MORNING BURGLARY AT UNION

Nearly $500 Worth of Goods Stolen From the Gorden Store

Burglars broke into the store of F. G. Gorden & Son at Union about 2 o'clock this morning and made a rich haul. Listed among the stolen articles were:

A new 30-30 rifle, a new 22 single deep sight rifle, five second hand rifles and guns, one radio clock, four red sweat shirts, 60 boxes of men's and women's stockings, four blankets, seven watches, two cartons of razor blades, one electric razor, five Philco radios (table type) one hunter's shirt, two sweat shirts, two sweed shirts, and a quantity of cigars and tobacco.

Entrance was effected by forcing the back door.

Suspicious sounds were heard but no alarm was given.

The burglary is being investigated by Sheriff Ludwick and Deputy Sheriffs Clarence Leonard and Ernest Gray.

The value of the stolen property is estimated at between $400 and $500.

Educational Club

The Woman's Educational Club held a profitable session at Mrs. Austin Smith's, Grace street Monday afternoon and evening. Four charter members, two life members, four vice presidents, and five key women were among those present. Four members have attended every picnic held this year. Mrs. Eva Loring recited "Flinders' Fields," Mrs. Ida Simmons read a poem entitled "My Prayer Today."

Mrs. Alden Ulmer, Mrs. Caro Jones and Mrs. Helen Gregory gave accounts of trips they had taken recently.

The Scriptural quotations consisted of Psalms repeated in unison. After the history questions on the Civil War and current topics, the remainder of the afternoon was spent in a discussion on the subject of "Character." Mrs. Guy Wilson read an article by Victoria Booth Demarest, entitled "Three Secrets of Success."

These secrets turned out to be personality, education and character. Personality was held to be a powerful asset if backed by character, but could be quite a force for evil if education and character were lacking. As, for example, the case of the European dictators. Education in the hands of a person without character was compared with putting a knife in the hands of a criminal character was held as the most important of the elements of success as this has been the outstanding quality of most famous personages of history. Abraham Lincoln being an example of this. It was also brought out that the success of the nation depends on the character of its citizens, for without faith and religion we would soon be in the position of the Dictator countries.

Mrs. Rich presented the questions in the character quiz which formed the basis of a discussion.

The evening session began with the customary opening exercises. Miller Burgen, local manager for the Coca-Cola Company, gave an illustrated talk on salesmanship, entitled "Along Main Street." Important in increasing sales are good will, neat appearance, friendly voice and manner, interest in the customer, knowledge of goods, enthusiasm, and treating the customer as a guest in one's home.

The right and wrong way of answering the telephone was shown by talking pictures as well as the correct and incorrect way of meeting customers and waiting on tables. The four steps in making a sale are: (1) Arousing attention and interest; (2) Thorough knowledge of the goods; (3) Being on the alert to notice a desire on the part of the customer; (4) Close the sale by asking for the order. As the sales force is often the only contact the public has with a concern, it is important that they make a good impression by a neat appearance, promptness, and courtesy, as people generally prefer to trade where these characteristics are in evidence rather than where they are lacking, though the products may be cheaper or more desirable.

The next meeting is to be held at the home of Miss Marion Weidman, Rockport, Nov. 7.

NATIONAL PARCEL POST MONTH

Office of the Postmaster General.

Washington, Sept. 29.

In this, the twenty-fifth, or silver, anniversary years of the establishment of the Parcel Post System, it is entirely fitting and appropriate that we set aside a month for special activity on the part of postmasters and all postal employees in the promotion of wider use of parcel post and its related features, the insurance and collect-on-delivery services. I have accordingly designated November as NATIONAL PARCEL POST MONTH.

The postal personnel has always co-operated in a splendid way in matters of this kind, and I urge everyone in our service, particularly during the month of November, to put forth every possible effort to the end that the advantages of parcel post may be brought to the attention of all of our patrons.

JAMES A. FARLEY,
Postmaster General.

SIX HUNDRED WERE THERE

Annual Meeting of Knox-Lincoln Farm Bureau Was a Great Success

With an attendance of over 600, the annual meeting of the Knox-Lincoln Farm Bureau was held at the Community Building in Rockland yesterday. The meeting was opened by the president, R. Bliss Fuller of Union. This was followed by an address of welcome by Edward R. Veazie, Mayor of Rockland. The secretary-treasurer's report was given by Henry Kontio of West Rockport. The following topics were discussed by the three extension agents: "Development in Agricultural Extension Work," by R. C. Wentworth, county agent; "Accomplishments in the Home Economics Program," by Esther L. Dunham, home demonstration agent; "Summary of 4-H Club Work," by Lucinda E. Rich, county club agent.

The principal speaker was Miss Dorothy George, director of the Vesper George School of Art in Boston. Miss George chose for her subject, "Art in the Home," and it was interesting to both men and women.

George Findlen of Fort Fairfield gave a meat cutting demonstration in the morning using a pig for this purpose. Mr. Findlen was also the song leader.

The program this year was put on by the communities of Knox County. The outstanding farmers and homemakers and Kitchen Contest winners were announced by Mrs. Alice True, county home management leader of Hope. Mrs. Ralph C. Wentworth, of Hope, was pianist for the day.

EDITORIAL

BRIDGE-MINDED TOWNS

Deer Isle and contiguous territory are bridge-minded to a high degree, and who can blame those localities, which after long isolation from the mainland see every day bringing them to a nearer realization of their fondest hopes. One year ago not so much as a bid had been submitted, and construction work was threatened by heart-rending delays and technicalities. Next Monday if weather conditions are favorable the first of the permanent suspension cables will be pulled across to Sally Point. The adjustment of these cables is an operation requiring the utmost care and has to be done in the night time after the cables, exposed to the sun, have assumed a normal temperature. To this end electric illumination has been provided, and the important task will be performed in the early hours of the morning. From that time on the visible progress on the new bridge will be very rapid, and when the sun begins to rise higher in the heavens next spring it will see the job on the verge of completion. Meantime materials are being assembled for the construction of the new South Deer Isle bridge which will have a span of 40 feet and will be 26 feet wide over all with a 22-foot roadway. The contractors are allowed 120 days in which to complete this job, but expect to have it ready for traffic when the new year begins.

THE WAGE-HOUR LAW

As might well have been expected there is some confusion to say nothing of dissatisfaction, relative to getting the wage-hour law in smooth working condition but the troubles will probably be remedied in a reasonable length of time. Some industrial plants have closed altogether, and the Postal Telegraph Company is laying off 1000 messengers because of the new law. The Western Union Telegraph Company is complying with the law until a ruling can be obtained from Administrator Elmer F. Andrews. Both companies sought to have their messengers excluded from the law's provisions, declaring reduction of personnel was the only alternative. At a recent hearing on the request, testimony was offered that many of the messengers received less than 10 cents an hour. The new law provides a minimum hourly wage of 25 cents.

A NEEDED SIDEWALK

W.P.A. work from which the city will receive lasting benefit is seen in the construction of the new cement sidewalks on Main street. But in our opinion a service fully as valuable would be given if a cement walk were laid on Limerock street, alongside the Court House. No need to tell any resident of Rockland how extremely unsatisfactory the present sidewalk is in the winter season because of the sloping angle on which it is laid, and the fact that it is nearly always covered with ice, snow or slush. Neither is it necessary to tell anybody that this is one of the most important walks in the city, traveled by hundreds of persons who visit the Court House, the Community Building, Grand Army hall, the Post office, Public Library, Knox Hospital, and three of the churches. We can conceive of no greater highway improvement which can be made in Rockland, at a comparatively small cost.

A SENSIBLE "WEEK"

There are so many "weeks" now that they have come to be a nuisance, if not an absurdity. But we do not think that anyone will take umbrage at "American Education Week," which will be observed in Maine Nov. 6 to Nov. 12, in accordance with the proclamation issued by Gov. Lewis O. Barrows. The Governor urges citizens to visit schools; to confer with teachers; and to "take an active part in the regular and special programs arranged for the observance of this 18th annual event. The observance is sponsored by the National Education Association in co-operation with the American Legion and the United States Office of Education.

UNFAIR TO MAINE

U. S. Senator Wallace H. White, Jr., is incensed over the terms of the reciprocal trade agreement between the United States and Canada, his particular grievance being that the subsidized Canadian fishermen and railroads have a decidedly competitive advantage over us. If there is anything that can be done to remedy these unfortunate conditions the citizens of Maine may rest assured that Senator White and other members of the Maine delegation will not permit it to remain undone.

THEY HAVEN'T SEEN

The American Institute of Public Opinion discovers through its survey that 55 percent of the "first voters" intend to vote Democratic in the November elections. It follows naturally that many new voters would support the Democratic ticket for they have not learned the lesson that older voters have experienced.

A COLLAPSING COW BARN

An unfortunate catastrophe was that which occurred over in the town of Leeds where a hundred-year-old barn collapsed killing more than half of a herd of 60 cows. It is not easy to criticize a farmer who has met with such a loss, but it should be a lesson to other farmers who find themselves possessed with farm property which is a menace. A lesson for their own good.

HABIT IS STRONG

The Boston Globe's chief proofreader for more than two generations has retired, and will live in Florida, "where," as the Globe puts it, "there are no typographical errors." But what's the use, he will be scanning the Florida papers for typographical errors.

IF AROOSTOOK SUCCEEDS

The proposal to make Aroostook County a separate State will be something of a two-edged sword politically. The Democrats would like to see Aroostook's natural Republican majority lost to Maine; but on the other hand it would mean additional electoral votes for the Republican party, and probably two new Republican U. S. Senators.

OUTING CLUB BANQUET

Those who were among the more than 700 who attended the annual Outing Club feast and evening of fun last fall will be pleased to know that another dinner is being planned for Nov. 15. This year, as last, the dinner and evening's entertainment are being sponsored by the Camden Commandery and the community at large.

To make this coming dinner as outstanding a success, it will be necessary to call once again on the entire county for the splendid type of co-operation so willingly given last year. Already many contributions of supplies and services have been offered.

To give an idea of the gigantic proportions of a feast of this kind one has but to look at some of the foodstuffs necessary to feed 700 people—400 pounds roast beef, 125 pies, 8 bushels potatoes, 8 bushels turnips, 8 bushels onions, 60 pounds butter, 50 dozen rolls, 35 dozen doughnuts, 50 pounds cheese, 24 quarts cream, 25 pounds coffee, milk, salt, pepper, sugar pickles and many other items. Elaborate plans are being made

"The Black Cat"

By The Roving Reporter

A small island outside the sham-rock-shaped pavilion being erected at the New York's World Fair 1939 by the Irish Free State is likely to become a shrine for the many Irish-Americans in this country who have not seen the old country for years. The isle is to be an exact duplicate in relief of Ireland. Lakes and rivers will be filled with water brought from such famous spots as the River Shannon and the Lakes of Killarney. The soil itself will come from the fields in the counties of Eire. veritable bits of the "ould sod."

It has evidently been a good season for turkeys. In yesterday's news broadcast I heard the announcer say that hens would average 10 pounds and toms 17 pounds. Which, by the way, is a reminder that Thanksgiving Day is slightly more than a month away.

Do they play the games nowadays that they did in my childhood? I have in mind Gorham, Kick Stick and I Spy, although I believe some called the last named game "High Spy."

In 1875 there was being published in this city a little two by two newspaper called The Mail, with Clarence H. Brown as editor and publisher. It could scarcely have been called a profitable venture as it carried (in the issue before me) only one advertisement, that of the Lynde Hotel—G. A. Lynde, proprietor and S. E. Kallioch, clerk. My eye caught this local item: "A State street man found a half grown pair in his apple tree last week. They are now in the House of Correction."

One of the most popular old time songs was "Aunt Dinah's Quilting Party." But in the old days I don't think they referred to her as "Aunt" Dinah as some of the modern radio announcers do.

I have been handed a copy of the Cleveland & Erie time card arranged for the special train on Friday, April 28, 1865, which conveyed the remains of the martyred President, Abraham Lincoln. The train and pilot engine were given positive Right of Road, and the agents train men and all employees were enjoined to exercise extreme care.

Sitting as guest speaker in the Martinsville Grange hall Tuesday night I found myself facing a distinctive place card on which, over my name, had been painted an exact likeness of The Black Cat against an orange background. The artist was James Verrier, who recently moved to St. George from New Jersey, and much to the satisfaction of St. George citizens has become a permanent resident there. He is an illustrator of unusual ability, and his work is found frequently on the cover pages of yachting and fishing magazines. My host on this occasion was Rev. John Wesley Stuart, son of Rev. O. W. Stuart, former pastor of the Littlefield Memorial Church, now in his third year at South Second Baptist Church in Martinsville and having a very successful pastorate there.

In former days when we had Supreme Court instead of Superior Court people were summoned to the sessions by the ringing of a bell. How long ago was that? And what bell was rung? This last question being directed to the present generation.

Do you know the definition of "twilight"? As given over WNAC yesterday morning it sounds rather different than the average person would suppose. Look it up.

One year ago: Harold Waldron's barn at Spruce Head was burned and the house was damaged.—The will of Edgar L. Rhodes, formerly of Glen Cove established a trust fund which might reach $100,000.00.—Five nickel machine operators were dealt with in Municipal Court.—Mrs. Parks Buker died at the age of 94.—Work began on the Crockett's Point keep plant.—Miss Margaret Flanagan died in Portland.

The painters have put the finishing touches onto the Woolworth block and in the same color have decorated the exposed end of the block adjoining on the northward. A good job on that corner, folks.

HALLOWEEN PARTIES

Recognizing that Halloween is an important social period The Courier-Gazette is asking its friends to furnish it with concise reports of parties which may be held. Telephone them to Mrs. Leola Noyes, 873-R, or to this office. Or mail them, if preferred.

Edith Stevens of Pleasant Point, a senior in English in the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Maine, has been admitted to the Major Honors Course, as one of nine seniors, having a high scholastic standing.

The police were called to The Brook early yesterday morning by a report that "drunks" were there making a nuisance of themselves. Patrolmen Sukeforth and Packard found no "drunks" but at the rear of Masonic block found two young men who were acting suspiciously and took them in custody. The men were John Archie Robbins and Charles Frazier, and the police say they confessed stealing two nickel machines, and a quantity of cigars and chewing gum from a neighboring store. They had broken the backs from the machines and obtained some of the contents. After which the machines had been dumped into the brook. At the police station the machines yielded $16.50 in addition to the sum recovered from Robbins and Frazier. Both men pleaded guilty and were bound over to the November term of Superior Court.

Coming Election

What Will It Show Compared With Fiasco of Two Years Ago?

One week from next Tuesday millions of American voters in 47 States will record their verdict again on Franklin D. Roosevelt and the New Deal. Maine voted in September and again went Republican.

Two years ago in President Roosevelt's re-election sweep, Republican party prestige fell to the lowest ebb either party has known. That was spelled out in the President's eleven million popular vote plurality over his Republican rival, Landon of Kansas. It was underscored in his electoral majority of 515, with only the eight votes of Maine and Vermont remaining in the Republican column.

And it was even more strikingly shown in the results of the 1936 congressional and gubernatorial elections. They gave the Democrats a 4-to-1 majority in the Senate and a 3-to-1 domination of the House. Thirty-nine of the 48 states had Democratic governors; only seven had Republican chief executives.

That is the background against which results of the coming election must be read. Yet that 1936

Democratic sweep cannot be tested on the same scales again this year. The American political system does not provide for any national popular vote totals in non-presidential years for comparison. Just now many of the voters participating in the Nov. 8 election will be expressing their views on Franklin Roosevelt and the New Deal can only be estimated on the basis of the total votes cast for governor, senator or representatives-at-large.

The "Solid South" appears as solidly Democratic as ever despite party warfare in the primaries. Only a possible handful of Republican House victories there is foreseen by any observers. The Senate is mathematically certain to remain in Democratic control, probably by a substantial margin.

That leaves the outcome of elections for the new House and of the 30-odd races for governor as the factors by which the 1938 drift of national opinion will be gauged. And the unknown quantity is now, as it was even the day before election in 1936, the personal popularity of President Roosevelt and his New Deal policies with the great mass of independent voters. These voters hold the balance of power and neither party registration figures nor the results of primary campaigns have given any real clue to their attitude.

The Camden team outweighed Rockland and the wet field was a handicap to Rockland's offense.

STRONG HEARTS AWAKE
(For The Courier-Gazette)
Strong hearts awake with poetic fire. Spend their scant time through life's fleeting hours
Dreaming, visioning soul's desire
Of Utopian gentleness, lacking strife
Devoid of meanness and touched with melody, sweet
Through days entire
Time moves, and striking forward,
Poets bring harmony through written line
Benish strife in verse heroic,
Carry thought of hope in love divine
Focus eyes to the stars, and like the eagle in flight
Soar high to glimpse the glory of the sky
The mysticism in a poet's heart
Breeds, harmony, gives flavor to his life
Seeking open ways and pastures far
Removed from strife
Nutriment comes to him in fields of light
Strength comes with glory of the night
Advance they dream with confidence
The poet bids the world
Make merry while the sun shines
Ere the darkness fall
Take courage by the hand and gently
Steer thy course
Prosperity in nobleness will follow in full force.

Lowell Thomas was pretty sarcastic in his reference to the beloved Col. Lindbergh and the Russians. It would have been at least polite for him to have given the truth to the public in a later statement.

Even the crows make a welcome "Caw, caw" these days when most birds have left—and how one enjoys watching the gulls!

A little girl was much intrigued by watching some gold fish in an out-of-door-pool in a charming garden near her home. She asked the owner if the fish had names and the lady said, "Oh, yes; This and That." "Which," said the little girl, "Is this and which is that?"

The exceedingly beautiful painting that the Rockland artist, W. P. Burpee, painted and presented to the First Baptist Church for hanging at the back of the sacristy is among the first, if not the very first, used for that purpose in any church in Maine. Since it was placed and so greatly admired, a number of other churches in the State have made use of this form.

Watch Children's Eyes for STRAIN!

Poor lighting is a serious matter. It may be the cause of eye defects that will not only hold a child back in school, but also throughout life.

Young eyes need plenty of light—well shaded, and free from glare. They need it, not in one place, but in every room in the house where any reading, studying or sewing is done. With the present low rates for current, ample light costs little, and is cheap eyesight protection.

The only way to be sure your home is properly lighted is to equip it with approved I. E. S. Lamps. Our stores have a wide assortment of beautiful new styles, reasonably priced.
