THE LIVE YANKEE

Clipper Ship Built In Rockland
Founded in 1861, With Loss of Seven

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

In a book entitled "The Making of a Sailor," there is a picture of the clipper ship, "Live Yankee," 1637 tons built in 1853 at Rockland.

Showing the ship off Cape Horn, 1854, she is full and by carrying two jibs, fore and main courses, fore, main and mizzen tops'ls and the sea is going clean over her forward. It is claimed that on her first voyage to San Francisco she logged 18 knots and in one day made 327 miles.

Capt. E. A. Thorndike was in command. She was lost in 1861;
first mate and six men drowned.

THE DAYS WERE HOT

But They Only Seemed To Add Zest To Rock- port's Big Show

Surely Rockport stands in well with the weather man for never could there be more perfect weather than was enjoyed during the four days of the Regatta-Sportsmen's Show which came to a close at midnight Saturday. It may be that the shooting of an arrow toward the sky which was done each afternoon and evening by Chief
"Needahbeh" for good luck, according to Indian custom had something to do with it, but it is believed that the weather-man appreciated the hard work done by the many citizens in this locality in preparation for the event and wished to co-operate to the utmost. Anyway he did an excellent job and the 13th annual Rockport Regatta-Sportsmen's Show will go on record as a grand success, regardless of the superstitious "13."

The closing night was Governor's Night with Governor Lewis O.
Barrows and his staff present as special guests. One of the largest crowds, if not the largest, in the carnival's history was on hand to greet the State's Chief Executive.
Seated on the platform with Governor Barrows and staff were First Selectman Arthur K. Walker, E.
Stewart Orbeton, Frank Priest, L.
True Spear, Sr., Maynard Ingraham, representing the town, Lloyd Rhodes, general chairman of last year's carnival, Milford Payson, member of carnival committee,
George Cumming, Supt. of Schools,
Roland Crockett and Leland Hawkins, School committee, Principal George Cunningham, Crosby Hobbs
of Camden.

Principal Cunningham introduced
Gov. Barrows, who in a brief speech, expressed his pleasure in being present and complimented the citizens on the successful staging of such a big event, the commendable cause for which it was staged, the continued growth year after year, and expressed the hope that next year's carnival may be even larger and broader in its educational values. He received a hearty encore at the close of his remarks.

Other features of the evening's program were band concert under the direction of Clarence Fish, canoe racing and log rolling, by four members of the famous Penobscot Indian Tribe, novelty swimming and diving acts by "The Four Flying La Waters," tub tilting races, and the Guide's Hour with "Chief Needahbeh," Master of Ceremonies.
This included exhibitions of archery, log sawing, bait and fly casting, wood chopping and canoe tilting.

The grand award drawing took place at 11 p. m. with Mrs. James Tolman of Rockville receiving the $2000 cottage and lot at Wildwood.
Dr. Harold Jameson of Camden was in charge of making this award assisted by Hervey Allen of Camden, Albert Rhodes Hope Paulsen of Thomaston and Miss Marion Upham. On the announcement of the winner, Mrs. Tolman was called upon for remarks. She ascended the platform and with voice a-qui-ver from excitement stated something of her plans regarding the cottage, which were necessarily hastily made as she had entertained no previous hopes of winning it. Cheers were given her on her good fortune.

Saturday afternoon a sail boat race of the HAJ boats of the Camden Yacht Club was held also an open handicap sailing race. Conditions were unfavorable but the sight in the harbor as the boats made their start was one of beauty.
In the former race, Clifford Smith came in first, time 1 hr. 29 min. 53
sec. Others participating and the order of finishing.

Members of the Class of 1906 Attacked Menu At Rockledge Inn

The class of 1906 R.H.S. held a jolly reunion Friday night at Rockledge Inn, Spruce Head, where they enjoyed one of Mrs. Maker's famous shore dinners. Owing to the absence of the president, Bill Sullivan acted as master of ceremonies.
Someone chanced to remark about his having come to glasses and
"Smiling" Bill promptly replied:
"Oh, I don't wear them all of the time—only when I'm working." By the looks of his plate one would not deny he needed them then if he ever did.

By mutual agreement the "gents"
doiled coats and vests, the better to master denizens of the deep. A few malicious remarks were heard around the table such as, "I'll eat your back," but on consulting Dr.
Green, it was decided they were harmless threats. While they were still sighing from overloaded "tummies" a huge box of assorted candy and nuts appeared sent by Mrs.
Cora Johnson Harraden of Schenectady, N. Y., along with regrets at not being able to join her classmates. On a card bearing her name, address and trade mark "Ye Copper Kettle Candies," were these words:

"Made in my kitchen so sunny and bright,
Made in a way I hope will delight,
Are these candies I offer to you."

Needless to say they were much enjoyed and her thoughtfulness much appreciated.

A real catastrophe occurred when one lengthy zipper went on a rampage and only by the skillful treatment rendered by the Doctor's wife was it returned to normal condition much to the relief of the owner.

There was so much reminiscing of happy events back in the good old school days that it was decided best to omit a program.
Thanks were extended to the committee which worked so faithfully to make the reunion a success. It was voted to hold the next reunion on the first Friday in August, 1939 and the following committee was chosen: Harold Look, Grace Veazie and Katherine Keating. The meeting closed with the singing of the Class Ode, led by Raye Greene who was the composer.

Those present from the class
were: Bill Sullivan, Mary Rankin Ladd, Annette Ames Keighley,
Grace Emery Veazie, Ida Gilchrist,
Katherine Keating, Bessie Broadon
Church, Raymond Greene, Bertha
Philbrick Strong, Frank Butler,
Mattie Blackington Gardner, Win-
dell Clark Karl, Archie Green, Alice Wardwell Karl, Donald Karl,
Heien Bicknell Palmer, Osmond
Palmer, Harold Look.

Annexed members were: Walter
Ladd, Alfred Church, Eva Emery
Greene, Leo Strong, John Gardner,
Harold Karl and Mrs. Archie Green.

Letters of regret were received from: Maurice Hill, Perry Rich, Grace Higgins Fernald, Jesse
Rosenberg, Earle Marshall, Linda
Huntley Hanners, Helen Smith
Clark, George Smith, Everett Davis.

The Missing Lady

Near Tragedy At The Court House Averted In Unex- pected Way

"Before you go home for the night be sure and lock up Lady," said Earl.

"O.K.," said Bob.

But when Bob was ready to turn the key yesterday afternoon there was no Lady to be seen. He searched the Court House from basement to dome, but no Lady could be found. Then he went out onto the lawn, thinking that Lady was indulging in her favorite of chasing a thrown missile. Still no Lady.

Knowing the high value placed by the Sheriff upon the Doberman, Bob Webster, charge d' affaires became justly alarmed.

He notified the household, he notified the local police and he notified the State Police, then after three hours of heart-breaking anxiety he telephoned to St. George whither the Sheriff had gone on business.

"Lady's lost," he exclaimed over the phone, his voice shaking with emotion.

"Lost, my eye," replied the sheriff; "she's down here with me."

Telephone officials were summoned to the Court House to repair the damage which Bob's comment
did to the transmitter.

Everybody's Hoping

That Perley Bartlett Wins National Meet — He's Westward Bound

Followed by the best wishes of every Rockland citizen, Perley A.
Bartlett, soap-box derby champion,
left this morning for Akron, Ohio,
where he will represent Southern Maine in the national finals of the All American Derby next Sunday.

He will be accompanied to Ohio by a representative of the Gannett Publishing Company, Inc. Before his departure he was thoroughly outfitted by loved admirers. He is a son of Perley N. Bartlett of 25 Maverick street, clerk for J. A. Jameson Co.

The framework of Perley's car is almost entirely of oak where lies the weight so vitally important in its fine performance. A series of wood lathes, designed to eliminate resistance provides a base for the cloth covering on the neat little black and white speedster The cockpit of the car is of his own design, built long and narrow, allowing the wiry little pilot to lean well forward with only his head protruding, further cutting the resistance.

The steering system is composed of a series of four pulleys so arranged that control of the car is maintained easily with a small wheel. The body of the car floats on discarded bendix springs and the buggy is equipped with drag brakes faced with a section of a discarded rubber tire.

Special attention was given the wheels and axles which were the major expense. The bearings were carefully worked in and special holes drilled in the axles to permit the use of a smaller cotter pin and giving a much closer fit.

"Serious Emergency"

Leads Washburn To Call Meeting of Blueberry Growers and Canners

Efforts to bring about close cooperation among blueberry men and State and Federal bureaus to prevent a disastrous season will be made at a mass meeting of blueberry growers and canners to be held at Harrington town Hall, Tuesday evening, according to Commissioner of Agriculture Frank P.
Washburn. He said that the meeting had been called as the result of a serious emergency which he and leaders of the industry believe exists.

A plan for selling last year's surplus of canned stock and disposing of this season's fresh and canned output at better prices will be presented. Although the meeting is primarily for growers Washburn said that shippers and canners were also invited.

He said that he believed some steps must be taken immediately to combat a bad situation. Due to a stagnant market, a big surplus of canned stock, and unstable conditions in general "the present outlook is none too promising."

A definite plan of action backed up by close co-operation among all

FLYING SQUADRON TO SAVE CHEST

Special Volunteer Workers Will Make Post Campaign Drive—Must Make $7000 Total

A flying squadron of earnest workers for Community Chest are abroad
this morning in a post campaign drive to bring the total to the irreducible minimum set at $7000.
Below this figure the fine charitable agencies comprising the Chest cannot function. This special volunteer group is canvassing special new prospects, comparing Main street pledges amounted to $5,246.45.

Many known contributions have not yet arrived and there are many individuals and firms already offering additional contributions. General Chairman Thurston is confident that the goal will be reached through this post campaign effort.
Several volunteered for the special effort, working with Arthur P.
Lamb as chairman. Speakers included Mayor Veazie, Cleveland
Sieper, Jr., F. W. Fuller, Mr. Lamb,
Mrs. J. N. Southard, John M. Richardson and Campaign Director Nicol. W. O. Fuller, honorary chairman, was at the head table and received a rousing welcome.

Mr. Nicol in his remarks, spoke warmly of the fine treatment he has received here, expressed the hope to return another year. He made the valuable suggestion that the 1939 campaign be deferred until September when business men and householders were less busily employed and the weather cooler.
August could then be devoted to initial gifts. Mr. Nicol was given a heart warming ovation as a testimony of the workers' affection. This is the second time he has given two weeks of his vacation time to Rockland's Community Chest, and he plans to return for a day next week to aid the mopping process.

Mrs. Mary Southard's women's division forged ahead of last year's total in grand style, five of the seven teams exceeding the 1937 mark.

Last night's excellent supper was presented by the patriotic orders, Edwin Libby Relief Corps, Ruth Mayhew Tent, Anderson Camp and

An Aero Rendezvous

All Kinds of Sky Stunts At the Augusta Mead, Aug. 19, 20 and 21

Reports from Headquarters of the Maine Aero Rendezvous in Augusta indicate that the tremendous demand for tickets for the 1938 Rendezvous which will be held at the Augusta State Airport Aug. 19, 20 and 21, assures the Rendezvous of exceeding the 67,000 attendance of last year which made the Rendezvous the third largest aviation event in the country.

Irvin Davis of Detroit has been secured to make bat-wing flights and a delayed parachute jump from 10,000 feet on each day of the big show. With wings attached to his body similar to the wings of a bat this man jumps from a plane and flies around in the air doing all kinds of maneuvers. This act has never been seen in the East and is most sensational in aviation today.

Emil Lehecka, North American Gliding Champion, will give a performance of glider aerobatics on each day of the show. He nearly stole the show last year with his wonderful performance and thousands will be glad to welcome him back to the Rendezvous.

The Balbridge Balloon Company of New York in a balloon ascension with double and triple parachute jumps will also add a picturesque touch to the entire program as well as providing plenty of thrills.

Clarence McArthur of Charlotte, N. C., with his 1910 Lincoln Beachey Pusher plane will show the kind of contraption man used to fly in. This will greatly excite the younger generation as well as arouse the memories of those who remember that far back.

Vincent "Squeek" Burnett, newest sensation in aerobatic flying and probably winner of this year's International Aerobatics Championship will stage one of the most thrilling and breath-taking acts ever attempted and which will include everything which has ever been done in a plane and some things which haven't until he performed them. He is a positive sensation.

These are only a few of the headlines and space will not permit the listing of all of the many remarkable performances which will take place at the Rendezvous at the Augusta State Airport Aug. 19, 20 and 21, but all information available points to one of the greatest shows in the history of aviation.

Future Home of Colby College Had 2000 Visitors Sunday

The number of visitors to the new model of Colby's future college campus on Mayflower Hill went over the 2000 mark Sunday, according to Cecil M. Daggett Jr., Colby 1938, who has been appointed official guide. He stated that residents of 18 different states have already registered this summer.

Visitors, he said, appear equally interested in the actual site of the new college and the preliminary developments which have been made, and the model itself, which is housed in Mayflower Cottage situated near the center of the 600-acre campus on the outskirts of Waterville.

The model shows all of the future buildings and landscape features rendered in perfect detail at a scale of about 1-400 actual size. In addition, there is a larger scale model of the Physics Building, electrically lighted, showing the interior arrangements and architectural details.

Both models are open for visitors daily, except Mondays, from 9:30 to noon, and from 1:30 until dusk. The new Colby Campus is reached by a direct route from Post Office Square in the center of Waterville, taking Center Street and continuing due west.

Portland Writer Scans the Gubernatorial Field For Two Years Hence

Except for Congressman Clyde H. Smith of Skowhegan, no individual as far as I have learned has made formal statement that he would seek the Governorship two years from now. Mr. Smith has said that he would be a candidate for the nomination in 1940 and has made his intentions plain on several other occasions.

In case Congressman Smith carries out his intention of contesting the Governor nomination with others who have similar aspirations, I have been told that former Senator Blin W. Page of the same town would enter the field against him. Mr. Page was a candidate for the nomination two years ago against Gov. Barrows and polled 51,038 votes to 70,413 for the present Governor. The Skowhegan man had a strong support throughout the State and the vote he received would entitle him to try again should he choose to do so. Little has been heard from Mr. Page in a political way since the 1936 primaries, but he is one of the big business men in his part of the State and would command much support should he seriously run for the Governor nomination again. But Mr. Smith will run and it is possible that Mr. Page will not.

Another man who is certain to be a candidate is former Councilor William S. Linnell of Portland. Mr. Linnell has long had ambitions to be Governor but until now he has not felt that his personal affairs would permit him to enter the field. He is free now of all such considerations and is going to run.

Since his retirement from the Council, of which he was a member for two terms, Mr. Linnell has continued his interest in Republican politics, having served on the State committee and after the death of the late Daniel Field, having been elected a member of the national committee, upon which he is now serving. The fact that he has continued his interest in politics and kept up his connections will make him a strong candidate before the primaries.

In addition to Mr. Linnell there are two other Cumberland County possibilities for the nomination. They are former Senator Max L. Pinansky and Attorney General Franz U. Burkett. Mr. Pinansky has stated on several occasions that he plans to be a candidate for this nomination, and I suppose will enter the field. Mr. Burkett, no doubt, is thinking it over. Last time I heard him say anything the matter was when he made the remark that he didn't know whether he would run or not. I presume that he is still in that frame of mind.

The friends in York County of Col. William N. Campbell feel quite sure that the Sanford manufacturer will be one of those to try for the nomination. Col. Campbell is very much interested in public affairs and has a very wide circle of acquaintances throughout the State.

Another Republican who is talked of very strongly as a Governor possibility is Mayor Frederick Payne of Augusta. He has been a most successful mayor and will of course command much support in that city and in the rest of the county. He will also have a lot of friends in Androscoggin county where he formerly lived who will be ready to support him for the nomination.

Some weeks ago a report reached Portland from Augusta that Frank E. Southard, chairman of the Public Utilities Board would be urged by his friends to become a candidate for the nomination for Governor. I have heard much skepticism expressed that for the present at least, Mr. Southard would consider giving up his present position which is one of the highest and most responsible under the State government, to take a chance in running for Governor against a field of half a dozen candidates, such as there may be.

It is, of course, assumed that Representative Brewster will be a candidate for United States senator to succeed Senator Hale who has announced that he will retire in 1940. If the Dexter man does run for Senator several candidates for representatives will pop up. Gov. Barrows, should be elected next September, has been suggested as a possible rival to Mr. Brewster for the Senatorial nomination. But if the Governor does not run for Senator he might try for the representative nomination to succeed Mr. Brewster. So far as I know, he is the only Penobscot Republican now considered as a possibility.—Fred K. Owen in the Sunday Telegram

Thomaston Wins Two and Is a "New" Team—
St. George Adds One

This Week's Games

Tonight—Thomaston at Rockland.
Wednesday night—Waldoboro at Rockland; St. George at Camden.

Thursday night—Camden at Waldoboro; Thomaston at St. George.

Friday night—Rockland at St. George; Camden at Thomaston.

Saturday—No games.

Thomaston defeated Waldoboro 3 to 4 on the Waldoboro grounds Sunday afternoon.

St. George 7, Rockland 4

Freddie LaCroc encountered the St. George team in a batting mood at Community Park Sunday afternoon, and yielded three singles and four doubles before he got the nod from Manager Winchenbach. The game was lost by this time, but with Gross on the mound the Pirates continued to make a plucky stand, and St. George scored but one more run while Rockland was making four.

Only four hits were made off Gross, one of them being Maurice Simmons' double which counted for naught, thanks to the double play by McBride and Pendleton, both of whom had been making a fine showing throughout the game. McBride's shoestring catch and his three hits made him the day's top-notch. Pendleton played first sack like a professional, accepting all of his 16 chances.

Busy infielders were I. Simmons, M. Simmons and Gatti, all of whom gave a good account of themselves.

Thomaston 3, Camden 1

The Green Eyed Monsters, otherwise known as the Jealousies, but still perhaps better known as the Thomaston team, certainly redeemed themselves in last night's game in Camden, which will go down in Twilight League history as one of the season's snappiest contests. Every man from the Home of Knox was right on his toes and every supporter of that team was justly proud of it.

Viewed from the Camden angle there were costly errors behind Boynton, who held all but two of the Thomaston players hitless, and who deserved a better fate. Aside from those errors Camden was also playing a classy game.

The contest went seven innings, by agreement, and in the opinion of the Sports Editor this plan should be followed the remainder of the season because of the rapidly shortening days. No sense in finishing a good game in darkness, or having those constant bickerings as to whether it is too dark to play.

The Shells were first to score last night, making their one run in the second inning. After that, thanks to Condon's good work, and the splendid support accorded by his team-mates, it was all Thomaston.

Miller was the individual star of the game, one of his brilliant plays being a one-hand catch of a liner, jumping high from the ground in order to make it.

Plastered, playing better than ever this season, accepted seven chances at the keystone sack.

Vinal Haven Chiefs Show Tournament Outfit a Few Things

The Vinal Haven Chiefs after being idle for three weeks, took on the Beals Furniture team of Portland, trimming them by the lopsided score of 12 to 0.

The long layoff evidently did not dull the Chiefs' batting eyes as they drove Ripley from the mound in less than two innings, piling up an eight run lead. The feature of the attack were long triples by Lyford and Baum.

Phil Brown, the Chiefs' ace southpaw, continued his phenomenal pitching, chalking up his fifth straight shutout. Brown held the visitors to two hits, one of them of the scratch variety, and no one was able to reach second. Only five reached first, one being erased on a double-play, and another pegged out; at second, the Beals having just three men left on base.

The Chiefs played errorless ball behind Brown, nice plays being made by Swanson, Baum, Erickson and White.

The Livermore Falls Barkers play at Vinal Haven Sunday.

Legal Notices

NOTICE OF FORECLOSURE
WHEREAS, Carlo Jones of Rockland, County of Knox and State of Maine, by her mortgage deed dated February 11, 1936, recorded in the Knox Registry of Deeds, Book No. 241, Page 269, conveyed to the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, a corporation duly established under the laws of the United States of America, having its office and principal place of business in Washington, District of Columbia, the following described real estate situated in Rockland, in said County of Knox and State of Maine:

"Situate at the northwest corner of Main and Middle Streets and known as the homestead of the late Iddo K. Kimball, per plan of J. R. Malcolm surveyed May 19, 1874, which lot of land is bounded as follows: Easterly by Main Street, southerly by Middle Street, westerly by land of Mrs. Jennie Bird, widow of the late Hanson G. Bird; northerly by land which was formerly the home of the late Dr. Addison R. Smith, but now owned by the Order of Elks as their home, together with the buildings thereon. Being the same premises conveyed to this mortgagee by deed of Haynes Wheeler, Guardian of Manchester H. Wheeler of Augusta, August 30, 1920, recorded Book 187, Page 85."

WHEREAS, the condition of said Mortgage is broken;
Now, therefore, by reason of the breach of the condition thereof, the said Home Owners' Loan Corporation, by Elsha W. Pike, its attorney thereunto duly authorized by its power of attorney dated October 1, 1936, and recorded in the Knox County Registry of Deeds, Book 249, Page 213, claims a foreclosure of said mortgage, and gives this notice for that purpose.

It is this twenty-third day of July, A. D. 1938.

Wooster Was Shaded

So Thought Bath Writer Who Called It a Draw Till the Ninth

The Sports Editor of the Bath Times had this to say about the Carleton-Wooster bout in Augusta:

"Johnny Carleton, Augusta's boxing barrister, outpointed Butch Wooster of Rockland, in their 10-round feature bout at Augusta City Hall, last evening. Or so it seemed to this writer from his berth in 'press row.' Your correspondent had the scrap tagged all even as the boys came out for the ninth but, Johnny displayed surprising stamina to take those last two heats. As expected, it was a smart left hand that carried the former Wisconsin boy through.

"They announced Carleton at 192½ and Wooster 190. The real picture was Carleton 214 and Wooster 183. Approximately 900 fans viewed the show, 50 or so of this number being from Bath. Just before the main bout went on they introduced 'Larrupin' Lou Cooper, the Bath Iron Works welder, as Maine's current heavyweight champ, and Lou drew down a tremendous ovation from the Capital City crowd which haven't forgotten how effectively he polished off their favorite son, Batting Joe Burney, giant colored boy, a few months ago.

"If I beat Wooster, I'd like a shot at Cooper, preferably in Bath," Carleton informed the writer, when your correspondent dropped into Johnny's dressing quarters before the main event. "Then I'd hang 'em up and go back practicing law," Johnny added.
"It seemed that brother Carleton has been tuning up for this comeback effort over a period of six months. He has come down from 235 to his present 214 pounds. And, the writer was surprised to learn he dropped the most of it serving as a sparring partner for Natie Brown when the latter was training for his fight with Joe Louis.

in last evening's tussle when it appeared the hard punching Rockland lad was going to belt Carleton out. In the fourth, and again in the fifth, he bounced hard right hands off Johnny's chin that sent the ex-champ's mouthpiece flying outside the ropes."

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD

Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Nuts

The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, coarse or rich foods or when you are nervous, hurried or shy your stomach pours out too much acid. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel sour, sick and upset all over.

Doctors say never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes these little black tablets called Bell-sus for indigestion to make the stomach digest food properly, relieve distress in 5 minutes and put you back on your feet. Bell-sus is so quick it is amazing and one 35c package proves it. Ask for Bell-sus for indigestion.

Townsend Club No. 2 will serve supper next Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mitchell of Quebec are guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Tibbets.

Rockland Encampment will meet Wednesday night, and it is important that officers and members attend.

Mary Foster of Owl's Head brought to this office yesterday several varieties of handsome dahlias, including a "Siamese."

Anderson Camp Auxiliary will hold a public beano party at 7.30 Friday night at G.A.R. hall. Mrs. Doris Ames will be chairman.

The American Legion Auxiliary will hold a box lunch picnic Sunday at Spruce Head Island, to which members of the Post and their families are invited. Coffee will be served by the Auxiliary.

The recent statement that nobody appeared before the school board in favor of closing the Highland and Benner Hill schools was not quite correct. Mrs. Sleeper of Cedar street was the only spokesman in favor of such a move.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gatti and son Donald have been spending two weeks at the Lovejoy cottage, Crawford Lake. Mr. Gatti has returned to Williamstown, Conn. Mrs. Gatti and Donald remaining for a longer visit. Guests of Mrs. Gatti for several days are Misses Virginia Snow, Constance Snow and Gail Sharpe.

Chet Taylor of the Knox County Club and Jim Flanagan of the Camden Club split the first and second prizes for professionals in the pro-amateur tournament held in Augusta yesterday with one of the largest fields of the season in play. In the amateur field, Ike Merrill of Camden won low gross and Joe Williams of Augusta second. Barrett Nichols of Bath took the low net and Charles Tyson of Augusta the second net.

Capt. and Mrs. Frank Brown, who have been guests of relatives in this city the past five weeks, left Sunday for their home in Empire, Oregon, accompanied by Mrs. Isabelle Green and daughter, Miss Betty Green, of North Bend, who have meantime been visiting in Rockland and Portland. It was the intention to spend yesterday in Old Orchard. Capt. Brown has been revisiting Rockland after an absence of 40 years. Time had removed many friends of olden days, but Capt. Brown added scores of others to his list and two years hence is coming back to see them again.

A meeting of the optometrists of the Rockland zone of the Maine Association will be held in the offices of Bradford Burgess, chairman, Thursday night at 7.30.

Box luncheon will be taken by those who attend the Field Day exercises of the Eastern Star which are in progress today at Penobscot View Grange hall, Glen Cove. Coffee will be furnished by the committee.

Clinton Fickett has joined the Rockland Navy, adding to its fleet the sloop-rigged sailing boat which he bought from Dick Bird—L. E. McRae has bought the Marconi-rigged boat which the Boston Boat & Engine Co. exhibited at the Rockport Sportsman's Show.

John Chisholm, a patient at the Rutland, Mass., veterans' hospital, is able to be out of doors, and is showing gratifying improvement. It will interest many Knox County readers to know that Lester Vallee, formerly of this city is an attendant at this hospital.

The crossings on Limerock street near the Post Office have remarkably long and heavy granite slabs—most unusual and of real beauty. Who can tell how long they have taken the tread of thousands of citizens to give them this high polish, where were they quarried and how placed? It must have taken great muscular strength to do this work.

Penobscot View Grange will serve supper Thursday at 6.30, all those not solicited to take sweets. The worthy master wishes for another large attendance as at last week's meeting. There is always room for more; all are having a splendid time. All branches of the Grange are doing fine work, socially and financially, and all Grangers are invited to attend the meetings.

Spanish War Veterans and Auxiliary members, having a total strength of 16 members, had a most enjoyable outing at Two Bush Island Sunday as guests of the keeper, Harry Smith. Capt. Smith conveyed the party to and from the mainland and provided a lobster feed which almost staggered the Chickamaugas. A splendid host was Harry.

The business sessions of Canton Lafayette and Auxiliary were held Aug. 3. Mrs. Addie Brown and Florence Havener served refreshments. The president of the Auxiliary, Mrs. Lena Rollins, is planning for a rehearsal and asked that all officers and members be present at the September meeting, to prepare for inspection. There is to be a picnic at the State Park in Camden, Friday, and anyone wishing transportation should call the president.

MEMORIES OF MY MOTHER
The dearest person in all this world. Who strove to do the good. From the time when she was a little girl To her later motherhood. I am her child and she's gone from me. Into another land; But always I'll try to follow her. As when guided by her hand. She labored for her family. To make their life the best; And I know she'll be rewarded In the land of the Heavenly Best. In these last lines I wish to say Although we had to part, The memories of my dearest mother Will remain in my saddened heart. Roger A. Raymond

Fawns Made A Hit
And Walt Disney's Forthcoming Bambi Will Be A Strictly Maine Picture

Maurice Day, of the Walt Disney Studios, in Hollywood, is at Maine's Katahdin region where he will spend several weeks making drawings of the State's flora and fauna for use in Disney's new picture, Bambi.
Day expressed the opinion that, later, a dozen or more of Disney's artists may come here "on location" to work on the picture which will have a Maine background and which will attract the attention of millions to the beauties of this state.

At the State House Friday to confer with officials of the Maine Development Commission and the Inland Fish and Game Commission. Day revealed that the coming picture will cost Disney approximately $1,500,000 and is expected to have an even greater appeal than "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."
He had in his possession the original script of the picture, the work of Sydney Franklin, the noted writer who prepared "The Good Earth" for screen presentation. He quoted Franklin as saying that "Bambi" would be far better screen material than Pearl Buck's famous book.

About a month ago, the Development Commission and the Fish and Game Department sent two young fawns to Disney for use as models.

Day said here that the young deer had "made a tremendous hit" in Hollywood and were instrumental in having Disney decide to make "Bambi" an exclusively Maine picture.

Manned By Hindus
Brig Which Had Been Aided By Capt. Balano Reaches Port of Gloucester
The Gloucester Daily Times notes with a lengthy article the recent arrival in that port of the hermaphrodite brig Florence C. Robinson, commanded by Capt. Donald A. MacCuish, and manned by a crew of five Hindus.
The arrival was of special interest to Capt. F. B. Balano, who is now vacationing at Port Clyde for the reason that Capt. Balano was at Gibraltar when the brig put in there June 8 for bunkers and supplies, enroute from Barcelona, Spain, to Savannah, Ga. Capt. MacCuish asked Capt. Balano for a tow on account of the strong currents, and the request was granted. Capt. Balano's steamship Oregon towed the brig eight miles to Port Parisa, when the tow rope parted. The brig then made sail, for what proved to be an 80-day passage in a distance of some 5000 miles. The long crossing from the time she left the Isle of Crete was hindered by days of endless calm.
It was the Hindus' first voyage west of the Suez Canal and they were perplexed by the heavy ocean fogs, so thick that they felt as if "life was shutting its doors to them and lifting them to another world amid the clouds." The presence of Capt. MacCuish reassured them.
At Gibraltar the brig had taken on an extra helper, Alexis Doster, Jr., of Litchfield, Conn., who had fought with Gen. Franco's Rebels in Spain, because he liked the excitement, and who said that hundreds were escaping from the Communist ranks and trying to get back home.
A hermaphrodite brig is a two-masted vessel square rigged forward and schooner rigged aft. Capt. Balano says the Florence C. Robinson is built of teakwood, an "iron" wood which doesn't require painting, and which, to use Capt. Balano's words, "lasts forever."
The brig boasts so much speed that Capt. MacCuish said he would be willing to put her against the Canadian champion Bluenose in a race.
Capt. Balano's own departure for home after carrying supplies to the Loyalists, was spectacular enough. During his last nine days there 11 ships were sunk or badly damaged by Rebel bombs. They were British and French, except one Holland steamer Parkland.

People and Spots in the Late News

WORLD EYES MANCHUKUAN BORDER... Reports indicated as high as a million Soviet troops such as these were ready to spring into action as border incidents between Reds and Japanese brought bristling comment from both Moscow and Tokyo.

TOPS IN TURBANS... Worn with silver fox wrap for afternoon or dinner, this high-draped turban won stylists' acclaim for its gay note. It's made of purple and cerise velvet with contrasting stripe of white.

NATURE SPRINGS WET SURPRISE... Main Street in Milford, Mass., was typical of many seacoast towns as floods from prolonged rains caused heavy property damage and forced hundreds from homes, in eastern areas normally accustomed to watch from afar floods and other catastrophes west of Alleghenies.

FAR CRY FROM GRANDMA'S DAY... Edith Jersey, pretty visitor to glass house on exhibit in New York, grins in approval of modern science which has developed structural glass walls and cabinet tops impervious to heat and water and easy to clean, making today's kitchen "a joy to work in."

ELKS WIN SAFETY AWARD... Outstanding work to promote traffic safety in 1938 won for Salt Lake City Elks lodge B. F. Goodrich trophy presented by S. B. Robertson, president of company which made award in recognition of activities in which 1,400 lodges and 500,000 members throughout nation participated.

FASHION IN VINES
Did you ever realize that there are changing fashions in flowering plants, shrubs and vines? Some 50 years ago wisteria, honeysuckle, matrimony vine and clematis were the pride of every woman's heart. Few have them now.
No garden was complete without flowering almond, snowball, lilacs, syringa and bridal wreath. Only a few of these are cultivated now with the exception of lilac. Who in those days ever heard of delphinium, salpiglossis, or gailardia. Lilies of a great variety have always been the heart's pride of flower lovers. Most gardeners were content with clove pinks, pansies, portulaca forget-me-nots, bouncing Bet and a few roses, possibly some brought from distant lands or the open roadside or woods. Today there is such a bewildering of rare and beautiful varieties from which to choose that gardeners are beset with sorrow at lack of space or time or strength to cultivate them.

This extract taken from the Sanford Tribune and Advocate will be of interest to residents here:

"Aug. 1 Board of Selectmen announced the appointment to the Sanford Police Commission for a term of three years of Ralph M. Lovell druggist. Mr. Lovell is a native of Waldoboro son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Lovell. He was married to Lillian M. Berry of Stoneham, Mass., Oct. 31, 1930 and has two daughters, Marilyn six and Maxine two. He received his education at Lincoln Academy, New-castle, and at the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, Boston, where he received his Ph. G. For the last four and one-half years he has lived in Sanford. Prior to his coming here he was employed in various drug stores in Maine, Massachusetts and Connecticut. He is a qualified chemist, toxicologist and a graduate postologist.

"Mr. Lovell was sworn in Monday and shortly afterward issued a statement setting forth his ideas as a member of the local police board. The statement follows: 'I believe that the chief principle of a police commissioner, besides knowing the law, is to act fairly showing no partiality but to hear both sides of the case before coming to any decision.

"In respect to the police department itself, I think every officer must come up to certain physical requirements, but, above all, every officer in my opinion, should be required to have a certain education. I should like to see a law passed that every officer must be a college graduate with special emphasis on certain subjects, such as law and psychology and would like to see the town raise the rate of police pay so that men of this calibre would be attracted to the police department.

"Last, but not least, an officer should be courteous at all times, punctual in his work and duties. He should, when on duty, be on duty, and not spend his time in places of business or in hiding. He should respect the uniform that he wears and conduct himself in a manner becoming to it at all times."

Democratic Rally

One of the most successful rallies the Democrats, have held in recent years was the clam bake and get-together held Sunday afternoon at Back Cove. About 300 people gathered to hear ex-Governor Louis J. Brann and F. Harold Dubord, candidate for Congress from the second Maine district. A large delegation of Brann and Dubord supporters from Knox County attended.

John Blagdon of Wiscasset chairman of the Young Democratic Club of Lincoln County, who sponsored the affair, extended a welcome to the gathering. Bradford C. Redonnett also of Wiscasset, state committee-man from Lincoln County made pertinent remarks in regard to county affairs which received warm approbation from his audience.

Mr. Redonnett then introduced the other speakers of the afternoon—ex-Governor Brann and Mr. Dubord. That the clam bake was popular was evidenced from the fact that in the proverbial "Twinkling of an eye" every one of the five bushels of clams had disappeared.

The committee in charge of arrangements were John Blagdon, Mrs. M. Louise Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Burns and Bradford Redonnett Jr.

Ellis B. De Costa

Ellis B. De Costa, 81, died Aug. 4 at his home on the Benner road. He was born in Washington, son of Benjamin and Julia De Costa. He was twice married, his first wife Miss Lillian Grinnell of Washington who died. He later was married to Mrs. Luella Lawrence who also preceded her husband in death. He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Matilda Williams; one brother, Orris Weaver of Washington and by several grandchildren.

Funeral services were held from the house Sunday. Rev. Oscar G. Barnard was the officiating clergyman. Burial was in the Comery cemetery.

GEORGES RIVER ROAD

WILLIAM VANDIFORD knows tobacco from seedling to cigarette. His cigarette is Camel! "Over and over," he says, "Camel has bought my best tobacco. Of course I smoke Camels!"

DAVID ELMER WELLS, TOBACCO GROWER

SALE AFTER SALE, CAMEL BUYS MY TOP-PRICE TOBACCO. THAT WAS TRUE LAST YEAR TOO. CAMEL'S MY SMOKE—AND THAT OF MOST GROWERS I KNOW!

GROWER JOHN DURHAM, JR. (above) is enjoying real smoking pleasure. Yes, it's a Camel. As Mr. Durham states, "I see the tobacco that cigarette companies buy. Camel buyers pay more to get the best of my own crops and of my friends. It's Camels for us!"

S. J. BONE CONFIRMS growers' preference for Camels with: "Camels stand ace high with tobacco planters. Camel buys better tobacco—my own and that of my grower friends!"

"THIS LAST CROP," says grower Robert Lee Oakley, "Camel bought my best grade tobacco as they have many times before. Naturally I smoke Camels. So do most other planters in these parts."

G. A. LANGLEY—NORTH CAROLINA TOBACCO PLANTER

I SELL MY TOBACCO WHERE THEY HANDLE SPECIALLY GOOD GRADES. SALE AFTER SALE, CAMEL BIDS IN THE CHOICE LOTS. SURE I SMOKE CAMELS!

GROWER MARVIN HOLLOMAN speaks as an "insider" on tobacco quality. "Finer tobaccos make a big difference in smoking. Camel takes my real choice lots. So I smoke Camels. Most growers do."

—naturally that's the brand we smoke!"

Is there a real difference in the tobacco that goes into various cigarettes? "Yes"—say the men who live with tobacco—the planters. These men grade their crops long before the warehouse sales. They know who buys their best grades. "Camel," say the typical planters on this page. "Camel buys our choicest lots!" So, for their own smoking, planters choose the cigarette that gets their choicest tobacco—Camel! Yes, there is extra enjoyment in Camel's finer, more expensive tobaccos. Try Camels today! Compare them for their enjoyable taste, for their special mildness which permits steady smoking.

Concerns Pet Goose

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—Many years ago, I had a pet goose. It was just a common goose, such as may be found all over the United States. It lived in the pen with the other geese for a while, but soon decided that the rest of the brood were ordinary. I watched its ridiculous antics and laughed. I thought it would become civilized when it grew a little older and had had its feathers plucked a few times by the other nestlings.

But no, this goose was just a sort of freak and its strange doings piled up with age. At last it took up with a little sparrow and would not hunk to its family any more, or let one of them get within a mile of the pen.

A number of times, in a period of years, this aging goose, met up with the other geese, which had made nice pens for themselves and were feeding on a fine brand of worms. Then it would flap around and honk more softly than usual. Things happened that it never learned in the family pen. It would bask lazily in the best nest and never work or lay an egg for months. Then it would become tired and weary of all its kind and rush back to the little sparrow.

What did I do to my cunning pet goose? Did I kill it and serve it for Thanksgiving? No! It had grown far too tough and too fat for any practical use, so I plucked it from the pretty velvet-robin in my heart and threw it so far into the discard that it can never return.

Since then, I have been watching the rest of the hatching and have wondered why I should think this goose more special than the rest of its kind. Perhaps the incessant honking had persuaded me.

The Philosphist.

P. S.—I have laughed so hard over that delightful pet cat that brought in the wood, that I have decided to tell you about a unique pet of mine.

TENANT'S HARBOR

Mary J. Hart

Funeral services for Mary J. (Dukeshire) widow of Capt. John A. Hart, who died at the home of her daughter Mrs. Ida Gregson of Worcester, Mass., were held at the residence here. Rev. Newell J. Smith of the Seaside Baptist Church officiated. Interment was in the family lot, Seaside cemetery.

The bearers were: Edwin S. Wheeler, Lewis Barter and Albert Fredrickson. Many beautiful flowers were in evidence.

Mrs. Hart was a member of the Baptist Church, Puritan Rebekek Lodge and the Ladies' Sewing Circle in which organizations she was always a willing helper when a resident of this place, and continued her interest when coming home for the summer. She was also on many occasions, inclined to be of assistance to others in time of illness, and was rewarded in so doing, by being given the faithful care of a daughter and son-in-law with the aid of relatives during the past few months of illness in Worcester, Mass., where she had resided for several years except during the summer.

Mrs. Hart will be missed by friends and associates there, as well as by those in her own home town.

The immediate relatives who survive the deceased are: A daughter, Mrs. Ida Gregson of Worcester, Mass., a son Leroy Hart of Wayland, Mass., two brothers, Phores Dukeshire of Billerica, Mass., William Dukeshire of New York; an aged aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Barter of Wallston, besides many other relatives.

Those from out of town who came to attend the services were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Gregson of Worcester, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Hart of Wayland, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Phares Dukeshire of Billerica, Mass., William Dukeshire and daughter of New Bedford Hills, Mass., and Mrs. Fannie Cox of Somerville, Mass. Other relatives from Massachusetts who are summering at Elmore and were also in attendance at the services were: Mrs. Fannie Orcutt, and Mrs. Marion Dukeshire Baker and two sons.

A Cousins' Party

An unusual gathering of 46 cousins occurred recently during the visit to Prentiss made by Mr. and Mrs. Luther A. Clark of this town and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gould and Mrs. Gould's granddaughter, Miss Lucille Jacobs, of East Belfast. Leaving here July 27 they arrived in the afternoon at Prentiss where they were guests of Mrs. Gould's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sibley and Mrs. Octavia Noyes.

The trip was planned so that Mrs. Gould could join a family party to meet cousins from Minneapolis, Mrs. Beatrice VerKennes and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Cameron and son James, who had come east for the first time to see their father's old home and the family.

Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Sibley, Mrs. May Boynton and her daughter of Kingston, Mr. and Mrs. Gould and Mr. and Mrs. Clark were invited to tea with Mrs. Mabel Sibley at Mattawamkeag; and Friday Mrs. Victoria Sibley, the Goulds and the Clarks dined with another cousin, Mrs. Gracie Moores in Springfield.

During their stay Mrs. Clark had occasion to drive to Danforth to take Mr. and Mrs. Sibley and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Boynton and their daughter to consult a physician; and she took them to Dr. A. K. Curtis, father of Dr. John B. Curtis of this town.

July 29, the "cousins' party" took place at Mr. and Mrs. Bert C. Hurd's home in Prentiss, so that the Western cousins could meet all the family in their limited time. Their trip each way took four days driving 500 or 600 miles a day, and they had only four days to stay. Supper was served buffet style: baked beans, vegetable salad, sandwiches, cakes, doughnuts, cookies and hot coffee. Mrs. Linnie True said grace before meat and after supper the party gathered in the parlor and played and sang old-time hymns. They drove up to see the large potato fields and the vegetable gardens, the Hurd farm being nearly 400 acres.

The 46 cousins at the party were: Mrs. VerKennes, Mr. and Mrs. Cameron and son James, all of Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. Asia True and their children, Dorothy, Edward, Blanche Dale, Bertha, Frank and Helen of Springfield; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Noyes and son Frank A. Jr., of Lincoln; Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Butterfield Noyes and children, Hollis and Helen, of Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gould and Miss Lucille Jacobs of East Belfast; Mr. and Mrs. Bert C. Hurd (Josephine Noyes) and their children, Fredric, Carlton, Ruth and Lucille, of Springfield; and their daughter, Mrs. Blanche Hurd Decker, and her four children, Kenneth Wayne, Kathlene and Thelma, of Springfield; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Judkins and their children Donald and Derwood of Springfield; Mrs. Victoria Sibley of Prentiss, her son Ray Sibley and Mrs. Sibley (Mattie Noyes) with their children Louise, Lawrence and Morris of Prentiss; Mr. and Mrs. John Westgate (Jennie Hurd) of Prentiss. Mr. and Mrs. Clark were the only people present not included among the cousins.

The next morning, Saturday, the Minnesota people started home. The Clarks with Mr. and Mrs. Gould and Miss Jacobs on their return journey came by way of Milo and through Dixmont where ten mountains were in view, down through Brooks and around Swan Lake. They had tea with Mrs. Louise Jacobs at East Belfast, and arrived home in the evening, completing a 600-mile trip.

Snippers O Snippers, Says Aunt Hetty

I see Cousin Hattie down to the Keag has took to talking again too. Grandmother allus said the last thing of my girl's stop doin was talkin after an after shed talked on a spell but it shed give in that we come honestly by it. So long but now if taint Hattie its me an if taint me its Hattie tooting away for dear life but a carnival at the Keag or a fair on the mall or both to once. But they both dont come to once thats somethin. The Keag folks they have their next Friday an Si and me dont know but what we may get down to supper. Dora Robinson said somethin bout taking us down with them if their car want full up.

Dora was up to the Fernald girls to supper toot night before Miss Watties Catherine an her folks went away at she said out o the ten of em there wuz four pair o sisters her an Ella May an the two Fernald girls an Edna an Katherine an Julia Woodcock an her siste, Cassie.

Well Ken an Tip an Fred they got the fr down to Miss Cogans barn an now all them pillows Edna Smith an Matties been a sewin up will get filled an gished. Matties bent fit to be tied she so scart they aint goin to be time to get em done an shes a callin up an a callin up from Dan to Beersheba as a callin might say to get evbody she can to come an help. Miss Lynch she was there today an Miss Cogans Gleasons wife Della an Miss Stewart an Miss Lucy Clark an Enie Clarks wife an Mattie she fomed up fer me to come an I couldn't but I got to go tomorrow an I spose every day till Friday so shell let me off to go to the Keag Friday night to supper an maybe she wont let me even so I dont know.

Edie Clark Enies wife was tellin me tother day I met her at the Corner her sister from New York is comin for the fair an a young feller a friend o theirs name o Shepard thats been in England three four years is comin too.

Seems if theys lots o floats gettin entered for the parade some of em from here an some from other places. Cushing, St. George, Friendship, Warren an ill be a funny thing if Cousin Hattie dont get the Keag crowd together an put one in for shes a great hand at that. Seems the Judges is goin to be picked from away summer folks I presume likely. O yes an Bill Gray told Si tother day he mightnt be able to get to see evbody hed think of to ask em to get up somethin for it an he hoped they wouldnt be bashful but step right up an offer. Jest let him know an thail suit me all right if the parade reaches from Punkin hill to the Crick so much the better if they one think I like better a parade its two parades an I guess likely thats the way the rest o the folks thinks for theyre all aimin to make this a good big one from all I hear. The Little Garden Club is gettin a float an the Big Garden Club too.

"POEMS OF PROFIT"

O an Mattie was right pleased for almost for the paper come out she got a word bout a baby buggy the kind she was wantin. Said likely if that had of been a paid ad the buggy woulda dropped right in her lap. As tis she aint got it yet but theyre a fixin it up for her.

Now probly theys lots o uses you got for your paper but Mattie she calls to ask if youd put in what she says a SOS thail sing out fer evbody to come down to Miss Cogans barn any an every afternoon what they can an snip. She said they was two right smart boys there to cuttin up the branches for em. Miss Knowltons boy an Miss Lincolts boy an they was awful good. Last piece you writ up you never put in them marks at the end. I'll see it this time said the little r solemly.

So do an dont forget the SOS an well all be much obliged.

UNION

This is a busy time for farmers—picking factory beans, raking blueberries and having all coming at once; and suffering torture with the greatest crop of mosquitoes for years.

George Kennedy who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis at Knox Hospital, is resting in comparative comfort.

Word has been received of the sudden death of Maurice L. Gray of Harborside, Cape Rozier. He was taken to the Johns Hopkins Hospital for an operation and for a time seemed to be doing well, but died suddenly. Mr. Gray was married to Miss Carrie E. Counce of Appleton and taught school here and in surrounding towns several terms. For several years he had run a large summer place at his home at Harborside. Mr. Gray is survived by his wife, one son Phillip L. Gray, M. D. and one sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Buckley of Augusta called Friday on her cousin Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bryant.

The next picnic of the Community Club will be held at "Jefferson Look Out" Aug. 16. The committee in charge will be Mrs. Grace Williams, Mrs. Mertie Messer, and Mrs. Eva Starrett.

WARREN

Mrs. Laura Blake and Miss Marion Blake of Rockland, and Esten Blake of Augusta, were weekend guests of Mrs. Ellen Wellman and Maurice Wellman. The group enjoyed a trip Saturday to Augusta and Wiscasset, and Sunday, they visited Fort Knox in Prospect.

The event of this week will be the annual fair, by the Congregational Ladies Circle Thursday at 2.30 at the Town hall. Supper will be served at 6 o'clock at the Congregational Chapel, by Mrs. Carrie R. Smith, Mrs. Corinne Perkins, Mrs. Edna White, Mrs. Jessie Walker, Mrs. Christine Barker, Mrs. Marjorie Spear, Mrs. Adelaide Norwood Mrs. Annie Russell, Miss M. Grace Walker, Miss Edna F. Boggs and Mrs. Ruth Philbrook. The entertainment "The Old District School" will be held at 8 p. m.

Mrs. Clarence Peabody entertained Friday afternoon at her home, in honor of her aunt, Mrs. Ernest Moody of Union, and Miss Edna F. Boggs. Other guests present were Mrs. Lilla Ames of Thomaston, Mrs. Frank Rowe, Mrs. P. D. Starrett, Mrs. Charles Hysler and Mrs. Clifford Spear. Miss Boggs received several gifts, by way of a miscellaneous shower. Sandwiches and punch were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Overlock, and Mr. and Mrs. John Turner of Cambridge, Mass., and Magnolia, Mass., have been guests of C. E. Overlock and Mr. and Mrs. William Rogers.

Recent guests of Mrs. Maurice Lindsay were Misses Lizzie Tuttle and Eltona Woodcock of Thomaston. Members of the Women's Mission Circle will picnic Friday afternoon at the Lookout, Jefferson, this to take the place of the meeting Wednesday.

Chester Smalley of Thomaston was a recent visitor at Maurice Lindsay's.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Dill, and son, Roy have returned from a visit with Mrs. Frederick Dill in Rockland, Mass., and Mrs. Helen Elizabeth Dill in Bourne, Mass.

Leroy Grant of Medfield, Mass., was guest Friday at Maurice Wellman.

Mrs. Helen Yeo was soloist Sunday morning at the Baptist Church, her selection, "Behold What Manner of Love" (Paris).

Miss Annette Haskell and Miss Evelyn Smith went Sunday to the Girl Scout Camp, Camp Piscataqua in East Barrington, N. H., where they will spend two weeks.

Mrs. Claude Averill underwent an operation Thursday for appendicitis at Knox Hospital and is gaining.

Ezra Savage is serving six months enlistment with Company 1181, V, at Camp Smith, Waterbury, Vt.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Adams and daughters, Mary and Betty of Hartford, Conn., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Sawyer.

Miss Edith French was recent guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Henrietta French.

Miss Esther Wiley spent the weekend at Lake Side Cottages in Jefferson, guest of her sister, Mrs. Preston Parlin, who is enjoying a vacation there.

The Vacation Bible school which was successfully conducted two weeks at the Congregational church, under the direction of Carleton Gregory of Rockland, closed Friday with a public demonstration of their work in the Church auditorium, which was largely attended by parents and friends.

The program was made up of march by the school; prayer by Rev. Howard A. Welch; school hymn; several school choruses; vocal duet by Robert Wyllie and Merrill Fiske; chorus, "To Words of the Living God," Willis Berry accompanying with violin, and in which he sang a chorus alone; junior girls chorus, "I Will Make Fishers of Men," beginners' song, "Birds in the Tree-tops," Scripture verses by the junior girls; flag salutes, both to the Christian flag and the National Flag; selections, "Holy, Holy," and America; salute to the Bible school verses; primary drill; sword drill; vocal solo, "I Am H-A-P-P-Y," sung by Maxine Lindsey; intermediate drill. Bible drill; presentation of certificates and John's Gospel booklets to each member

WARREN'S ANNUAL CONCERT

The annual concert to be given at the Warren Baptist Church Friday evening, Aug. 19, under the direction of Chester O. Wyllie, promises to be one of the outstanding musical events of the summer season. Once again chorale numbers will be featured on the program, with the able body of local singers to be aided by vocalists from both Knox County and out of State. To the list already named now have been added such names as Ross McKinney, Miss Louise Veazie, Harold Greene, Raymond K. Greene, Mrs. Grace Strout and Miss Margaret Simmons of Rockland; Miss Sylvia Kenney of Wilmington, Del.; E. P. Lynch and Edward Newcombe, of Thomaston; Mrs. Helen Yeo of Brighton, Mass.; Mrs. Chester Starrett of Providence, R. I.; Miss Lucy Teague of Cranford, N. J.; and Carleton Porter of Waldoboro.

While the list of soloists is not yet complete, already a brilliant array is ready for announcement. Among them will be Francis Havener of Rockland, whose fine baritone voice is already attracting notable attention. Mrs. Yeo, soprano, whose vocal career has covered a wide field, particularly in church work; Arlington Hudson of Mansfield Mass., cornetist, a skilled musician though still in his teens; Mme. Florence Maciska of Orlando, Fla., and Bremen, who has had the benefit of extensive study in this country and in Europe where she was a pupil of Anton Witke. Miss Margaret G. Stahl of Rockland will be guest organist for one or more numbers.

From a small beginning several years ago, this musical event directed by Mr. Wyllie has become an established feature of the summer season, each year finding a larger chorus and more notable features. All services are given free, and it is an eloquent tribute to Mr. Wyllie who has lent his own beautiful tenor voice and talent in a most generous way whenever and wherever called upon. There will be no tickets for sale, but a silver collection will be taken.

SOCIETY

SUMMER VISITORS

At the height of the summer season there are many visitors in Rockland and vicinity, and The Courier-Gazette is very glad to chronicle them. To this end we will kindly send the names of your guests to this office, or notify Mrs. Warren C. Noyes, 38 Orange street, telephone 873-R. We will greatly appreciate it.

Mrs. Corwin H. Olds and Miss Charlotte Buffum drove to Portland today with Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Buffum who entrain there for New York to board the steamer Deutschland, for Europe. They will visit their son David H. Buffum, vice consul at Leipzig, Germany.

Among the delightful affairs accorded Jarvis C. Perry and his house guests and relative Mrs. Simpson of New York and Mr. Perry's daughter Mrs. William S. Healy of California was a dinner party at Miss Marcia Farwell's Thursday last. Other members of the family were present.

Mrs. Mary Frost, daughter Isabelle, Mrs. Charles Duffy, and Miss C. E. Kelley of Kingston, Penn., Mrs. Nela Gilmore, Mrs. Anna Wallace and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ahearn of Lowell, Mass., are guests of Mrs. C. E. Levenseler, South Main street, and of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Winchenbaugh at their new cottage "Ebbtide," Spruce Head.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rising have returned to Cambridge, Mass., after spending two weeks at Cooper's Beach with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rising. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Fish of Scituate, Mass. have been guests at the Rising cottage since Thursday.

Misses Henrietta Sonntag and Agnes Sonntag, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Sonntag, have returned to their home in Cleveland Heights, Ohio.

Mrs. E. J. Southard of Winthrop, Mass., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Southard at "Shoreland," Ingraham Hill.

Mrs. Hilda Inman of North Providence, R. I., Miss Jennie Inman of Camden, Mrs. Clementine Hewett of Boston, Charles Towle of Appleton and Mrs. Priscilla Richardson were guests Saturday of Mrs. Cora Sherman, Fulton street.

Festively celebrating her eighth year mark, Miss Coralee Hanley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Hanley of Summer street, played the part of carnival queen Wednesday night with a group of friends as her delighted subjects.

With the aid of her parents and neighbors the large back lawn had been converted into a carnival with all the features—banners, streamers of colored lights and a large number of booths and concessions, including carnival games, freak animals, refreshment booths, and all the fixins'. The American Legion six-piece German band provided the music, and friends of her parents acted as barkers, clowns and all the necessary attendants, and it is a moot question if, like the dad who bought an electric train for his infant son, if it wasn't more fun for the grownups than it was for the youngsters. Each guest was provided with a large bag of iron washers for currency, and the amounts of carnival fodder that each consumed was only limited by the capacity. Coralee's guests included Marie Berry, Anna Bullard, Charlotte Cowan, Horatio Cowan, Jr., Beverly Glendinning, Vitrol Hayes, Ruth Emery, Paula Kallach, Joan Perry, Cynthia Rich, Patricia Rich, "Bubbles" Rich, Nancy Brewster, Betsy Kochs, Jane Proctor, Richard Senter, Caroline Senter, David Montgomery, Philip Montgomery, Brewster Jameson, Boyd Givens, Willard Wight, Willis Spear, Jr., Clara Spear, Bradley Jameson, "Bill" Foxwell, Neil Pogg, Jr., "Spikie" Gowell, James Caswell, "Jimmy" Olds and Corinne Smith.

William McDougald of South Middleboro, Mass., came to this city Monday to attend the reunion of the class of 1901. He will be the guest of his niece, Mrs. Raymond Hoch.

Misses Marion and Joan Mank, had as guests Monday afternoon, Miss Dale Messer of Warren and Miss Jeannine Leach. Luncheon was served on the lawn and photos were taken, the young folks having a grand good time.

Mrs. Ross Wilson of Philadelphia, was hostess to the Breakfast Bridge Club Monday at Crescent Beach. One o'clock luncheon was served at the Inn, the afternoon being spent at cards, at the home of Mrs. Cleveland Sleeper in South Thomaston. Honors were won by Mrs. J. O. Stevens and Mrs. J. N. Southard. Special guests were Mrs. Helen Fales of Belmont, Mass., and Mrs. Ray Eaton.

Mrs. Laura Mank returned Saturday from Waterville where she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Dobbins.

A birthday luncheon at Harbor View Tea Room was attractively set off by a decorated cake centerpiece when Ernest Johnson of Orange street entertained a group of friends Sunday. The social gathering also served as a farewell party to the host, as he will leave soon to visit relatives in New Haven, Conn. Misses Pauline Thompson and Josephine Thompson of Port Clyde and Robert Saunders were guests.

St. John's parish will have the summer sale of fancy articles and so forth next Wednesday on the church grounds at 2 o'clock. Tea will be served.—adv.

Mr. and Mrs. Vere O. Havener and daughter Marion of Morgantown, West Virginia, came Monday to be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Collamore.

Miss Ellen Cochran, who has been spending six weeks with her sister, Mrs. Harvey McIntire, at Bluehill, returned Saturday. She was accompanied by Mrs. McIntire and Mrs. Carl Hinckley and daughter Eleanor of Saugus, Mass., who remained for a weekend visit. They were joined Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Leden of Bluehill.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Smith of Lynnfield, Mass., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Benner at their home on North Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Higgs, son Robert and daughter Marianne of Pittsburg, Penn., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Emery.

Mrs. Ray Eaton and Mrs. Walter Spear, entertained at Green Gables, Thursday, at 1 o'clock luncheon and contract. Honors were won by Mrs. John O. Stevens, Mrs. Phillip Howard of New York, Mrs. Mary Newell of New York, and Mrs. Helen Fales of Belmont, Mass.

Mrs. Marion Cobb Fuller and son Nathan Cobb Fuller of Augusta are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Cobb.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campbell of Auburn and Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Rokes, motored to Castine, Sunday, to attend the concert at the Castine Music Camp, given by the Maine School Orchestra and Band. Miss Campbell was pianist in the orchestra of 169 members, conducted by Ernest R. Hill of Augusta, and also played drums in the band, with Frank G. Rigby of Portland, directing. Miss Campbell, who is only 12 years of age, is showing exceptional talent in music, and her performance Sunday was a source of pride to the attending relatives.

A picnic of early friends of Maurice Bird, to a large number, in whose honor the event was arranged, enjoyed a perfect summer evening and marvelous supper at the cottage of Prof. and Mrs. C. Wilbert Snow at Spruce Head Saturday night. Maurice has been spending his usual vacation with his son at Medomak Boys' Camp and is looking very fit from his experience.

Miss Mary Langan of Boston was in the city yesterday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Mary Woodman.

Mr. and Mrs. Josiah L. Tolman and Mrs. Clara M. Maker of Worcester, Mass., are occupying the Britto cottage at Megunticook Lake, for two weeks.

William McDougald of South Middleboro, Mass., came to this city Monday to attend the reunion of the class of 1901. He will be the guest of his niece, Mrs. Raymond Hoch.

Misses Marion and Joan Mank, had as guests Monday afternoon, Miss Dale Messer of Warren and Miss Jeannine Leach. Luncheon was served on the lawn and photos were taken, the young folks having a grand good time.

IN CAMDEN OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT

"The three little maids from school" as they appear in "The Mikado" to be presented by The University Gilbert and Sullivan Company at Camden tonight.

Sullivan wrote some of his gayest and most charming music and Gilbert contributed what are probably his most delightful characterizations for these three Left to right, Edie Greene, as Patti Sing, who sings Hebe in "Pinafore" and Tessa in "The Gondoliers," Miriam Bentley, now playing the role of Yum-Yum for the second year, and Sally Korady, versatile soprano, who sings the decidedly contrasting role of Casilda in "The Gondoliers."—adv.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Herrick of Auburn, Mass., and son Donald, who spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Russell, have gone to their camp in Weld.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walker and daughter Lenora and Miss Ethelyn Harvey have returned from New York, where they were guests for five days of relatives.

Miss Eleanor Tibbets and Miss Helen Korpinen, accompanied by "Skippy" alias Nicodemus, Eleanor's pet kitten, are spending a week's vacation at the Gregory cottage in Glen Cove.

Miss Mary A. Jones of Middleton, Conn., is visiting Miss Carrie Sheriffs, Summer street.

Mrs. Ida Simmons, Mrs. Mildred Richardson, Mrs. Clara Gupitill, Mrs. Ethel Richards and Gordon Richardson were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Voorhees at Silver Birch, Lake Pennesseewassee, Norway.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Fuller entertained over the weekend Mr. and Mrs. J. Hartley Stackhouse of Newtonville, Mass. Friday evening the four enjoyed Rockport Carnival lights and fireworks, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Heistad. Saturday the group motored to Pemaquid, where the Stackhouses summured recently. Short visits here and there renewed past pleasures. Owl's Head beach found the group Sunday by an open fire enjoying clams, lobsters, etc. The picnicers included Mr. and Mrs. Stackhouse, Mayor and Mrs. Edward R. Veazie and daughter Louise, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Trecartin and Mr. and Mrs. Fuller. After a delightful swim at Lucia Beach, the party hurried to the public landing, where the Barbara E., owned by the Ramsdell Packing Co. was just docking. A. C. Ramsdell here joined the party, while Capt. "Pat" Mathews and son Oswald piloted the boat about the islands. (Miss Louise assisted). Later in the evening the party celebrated a birthday at the Fuller home followed by colored moving pictures of Miami, Fla. at the Trecartin home. Mr. and Mrs. Stackhouse were Miami guests of the Fullers and Trecartins in February, 1937. Mr. and Mrs. Fuller house left Rockland yesterday to visit their son Bobby, who is attending a boys' camp at East Orland.

Mrs. Joseph Emery and Mrs. Marion Cobb Fuller entertained last night at the Emery home to celebrate the 77th birthday of their father, Nathan F. Cobb. Local and visiting members of the family joined in the festivities, congratulations being heartily extended. The affair was a happy reunion of relatives.

Mrs. Jennie L. Merrill died Aug. 1 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Howard Neild, Thomaston street, at the age of 68. She had been ill for several weeks.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. A. R. Weymouth, Mrs. Howard Neild of Rockland, Mrs. Fred Eugley of Gardiner; two sons, Leroy Merrill of Belfast and Walter Merrill of Rockland; also 13 grandchildren.

The Second Concert

Eells' Boat Barn, Rockport, Again Houses Happy Music Lovers

The second concert in the series of three being given by the Curtis String Quartet at the Captain Eells Boat Barn, Rockport took place Sunday night before an audience which taxed seating capacity and contained many distinguished musicians among whom were noted Mme. Lea Luboshutz, violinist, and member of the Violin Department at the Curtis Institute of Music; Ezra Rachlin, young American pianist of note, and Leon Zawisza, newly appointed concert master of the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra, also Boris Goldovsky, renowned pianist and operatic coach.

The tribute of rapt attention was paid to the artists comprising the Quartet—Jascha Brodsky and Charles Jaffe, violins, Max Aranoff, viola, and Orlando Cole, cello—and also to Mrs. Edith Evans Braun who joined the group for the Quintet. Their music Sunday night was given with an utter devotion to the task, touched with inspiration. While their work for the most part bears these characteristics, it was particularly commendable at this concert as they played in the grueling heat which caused treacherous strings, moist hands, and slipping tones. That under such conditions their artistry stood out supreme is one more phase of their ability and consummate musicianship, two reasons that make the Quartet one of the foremost before the public today. The program:

Adagio, ma non troppo: Beethoven
Presto: Beethoven
Andante con moto, ma non troppo: Beethoven
poco scherzoso: Beethoven
Allegro assai: Beethoven
Cavatina: Beethoven
Finale, allegro: Beethoven
Piano Quintet in E flat major, opus 44: Schumann
In modo d'una marcia: Schumann
Scherzo: Schumann
Finale: Schumann

Edith Evans Braun, assisting artist

The quartet, dedicated to Count Biondas von Galitzen, was written by Beethoven in 1825, and is one of his longest. It is the 13th of the 16 string quartets he wrote in the final three years of his life, after he had completed his Ninth Symphony and long after he had become deaf. These quartets were not particularly well received in Beethoven's period, and really were played very little up to within 50 years ago and then probably not too well, as it is most difficult music. Within the past five or ten years the quartets are receiving more devoted attention and study, out of which masterly presentations worthy of Beethoven's greatness are emerging. Beethoven originally ended Opus 130 with a Grand Fugue which was met with a wild storm of disapproval, to appease which Beethoven eliminated it to be used as a separate number, and substituted a final movement which while it is splendid in conception, did not reach the master's demands, and he intended to write another to replace it, but it was not done, as his life was fast moving to its end.

One writer has said that "Beethoven's last period is like the second part of 'Faust.' There is no music in the world more difficult to understand, none of which the genius is more unearthly, more superhuman. It contains passages to which we can no more apply our ordinary standards of beauty than we can to the earthquake or the thunderstorm; it contains phrases we can only regard as harsh or grim or crabbed; at times it rises into melody, the like of which the world has never known and will never know again." For among all Beethoven's melodies, those of the last years are the most profound and the most beautiful. Not that we can even hope to exhaust the meaning of the great music he wrote in early manhood—but even they deal with truths of less divine import than he came to utter in the fullness of his age.

No one can yet explain precisely by what miracle of genius the perfection and the power of Beethoven's musical imagination were not more affected by the disaster that ravaged the auditory centers to the point of making him completely insensitive to external sounds. This is particularly brought home to us in Opus 130, for the creation of such high-spirited movements by a man in Beethoven's physical and mental extremity is one of the strangest and most affecting anomalies in the history of the arts. He had a special affection for this work, and called it his "Leibquartett," a term of familiar endearment which our language lacks. Indeed, not a few of its pages represent the most intimate emotional self-revelations which he has left us. At the very end of his life, the Master confessed that each time he recalled the melody of the Cavatina, it stirred him deeply and cost him tears.

In vivid contrast was the Schumann Piano Quintet, with its brilliancy, sturdiness, and exciting

THE OLD FOLKS' DAY

Three-Quarter Century Club To Have Annual Meeting In Augusta Aug. 30

The Maine Three Quarter Century Club will meet in Capitol Park, Augusta, Aug. 30. The date and place were decided after a meeting of the governor and council, Friday night, the committee having requested the use of the park.

Gov. Barrows will speak during the day, the hour to be announced later. The program will include the usual contests.

It has been suggested that a touch of color could be added to the affair, if members will wear old-fashioned costumes, and if this seems to meet approval, it may be done. Picnic lunches will be eaten at noon.

What Barrows Says

In Reply To Charges Made By Brann On Old Age Assistance

In a news release, Gov. Lewis O. Barrows brands as an apparent "misunderstanding" the opinions of his opponent, "Ex-Gov. Brann, on the law governing Old Age Assistance, and declares, "If the addresses of my opponent have been correctly quoted that persons owning property cannot receive aid unless the State is given a 'lien' let me assure you that there is no such provision in the law and such statements have no foundation in fact."

Continuing, the Governor says, "At no time is the recipient of this assistance required to sign any waiver or surrender any equity he or she may have in any property or she may own. Nor are they asked to assign any life insurance or bank deposits or any other negotiable assets. There is no provision in the section of the law prohibiting a recipient of old age assistance from selling his or her property and giving a clear title at any time. The State cannot step in and take the property prior to his or her death and if he or she dies leaving a home, his or her spouse may occupy that home as long as he or she lives, if the surviving one is 60 or more years of age. In other words, a recipient of assistance may do as he wishes with his property during his lifetime. This would not be true if the law created a 'lien' because the creation of such a 'lien' would restrain a person from having full control of that property."

"I have stated on several occasions that there is no more liberal old age assistance law in any New England state than we have in Maine. It is true that in some New England states an argument is made between the parties and the State which gives the state an equity in the property, and also first claim on the property in the event of death. Some also provide a four percent interest charge on all monies paid to the individual prior to death."

"Possibly there might be ascribed a reason for all this sudden solicitude in the interests of the aged people of the State and their property on the part of my opponent. In order to further clarify any misunderstanding, it might be interesting to call your attention to the fact that on March 31, 1933, my predecessor in office placed his signature to a law which read:

"Claims against estate of pensioned persons. On the death of a person receiving a pension under this act the total amount paid to him in pensions, together with simple interest at five percent, shall be allowed as a claim upon the estate by the court having jurisdiction to settle the estate and one-half hereof shall be paid into the treasury of the city, town, or plantation and one-half into the treasury of the State."

"This section did not even provide that claims should be held up pending the death of the surviving one."

"Then let me quote Section 10 of the same act."

"Attachments against pensioned persons property. If the local old age pension board deems it necessary to protect the interest of the city, town, plantation or the state, it may from time to time file attachments with the register of deeds against the property of a recipient of an old age pension for the amount of old age pensions paid under this act."

"While I am referring to Chapter 267, may I not quote the last section of Section 25?"

"Effective date of act. This act shall not become operative until the governor and council can find ways and means to raise or arrange for finances necessary to carry out the provisions of this bill and to report thereon to the 87th legislature."

"When you realize that no report was ever made to the 87th Legislature or any effort to comply, of which there is any record, it seems to me that in any such discussion we should all endeavor at least to be fair. It is all too serious and affects too many of our citizens."

A 2300-Mile Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Keene of Fremont, Neb., Witness Wonders of West

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Keene of Fremont, Neb., have recently returned from a 2300-mile trip to the West Coast. In a jointly prepared letter they have written thus to Mr. Keene's daddy, City Clerk E. P. Keene:

Well, we are back home again after a 2300 mile trip, covered in seven days. Will try to give you the high lights. We left home Monday, July 25, at 6:30 a. m. As Pearl Albertson rode with us as far as Broken Bow we took that route, arriving there at 10:50. Had taken lunch for the first day so ate about 12. We were in North Platte at 1:15, crossed over into Wyoming. It rained hard before we reached Cheyenne. Had rather expected to stay there over night but the Frontier Days celebration was on and such a crowd! Then of course they were fairly holding people up on prices, $10 and $15 per cabin and none too good either, so we decided to drive on to Laramie and there found that many who were attending the doings in Cheyenne were staying there. However, the lady who managed the camp sized us up and I guess she must have been favorably impressed as she told us of a place to go where they didn't just take everybody and she thought we might get in. We did it and it was a grand home and wonderful beds, which we did need after 540 miles. Had a good night's rest and started out the next morning at 6:40. Had the nicest trip over the road along Snowy Range from Laramie to Saratoga, thence north to Highway No. 30 and headed west, over Continental Divide, arriving at Rock Springs at 2:10 p. m. (Saw the United Airlines Airport).

We took highway north from Rock Springs and had a splendid new road but oh so desolate! Drove 24 miles without seeing a house. Lots of Dude ranches along the way and I noticed one called "Bronx Community Hall," some New Yorkers I suppose. We entered Teton National Forest and got into Jackson at 6:30, having covered 411 miles that day. Had our dinner at a very lovely place and saw a lot of the "Dudes" and their wives, I suppose, dressed in very swell western clothes, boots, etc. Lots of wonderful "Cocktail Lounges," in this typical western town and they were certainly well patronized by both men and women.

We stayed at some lovely log cabins, beautifully furnished. It was very cool there although we didn't have to start the stoves. Left Jackson at 8 a. m. and stopped along the way to see the "Chapel of the Transfiguration," a wonderful little church which has a big plate glass window on the north which forms a frame for the "Grand Tetons" and they are grand, the most beautiful I've ever seen. They are snow capped and we drove quite close to them all the way through the Jackson Hole country. Forgot to say that the day we drove through the Snowy Range I could have gotten out of the car and made snowballs, but we were anxious to make time so didn't and the night before they had had a light snow which was melting a little that morning. The wild flowers were magnificent, never saw such an abundance of them and so highly colored, so many of the gorgeous delphinium blue shades, such as hare bells, lupines, etc., and lots of pink, rose, yellow and lavender flowers. North from Jackson, we drove past Jenny Lake, stopped at the museum, took some pictures and saw many bus loads of boys from California schools, vacationing there.

We entered Yellowstone National Park at south entrance at 11 o'clock. Hadn't gone very far before we saw a big black bear, then a huge cow moose and her calf. On to West Thumb, had our lunch, and viewed the Paint Pot geysers. Varied colors and a very remarkable one called Lake Shore Geyser, where we were told they can catch fish and drop them in and cook them. Saw geyser after geyser, and we certainly thought that section was a seething inferno if there ever was one. Any direction one looked he could see small geysers spouting steam and boiling hot water. One greatly impressed me, called Sapphire Geyser, a most gorgeous blue. This one only spouted up about three or four feet but would overflow for some distance. Around this was a formation which looked like biscuits and was sometimes called the "Biscuit Geyser." We saw several more bears and Harold got out to take a picture of one. After taking it was looking down to turn the film when the old fellow started for him. I yelled, and of course Mary and Edith got a big kick out of my being so excited. Don't imagine the bear would have hurt him as they are only looking for something to eat. We later stopped and fed a bear some of our sandwiches and he did seem to enjoy them a lot.

We passed Fire Hole Lake, a steady geyser, Midway Geyser Basin, Old Faithful, and saw her spout about 150 feet in the air. Daisy Geyser, Grotto Punch, Black Pool, Morning Glory Pool and many others. Past Gibbon Falls, about 80 feet and very white and pretty. Beryl Spring, Roaring Mountains, and saw two bull moose and a cow later another cow or two and calf. We arrived at Mammoth Hot Springs (159 miles). Stayed at cabin camps which had formerly been an army camp. It had no locks on the doors so we set the woodbox against the door, just in case. We were off the next morning about 7 o'clock. Very pretty terraces at Mammoth. Left for Tower Falls and along the way saw many acres of trees which had been destroyed by some insect infestation. Tower Falls were very pretty, thence to Inspiration Point and viewed the Yellowstone Canyon and Falls. That was certainly a sight. We just couldn't describe the vastness and beauty. One has to really see it, 750 feet deep and 1500 feet wide.

Went on to Canyon and such a marvelous hotel as they do have there. (We just walked through as we also did at the hotel at Old Faithful, both beautiful but very different, with terrific prices). Went over Fishing Bridge at Lake and such a pretty place. They have a trailer camp there and I would suppose there were many hundreds of trailers. Many people fishing and although it was raining quite hard when we crossed the bridge, there they stood with raincoats and cellophane capes on, still fishing. It stopped raining soon and we stopped at a lovely cafeteria for our lunch, then on past Yellowstone Lake, a very large lake, many people along its edge. Steamboat Springs, Pelican Roost, had our last view of those Grand Tetons, in the distance. Entered the Shoshone National Park and passed many pretty camps. Met a trailer labeled "Bouncing Betty" and we all thought that a very good name for the darn things! Went through the Shoshone Canyon, and the tunnel just above the dam and spillway, certainly quite a marvelous piece of engineering. On to Cody, saw the huge statue of Buffalo Bill on his horse.

Made it to Worland, Wyo., that night, 237 miles for that day. Up and off the next morning at 7:45 and through the Big Horn Mountains and National Forest. Quite a lot of snowcapped mountains through there also. At Buffalo about 10:45, dinner at Gillette about 12:45 and while there saw a cage of 24 rattlesnakes. Some man had found a den of about 1500 and they told us a number of oil stations had cages of them. I would have killed them! On through Moore-craft, Upton, New Castle and crossed into South Dakota, arriving at Custer for the night (332 miles). Next morning took drive through the Needles and through Custer Park and out to Mount Rushmore to see those marvelous faces of Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and Teddy Roosevelt which Gutson Borgum (a former Fremont) is carving in the mountains there. Can't begin to tell you how very marvelous a piece of work that is. By the way, we had some terribly crooked roads, sharp turns, etc. Harold said he saw the back seat three times! Double spiral bridges (one above the other) in two or three places, these bridges made mostly of wooden logs cut right there in the mountains. Spent considerable time at Mt. Rushmore watching the men work (through our field glasses) on the side of the mountain and although I suppose they were well roped to their baskets, still it almost gave me the shivers to watch them. You may have read that they have been working on this for ten years, I believe and still not done.

Back to Custer for lunch then to Hot Springs, passing Mt. Coolidge, Wind Cave and on through Wind Cave National Park toward home, via Chadron, Gordon and staying over night at Valentine (311 miles) leaving there the next morning. Drove through Ainsworth, Long Pine, O'Neil and reached Norfolk
