The Courier-Gazette, 770.

The annual music festival and Christmas concert of Rockland Public Schools will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in Community Building. There will be 700 children in the cast under direction of Mrs. Esther Rogers and a nominal admission will be charged. The entire proceeds will be devoted to the operations expenses of Community Building as a token of good will from pupils, teachers, and co-operating parents. Come early.

MRS. SADIE LEACH
The city was shocked yesterday at the sudden passing of Mrs. Sadie E. Leach, who collapsed in the First National Bank yesterday forenoon, and died soon after. Physicians were called, but Mrs. Leach was beyond human aid. The funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. Earle Ludwick, 62 Limerock street. The remains will be taken to the Forest Hills cemetery for cremation.

The deceased was a native of Camden and daughter of the late Ezra and Sarah (Walker) Young. Her husband was the late John E. Leach for many years engaged in business on Main street as a member of the Maine Music Company. She had taught music many years.

Prominently socially Mrs. Leach had been a member of the Rubinstein and Methenesec Clubs and at the time of her death belonged to Golden Rod Chapter, O.E.S., the Delphian Society, History Club and Thimble Club. In recent years she had indulged in her desire for foreign travel, having made three extended tours abroad. She was possessed of a happy personality which drew to her many friends.

Limerock Pomona
Gerald Beverage Is Elected Master—A Christmas Tree 'n Everything

Limerock Valley Pomona met with Pleasant Valley Grange Saturday afternoon and evening. The afternoon was given over to the annual election of officers, who will serve for 1938: Master, Gerald Beverage; overseer, Raymond Anderson; lecturer, Lillian Rackliff; steward, Edward Tolman; assistant steward, Earle Rackliff; chaplain, Valle McLaughlin; treasurer, Lloyd Crockett; secretary, Scott Rackliff; gatekeeper, Russell Hickman; Ceres, Florence Young; Pomona, Mildred Sheldon; Flora, Minnie Miles; lady assistant steward, Etta Anderson; executive member, F. L. S. Morse.

The audience heard a very interesting lecture on "Infantile Paralysis" by Dr. George Coombs of the State Department of Health.

Supper was served by the hostess.

The evening meeting was called to order in the fifth degree, the work being conferred on three candidates.

A very interesting report of the State Grange session at Lewiston last week, was given by Worthy Pomona Eunice D. Morse. The meeting was expressed in true Christmas fashion, and sincerely by the Overseer of the host Grange. The response was cheerfully and wittily given by P. P. Master Harold Nash of Camden.

A gaily lighted tree occupied a corner of the room. Carols were sung, a duet by Valle McLaughlin and Ray Andersen and an address by Past State Master O. Gardner.

At the close of this program, Santa made his appearance, and by the sound from outside, had a rather difficult time making a landing. Gifts were distributed, amid much merry making.

A vote of thanks was given the entertaining Grange. Jan. 8, the next meeting is at South Thomaston. At this time a joint installation will be held for the officers of Pomona and Wessaweskeag Granges, with Lloyd Crockett of North Haven, Past Pomona Master installing officer.

Bushels Of Shoes
Urgently Needed By the Welfare Department—Chairman Walker's Appeal

Rockland, Dec. 13
Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

For a long time I have refrained from making any appeal to the generosity of the public but here is the situation in brief. The calls upon the Welfare Department are as great as at any time in the past. We seem to be in for a very hard winter on account of unemployment.

Children must be kept in school and that means that the City must clothe them. I am faced with the possibility of saying to adults: "Grown-ups will have to go with feet on the pavements; without underwear, warm clothing and bedding so that the City can buy these things for the children. It is a heartbreaking job. And there are still attics containing the things that would clothe the naked in this bitter weather. Please send us shoes by the bushel and we will have them reconditioned. Clothing of any kind that is warm, old quilts, blankets, mattresses, all will be better than none.

If you will call 663-W, I'll try to get someone to come after the things although we are up to our ears in relief work.

Thank you Mr. Editor and you, Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public for your indispensable aid.

Louis A. Walker
Chairman Board of Overseers of the Poor.

Townsend Club No. 2 will hold a public supper at the home of Mrs. Minnie Miles, 31 Ocean street, Monday night from 5:30 to 7 o'clock. The menu will consist of baked beans, salads, doughnuts, pie, cake, coffee, etc.

Four hundred children will be made happy by an Elks Christmas tree at Strand Theatre at 4 p. m. Christmas Day. City Marshal A. P. Richardson is in charge, having the hearty co-operation of Manager Dondis.

The Lions are looking forward to a jolly time at their poverty lunch tomorrow, made happy also by the fact that the proceeds are going to charity. There should be a full attendance. Rev. Corwin H. Olds will deliver a lecture entitled "Santa Claus' Back Yard," and will exhibit some pictures in that connection.

The iCamden Outing Club will have a turkey, bean and Parcel Post sale at Heald's Garage Dec. 21. Post card announcements tell of this coming event, in rhyme, concluding with the announcement "We shall not solicit again." The Club has always met with a prompt and generous response.

From his home on Lindsey street comes the welcome word that Frank H. Ingraham has nearly conquered his last illness, and hopes to be out in a few days. Seventeen long weeks of invalidism have been very irksome to a man of his well known activity, but he has pluckily pursued his legal business as far as possible.

The British steamer Dominion Halsey which narrowly escaped foundering when she lost her rudder off Monhegan one day last week, left port Saturday in tow of the steamer Apohaqui, which is also laden with Christmas trees. The craft are bound for Providence and Greenwich, Conn. respectively.

A busy evening was chalked up at Central Fire Station Sunday, beginning at 7:30 with an automobile blaze at The Brook. Small damage. At 1 o'clock Monday morning Engine 2 handled a partition fire at the Willow street home of Arthur Duncan, and shortly after the diaphone awoke the night echoes with a call from Box 54 for a threatening chimney fire on Pine street, which however, was also extinguished without damage.

Ivan Scott was elected president of the State of Maine Blueberry Growers at the annual meeting of that organization recently held in the Mt. Pleasant Grange hall. Other officers chosen were: Halver Hart, vice president; Harvey Lunden, clerk; Henry Kontio, manager. The reports indicated that the blueberry raisers had a successful season last year. Motion pictures of the industry were shown by Henry B. Bird, president of the Medomak Canning Co. Supper was served.

A drill meeting of the officers of Miriam Rebekah Lodge will be held at Odd Fellows hall tonight to prepare for initiation. At the next regular meeting a card party will be held in the afternoon with Mrs. Lillian Cotton as hostess. A fish chowder dinner will be served and the regular circle supper will be followed by the business session. A Christmas party and tree for children of members, with an entertainment, will close the meeting Mrs. Grace Rollins is program chairman.

AT STRAND THURSDAY-FRIDAY

"52ND STREET"

Jerry Colonna, Ella Logan, Sid Silvers and Jack White in a scene from Walter Wanger's "52nd Street," released through United Artists.

"52nd Street" is based on a story by F. V. Watson, adapted to the screen by Grover Jones. Its action unfolds along Manhattan's night-club thoroughfare and dramatizes its world-famous personalities. Kenny Baker, sensational radio star, heads the distinguished cast, comprising Ian Hunter, Leo Carrillo, Pat Paterson, Ella Logan, Sid Silvers, Zasu Pitts, Maria Shelton and a veritable army of night club entertainers including Jack White and Pat Harrington of the famous "18" Club. Rocco and Sauter of the Kit Kat Club, Georgie Tapps of the "52nd Street" girls represent a galaxy of the most beautiful of all showgirls.

Eight great musical numbers are featured in the picture. Among the song hits are "Don't Save Your Love For a Rainy Day," "I Would Like To See Samoa of Samoa," "Nothing Can Stop Me Now," "52nd Street," "Let Your Hair Down." A special ballad is introduced by Miss Paterson, "I Still Love To Kiss You Good Night" and a comic number "Twenty-Three Skidoo" is presented by Zasu Pitts—adv.

MARTINSVILLE

Dances will be resumed at the Grange hall Wednesday night; the popular Rawley three-piece orchestra will furnish music.

GEORGES RIVER ROAD

A church supper will be served at the Finnish Congregational Church Thursday at 7 o'clock. Everyone is welcome.

AT PARK THEATRE WEDNESDAY

John Boles, as a successful concert singer, fancies himself in love with Margot Grahame, who plays a flashy English actress, in "Fight For Your Lady." RKO Radio's madly merry comedy romance in which Boles and Jack Oakie are co-starred. When Oakie reveals Margot as just another designing woman, out for the pelf, Boles imagines himself heartbroken, until he meets a little Budapest night-club entertainer, and falls for her charms. She is Ida Lupino, who is co-featured in the picture with Miss Grahame—adv.

THURSDAY

Lovely Stella Ardler and Isabel Jewell go hunting for a man—and find the biggest scrap in the world on their hands! It all happens in Paramount's hilarious new farce, "Love On Toast," with Miss Ardler and John Payne heading a big cast of film favorites—adv.

Games are scheduled with Rockport High School, Ballard Business College, Thomaston Junior Varsity, Rockland Junior Varsity, Union and Hermon High Schools with games pending with Liberty, Brooks and Waldoboro High Schools.

The Senior play was presented at the Community hall Saturday night, a large crowd attending what proved to be one of the best plays of the year. Specialties were given by Philip Keen and Chrystal Stanley. The cast of characters was made up of Ida Williams, Julia Brown, Natalie Mink, Helen Cullinan, Jennie Zachowski, Genevieve Jameson, Philip Keene, Benjamin Mitchell, Freeman Gushue, Paul Gushue and Jessie Arrington. This play will be presented tonight at the Burketville Grange hall.

Don't Experiment—Treat Colds Proved Way

Doubly proved—in world's largest colds-clinic, and by everyday use in more homes than any other medication of its kind. No "dosing." Just massage VapoRub on throat, chest, and back at bedtime. Relief begins almost at once. And long after sleep comes, VapoRub keeps right on working. Its poultice-and-vapor action loosens phlegm, relieves irritation and coughing, helps break local congestion. Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

VICKS VAPORUB

NORTH HAVEN

A reception and shower were tendered Thursday night by the Grange to Mr. and Mrs. Roland Gillis at the Grange hall where a goodly number assembled. A fine program was carried out, including musical selections by Bonnie Quinn and the High School orchestra. Remarks were made by Herman Crockett and others. Refreshments were served and Mr. and Mrs. Gillis were the recipients of a variety of attractive gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carver of Plainfield, N. J., are visiting Fred Carver and Miss Constance Carver.

A shower-reception to Mr. and Mrs. Bonnie Quinn is scheduled for Friday night at the Grange hall. A general invitation is extended.

Parsons-Stone

Miss Maxine C. Stone daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester F. Stone was united in marriage Friday evening at the Baptist Church to H. Clifford Parsons, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Parsons. The wedding procession marched down the aisle to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin, played by Mrs. Orrie Woodworth. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. H. F. Huse.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a charming gown of white satin. Her veil was of white lace fastened to a lace cap with tulle embroidered with imitation seed pearls and clusters of wax orange blossoms at the sides and she carried a shower bouquet of talisman roses it being the favorite flower of her deceased brother.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Albra Pierce sister of the bride, was beautifully attired in Persian rose moire taffeta and carried a bouquet of white Pampoms. She wore a cap of white silk and lace trimmed with white flowers. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Viola Joy and Mrs. Norma Beverage, wore cocktail blue moire taffeta. They, too, wore caps of white silk and lace trimmed with white flowers, and carried white pom poms.

The groom was attended by his brother, Hugh Parsons. The ushers were Clyde Joy, Leroy Pierce, and Edward Beverage, all of whom wore white boutonnieres.

The bride's mother wore a dress of wine transparent velvet and the groom's mother was attired in wine silk and velvet.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Albra Pierce, it being the occasion of the latter's birthday. Ice cream was served together with the white wedding cake, decorated with quaint dolls representing the bride and groom and made by Mrs. Oscar Waterman. A birthday cake made by Mrs. Waterman and beautifully decorated by Mrs. Pierce by the bride and groom. Small individual boxes of dark wedding cake made and prepared by Mrs. Herman Crockett were given to all the guests.

The couple received many beautiful gifts and have the well wishes of a large circle of friends.

Among the out of town guests, were Mrs. Genevieve Strout, an aunt of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Douglas of Rockland, and Mrs. Nellie Robinson of Vinal Haven.

THREE MILES OF RIVETS

More than 500,000 rivets were used in the manufacture of the TWA sky-sleeper transport planes. Stretched end to end, the rivets would cover a distance of three miles.

THAT FIEND, THE EMPLOYER

"The trouble is that no one in the country gives a thought to the 5,000,000 employees. We are picking on them, abusing them, and snooping on them. Yet the only place anybody can get a real job is from a private employer."

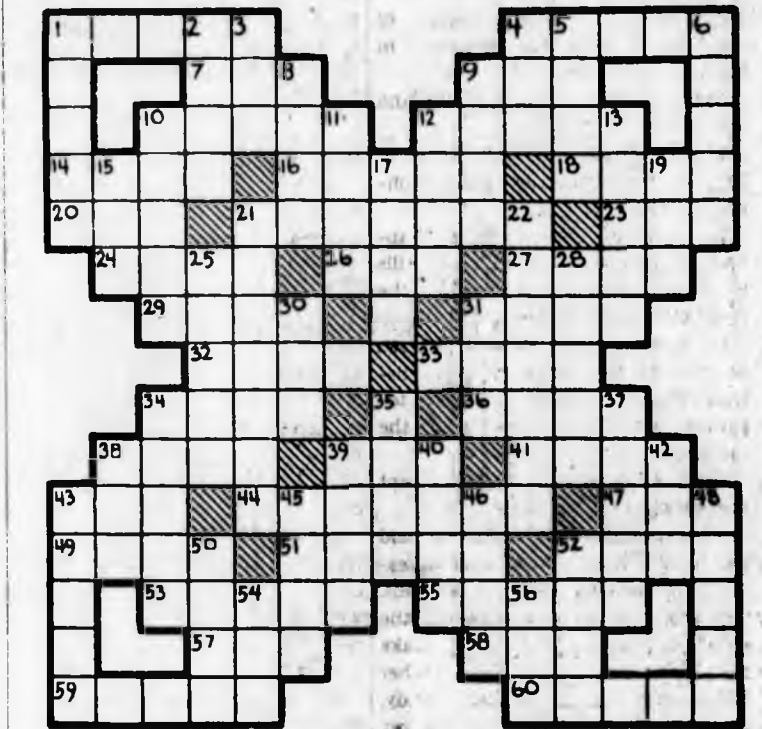

Chairman O'Connor of the House Rules Committee.

Never mind the vile employer — Pick away until he's groggy. Never give the guy a break! For your dear old country's sake! Criticize his every motive. Heap abuse upon his brow. Maybe once the boy was human. But he's just a reptile now!

Keep on picking—he can take it! Never say a kindly word. If he dares to make an answer. Point and sneer, "I told you so!" He alone can give employment. And speed up his work. Play him as a form of germ life. It is lots of good clean fun!

Oh, the rattlesnake has gone points. And the white shark isn't bad. Even polecats have their virtues. As have buzzards, too, my lad! But employers? Why, they're nothing! They're the lowest of the low. As must be apparent, dearies. If you own a radio! —H. I. Phillips in the New York Sun.

High School Notes
The freshman class held a social Friday night in the auditorium. Schools close Friday for two weeks' vacation.

At the assembly Monday, singing was conducted by Guy Waltz, Mrs. Louise Miller accompanying on the piano.

The freshmen retain the merit shield banner for another six weeks. The Junior High boys and girls basketball teams played Castner Grammar School Friday.

The home room periods have been of this nature: Seniors, a discussion regarding school problems; juniors, manners for motorists; sophomores, debate on case studies of student life; freshmen, planned activities for social Friday night.

New Study Room
Residents of the community, particularly parents, are invited to observe the new study room arrangement at work. Those who have already done so seemed impressed with the difference in the general atmosphere.

Previous to the change, the pupils had nowhere to study, except in the rooms where recitations were going on. A few pupils could concentrate their attention even in a boiler factory, but for the most part it resulted in the distraction of the teachers' attention from the recitation and the pupils' attention from their work. Discipline was often difficult to supervise and general efficiency thereby impaired.

It was fortunate that the State compelled the addition of another teacher to the staff, and still more fortunate from the standpoint of expense, at least, that it permitted the employment of a typist teacher already in service.

There were certain restrictions, however, which had been recognized, the certificate of the teacher who was transferred covered only the elementary grades, which prevented her from doing any actual teaching beyond the grades; it would have been impracticable, if not impossible to break up the organization of the program of recitations already in operation. Besides, it would have left the study room without a teacher to supervise it.

Consider the importance of having this room in charge of a competent full time teacher who would be capable not only of supervising the study hall, itself, but of giving individual help to pupils having particular difficulties. Mrs. Carrie Perry was assigned the responsibility.

As Mrs. Perry becomes more familiar with her work, parents are bound to see a decided improvement in the learning efficiency of their children.

Co-operation is sought, through friendly suggestions and the passing of the above information to parents who have not had the opportunity to read it.

ORDINARY INTERLUDE
We Often Say One Thing But Words In Parenthesis Mean Another

Well, if it isn't Virginia, as I live and breathe! Come right in, my dear! Stars above, but I'd never have known you! Where in the world have you been all this time, Virginia? You and George went South for the winter? Well, isn't that fine! You're looking very well, my dear. What a splendid pink in your cheeks!

(Well, of all things, to have you turn up now! I don't see why you had to pick tonight when I'm so sleepy. I read about you and your husband going to Florida. I must say I don't see how you two can afford to do it, he with the money he's making. I don't think it was exactly the right thing to do. You've grown terribly thin. Appears to me as though you might have developed tuberculosis. People with a flush such as yours usually have it. It's an almost sure sign.)

Take off your coat, darling, and do come in and talk with me by the fire. We've so much to catch up on. Where is George and why didn't he come, too? Oh, that's a shame. Yes, I know; he works very hard. Things never come easy to him, did they, Virginia? It's a perfect shame he has to work overtime to make up for the vacation you two had.

(If I ask you to take off your coat, I'm afraid that's just what you'll do. And if you start talking in the other room you'll never stop. I know you. I never saw a person with such a tongue! So your husband tells you he's slaving his back off at the office, does he? I guess everyone in town but you knows he took Hilda Bradford, his secretary who dolls up like a painted Indian, to one of the forbidden places an evening or two ago. You are the blindest thing!)

I do hope you're still taking voice lessons. I've thought of you often and wondered how you are getting along with your music. You have a sweet voice, Virginia—not unlike a lark. But I guess I've told you that before. I don't know as I should say it but I'm certain you'd have forgotten ahead with your music if it hadn't been that you married. It's a shame, much as we love them, how these men can mess up a woman's life, isn't it?

(Your voice! How horrid it is. I've been trying ever since last time I heard you sing to forget that awful sound when you hit high C in one of Friml's compositions! Such a squeak. Like the brakes on an automobile. I don't see why you ever thought you could sing in the first place. But I do know it's lucky you married young as you did. You'd certainly have starved, expecting to make a living on that cat in your throat. Lucky for you there was a man who could convince you, at least for the moment, that you could mean more to him than a concert stage!)

What a perfectly beautiful dress you're wearing, my dear! It must be new. The latest thing, isn't it? Yes, I thought it must be. You see such a little of real style around Rolifort that anything like that stands out like a diamond on velvet. You know what I mean, of course. Mhhh.

(I never saw such a clash of colors in all my life! Red and green. I guess you forgot you spent Christmas in Florida. And how you lie, my dear! I remember that dress so plainly—you wore it to a milk fund ball four years ago. Shows you've lost weight, or at least haven't added any. I'll say it stands out! But if you only knew how I mean, Mmmm!)

How are the children, Virginia? I do hope they're well. They're such sweet little ducklings. And isn't that little son of yours the most active thing! But that's as it should be. I always say: Full of energy. A good sign he'll be ambitious when he becomes older.

(Such brats as you ushered into the world! I guess you've forgotten the time I called on you and that little boy of yours cut into my lovely mink coat to make a moustache to paste on his face. You've forgotten that, haven't you? A doughnut says a little runt lands in jail before he's nineteen!)

Darling, must you go? Don't hurry. The night is young yet—we have oodles of time. See, it only quarter to 12!

(Must you keep staying on? Why don't you hurry? It's terribly late and this is a disgraceful hour to keep a person up simply to chat about nothing. See me yawn; can't you take a hint, for heaven's sake?)

Don't hurry, Virginia! (At last you're going!)

You'll come again won't you, my dear? Soon?

(Yes, of course, you will. Probably too soon.)

Goodbye, dear. It seems such a short while you could stay. Promise me now that next time you'll stay longer!

(I thought she'd never go! As for a next time there won't be any if I can help it. Hereafter I'll sit in the dark. And that will take care of that!)

Dramatic Ability Displayed
The Senior Class presented its annual play Friday at the Town Auditorium before an appreciative audience. This year's production was "The Last of the Ruthvins," a play full of action and requiring considerable dramatic ability.

Under the efficient coaching of Mrs. Doris Graffam, a member of the faculty, the parts were well taken, the familiarity with their lines being a strong factor of its success, especially on the part of Miss Carolyn Andrews who represented Lady Helena and Miss Arlene Tominski, as Rosamond Sylvester, an American widow. Donald Welt in the difficult role of Lord Alan deserved much credit for his realistic acting and Bessford Manor, England. Music was furnished between the acts by the Grammar and High School band with Clarence Fish, leader.

Others taking part were George Walmsley, Blanche Collins, Jennie Turner, Beatrice Lane, Kenneth Davenport, Lillian Whitmore and Lyle Noyes.

Friends of Dr. Chester Wiggin of Conway, N. H., formerly of this place will be interested in this item from the Conway Sun Telegram:

"Dr. and Mrs. Wiggin arrived home Wednesday after a 16-days trip to New Orleans, where they met their son, Junior Grade Lieutenant Bruce Wiggin, who is one of the officers of a submarine sent there from the Canal Zone."

A F. Sleeper attended the meeting of the Council in Portland last Tuesday, as a member of the Rockland Council Band.

Mrs. Hester Berryman of Philadelphia recently visited Mrs. Oscar Bassick.

Miss Marjorie Sleeper entertained the Beano Club Monday night.

A few years ago many were interested in watching a pair of seabirds called "dippers" which wintered in a small space of open water above the bridge. Rocklanders were so interested that they contributed grain to feed the birds. This year 25 birds arrived at the usual time and are to be seen doing all kinds of fancy diving tricks in the lee of Hayden's Point and near the bridge. The flock increases every year and as their plumage is largely white, they are presumably male birds.

Several from here exhibited choice articles at the Hobby show: Beautiful hooked rugs by Mrs. Elias Makinen; raised rugs by Mrs. Ed. Hopkins; silk table mat and Russian dance hat by Mrs. Fred Ripley; rare old china by Miss Mary Bartlett and numerous Scotch articles from the home of the late George Green.

Residents of this community felt a thrill of pride in the exhibits of work of the late A. W. Merchant, Mrs. Flora Merchant, Francis Merchant and Edwin Witham, all former inhabitants.

Mrs. Edwin Allen and infant daughter Diane have returned home from Knox Hospital.

Juniors In Fairland

The children who staged the two-act playlet "A Glimpse of Fairland" Friday night went over the top with flying colors and earned commendable praise for their work.

Each child played a piano solo from memory and piano duet from memory were given by Ava Wiggin, Victoria Wiggin, Lucy Rackliffe, Amy Rackliffe, Dorothy Baum and Joan Baum played "Invitation to the Dance" for the queen of the fairies dance.

The story was portrayed by Marjorie Wiggin and Elsie Norton who summoned the fairies with their music. Alice Bohn, in white with glittering crown and wand, was an attractive queen. Dorothy Baum as the rainbow fairy wore a costume of many colors. Joan Baum in yellow with tinsel was the sunshine fairy. Geraldine Jackson, the rose fairy, wore red; Marjorie Wiggin, blue and Elsie Norton, green; Lucy Rackliffe, melody fairy, pink; Ava Wiggin, harmony fairy, cerise; Victoria Wiggin, lavender; Amy Rackliffe, orange; Idabelle Wiggin, pale blue; Gloria Bohn, snowball fairy, and Evelyn Norton, pink. The glitter of tinsel on the costumes which were made by the mothers made a beautiful picture.

The boys in the play, Eugene Allen, Joseph Baum, Jr., and Harold Wiggin, wore evening suits. Besides musical numbers, there was a fairy dance, also dialogues and tap dancing by Marjorie Wiggin, Amy Rackliffe and Isabelle Wiggin. Gloria Bohn almost stole the show with her song "There is a Tavern in the Town."

As a specialty between the acts, a vocal solo by Stanley Gay, the Grammar School teacher, was much appreciated and enjoyed. "Bud" Watts played a cornet solo and Marion Watts and Mrs. Watts played a duet—"The New Colonial" with cornet obligato by "Bud" Watts.

In closing, the queen fairy said, "Remember as long as you practise well and faithfully, all the charms of fairyland will be revealed to you through the magic keys of your piano."

The sum of $11.35 was realized for the furnace fund.

"An Old Subscriber" Hits Back At Author Of "It Had To Be Done"

Editor of The Courier-Gazette: I heard over the radio Dec. 10 that this is Bible Week, and I ask the writer of "It Had to Be Done" of North Haven to take occasion to look over his Bible, if he has one, and see if he can find anything like this: "Love thy neighbor as thyself;" "Turn the other cheek;" "Judge not;" "Peace on earth, good will to men."

I have lived in North Haven nearly 50 years, was reared in a Christian home, and have heard and even read some of the Bible. I remember those passages very distinctly.

I wish, if this author thinks this good and Godly man to whom he refers as a "cheat" and "lie" is deserving of all the publicity he has given him, that he would leave it to someone outside the church to throw the mud. I am not a poet but someone has written these words, which seem to me to be appropriate.

Search thine own heart, what paineth thee. In all that is frail, all flesh is weak. Be thou the true man thou dost seek.

Methebesec Club

Mrs. Thurston's Review Of "The Flowering Of New England," a Feature

Members of the Methebesec Club who attended Friday afternoon's meeting in the Tower Room of the Community Building were privileged to hear a very excellent review of "The Flowering Of New England" (by Vap Wyck Brooks given by Mrs. Clara Thurston. Mrs. Thurston in addition to presenting various views of notable critics and a general review of the book, read portions at random to illustrate the superior writing done by the author himself. Supplementing the review, Mrs. Adelaide Lowe spoke informally of Mr. Brooks who was a summer resident at Round Pond when this book was in the making and of the pleasant association the Lowes had with them.

The current book review was presented by Mrs. Dorothy Smalley, and in keeping with the Christmas season Mrs. Gladys Heistad sang "The Virgin's Lullaby" by Max Reger, with Miss Margaret Stahl at the piano.

Prettily wrapped Christmas gifts were received at this meeting to be distributed by members of the benevolence committee—Mrs. Minnie Rogers, Mrs. Mary Southard, Mrs. Julia Murray and Miss Madeline Rogers—to children. This is a custom the club has observed for several years, and the receipt of gifts is always augmented by a silver collection for candy, fruit, etc., to supplement the gifts.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Katherine Haines, Mrs. Elizabeth Davis, Mrs. Ida Dondis, Mrs. Mary Avery, Mrs. Eva Wisner, Mrs. Bernice Havener, Miss Cora Perry and Mrs. Gertrude Payson.

The next meeting, scheduled for Dec. 24, has been changed to next Friday, Dec. 17, to be held in the Community Building, with Mrs. Jane Beach, Mrs. Irene Walker, Miss Stahl, Mrs. Edna Rollins, Mrs. Lowe, Mrs. Smalley, Miss Mabel Lamb and Mrs. Vivian Hewitt as hostesses. Mrs. Dondis will present the current book review, and music will be in charge of Miss Mabel Holbrook. For review of biography, Stanley Clesby Arthur's "Life of Audobon" and Constance Rourke's "Life of Audobon" will receive attention from Mrs. Eva Heller.

Mrs. A. D. Morey was hostess to Mite Club yesterday afternoon at The Lauriettes. Those winning high scores in contract were Mrs. Charles Emery and Mrs. Maude Stover. Refreshments were served.

Members of T.H.E. Club were entertained last night by Mrs. Walter C. Ladd, card honors going to Mrs. Lou Cook and Mrs. Fred Veazie.

Floyd L. Shaw is reported critically ill at his home on North Main street.

The first Masonic assembly will be held Thursday night. The committee from Camden will be Mr. and Mrs. Karl Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Witherspoon, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Rankin, from Rockland, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Coombs, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cates, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Prescott, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cross. Those who have not been solicited will take sandwiches.

Mrs. Ralph L. Wiggins was hostess and Mrs. Joseph Emery the leader, at last night's meeting of Shakespeare Society, held at the former's home on Maple street. Twenty-eight members answered roll call. In the absence of President Maude Comins, Vice President Mrs. Elizabeth Otis presided. It was announced that Mrs. Maude Lincoln will give a series of readings the coming year. Mrs. Emery gave an interesting account of Noel Coward as a play writer. Mrs. Edith Bird read a review of Coward's play, "Tonight at 8.30" by James Thurber. The play "Hands Across the Sea," by Coward, was presented by the following cast: Mesdames Blaney, Lawrence, Otis, Wiggins, Frost, Derry, Fales, Stevens and Emery. The amusing play "Ways and Means" by Coward was read by Mrs. Blaney. The meeting of Dec. 27, to have been held at the home of Mrs. William Ellingwood, will be held with Mrs. Helena Fales.

Boys' Club Formed

"Crusaders of The Cross" Chose Lieut. Wright As Their First President

The "Crusaders of The Cross" the boys' club of the Salvation Army had election of officers at their weekly meeting Friday night. Those elected were: President Lieut. Charles H. Wright, vice-president James York, secretary Harry M. Bowness; treasurer, Charles Nystrom; Chaplin, Viri Alley, Door Guard, Donald Moody. Four committees were appointed: Refreshments, Viri Alley, Herbert Hillgrove and Judson Rector; Recreation, William Staples, Lyford Conary, and Ernest Nystrom; Recruiting, James York, Alton Drinkwater and Harley Simmons; Project, Charles Nystrom, Woodrow Cayton and Donald Moody; Executive, President Charles H. Wright, Secretary Harry Bowness, treasurer Charles Nystrom, William Staples and James York.

The club has a membership of 20 boys. Any boy not associated with any church is invited to join the Boy's Club, the ages for membership being from 12-25. The club has been formed to give boys who have nothing to do something to take up that wasted time. Projects which are features of the club now are—Woodcraft class, Chemistry and Radio classes. It is expected to have a leather-craft class, starting January. Secretary Harry M. Bowness has charge of all the wood-craft activities.

Any boy wishing to become a member of this club should get in touch with Lieut. Charles Wright of the local Salvation Army. Joining this club does not mean that the boy must become a Salvationist. The program is of a characterization nature. Those having tools or games that they would like to contribute to the club may contact Lieut. Wright and he will appreciate very much any help received this way.

Graduates Tonight

Olive Jameson To Receive Diploma From Household Nursing Association

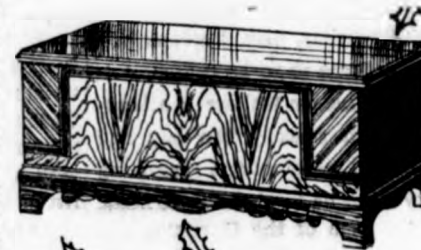

Miss Olive Jameson, daughter of Mrs. Mary Jameson, 142 Camden street, receives her diploma from the Household Nursing Association

Training School for Attendant Nurses at their annual graduation exercises to be held in the Copley Methodist Church, Boston tonight. Fifty-nine graduates, with their relatives and friends, listened to the commencement speaker, Dr. Francis J. Callanan, Boston physician, and member of the school's advisory board of physicians. Mrs. Charles A. Newhall, president of the organization, and Miss Katharine Shepard, bureau on cases requiring her supervision, also spoke briefly to the attendant nurses before the diplomas were presented. Miss Jameson has successfully completed a six weeks' course in household management, budgeting, dietetics, and a year's training in bedside nursing at one of the school's affiliated hospitals. She is prepared to care for mildly ill and convalescent patients in the home, and will be sent out from the school's placement bureau on cases requiring her services.

MAKING A FINE SHOWING

State Will Not Borrow For First Time In Years —Politics In General

According to the financial officers of the State government the State this year will have to negotiate no temporary loan in anticipation of taxes. This is the first time in many years that it has not been necessary to do this and the fact that the treasury is in such a condition that it will not have to be done, can be put down to the credit of the Barrows administration.

Take this fact and the fact that the money was provided for the old age pensions and school stabilization without extra taxation, except an increase on the price of liquor, and it will have to be admitted that the present fall has been one of accomplishment by the present administration. I do not know how long it has been since the making of this loan was not necessary, but it has been done for a long while. The temporary loan must be paid before end of the year and is made to meet the expenses of the State while the taxes are coming in. Some times of course the taxes come in more easily than at other times and upon the length of time it takes to collect them, the amount and term of the loan depend.

Until 1934 the Constitution limited this loan to $300,000. As the State's expenses grew, the amount of the loan specified by the Constitution proved inadequate for needs of the State and for that reason an amendment was submitted increasing the limit of the loan from $800,000 to $2,000,000.

This was ratified by the people and became a part of the Constitution. It was made effective in 1935 and on Sept. 9 of that year a loan of $2,000,000 was negotiated. This was paid June 4, 1936. On Dec. 10 another loan of $2,000,000 was made and this was due June 4, 1937. In 1936 a temporary loan of $1,000,000 was made but this was in anticipation of a bond issue which was soon forthcoming. This loan was paid on Oct. 18, 1936, when the bonds were sold. From August, 1932 until including Nov. 15, 1934 temporary loans in the sum of $3,600,000 were negotiated. There were five of these loans, four were for $800,000 each and one made on April 4, 1933 was for $400,000. These of course have all been paid.

The thing of course that has made these loans necessary has been the difficulty in collecting taxes. During the depression years, it was found almost impossible to get these taxes in from many towns, some of them not being able to pay and some of them so it is charged, because they did not want to pay. The situation became so desperate that the Legislature passed a law providing that the State could take over the administration of the affairs of any municipality that neglected to pay its taxes.

At the time this law was passed, it was not anticipated that the State would act under it and take over a town. But, it was thought that the fact the law was on the statute books would induce some of the towns that could pay and wouldn't to meet their obligations. It worked that way and some towns that had before been lax did pay up. This law was subsequently amended to provide for the State taking over bankrupt towns that couldn't meet any of their bills. Three towns have been taken over in this manner and there may be others, but the law as amended is altogether a different proposition from the original law which was intended to merely enforce the collection of taxes.

When the two million dollar limit was made, it was felt by some of the financial officers of the State that the amount was not enough and that subsequently it would have to be increased. That may prove to be true, but that no loan will be necessary this year doesn't indicate it. The two factors that have made it unnecessary to negotiate a loan this year are that taxes are coming in that much better than they have for years and the co-operation of the different State departments in cutting down their current expenses. Of course the loan need not be made it will be a saving of money to the State, for it will make unnecessary the payment of interest on such a loan.

The Highway Commission
If there should come a vacancy in the State Highway Commission within a short time, as by some there is expected there will be, it will not need to be said that there will be plenty of candidates for the place. The Governor will be likely to appoint someone from the southern part of the State to fill the vacancy. Among the candidates that have been suggested are George C. Lord of Wells, a former member of the Governor's Council; John E. Abbott of South Berwick, a former member of the Senate; Lewis E. Flanders of Auburn of the present House and Arthur R. Greenleaf of Boothbay Harbor, sheriff and member of the State Committee from Lincoln County. Any one of the foregoing would be satisfactory and competent. Of course there isn't much ground for guessing at this time as there is no vacancy as yet and the Governor is probably right when he says that he hasn't much idea whom he will appoint in case that there should be one.

Sales of Liquor

The sales of liquor in the State have been dropping steadily in some cities since the beginning of the fiscal year on July 1, 1937. From that time up to Dec. 4 sales in Lewiston have fallen off about $13,000. The drop in Augusta in that period has been about $5,000. Bangor in that time has lost less than $1,000. In Bar Harbor the falling off was about $5,000. In Madison, the sales fell off almost one-half. There are a few other towns where the State has lost business but others have gained. The total for all the stores for the period named was $2,473,301, for last year and $2,825,064 for this year showing a total gain of less than $400,000.

The loss has not been attributed to the tax as perhaps might be thought, but to the fact that in most of the towns if not all of them, where sales have fallen off, industries have shut down. That is, consumers are not spending so much money for rum because they haven't so much to spend.

Gov. Barrows Going Away

Next Thursday, Gov. Barrows will leave the State to go to Tucson, Arizona where his son Wallace, is attending a ranch school. The boy had been ill but he has been recovering rapidly since he has been in Arizona. It is the plan of the Governor and his wife to spend Christmas with their son. The Governor will go and return by rail and expects to leave Arizona for Maine, Dec. 29.

Smith for Governor

Representative Clyde H. Smith writes to remind the writer that he plans to be a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor in 1940, stating that he is the only announced candidate for the nomination. Now that I am reminded of it by Mr. Smith, I recall that he did make it known that he was going to try for nomination after Gov. Barrows, if he is re-elected, has completed his two terms. So far as I know now, those who are planning to seek the nomination are William S. Linnell of this city; Max L. Pinnansky of this city; Senator Roy L. Fernald of Winterport in case he is not nominated in 1938; former Senator Blin W. Page of Skowhegan, and Mr. Smith.

Senator Fernald ended all the guessing about whether he will run for the Republican nomination for Governor in 1938 by taking out his nomination papers from the Secretary of State's office. The Senator had informed many of his acquaintances of his intentions last week and his taking out papers closes the deal. Last Thursday came the announcement from Ralph L. Morse of Belfast that he will be a candidate for the State Senate seat now held by Mr. Fernald—Fred K. Owen in the Sunday Telegram.

SNOW BIRD

(For The Courier-Gazette)
When the leaves are off the trees,
And gone is summer's gentle breeze
When snowflakes soft begin to fall,
And lay their feathery down o'er all;
Winging his way back to this land—
A natural winter wonderland,
We'll hear the snow bird's cheery song,
As he gaily hops along.

And if we listen, we shall hear
His chirruping words, so shrill and clear,
And plain as this, his trill will say,
"Hurray! For winter's here to stay."
"Children, children! Come and play,
For the snow is fine today;
But when Spring's warm days have come,
You'll know my winter's songs are done."

GORHAM NORMAL by Agnes Bickford

The Art Club of Gorham Normal School plans to hold a Christmas party Dec. 21. The following committees have been chosen: Refreshments, Catherine Chisholm of Rockland; Janet Sherburne of Bangor; Pearl McEachern of Greenville; entertainment, John Brush of South Portland; Patricia Brown of Robbinston; decorations, Eugene Pernaue of Rhode Island; Gordon Parritt of Bar Harbor and Therese Langevin of Rumbold.

The annual Christmas tea of the Poetry Club was held Wednesday. Decorations were in green and silver. Miss Rose Flanagan of Rockland served on the refreshment committee. Other members of the committee were: Helen Allen, Windham; Pauly Metcalf, Augusta and Jean Brown, Cape Elizabeth.

The Poetry Club is sending for the fourth year, Christmas boxes to needy rural school in Maine. The names of the schools are sent to the club by Miss Abbie Buck of Augusta, State director of health education. Miss Evelyn Knight of Camden is serving on the candy box committee assisted by Miss Ruth Longfellow of Hallowell and Miss Isabel Page of Gorham.

SAUSAGE AND APPLES

But Perhaps You Are Already Familiar With This Recipe

Cut six pared apples each into eight pieces, sprinkle with sugar and add a little cinnamon and let stand for a few hours. At the same time put some cleaned dried currants into lukewarm water and let them soak on top of the stove.

Melt a good sized piece of butter in the pan, together with three tablespoons of warm water, put in 1/4 lb. of country link sausages, lay the apples around and the currants and a little lemon peel over them, cover and fry slowly. As soon as the apples are soft underneath turn them, and take out those that are done to prevent them from dropping to pieces. As soon as the sausages are fried, serve them garnished with the apples.

NEW CROP INSURANCE

Sulphur dusting of cotton fields, costing from $2 to $4 an acre for a season, has provided a check on the depredations of the cotton flea hopper, the Freeport Sulphur Company announces. The resulting better yields have afforded growers net cash gains of $2.06 to $10.44 an acre over untreated fields.

"Your Good Health"

Merits and Demerits of Whiskey Discussed By Eminent Authorities

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—An article published in a California newspaper on Nov. 8, 1937, was recently received by me with a request that I reply to it. The article is headed "Your Good Health"—"Whiskey excellent as Heart Stimulant." "Also good for Frost Bite and Stings." Claud North Chrisman, M. D.

In this article he gives 27 uses for whiskey in as many diseases. If Dr. Chrisman believes all he has written and succeeds in making other people believe it, the whiskey business will be boosted by leaps and bounds. Also if he believes all this it reminds me of the words of a very eminent physician, Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur of California, who said: "There are to be found occasionally physicians who cling to ancient traditions concerning alcohol as a medicine so tenaciously that they accept the recent verdict of science and medicine in the same way that a cat is drawn across a carpet by the tail, viz. Slowly and with plenty of noise."

Sir Alfred Salter, eminent London physician says: "The physician who in this day and age, encourages the use of alcoholic beverages as a medicine, advertises himself as an antediluvian."

The whiskey business in the United States is largely in the hands of seven great concerns: "National Distillers, Seagrams, Schenley, Hiram Walker, Glenmore, Frankfort and Continental." The Beverage Alcohol business spent $25,000,000 in 1936 for advertising. I am not suggesting that the article praising whiskey was paid for, but I do know that when "War Time Prohibition" was declared, and the Government took over the books of the traffic, there were found receipts for fabulous sums of money, that had been paid to writers, who would advocate the necessity of alcoholic drinks in case of sickness.

In fact, it was the first cry of the "Repealists" at the special session of the Maine Legislature in 1934, for the express purpose of legalizing liquor in Maine as a medicine. It was asked again and again, "What would the people of Maine do if an epidemic should come?" The reply "The citizens of Maine have lived without free liquor for 85 years and nobody has died for lack of the poison." Also at that special session, a bill permitting drug stores to sell liquor on physicians' prescriptions met smashing defeat. This result was hastened undoubtedly, when the "Executive Council of the Maine Medical Association" adopted a resolution that Maine physicians refuse to write prescriptions for liquor in any form.

In 1917 the American Medical Association passed the following resolution which has never been rescinded. Whereas: We believe that the use of alcohol as a beverage, is detrimental to the human economy, and Whereas: its use in therapeutics as a tonic or stimulant or as a food, has no scientific basis, therefore be it resolved, that the "American Medical Association" opposes the use of Alcohol as a beverage, and be it further Resolved that the use of alcohol, as a therapeutic agent should be discouraged.

Dr. Howard Kelly, eminent surgeon of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore says: "If the army of drunkards, which has been made by physicians' prescriptions could be marched to the next meeting of the American Medical Association the question would be settled forever."

Dr. Kelley also says: "There is no disease in the world for which Alcohol is a cure." "The past generation that so freely prescribed whiskey, had another practice, that of bleeding the patient, which has now been abandoned. The reverse operation, blood transfusion, has taken its place. That generation put whiskey into the patient and took blood out of him. Modern practice takes the whiskey out of him and puts blood into him."

Sir Victor Horsley, eminent English physician and surgeon says: "In reality we have no proof that a minimum and permissible dose of alcohol exists."

Philip N. Lovell, M. D., says: "We have no place inside the body for alcohol in any form, whether we call it beer or wine or the gin-fizz cocktail of Tia Juana."

Dr. Richard Cabot of Harvard Medical School says: "Alcohol is always a narcotic, never a stimulant, and therefore, has none of the uses ordinarily attributed to it. The supposed value of alcohol has been exploded long ago. In our best hospitals—such as Massachusetts General—it is almost obsolete."

One of the statements of Dr. Chrisman was that "the professional man uses whiskey more often for children and old people. I know of a case where a nurse fed whiskey to a baby boy the first few weeks of his life—he died before he was 30 years old of Delirium Tremens."

THE RADIO OF TODAY

Gone the Day of the Old Loud Speaker—Handsome Cabinets Now

The fine cabinet making evident among the new radios makes a modern set a focal point of beauty of the room, in the opinion of Parker Worrey of Rockland, local Stromberg-Carlson dealer. "Radios have come a long way," he said, "since the early days when a receiver was a complicated mass of controls topped by an awkward looking loudspeaker horn. In today's living rooms the stunning desk against the wall, the mirror-topped coffee-table smartly placed before the davenport or the half-round end table beside the armchair may be one of the new Stromberg-Carlson decorators' models. Modern in line and serving extra uses, they conceal the identity of the radio to give the appearance of a luxurious furniture piece."

"Conventional consoles and horizontal sets designed exclusively for Stromberg-Carlson follow the current styles, in fact have set many of them, yet always retain the authentic furniture influence which makes them blend well with established modes of interior decoration."

"Skilled, care-taking craftsmanship goes into the construction of these cabinets. They are built of heavy panel material, providing for solid mechanical assembly and correct acoustical design. Rare woods—crotch, burl and striped walnuts and East Indian or Brazilian rosewoods—are exquisitely matched to produce gorgeous grain effects. Surfaces are hand-rubbed to bring out their full beauty; to create perfection of cabinet finish."

"Stromberg-Carlson designers were given more leeway for artistic design with the invention of the Labyrinth, which makes it possible to have a cabinet of any shape large enough to hold the Labyrinth. Previously the cabinet shape was inelastic because of acoustic difficulties that the Labyrinth solved—adv."

VEST POCKET BATTLESHIP

U.S.S. Somers, Recently Tried Here, Is Capable of 37 1/2 Knots Speed

The U.S.S. Somers, an 1850-ton destroyer characterized by Navy men as a "vest-pocket battleship" and recently tried on the Rockland course, has been placed in commission at the New York Navy Yard. The destroyer, 381 feet long and with a thirty-seven-foot beam, is somewhat narrower than previous vessels in the class, but is more compactly built and heavier. The Somers was built by the Federal Shipbuilding and Drydock Company in Kearny, N. J. It is the first destroyer to carry eight five-inch guns. (Previous destroyers carried only six guns of this type. It is capable of a speed of 37 1/2 knots.
