State Librarian Oliver L. Hall, speaking at the dedication of a tablet at the birthplace of Edwin Arlington Robinson at Head Tide Saturday, said, "Robinson has been characterized as the Merling of Modern poetry." Hall pointed out the spot was within a half-hour journey of "birthplaces of three other great American poets: Henry W. Longfellow, in Portland; Edna St. Vincent Millay, Rockland, and Robert P. T. Coffin, Brunswick.

MAINE CITIZENS FIRST

Tuesday, Aug. 1st, was an unfortunate date for residents of Maine who come under the classification of aliens or who could not prove their citizenship. Under the law passed by the last Legislature they became ineligible to old age assistance, and in their places (the number is estimated in excess of 800) will be placed an equal number of needy cases on the approved waiting list. It is of course unfortunate for those who have failed to become citizens, but it will be admitted by all fair-minded persons that the State should first take care of its own.

DO NOT FORGET HOMELAND

Some Knox County persons who find their vocations in other parts of the United States, lose, after some years, their interest in the affairs of their old home town. They do not always find in their old home newspaper the names which were once familiar, and they become weaned to new scenes and new friends. It is probably a part of the scheme of life, but it has its refreshing exceptions, and we are going to mention as two of them Albion B. Crocker of Somerville, Mass., who has been writing Knox County recollections for more than three decades; and William J. Hatton of Los Angeles, Calif., another regular contributor, who likes California and the Pacific ocean, but who finds many days when he would willingly swap both for a sniff of pine cones and a glimpse of the frothy Atlantic where it makes in over the ledges off Port Clyde. These two fine men are traveling the sunset trail, but with minds undimmed, and ears ever attuned to the magic word "Maine." The Courier-Gazette is proud to have their long-time friendship, and that goes for other contributors, regardless of their age.

HE'S NOT GIVING UP

We like the tone of a letter just received from Congressman Clyde H. Smith, relative to the Maine Inshore Patrol which we seem fair to lose at the end of the present month. As Congressman Smith has already told this paper's readers, he had assurance that the Department would take the matter up with him before it acted, but his first intimation of the proposed transfer came with Admiral Waeche's formal announcement that the die was cast—that the unit would henceforth be located at the Government depot in Southwest Harbor. In the course of the letter which we received from our Representative in Congress he said:

I want to say that I have not relented one inch of the way and have today delivered an ultimatum to the Coast Guard Division that will make them know that I am not going to give up too easily. In my communication I have asked them to show the actual saving to the government for such a transfer; also how it is possible for patrol boats located at Southwest Harbor to be of any use in the Kennebec River. I have received a protest from the Camden Board of Trade. I will not give up, as this is not my way.

THE TREND IN ILLINOIS

Dr. George Gallup of the American Institute of Public Opinion shifts the scene this week to Illinois, a former Republican State, which has been Democratic in the past two Presidential elections. The voters in that State were asked what they would do if President Roosevelt runs again in 1940. Thirty-nine percent said they would support him, and 61 percent said they would not. A small majority said they would prefer to see the Republicans win in 1940. The majority in this straw ballot might be small, but it is a tremendous reversal of opinion from three years ago and seven years ago. New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois, the three most populous States in the Union, have now evinced a Republican trend. Illinois Democrats favor Garner, Farley and McNutt in the order named, while Illinois Republicans say Dewey, Vandenberg and Taft, in the order named.

A GOOD WORKER

Senator Wallace H. White, Jr., of Maine, has been re-appointed a member of the Republican Campaign Committee. During his career in Congress Mr. White has been named on many important committees—and has justified being there.

Won District Prize

Miss Sadie Marcus of the Stonington Furniture Co., Rockland, has been awarded the District Prize in a national window display contest sponsored by Congoleum-Nairn Inc., Kearny, N. J.

With many hundreds of contestants entered in the Boston District Miss Marcus's attractive window display of Congoleum Gold Seal

Rugs and Congoleum Gold Seal By-the-Yard patterns, was chosen as one of the most attractive, winning her a cash award.

In addition every contestant is being mailed a handsome jewelry set.

Miss Marcus who has been associated with the progressive Stonington Furniture Co., ever since she graduated from Boston University, upon presentation of the prize by the Congoleum-Nairn salesman, said: "I have been handling Congoleum products since I joined my father in the furniture business and I support his judgment that Congoleum is a splendid, high quality floor covering, reasonable in price and up-to-the-minute in design. Every Congoleum sale helps make a new friend for our business."

Contributor Praises Cooks In Penobscot Bay Area, "Capital Of Vacationland"

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

I have just concluded a visit in the beautiful Penobscot Bay region which I am pleased to call the "capital of Vacationland" and it seems proper that I say a few words to summer residents and tourists if I may have the courtesy of your columns.

Much has been said and written of the beauties of this region and properly, but I have never seen in print one angle on this section which is all important to summer residents, tourists and year around folk as well. That is—that in no corner of Maine may be found such splendidly prepared food, served as well, in such attractive resorts, at such reasonable prices. This is a highly important factor, especially to the summer transient, and I wish to voice my experience that others may profit likewise.

My first experience was a most happy one when motoring along Route 1 in Camden, Mrs. Chamberlain's attention was drawn to an attractive eating place, called Ocean View Tea Room, which true to its name commands from one of its broad verandahs a view of Camden Harbor and the open sea beyond. Most obliging and competent waitresses served us well from the broad menu, topping off with delicious homemade ice cream.

Rockledge Inn saw us next day, located amid rugged scenery on Spruce Head Island, nine miles from Rockland over a fine road. Following the amazingly complete Maine shore dinner for which Rockledge is famous, we spent a delightful half hour viewing Mrs. Maker's lovely gardens. Next day motoring homeward from Augusta we were attracted by a remarkably homelike place in Warren painted immaculate white and standing high on a hill on Route 1 appropriately named Hillcrest. Proprietor Dillaway proved to be an old Bostonian and he certainly put us up a grand chicken dinner. The large house is beautifully furnished, up to the minute, so much so that we stayed the night.

Next day a brisk wind and shining skies drew us to the coast and we had the good fortune to go to Trails End, a charming place on beautiful Ash Point only three miles from Rockland. It was a shore dinner again with all the trimmings served from a spot commanding a magnificent view. A visit to beautiful Waldo Theatre in Waldoboro was recommended and with it a stop at Stahl's Tavern nearby and the meal set forth by the jovial proprietor, Clint Stahl, fulfilled every claim made for his establishment.

We had friends at Crescent Beach and joined them at dinner at Crescent Beach Inn. Our table commanded a view of scenic Mussel Ridge Channel and the cool, sparkling breath of Old Ocean added zest to our meal of delicious sea foods, appropriately specialized in by Proprietor George Sleeper who saw to it that everything was done for our comfort.

Stormy skies kept us indoors next and we decided to test the fame of Webber's Inn, just off the Main street in the heart of Thomaston's elm arched Route 1. A steak dinner unsurpassed was in order from the menu also featuring lobster, chicken and lamb chops daily. Next day a stop was made at the famous Community Sweet Shop in South Hope, one of the pioneers in local tea room history and Proprietor Mattie Powell proved again her right to the claim as one of Knox County's best cooks.

We also paid a visit to Life Saver Cabins—Pioneers in wayside catering trade on Rt. 1 at Warren were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Davis of Warren who started 18 years ago to serve Mr. and Mrs. John W. Tourist. Their start was in a small building, which business they expanded, opening up the new Life Saver in its present location on Rt. 1, Warren, nine years ago.

Our final visit was to a brand span new resort on Route 1 above Camden called Beloin's where we had a grand dinner of fried chicken. Mr. Beloin carries six specials daily.

There are other fine eating places in the section that we missed, but these certainly are an asset to Knox County and the coasted area.

We had a happy experience at Beach Inn, Lincolnville Beach, on Route 1, enjoying a grand chicken dinner while viewing the blue waters of Penobscot Bay with the ferry boat crossing to Islesboro. Another day we tried the fishing and swimming at Sandy Shores, Warren, on South Pond, and topped off with one of Mrs. Dorman's delicious lobster stews. The next day, enroute to Portland, we were intrigued by the name and stately pillars of Aunt Lydia's Tavern and found therein the same hospitality and fine cookery that prevailed in days of old. On the return we were told of Green Gables on Belmont avenue, Camden, just off Route 1, and found it a beautiful tea room with splendid cuisine and service.

Witham's Lobster Pound, what a fine name we thought and forthwith motored to the Rockport resort on Route 1 and found it true to its name, serving lobsters at their best under most original surroundings. Lack of space forbids me to tell the last part of our trip, but it will appear in a subsequent issue, telling of the other charming eating resorts we visited.

Stories Of Songs

To Be Told At the Camden Yacht Club, Under the Auspices Of Lions

The stories of American songs and song writers from the days of Stephen Foster to the present will be told with musical illustrations by Frederick V. Bowers, himself a successful song writer for more than 40 years, at the Camden Yacht Club next Tuesday, at 8.15. This is free

Summary:
25-yd dash, midget boys—Won by Derry Winslow, Camp Hinds, Raymond; William Walsh, Camp Hinds.

Will be reserved for the playing of old favorite songs requested by his audience, and he will tell the circumstances attending the birth of these songs.

Mr. Bowers' stage career has taken played in all the leading vaudeville houses, and in the hey-day of vaudeville played as often as half a dozen times in a single season at the historic Hammerstein's Victoria theatre in New York.

Mr. Bowers' song "Because I Love You" was played by royal command at the wedding of Queen Wilhelmina and was included by direction of Queen Victoria in the program of John Philip Sousa's concert before the Queen of England.

A native of Boston and a graduate of New England Conservatory of Music, he entered the stage by way of vaudeville, appearing in the Bijou in Boston when it was the only theatre of the late B. F. Keith. Through the years he starred in all the Keith and allied vaudeville theatres throughout America.

He is a pioneer member of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, organized in 1914 by his friend Victor Herbert to protect musical copyrights from infringement.

His piano talks on singer and songs often take the form of happy reunions with men and women who have applauded his stage appearances or who know him as a vital personality through the lasting appeal of his song creations.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

If I had my life to live again I would have made a rule to read some poetry and listen to some music at least once a week. The loss of these tastes is a loss of happiness.—Charles Darwin.

HERACLITUS
They told me, Heraclitus, they told me you were dead.
They brought me bitter news to hear and bitter tears to shed.
I wept as I remembered how often you and I
Had tired the sun with talking and sent him down the sky.
And now that thou art lying, my dear old Carian guest,
A handful of gray ashes, long, long ago at rest,
Still are thy pleasant voices, thy night-ingales, awake;
For Death, he takes all away, but them he cannot take.
—William (Johnson) Cory

"The Black Cat"

By The Roving Reporter

The famous Lindbergh-Carrel mechanical heart, the device on which the world-famous transatlantic flier collaborated with the world-famous scientist, is one of the focal points of interest in the Medicine and Public Health Building at the New York World's Fair. And there are probably enough unscientifically minded persons who will say that they had rather see Lindbergh.

"Where does Two Bush Island get its name?" asks a recent visitor, who adds that there's nary a bush on it. Maybe the popular light keeper, Harry Smith, can enlighten us.

I got this letter from my friend Fred C. Green of the Boston Transcript:

"Helen Gushee's symposium on epitaphs calls to mind that famous vaudeville monologist, James Richmond Glenroy, better known as 'the man with the green gloves,' who specialized in doggerel of that sort. An example was:

Here lies the mother of twenty-eight,
There might have been more, but now it's too late.

If Helen Gushee is ever in the vicinity of Surry, which lies between Blue Hill and Ellsworth and will motor down Newbury Neck a finger of land that lies between Union River Bay and Morgan's Bay, she will find two old seaside cemeteries, in the first of which (at the right side of the road) is one headstone that, to my mind, tops 'em all. It is a memorial to a small boy named Freddie Something-or-other who was drowned in Morgan's Bay around 1858 and the entire drowning episode is carved on the marble slab. There are the waves, an overturned boat, a large straw hat and a little face. Truly a startling result and one that I have tried in vain to get a good photograph of."

"What are those darned things?" asked Bill Thomas. Grand Army janitor, as he moved the lawn and came across some leaves which he didn't think belonged there. So off went the tips, and across the street from "The Laurie" came Bill Smith, highly indignant. "Why in the world did you mow those off?" he wanted to know. "Why would I want those weeds on this lawn?" retorted Thomas. "Weeds, your grandmother!" exclaimed Smith; "those are cucumbers I planted." And so today a dozen small hills of cucumbers are flourishing on the Grand Army lawn.

Mysteries of the photographic dark room are brought out in the open at the New York World's Fair. In two of the exhibits, photographic printers work behind amber glass instead of in the dark and the public can watch photographs being developed and printed.

A Pennsylvania woman phoned the repair man in a great state of alarm. "Quick!" she exclaimed, "the gas is leaking from my refrigerator and the house smells terribly." The repair man found no trouble with the refrigerator, but did chase a skunk out of the cellar. Moral: Keep your cellar windows closed and your refrigerator will be all right.

Out in Illinois on a rocky and hilly road stood two signs. One read, "Roosevelt Road;" the other said "Danger—Travel At Your Own Risk." Probably there was no political significance.

One year ago: The rebuilt steamer W. S. White went on the Vinalhaven run. Steamer Vinalhaven went into the discard—R. S. Smith of Northampton, Mass., said to have been the last person to talk with ex-President Coolidge, was a visitor in Rockland, guest of his sister, Mrs. Adelbert M. Clark—Archibald Miller, 88, died in Washington—Joseph B. Topping of Portland was elected as a successor to John R. Durrell on the High School staff—Kenneth Bradley, 8, suffered a fractured pelvis when he ran into a city sprinkler—Richard Mathews Hallett, Maine novelist, addressed the Rockland Lions—Mrs. Belle Frost was elected president of the Eastern Star Field Day Association.

Saw Familiar Faces

W. J. Hatton Was Interested In Jim Brennan's Baseball Team

Los Angeles, Calif., July 28
Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—
The July 20 edition with picture of "Jim Brennan's Baseball Team" caught my eye. It carried me back to my boyhood days. The names mentioned were all familiar to me—Frank Marshall, John Marshall, James Brennan, Chester Teel and Frank Hopkins.

I left Port Clyde 52 years ago therefore I am not familiar enough with the faces to tell who they are. I venture the assertion that they are all gone, unless it is John Marshall; he may be living yet.

It would be a strange thing if a Californian writing to his friends in the East did not mention the weather. We have so much of the good kind that the weather man has repeated day after day "Sunny weather, with morning fog." Just enough foggy weather to keep the air cool. I think the Governor of Maine who is visiting the San Francisco Fair will confirm what I have said.

I enjoy The Courier-Gazette as much as ever. "The Black Cat" and editorials I always read first. Other things are interesting, too. The poetry and "This and That" deserves a good share of praise. Long may it live.

I long for the sight of the Atlantic where I lived so many years that I like me to next best, the Pacific. I have a cottage at Newport Beach and spend much of my time there. I can get fresh fish every day at the wharf. Rock cod, deep sea bass and many other kinds. They are not equal to a good haddock from George Brown's wharf but they are a good substitute. I think I have written enough—more later.

W. J. Hatton.

THEY FLY BACKWARD

Amazing Wing Motion of Humming Birds Revealed By Camera

How hummingbirds fly backward is explained for the first time by Dr. Charles H. Blake in the third issue of the New England Naturalist, the magazine of the New England Museum of Natural History in Boston.

These tiny birds, the only ones capable of backward flight, move their wings so fast that only the recent invention of a high speed camera has made it possible to study the wing motion. The inventor, Prof. Harold E. Edgerton of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, took the pictures used as illustrations in the New England Naturalist. According to Dr. Blake the hummingbird employs both sides of its wings when hovering. In much the same way that a fisherman uses both sides of an oar in sculling a boat.

In spite of the bulletlike speed with which a hummer approaches a twig, it lands with the lightness of a thistle-down. The take-off of this bird is extremely rapid. Dr. Blake says "a frightened bird made only three strokes before it finally let go of its twig, and the maneuver required only seven-hundredths of a second."

The annual poultry school of the College of Agriculture, University of Maine, will be held at Orono, Aug. 14 and 15. Further details may be had by writing to the college.

Camden Takes a Couple and Is Now Right On Rockland's Heel Taps

COMING GAMES

Tonight
Thomaston at Camden.
Friday
Thomaston at Rockland.
Camden at Rockport.
In the event of postponed games being played will the managers please notify this paper.

The League Standing

Rockland and Camden are drawing away from their competitors, but lots may happen in the nearly four weeks of playing season which remains. Camden is only one game behind Rockland. The standing:

	W.	L.	P.C.
Rockland	12	4	750
Camden	12	6	666
St. George	10	9	526
Rockport	9	9	500
Thomaston	6	10	375

Darkness and disputes caused the calling of last night's game at Community Park in the eighth inning. The score was Rockland 10, Rockport 10. At St. George Camden won 12 to 6. The visitors scored five runs in the first inning, but St. George tied in the fourth only to see Camden pull ahead again. Bennett pitched a fine game. Davidson was on first sack for St. George and got a fine hand.

Camden 4, Thomaston 3
Camden fans were provided with a thriller Tuesday night which served to take that Belgrade taste out of their mouths.

It was 3 to 2 in Thomaston's favor when Camden went to bat in the last half of the ninth. The home team proceeded to set the stage with a man on each sack, and at that psychological moment a gent by the name of Dione stepped to the plate, swung a couple of bats viciously, discarded one and then proceeded to crack out a stunning single which brought in the winning run.

Sawyer and Dunbar were about even as to pitching honors. Chummy Gray plunked out two singles and two doubles to lead both teams, while Oney and Heald drove the ball into the heathes for triples.

St. George 19, Rockport 1

William J. Bryan's famous rallying cry "Sixteen to One" was outdone on the St. George ball ground Tuesday night when the home team fighting desperately for the capital prize, crossed the plate 19 times to Rockport's 1. Every man on the St. George team hit safely, the grand aggregate off Rockport's three hurlers being 23 bases, P. Wiley and Dowling each hitting for a total of four bases, Mackle made three singles and every man on the St. George team scored, the feetfooted Simmons and M. Wiley each scoring thrice.

While this was going on the surprising Cal Smith was holding Rockport to three hits, two of which (one a double) were made by Bohndell.

It was a one-sided rodeo from the start, but the climax came in St. George's last inning, when singles by P. Wiley, Lowell, Hawkins and Smith and a double by M. Wiley contributed to six runs.

The two shortstops, M. Wiley and Sandblom were the outstanding fielders, the former accepting all of his seven chances and the latter seven of his eight chances, including two beautiful stops. M. Wiley turned in a thriller on Snow's sharp grounder.

PRINTING INVENTION

Is To Have a Nationwide Celebration By Libraries, Schools, Etc.

The American Institute of Graphic Arts, aided by a grant from the Carnegie Corporation of New York, has appointed a committee to co-ordinate a nationwide celebration by libraries, schools and book and magazine publishers in the United States of the 50th anniversary of the invention of printing from movable metal type next year, it was announced by the

An All-Time High

Was Maine Auto Fatality Record For the Month Of July

The accident record for the State of Maine at the present time is unable to show any decrease in automobile fatalities. The record remains the same, possibly due to the fact that the people of the State have not shown a wholehearted desire to eliminate fatal accidents caused by careless drivers and inattentive pedestrians. The past month brought death to 21 people in our State which was an all-time high for any monthly period so far this year.

Directing attention to county records, most noticeable is the sore eye that the County of Cumberland gives to the rest of the State. There have been more people killed in this one county alone, than within the environs of any other two counties. It not only is a shameful record but one that should be curbed through engineering, education, enforcement, and a public that wants motor vehicle deaths stopped. But glancing at the bright side of the accident picture, Waldo County must be given praise for its splendid record. It did not have a single fatality for seven months last year nor has death marred its perfect record to date this year. No record of achievement could be so outstanding as that of Waldo County.

Because the Highway Safety Division has recently received many requests concerning the meaning of the painted white lines that have been marked on our highways, we offer the following information. The broken white line indicates to the driver that the cars should be driven on the right hand side of the lines but it is all right to pass another vehicle going in the same direction if there is a clear view ahead so that the car may pass in safety. The solid white line on the approach of the brows of hills and around curves mean caution, slow down and keep to the right of the white lines. After going over the crest of a hill or around a curve in the road, it is proper to pass another vehicle if a clear and unobstructed view is ahead and where it is possible to pass without endangering on-coming traffic.

Increased speed showed an upward trend as four more deaths were added to the already highly mounting toll of victims from this cause. Rehearsing the evils of modern driving every month is not going to cure them.

Institute in New York recently.

The committee headquarters will be at the American Institute of Graphic Arts in New York and will be known as the Committee for the National Observance of the Five Hundredth Anniversary of the Invention of Printing from Movable Types. It is under the chairmanship of Henry Watson Kent, secretary of The Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Van Arnam Coming

Billy Barty Of Motion Picture Fame With This Tent Show

Warren L. Warren, general agent for John R. Van Arnam's Tent show, was in the city this week arranging for the appearance of this well known feature. Warren advises that Van Arnam on his 25th year in show business has arranged one of the most unusual attractions ever carried with a tent show. Through an old Syracuse University classmate, Harry Joe Brown, one of Hollywood's greatest movie directors who directed "Alexander's Ragtime Band," Van Arnam was able to secure the services of "Billy Barty" who has appeared in over 100 "Our Gang", "Mickey McGuire" comedies, as well as over 26 full length features with stars like Eddie Cantor, Carol Lombard, Rudy Vallee, Dick Powell, Clark Gable and many others.

Billy's mother and father travel with him as well as Billy's two talented sisters, Evelyn and Dolores. Fatty Layman, star of many Universal Comedies and featured in "Hopalong Cassidy" westerns will work with Billy, also Audrey Denison, famous dancer in many of Paramount's musical pictures.

Billy Barty is eight years old, weighs 60 pounds and has worked in pictures since he was a baby. The above seven Hollywood movie stars are just an added attraction with Van Arnam's 25th Anniversary Show, which still features and brings Charles Williams, the funniest comedian on any stage, a chorus of beautiful girls, Stanley Adams Swing Band, Ray-mond, the master of magic, the Four Jolly Tars, the best of all comedy singing quartets. The tent will be erected on Pleasant street show lot but one night only, and the date is Tuesday, Aug. 8.

Justice Harlan P. Stone was a visitor in this city yesterday. He is summing up at his estate on Isle au Haut.

In response to a number of inquiries Winslow - Holbrook Post wishes it known that it is not sponsoring the carnival on Park street.

C. W. Hopkins has bought the Bay View Garage property in Camden from Ensign Otis, receiver of the Security Trust Company. The deal was made through Freeman S. Young's real estate agency.

Supt. A. E. McAlary in Augusta on business yesterday, found himself in the business section at the time a reception was being given for Donn Fendler the hero of Mt. Katahdin. "Mac" confesses that he felt a lump in his throat as he saw the brave lad was lifted from a car.

Get Fine Glimpses Of the World's Fair, Thanks To Wilbur Senter

Rockland Lions yesterday were provided with a comprehensive view of the New York World's Fair, through the eyes of Wilbur Senter's technicolor motion picture camera. All of the principal buildings were shown, as they appeared by day, and again under night illuminations. Many other scenes included the World's Fair Mounted Police, Corporation Scot Train, Goodrich Speed Track, Trylon and Perisphere, 64 foot statue of George Washington, statue of The Worker, Gardens on Parade, Houses of Tomorrow, Midway in Amusement Area, Arctic Girls, Grants Causeway in Ireland and Blarney Stone. 276 foot parachute jump, train in Children's World, Lagoon of Nations with fireworks. Mr. Senter spent five days at the Fair and used his time and eyes to the best advantage. The pictures were thoroughly enjoyed.

C. Earle Ludwick and Frank A. Tirrell, Jr. were appointed entertainment committee for September, and Samuel E. Norwood and Dr. Gilbert Soule were named for the October committee.

Money was raised on the spot for the purchase of a boat for the Sea Scouts.

Dr. A. H. Chase of the Boston Club received his usual cordial greeting.

County Treasurer I. Lawton Bray is having a cottage built at Crescent Beach.

Stewart O. Minnick of South Carolina was fined $100 and costs in Municipal Court yesterday after being convicted of drunken driving. He appealed and furnished bail. Frances Brodis of Camden paid $20 and costs, for felonious assault upon Fred E. Knight.

Thomas M. McLaughlin, Maine Central agent in this city 11 years, died in Bangor yesterday of heart disease. Promoted to assistant superintendent on the main line he was at Waterville for six years, going to Bangor in 1918. He had been superintendent of the eastern division since. He was 70 years of age.

The class of 1910 Rockland High School will hold a reunion Tuesday, Aug. 8 at "Green Gables" in Camden. All graduates and classmates, together with their husbands and wives, are urged to attend or send greetings. Those who wish reservations will please notify Mrs. Dana Newman, telephone 242-R, at the earliest possible moment. Transportation will be provided from Post Office Square at 6:30.

Captain Trask and members of Blue Bonnet Troop Girl Scouts who have been having a house party at the Pearl Tibbetts cottage, South Pond, have returned home. The girls had many guests including members of For-Get-Me-Not troop Girl Scouts of Warren. Those girls who made up the party Monday through Wednesday were: Dorothy Trask, Mary Perry, Esther Munro, Aimee Karl, Mary Pion, Clara Lowell, Barbara Boardman, Janet Smith, Betty O'Brien and for the remainder of the week Dorothy Trask, Mary Perry, Joan Hunt, Priscilla Clark, Beverly Glendenning, Patricia Perry, Emma Lou Peaslee, Charlotte Cowan and Corinne Smith, Dorothy Trask and Mary Perry spending the week free on Scout Merits earned the past year. Eagerly the girls awaited news of Boy Scout Don Fendler. So happy were they upon learning of his safety that they immediately sent messages of praise and congratulations to the boy whom they termed to be "one of the bravest scouts in the world."

About Old Horses
John C. Howes Has One 38 Years Old and Had One 39 Years Old
Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—
While reading an article in The Courier-Gazette of recent date about the age of horses, one writer said he had a horse 31 years old recently gone to his rest—ripe old age. I have two horses, one foaled by the late Alfred Poland, which I bought of his widow, when the mare was five years old, and we know she was 38 years old last June. Sound as when foaled and shy as a colt.

I have a mate to her and although I don't know her exact age, good judges say she is as old as the Poland mare. They have mowed, raked and hauled in between 20 and 25 acres of hay this season.

I had a horse given me by one of the late Sidney M. Bird's sons that I kept until he was 39 years old. Sound and smooth and fat as a pig when I had him laid away.

My motto is: "Take good care, feed well and they will live to a ripe old age."
John C. Howes.

Lawrence P. Kalloch, who has been receiving treatment for infection of the right hand, at the State Street Hospital in Portland, returned home Sunday much improved.

Reception to Pastor
The lawn at the Baptist Church lent itself Thursday night to a delightful reception by the Ladies' Circle to Rev. W. S. Stackhouse, newly elected pastor of the local Baptist Church and his family.

House and Buildings Burned
Fire of unknown origin destroyed the barn, house and connecting ell on the farm of Ray Spear, Tuesday night, with a loss estimated at $8,000, which was partially covered by insurance. Mr. Spear and Stuart Gross of Rockland were in the dining room, when Mrs. Oliver Brazier, mother-in-law of Mr. Spear called their attention to the lighted yard.

Warren and Thomaston fire departments were called but as no water was available except in the well near the blazing barn, they could only stand helplessly by while the fire spread rapidly to the ell and the house. Jean and Jack, the two Spear children, asleep at the time were taken to the house of a neighbor for safety. Neighbors meanwhile were able to remove the silver, and much of the furniture from the lower floor of the home before it was consumed by the flames. Very little clothing was saved. A cow, calf, and two cars were lost and several cords of wood. Mrs. Spear who had been spending the evening in Friendship arrived home shortly after the fire was discovered.

NORTH HAVEN
Suffered Severe Burns
Presence of mind was the means of saving her life yesterday when Mrs. J. E. Martelle rolled herself in a rug to smother the flames when her clothing caught fire from an explosion caused by the pouring of kerosene on embers in the kitchen stove.

Suffering severe burns, she was rushed to Rockland in a boat by Herbert Grant, caretaker at the summer estate of Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow after she had been given first aid by Dr. Dana Farnsworth, and is a patient in the Knox Hospital. It is believed that the woman will recover.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES
This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, grating up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

A MAID CALLED MILLS
Whom You Will Take To Your Heart When She Talks About Household Matters

BROADCAST BY MARJORIE MILLS
(Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 1:30 p. m. over Stations WNAO, Boston; WTAG, Worcester; WCHS, Portland; WTIC, Hartford; WICZ, Bridgeport; WEAN, Providence; and WLBZ, Bangor).

People who love old houses, antiques and beautiful interiors will be making a pilgrimage or a "peregrination," as it's called to the historic house of Marshfield and Duxbury, open this afternoon for the benefit of the Winslow House. How richly they'll be rewarded for their effort in that direction we know, having had a preview of five of the eight houses. Any one of the houses we thought well worth the dollar admission and the eight will constitute a rare afternoon.

There's the home of Judge Arthur Beane on Washington street, a fine example of a ship captain's house built about 1790 with the finest collection of early American furnishings we have seen outside the museums. The seven-foot fireplace with its mantle lined with old pewter; the dignified drawing room with Chinese tea paper in silver flecked with red, duckfoot wing chairs and tambour; the dining room with Palais Royal scenic paper, corner cupboard filled with Fitzhugh Lowestoft and the upstairs chamber where every canopied bed, every high boy, old print, length of Chintz and wall paper is so exactly right as to constitute perfection. Judge and Mrs. Beane have shown the same discrimination in collecting that the committees who buy for museums must exhibit.

Guests in Duxbury today will wander up the flagged path to the old King Caesar home, the stately home Ezra Weston built around 1775 overlooking Duxbury harbor. Scenic papers that date back 125 years hang on the walls of the King Caesar house, now owned by Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Bumpus.

Intricate paneled wood work and fireplace and ceiling friezes carved on long voyages by ship's carpenters adorn the house and a steeple stolen by pirates from some Spanish church, then taken by King Caesar's men from pirates adorns one wing of the house. There's a bricked-in smuggler's cellar and a compass set in the flags leading to the front door as reminders of Ezra Weston, the biggest ship owner of his day.

At Plumfield, Thomas P. Murray has assembled a collection of rare things from the far corners of the earth and from Cape Cod, arranged them against a lovely background of paneled woodwork, fireplaces tiled in lavender, recessed windows looking out toward the sea. Color harmony, serenity and charm make Plumfield unforgettable.

The Gamaliel Bradford House is now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bittling and the exterior has been one of our Duxbury loves for years. The dignified facade of soft-hued old brick with a towering smoke bush growing against it, the terraced garden at the side which there's reason to think was laid out by Acadians brought down under Governor Winslow. The walls of the Bittling house are hung with paintings, etchings and sketches by famous artists as well as many of Mr. Bittling's own paintings. The rooms are lofty, spacious, beautifully proportioned and full of an effortless charm and dignity.

The earliest of the houses is Mr. and Mrs. Albert Geiger's, built in 1654 with beams and old paneling as fine. Ned Ford believes, as that from the Ipswich house now in the Metropolitan Museum. Gun stock and summa beams, hall flooring of old brick, original bulseye glass lights and other unspoiled 17th century features will delight visitors. All in all, Duxbury and Marshfield will have a rewarding afternoon for those who make the "peregrination."

Cherry Conserve
Two quarts cherries, 3 oranges, 1 pound seeded raisins, ¼ cup chopped nut meats, 4 pounds sugar. Seed the cherries. Grate the rind of the oranges and cut the pulp into small pieces. Remove the seeds and tough connecting tissues. Add the oranges to the cherries and the raisins. Cover with sugar. Let mixture stand for one hour. Put on the fire and cook for 30 minutes. The temperature of the mixture should be kept at about 218 degrees F. This means that the mixture will boil slowly, not bubble and boil up. After taking from the fire, add the chopped nuts and pour into glasses. Seal.

Devilled Crabs
One-half cup Land O Lakes Butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon paprika, nutmeg, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, one tablespoon lemon juice, 2 cups crabmeat, ¼ cup buttered crumbs.

Melt butter, stir in flour and add milk. Cook, stirring constantly until thick. Add seasonings and crab meat and pack into crab shells or into a greased casserole. Sprinkle with crumbs and brown in a moderate oven, 350 degrees Fahrenheit.

Peach Tarts
Cover six peaches with boiling water, let stand one minute, and remove skins. Cut in quarters and arrange in four pastry lined tartlet shells. Add the juice and rind of one lemon. Sift one-half cup granulated sugar and one-eighth teaspoon salt together and sprinkle over the fruit. Cover with thin strips of pastry and bake in a hot oven (450 degrees F.) for five minutes, then reduce heat to moderate (350 degrees F.) for 25 minutes. Remove from oven and sprinkle with two tablespoons powdered sugar and one-eighth teaspoon mace or cinnamon.

Kent Fruit Pie
Cherries, raspberries, red currants, sugar, salt.

Use equal amounts of fruit, add sugar to taste and salt. Bake in deep dish pie plate which has been lined with pastry, and cover with top crust. This makes a very juicy pie. (Sent in by Edith MacDonald of Beverly, Mass.)

CUSHING

Artistry At Its Height

The program to be given Friday night at Acorn Grange hall, South Cushing, by the Wellington Smith studio promises to be of unusual interest. Mr. Smith is bringing several newcomers.

Myrdred Foley Tremplé, one of the most distinguished readers and play-directors, will give a scene from "Paola and Francesca," by Stephen Phillips.

The Henschel Ladies Quartet of Providence, Mrs. Angelica Bacon, first soprano; Mrs. Ruth Dresser, second soprano; Mrs. May Miller, contralto; Mrs. Esther Slade, alto; and their accompanist, Alma Brewster, will sing several selections. The quartet is coaching with Mr. Smith.

Others to appear will be Rand Smith, well known here from previous appearances; Mrs. Kathleen Cosgrove, soprano of Belmont, Mass.; and David Baker, baritone, of New York.

Mr. Smith, by special request, will also sing a group of songs.

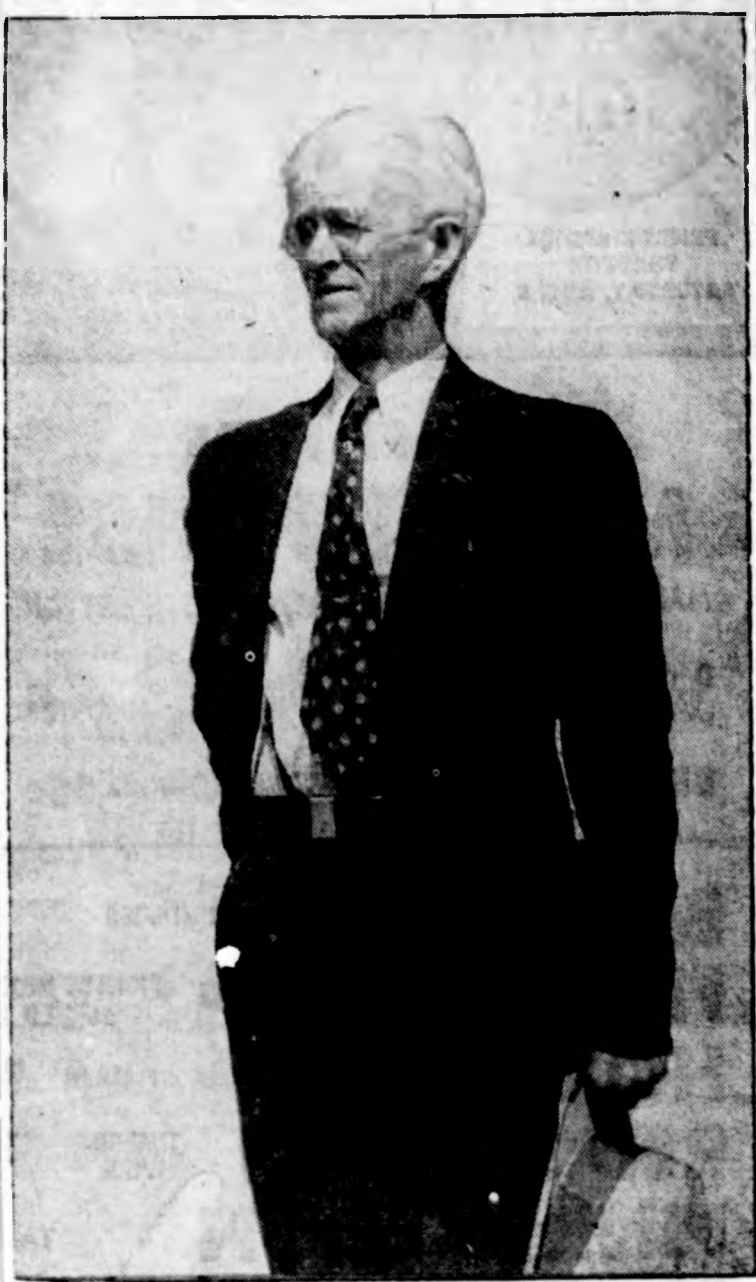

"If there be some weaker one, Give me strength to help him on, If a blinder soul there be, Let me guide him nearer Thee."

—John Greenleaf Whittier

Today well lived makes every yesterday a dream of happiness, and every tomorrow a vision of hope. The church is the place where with the least static most people can listen in on Heaven.

And also the Lord's Supper. Mrs. Gray will speak in the evening.

AWAY TO A FINE START

Boys' Club, 2nd: Lillian Van Ameringen. Camp Coaquannock, 3rd. Time 1 minute 23 2-5 seconds.

In the diving contests Mary Brackett won over Ann Hersey by 10 points with Trent Chitt third, all of Camp Coaquannock. Santa Dascanio of Portland Boys' Club gave an excellent exhibition in diving. He holds the State of Maine outdoor diving championship.

While these contests were going on the 17 foot Manchester Class sail boats of the Bucks Harbor fleet were racing under ideal conditions with the Tantrum owned by Birch Island Camp winning first place. Time 2 hour, 3 minutes 23 seconds. Minx, Arthur Fairley, owner. 2nd: El Time 2 hours, 4 minutes 29 seconds. If, Kathleen Andrews, owner, time 2 hour, 5 minutes, 17 seconds.

Gov. Lewis O. Barrows figured conspicuously on the evening program, leading the long street parade held at 6 o'clock which was composed of bands, 300 boy scouts, members of girls and boys camps, Marines from U. S. S. Leary, several beautiful floats, representing old songs, apparatus from several fire departments of Rockport and neighboring towns. He also delivered the welcoming address of the evening.

In the dual swimming meet between the Bunker Hill Girls' Club of Charlestown, Mass., and Portland Boys' Club Auxiliary, conducted under flood lights at 8:30 the results were as follows:

50-yd. free style—Won by Rachel Knowles; Jean Morgan, 2nd, Portland Boys' Club; Auxiliary; Agnes Byrnes, Bunker Hill, 3rd. Time 29 0-10 seconds.

100-yd. breast stroke—Won by Betty Kirvan; Jane Rice, 2nd, Portland; Katherine Miles, Bunker Hill, 3rd. Time 1 minute 23 2-5 seconds.

100-yd. breast stroke—Won by Eally White, Portland; Barbara Baldwin, Portland, 2nd; Anna Tipton, Bunker Hill, 3rd. Time 1 minute 21 seconds.

100-yd. free style—Won by Rachel Knowles, Portland; Jean O'Brien, Portland, 2nd; Helen Sullivan, Bunker Hill, 3rd. Time 1 minute 4 4-5 seconds.

100-yd. medley relay—Won by Portland Boys Club Auxiliary. Time 1 minute 49 7-10 seconds.

200-yd. relay also won by Portland. Time 2 minutes 12 6-10 seconds.

Total points won: Portland 42; Bunker Hill 4. The Portland team exhibited some excellent swimming. No records were allowed because the courses were slightly short. Rachel Knowles one of the winning contestants has just competed in the National Junior 220-yd. championship contest winning fourth place.

Five-dollar awards were given each winner in the street parade contest: Prettiest float, to the Try-to-helph Club, illustrating "Star Spangled Banner" with Mrs. Viola Spear as Columbia; most original, to Daniel Andrews, illustrating "Two Little Girls in Blue, with Ariene Dauetti and Carolyn Richards dressed in blue. This was practically a tie with "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep," illustrated by Camden Fire Department; funniest, "Hail! Hail! The Gang's All Here" illustrated by the German Band of Rockland; best single horrible, Robert Thomas.

Governor Barrows was tendered a banquet at 7 o'clock at Witham's Lobster Pound, with 50 in the party, composed of the carnival committee school board and leading citizens.

The Circus Boat

By John Hooper. Illustrated by Charles E. Pont and from the Stephen Daye Press. Here we have a thrilling story, even if it did happen over 100 years ago right in our front "ocean yard" to be exact at Stonington, and no other circus on land or sea, had more happen to it than this one did.

"It's going to rain" said the captain.

"Yes, it's going to rain" said the cook.

"Well, I think it is going to rain," said the cabin boy. "And I told you so."

This circus boat sailed along the coast of Maine and the people still talk about it and how a whole circus unexpectedly swam to the shore at Stonington and were all saved. This ship was really the "Royal Tar" and this is the first story for children having its origin in that eventful night of 1836.

Many legends have grown up around the sinking of this circus boat but not one equals this one. Charles Pont's illustrations are most engaging and worth the price of this charming tale.

The News Of Bayside

Aquatic Meet Tomorrow Is the Talk Of This Popular Resort

The Saturday night illumination of the Bayside cottages and the Yacht Club is duly appreciated by the summer people and more and more cottages have their porches decorated with colored electric lights.

Several owners have tried to bring back the memories of the Old Campground by finding some colored Chinese lanterns and lighting them. This was the old method of decoration. This fine community spirit is what makes Bayside the model summer colony. Then the sail boat races Sunday cap the climax for a successful weekend.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Zwick with their four children motored through from New Britain, Conn., Saturday and are spending two weeks at Capt. Torrey's cottage "The Rockport."

The Rockport Regatta racing committee has issued an invitation to the Northport Yacht Club members to partake in their sail-boat races Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schwab of Bethlehem, Pa., are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Jack Bradshaw, who has been here for the first time this summer. Mrs. Bradshaw's home is in Oberlin, Ohio.

The first entertainment of the Northport Yacht Club at the Bayside Community hall last Friday night was very entertaining especially to the children who were entranced by Prof. Carlyn, a highly recommended magician, as he pulled a rabbit out of a hat and did scores of other interesting miracles.

The older people were apparently as amused and all enjoyed the movies of last years Regatta and the sail boat races. There was a record attendance as every seat was filled and even a few standing were in the rear.

Miss Ninette Joseph from New York is the houseguest of Miss Caroline Reed this week. Accompanied by Miss Reed's brother, Bruce Reed, they motored to Lakewood Monday to see "White Steed."

The annual aquatic meet will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the Yacht Club. The contestants may get their entry blanks in Belfast or at the Bayside Post Office and these should be handed in as soon as possible. THE BABY MACKEREL
Has an Average Life Expectancy of 27 Seconds, According to the Scientists

Scientists who have made scientific collections on the spawning grounds have calculated there may be as many as 500,000,000 mackerel eggs floating on a single square mile of surface at one time, reports American Wildlife Institute.

The principal spawning grounds of this fish are about 25,000 square miles. In that area there are often as many as 160 trillion eggs.

Prolific as it is, the mackerel has very little chance of living to a ripe old age. In 1932, from the time the eggs were spawned until the end of the larval life, or about 11 weeks, the mortality amounted to 99.9996 percent. That means that for every million eggs spawned, only four young mackerel were alive at the end of 11 weeks.

Under the unusual conditions of 1932, a baby mackerel had an average life expectancy of about 27 seconds, as a life insurance company might reckon it.

Miss Marion Brawn Called To First Baptist Church Of Melrose

At a recent meeting the Second Baptist Church of Holyoke, Mass., voted with regret to release Miss Marion Brawn from her present duties in order that she may become director of religious education at the First Baptist Church of Melrose.

Miss Brawn has just completed 10 years of service at the local church as pastor's assistant, serving three years with Dr. J. C. Sycamore and seven years with Rev. Benjamin P. Browne.

Miss Brawn has been efficient, popular and active in many organizations. She taught last year at Mt. Holyoke College, for several seasons has taught at Northfield conferences, and helped organize both the Westfield Association Committee on Religious Education and the Holyoke Council of Religious Education. Largely through her efforts the vacation church schools of several local churches were united in the present union vacation school. Miss Brawn has been outstanding in pageant work and in week-day religious education.

Miss Brawn will go to a larger church, where her duties will be devoted solely to the religious education work of the Melrose church, which has 1200 members. Miss Brawn also expects to study at Harvard part time, with a possible view to becoming a college teacher in her field.

The local church regrets her going keenly and in September will give a farewell reception to Miss Brawn. The farewell reception is in charge of Mrs. C. J. Yerber, Miss Doris Smith, Miss Bernice Lowry, Charles Alderman, Albert Farr.

The church also has appointed a committee to recommend a successor to Miss Brawn, the committee being Mrs. W. O. Harvey, Mrs. Helen Freeman, Atty. Clifford S. Lyon, Atty. George Whittemore and Perle Marrs.—From the Holyoke Daily Transcript and Telegram.

Miss Brawn is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Brawn of Rockland.

Rockland's City Engineer Is Dead—Managed Mines In the West

Richard H. Britt, city engineer, died at his home on Talbot avenue yesterday noon, after an illness of two months duration. He was a man of sterling qualities and a real student. A native of Cass County, Mo., he was born Aug. 10, 1861, being educated in the public schools there and teaching in his early manhood.

In 1888 he graduated from Missouri University and practiced his profession of civil and mining engineering for several years chiefly in the States of Idaho and New Mexico, being manager of silver and gold mines in both States.

He was in general business in Springfield, Mass., before coming to Maine having been a resident of Rockland the past 25 years, and was connected, at the time of his arrival here, with the Lawrence Portland Cement Company.

Mr. Britt has been city engineer for the past nine years, the outstanding project of his career being the planning and supervising of the engineering of the Rockland Public Landing.

He was married in 1911 to Grace Harrington of this city. Surviving him are his wife, one son, Richard, Jr. and one sister, Mrs. M. P. Overholser of Harrisonville, Mo.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2:30 at the home on Talbot avenue. Bearers will be Mayor Edward R. Veazie, William D. Talbot, Sumner C. Perry and ex-Mayor Leforest A. Thurston.

Cremation will take place Saturday in the Forest Hills Crematory at Jamaica Plains, Mass., and the ashes will eventually be brought to the family lot in Achorn cemetery.

Mrs. Elmer Smith of Lynnfield, Mass., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Benner.

A Delightful Day

Garden Club Members and Guests Entertained At Garthannon Lodge

It would have been difficult to find a more perfect day than Tuesday, when 17 members and guests of the Rockland Garden Club, were entertained at Garthannon Lodge.

The drive, with evergreens on each side, was beautiful, and the gardens gorgeous with blooms, the calendulas being especially lovely.

The many lovely blossoms were bewildering in their vivid colors, other miscellaneous groups being noted for their striking beauty in artistic arrangement.

Special attention was called to the lily pool, where imported bulbs sent forth enormous blossoms in many colors.

Buildings and grounds were inspected and generous information given by the teachers and hostess.

Dr. Potoczky, psychiatrist, a new director, succeeding Dr. Farrington, explained the research work in mental tests and measurements. The doctor, who has written several books on psychiatry, to aid the medical field in connection with retarded children, explained the purpose of the new salt water bath which is being worked out, and which will be in use next season.

The teachers told of the junior and senior departments, from kindergarten to High School work, several of the children having taken up shorthand and bookkeeping. Another group is interested in the study of music, and some of them are now working on Beethoven sonatas, which is quite remarkable.

Refreshments were served and Mrs. J. C. Cooley and her staff were showered with thanks for a delightful afternoon.

BECAUSE

Because of the need for deep consideration of the Knox Hospital "community drive that is taking shape for the near future in our city and county, we think an article that was used in a Western city hits so perfectly our case that we are giving this public the benefit of its philosophy:

"I believe in giving because I believe that the law of giving has been written into the book of life as indelibly as other natural laws. I cannot study the world about me and the people in it without observing that well-being, whether physical, mental or spiritual, depends quite as much upon what is given out as upon what is taken in. I believe in giving because I believe that life's good things were meant for all. I know that others covet for their loved ones the same comforts that I covet for mine. Yet for many things these are impossible save as I and others like me give. I believe in giving because only so can I be my greatest possible self. But if my life is to count in only that little realm which I may touch personally, I am indeed small and insignificant in such a big world. When I touch someone by giving, and that one touches another, and so on, I touch hands with all mankind. And finally I believe in giving because now and then I have caught the reflection of that radiant sort of joy for which my very soul cries out—and always it has been in the eyes of someone for whom living is giving."

Events At the Y. W. C. A. Camp Near Camden—A List Of Awards

The members of the Camden Rotary club and their wives were guests of Camp Tanglewood near Camden Tuesday afternoon and evening. The informal supper was served by the campers and the many tables were presided over by Miss Gladys B. Russell, camp director, and the counselors.

Sunday morning Rev. Frederick M. Meek of Bangor will speak to the camp girls in an out-of-door service in the council ring.

Sunday afternoon Miss Mildred E. Marsden will present the annual swimming pageant. The pageant will take place at 2:30 o'clock. Although it is visitors' Sunday no girls will be excused from camp until after the swimming hour, where on other visiting days the girls are excused from camp to have dinner outside with their families or friends.

On the coming Sunday they may go out to supper instead if arrangements are made at the camp. Girls in the various units may get permission to go out after swimming from the head counselor in their respective units—in unit one, Margaret Hatfield; in unit two, Alma Wray; unit three, Ruth Sylvester; in unit four, Mildred Marsden.

Unit one had charge of the weekly council fire service. They are the youngest of the camp girls, ranging in age from six to ten. Miss Hatfield directed the service and Miss Betty Day told stories of early beliefs of the use of fire. The fire lighters were Joyce Matthews of Bangor and Joan Chase of Milo. The little girls formed a junior choir singing "I Would Be True" and "Jesus Loves Me."

The first issue of the Tanglewood News was presented to the camp Saturday. It was under the supervision of Miss Polly Perry and Miss Elizabeth Wyman, Margaret Mersereau, Ruth Higgins, Phyllis Lipsky and Barbara Scribner.

Craft exhibit awards for the week were announced as follows: Leatherwork, Barbara Small, first, and Marion Dolson, second; felt work, Dorothy Smith, first; basketry, Betty Tilton, first, and Marion Dolan, second; metal bowls, Norma MacLaughlin, first, and Jean Winslow, second; metal bracelets, Virginia Howe, first, and Betty Tilton, second; wooden bowls, Marion Dolan, first; wooden pins, Jean Howe, first and Connie Nichols, second.

Miss Marie Louise Michaelson, Miss Birte Vollmond, Miss Priscilla Lovejoy and Miss Stella Young with Miss Barbara Derry at the wheel motored to Belgrade Lakes Wednesday to be the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Theron Hatch and the two Danish boys—Eric Oukel and Ib Vollmond. They were very much surprised and shocked to learn that Dr. Hatch's summer home had burned to the ground the night before and that the boys had lost practically everything they had brought with them from Denmark.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Simpson of Dorchester, Mass., are the guests of Mrs. Helen Walz at her cottage at Crockett's Beach.

WITH EXTENSION AGENTS AND THE KNOX-LINCOLN FARM BUREAU

Agriculture

Frank Johnson of Waldoboro reports good results with his cross-bred hens the past year. He has 1,200 pullets on range which will replace his present layers.

Harold Nash of Camden has arranged his pasture and fields into several plots which he rotates using an electric fence. He reports good results from his pasture work this year.

Several farmers report their water supply as getting low. Wallace Spear of North Nobleboro is planning to replace his shallow well pump in his driven well with one of the new rotary pumps.

County Agent R. C. Wentworth has started an orchard survey. All commercial orchards in the two counties will be visited and condition of trees checked. Several are placing orders for next spring delivery through the pool that is being conducted by Lovejoy Orchards, Inc., of Sanford. Information on this pool may be obtained from the county agent.

Several gardeners are using the new material known as Rotonone for control of lice on peas and various other insects of vegetables. This material is non-poisonous to humans but will destroy various insects found on vegetable plants.

Plans are being made for the annual auto tour of the Knox-Lincoln County Farm Bureau which will be held on Aug. 24. Farms and homes in Knox County will be visited.

With The Homes

A canning bee will be held Aug. 8 in Vinalhaven at 10 a. m., standard time, at the church vestry with the home demonstration agent, Esther Dunham, attending. A picnic dinner will be brought by members.

Miss Leone Dakin, foods specialist and M. G. Huber, agricultural engineer, will be in the county Aug. 7 to make calls on cellar co-operators.

Days scheduled for agent calls this week and next in communities are: Boothbay, Aug. 4; Union, Aug. 9; and Nobleboro, Aug. 11.

At the canning bee in Burketville 23 quarts of peas; five quarts of beans; and one quart of carrots were canned.

The total women's membership in Knox-Lincoln County is 517. Farm Bureau membership totaled 13,815 in the State on June 30, 1939, and is the largest total in eight years according to Richard C. Dolloff, county agent leader, Orono.

Many will soon be canning ripe tomatoes either to use as a vegetable next winter, or for juice. According to the Bureau of Home Economics, important points to remember are: As short a time as possible from vine to container; use knives of stainless steel; avoid kettles of copper, brass or iron to keep the natural tomato color and flavor in juice; never cook or even let cut tomatoes stand around in galvanized iron utensils as they will take up zinc and become poisonous.

4-H Club Notes

At a club tour in which all members of the Jolly Trollers 4-H club of Georges River road participated, July 27, each girl had an exhibit to represent the projects they were taking. These included, cooking and housekeeping, sewing, canning, room improvement, pig, and chick. A progressive luncheon was served in the form of several courses at different homes. Miss Ida Harjula is leader of the club.

Estelle Nutter of Damariscotta Mills received the highest score in a contest on judging the correct way of table setting which the club agent, Lucinda Rich, conducted with the Bluebird 4-H club of Damariscotta Mills, July 27. Refreshments in the form of a fruit salad, made to represent a candle, and fruit punch were served by the leaders, Mrs. Lorain Nilsen and Mrs. Shirley Swanner. This is the ninth meeting held by this club.

The We-Can-Do-It club of North Waldoboro had a club tour July 26, which started at the home of the leader, Mrs. Lulu Miller. Eleven projects were inspected including chicks, calves, cooking and housekeeping, and sewing. Each girl taking cooking served some article of food which she had prepared. This club has completed all possible requirements to date for a national seal of achievement—program of work, judging contest, public demonstration, and twelve meetings. The club tour will add 100 points toward their total club score.

Food and Health Habits was the subject of a meeting which the club agent attended of the Boothbay Gainers club when they met July 24 at Beryl and Mina Butler's home. This was the twenty-third meeting this year. All other requirements for a national seal of achievement have been met. Mrs. Mellic Goodale is leader.

Extension Meetings

The demand of Maine farmers for the most modern of scientific farming methods has shown no decline in 10 years of stirring change in the agricultural scene. This is revealed by the results of personal interviews with over 32,000 farmers throughout the Nation. The National Fertilizer Association, which conducted the Nation-wide survey, discloses that 60 percent of the Maine farmers questioned attended meetings and demonstrations conducted by county agents. A gain of 3 percent is shown over the number who reported attending meetings, in a similar survey made by the association 10 years ago.

Trips to the Maine Experiment Station and its farms and fields in quest of better farming information were made by more than 29 percent of the farmers.

That these visits to demonstrations paid a cash return is testified to by the fact that 92 percent of those attending meetings reported that they had received information of practical value from them.

Newspapers, magazines, radio and other reliable sources of farm information are given a large measure of credit for dramatizing and presenting to the farmer the idea that

Harold Brown was recent guest of his uncle Randall Philbrook in Rockland.

Mrs. Harold Burgess entertained members of the Sewing Circle at an all day picnic Wednesday at her cottage at Lake Megunticook. A basket lunch was served at noon and an unusually merry time was passed.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Robbins spent the weekend in Guilford.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Wilder of Boston and Mr. and Mrs. H. Bancroft Wilder Jr., of New York called on relatives and friends here recently.

The Sewing Circle is hard at work preparing for the annual fair which will be held Aug. 17 in the schoolhouse during the afternoon. A public supper will be served in the Orange hall followed by two one-act plays and a dance.

Mrs. Nellie Fish and Miss Laura Fish recently spent a few days at their home here.

Mrs. Esther Herrick is employed at Camp Merestead.

Word has been received here of the death of Margaret True, which occurred in Augusta last week. Mrs. True was the widow of George True whose death occurred last year. Both had been residents of this town for several years. A daughter Miss Olive F. True of Boston survives.

Funeral services were held in Massachusetts and burial was in Mount Auburn cemetery in Cambridge, Mass.

Visitation Day will be observed Sunday at South Hope Church. Services will begin at 10:30 and a basket lunch will be served at noon. Services will be held at Hope Corner Church the last three Sundays in August at 10:30 as previously.

Rev. C. Guy Robbins of Lawrence, Mass., will conduct the services.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer True and family were guests Sunday of their daughter Miss Katherine True at Camp Hinowa Litchfield.

Mrs. Grace Lincoln has returned to her home in Waltham after a visit at the Bills home.

GLENMERE

Mrs. Florence Trefethern of Elliott was weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wiley were supper guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Treat, Jr., in Thomaston. They were accompanied by Miss Rosa Teele and Miss Edith Harris who were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Simmons.

The Ladies' Circle will hold its annual fair Aug. 9 at Martinsville Orange hall. Mrs. Thankful Harris is chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Holmberg, daughter Marion and Mrs. Holmberg's mother of Rocky Hill, Conn., are at their cottage this week.

Byron Keene has returned to Rockland after spending two weeks with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Davis.

Correspondents and contributors are asked to write on Only One side of the paper better farming pays. The Maine Extension Service encourages interest in modern methods and is equipped to teach all covers the best farming practices available.

Lakewood Theatre

Because of constant inquiry this season the Lakewood Players will next week present "Whiteoaks," the famous play written by Mazo de la Roche from her popular novel of several years ago. "Whiteoaks of Jalna" was scheduled for production earlier in the season but a long list of hits many of them produced at Lakewood for the first time in New England by a stock company, kept "Whiteoaks" from the active list. Lately, however, so many requests have been received that Director Melville Burke decided that "Whiteoaks" must be done.

The big part in "Whiteoaks" is that of the 101 year old grandmother which was made a person; success by Ethel Barrymore who has had both a long run in New York and an extended tour on the road in the play. This role will be played at Lakewood by Jessamine Newcombe who is well known for her many fine characterizations. Miss Newcombe will be supported by others of the Lakewood Company including Fay Wray, George Macready, Grant Mills, Joseph Macaulay, A. H. Van Buren and Kathryn Givney.

The story of "Whiteoaks" is of the aged, but active grandmother whose relatives are scheming among themselves in order to secure her estate when she passes on. She is aware of their motives, subtle as they attempt to be. Her principal interest is in her grandson who wants to study music and it is he to whom the property eventually is left.

The current play "The White Steed" is proving better liked and more entertaining than "Shadow and Substance" by the same author, which was produced earlier in the season.

APPLETON MILLS

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Calderwood and children, of Woronoco, Mass., are visiting her mother, Mrs. Grace Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. James Emery who were guests of Mrs. Adella Gushue, have returned to Pawtucket, R. I.

WHY NOT ADVERTISE IN THE COURIER-GAZETTE

Fascinates Young

"Real Boys and Girls Go Birding," written by Jack Van Coevering, J. P. Pippinot Co., Publishers. This is a most charming and instructive book for the study of boys and girls in the intimate adventures with birds. The very clear and informing pictures are actual photographs of the birds and their lives and methods, and real photographs of the boys and girls as well who have taken this nature course with the author, Jack Van Coevering.

He tells us in the introduction that when he told these stories to his own children they always asked for more. And when he began to write them he thought other boys and girls would like them too. The study of our bird life, our plant life, and our trees will put character into the hearts of the young and joy for all their lives.

This book is not only fascinating for the young, any age can get keen enjoyment and instruction from its nature studies. Mr. Van Coevering was a farmer boy and much of his boyhood was spent roaming the woods when from early youth he took photographs. This book is perfect for Boy Scouts and any campfire group of any age, and is authentic. Read it, study it, and begin a new enjoyment of life and birding.

"I'VE LEARNED LOTS FROM OUR NEW FORD!"

"I've learned what a difference 8 cylinders make!" She's right! Drive a Ford V-8 and see for yourself. All American high-priced cars have 8 cylinders or more. But only the Ford in the low-price field!

"I've learned that powerful brakes don't require a powerful tool!" Right again! With the biggest and most powerful hydraulic brakes ever put on a low-priced car, a Ford V-8 is still effortlessly easy to stop... or start, or steer.

"I've learned that being thrifty needn't mean being 'cheap'!" Smart lady! With its rich interiors and touches of Lincoln-Zephyr styling, Ford V-8's the style leader at its price... and also the proved economy leader among leading low-priced cars!

"I've learned that even traffic driving can be fun!" Of course! Fords have always been famous for handling ease, and this one's the best ever! Responsive to the accelerator, the wheel, the clutch, the brakes. And almost ridiculously easy to park!
