DEMOCRATIC RALLY

WATTS HALL, THOMASTON

THURSDAY, SEPT. 8

7.30 P. M.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS

FINAL REPUBLICAN RALLIES

The Republican campaign in Knox County will close with three rallies:

Tonight—In Camden Opera House. Among the speakers will be Miss Marion Martin, assistant to the chairman of the Republican National Committee, and an exceedingly capable speaker.

Friday night—At Port Clyde. Saturday night—At the Rockland Community Building. Speakers Judge William R. Pattangall of Augusta and Judge Max L. Pinansky of Portland. Voters of Rockland and vicinity will have an opportunity to hear two of Maine's foremost speakers. The Rockland City Band will give a concert from 7 to 8, before the speaking begins.

Lincolnville Rally

Republicans To Hold Forth At Tranquillity Grange Hall Tonight

Congressman Clyde H. Smith, Senator Roy L. Fernald, Hon. Francis Bate of Winthrop, County Attorney of Kennebec County, and Charles E. Nelson of Augusta, will address a Republican rally to be held in Lincolnville Thursday night at 8 o'clock in Tranquillity Grange hall.

George E. Nichols, chairman of the Lincolnville Republican committee will introduce the speakers and will also present Judge of Probate Ellery Bowden, of Winterport, County Attorney Hillard H. Buzzell, Clerk of Courts Herman H. Combs, County Treasurer Fuller C. Wentworth, and Sheriff Hiram O. Burgess of Belfast, all candidates for re-election, and Ralph I. Morse, Belfast attorney, who is the Republican nominee for State Senator. Charles H. Gray of Prospect, candidate for a second term as County Commissioner, and Mrs. Lida M. Taylor of Belfast, G.O.P. choice for Register of Deeds.

The recently organized Lincolnville School Band, directed by Clarence A. Fish, will provide music for the rally which is expected to attract large delegations from many of the surrounding towns.

ACTION AND NOT "ACTING"

Is What the Maine Voters Want, Representative Bird Told Washington Audience

Ex-Senator H. C. Buzzell was unable to keep his speaking date at the Republican rally in Washington Tuesday night and while this was very disappointing to the admirers of the forceful Belfast orator, the party found a new and capable champion in Representative Alan L. Bird of Rockland, who made one of the best political speeches of the present campaign.

He described some of his experiences at the State Capitol, and gave the strongest kind of endorsement was right in 1936; let's be right in 1938."

Representative Bird spoke in strong commendatory terms of the Republican county candidates, and of the changed political conditions of today. "We were formerly taught to support the Government," he said, "and not expect the Government to support us. If we fail to build character we fail to support our political structure. Today they are killing the incentive to work, to build character. If the New Deal continues its present attitude we are headed for only one thing. If it is a case of giving all the time instead of earning we are headed for inflation and a lot of paper with a little value. We are being taught that we can gather riches without work; get something for nothing. Little emphasis is being placed on work but much on spending. We can never spend ourselves into prosperity."

Representative Bird told how he had been coaxed against his will to go to Legislature, and how he had derived much knowledge there. Turning to Elbert Starrett one of his seatmates on the platform he said: "We want men of his type at Augusta."

Mr. Bird told how the Federal authorities tried to manipulate three important bills at the last term, and of his opposition when he discovered the joker in them—how it meant signing away the State's birthright.

Mr. Bird strongly commended Gov. Barrows' attitude in the matter. "He's honest, and not a grandstand player," he said.

Mr. Bird predicted that the next Maine Legislature would be confronted by more drastic measures of a Federal nature.

"If we do not support Barrows," he said, "we are going to have our liberty choked and operate under a dictatorship."

The speaker presented an amazing and satirical picture of ex-Gov. Brann, who was one of his colleagues at University of Maine. "He has made promises in every place where he has spoken," said Mr. Bird. "I wouldn't say he was a one-night stand man, but he is very clever—so clever that he spent the State $2,000,000 into debt."

"What has Gov. Barrows done with that legacy? He found the contingent fund wiped out and the State's borrowing capacity gone. Barrows has worked hard and has done many fine acts in wiping out the debt and balancing the budget. The welfare of the State is at stake. We want a level headed man who will safe-guard the interests of Maine. We want action instead of 'acting.'"

Died In Kitchen

Employee At North Haven Hotel Victim of Acute Dilation of Heart

Mrs. Ernest R. Lamb of Andover, Mass., formerly a cook for Mr. and Mrs. N. ALONG THE WAY
There are many helpful things to do Along life's way. Helps to the helper, if we but knew. From day to day! So many troubled hearts to soothe. So many pathways rough to smooth. So many comforting words to say To hearts that falter along the way.

Here is a lamp of hope gone out Along the way. Some one's stumbled and fell, no doubt. But, brother, stay! Out of thy store of oil refill; Kindle the courage that smoulders still; Think what Jesus would do today For one who has fallen beside the way.

How many lifted hands still plead Along life's way! The old, sad story of human need Reads on for aye. But let us follow the Saviour's plan—Love unstinted to every man! Content if, at most, the world should say, "He helped his brother along the way." —James Buckham

"The Black Cat"

By The Roving Reporter

Mrs. Clara Overlock one of The Courier-Gazette's valued correspondents writes:

"Your notes on the stage routes read in The Black Cat column remind me of 1889 when I lived in Union and used to see the stage every day as it made its trip to Rockland and back. The driver was Eugene Jones and he certainly knew how to drive his span of horses, down past the house, always easily trotting along; coming back, always walking while 'Gene' sat with one foot resting on the wagon fender taking life easy. Who can tell me the date that Rockland-Augusta stage via Washington was discontinued?"

I had the pleasure of again meeting Mrs. Overlock at the political rally in Washington Tuesday night. Her life now is about evenly divided between urban and rural communities, as she spends her winters in Augusta and her summers in Washington. In Augusta biennially she is a close observer of Legislative progress, and has gained some new views as to the difficulties which are experienced in obtaining desired legislation. Easier to sit in the grandstand and be an onlooker than it is to undertake to manipulate one of those august bodies.

The late Judge Walter H. Butler, of beloved memory, used to tell a good court story at his own expense. A case of assault and battery was being tried, in which Swedish residents were the principals. It developed that a rock figured in the alleged assault, and Judge Butler was undertaking to learn its size. "Was it as large as my head?" he inquired. The son of Sweden scratched his own head, and finally replied: "It bane as long, but not as thick."

A Rockland man who visited the Aroostook potato fields within a few days, tells of discouraging conditions in Maine's famous spudland. Potatoes are selling at 40 cents a barrel, and in some instances as low as 35. Also, in some instances, the farmers cannot afford to dig them. Knowing that the Rockland man came from the coast section one farmer offered to swap a barrel and a half of potatoes with him for a single lobster.

"An Interested Reader" sends me this one:

"The reference in your columns to odd names found on signs reminds me of names in our towns. Cushing has its Ornes and Orffs; Union has Light and Ayer; Hope has Hardy and True; Thomaston has Knight and Day; Warren has Browns and White; Rockland has Blacks, Whites and Greens; and Friendship has Cooks and Pales."

It is estimated that 75,000 visitors will have passed through the observation gallery at Callander, Ont., to view the Dionne quintuplets this season, and the number would have been larger but for the fact that a serious throat infection kept the world's most famous children indoors for a number of days. I am proud to have been one of the 75,000, and I cherish jealously the interesting souvenirs I brought home.

"Night crawlers' for Sale." This sign posted in many places in a neighboring town aroused the curiosity of a Rockland visitor this week. Fishermen do not need to be told that "night crawlers" are worms used by them for bait, and are thus called because they are caught at night.

One year ago: Objection was being made to an open season on pheasants and the wanton onslaught of those beautiful birds.—Frank F. Harding hung out his shingle as an attorney.—E. Stewart Orbeton of West Rockport was made State probation officer.—Fred March caught a bass at Damarscott Lake weighing 5 pounds and 3 ounces. Lost his oars in the excitement.—Eighteen sleepers were required to accommodate the traffic out of Rockland on the night of Labor Day.

TALK OF THE TOWN

A Rotary Assembly, consisting of the President, vice president and chairman of committees, was held Tuesday night at The Thorndike with 17 Rotarians present. The meeting was opened by an invocation by Rev. John Smith Lowe, after which the members enjoyed supper. The meeting was called to order by President Louis Walker. He showed a large chart plainly exhibiting the relation and interrelation of the several committees that gave a most comprehensive idea of the set-up of the organization. He gave a most convincing and enlightening lesson on the aims and objects of the club and each felt inspired to greater zeal. All realized that President Lou has set a high mark for service and each decided to do his part. Dr. Lowe gave a vivid account of his visit to the District Assembly at Waterville and his conception of the duty of Rotarians. All in all it was a most inspiring meeting. Another club assembly will be held Friday night Oct. 7 when the District Governor will attend.

The American Legion Auxiliary, sponsored a successful beano party, Monday night, special awards going to Melaine McCaslin, Horace Vose, Ruth Locke and Lydia Wilson. Other prize winners were Fannie Holbrook, Ruth Brackett, Leslie Esterbrook, Lydia Wilson, Margaret Ellwell, Irma Upham, Dorothy Smith, Grace Wheeler, Hazel Nash, Betty Clough, Horace Vose, Florence Rogers, Gilbert Lane, Elsie Walker, Charles Sprague, Oliver Hall, Annie Wade, Mary Nye, Elizabeth Gregory, Bessie Church, Annie Trundy, Mrs. Edgar Sukeforth, Mrs. Charles Sprague, Hattie Brown, O. B. Brown, Nettie Packard, Mary Dinsmore, Myrna Grindie, Anne Alden, Mrs. W. T. Fuller, Mrs. Esterbrook, Evelyn Church, Anna Seavey, Ruth Locke, Bernice Langdon, Margaret Smith, Melrose McCaslin, Effie Walsh and Fred Ingerson.

The pulpit of the First Baptist Church will be occupied Sunday by the pastor, Rev. J. Charles MacDonald, who with Mrs. MacDonald, returned this week from their vacation. Such interesting cities as Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Niagara Falls, Rochester, Albany, New York and Boston were visited. Ten days were spent at the Canadian Keswick Conference held at Ferndale in the beautiful Muskoka Lake region of Ontario. Speakers from Canada, America, and England were on the program. An interesting hour was spent at the home of the famous "Quints" in the North Bay region of Ontario. Mr. MacDonald's subject Sunday morning will be, "Our Priest," and at 7:30 his subject will be, "At The Cross-Roads."

The following pupils of Edna Gregory Rollins, piano teacher of Camden are to take part in a recital at the West Rockport Baptist Church Friday evening at 7:30 to which the public is invited. The Misses Beverly, Shelby and Elaine Glendinning, Grace Bowley, Lois Rollins, Marion Blake, Marilyn Spear, Russell Cannon and Raymond Chisholm, of this city, John Dana, Elaine and Roy Swanhelm, June Robinson and Mary Richards of Thomaston, Mary Ludwig of Warren, Nancy Gregory of Glen Cove and Arlene Keller, Nancy Andrews, Charlene Heald and Hazel Nut of West Rockport.

Capt. Keryn ap Rice was guest speaker at the Lions meeting yesterday and held the closest attention of the members as he discussed customs in Nicaragua, some of which are decidedly risqué. Capt. Rice went there with 14 other engineers and a crew of 100 men, landing at Curinto and eventually going to other cities including Granada. What the natives eat and what they do in a social way were described by the speaker in a very humorous and entertaining manner. Guests yesterday included Mayor Edward R. Veazie and John Newman. Dr. A. H. Chase, whose vacation at Warren is nearing an end, was present as usual and sang in a high powered trio which also comprised Dick Buttner and Capt. Rice.

There was a large attendance Tuesday afternoon at the funeral services for Walter J. Fernald, including members of the Police and Fire departments, State Police, Mayor Edward R. Veazie and other city officials. The many floral tributes were of exceeding beauty. Rev. J. Charles MacDonald officiated. The bearers were City Marshal Arthur D. Fish, ex-City Marshal Almon P. Richardson, Patrolman Carl Christofferson, and Special Officer Myron Drinkwater. Members of the Police Department did escort duty. The burial was in Achorn cemetery.

The Maine Savings Bank Association is holding its annual convention at Rangeley Lake Thursday and Friday of this week. Those attending from this city are Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan B. Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Orne, Mr. and Mrs. William W. Spear and Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Heller.

Henry H. Payson was supposed to have cast aside his farming proclivities when he moved from his native town to the Shore Village, but in his back yard garden he has tomato plants which are 10 feet tall if you hold 'em up with a step ladder, and pole beans which have gone way over the top and would measure 20 feet if stretched like a short lobster.

Burnham S. Walker, Ph. D. M.D., head of the Department of biochemistry in Boston University Medical School, a research scientist, will address the Rotary Club Friday. Dr. Walker is the son of President Louis Walker and comes as a compliment to his father.

Lane's Questions

Takes a Drink, But Is Going To Vote "No" On the Beer Question

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

I would like to have you print a few questions. Mr. and Mrs. Voter next Monday there are vital questions coming up about liquor. The wets have put in their argument, and I would like to ask a few questions. Do you think it would be a good idea to license beer parlors? Are you aware that they have a victualers license and the Junior of 10 or 12 years has just as much right in there as a man of 50? He has a perfect right to go in, sit on a stool and call for coffee and doughnuts, and it might not be long before he calls for beer. And then wonder at the morals of your city. Are you aware when you vote for liquor to send a man on the street with a gun to shoot an officer, that you are an accessory before the fact? And more of a murderer in the sight of God than the man who committed the crime.

The wets have put out an argument about the money it brings into the city. Did you stop to think that 75 percent of that money is dumped into another State to purchase beer and wine? Now, Mr. Business Man, here is where you come in. Now, I might go in there and spend $5 or $6. The next morning, with a big head, I'll come in and borrow a dollar of you to get it settled. If you get your dollar back, you've merely tied it up. No percentage on it. If you don't get it, you've lost. That's business. Oh yeah! Next Saturday night, before election you should spare time to go on Main street between 11 and 12 o'clock. They will open the doors and turn out two or three hundred on the street, just the same as opening an insane asylum for three or four officers to clean up. Why, you haven't a militia in Rockland large enough.

I expect to get criticised for this. I expect they'll say I'm a reformed drunkard, but as a matter of fact, I'm not. Nor I'm not a teetotaler. I take a drink, but I positively will vote "No" on liquor. It takes a person with experience to see where it is leading the younger generation. This is only a starter. I shall come again, so watch out.

John W. Lane

Old Timer's View

Tells How Federal Money Could Be Spent In Lobster Propagation

At both the Republican and Democrat rallies in this section of the State, more or less talk has been made pertaining to lobsters. Monday night at the Public Landing Mr. Dubord said that if he were sent to Congress, one of the first things he would do would be to get Federal money and establish rearing pools for the propagation of lobsters.

Seems to me the thing to be done if propagation is desired and I believe it is, instead of creating more jobs for the faithful, why not liberate every female lobster down to a certain length. Liberate them as the fishermen are doing with egg-bearing lobsters. Here is where Federal money could be well spent. Let the lobsters breed in their natural way.

A referendum that would allow only fishermen to vote on what they want, when and if such measures were put before them, they alone would put the lobster industry on its feet in two years. Here is how the fishermen could be helped, and a big boost for our summer tourists.

An Old Timer

Supply Ran Low

Aero Gas In Surprising Demand — Plenty Assured For Future

A score of motorists from several New England states, to say nothing of many towns in Knox County, including Rockland, can vouch for Aero gasoline, sold by the Jenney Company, and distributed in Rockland by the Boynton Oil & Motor Company, on Park street. For they were sadly disappointed to learn during the holidays that the supply of Aero gas at the Boynton plant had run out prior to their demand.

Sorrier even than the customers is Stanley Boynton, proprietor of the Boynton Oil & Motor Company, who through the columns of The Courier-Gazette, wishes to express to these disappointed customers, his sincere regret that such an incident occurred. Mr. Boynton had laid in a large supply of Aero gas at his Jenney station, but the demand greatly exceeded the supply. So fast has the news spread in Rockland, about the super-value of this gas.

Mr. Boynton is now making arrangements whereby his customers may rest assured that no matter when, in the future, they come to his station, they will be able to buy as large a supply of Aero gas as they wish. Every day one of the Boynton employees will make a trip to Portland to keep the supply of Aero gas in keeping with the demand.

A great increase in business has been noted at the Boynton stand in the past couple of weeks, and everything points to a great future in Rockland for the Boynton Oil & Motor Company. Not least important in answering for this success is the pleasing personality of "Stan" Boynton, himself, who since his station was opened some weeks

CONGRESSMAN SMITH

To the Farmers of the Second District:—

Realizing that the source of all business successes depends upon agriculture, and since you are the medium through which flows the staff of life, it may be that you and these whom you feed would like to know more about what is crippling your great enterprise—especially at a time when prosperity was promised. We have paid billions of dollars for the "missing link" not yet found.

The following list of foreign imports of your agricultural products may tell the story.

Imports	1932	$1,092,000
Imports	1937	19,400,000
Exports	1932	$43,500,000
Exports	1937	$9,000,000

You will note we are buying about 19 times more pork and selling about one-half as much as we did five years ago. Have you forgotten the killing of little pigs—excuse, creating a scarcity—passing pork business over to other nations.

Eggs—Shell and powdered:	Imports	1932	1,899,000 doz.
	Imports	1937	10,899,000 doz.
	Exports	1932	2,844,000 doz.
	Exports	1937	2,600,000 doz.

Considered on a dozen basis we bought from far away China and other countries, about eight million more dozen than we sold. Maine's proportion of net imports, 173,000 dozen. Figuring 114 eggs per year, per hen, other nations displaced 18,210 Maine hens.

Butter—From 16 foreign countries:	Imports	1932	1,000,000 lbs.
	Imports	1937	11,000,000 lbs.
	Exports	1932	1,600,000 lbs.
	Exports	1937	800,000 lbs.

These figures show that our imports are about 10 times as much as our exports and that our imports are 11 times more in 1937 than in 1932. Maine's proportion of imports after deducting exports, 212,500 lbs. Annual butter production per cow, 200 lbs. Thus foreign butter displaced 1963 Maine cows.

Beef and beef products:	Imports	1932	$3,800,000
	Imports	1937	26,300,000
	Exports	1932	1,500,000
	Exports	1937	2,800,000

Cattle:	Imports	1932	97,000 heads
	Imports	1937	494,943 heads

Hay:	Imports	1932	$96,000
	Imports	1937	$1,099,000

This product comes from Mexico, Labrador and China, while our grass is unused because of no market.

These facts lead me to inquire whether you farmers are pleased with this competition when so many farms are deserted and still more acres uncultivated, especially at a time when the President tells us that one-third of the people are undernourished.

It might be well to know what the vast expenditures of your money have accomplished for Maine farmers by way of buying foreign produce, and the regimentation of crops. Here are the results, plainly told, evidence unimpeachable.

Comparative prices of agricultural products:

	1937	1938
Corn, bushel,	$1.31	$1.32
Wheat, bushel,	1.18	.71
Hay, ton,	12.00	8.00
Potatoes, bushel,	1.07	.56
Oats, bushel,	.54	.28
Beef Cattle, cwt.,	7.13	6.25
Hogs, cwt.,	9.29	7.35
Butterfat, lb.,	.32	.25
Wool, lb.,	.33	.19

Do not be deceived by approaching reports that Reciprocal Trade Agreements have been balanced during the first four months of this year.

Deduct $900,000,000 of munitions of war that we have exported and we will still have bought $500,000,000 worth more from foreign countries than we have sold them.

The President says this is as was planned. What do you think about his planning?

Growing up on a farm I know something about privations and sacrifices, hours of work from sunrise to sunset, frost and drought that destroy crops, laboriously cared for.

I am sure that you tillers of the soil who have always been in the front ranks defending those inalienable rights of human beings, whether at Bunker Hill, Appomattox or on Flanders Field, approve of my efforts in working and voting against the Court Packing and Departmental Reorganization bills.

Would you expect my opponent to do likewise after pledging his life to New Dealism?

Through 42 years and 48 elections, without defeat, my word has been good, my promises, kept. Feel sure you are not ready to turn to a New Dealer.

Enforced Clam Law

Definite Results Are Being Shown In Sheepscot and Medomak Flats

Reports that definite results in production are being shown by rigid enforcement of the two-inch clam law are being received from all sections of the coast, according to Commissioner Arthur R. Greenleaf. In several places wardens report that two and three times as many clams are in the flats and that diggers and dealers alike favor the enforcement activities.

An especially rapid gain has been noticed on the flats of the Sheepscot and Medomak rivers, Greenleaf said.

Although made a law several years ago it was not enforced to any extent until 1936. The measure provides that all clams under two inches in size at the longest diameter must be returned to the flats.

Digging cultivates the flats and when returned the small ones rapidly grow to maturity, according to statistics.

The previous record was held two years by Ray Thurston of Andover. Twelve teams started in the contest and three pulls were allowed to reach the 27½ feet before they were disqualified.

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." TALK OF THE TOWN

"COMING EVENTS CAST THEIR SHADOWS BEFORE"

Sept. 8—Republican rally at Camden Opera House.
Sept. 9—Republican rally at Port Clyde.
Sept. 9—West Rockport—"Summer-time Pupils" piano recital. Edna Gregory Rolins, teacher, at Baptist Church.
Sept. 10—Republican rally at the Rockland Community Building.
Sept. 10—Lincoln Valley Pomona meets with North Haven Grange.
Sept. 12—state election.
Sept. 13—Miriam Rebekah Lodge annual fair at Odd Fellows hall.
Sept. 30—(3 to 8:30)—Educational Club picnic at residence of Franz M. Simmons, 59 Pleasant street.
Oct. 3—Warren—Women's Missionary Conference of the Lincoln Baptist Association at the Baptist Church.
Oct. 15—Knox County Teacher convention in Rockland.

Knox County Republican candidates, with speakers, will be at Ralph Simmons' store in Port Clyde Friday night.

George W. Leadbetter, formerly of Rockland, has been appointed Health and Welfare commissioner for a third three-year term.

In response to many inquiries: The Maryland Democratic primaries will be held next Monday; and the Georgia primaries next Wednesday.

Found guilty of drunken driving, in Municipal Court yesterday Redington Sprague of St. George, appealed and gave bail. He had been fined $100 and costs.

Golden Rod Chapter, O.E.S., will hold its first meeting of the season Friday night at the Temple. Supper will be omitted.

Rockland Elks are requested to meet at the Home at 1245 this afternoon to attend the funeral of Austin M. Moody at North Waldo-boro.

Mrs. Kate Gould at the Franz M. Simmons' residence, 58 Pleasant street, will be the next hostess for the Educational Club picnic to be held Sept. 30.

Lightship Cornfield, commanded by Capt. Nahum Brewer, is at the South Railway to have its bottom painted. The craft was built by Rice Brothers at East Boothbay.

A Boston despatch says that Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins will visit Rockland today. It is more probable that she will be in Damariscotta, where she has relatives.

Timothy E. McNamara made his appearance on the street yesterday with as black an eye as was ever seen at a Kilkenny Fair. Tim, it appears was swinging a lusty axe with the honest intention of splitting a block of wood. But Tim had failed to take into account the overhead, which in this instance consisted of a taut clothesline. When the three mixed Tim was on the short end of the transaction.

Miriam Rebekah Lodge held its first fall meeting Tuesday night. Final plans for the fair and other matters were disposed of, after which the members held a miscellaneous shower for Mrs. Ruth Davis Benner. The banquet hall was attractively decorated, the gift table being in charge of Mrs. Addie Brown, while Mrs. Vora Bemis superintended the refreshments. Mrs. Benner was completely overwhelmed at the start but soon proved herself equal to the occasion in her usual charming manner.

"Profits" vs. "Costs"

What Liquor Business Does To Maine, As Seen By Correspondent

Rockland, Sept. 7

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:— Much is being said these days about the profits that are accruing to the State of Maine as a result of the sale of liquor within the state. During the fiscal years, which run from July to June 30, the following is the total amount of money that has been turned over to the state as a result of all kinds of liquor sales:

1936 $1,338,538
1937 $2,214,798
1938 (11 months) $3,051,420

These figures include: Profits on sales of liquor in the state stores; income from the issuance of licenses for the sale of liquor; and the tax on beer. This is the amount of money left when all the operating expenses of the Liquor Commission have been deducted, including the cost of the operation of the Beer Department with its inspectors, etc.

However, seldom is the amount of money that has to be expended to bring this "profit" to the state taken into consideration. Figures usually cover only the state stores. The figures for the state stores for the fiscal year run as follows:

1936 $4,238,282
1937 $5,594,054
1938 $5,794,479

But such figuring does not cover the hotels and the beer parlors that are running, there are more than 2700 places selling liquor in this state besides the 35 state stores and the total sales by all places runs as high as these figures:

1936 $15,000,000
1937 $20,000,000
1938 $20,000,000

Further, when "profits" are mentioned, very seldom is there any consideration given to costs. It was estimated that in one year drunken drivers did $4,000,000 of damage on the highways of Maine. Poor department costs are jumping fast. In one city it was discovered that 65% of all poor department work was due to liquor. Costs of keeping drunks has gone so high that County Commissioners are alarmed at the bills coming in for drunks in jail. One county says it is so many drunks in jail that it can only afford to feed "repeaters" bread and water three days a week.

It looks to us as if the costs far outweighed the so-called "profits." An official of the Department of Public Welfare of the State of Maine recently said that if the department had 10 percent of the money that will be spent for liquor in this State this year, it would finance all the welfare work necessary in this state and pay a six hundred dollar pension to every person over sixty-five.

The huge ventilator that topped the late Woolworth block for many years is now being installed on the auditorium of Community Building. Reconditioned after its removal it should render many years of useful service. Its installation is expected to greatly improve conditions summer and winter, when the auditorium is crowded for it will pass huge quantities of air. The ventilator is equipped with air-tight dampers to prevent escape of heat except when desired.

TALK TO FISHERMEN

Commissioner Greenleaf of the Sea and Shore Fisheries Department will speak to the fishermen of Port Clyde and vicinity at Ralph Simmons' store in Port Clyde Friday night at 7:30 o'clock, daylight saving time. His message will interest everybody connected with that vocation.

Miss Doris Heald is attending the New England dancing teachers convention in Boston this week. Some of the well known New York teachers on the faculty are Jack Dayton and Bill Pillich, tap; Bernice Holmes, ballet; Gretchen Schmaal, children and eccentric dances. Miss Heald's school opens Saturday in the tower room at Community Building with this schedule: baby class, 2:30; intermediate class, 3:30; advanced pupils, 4:30. It is important that children start with the first lesson, and in doing so, are eligible for the mid-winter recital.

Yes, fans, there is to be one more Twilight League game this season. St. George and Warren will play a postponed game in Warren Friday night.

An additional trip has been added to the usual Rockland-Warren bus schedule, this trip to leave Warren Saturday nights for Rockland at 6:45 and on the return, leave Rockland for Warren at 10:30. There will be a reduction in price for the round trip.

Priscilla Smith, president of Ruth Mayhew Tent, D.U.V., presided at the meeting Monday night. The discussion of fall activities included plans for the fair to be held early in November; a picnic with Mrs. Irene Winslow, a past Tent president, who recently moved to Freedom, was planned for early in October when all members will make special effort to take advantage of this invitation. Mrs. Maude Cables will be chairman of a game party to be held in the hall Monday night, Sept. 12. Members who were present Monday night missed secretary Lizzie French, and Stella McGree who is a patient at the Deaconess Hospital, Boston; also Mrs. Mae Cross, who is in attendance at the G.A.R. convention in Des Moines.

Ruth Seabury is a clever elocutionist, but surprised herself a bit this week with her own efficiency when, rehearsing in her Willow street back yard, "Backward, turn backward, O time in your flight!" she glanced up and found the apple tree had been so affected that last spring's blossoms were again in evidence.

The last dance of the season at Oakland Park will be held Saturday night, the special attraction featuring Tasker Crosson and his 12 colored statesmen, with Ethel May Brown, called "Harlem's Swing Sister." Unable to appear earlier in the season because of a full schedule, Manager Whalen brings this band to Oakland to end one of the most successful summers at this popular ballroom.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acid and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

A Golden Wedding

Former Residents of North Waldoboro Welcomed Back On Anniversary

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

One of the most pleasant celebrations ever put over at North Waldoboro was the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis O. Stahl, formerly of that place, now of Wiscasset. They came to their old homestead to celebrate the rare event and were greeted by 75 of their old neighbors, relatives and friends. Out of town people who met them there were Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Wilson of Providence, Mr. and Mrs. Bert L. Burnheimer of Portland, Weston Hilton of Damascus, and others whose names I failed to obtain.

Several members of Germania Lodge, I.O.O.F., came bringing with them a fine large wedding cake. Miss Frances Stahl also donated a nice cake. The gifts were numerous and valuable. The friends of this community pooled together their contributions in cash, believing the recipients could better suit themselves in a purchase. The gift was presented by the Rev. Mary S. Gibson, pastor of the M. E. Church, in her inimitable speech and manner.

The program consisted of a reading by Mrs. Ruby Walter Miller and remarks by our County Attorney, Weston M. Hilton. Rev. George B. Davis of Alna, a former pastor of the M. E. Church of which Mr. and Mrs. Stahl are members, sent an apology for not being present personally, but he sent a poem bearing on the event which was read by Jeannette, daughter of John Stahl of Camden. Another poem, composed by the writer, was read by the Rev. Mrs. Gibson. Both are submitted with this account for publication. After the program a palatable lunch was served and a social hour spent in chat. At a late hour the visitors hid themselves home feeling they were well paid for any effort made to assure Sister and Brother Stahl that their many friends remembered them and wish them many years more of wedded bliss.

W. R. Walter
North Waldoboro, Sept. 4.

Fifty years of wedded life
Through shade and sunshine, storm
And strife
Is something rare, when we compare
The many severed nuptial ties
Of those who wedded life just tries
A few short years, and then denies
The pledge of faith they gave each other.
And love, if love it was, they so soon smother.

Not so with you dear "Den" and "Dell."
Just as you have in years that's past,
And all your cares on Jesus cast,
For He is pledged to hold you fast;
And over them with Him to reign,
We trust we all may meet again.
Where mystic things will be made plain,
And banished is all grief and pain.

W. R. Walter

So cling together to the last,
Just as you have in years that's past,
And all your cares on Jesus cast,
For He is pledged to hold you fast;
And over them with Him to reign,
We trust we all may meet again.
Where mystic things will be made plain,
And banished is all grief and pain.

The years may come and the years may go;
In every life of course it's so,
But fifty years of married bliss
Is what the great majority miss.
In this hectic age, with divorce galore,
It's well to note couples that endure
The ills and pains, the stress and strain,
Thus prove their marriage is not in vain.

In fifty years they come to know
Each other so well, there's no more to show.
To think alike is a common trait,
And even look alike often comes that late.

To learn life's lessons in those fifty years
Of married life, it would appear,
Is the purpose of swift passing time
Makes life a river that flows in rhyme.

This home for which they have toiled
and striven,
Have dreamed of making a little heaven,
Has passed to them things do not feed
the soul.

Or always bear them to the goal
Of security, peace and contentment fits.
Where happy souls on good things dine,
Yes! They love this place! Of course they will!

Around this home memories linger still
The dearest and triumphs of these fifty years—
Many things disappointing, many things that cheer.

The church they have served these fifty
years
Has been their support 'midst joys and tears,
And for its life they have often despaired.

They have found that God has spared
Something to give to help it through Many a crisis grim, when only they knew,
Or seemed to know, its importance
then.
That time, age and experience proves so clear.

Fifty years of living the domestic life,
Fifty years, and still living with no thought of strife.
Fifty years of loving the best within,
Do you wonder they call us neighbors in
To rejoice with them on this gala day,
And to greet each other in a friendly way?

Methinks I can hear them now as they say:
"May you all live to observe your anniversary day!"

SEND an expedition to Africa to film this glorious novel in its authentic locale!

Locate a little English boy to depict the heart-stirring story of a beloved Dickens character!

Search the world for the one man who knows better than all others how people lived in Elizabethan days—what they wore, what they ate, the manner of their dress and their talk!

Reconstruct an historic palace—re-create an historic battle—build a volcano! Erect a city and set it aflame! Loose a flood that will wash whole villages away!

It is you who order these things—and they are done. And whether you applaud with your hands or your heart at the conclusion of a motion picture, your approval echoes in the lives of unseen thousands who have collaborated in its making.

It is for your entertainment that an army of the world's greatest talents is ever on the march, forging ahead to open new vistas for your delight—adding brilliant new recruits from all the arts every day in the year.

Spare nothing, says Hollywood, to make the motion picture theatre the happy haven it is, the place to which millions may confidently come for freedom from boredom and care... for suspense that makes the pulse beat faster... for romance that warms the heart... for hearty laughter and eye-filling beauty.

The unseen hands applaud—and we who make motion pictures hear the echo. It guides us, inspires us, challenges us to fresh endeavors to make the movies better and better.

Now—on the eve of the Golden Jubilee of motion pictures—there is ready for you a remarkable array of new productions—the finest, we feel, that have ever been presented in a single season. On them we have lavished all our skill, all our experience, all our resources.

Here are pictures to charm and to thrill—pictures to amaze and amuse—pictures destined to weave their magic about the hearts and the minds of millions of people—to lighten their labor and brighten their lives, to lift them out of the drab, workaday world into a new world of wonder—timeless and boundless.

See them—give yourself up to their spell—relax and let them work their magic. They are a tonic for your mind and your heart—they are good for what ails you.

Watch for these new season's pictures at your favorite theatre:

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acid and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

MEN LOVE GIRLS WITH PEP

If you are peppy and full of fun, men will invite you to dances and parties.

BUT if you are cross, listless and tired, men won't be interested. Men don't like "quiet" girls. When they go to parties they want girls who are full of pep.

So in case you need a good general system tonic, remember for 3 generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling thru" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps build up more physical resistance and thus aids in giving you more pep and lessens distress from female functional disorders.

You'll find Pinkham's Compound WELL WORTH TRYING!

Beat The Barkers

Vinal Haven Chiefs Even Up In The Tiff With Livermore Falls

The Vinal Haven Chiefs defeated the Livermore Falls Barkers at Vinal Haven Labor Day by the score of 4 to 2 thereby gaining an even break in their two-game series the Barkers having defeated them 3 to 0 three weeks previously.

The Barkers opened the scoring in the third when they scored two runs on hits by Stevens and J. Drott, coupled with an error and a fielder's choice. Their lead was short-lived however as the Chiefs evened the score at two all in their half. Wahlman beat out an infield hit and was sacrificed to second by Brown. Coombs reached first as O. Bonnevie muffed his fly ball. Wahlman advancing to third. Lyford grounded to short and was thrown out. Wahlman scoring. White then singled to center scoring Coombs with the tying run. Baum hit a hard drive back to Philoon and was thrown out to end the rally.

The Chiefs scored what proved to be the winning run in the next inning as Guilford got his first of three passes, stole second, advanced to third on Wahlman's out and scored when Philoon uncorked a wild pitch.

The Chiefs added another run in the seventh on Coombs' hit and steal of second, a passed ball and Lyford's hit to left.

The Barkers got men on first and third in the seventh on Stevens double and a fielder's choice but Simoneau lined to Brown and Stevens was doubled at third to end the threat. Again in the ninth the visitors got two on with one out but Brown turned on the heat and fanned both O. Bonnevie and Simoneau to end the game.

The Rockport Aces play at Vinal Haven Sunday. Monday's score:

A. H. B. And H. T. R.

Their Beer Arguments In Camden Paper Draw Fire From Camden Voter

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

If you will allow me space I should like to reply briefly to two letters appearing in last week's issue of the Camden Herald regarding the necessity of voting for the return of beer parlors in Camden to "keep trade at home." The writers of the letters, signing themselves A.H.B. and H.T.R., seem to forget that the condition in our mills (which do not run on beer) is the index of prosperity in our town. When the mills are running there is plenty of money and when they are dull there is no money to spend for the average working man.

I can not recall any great prosperity in town when we did have beer two years ago, but do remember clearly the plaint of most of the merchants that no one but the beer parlors got much trade, and certainly many honest debts went unpaid, as the books in town could show. And I remember seeing C.C.C. boys coming in every Saturday morning, walking into the beer parlors—and staggering out. And seeing the line of W.F.A. men on paydays, spending a large part of the pitiful $11 a week on beer for themselves, and standing treat for their companions. How much could be left for the needs of their families?

Long before beer was sold in Rockland many people went there from Camden to do their weekly shopping, and will continue to do so whether or not beer is sold in Camden.

I have no doubt that A.H.B. and H.T.R. will have their hearts' desire and that Camden will once more see men and women getting "plastered" on beer bought here in town. But I do wish they would be fair enough to say, "We are going to have it because we like it and want it," instead of trying to make the rest of us feel that we are doing an injury to our town by voting for a clean, decent place for children to grow up in and for safe, pleasant conditions for everyone.

A Marked Increase

In Maine's Highway Fatalities Last Month Over August, 1937

August showed a marked increase in automobile fatalities over a similar period last year. Figures reveal 22 were killed by automobiles this month. From this period on, the people of Maine can look forward to either an equal or a greater number of human lives slaughtered on our highways every month until the end of the year.

Liquor has played a big part in bringing about much sorrow and grief to numerous families. Five deaths during August involved liquor and it also rated as the high month for the year where liquor was involved in motor vehicle fatalities. Twelve of these deaths happened in rural areas while ten took place in urban sections.

Again our outstanding cause of death was the pedestrian. The forgotten American still fails to heed the dangers of automobiles and still allows some irresponsible party to care for him while he is walking on death's highways. Nine passengers lost their lives while four drivers were victims. One motorcycleist met "sudden death" enroute on one of Maine's principal highways.

Saturday was suicide day in the State of Maine and led eight of the 22 deaths to its score board during this time. Together with Sunday, another weekend day, it took exactly one-half of all the lives lost in Maine directly charged to automobiles.

During September children will be returning to school and it seems to me that the educational system of this State should not shirk its responsibility to the students of this State and allow them to continue to go through grade schools and High Schools without a bit of instruction on highway safety. Highway safety demands a place in the curriculum of the school system in Maine and the time is now.

Highway safety plays, and will continue to play, an important role in the lives of the young people of our state who are about to return to their schools. The Highway Safety Division again offers its services to the schools of Maine and it is hoped that it will be called upon to help in the cause of safety in order that they may be partially responsible for the saving of lives of school children in the State of Maine.

Sgt. Francis J. McCabe, Director, Highway Safety Division, Maine State Police.

Cauldron Banquet

Unique Affair Held At Rockledge Inn Tuesday Night

"This is the only instance in all my teaching experience when a profit resulted from the publication of a school paper," said Principal Joseph E. Blaisdell at Tuesday night's R.H.S. Cauldron banquet held at Rockledge Inn. The same thought was stressed in opening the post prandial informalities by Rockland's ace toastmaster, Albert McCarty, who termed the affair an unique occasion in the history of Rockland High School.

Gardner Brown

A delicious lobster and chicken banquet was served by Mrs. Maker amidst vigorous signs of approval from the 25 guests. After dinner speeches were brief but very much to the point, Gardner Brown and Gordon Richardson, co-editors of the Cauldron, spoke briefly and dropped the pleasing information that with all bills paid some $75 in profits would be turned into the school treasury. Both united in praise of the blushing advertising manager, Dorothea Merriam. Other speakers were Neil S. Perry technical guide of the Cauldron, who was given a great hand, and John M. Richardson of The Courier-Gazette and an impromptu speech by Marion Ludwick.

Gordon A. Richardson

Other guests in addition to the above named, all members of the Cauldron Board, were: Bernard Thompson, Barbara Derry, Milton Rollins, Mary Dodge, Ruth Wheeler, Donald Harriner, Ethel Hayes, Ralph Hoffer, Ruth Thomas, Virginia Haskell, Winifred Dimick, Russell Hewett, Dorothy Sherman and Nancy Snow. Supper and Mrs. George J. Cumming and Mrs. Blaisdell were special guests.

Mrs. Harriette Levensaler and son Atwood have returned to Cambridge, Mass., accompanied by Mrs. Levensaler's sister, Mrs. Lelia Benner who will be her guest for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Minot of Wiscasset, Miss Dorothy Sidelinger of Thomaston and Master George Doak of Rockland motored to Bucksport Saturday and returned to Wiscasset Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Blood and daughters Arlene and Ann and Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Young of Thomaston motored to Windham and spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Stuart.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Small are visiting relatives in Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Huston Long of South Portland, have returned home after spending the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Nichols. Miss Ruth Nichols went with them for a visit, Mrs. Nichols joining them Wednesday for the remainder of the week.

Miss Eleanor Snow and Miss Marion Marsh of White Plains, N. Y., have returned from a three weeks' motor trip to Nova Scotia. They will be at Treasure Point Farm until Sunday, leaving then for New York.

Mrs. Helen Carlson spent the weekend holiday with her son Edward Carlson and family in Portland.

John Ricker, who has been visiting his parents in Cherryfield, motored to Rockland Sunday for Mrs. Ricker, who has been the guest of her mother, Mrs. R. M. Marsh, the two returning to their home in Dorchester, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Herschel McKnight and children Hugh and Audrey, have returned to their home in Farentun, Penn., after a month's stay at Treasure Point Farm.

Aug. 31 Mrs. Elizabeth Haines celebrated her 88th birthday. The day was spent with her family, several friends calling in the afternoon. Mrs. Haines felt that she was exceptionally favored by having present, her four great grandchildren, Albert, Lynne and Gayle Rogers, of Fort Fairfield, and Billy McLean of Rockland.

Agriculture
Joe Chapman of Damariscotta had the misfortune to lose one of his purebred Guernsey cows this past week. It was hit by an automobile. Mr. Chapman is a member of the Dairy Herd Improvement Association. This cow was doing especially well.

Mrs. Mildred Hanley of Bristol breeder of R. I. Reds, has started three pedigree pens this week. Her flock is pulpurum clean and is selling eggs to a hatchery.

A new electric fence is being used by Ralph Keene, Damariscotta. Many of these fences are now in use in the county and are proving very satisfactory. For fencing in hay fields they are a great help.

Several orchardists are planning on setting out apple trees next spring. Anyone interested should get in touch with County Agent Wentworth as only 600 trees have been ordered in the state pool. The variety are: McIntosh, Cortland, and Northern Spy.

With The Homes

Selection of clothing will be the subject of the agent meeting in Alna, September 9 at Erskine Hall. Mrs. Alice Pickard and Mrs. Caro Gentner are on the dinner committee.

Miss Estelle Nason, state home demonstration agent leader, will go to Vinal Haven with the agent for an organization meeting Sept. 13. In the morning a demonstration of canning tomatoes and tomato juice will be given and the women will can tomatoes. Organizations will be taken up in the afternoon and projects explained.

Leader meetings scheduled next week are: Sept. 14, Hope, Fish, Cookery in charge of Mrs. Alice True. Mrs. True and Mrs. Evelyn Brown are on the dinner committee. Sheepscot, Folding Without Wrinkles Sept. 14. Meeting in charge of Mrs. Ruth Carney. Mrs. Ruth Leighton, Mrs. Winona Chase, and Mrs. Charles Hendrickson will serve the square meal for health.

Montsweag, Breadmaking and Tomato Canning Bee on Sept. 14 at Mrs. Rose Baker's. Mrs. Madeline Colby will be in charge of the meeting. Mrs. Florence Wallace, Mrs. Dorothy Wilson and Mrs. Baker are on the dinner committee.

A tomato canning bee will be held in Bristol Sept. 15 at the church vestry and will be in charge of Mrs. Alice Chickering. Mrs. Chickering and Mrs. Josephine Sproul will be in charge of the dinner.

Another meeting scheduled with the same subject Sept. 15 will be in Orr's Corner at the community hall. Mrs. Amber Childs will be in charge and Mrs. Marjorie Ralph, Mrs. Lula Light, and Mrs. Irene Sprague will serve the dinner at noon.

Folding Without Wrinkles will be the subject of meetings held September 15 in the following communities:

Camden, at the Grange hall. Mrs. Mildred Sheldon will be in charge of the meeting. Mrs. Lettie Bagley and Mrs. May Young are on the dinner committee.

Rockport, at Mrs. Hattie Chase's. Meeting in charge of Mrs. Marion Waldron and Mrs. Margaret Maxcy. Mrs. Lizzie Smith, Mrs. Hattie Davies, and Mrs. Lizzie French are on the dinner committee.

Tenants Harbor, at Mrs. Gertrude Hupper's. Mrs. Claribel Andrews, and Mrs. Small will serve the square meal for health. Mrs. Josie Conary will conduct the meeting.

"Construction and Finishes" will be the subject of the meeting in charge of Mrs. Etta Ireland in Burketville, Sept. 15, at Mrs. Gladys Linscott's. Mrs. Nettie Grinnell and Mrs. Florence Calderwood are on the dinner committee.

4-H Club Notes

The Gold Star Workers of South Thomaston at their meeting on Sept. 2 scored their Food and Health Habits. The leader, Mrs. Ruby Makinen, examined record sheets of all members, supper menus of the cooking and housekeeping girls, and the color wheels of the sewing girls. The club voted to have its club tour of all projects Wednesday, Sept. 7 and to have a picnic at Spruce Head, Thursday, Sept. 8. Marjorie Wiggin made and served fudge to those present.

The Singing Sewing Club girls of West Rockport are planning for a club tour of all projects Sept. 12. The girls also voted at a previous meeting to use money in the treasury and go to the movies some afternoon instead of having a picnic as planned before.

The 4-H cooking booth and sewing booth at Lincoln County Fair drew their share of attention during the fair. Two girls demonstrated in each booth every hour during the big day of the fair. Samples of muffins and cup cakes were given to those gathered around the booth. Miss Ruth Cluff, home service worker for the Central Maine Power Company, was also in the booth to regulate the range for the girls. Besides the two booths, 4-H people of Lincoln County had 78 exhibits of canning, cooking, sewing, garden produce, room improvement, chickens, and one dairy calf.

The Quintuplets' Club of Pleasantville will hold its local contest today at Mrs. Meserve's home at 7:30.

The Orr's Corner Bean Club will hold their local contest at 2 p. m., Sept. 10. The club agent will be present at all of these meetings.

AT LAKEWOOD NEXT WEEK

Probably the most important news of the season out of Lakewood is the announcement of the personal appearance next week of Warren Hymer, well known film comedian who has come to Lakewood especially to create an important role in "Land of Honey," a new play by his father, John B. Hymer. The Hymer family is well known at Lakewood. Mr. Hymer having been a resident of the Grove for two decades, and active in various capacities in the early development of the theatre. With Mrs. Hymer he had been located in Hollywood since 1935 where he has worked on numerous motion pictures.

Warren Hymer, who created the movie characterization of dumb gangsters, puns and such types, made his theatrical start at Lakewood Theatre but in recent years has been in Hollywood exclusively. He recently completed "Submarine Patrol" which was directed by John Ford, famous Portland director with a cast including George Bancroft. During the past winter he was seen with Claudette Colbert and Gary Cooper in "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife" and with Irene Dunne and Doug Fairbanks Jr. in "Joy of Living," among other films.

"Land of Honey" is a story of Hollywood and the co-starring role will be played by Owen Davis Jr., who is also well known in films. Davis will play a young movie star who befriends a down and out pug, played by Hymer. Although the play has a strong central theme, there is considerable comedy as well.

There is a cast of 15 people in "Land of Honey" and one of the interesting scenes will be that of a Hollywood party.

The Lakewood Players are currently presenting the thrilling drama "Blind Alley."

Word From Willard

Former Instruction Officer
Gives Us News From Far Away Hawaii

A member of The Courier-Gazette staff is in receipt of an interesting letter from S. E. Willard former instruction officer of the Second Battalion of Coast Artillery with headquarters in this city. He is now stationed at Fort Kamehameha, Territory of Hawaii.

He writes:
"I was pleased to note by your Black Cat that you got the Fleet Edition of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin all right."

"Enclosed is another part of the same paper dated May 27. Edward C. Moran arrived the day before and I saw him the night before at his rooms in the Royal Hawaiian Hotel at Waikiki Beach. He left after a very nice time here at the crossroads of the Pacific."

"While he was here, I received the copy of the Courier containing Mr. Winslow's speech at the Memorial Day exercises. In it he spoke of the Navigation School conducted by Capt. Charles R. Magee. The same night that I read the speech I was at a dinner with the Honolulu Chapter of the National Sojourners' Club. Next to me was a man introduced to me as a guest of the club for that dinner. During the meal the subject of Maine came up with my seatmate on my left. The man on my right overheard and remarked that he was from Maine. I asked him if he knew Carl Moran. He said that he did not but that he would like to meet him as he was a captain of one of the Inter-Island ships which Carl was investigating. He turned out to be O. O. McIntyre, born at South Harbor, and a student at Capt. Magee's School in 1916. He is still in the Merchant Marine and Captain of the S. S. Hualalai, Honolulu. I give you that as a coincidence for the record, so many miles from Rockland. They did see each other. I understand, as Carl inspected Capt. McIntyre's ship the day before Carl sailed for the coast."

"Major Blaney is coming here from Rockland in the fall I understand. His relief at Rockland is to be Major V. W. Hall. Major Hall is a Maine man, born and raised at Portland. He was in the National Guard at the outbreak of the war and remained in the regular service after it was over. An excellent officer in every way far ahead of his grade in military knowledge and training. I know that the Maine National Guard will profit in every way by contact with Vern Hall. He knows the game from all angles having been in the Guard and on duty with the Officers Reserve. He is a graduate of the C.A. School and the Command and General Staff school. You will all like him."

SWAN'S ISLAND

Mrs. Ina Stanley is visiting relatives in Rockland.

Gladys Smith has employment at Southwest Harbor.

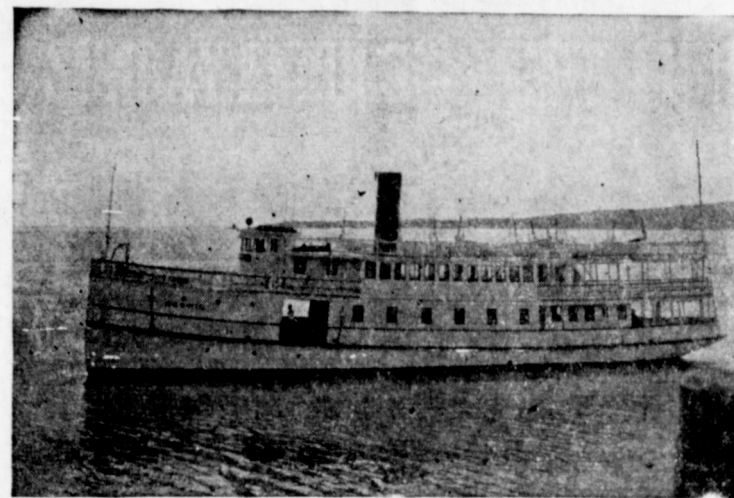

Mrs. Elden Colbath and children, Paul, Mary and Arthur are ill with mumps.

Frances Joyce is employed in Ellsworth.

Herman Staples, who has had an infected hand, went recently to Southwest Harbor for medical advice.
