Fire Prevention, As Far As Clothing Is Concerned, Discussed This Week; Two Fish Dish Recipes For Lent

Hello Homemaker:

There were seven clothing leaders at the Shirts For All the Family Training Class held at the Farnsworth Building, Wednesday. They were Mrs. Gladys Patrick, South Waldo, county clothing leader; Evila Bain, South Waldo; Mary Gurney, Appleton; Viola Littlefield and Mildred Harjula, Thomaston; Marion Wyllie, Warren; Elizabeth Simonton, Simonton. The leaders are attending these construction schools and then teach the techniques to those enrolled in their own local school.

Speaking of sewing, fabrics etc., do you consider the fluffy or fuzzy garments that are not suitable for kitchen work or for wear near any flame or strong heat? Smooth, closely woven fabric for women's work clothes for both convenience and safety, are best. Fuzzy fabric, especially knitted fabric with brushed-up nap, has air spaces around the lightweight fibers which helps keep fire alive, once it catches. Most people know that fluff burns more readily than a solid mass, but many don't apply this knowledge to the clothes they wear in cooking, burning trash outdoors, or on other occasions when there may be a fire hazard.

However, different fabrics burn very differently. Wool smoulders but rarely flames, tends to curl up and choke out fire. A brushed wool sweater that accidentally comes against a hot stove, for example, may have the nap badly singed but probably will not burn down through the foundation. In contrast, untreated rayon or cotton blazes when it burns, will continue burning if not put out, and is even more of a fire hazard with a fluffy nap. This is why so much research has been done on flame-proof and fire-retardant treatments for these fabrics. Acetate fabrics also blaze, but then the burned edges pucker and curl as they melt to a hard, brittle mass. Nylon melts rather than flames, but, in melting, forms very hot glassy beads that can burn skin in contact with them.

Because so many fabrics today are mixtures of different fibers, finished in different ways, the consumer cannot know which are safe against flame unless this information is given on the manufacturer's label. But anyone can use the common sense precautions of keeping fuzz away from high heat and not wearing clothes with long loose sleeves, scarfs, ties or trimmings that may be dangerous around stoves, hearthfires, or bonfires.

Fish Steamed in Tomato Sauce

Two pounds fish fillet, 2 cups tomatoes in cooker with rack, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1 bay leaf, 1 T. onion, minced, 1/2 tsp. pepper, 1 T. butter.

Cooking with pressure cooker: Place fish on rack. Add other ingredients. Cook seven minutes at 15 pounds pressure. Reduce quickly. Cooking without pressure cooker: Place fish in baking dish with with well fitting cover. Add other ingredients. Bake at 350° one hour.

Fish Pudding

One pound fish, 2 cups water, 1 bay leaf, 1 small onion, sliced, 1 small carrot, sliced, 1/2 cup butter, 1/4 cup flour, 1 tsp. salt, 1/2 tsp. pepper, 1/2 tsp. dry mustard, 1 cup milk, 1 cup fish stock, 1/2 cup buttered crumbs.

Cook fish 10 minutes in water with bay leaf, onion and carrot, saving stock and separate fish into larger flakes, removing skin and bones. Make a paste of butter, flour, and seasoning. Gradually add milk and stock and cook until smooth and thickened, stirring constantly. Mix with fish, turn into greased casserole. Top with buttered crumbs and bake at 350° F. (moderate oven) 20 to 30 minutes.

Sincerely,
Winifred Ramsdell,
Home Demonstration Agent.

"Canned Feed"

Massachusetts Agronomist Donaldson To Be Feature Speaker On Silage

"Canned pasture feed for winter use" is the intriguing title that Ralph W. Donaldson, of Amherst, Massachusetts, has announced as the title of his lecture on the forage program during Farm and Home Week at the University of Maine, March 31 to April 3. Donaldson is Extension agronomist at the University of Massachusetts. His talk is scheduled for Tuesday afternoon, April 1.

By canned cow feed he means grass silage, a feed which has increased rapidly in popularity among Maine farmers especially those who are co-operating with the Maine Extension Service in the New England Green Pastures Program.

Joseph A. Chacka, agronomist for the Eastern States Farmers Exchange, Springfield, Mass. will also speak on the Farm and Home Week forage program. "Joe" Chacka is well known by Maine farmers. While he was doing research work at the Maine Agricultural Experiment Station before going to Massachusetts he frequently spoke at farmer's meetings in various parts of the state.

Third speaker will be Charles H. Moran, of the Maine Agricultural Experiment Station, on the ladino clover cycle. Moran has done much research on pasture forage crops. His recommendations for fertilizer treatment of crops, prepared in co-operation with Oscar L. Wyman, crops specialist, Maine Extension Service, is now in the hands of most commercial farmers in Maine.

It is very easy to find a lot of good things about people if you are looking for them.

THE GRANGE CORNER

NEWS OF THE GRANGES IN KNOX AND LINCOLN COUNTIES

Seven Tree Grange

Seven Tree Grange met recently with 27 members present. There were guests also from Georges Valley, Pioneer and White Oak.

It was voted to send Lecturer Florence Calderwood to the lecturers' conference in Augusta in March.

An invitation was accepted from Weymouth Grange to meet with them Monday evening, Feb. 25.

Sister Juanita Hawes reported receiving $11 from the card party. It was voted to hold another card party at the hall, Wednesday evening, Feb. 20. Arrangements are in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Hill.

Seven Tree Juveniles will hold a special meeting in the Grange hall, Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 20 and the Extension Association will furnish a program.

Master George Day declared the offices of assistant steward and lady assistant steward vacant, and announced we would elect someone to fill those offices at the next meeting. The offices were held by Joe and Elaine Robbins, the former having entered the service and the latter is employed in Massachusetts until her husband returns.

The lecturer's program consisted of numbers appropriate to the month of February, Thomas Edison, Abraham Lincoln and George Washington, followed by a Valentine party. A Nickel March was won by Juanita Hawes who received the Valentine cake.

Pleasant Valley Grange

Pleasant Valley Grange held its regular meeting Tuesday with a good attendance. Visitors from Megunticook, St. George, Good Will, Wessaweskeag, South Hope and Milbridge Granges were present.

The First and Second degrees were conferred on a class of five candidates.

Literary program: Opening song, "Tenting Tonight," by the Grange; prayer for the day, by Ruth Thompson; reading on Lincoln by Hazel Bartlett; solo, by Barbara Young; talk on Lincoln, by Oret Robinson.

Male quartet, Brothers Dorman, Morse, Robinson and Buswell; The Origin of St. Valentine's Day, by P. L. S. Morse; original poem, by Nellie Saunders; Valentine box with Valentines for all; closing song, Eva Mair, Cora Haraden and Barbara Young.

Birthdays were celebrated with two cakes made by Sister Sprague. Next meeting, Feb. 6, when the Third and Fourth Degrees will be conferred.

Meenahga Grange

A regular meeting of Meenahga Grange was held on Monday night. A Valentine program was arranged by the Lecturer, Edna Sukeforth.

The Grange voted to send the lecturer to the State Lecturers' Conference to be held in Augusta the first week in March.

An invitation has been extended to White Oak Grange, North Warren, to be our guests on March 3. Past Officers' Night, which was cancelled on Jan. 28 because of unfavorable weather, will be held Monday night, Feb. 18. All past officers who were invited for the former date are again invited to fill the chairs. Insofar as possible, the program will be carried out as originally arranged. Harold Castner of Damariscotta will address the group on the topic, "The Ring Of Outer Heron." State Lecturer Lottie York will be present.

Several members attended Lincoln Pomona at Boothbay on Tuesday night.

Owl's Head Grange

On Feb. 12, Owl's Head Grange conferred the First and Second Degrees on three candidates: Jean Davis, John Davis and Richard Hussey.

The Charter was draped in memory of Brother Ezekiah B. Fales who died on Feb. 9.

The literary program was to commemorate Lincoln's Birthday with Laura Hyvari, Ellena Fredette and Elisabeth Walker, taking part. The lecturer's march was won by Arthur Decker. There will be no social on Feb. 19.

Visitors were present from West Rockport, Pleasant Valley and South Hope Granges.

Limerock Valley Pomona

Pomona was delightfully entertained by St. George Grange Saturday. Although a bad day, at supper time the attendance reached 60. Four new members were taken in by letter and five by initiation: Mark Anderson, Keith Monaghan, Alvin Hawkins, Lorraine Thomas and Sonja Skoglund.

Visitors were State Lecturer Lottie E. York and Mr. York from Winthrop; State District Deputy Eugene Buswell and State Juvenile Deputy Abbie Buswell of Rockland. Grangers also were present from Good Will Grange, Knox Pomona, Kennebec Pomona, and Hancock Pomona.

The Lecturers' March was won by Florence Young.

The program was historical: Greetings by master Grange Lillian Rackliff and response by J. Herbert Gould of Camden.

Song, "Old Glory," reading on Lincoln by Lee Morse; men's quartet; reading on Boy Scouts by Berla Wixson.

Origin of Valentine Day by Worby Oversee Una Ames. Reading on Washington by Ellena Fredette.

A yarn stunt was won by Sonja Skoglund, Keith Monaghan and Leroy Hutchins; Gettysburg Address by Annette Gardner; readings by State Lecturer and Mr. York, Effie Dyer, Owl's Head Grange; Brother Fernald of Knox Pomona.

Closing thought by State District Deputy Eugene Buswell.

Next Pomona meets at Glen Cove with Penobscot View Grange as host, March 8. The speaker will be Gilbert Jaeger of the Extension Service. St. George Grange and Megunticook Granges will have a discussion and a stunt by Jessie Beverage of Camden.

Acorn Grange

Our regular meeting for Feb. 7 was postponed because of the sudden death of Sister Marion Ames and Brother Carl Starrett. A special meeting was held the following Wednesday to drape our charter in their respect.

At the next regular meeting, to be held on Feb. 20, each member is asked to bring a Valentine for our belated Valentine box. We will have as special guest soloists Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Starrett of Warren with an electric guitar accompaniment.

Following the meeting, the Sisters are tendering Past Lecturer Jeannette Orr, a miscellaneous stork shroff, each one taking an individual gift. There will be refreshments following the meeting and we urge all members to attend and participate.

Penobscot View Grange

The Third and Fourth degrees were conferred upon a class of candidates, Thursday night, Feb. 7 at Penobscot View Grange, Glen Cove, by Deputy Earl Tolman of West Rockport, assisted by members of the degree team.

A program was presented by the host lecturer consisting of solos, recitations and conundrums. Supper was served by the lady officers.

There were 93 present, including visitors from South Hope, West Rockport, Owl's Head, St. George, Union, Camden, Rockland and South Thomaston.

Installation of officers will be held Feb. 21, with Past Pomona Master J. Herbert Gould of Camden as the installing officer.

Mt. Pleasant Grange

Regular meeting of Mt. Pleasant Grange was held Monday with the Third and Fourth Degrees conferred on Herbert Annis, Methy Dietz, Alma Ulmer and Warren Ulmer by the White Oak Grange degree team.

There were 51 present with visitors from Owl's Head, Megunticook, Pleasant Valley and White Oak. A Harvest supper followed degree work.

Members are to send sick cards to the following people: Minnie Parsons, Lake avenue, Rockland; Evelyn Merrifield, West Rockport; Walter Annis, Simontons Corner and Philip Davis, West Rockport, also one to Philip Crabtree Veterans Hospital, Togus, as almost all of our members know Phil, who injured his back several weeks ago and was taken to Togus Wednesday.

Grange Joins Travel Group
Seven Tree Grange regular meeting Wednesday night brought out nearly 40 members. The Grange voted to join the Travel Group of Granges and plans were made to visit, Georges Valley, Appleton, March 4. Seven Tree accepted an invitation to meet with Weymouth, Thomaston Feb. 25. Program covered holidays for this month and refreshments were in keeping with St. Valentine's Day.

Hood Enlarging

Addition To Egg Station In Waldoboro Will Be Done In Spring

H. P. Hood & Sons of Boston have announced the planned expansion of their Waldoboro egg receiving station in the near future. Additions will provide space for an egg candling department and equipment which will control refrigeration and humidification for egg storage.

The work is expected to be completed by Spring.

[EDITORIAL]

POSSIBLY AN ARMISTICE

Is the armistice really in sight in Korea? Maybe so. Only one issue is said to bar the exchange of prisoners of war, and final terms for the "swap" are now in process of being drafted. Still unresolved was the Allied demand for voluntary repatriation giving prisoners a chance to decide whether to go home of their own free will. The Communists are holding out for mandatory repatriation. Staff teams of colonels agreed temporarily to by-pass this major point when they start the final draft of an eleven-point Allied exchange plan.

OLD SOL'S CUT-UP

An international event of consuming interest is on the cards for Feb. 25—a total eclipse of the sun. But Americans who desire to get ringside seats will have to get right busy, as Old Sol will give its principal demonstration in Kharotum—halfway around the world. Fortune may favor the scientists, who are hoping for new astronomical revelations, as there will be no Penobscot Bay fogs to intervene. And the intentions of the Washington Sphinx are not at stake.

THE HORRORS OF FIRE

The past winter has been filled with fire tragedies, in which many lives have been lost and in most instances the news dispatches have told of young and old meeting this sad fate. Victims imprisoned by flash fires, beyond aid, and suffering unspeakable agony.

A KING AT REST

The late King of England has come to the end of life's road, buried Friday after the nations of the world had paid their meed of sorrow over his untimely death. Millions of former subjects lined the streets to watch the passing of the bier, and honest tears flowed from the eyes of those who had revered and loved their Monarch. Scenes of mourning without parallel.

THE DRAMATIC KEFAUVER

Senator Kefauver's advent in the New Hampshire primary campaign was strikingly dramatic—a direct appeal to the men and women who will cast their votes March 11. A typical grass roots campaign with all of the romance tossed into it that imaginative press correspondents could fashion. What will the verdict be?

LIKE IKE'S EXAMPLE

Gen. Eisenhower's involvement in setting up West Europe's defense may be considered a handicap by some of his backers. Yet the people of this country, much as they would like to have the candidate back here participating actively in the pre-convention campaign, surely like even more the example of one who refuses to be distracted from work he considers to be of supreme importance. The idea that the office seeks the man is, as a matter of fact, deep in the American tradition. Gen. Eisenhower's general political views are known. His character, his way of acting in posts of responsibility, are familiar to the whole American people. Even if he is not able to return before Summer, his supporters lack nothing necessary to secure his nomination.

The candidacy of Gen. Eisenhower has from the beginning held out for the Republican party a clear avenue to unity and national power. His running would set in motion trends favorable to every party candidate for office, and these professionals, even if they now hold back and watch the local organization, must soon make their strength felt behind the Eisenhower cause. A national Administration safely Republican in all its branches is the prospect this newspaper foresees when it first committed itself to Eisenhower.—Herald Tribune.

Traveling Granges

South Hope Host and Still Leader In Attendance Contest Of Group

The Traveling Granges met with South Hope Grange Wednesday with 105 present. There were visitors from Owl's Head, South Hope, Mt. Pleasant, St. George, Pioneer and Medomak Valley.

Lillian Rackliff's name was drawn as winner of the basket of home canned goods from Owl's Head Grange.

It has been decided that at the first meeting in March the winner is to be chosen, not as the one with the highest percentage of membership present, but the Grange with the most actual members present at each meeting for the month. This will start with the first meeting on March 3, at Mt. Pleasant Grange.

Members were asked to send sick cards to Brother Philip Crabtree, who is a patient at the Veterans' Hospital in Togus, and a sympathy card to Robert Ames of Pleasant Point, who has just lost his wife.

The program was as follows: "I Was Seeing Nellie Home," by Grange; joke, Alfred Luce, South Hope; remarks, Master Murray, Owl's Head; readings, Sister Effie Dyer, Owl's Head; stunt, Bruce Gamage, Owl's Head; remarks, Brother Libby, Owl's Head and Evelyn St. Clair, lecturer of Lime-rock Valley Pomona; readings given by Brother Watmough and Sister Moody of South Hope.

Welcome back to the Grange by all members.

Story, Ray Simmons of St. Georges and a "Bear Hunt" Stunt." Reading, about South Hope Grange and its members," Irene

Pushaw, South Hope.

Story, Brother Moody, South Hope; reading, "Have Courage," Brother Cormier, Mt. Pleasant; jokes, read by Frances Tolman.

"Back Seat Driving" by four brothers and four sisters with Ellena Fredette and Arthur Williams as the couple doing the best; remarks, Thomas Winston, South Hope and Past Master George Parker, Mt. Pleasant.

Story, Master Murray, Owl's Head; remarks, Past Master Eugene Rackliffe of St. George; also Master Prye, Mt. Pleasant; Master George Layr of Knox Pomona and Brother Brooks of Pioneer.

The Donation March was won by Harry Merrifield of South Hope.

South Hope's percentage was 48 with Owl's Head second, with 27 percent.

The next meeting will be with St. George Grange, Feb. 22.

No "Football" Team

1907 Aggregation Shown In Tuesday's Issue Was a Baseball Outfit

The 1907 "football" team which was pictured in Tuesday's issue was, of course, a baseball team, as the equipment would indicate. But the boys had a little fun over the misprint, among them Fred Knight, who writes:

"The truth will out. One glance at your 'football' team of 1907 shows why they never lost a game and how well equipped they were to win. Let's have more pictures of these old timers so that we can see for ourselves how they went at it in other sports. Ned has been kidding me for 25 years about a drop kick I failed to try against Deering."

BOB'S PLAN SUPPORTED

A Waldoboro Bob Also Favors the Division Of Class L

Bob Kane of Waldoboro writes to support the stand of your agent that class L schools should be divided into two brackets for competition purposes. Mr. Kane has gone to the trouble of looking up the enrollments of all the L schools in the state and a study of the figures proves very interesting. To begin with there are 18 schools in Eastern Maine and 14 in Western Maine, which may be one reason why the MPA has failed to answer Rockland's request for transfer to the Eastern half, to which it is closer.

A further study of figures shows 11 schools with enrollments of over 600. They are: Edward Little, Cony, Bangor, Morse, Caribou, Houlton, Lewiston, Portland, Deering, Rumford, South Portland. There are 29 schools with enrollments below the 600 mark and Rockland is second from last on the list, only Ellsworth and Winslow having a smaller enrollment.

Probably the simplest and fairest solution would be for a Central Maine tourney to be held with a six-team tourney. It would give that many more schools the thrill of participating and possibly winning a divisional championship. Also the schools through the center of the state appear to be nearer a size than in either the East or West. A play-off between the three winners should be easy enough to arrange. There would be added revenue and interest.

Saturday Shorts—Boothbay Harbor didn't last long in the Kennebec Valley Tourney. They took a 55-36 beating from Winthrop—Chuck Begley has done a nice job with the Waldoboro boys this year. Winless last year, they will probably wind up in a third place this time—one of the liveliest cheer leaders anywhere is Union's Rita Lettonen; the Blonde Bomber took the long hop from New York City to the bush in stride and loves it.

Red Norwood grabbed off by the Marines He has the physique for it. Chubby Ryder will play in a Washington industrial league this Summer and work with the Senators when they are in town. George Myatt, veteran Washington coach, thinks highly of the Camden boys' natural talent and ability and will take him under his wing—Prediction of the week; Mike DiRenzo will be the next basketball coach at Edward Little—both Union teams fell down on me Tuesday so I wound up with a 2-2 average and an overall drop to .805 with 124-30—the scuttlebutt is that Rockland is "no worse than seventh" in tourney rankings; which means they will have to play either Westbrook or South Portland in the opener.

The Rockland Alumni games will be played next Friday, boys and girls—is it true that Freddy La-Crosse will play with the Warren Tigers this year?—the Lincoln-Boothbay play-off will be played at Wiscasset week after next providing both get by in their final games—the Union-Rockport play-off is still up in the air with Rockport wanting to play in a small gym and Union saying "naw." My guess is that it will be played soon in the new Camden gym—also in prospect is a return meeting between the Bulwer League champions, the Rockport High Whizz Kids and the Crimson Tide of Camden. People are trying to get them together in a benefit game. They tied 54-54 in their early season meeting at Rockport; a real chiller.

The Rockport High School girls' team rolled on like the sea Thursday night to take an easy 43-17 win over Erskine Academy and annex the girls Bulwer League championship at the new Camden gym before a goodly crowd. There was nothing to it as the Whizz Kids opened with a rush to gain a 15-2 gap over the visitors after one quarter. Coach Bill Judkins cleared the bench before hostilities were over and everyone saw service.

Judy Gray, the girl with the freckles on her face and rhythm in her playing tossed in 22 points to lead her team along the glory road. Rockport's fast breaking forwards circled the Erskine guards at will with Arlene Jenkins once again doing a neat job of setting up her fellow forwards and cutting in close to score on one hand push-ups on occasion. It was 19-9 at the half and 35-13 at the three quarters mark.

The win was the 14th of the year for Rockport against one loss and a tie with Camden and was their third of the year over unfortunate Erskine. Rockport scoring:

Jenkins 4, Richards 2, M. Gray 3, Thorndike 3; J. Gray 8 (6); Ausplund, Small, Andrews, Wentworth, Anderson, Douglas, Upham.

The Union High teams continued to lose Thursday night when they each dropped decisions to Brooks High. The boys lost 39-35 and the girls by 31-29. In the boys game the Union team never trailed by more than six points but failed to make that drive ahead throughout. Period scores were 12-8; 24-18; and 26-24. Mad Marshall Payson was the top scorer for the night with 22 but Brooks was able to keep every-

The B. P. W. Club

Making Ready To Hold a Mock City Election—A New Member

The Rockland Business and Professional Women's Club met at the Farnsworth Museum Workshop, Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. The business meeting was conducted by the president, Ruth Cross.

Reports were given by Emma Harvie, membership committee; Ruth McBride, chairman of Education and Vocations; Margaret Crockett, chairman of Public Affairs. Mrs. Exxy Perry was unanimously voted into membership.

Ruth McBride urged all members to fill out "Who Are We," the questionnaire on the back of the January "Independent Woman" and take it to the Central Maine Power Company or the City Clerk's office, or mail it directly to the National Offices in New York city.

Margaret Crockett reported on the Public Affairs committee meeting held in preparation for the program meeting March 26. A mock city election will be conducted by the Public Affairs Committee.

Nomination papers were distributed to the members running for the several offices and a rally will be held at the next business meeting March 12.

It was reported that a subscription to the "Independent Woman" had been given to the Rockland Public Library by Margaret Crockett.

The following were elected delegates and alternates to the State Convention of the Maine Federation to be held in Houlton, June 6, 7 and 8: Ruth McBride, Madeline Philbrick, Ruth Cross, M. Lucille Nason, Margaret Crockett and Irene Adolphsen.

Directly following the meeting an informal Valentine Party was held. Appropriate games were enjoyed by all the members present. Prizes were won by the following: Barbara Griffith, Nettie Frost, Ruth Cross and Irene Adolphsen. Refreshments were served by the following committee on Arrangements, Lucille Nason, Nathalie Snow and Madeline Philbrick. The colorful decorations suitable for the occasion contributed to the success and enjoyment of the party.

'T WAS AN EMERGENCY NEED

The Knox Hospital Heating Plant Had Balked At General Service

During the months of July and August 1951 many friends of Knox County General Hospital co-operated in a drive for funds which were essentially to be used for much needed improvements of facilities. Part of this program is now complete and it seems appropriate to inform those who gave for this cause just what has been accomplished and how much it is appreciated. Such a report would not be complete without recounting in general a few points leading up to the drive.

During the Winters 1949-50 and 1950-51 it became apparent that the heating system, for some unknown reason, could not overcome the inclemency of the weather and particularly the change of wind during cold days. At times the West Wing would be cold and the nurses would be hurrying hither and yon to find extra blankets or electric heaters for uncomfortable patients. Then with a sudden change of wind the East Wing would become the point of strategic attack by Old Man Winter. It did seem that the staff was harassed from all sides, for they might no sooner get patients comfortable than they would find it necessary to don their sweaters while at lunch, in the South Wing, Nurses dining room.

Several board members realized the difficult situation and both individually and collectively began intensive efforts to correct it.

In February, 1951, it was voted by the board of directors to employ an engineer to make a survey and recommend steps which could be taken to remedy not only the heating problem, but over a period of time, modernize and improve the facility so that it could again assume the high position intended by its founders. A preliminary report to the Board pointed out that the hospital's mechanical equipment was in need of extensive repairs and replacement, and that recommendations made by the State Department of Health and Welfare were not to be ignored. It was then decided, a drive for funds, for at least a part of the recommended program was necessary.

As funds were made available, the administrator was given authority to proceed under the direction of a committee appointed by the Board. The Engineer drew specifications, took bids on services and equipment, placing orders to the best interest of the Hospital. The first needs were, of course heat and hot water for the coming Winter and actual work on these systems began soon after the first of August, and from that time continuously through September, October and November. During these months it was necessary to enlist help from Hospital Auxiliary and Junior Womens Clubs, and even Girl Scouts to assist the plumbers to locate leaky pipes and radiators. Nurses were called upon to administer to patients whose nerves were on edge from workmen pounding and hammering on pipes.

The full co-operation of the staff during this period was most gratifying and appreciated. The entire call system was thrown out of service due to a short circuit in one of the electric wires serving part of the hospital. It took several days to locate the fault, and make this repair to say nothing of the additional burden placed on all employees.

It was discovered that parts of the heating system had apparently been in service since the first building construction over 40 years ago. Additions had been made from time to time in such a way that there were actually two different types of steam circulation within a single unit system.

This fact, plus a complete lack of control, made for a more complicated decision as to procedure. With such old parts in existence it would obviously be preferable to start replacing at least those showing any signs of wear. This was actually done with some pipes and fittings but it soon became evident that complete replacement would cost several times the amount of money available. Also, it was felt, that if the inside of heating pipes and radiators could be cleaned without removing, there should be

HEARTS IN THE SUNSPOT

Rockland Entry Gains In Hotshot League All-Stars Defeat Their "Cousins"

(By Joe Talbot)

Ladies' Fourflusher League
Capturing the total by 12 pins, the Hearts defeated the Spades four points to one to remain in the sunspot in this league. Virginia Heal continued to roll spectacularly for the Hearts, posting a 281 total to lead the offensive. Capt. Gianina Ames was high line for the Spades with a total of 266. Arlene Clark's 281 total topped the Clubs as they downed the Diamonds four points to one. Dora Packard led the scoring for the Diamonds with a 262 total.

Ladies' Nighthawk League
The Queens appear to be heading for another championship as they added five more points to their substantial lead, the victims this week being the Kings. Arlene Clark again topped the list with a 252 total with Murray and Mariner leading the Kings with 239 totals.

The Jacks nosed out the Deuces four to one with Manning in the lead role with a total of 256. Dot Poland posted a 256 total for the Deuces.

pear as though success has finally been the reward of those who were foresighted enough to start this long range program. It is to be hoped that each phase will be as satisfactory in result as that completed during the year 1951.

John Pomeroy was chairman of the committee, representing the Board of Directors; James W. Vanderpool the Engineer. The 25 volunteers from the Hospital Auxiliary and Junior Womens Club were Harriet Frost, Harriet Sherman, Freda Brackett, Helen Fuller, Joanne W. Estes, Ella S. Bird, Leonie Delano, Laura Buswell, Charlotte Buffum, Mary Brown, Helen Jackson, Beatrice Robinson, Jeannette Small, Jean Batchelder, Fern Horseysek, Gilberta Jordan, Edith Levenseler, Lillian M. Baker, Mrs. B. B. Smith, Mrs. Jasper Akers, Mrs. Mervin Harriman, 80, Pleasant street, Girl Scout Leader, provided three Scouts, Helen Dougherty, Nancy Griffith and Allie Gray. All of these women and the Girl Scouts did a fine job, and the Hospital is very grateful to them, for it would have been impossible for the regular personnel to assume the extra responsibility needed to watch all the units.

Independent League
They just can't seem to stop the Rockets. Even with their noisy Captain among the missing, the Rockets just kept on rolling along knocking off the Atoms four points to one. Fran Perry, ace anchor man of the Rockets, led the attack with a 287 total with Bill Clayer taking advantage of Bun Young's absence to pick up a few pins on his rival, knocking over

It pays to get the best! Most people know that. But some, when they come to choosing the heating system that must serve them for years, hesitate about Timken Silent Automatic—for one reason. It costs a little more.

To those people we say, look ahead ten years. The amount of fuel oil and electricity your Timken Silent Automatic Wall-Flame Oil Burner will use over that time will probably be 25% less than an ordinary gun-type burner will use. Maintenance costs will be much lower, too, because the only moving part in the entire burner is the self-lubricating mono-rotor. All this, plus the proud knowledge that you have the best in advance-designed heating equipment, puts you far ahead of the shortsighted man who accepts less than a Timken Silent Automatic.

Phone today! We'll be glad to arrange easy terms—10% down, 36 months to pay, if desired—on the Timken Silent Automatic unit that's right for your home. You couldn't make a better buy!

Mrs. Marion Wyllie, clothing leader of the Warren Extension Association attended a training class for shirt making in Rockland Wednesday, in preparation for the third in a series of classes on that subject to be given Feb. 21 at the grade school, starting at 7.30 p. m.

Mrs. Mattie Campbell, chairman of the local polio fund drive, reports the sum of $350.56 sent to headquarters from Warren, this month. This is nearly $100 over the sum that was sent last year. Mrs. Campbell appreciated the co-operation of those who gave generously, and who helped with the Mother's March, and food for the Finnish-American polio dance at Rockland. Additional sums made as gifts, not previously reported are, Mystery Circle, $5; Warren Extension Association, $5; Warren Grange $2.70; Men's Forum, $5; Men's Brotherhood, $10; Riverside Club $5; High School, $4.75; grades, $41.76; individual gifts sent direct to Mrs. Campbell, $8.

Miss Hazel Snowdell, R. N., was overnight guest Tuesday of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Campbell.

Members of the Warren Extension will meet at the chapel next Tuesday for the day, Mrs. Ella Weibel to present a program on wall papering. Members will bring box lunch.

The regular meeting of St. George Lodge, AF&AM will be held Monday evening.

Rev. Bruce Cummings spoke Monday night at a meeting of the Friendship Men's Club held at the Methodist Church, at Friendship, his subject, "Should We Send An Ambassador to the Vatican?"

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Starrett were Mr. and Mrs. Parker Starrett of Woolwich.

Warren schools closed Friday for a vacation of a week, date of reopening for the second winter term to be, Feb. 25.

Scout Doings

Registration sent to headquarters for the Troop 224, Boy Scouts of America, show ten boys in the troop, and four in the explorers, or older group. Leaders for the coming year include, Charles Stimpson, Jr., scoutmaster, Harry Stred, assistant scoutmaster and Edward Fors as adviser to the explorers. Mr. Fors is also serving on the public relations committee of the Troop committee, in the absence of Donald Kenniston, who is employed in Wasaia, N. Y. Improvements made by the scouts in the Hinckley Corner school building, which is being used for a scout room, are the signs made by William Payson, explorer and the setting of broken glass by members of the troop.

Members of the Troop committee remain the same as last year.

KNIGHTS OF THE SQUARE TABLE

By Rollin H. Tanner

King Arthur's knights have recently awakened, having slept, not 20 years like Rip Van Winkle, but 1400 years! It took them no little time to forget their jousts, lay aside their heavy coats of mail, and adjust themselves to Twentieth Century life. They found the tilt yards gone, but have become much attached and somewhat expert at a modern tilting game the game of Contract Bridge. And so the Knights of King Arthur's Round Table have become, in these days, the Knights of the Square Table.

One of their recent deals, played at two tables, as are all their hands, is given herewith. The bidding was the same at both tables.

After he had played the hand at the first table, Sir Galahad said, "This contract cannot be made. After trumping the second heart lead, I took the three top spades and then the three top clubs. I was not able to win another trick and we were down two."

"At our table," said King Arthur, "we made the contract. Merlin, our wizard, played the hand. Merlin, tell the knights how you played it."

And Merlin said, "I saw that if, after trumping the second heart trick, we played the three top spades and the three top clubs, as Sir Galahad says he did, we could not get back to our hand to draw the last trump and cash our two last clubs. So I figured out the following play to win."

"After trumping the second heart lead, I led the ace and king of trumps, and made the queen and

Philip Blake and staff, of Boothbay Harbor, will install the officers-elect of Georges River Lodge, K. of P., at a semi private ceremony Tuesday night next week. Life membership pins will also be presented three members of the lodge, that night. The rank of page was conferred on two candidates by the lodge last Tuesday night.

Church Notes

"Mid-century Crusade," from the Great Commission films, will be shown Sunday night during the evening service at the Baptist Church, by Franklin McKennon of Gordon College, Boston, Mass. Filmed in color, and accompanied by sound the reels tell the story of what was done in Portland, Oregon, through the ministry of Billy Graham and his group.

Sermon topic Sunday morning at the Baptist Church will be, "Closing Instructions to the Corinthians." During the morning service will be the America for Christ offering will be received, and is an especial appeal for home missions in the flood stricken areas.

Rev. J. Homer Nelson will have for his sermon theme Sunday morning at the Congregational Church "The Excellency of the Old Paths."

Mrs. Dorothy Bennett was hostess to the Nit Wits Tuesday night at her home on East Boston Road. Lunch was served and a social evening devoted to sewing and knitting was enjoyed. Mrs. Allan Rochon of Allston, Mass., was special guest.

The Vinalhaven Extension Association will meet Tuesday, February 19 at 5 p. m., at Union Church vestry. Hostesses are Mrs. Frances Gilchrist and Mrs. Doris S. Arey. The subject of the meeting, "Do Your Own Wall Papering" will be presented by the leader Mrs. Erma Carlson. After the meeting there will be a penny sale.

O. V. Drew attended the meeting of the Knox County Postmasters Association at Rockland, Wednesday.

Mrs. A. M. Miller, Mrs. Edward Bonaccorso, Mrs. Robert Frizzell, Mrs. Carleton Clark, Capt. Llewellyn Thomas were visitors at Rockland Thursday.

Mrs. Julia Thomas returned Monday from Boston where she accompanied her sister, Mrs. Cora Young of Matineus to the Lahey Clinic. Mrs. Young is now a patient at the ace of clubs. Then I returned to my hand with a trump lead, and led out my last trump, drawing the last adverse trump. On this trick I threw away dummy's king of clubs, which was blocking the suit. Then I played my three good clubs and made our contract."

Then said Sir Galahad, "Merlin, thou wast ever the wizard of our Table Round, and now at the Table Square, thou art the same clever magician."

As the knights adjourned and left the hall, they talked of the shrewd unblocking play that Merlin. But the sly young Modred was pondering how he might work some trick to outwit the wizard. What Modred did will be told next week.

O. V. Drew attended the meeting of the Knox County Postmasters Association at Rockland, Wednesday.

Mrs. A. M. Miller, Mrs. Edward Bonaccorso, Mrs. Robert Frizzell, Mrs. Carleton Clark, Capt. Llewellyn Thomas were visitors at Rockland Thursday.

Mrs. Julia Thomas returned Monday from Boston where she accompanied her sister, Mrs. Cora Young of Matineus to the Lahey Clinic. Mrs. Young is now a patient at the ace of clubs. Then I returned to my hand with a trump lead, and led out my last trump, drawing the last adverse trump. On this trick I threw away dummy's king of clubs, which was blocking the suit. Then I played my three good clubs and made our contract."

Then said Sir Galahad, "Merlin, thou wast ever the wizard of our Table Round, and now at the Table Square, thou art the same clever magician."

As the knights adjourned and left the hall, they talked of the shrewd unblocking play that Merlin. But the sly young Modred was pondering how he might work some trick to outwit the wizard. What Modred did will be told next week.

FROM MEMORY'S REALM

Bert Gregory Tells Of Southenders Who Patronized That End Of Highland (Street Railway) Line

(By Frank A. Winslow)

I gladly surrender my department today to Bert S. Gregory, who recalls Street Railway days with special reference to the Highland line's southern terminal, adding the Crescent Beach line for good measure. The Courier-Gazette has frequently praised Mr. Gregory's amazing memory, and you will see a further demonstration of it by reading his article which follows:

When the snow blows my thoughts go back to the old days on the electric cars. Last Winter I wrote some of my recollections of the Highland line. This year I want to record events regarding people and places at the other end of the Highland line, the South End of the city.

This end of the line was not so well patronized, as it was nearer the city, so most of the people walked into town, except in very cold or stormy weather. However, I became acquainted with many nice people during the years between 1910 and 1917, while I was on that run.

There was a lot of business at the Maine Central Wharf, as the Maine Central train came down there two or three times daily to make connections with the boats that made their runs to the Islands and Summer resorts.

Some of the boats I remember were the Pemaquid, Sappho, J. T. Morse, Frank Jones, Samoset, Moosehead, Juliette, Catherine, Mt. Desert, Rangeley, Sieur-De-Mont and Norumbega. There were probably others. Page John Richardson.

Two Captains whom I recall were Capt. Sadler and Capt. Foss; also night watchman, William Steele. Both he and Capt. Foss were regular patrons of the trolley. Frank Trafton, worked around the boats, and who died in 1950, was a nice man to know.

One of the high spots, a place and man I will never forget, was the blacksmith shop at the end of the line, and its operator Lawrence Hahn. I can truly say, a nicer man I never knew. What fun Dana Sherer, my motorman, and I had in the four or five minutes we had to wait at the Wharf. Am afraid we sometimes made it 10 minutes, then drove a little faster to make up the time.

After Dana left, Jimmie Sullivan took his place as motorman and, as all who know the two men could testify, took over any of Dana's unfinished business, but Lawrence was good for all occasions, to give or take a joke.

Snow's Shipyard was flourishing in those days but the trolley did not get much patronage from the workmen as most of them walked into town. The Sea Captains living in that area, who used the cars for transportation when in port. I remember Capt. Melvin Marston and Capt. A. B. Norton who is still living at an advanced age, but still hale and hearty.

Police living at the South End and working on the night shift and riding home in the morning were Charles Stetson, Llewellyn (Juice) Barter and Lamont Wellman. George (Pa) Hayden used to don his police helmet now and then, when necessary and believe me when he closed his hand over a culprit, they marched where he headed them.

Of course there were ladies along Mechanic street, who rode into town in the afternoon to do shopping, but the most regular passengers were Israel (Dade) Snow, Sr., Richard Snow and Ed Moran, nice men to know.

The people along Mechanic street were regular church goers and rarely missed a Sunday. I remember them very well, most of them now gone to meet their Master. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. McLain, Mrs. Norton, Mrs. Look, Mrs. Richard Snow, Alice Fisk and Mother, Mrs. Dalzell, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Keating and daughter Kathy Elsa Hayden, Constantine and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Snow and the Kalkos, Wyman Cushman, a truckman was a regular passenger, also a Mr. and Mrs. Simmons rode into the City occasionally.

The bread of life—as well as the frosting on the cake—for the South End line was the presence of the young ladies who worked up town, riding in the morning.

Suppose they did not arise early enough to walk! Some of the regular patrons I remember were Gladys Mitchell Haggett, Alice Robbins Richards, Marion Blackman, Helen Calzell Perry, Hattie Marston Sherman, Edith Pratt Atwood, Ethel Norton (deceased).

Arthur Blackman rode with us, and I must not forget Charles Livingston who rode to work every morning and to church on Sunday morning. His son Charles Jr., whom we all know, is carrying on the shop where his father worked and I believe his daughter is in the West.

There is a big change on Mechanic street, now; many new houses and new families. In so far as I know all the stores along the upper end of South Main street are in different hands, and not one of the old proprietors there now. I remember well, Charlie Tibbets took the headquarters of the Bean Barrel Club. Jim Sullivan and I often sneaked in there to get a chocolate soda off Charlie. He said he was a philanthropist as he put more chocolate in his sodas than did others. I wonder?

The South End of the line was kinder to us in the winter, than the Highlands, not having so much snow or so much wind to blow it around. Often the car would be coated with snow at the Highlands, but it would have melted off by the time we reached the South End, only to receive another coating on our return to the Highlands. I enjoyed both ends of the line, did not mind the storms, in those days, the tougher the better, as long as they did not interfere too much with eating regularly.

The Crescent Beach Line could be considered a part of the South End Line, as that car used to run to Park street or the passengers were transferred to the South End. One Fall the men from the R.T. & C. manned the Beach car, and it fell to the lot of Jim Sullivan and myself to have the job for about two months.

The people on the Beach Line were good and fun loving. Eugene and Jack Snowman and the Fosters used to keep Jim and me supplied with scallops, gave us some every day, more than we knew what to do with. Most of the men at the Head and along the line were fishermen and they, or other families came to the City often.

I cannot recall too many of them now, but wonder if Jack Snowman could dance to the tune of "Has anybody here seen Kelley." I recall he was singing it every time he boarded the car. I remember being down there with Myron Rollins on a snow plow, one bitter cold day when the going was pretty tough.

Mrs. John Whalen, a fine nice lady and the mother of a fine family, Murray being one of them, invited us into a hot dinner, at a time it was surely appreciated. I had a bit of poetry, which I have now lost, that mentioned all the fishermen from the Head. I do remember this much of it:

INTERPRETATIONS OF "THE WORD"

By Louis A. Walker

A paraphrase of the 71st Psalm, verses 1-21. Dedicated to Ancient, Accepted Scottish Rite Masonry. (To be understood only in connection with the text of the Psalm.)

"Mea spes in Deo est." Help me to realize that no one other than myself can humiliate me. But in this time of trouble and danger, I dare to trust in Thee for strength and safety. I review my life, O God, and find evidence of support and guidance from the hour of my birth.

My own history strengthens my faith and fills me with joy. Many people do not understand me but I find understanding in spirit. So far thy power hath led me; it will not fail me in old age. Adverse influences continually battle to pull down my soul and bury me in doubt and pessimism. These internal and temperamental enemies seem like personal enemies to me, O God. Help me to crush them. Let hope drive out fear, hate and all negative forces. In positive attitudes I find growth in Thee. Righteousness is a divine quality and implies union with Thee.

Again I revert to my youthful experience and to former demonstration of Thy power in my life. Deliver me from the fear of old age and let me give my children and grandchildren a foundation on which to stand.

Out of the past I take sure confidence for the future. I long for increase in personal stature. With all my powers I shall assert and seek to demonstrate that this is a spiritual universe and that every negative force shall come to naught.

member this much of it:

"There was Capt. Charlie Carver Oscar Foster and Capt. Ned and all the other Captains That hailed from the Head."

Perhaps some one can supply the rest of it for me.

Johnnie Berry was Superintendent of the Crescent Beach line, part of the time and others employed on that branch were Bill Collins, Merle Foster, Eddie Nason, Billie Palmer, Walter Martin, Fred Gilchrist and Oscar Hix.

Some of the young people coming into Rockland to school during those years were Doris Small Pierson, Bertha Leonard Borgerson, Charlie Shorey, Pearl Borgerson from the Beach and Head, and from Ash Point, Doris Hurd McNeiley and her brothers and Blanche Witham. From the Keag came Helen Sleeper, Flora Baum Jackson, Lillian Peterson, Dot Allen Norton and her sister, Elizabeth Allen Pierson, known as "Snip" who had to have a sour pickle to eat every night. I have waited the car for her to go into a store and buy one.

From Ingraham's Hill came the Patterson girls, Carl and Phyllis Moran and Helen Snow and probably others that I do not recall. Susie Sleeper taught school at Ash Point at that time and Mrs. Fred Gilchrist at Owl's Head.

People whom I remember at the Head were the Reeds, Maddocks, Bains, St. Clairs, Emerys and Strouts, Riley being a regular customer. From Crescent Beach came Fred Smith, the manager of the Crescent Beach House and his family, the Smalls and Dick Burpee and from the Ash Point area the Snowmans, Perrys, Hurds, Crowleys, Palmers, Fosters and Dyers and as we moved up toward the city the Williams Collins and the Martins, the Woosters and Pattersons, Clarks and Garnets from the Ingraham Hill section.

Among the families from the Keag, members of whom I met about every day were the Len Snows, Sleepers, Gilchristes, Bartletts, Morgans, Battys, Pierces, Rackliffs, Greens and Watts.

It was on the South End car that I met up with the Law. On the 4 and 5 p. m. trips from the city, the car was usually crowded and making change and punching transfers kept one busy. Well, Gil Butler (you know Gilly) had a habit of putting his feet out in the middle of the aisle, and sometimes a little on the far side of the aisle at that.

When there was a crowd on the car it was hard enough for me to get my fells and rubbers through without getting around Gilly's feet so one night, I put those boots of mine (and all the weight inside them) right down—hard—on Gilly's foot to see if he would keep his feet out of the aisle in the future. He did—ever after!

Guess this is all the Black Cat will want to print about those old days, but to some now living it will bring back memories of the old trolleys, and of friends and relatives now gone before. The conductors had their headaches but I for one am glad to have met and mingled with these people and served on the old R.T. & C.

To Caribou Church

Robert Wyllie Of Warren Is Selected As Assistant In Baptist Parish

Robert O. Wyllie has received appointment as assistant to Rev. W. D. Powell pastor at the Baptist Church in Caribou, and will take over his duties in that church Feb. 24.

Wyllie will be organist for all services, will have full charge of the music and will help in Sunday school activities. Also, he will carry on parish work covering the especially large membership.

Holder of an A. B. degree from Gordon College of Theology and Missions, which he received in 1950 he completed last year his resident work toward a master's degree at the Boston University Graduate School. He majored in literature.

For the past few Summer seasons, he has toured parts of Maine, and Canada, with Tal McNutt in youth work, and in addition has done supply work in churches of this vicinity.

The youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester O. Wyllie of this town, he is a graduate of Warren High School.

and Contest Notes

SCRAPBOOK FACTS

February, the second month of the year, although the shortest month, is an important month to those of us living in these United States, for our two hero Presidents—Lincoln and Washington—were born Feb. 12 and Feb. 22, respectively.

Abraham Lincoln, our 16th President, was born Feb. 12, 1809 and died in the year 1865. He was born in a log cabin in Hardin County, Kentucky, and was the son of Thomas and Nancy Hanks Lincoln.

George Washington, the eldest son of Augustine and Mary Ball Washington, was born in Westmoreland County, Va., Feb. 22, 1732 and died in 1799.

Feb. 14 is dedicated to the memory of a Christian martyr who was beheaded on that date. It's a day on which greeting cards, either of satire or amour are exchanged. The singing daughter of President Harry Truman was born during the February month of 1924, and last week we devoted the column to February, 1952, as a leap year month.

As we think of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, it comes to mind that these two great statesmen were the first to be elected to the "Hall of Fame."

The majority of us are familiar with the lives of both those former Presidents, but how many of us are familiar with the "Hall of Fame" and of the men and women chosen to be honored there? To those who don't know, we feel that this February month will be the start of an interesting series to save for your scrapbooks.

Helen Miller Shepard was born in New York City in the year 1898. She was the daughter of Jay Gould, American financier. She married Finley Johnson Shepard, executive of the Missouri Pacific Ry. 1913. She died 1938.

Mrs. Shepard was a philanthropist and among her large gifts were a library building and a hall of fame building to New York University, as well as a Naval building for the Brooklyn Y.M.C.A.

This "Hall of Fame" for great Americans was established on the New York University Campus 1900.

It is a massive structure with open air colonnades and forms an important and distinctive feature of the Western Group of the University buildings, including the Gould Memorial Library, the Hall of Languages, and the Hall of Philosophy.

The colonnade is 630 feet in length, with 100 panels and is intended to commemorate the great men and women of America by bronze tablets and busts, while the Museum rooms below are intended to house such other memorabilia as may be contributed from time to time.

Next week we will tell you more about this famous building as well as those listed, and in future articles a short biography of each important person.

District Nursing

Two Month Report Of Miss Steele Shows Range Of Organization's Work

The Rockland District Nursing Association met Wednesday night at the Community Building and heard the December and January reports of District Nurse Eliza Steele.

Miss Steele's professional calls in the two months included: ante-partum visits, 20; post-partum visits, 14; non-communicable visits, 336; TB visits, 13; other communicable visits, 23; crippled children visits, 13; new born visits, 37.

Health supervision of infants, 235; pre-school, 158; adults, 2; School children, 18; parents consultation, 12; social service, one. Total 832.

Thirty-eight children attended the well baby clinic and 12 completed their immunizations which were also completed for five children in the home.

During December, the Elks and Kiwanis clubs assisted in the distribution of clothes and toys and 16 boxes gathered in the schools were distributed.

Received was a check for $50 from the Women's club.

A large amount of time was spent in the schools during January where eyes were rechecked and children were signed for dental work.

The free hot lunch program which started Feb. 1 entailed considerable work. Twelve children were examined for the gym in the seventh and eighth grades. On January 7, Miss Castner and Miss Steele were guests at a staff meeting of the Division of Public Nursing where venereal disease was discussed and the nurses' part explained.

The Division of Public Health plans one meeting each month on the first Monday. Nurses from outlying towns are invited.

Five children have been fitted for glasses, two from the same family. One child has been sent at regular intervals to Portland for eye treatment and has returned to school after having been absent for eight months.

A little boy who was admitted to a Portland Hospital for orthopedic work has returned home and attends school for one and a half hours daily. He is improving slowly.

Grandmother Knows

Grandmother knows so many things! She can sew and knit and crochet and make lots of pretty things that people prize because they are hand-made. And you simply can't beat her as a good cook and housekeeper.

Yes, honey, Grandmother does know. She knows about all these practical things—and much more. She knows the deeper lessons of life. She knows that right is right and wrong is wrong—and that right is always best.

The girl who is blest with a good mother and a good grandmother, and is smart enough to learn from them, can practically chart her own happiness and build a life that is a blessing to mankind and the world.

Grandmother knows that spiritual things are far more important than material things. She knows that God rules in the kingdom of men, that the Church is His messenger, and that faith is man's hope of salvation.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
