Thurlow Reed Dunning was born in Freeport, Maine on September 21, 1897, the second youngest of the seven children of Benjamin F. and Adriann (Reed) Dunning. Benjamin Franklin Dunning, "Frank" to family and friends alike, was a mason by trade. He was the head mason during the construction of Casco Castle. The castle burned in 1914 but is survived by the Castle tower which has become an area landmark.

Thurlow spent his early years in Freeport and moved with his family to Winchester, Massachusetts when he was 10 years old. The family was deeply rooted in Freeport and eventually he returned here as did many members of his family.

He married Gertrude Fransen who died shortly after the birth of their son, Robert. On September 16, 1922 he married Ethel Sumner Benson in Somerville, Massachusetts. They had five children, Jesse, Mary Jane, Carol, Thurlow Jr. and Alice.

He served with distinction in the United States Army in World War I (26th "Yankee" Division) and World War II (211th F. A. Battalion) and was awarded five battle stars for his service in World War I and the Bronze Star for meritorious service in World War II. Between World War I and World War II he served continuously with the Massachusetts National Guard.

After his service in World War II he accepted employment which brought him back to Maine and made it possible for him to settle again in Freeport.

His life long interest in the history of this country, of communities and of people seemed to lead naturally to an avid interest in Genealogy. Upon his return to Freeport he began gathering information on the early families of Freeport including that of the Dunning family. When he retired he devoted many hours to researching the genealogies of these families.
Family, including grandchildren were enlisted to help on many occasions. He was instrumental in reactivating the Freeport Historical Society which had been dormant for many years.

He was a firm, quiet, reserved and proud man who, through his example, earned the love and respect of his family and friends. He always let us know he was proud of us. We certainly are proud of him.

He died on July 11, 1974.

I am honored to provide this biographical data about my father, Colonel Thurlow Reed Dunning, Sr.

DUNNING (DUNING)

From the authorized list of Scottish names

DUNNING. From Dunning in Lower Strathearn, Perthshire. The founder of this name was Anechial, thane of Dunning, who witnessed Earl Gilbert of Strathearn's charter of Maderin (Maderty) c. 1199, and the same earl's foundation charter of Inchaffray in 1200. He was succeeded by his son Gilleuchel de Dunin, who appears in record, c. 1208. Roger de Dunyn, a cleric, was a charter witness, c. 1214 - 49, and B(ricius) de Dunyn or Dunin, steward (Senescallus) of Robert, Earl of Strathearn, appears as a charter witness, c. 1226 - 34. John Dounning was receiv'd to the King of England's peace in 1321; Christi Dunyng witnessed a saisine of lands in Tullibody in 1437; Magister Johannes de Denyn was Vica of the Church of Perth, 1472 - 92; John Dunnyng had remission for his part in burning the town of Dumberton, 1489; and John Donyng or Dunnayng was Bailie of Perth in 1514. John Donyng and James Donyng were witnesses in Perth, 1541. Doning 1477, Dwunyng 1561, Dunning, 1643.

It is to be seen by the above, that the name has been through various methods of spelling. The phonetic spelling of all names resulted in the division of most families as the spelling varied.

The Norman influence is apparent in these names. But whether there is any connection between these Dunnings and the English family of the same name is mostly conjecture. Many think there is a connection.

Andrew Dunning the Maine Ancestor

According to Wheeler

Mr. Wheeler, in his history of Brunswick, gives a thumbnail sketch of the Dunning ancestry. It was no doubt obtained by interviewing those members of the family then living in Brunswick. The results were the reflection of the ideas and social prestige desired by those interviewed. Thus the following is still regarded by some as the true history.

Andrew Duning, ancestor of all the Dunnings in this vicinity and, it is believed, of all the family in the State of Maine, came to this country from Ashburton in Devonshire, England, in 1717. He landed at Georgetown, Maine, where he remained a short time and settled in Brunswick at Maquoit, the same year, on the lot recently occupied by Samuel Dunning and now (1873) owned by Patrick McManus.

He brought with him, his wife, whose name before marriage was Susan Bond, and five sons, who were all born before he emigrated to this country.

Children were; William, who settled in York, Maine; Andrew and Robert, who were both killed by the Indians while crossing the Androscoggin River; David, the youngest, who settled in Brunswick village; and James, the oldest, who lived in the homestead in Maquoit.
The Harpswell Dunnings descended from William, of York, whose sons, Andrew and Benjamin, moved to Harpswell a short time before incorporation (Mericoneag).

Wheeler's statement, that Andrew Duning came from England, cannot be supported by any existing evidence. All existing evidence and records of the testimony of various people closer to the events in time and interest, shows that Andrew Duning and his family came over in the great migration of Scotch-Irish which occurred in 1717 - 1719.
The Origins of the Dunning Family in Brunswick

The Dunning family has always been considered to be English in origin by many of the family, and this view has been supported by some authorities. However, where Andrew Dunning, the Ancestor of the family in Brunswick, came from has been subject to dispute.

According to some authorities, the name Dunning is that of an old Anglo-Saxon family which originated in Warwickshire, England. There were many of that name in Devonshire and there is a place called Dunningley in Yorkshire. Without a doubt there were people of that name who migrated to America from that area.

There were also Dunnings in Scotland prior to 1200. A Robert Dunning was a member of the Scottish Parliament in 1472, 1475, and 1482. There is a town called Dunning near Inverness in Scotland.

During the reign of Elizabeth, the Irish rebellions occurred, and the Province of Ulster was greatly depopulated. King James I induced many of his Scottish subjects to settle there by offering generous grants of land. Later in the century the persecution of the Covenanters, by Clavershouse, sent many more Scottish people across to their Presbyterian brethren in the north of Ireland.

A London company was one of the first to promote these migrations and established first at Derry. This became the noted city of Londonderry.

An Andrew Dunning was buried at Lough Derry, Ireland, May 22, 1662. His daughter, Mary, was buried June 6, 1665, according to the register of Derry Cathedral, Parish Templemore, Londonderry, Ireland.

It is fairly well established that Andrew Dunning (as his name is spelled on his headstone) came to America in 1717. He came first, it is believed, and stayed in Bath (Georgetown) for a short time, before he settled in Brunswick. His family came over in 1718, in the expedition of the Rev. James Woodside.

It is possible that he came over first to find a good location, and had his family come over later.

Andrew Dunning was a Presbyterian in religious belief, so the fact that they sailed from Londonderry and that they stated in their military enrollment, that they came from Ireland, makes it probable that what Mr. Stackpole said is correct.

Rev. Mr. Stackpole, in his notes on the Dunning family, said that the Dunnings were Scotch who had lived for one or two generations in Ireland and came over with the so-called Scotch-Irish in 1717 and 1718.

Further evidence of their Scotch-Irish origin is their intimacy with the people who migrated from Londonderry, N.H. to Londonderry, N.H. David Dunning married Mary Todd of Londonderry, N.H. and possibly lived there a short time, as he owned property there.
Although the Dunning family had long believed that Andrew Dunning came from Ashburton, England, it appears that this belief is in error. It appears that Andrew Dunning was several generations removed from England, if the family was ever there, and that therefore there could not have been any close relationship with the John Dunning who was Lord Ashburton.

One of the families which were contemporary with the Dunnings was the Woodside family. The record of Rev. James Woodside's life in America is not very clear. It has been stated that he remained in Falmouth upon arrival, prior to 1714. He is said to have built the garrison house in Maquoit, and that he spent considerable money in making defensible, by erecting palisades and by other arrangements.

There was a legal town meeting in Brunswick on Nov. 3, 1718, which voted to give Mr. Woodside, of Falmouth, 40 pounds for his keep and a house, if he would come to Brunswick and preach.

It was also voted at the same town meeting, "that Mr. Baxter's house be made habitable for Mr. Woodside and the charges for transportation of his family and goods from Falmouth be paid."

Mr. Baxter's house was supposed to have been on Lot #6, which was what is now the southeast corner of Main and Greene streets.

There is so much disagreement on Rev. James Woodside that it would seem that there were two men of the same name, because in Mrs. A.F. Moody's investigation, she believed that Mr. Woodside came from Garvaugh, Derry County, Ireland and was a minister of the Presbyterian Church. This is given some credence from the record of his coming to this country in 1719, with the Scotch-Irish migration.

It is more generally believed that he was a minister of the Church of England, or Episcopal, and that he came prior to 1714. As this information was mostly obtained from his descendants, the fact that most of the people in the Brunswick area wanted to believe that they were of English descent.

According to Wheeler, Mr. Woodside's son, William, came to Brunswick and took charge of the blockhouse at Maquoit in 1714. This is rather doubtful, if his age is correct, because he would have been only eleven years of age in 1714. Mr. McKee wrote that William took command of the blockhouse in 1726.

If Mr. Woodside did come to this country before 1714, he must have returned abroad before 1717 because of his petition to the King.

He states that the Indians attacked the settlers at Brunswick and many of them were forced to take refuge in Mr. Woodside's garrison. He claimed the Indians did a lot of damage to his land and stock. For this reason he sent his petition to the King, which reads in part, "he with 40 families of 160 persons did embark on a ship at Derry Lough in Ireland, in order to erect a colony at Casco Bay in Your Majesty's Province of Maine in New England. That being arrived, they made a settlement at a place called by the Indians, Pajipscot, but by them Brunswick, within 4 miles of Fort George, where he had a garrison house.

It is hard to reconcile the above with the facts, because hostilities in this area did not begin until 1722. Rev. Mr.
Woodside, having had a lot to do with the establishment of Brunswick, was not able to get along with the people. Whatever the reason, his preaching was not agreeable to the predominantly Presbyterian members of the community. Therefore, although it has been said that he was a good man, at a town meeting on Sept. 10, 1719, he was removed from his position.

He returned to the British Isles with his son James Jr., and I have discovered no record of him thereafter, except for a portrait of him, which he sent to his son William. This portrait by Gibson hangs in the First Parish Church of Brunswick.

His son William remained in Brunswick and retained posses­sion of the property. He increased its extent and he, with his sons were staunch defenders of early Brunswick. There are many of his descendents in the area.

Although I have read in recent accounts that the history of the First Church of Brunswick was of a peaceful nature, it is actually a story of continued conflict between the Scotch-Irish Presbyterians and the Puritan Congregationalists.

Although the original inhabitants had been Massachusetts people, they had been driven off by the Indians. The entrance of the Perjepscot Proprietors into the picture after the hostilities of the late 1600s, opened the area up to more settlers at the time when the Scotch-Irish were arriving and they were induced, many of them, to buy land in the area.

The Scotch-Irish came almost wholly in the two years of 1717 and 1718. They were then of course very much in the majority. Later, of course, the growth was almost entirely from Massachusetts.

The first few years of the First Parish Church, many of the ministers were ordained and sent to Brunswick by the Presbyterians of Londonderry, N.H. There was still a great deal of dissent as to how the minister should preach and as to whose authority they would preach under.

The church, at this time, was on 12 Rod Road (Maine st.)
about half way from the shore at Maquoit and the Falls on the river. It stood in front of the old burying ground opposite the Pleasant Hill road. The cemetery was established in 1735, and is the oldest existing cemetery in Brunswick. The original burying ground was at Fort George and was long ago obliterated by commercial buildings. The D.A.R. placed a plaque on the spot some years ago, but even that has been moved.

Rev. Robert Dunlap came to preach as a probationer in 1746.
He was a Presbyterian and came from northern Ireland. He was accepted in Dec., 1746. However he was soon dismissed by a council of ministers, who were all Congregationalists, in spite of the fact that he had been sent by the Presbyterians of Londonderry, N.H. The Congregational Church was slowly pushing all the other Protestants out of existence at this time and the Presbyterians could do little about it.
Rev. John Miller, who was ordained a Congregationalist minister, came to preach in 1762. In October of 1765, the people of Brunswick, headed by William Woodside Sr., quarreled with Mr. Miller and he was not paid.

Mr. Wheeler, in his history of Brunswick, states that Mr. Miller and his family was ordered to leave town, so that he would not become a public charge. Mr. Wheeler was evidently getting John Miller the minister mixed with John Miller the tailor.

The Rev. Miller evidently brought the people around to his side, because William Woodside was asked to apologize. This he did in 1768.

The town voted to dismiss Mr. Miller in 1786. He dissented and in 1787 a vote was taken of the members of the church. There were 9 for dismissal and 5 against. The Congregation was then asked to vote. The result was 12 for dismissal and 18 against. The town voted to raise no money for his support. Mr. Miller died in 1783.

The Church was Presbyterian under Mr. Dunlap. It was mixed under Mr. Miller for 7 years. Mr. Miller finally, openly declared himself to be the pastor of a Congregational plan and the First Parish Church has been so ever since. The present church is built on land sold to them by Robert Dunlap Dunning. Members of the Church at the settlement of Rev. Ebenezer Coffin, 1/1794:

Rev. Jesse Appleton joined 6/16/1811
Martha Stanwood joined 3/1/1812
THE FIRST CHURCH IN BRUNSWICK

This was originally a Presbyterian society, but it was gradually changed over and became Congregational and is now represented in the present First Parish Church on Maine St.

Where Pirate Worshiped

If the "famous pirate" landed at Harpswell during colonial times and drove "by conveyance" to attend church in Brunswick, it probably would have been in the Old West Meeting House, midway between Brunswick Falls and the landing at Maquoit. The "simple rectangular building" was more or less completed after 1721, although the interior was never finished. The town meeting house was destroyed by fire in 1834. (Chripix Archive)
OUT OF THE PAST — Fort George, Brunswick’s protection against Indians in pre-Revolutionary days, is featured on the cover of the annual town report, available soon at the town office. During its short but eventful history, the stone fort stood on the banks of the Androscoggin near the Brunswick end of the present Brunswick-Topsham bridge. In foreground is a marker which was moved from the site when the Maine St. underpass was built.
To mark the site of the first Fort at George Asia. Erected by the daughters of the American Revolution.
Andrew Dunning and his wife Susan, as well as his five sons were sturdy people, without a doubt. There is some question as to whether these five boys were his entire offspring. He was 27 years old when James was born. Nine years later William was born. Andrew and David were born 4 and 5 years later respectively. Robert's birth date is not known, but if the general pattern was followed, there may have been other children who were left overseas. Possibly they were girls who had married. There may have been a son, John, as some suppose.

Mrs. A.F. Moody, who was very thorough in her search, believed that Robert was the oldest boy to come over. She had some very good reasons. He was old enough to be called present at the town meeting of 9/16/1719. He bought lot number 10 and it was entered in his name 12/19/1719. Entry in Peregscot Papers, Dec. 19, 1719, lot number 10, on the east side of the Maquoit road, 97 acres, granted to Robert Dening for 5 pounds. Later sold to Robert Spear. Also on the same date, lot number 13, 3 acres salt marsh in Merriconeague, for 5 pounds. (These lot numbers do not agree with the map of 1741.)

Mrs. Moody believed that Robert was married and brought over a daughter, Jane, born in 1717, who was one of Mrs. Moody's ancestors.

There can be no doubt that he was a mature man because of his great activity in the business and defense of the town.

It is said by many historians that Brunswick was abandoned in 1722, due to the hostilities of the Indians. Many did go to the more populated areas, such as Boston. Those who are known to have stayed were: John Minot, Andrew Dunning and his sons, William Woodside and his sons, Ebenezer Stanwood and his sons, William Simpson and David Givcen and sons of Brunswick; Lieut. Eaton, John Vincent, Thomas Thorn, James Ross, John Malcolm, James McFarland, William Stinson and Adam, Isaac and John Hunter of Topsham. Robert Lithgow took his family to Boston and returned, serving in John Giles company from 1722 to 1724.

Most of these people had garrison houses but some of them stayed in the Stone fort during hostilities.

William Dunning attempted to persuade the Dunning family to move to some place away from the Indian depredations, without success. He moved to York himself, anyway.

Most of the men listed above were enrolled as soldiers in the Indian wars. John Giles's company was the most aggressive of the area and most of these men were members at one time or another. Capt. Giles had been captured by the Indians in this area when very young, and had lived with them for years. Thus he was experienced in their customs and ways.

The service these men rendered was not of a continuous nature because they had to care for their families at the same time. Seldom was the whole company assembled at the same time.

It may have been some mission in this regard, that culminated in the deaths of Robert and Andrew Dunning Jr., in 1724, at the hands of the Indians, just below Mason's Rock, while paddling up the river.

It is not known what caused the fire in which the widow of Andrew Dunning, Susan, was killed. This was the winter of 1738-39. Although there were no declared hostilities, the Indians were always hostile.
According to Sinnett, the lots that Andrew Dunning bought were numbers 31 and 32 in Maquoit. James apparently lived on and inherited this land, as he is listed as owning it in 1741. Afterward he added many more acres to the original 200.

According to Mrs. Moody, the lots taken by Andrew Dunning, in 1718, were numbers 37 and 38, also No. 5 on the west side of 12 Rod Road "Dec. 19, 1719, granted to Andrew Dunning, on condition he build a house on each lot within one year and living in them, and improving them in three years" (These cannot be according to the plan of 1741 as shown in Wheeler's History of Brunswick.

The Pejepscot Proprietors secured title to all the territory in the grant for 140 pounds. This included all the land in Brunswick, Harpswell, Topsham, and parts of Durham, Bowdoin and Bowdoinham. The group was made mostly of bankers of Boston and other towns in Massachusetts.

The nearest neighbors to the Dunings, originally, were the Woodsides. Rev. James Woodside had gone before hostilities broke out in 1722-1724, but his son William remained with his sons.

The Stanwoods were also neighbors and they were a rugged and independent family.

These families with the Minots, Spears, Simpsons, Gievees, Bunters, Finnys and Ross family had a great influence on the destiny of the town in the early days, both before and after incorporation. The descendants of these families are also mostly related.

That James Dunning did not marry until he was 33 years old is rather strange as most men married quite early in those days. Some credence should be given to the possibility that Jane Dunning was his daughter instead of Robert's and that she came over with him. In that case he would have been married before.

Andrew's name is spelled on his headstone. James spelled his name Dunning when he signed it. The name is spelled Dunning on James's and David's headstones. Deacon Andrew's stone, in Harpswell, is spelled Dunning, while his wife's name, on a stone beside his, is spelled Dunning. James's sons spelled their names Dunning as did some of the succeeding generations. We find David's name spelled Duneing and Daneing on the same documents. The difference in spelling names is common in those days and in many cases it was the start of various branches of the same families.

Mrs. Moody says, in her account, that a colleague of hers insisted that Andrew's wife's maiden name was Reed. No other source cites this and, although the Reed family came from the same area of Ireland, it seems unlikely.

The following accounts were from various sources and were written in the late 1800s, without citing sources. These have been edited as noted in the text.
A synopsis of the information contained in a paper by Rev. E. S. Stackpole, found in Vol. #74, New England Historical and Genealogy Register, reveals the following results of his research.

The name Dunning is an old Anglo-Saxon name of a family which originated in Warwickshire, England. There is a place called Dunnington in Warwickshire and another called Dunningley in Yorkshire.

Portions of the family migrated to Scotland. A Robert Dunning was a member of the Scottish Parliament in 1472, 1475 and 1482. James, son of John Dunning, was apprenticed to David Dunning, a saddler, in Edinburgh, in 1597. In Scotland is the town of Dunning, not far from Inverness.

Dunnings probably went to Northern Ireland about 1600. An Andrew Dunning is buried in Lough Derry, Ireland, 5/22/1662. His daughter, Mary, was buried there in 6/6/1655, according to the register of Derry Cathedral, parish of Templemore, Londonderry, Ireland.

The Brunswick Dunnings came over with the so-called Scotch-Irish of 1717 - 1718 from Londonderry. Their military enrollment says they came from Ireland. They were Scotch who had lived for a few generations in Ireland.

Other information from Mr. Stackpole conforms to that of Sinnett and Wheeler with some additions, among which are those following:

David Dunning bought, in 9/25/1730, 97 acres from Rowing Norton of Salisbury, Mass. Norton had served with David in Capt. Giles's Company. This land comprised most of the business district of Brunswick. It is described as bordering on the Amoscogin River.

On 10/10/1735, David Dunning sold land in Londonderry, N.H. This could indicate a short residence there. This was the same year he married Mary Todd.

David Dunning built a house near his garrison, on Maine street, where he died. His son John kept a tavern in the garrison house, which was called "Washington Hall". It was burned in 1855.

When Fort George was dismantled, David and Jeremih Moulton bought the site for 133 pounds, 6 shillings, 8 pence. They owned the waterpower on both sides of the river and built the first dam and sawmill.

David received his commission as Captain from Gov. Shirley in 1746.

In 1755, Capt. David Dunning served 21 days transporting stores to Fort Western and Fort Halifax over the ice from Arrowsic.

David bought 1/16th of the Township of Royalborough (Durham) in 1762. Among others was lot #91 which he gave to his daughter Elizabeth Stackpole in 1783.

Stackpole's statement on Margaret (Miller) Ransom is that she was daughter of John (the tailor) Miller and Jane Craige, and granddaughter of John and Jane Miller of Plymouth (Cape Elizabeth).
ANDREW DUNING the Maine Ancestor

According to Rev. Charles Sinnett, who compiled a genealogy of the Dunning family, Andrew Dunning was born about 1644. This would not agree with his headstone, which says that he died in 1736, age 72 years. This would make his birth about 1664.

Mrs. Moody says that he probably came from Garvagh, County Derry, Ireland. This was the center of activities of the ironmonger's guild, of which he was a member. Also, she says, that was where Rev. Woodside came from. She is the only authority for this information we have been able to find.

It is said that he came to America in 1717. He came first to Boston and then to Georgetown, where he stayed a while.

Andrew Dunning's family came the following year, 1718, on the ship McCullum, Master, James Law, with Mr. McPadden, who went to live in a place called Somerset, on Merryeageting Bay.

Mrs. Moody says that Mr. McPadden came from a place called Sunnessett in Bann Water, Ireland and so named his new place Somerset because it was similar in appearance.

The ship McCullum arrived at Boston from Londonderry, Ireland, Sept. 1st, 1713, and sailed to Merryeageting Bay on Sept. 8, 1718.

It was at this time that Rev. James Woodside came to this area, but whether it was the same ship or not is doubtful. His petition to the King later said that he "with 40 families of 160 persons, did embark on a ship at Derry Lough in Ireland, in order to erect a colony at Casco Bay in Your Majesty's Province of Main in New England. That being arrived, they made a settlement at a place called by the Indians, Pejepscot, but by them Brunswick, within 4 miles of Fort George, where he had a garrison house."

Nearby Andrew Dunning bought lots and built his house on the land occupied in 1678 by Patrick McManus. Here he lived as a blacksmith and farmer, much respected for his integrity and uprightness of character.

The claim is made that Andrew left a son, John, who had a son John, who became a celebrated lawyer and was made Lord Ashburton. It is possible that Lord Ashburton belonged to the same family and was a grandson of Andrew, but in view of the information contained herein it is not probable.

Andrew Dunning settled in Maquoit, Brunswick, Maine on land that he bought from the Pejepscot Proprietors. This land was close to the Church lots. It was, no doubt, the 200 acres which he occupied and left to his son James, who lived there in 1741. These were lots numbers 31 and 32. Andrew Dunning's house was only a little north of the Woodside's.

Andrew Dunning was a Presbyterian in belief and was one of the first settlers to urge the building of a church.

According to family tradition, Susan Bond, the widow of Andrew Dunning, lost her life in the burning of the Dunning homestead in the winter of 1737-38. While endeavoring to save some money she had laid away, she fell through the floor into the cellar and could not be saved. A negro slave, who was asleep in an arch in the cellar, was with difficulty, saved by being drawn through the cellar window.
Andrew Duning is buried in the old Brunswick burying ground established in 1735, on 12 Rod Road, in rear of the first Church building, about half way between the shore at Haquoit and the Androscoggin River at the falls.

The inscription on his stone, which is believed to be the oldest in the cemetery and in the town of Brunswick. There were stones in the old cemetery at the location of the Stone Port, but they were destroyed many years ago.

The headstone is of field stone and is believed to have been made by his son James. It reads as follows:

HERE LYETH THE BODY
OF MR ANDREW  DUNING
WHO DEPARTED THIS LIFE JANUARY THE 8th ANNO DOM 1736
AGED 72 Yrs

It is significant that Andrew Duning, his wife, and all his sons except William stayed in Brunswick during the Indian Wars of 1722 - 1724, with a few other families.

His son William settled in York as a farmer and cordwainer.

Andrew Duning kept slaves during his lifetime and his family continued to own slaves for some time thereafter.

Andrew Duning signed the petition to the General Court for the incorporation of Brunswick as a town in 1733.

Andrew Duning of Brunswick blacksmith to Robert Spear of Brunswick taylor for 5 shillings - upland in Brunswick in No. 10 Witnessed by Rymond Bradbury & David 2 Duning
This stone is about in the center of the old burying ground, which is located in Brunswick on the road to Maquoit, at the place where the First Parish Church was originally located.

HERE LYETH THE BODY OF MR. ANDREW DUNING
WHO DEPARTED THIS LIFE JANUARY THE 18TH ANNO DOM 1736
AGED 72 YRS

This is probably the oldest stone in the cemetery, as the cemetery was started in 1735. It is of plain field stone and is quite worn but is legible in the proper light. It is believed to have been made by James Duning, his eldest son, who is buried at his south side. His youngest son, David, is buried on his north side, with his wife Mary Todd. A stone broken off at the ground could have been that of his wife Susan Bond, as it is immediately at his left.

June 6, 1777 signed William Dunning

Witnesses: Thomas Skolfield and Clement Skolfield

Deed

Robert Dunning, gentleman and Anthoney Woodside, land bought of William Dunning divided.

Lots 26 and 27 (These are the actual numbers of the lots) bounded as follows: fronting on the east, the 12 rod road leading from Maquoit to the Androscoggin Falls and measuring on said road 60 rods, thence running west by two parallel lines 504 rods until 200 acres is completed.

If the aforesaid, Robert Dunning do quit all claim, Right and title to that part of said tract of land that lies West of the Deep Gully that crosses said tract and contains 153 acres backings 6 rods — to Anthoney Woodside — Anthoney Woodside do quit all claim Right and Title to that part of said tract East of — Deep Gully to Robert Dunning

Dec. 13, 1778
The Perjepsot Proprietors were composed of the following men who bought the area for 140 pounds in 1714: Thomas Hutchinson, Adam Winthrop, John Watts, David Jeffries, Stephen Minot, Oliver Noyes and John Ruck of Boston and John Wentworth of Portsmouth, N.H.

After many years of litigation the final limits of the purchase included the towns of Danville, Lewiston, Greene, part of Lisbon, part of Leeds, part of Poland and Minot, Durham, Bowdoin, Topsham, Brunswick and Harpswell. They had to give up title to what is now Bowdoinham and Richmond.

They divided the lower area among them as follows: Swan Island was called one lot and went to Adam Winthrop. Hair (Hare) Point was divided in two lots, the lower half was designated Lot #2, the upper half as Lot #3. That portion lying between Cathance River and the eastern part, Abagansett Point, and a line running northerly from the latter point be divided into 5 lots, equal in front, the lot nearest Cathance River was called Lot #4, the others 5 through 8, each lot running back from Merrymeeting Bay until 1000 acres be met. If either part of hair fell short of 1000 acres, the deficiency should be made up in some part of Brunswick. These lots went as follows:

Lot # 2 to John Wentworth
Lot #3 to Stephen Minot
Lot #4 to Thomas Hutchinson
Lot # 5 to Oliver Noyes
Lot # 6 to John Ruck
Lot # 7 to David Jeffries
Lot # 8 to John Watts

8 lots were laid out on Small Point

Harpswell was divided into 8 lots, excluding from the farthest point up about a mile. Each lot was equal in front and ran across the Neck from Northwest to Southeast, the lower lot to be # 1. These were divided as follows:

1 to David Jeffries
2 to John Watts
3 to John Ruck
4 to Adam Winthrop
5 to John Wentworth
6 to Oliver Noyes
7 to Stephen Minot
8 to Thomas Hutchinson
Notes on the Town of Brunswick

On the petition of the Kennebec Proprietors, the township of Brunswick was constituted in 1717.

About 1727, David Givens bought 300 acres at Middle Bay and moved there from Hair Point.

In 1734, Samuel Woodward paid Benj. Larrabee, agent for the proprietors, 5 pounds towards the purchase of a lot of 100 acres situated between Capt Woodsides and Bungamuguntoc.
Notes on the Scotch-Irish settlers of Brunswick

Many came from Bangor, County Down

Ship "George" from Londonderry to Boston 1675

The great "Immigration" was in 1718. A few came in 1716 in the ships "Truth" & "Day & Light" "Mary Ann" and "Globe"

Emigrants of 1718 came largely from Barn Valley out of Coleraine and from Kyle Valley out of Londonderry

5 ships arrived Aug. 31, 1718 at Boston, "William & Mary" "Robert" and "William" from Coleraine, "Mary Ann" & "Dolphin" The "Trescallum" from Londonderry sailed out of Boston on Sept. 1, 1718 to the territory owned by the Gentlemen Proprietors of the Eastern Lands at the mouth of the Kennebec River

A deposition by David Dunning of Brunswick, 1767, says he came in or about 1718 to Boston in the same vessel with Andrew McFadden & wife Jane and in the same year to the Eastern Country

Col. David Dunning (He was never a colonel) was the son of Andrew Dunning, b. 1664, and came to the lower Kennebec known then as Georgetown in Maine. After a year, Andrew settled at Naquot in Brunswick and died Jan. 16, 1736. (Jan. 18 on the stone) age 72. His children were: James, Andrew, Robert, William & David. Andrew's wife was Susan Bond and he was a blacksmith.

Jane McFadden of Georgetown, aged about 67, deceased, June 19, 1766, that she, with her husband, Andrew, lived in the town of Carvo (Carvaugh), County Derry, on the Farm Water, at a place called Summersett. About 1/2 years ago, they removed from Ireland to Boston then from Boston down to the Kennebec River and up to Harrymeeting Bay to a place called Cattans Point.

Among the petitioners to Gov. Samuel Settle (Smith), Gov. of N. E., from North of Ireland, was a John Orr who wished to come to N. E.

JAMES DUNING DESCENDENTS

Lieut. James Duning, b. 1691, d. 6/8/1752, age 61, is buried in the old Brunswick burying ground on the Mere Point road at the location of the first church building. He m., 1729, in Brunswick, Martha Lithgow, dau. of Robert Lithgow and Janet McCurdy. She must have been b. prior to 1700 to be called Miss Lithgow on her arrival in this country. In 1758 she is called "the Widow Dunning of the West End;" it is thought by many that she married again. Intentions dated March 17, 1759, "Waite Herrick of Robieboro, Maine," as she is then styled, "Widow Martha Dunning." She died about 1770 or 1771.

James Duning was a soldier in Capt. Giled Company in 1723 - 1724. He signed the petition to the General Court, for the incorporation of the town of Brunswick, in 1735. He was a Selectman in the first town government after incorporation in 1739.

In 1743, a Wymond Bradbury was elected selectman. Through the efforts of James Duning and Eben Stanwood, the General Court declared the election illegal and a new election was ordered. Selectmen finally elected were Capt. John Minot, Eben Stanwood, and James Duning. David Duning, his brother was elected to the General Court in the same election.

James Duning was commissioner to the General Court in 1741. He was one of the leading remonstrants against the dismantling of Fort George in Brunswick, 5/25/1737.

He was known far and wide as a famous Indian fighter and saved many lives by his valiant efforts. Beside Capt. Giles Company, he was a soldier in Capt. Woodside's Company in 1727 and was a Lieut., of militia later.

In 1752, James Duning lived on 12 Rod Road at the head of Maquoit Bay. He added many valuable acres to his father's original farm.

The farm where James Duning lived had 300 acres upland, 200 on the west side of the road, including a barn, and 100 acres on the east side, including a dwelling house. (The house was built about 1735), also 9 acres of marsh. In 1752, James Duning's house was one of 25 dwellings in Brunswick. There were at that time 4 mills and a meeting house.

In a deed dated June 25, 1731, Isaac Gardner, of Brookline, conveyed to James Duning, for 25 pounds, lot No. 47, 97 acres at the head of a cove on the west side of the road leading to Maquoit, and 1½ acres of marsh on the west side, formerly occupied by Ebenezer Stanwood. Also 3 acres of marsh on Maquoit meadows.

March 25, 1745, deed, signed 10/9/1745, from Belcher Noyes, for the Proprietors, to James Duning, for 10 pounds O.T., on the west side of the Maquoit road (lots no. 31 and 32 on the large plan), 77 acres, boundary on said road on the east side 40 rods; south on land of Wm. Woodside to run, 30 rods; up to land belonging to old church; west on old church land 40 rods; north on land of Adam Winthrop Esq., desc., 328 rods. Also on the east side of road 123 acres (lot no. 32 on plan) bounded west by road 40 rods; south by Wm. Woodside's, 50 rods; east by land of Proprietors, 40 rods; north on land of Ebenezer Stanwood, 468 rods. Also 2 lots of salt marsh, 3 acres each, nos. 3 and 9.

pounds personal estate; Sept. 29, 1753.

An extract from a notebook of Ezekiel Thompson (1757 - 1832) dated 6/8/1827. "I hear that Mr. William Dunning of Maquoit Bay died last week very suddenly. (He d. 6/1827) Very fine man. I suppose he was about 75 or 77 years old. He was son of old Mr. James Dunning who died about 65 or 70 years ago.
Said James Dunning came from Ireland and brought one child who was afterward the wife of Old Alexander Potter, and was grandmother of David Alexander, now of Topsham.
All other evidence does not bear out the idea that Jane
During was a daughter of James, as is pointed out elsewhere in this account. It is possible that Jane was a daughter of Robert and was brought up by James after Robert was killed.

They Were Busy

Indeed, if you had lived near the great shipbuilding centers of Bath, Brunswick, Booth Bay (spelled thus in the old Ships Registers), Waldoboro, Thomaston, Camden, Freeport, Yarmouth, and Kennebunk, a name must be produced for a new ship approximately every month.

Mid-twentieth century Americans like to think that they are the busiest people on earth. Their social engagements, they say, are simply overwhelming; but if these people had lived 100 years ago, they would have had hard pressed to find time to attend all the launchings. In a hand-written diary of Carrie Woodward, written 1872-1904, she frequently make such entries as:

“November 6, 1872. Jennie Cushing called for me to go down to the launching at Sheffield’s today. She and I and Palmer (Carrie’s brother) walked down. There was a great many there.”

“November 13, 1879. They launched at Capt. Roberts (Dunning) today but she stuck. Could not get the vessel off.”

“November 15. Got the vessel off. They launched at Skolfield’s today.”

Although the Dunning yard and the Skolfield yard were less than a mile apart, Carrie and Jennie could not take in both launchings simultaneously.

Shipyards Busy Too

What was the most popular name for these thousands of ships, bark, brigs, and schooners sliding down the way? The Twentieth Annual List of Merchant Sailing Vessels published in 1888 lists 1,370.

“November 6, 1872. Jennie of the United States for the year 1872, called for me go ending June 30. 1888 lists 15,270.”

Carrie Woodward was wife of C.G. Horse, mother of Ralph Horse of Freeport.
Robert Dunning, b. 1/10/1731, d. 10/7/1804, age 74.
He is buried in Maquoit Cemetery, Brunswick. M. Sarah Spear, b. 2/26/1737, d. , dau. of Dr. William Spear and Elizabetn.

In 1746 he was a corporal in Capt. Burns's Company for 16 weeks and 5 days. He was a corporal in John Getchell's Company in 1757. He was a Lieut. in 1776, a Capt. in 1779. He was a selectman in 1777, a member of the Committee of Correspondence and Inspection and on the committee to disburse soldier's family allotments also in 1777. He was again on the Committee of Correspondence in 1778.

The first vessel constructed in Brunswick area, at Middle Bay or Maquoit, was built prior to the Revolution by Robert Dunning. Robert & Sarah Dunning were admitted to the Church, July 5, 1772, during the pastorate of Mr. Miller.

Marriage intentions, 2/14/1756, Robert Dunning and Sarah Spear, born 2/26/1737, daughter of Dr. Wm. Spear and Elizabeth.

Robert's name is spelled Duning on his headstone.

4. Susanna Dunning, 3/15/1781 - m. 1795, David Stanwood, b. Brunswick, 6/23/1772 - son of Ebenezer Stanwood and Martha given. He was on the schooner Active with Robert Dunning when it was wrecked in 1830. He was taken off first as he was married.

5. Martha Stanwood, 1797, bptzd. 6/25/1797.

5. Sarah Stanwood, 1798, bptzd. 6/30/1799.

5. Mary Stanwood, 1806 -

5. Elizabeth Stanwood, 1809 or 1810 -

5. Susanna Stanwood, 1812 -

5. Jane Stanwood, 1815.
The following was obtained from the Roberts genealogy:

6 Joseph Roberts, b. Durham, 1781, m. 1802, in Brunswick, Susannah Dunning, 1780, dau. of Capt. William Dunning and Jean 5 Stanwood.

In October, 1806, Arthur Given & wife Elizabeth of Wales; Lincoln County; David Stanwood & wife Sarah of Brunswick; Nathan Bucklin & wife Mary, of Warren; Lincoln County; with Joseph Roberts & wife Susana of Durham, sold to Joseph Dustin of Brunswick, for $1,073. 00 land on the "east side of a 12 rod road that leads from Brunswick Falls to Maquoit Shore", also marsh "at the end of pump leg point .... a reduction out of the above land of one third for the widow's dower".

In 1808 "Joseph Roberts of Durham, blacksmith, for $675.00, paid by Samuel Patten of Brunswick, sold his land in Brunswick, near Maquoit Landing on the County Road."

The deed was signed "Joseph Roberts" (seal)

The Dunning genealogy by Rev. Charles Sinnett does not record a Susannah Dunning, b. 1780, dau. of William Dunning and Jean Stanwood. There is instead a David Dunning born to the above William in 1780.

There is a Susanna Dunning, b. 1781, dau. of Robert Dunning and Sara Spear, who is supposed to have married David Starwood. The above statement says that David Starwood's wife was Sara Arthur Given's wife was Elizabeth Dunning, b. 1767, dau. of Robert Dunning and Sara Spear.

Nathan Bucklin's wife was Mary Dunning, b. 1777, dau. of Robert Dunning and Sara Spear.

The evidence here indicates that the land was part of the original property of James Dunning, son of the Ancestor, Andrew Dunning, which had gone to the oldest son of James who was Robert Dunning who married Sara Spear. This land was sold by the daughters of Robert Dunning and Sara Spear with their husbands, with the exception of Martha Dunning who was the wife of Joseph Dustin, the purchaser.

If Joseph Roberts married Susanna Dunning, it would make the genealogy of Susanna Dunning all wrong.

If David Stanwood married Sara Dunning, no record of her has been found as yet. But if that is true it is possible the descendants of David Stanwood were by Sara. No cemetery records have been located of these two couples to help clear this up.

The recorded daughters of Capt. Robert Dunning and Sara Spear were: Elizabeth, b. 1767
Martha, b. 1772
Mary, b. 1777
Susannah, b. 1781

James Dunning family (James Jr.)

James Dunning, 7/31/1738 - 8/11/1781, according to Sinnett. It is also said that he died 3/20/1792 (Stackpole), also that he was buried in Bangor, 3/30/1792. Settlers names of Bangor on 12/16/1786 included Widow Dunning. This indicates that he had died before they had moved to Bangor.

They first moved to Bath. Then they bought land in Bangor, described as being located on the southeast bank of the junction of the Kenduskeag and Penobscot Rivers. One writer says, "After living in Bath, Maine, he bought land where the city of Bangor now stands. He was making arrangements to move to Bangor, when robbers came to his house and demanded money. He jumped on a table over which his sword was hanging on the wall and they cut him down on the table. The confusion had been heard by the family and the robbers ran away. After the tragic death of her husband, this stronghearted woman moved to Bangor with her children, just as her husband had planned to do!"

11/23/1795, a James Dunning signed a petition as one of the inhabitants of Bangor. This was probably the son of James and Jane.

Margar.et. Running, 11/15/1740 - 9/18/1814, m., 4/21/1759, Thomas Campbell, b. No. Yarmouth, 7/10/1737, drowned in the Penobscot River, at Orrington, 10/18/1803. Other sources say he was b. 1737, in Scotland, son of Daniel Campbell and Elizabeth Stuart and settled in the Flying Point district of No. Yarmouth, near the Brunswick line. Sinnett is probably nearer right but it is still a question.

Again the ancestry of another Brunswick family is clouded by claims which bear no visible substantiation. If, as is claimed by these people, Elizabeth Stuart was descended from the Royal House of Scotland, and if she was the mother of Thomas Campbell, the only evidence is the fact that one of Thomas's children was named Daniel and another was named Elizabeth.

Thomas Campbell did own land on Flying Point, which he sold to his brother-in-law, John Dunning: "Sept. 25, 1794, Thomas Campbell of Orrington, Gentleman, and wife Margaret, to John Dunning of Flying Point, Yeoman, land at Freeport, joining Maquoit Bay."

From the records of Brunswick and No. Yarmouth:
Marriage intentions; David Reed of Topsham and (Mrs) Margaret Dunning of Brunswick, 12/23/1758. (Erased out)
Marriage Intentions: David Reed of Topsham and Ann Rogers.

At Brunswick; 8/25/1759, Mr. Thomas Campbell of No. Yarmouth and (Mrs) Margaret Dunning of Brunswick, by Rev. Robert Dunlap, 1/1/1760.

It is difficult to discover the reason the title Mrs. is given to Margaret Dunning, as she was only 20 years of age when she married Thomas Campbell. Also it is not known why marriage intentions were filed by David Reed and the erased only months before he married Ann Rogers.

Andrew Dunning, 4/18/1745 - 5/23/1804, m. Mrs. Margaret (Miller) Ransom in 1768. She d. 5/24/1837 age 96 yrs., 2 mo. She was reported to be 106 years of age at her death, in the American Farmer. This is quite doubtful because she would have been 14 years older than Andrew. She first m. Thomas Ransom, 12/23/1761, in King's Chapel, Boston. Thomas Ransom, son of this marriage, was a worthy citizen of Brunswick. He is buried in the old Brunswick burying ground. Andrew Dunning is also buried there, but the burial place of Margaret is not known, but was probably in the same cemetery.

Various versions of Margaret's life and parentage in as many different accounts. This is complicated by the number of John and Jane Millers were living at that time. John Miller and Jane Wilson m. by Rev. John Morehead, 9/30/1731

John Miller and Jane Thompson m. by Rev. John Morehead, 12/30/1737

John Miller and Jane Craig marriage intentions published in Falmouth, 8/27/1737. These are probably the parents of Margaret.

According to Sinnett, Margaret was the daughter of John Miller, a tailor, who was in Brunswick in 1675. The date must be an inadvertent mistake.

According to Mrs. Moody, "The frequent occurrence of deeds recording the transfer of land from the heirs of John Miller, clerk (Rev.), of Brunswick to Andrew Dunning, seems to point to some possible kinship or other connection. This John Miller came from Milton, Mass., to Brunswick in 1761, where he was ordained over the First Parish 11/3/1762, called then John Miller Jr. He was born in Milton in 1738, son of Samuel and Rebecca (Minot) Miller. He graduated at Harvard in 1752. He was married in Brunswick in 1764 to Margaret Rogers, dau. of William Rogers and Dinah Rankin. On account of a division in the church government, he resigned his pastorate about 1788 and died in Boston 1/25/1789, leaving widow Margaret. These dates, if correct, show that they were not the parents of Margaret who was married to Andrew Dunning. The frequent repetition of the names John, Jane and Margaret Miller tends to confuse the records.

Also by Mrs. Moody, "Marriage intentions, 7/9/1768, Mrs. Margaret (Miller) Ransom, born about March, 1741, died 5/24/1837, age 96 yrs., 2 mo., dau. of John Miller, tailor and wife Jane Craig, of Falmouth. Thomas Ransom Jr. born about 1765, died 8/8/1821, age 56, married Prudence Rideout.

Wheeler, in his history of Brunswick, says, "Jan. 13, 1766, Rev. John Miller, his wife Jane, and Daughter Margaret, were warned to leave town in accordance with the law. This was to prevent their coming on the town for assistance. This was the Rev. Mr. Miller who settled 3 or 4 years before over the First Parish! This of course is obviously in error as the Rev. John Miller's wife was named Margaret, and they had no known children.

It seems more probable that John Miller, the tailor and his wife Jane and daughter Margaret were the subject of the order to move. This type of order was a common devise to save the town from possible responsibility in taking care of the indigent. In 1722 - 1724, during the Indian troubles in Maine, when many inhabitants fled to Boston, the town of Boston, according to the law, warned these people to leave Boston to let the town avoid helping these people, in spite of the fact that they had no other place to go.

Another item by Mrs. Moody:-

There is an old book with the autograph of John Hancock of Lexington (1671) grandfather of the Signer of the Declaration of Independence, which is inscribed, "Margaret Dunning, her book, given her by her friend Susannah Powers of Boston, in the year 1797" (11/5/1797).

Andrew Dunning was on the Committee of Safety in 1776, on the Committee of Correspondence and Inspection in 1777 and on the Committee to answer the Boston letter, in 1784.

Col. Thompson accused Andrew Duning of being a Tory at one time, in the same manner that he had ruined many other Brunswick men. The charge was easily refuted.

Andrew Dunning lived on the ancestral farm.

Buried in Maquoit Cemetery

Master Samuel Dunning, 1810 - 1886, single, buried in Maquoit Cemetery.
He was a master shipbuilder of great skill and success, at Brunswick. He was Master Shipbuilder in the Pennell yards at Middle Bay, Brunswick. Jesse Appleton Dunning worked for him in this yard. Also working as a waitress was Dorcas Ann Green, of Lisbon, who married Jesse. In later years he was in bad straights, having lost a great deal of money and other assets during the war. Two of the ships he had an interest in were captured by rebel privateers. Although claims had been entered, these were not settled until after his death, when the Geneva Commission made the awards of millions under the so called Alabama claims. The awards to Samuel Dunning, for the ship "A. E. Thompson" and the ship "Samuel Dunning" being paid to a Mr. Humphreys a banker of Bath, resulted in a suit against Humphreys by the executrix of his estate, his niece Mrs Caroline Dunning (Hunt) Townsend of Freeport.

Deacon Andrew Dunning has been recorded three different ways by Rev. Charles Sinnett.

According to his Dunning Genealogy:
Deacon Andrew Dunning, b. 11/3/1779, d. at sea, 9/16/1861, m. 2/21/1804, Susan Dunlap, b. Brunswick, 4/22/1783, d. 3/15/1833. He m. (2) Elizabeth Ransom who d. 10/16/1835; m. (3) Sophia Ransom, 1841

According to his Dunlap Genealogy:
Susannah (Susan) Dunlap (Dau. of Samuel Dunlap and Susanna Stanwood), b. 1785, d. 1835, age 50, m. (1) Deacon Andrew Dunning, 2/31/1804, b. 11/3/1779, d. at sea, 9/16/1861, son of Andrew Dunning and Margaret (Miller) Ransom.

According to his Stanwood genealogy:
Same as Dunlap.

According to his Woodside genealogy:
William Woodside 3d, b. 1773, d. 11/1/1844, age 71, m. Mrs. Susan (Dunlap) Dunning, dau. of Samuel Dunlap and Susanna Stanwood, b. 8/27/1783, d. 3/15/1833, age 50.

Obviously if Susan Dunlap d. in 1833 and Andrew Dunning d. in 1861, it could not have been Andrew Dunning's widow who married William Woodside 3d who d. in 1844

Stones in Maquoit Cemetery:

Other children.

Mary Dunning, 1781 - 3/19/1813, age 32, m. 2d cousin, Samuel Dunning, b. Harpswell, 6/21/1774, d. 1/21/1811, son of Benjamin Dunning and Elizabeth Ewing. Both buried in the old Harpswell burying ground. See page 122 for descendants.
Robert Dunning, (Andrew 3- James 2- Andrew 1) 11/21/1782 - 10/18/1857, m., 3/4/1810, Sarah Stanwood, d. 9/10/1860, age 68. Both are buried in a Carthage cemetery near Berry's Mill. She was dau. of Ebenezer Stanwood and Martha Dunning, and was of the 7th generation of Stanwoods in this country. The Stanwood genealogy, by Mrs. Bolton, states there were no children recorded of the union of Ebenezer Stanwood and Martha Dunning, which is of course not true. See page 21. Sinnett says Sarah was born in Brunswick 9/11/1793. If this were true she could not have been Ebenezer's daughter, as he died 9/13/1792.

According to her stone, she would have been born in 1792. According to Mrs. Moody: "Robert 4 Dunning, b. 10/21/1782, d. 10/10/1857, age 75, married in Brunswick, 3/4/1810, Sally 7 Stanwood, b. Brunswick, 9/11/1792, died Weld, 3/15/60, dau. of Ebenezer 6 Stanwood, b. 12/7/1768, who married Martha Dunning, who married (2) Joseph Dustin. Sally's father died about 1793-4 (when she was about a year old.) of blood poisoning, caused by a skunk bite." Of course some of her statements are in conflict with known facts. Robert and Sarah have their dates of death and age on their headstones.

The Ebenezer Stanwood who died from a skunk bite was only 14 years old at the time, 1804. He was son of William and Hannah Stanwood.

Brunswick records:

Ebenezer Stanwood married Martha Dunning, 8/9/1792.
Martha Dunning married Joseph Dustin, 7/1796.

There was a natural reluctance on the part of the good Rev. Sinnett to show the dates. These being, to the best way of reckoning; Ebenezer and Martha were m. 8/9/1792; Sarah was b. 9/11/1792; Ebenezer died (probably) 9/13/1792. It is not probable that more accurate data will be found.

Joseph Dustin, whom Martha m. (2) was b. in Bethel, Maine, died in Brunswick (Jesse 5- Jonathan 4- Thomas 3)

Child:

James Dustin, 3/1802 - 10/5/1898

Robert Dunning, born in Brunswick, 10/3/1782, died 10/18/1857. Some writers on the Dunning History have stated that Robert Dunning was lost at sea and that he lost his mind through his experiences. None of these things are true. The statements, no doubt, grew out of the story of his voyage.

On Oct. 27, 1803, the schooner "Active", of Brunswick, Maine and bound for Boston, Mass., had a fearful experience. The crew consisted of Robert Jess, Robert Dunning, David Stanwood and Seth Frazier. The passengers were Capt. Danforth, Joseph Maxwell and Summer Wilson, who gave such a description of the voyage.

They had stopped at Portland, Maine and when they had left there, they expected to reach Boston in a few hours. But the wind changed and blew so hard from the northeast that they were obliged to leave their course for Boston and off to sea for fear of striking on the rocks.

Night came on and snow fell. On the 28th of Oct. the storm increased and the vessel was in great danger. About eleven o'clock, at night, the wind began to go down. The Mate discovered a light, which he thought to be Cape Cod. The Captain came on deck and said that the mate was right in his ideas and that he now hoped that they would soon be out of danger.

But the schooner began filling with water and there was small hope that they could reach land before she sank. After a while, the vessel capsized and the men were obliged to cling to the sides.

In about an hour, the men sighted the schooner Betsey bound for Marblehead. They spoke her but the Captain would not give them any assistance and passed right by them. The men had to stay on their vessel all night, wet and nearly frozen.

In the morning the sea had become quite calm. The Betsey, Capt. Ireson, was still in sight when the sun rose. But like a hardhearted wretch, that captain would not give them any aid.

The men on the wreck were in sight of land, however, and the wind was right to drive them on shore. So they hoped that soon someone might come to their aid.

About 2 P.M., they saw a boat coming toward them. This fishing boat held Mr. Truro and 5 others. As it could not hold on board the Active, they took Capt. Given, Capt. Danforth, Joseph Maxwell and David Stanwood, all married men. (David Stanwood's wife was Sarah Dunning) Mr. Truro said that he would set them on shore and then come back for the rest as quickly as they could.

The men on the wreck waited in vain. In the night their vessel went to pieces and the four men huddled on the quarter deck, which had held together and floated.

The next day was Sunday and the men saw sails at various times but they were not able to attract the attention of any of these craft. So four days and nights passed.

On Thursday, the fifth day, late in the afternoon, they saw a ship coming toward them, which proved to be an American vessel from Castine, Maine, commanded by Capt. Perkins. He at once got the four men on board his vessel and did all in his power to relieve their wants.

The Columbian Sentinel, of Boston, Nov. 2, 1808, gave a full account of this memorable wreck and said that the fishing boat, which took four from the wreck, did not reach shore until night, so for a long time it was thought that all on board the schooner were lost.
It is well known that this story became the foundation for Whittier's famous poem of "Old Floyd Ireson", giving the idea that the Betsey left, unhelped, men who belonged to her own fishing port.

After this adventure on the Active, Robert Dunning never went to sea again. He soon bought a farm at Weld Maine, far from the ocean. He became a thrifty farmer and highly respected by all who knew him.

\section*{SKIPPER IRESON'S RIDE}

By John G. Whittier.

Of all the rides since the birth of time, Told in story or sung in rhyme—
On Apollo's Golden Ass, One-eyed Calendar's horse of brass, Witch astride of a human back, Islam's prophet on Al-Borak— The strangest ride that ever was sped Was Ireson's out from Marblehead! Old Floyd Ireson, for his hard heart, Tarred and feathered and carried in a cart By the women of Marblehead!

Body of turkey, head of owl, Wings a-droop like a rained-on fowl, Feathered and ruffled in every part, Skipper Ireson stood in the cart.

Scores of women, old and young, Strong of muscle and glib of tongue, Pushed and pulled up the rocky lane, Shouting and singing the shrill refrain: "Here's Floyd Orson, for his horned heart, Tor'd an' tu'erd an' cor'd in a cart By the women o' Marble-eed!"

Wrinkled cheeks with hands on hips, Girls in bloom of cheek and lips, Wild-eyed, tree-limbed, such as chase Bacchus round some antique vase.

Bald of skull, with arches bare, Face of kerchief and loose of hair With conch-shells blowing and fish-hooks' twang,

Over and over the Maenads sang: "Here's Floyd Orson, for his horned heart, Tor'd an' tu'erd an' cor'd in a cart By the women o' Marble-eed!"

Small pity for him!—He sailed away From a leaking ship, in Chaleur Bay, Sailed away from a sinking wreck With his own, scornful people on her deck! "Lay by, lay by," they called to him.

Back he answered, "Sink or swim! Drag of your catch of fish again!" And off he sailed through the fog and rain!

Old Floyd Ireson, for his hard heart, Tarred and feathered and carried in a cart By the women of Marblehead!

Fathoms deep in dark Chaleur That wreck shall lie foreverbmore. Mother and sister, wife and maid, Looked from the rocks of Marblehead.

Over the moaning and rainy sea— Looked for the coming that might not be. What did the winds and the sea-birds say Of the cruel captain that sailed away?

Old Floyd Ireson, for his hard heart, Tarred and feathered and carried in a cart By the women of Marblehead!

Through the street, on either side, Up drew windows, doors swung wide. Sharp-tongued spinsters, old wives gray, Trebly lent the fish-herr's bray. Sea-worn grand-fires, cripple bound, Hulks of old sailors run aground, Shock head and fist, and hat and card, And cracked with curses the horse refrain: "Here's Floyd Orson, for his horned heart, Tor'd an' tu'erd an' cor'd in a cart By the women o' Marble-eed!"

Sweetly along the Salem road Bloom of orchard and lily showed. Little the wicked skipper knew Of the head so green and the sky so blue Riding in his sorry van,
The Wreck of the schooner Active

The account here presented was taken from a Brunswick paper. It is a good account of the action, but at least one of the characters is in error.

My great grandfather, Robert Dunning, was the person who was on the schooner Active when it was wrecked. He was born in 1784.

His uncle, Robert Dunning, son of James Dunning, was the man who built ships before the Revolution and built the house pictured in the paper. This uncle Robert was a captain in the Revolution.

There has been at least one Robert in each generation of the Dunning family, so it is not surprising that they should become mixed.

"Old Floyd lreson, for his hard heart,
Tattered and feathered and carried in a cart
By the women of Marblehead;
Smell pity for him! He sailed away
From a leaking ship in Chaleur Bay."

Thus does John Greenleaf Whittier tell us, in his famous poem "Skipper Ireson's Ride" of a notorious shipwreck. Whittier does not mention that the "leaking ship" the "sinking wreck" was the Schooner ACTIVE of Brunswick, District of Maine.

Robert Given was Master of the ACTIVE and his neighbors and life-long friends, Robert Dunning, Robert Ross, David Stanwood and Seth Frazier, were his crew. When the ACTIVE sailed from Middle Bay, Brunswick, to Boston that cool, clear Thursday, October 27, 1808, no one dreamed the trip would make seafaring history. Such trips were commonplace for coastal Maine men in those days. The sea was their highway and they sailed to Boston as casually as we drive by automobile to Boston today.

TRUE FACTS A BIT DIFFERENT

Mr. Whittier, like all good poets, took considerable liberties with the facts of the ACTIVE wreck for the sake of a good story. Floyd Ireson of the poem was actually Capt. Benjamin Ireson of the Schooner "Betsey," from Grand Banks to Marblehead on October 23, 1808. The "Betsey" could have, but did not, help the stricken crew of the ACTIVE. Instead the "Betsey" sailed away and left the "leaking ship" ACTIVE to its fearful ordeal. And, when the story was learned, the "Betsey" was the scorn of New England and did, indeed, incur the wrath of the women of Marblehead.

The poet puts the location at "Chaleur Bay" because of its perfect rhyme and meter. Whereas the real location was "Chaleur Bay" because of its perfect rhyme and meter.

Accurate Account

Summer Wilson of Belchertown, Mass., one of the three passengers on the ACTIVE. On May 23, 1810 Wilson dictated the day-by-day story of the unforgettable hardships of the shipwreck. Wilson dictated his story to Justus Forward, A.M., a Belchertown, Mass., minister. Person Forward prefaced the Wilson story with a written assurance of Wilson's good character and vowed for Wilson's veracity. Mr. interest in the story of the ACTIVE wreck was aroused this summer when a friend, sorting old newspapers at the Historical Society, found the Summer Wilson story as dictated to Parson Forward, and asked if it would be of any interest to me. Thanks to the invaluable help given me by Harold Given of Brunswick, direct descendant of Master Robert Given of the ACTIVE, we located more facts concerning the famous sea story through the State of Maine Historical Library.

To understand the story of the ACTIVE, it is important to understand the background and ancestry of the men of the ACTIVE. They all came from good stock that had survived perilous events, ancestry that stood by these men in their hour of need.

Irishmen

The year of 1717-1719 were years of severe drought in Ireland. Starving men, women and children ate potatoes before they were ripe and sold their cider barrel and beer. Inside was an equal handful of meat. People were forced to pay their rent to absentee landlords. Moreover, the Church in Liverpool. Also, in the interior of England did not look kindly on the vital records of the Glorious Revolution.

SAVED FROM FIRE

Robert Dunning House—This typical early Maine home is located near Dover Corner in Brunswick. Robert went as a Seaman on the Sloop ACTIVE with his neighbor, Master Robert Given. They were wrecked at sea off Cape Anne in this sudden fierce storm that blew up on Oct. 28, 1808 and wrecked the ACTIVE off Cape Ann. Capt. Benjamin Ireson of the BETSEY refused to offer aid and was tarred and feathered by the women of Marblehead. and became the subject of the John Greenleaf Whittier poem "Skipper Ireson's Ride."

The remains of the Given shipyard may be seen on the Dyer property, where two dams were constructed in the salt water creek which makes up from Middle Bay not far from the remains of the Given log cabin. One did not go to the lumberyard in those days in order to buy planks, 2 x 4's, and nails. All of these necessities of the trade were painstakingly made by hand by ship carpenters for their correct height, diameter and texture. Trees, similar to those marked, had been felled by hand, hauled to the shipyard by oxen, and shaped by a saw ingeniously operated by the two dams. We have seen sketches of an up and down saw, operated by two men, one above on a high platform and one below it. However by using a crossbar attached to the saw on one end and to a large wooden barrel of salt water on the other end.

When the bucket was full, it was known that at Middle Bay, David Given built the Schooner AGNIES, 155 tons in 1808. His brother John built the Schooner WASHINGTON, 115 tons in 1800. We do not have a record of the earliest Given vessel built.

SERVED WITH CONTINENTAL ARMY—Robert Given, Master of the ACTIVE served with the Continental Army 1777-1783. This is his Certificate of Enrollment, signed by Elias Boudinot, President of the Congress of the United States of America and by B. Lincoln, Secretary of War, July 4, 1783. It is a prized treasure that now is owned by his descendant, Harold Given of Brunswick.
Brunswick Schooner

While the Robert Given of our story built the Schooner ORANGE, 129 tons in 1755, after his return from six years in the Continental Army 1777-1783. The framed sheepskin certificate of enrollment is owned by his descendant, Harold Given of Brunswick. It is signed by Elizan Rubillot, “President of the Congress of the United States of America and B. Lincoln, Secretary of War, July 4, 1783.

Lt. Robert and brother John, who also served three years in the Continental Army, were well accustomed to the dangers of war. On Sunday, May 9, 1756, the same day as the Means Massacre at Frying Point, the Given family returned from church at Merriconeag (Harpwell) Neck to find their cabins at Middle Bay ransacked and the marks of large meccasized feet in the ground around the buildings. The Given boys were about nine years old at the time.

Lt. Robert served at West Point, Virginia and points south, Drooks Ferry, “with month's 'duty' in Massachusetts. By 1755, he was back at the big house at Middle Bay, where he married his cousin, Mary Skiffeld, and became the father of Thomas, Capt. John, and four girls. It was probably during this period that the Schooner active of this story was built and we can only guess that she may have been like the other schooners of this time and area about 125 tons. Sailed Often To Boston

Now the settlers of Maine raised most of their own food stuffs, wool and flax to be made into clothing, tanned their leather, got out and sawed their own lumber, made iron for nails, and lumber. However, a man needed iron for nails, hand tools, and cooking utensils, glass for windows, molasses for sweetening. Moreover, every ship carpenter expected his swing of rum when laying a keel or two or more cords of wood below decks. Before the American Revolution, such wood brought an equivalent of $2 a cord delivered in Boston; or it could be exchanged for the necessary goods and chattels. It is reported that Joseph Orr bought Orr's Island from Benjamin Jacques, son of the original and Gladness. In their slightly deranged minds they thought they saw land nearby.

First Sunny Day

On Monday, October 8, the fifth day since they left their snug homes in Middle Bay, Brunswick, the sun shone. They caught some rockweed with their line and water. Their tongues were swollen from lack of water Wilson had an ink well in his pocket and the men used the cover to drink sea water, the worst thing they did.

On Tuesday, November 1, the sky began to lower again and the wind kicked up mountains of sea to drench them. God has forgotten them, they said. They recalled what their fathers had undergone only 15 years ago in the American Revolution. One had near relative lost on the Schooner Swallow, so the men had gone to see and never come back lost in the Indus run or on the Banks.

Starvation

Finally one of the men said, “Let us cast lots to see which of us will be taken from the others.” Wilson said, “My life is too sweet to be taken away. I cannot bring my mind to eat of his flesh. We have gone this many days and nights without keeping courage to the end.” But all standing in that low vey knew that they were dying men.

We were all abashed by the desperation of these men.

Kennebunk, October 28, 1756. The leaky Schooner Swallow, half manned, with hunger and thirst was not unknown among American mothers and fathers who had gone to sea and never come back lost in the Indus run or on the Banks.

Sight A Sail

About the setting of the sun, they saw on the horizon a sail making towards them. “Is it life or the end of our lives?” they cried. “I am blessed to see the great sail!” The ship came nearer and nearer. What was their joy when the shipwrecked sailors found the savors to be Americans belonging to KASTENDIECK of Maine. (The Columbian Scribe changes the word to KASTENDIECK.) Later accounts identify the vessel as the Schooner Alexandra. Capt. Peter M. Ferris sent to purchase from Wiscasset to point south an any rate, he took the Brunswick men “out of Hell into a Heaven...
October 23, 1802, in Brunswick, Robert Given said to something, "What say, we spend the first night at Shrewsbury, and be home at Becketstown in two days. But face dictated otherwise.

The given stopped at Portland for some reason and there took on the third passenger, Joseph Maxwell of a well-known Portland family.

Sudden Weather Change

About noon, the wind shifted to the northeast and soon blew a gale. Master Given ran out to sea in order to avoid striking the rocky coast of Cape Ann. The storm increased during the night with alternating rain and snow.

Friday morning showed no improvement and between 10 and 11 o'clock the long boat and water cask were swept from the deck. Crew and passengers tried to right the vessel, but "prayed the Lord to deliver us from our distresses." Sure enough, at 11 o'clock P.M. the wind began to abate and the mate said to Master Given, "We have now a light. I think it is Cape Cod lighthouse." Capt. Given said, "It is so. You are right."

It was just in time. The Active was already filling with water and the crew had already made their "preparation to meet our Judge by crying to our Lord to deliver us from our watery Tomb." All the time the schooner was buffeted about, some men had been trying to cut down the masts and the rigging, but the night was dark and the sea more than treacherous.

"Betsey" Makes Appearance

At last their prayers were answered, for the Schooner Betsey Grand Banks to Marblehead, appeared just before sunrise. The Betsey was commanded by Capt. Benjamin Ireson, who had at least one eye, and who was a vessel for the Maine Wood, to deliver a load of firewood to Boston.

Horror On Active

Meanwhile, back at the wreck of the Active, things were going from bad to worse. The Schooner SWALLOW had been gone only an hour when the water began to break over the remaining men. They lashed themselves to the vessel, but when the cold water of the North Atlantic, on October 29-30, 1808, broke over them all night. Moreover, with the wind against him, Mr. Hardy did not return to the morning as he had promised.

Soon the quarterdeck separated from the main part of the vessel and floated high in the water near the sink. The hull, so Robert Ross, Robert Dunning, Seth Frazier and Sumner Wilson jumped aboard her.

Their combined weight, however, kept the quarterdeck under the face of the water which broke at knee height every few minutes. Only the Power of God preserved us, says Mr. Wilson. They had no compass, no provisions, no water. Although they did not know it, they were now not one mile from the shore of Maine. On October 30, the Lord's Day, a strong nor-wester set in with heavy seas. From time to time, they saw the sails of vessels, but the crew did not see the half submerged, the Schooner Sukey, built at Bath only a few years previously, Master Given of the sinking Active bespoke Capt. Ireson of the Betsey who went on without sending assistance.

There have been numerous reasons given to explain why Skipper Ireson disobeyed the foremost law of the seas, to rescue fellow seaman in distress. One conjecture is that the crew of the Betsey were drunk and unruly and he had lost control of them. We prefer to believe that Ireson did not dare come alongside the sinking vessel in such high seas. At by "wrinkled scowls with hands on hips, and a herculean loam of hair, with conch shells blowing and fish horns twang "to tar and feather" old Plid Ireson for his horrid errors.

The people of Marblehead were, according to the Columbian Sentinel of November 6, 1808, proud of their kindness to sailors in distress and this accorded to them almost, deranged in anger. It was punishment enough to ride through town in a cart, with a rope around one's neck, to be jeered and deriled. But how did these victims remove the thick coating of tar and feathers? (Attention Helloise). At last, the women of Marblehead heeded Capt. Ireson's cries, cut him loose and gave him a cloak to hide him in and left him alone in his sin and shame.

The news soon spread to Boston where it headlined all the newspapers of November 1808.

I, John Muzzey Clerk of the District Court of the United States for Maine District, do hereby certify, that the foregoing contains the original proceedings of the said Court in the matter of the application of

John Dunning

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of the said Court, on this twenty-fifth day of August, A.D. one thousand eight hundred and thirty-two.

John Muzzey Clerk of the U. States District Court for Maine District.
At a Special District Court of the United States begun and holden at Portland, within and for said District, on the 17th day of August 1832 before the Honorable Ashur Ware, Judge of said Court. On this 17th day of August aforesaid, personally appeared in open Court before said District Judge, JOHN DUNNING, a resident of Freeport, in the county of Cumberland, in said Maine District aged seventy nine years, who being first duly sworn according to law, doth on his oath make the following declaration in order to obtain the benefit of the provision made by the act of Congress passed June 7th, 1832. That he entered the service of the United States under the following named Officers and served as herein stated --- That about the first of May 1775 at Brunswick he enlisted as a private for eight months in a Company of militia commanded by James Curtis, and marched with said Company to Cambridge where he served three or four months. I was then ordered to Newbury Port and from there said Company went in boats to Deer Isle (Penobscot, and that he continued to serve there and in that vicinity, guarding the coast till the last of December following when he was discharged and returned home. That the first day of March 1776 at Falmouth, (now Portland) he again enlisted as a private for eight months in a Company of militia commanded by Capt. Lithgow, Col. Mitchell's Regt. and was stationed at said Falmouth where he served till sometime in November following, when he was discharged -- That in June 1776 he again enlisted for eight months at Brunswick and served as a Sergeant in a company of Militia commanded by Capt. Tyler in the Regt. commanded by Co. Poor, in the Massachusetts line, that he joined the Regt. at Fishkill in the state of New York, I marched from there to White Plains - I returned to West Point, where the Regt. was stationed, the quietest part of the time - That he continued to serve in P Company till February 22, 1779. When he was discharged I returned home -- That in May 1779 he again enlisted in a company under Capt. Curtis for three months. I went from Falmouth (now Portland) to Bag a douce, so called and where he served to August following, then returned to Harpswell and Brunswick and served till Sept. and was discharged.
The said John Dunning further states that he was born in Brunswick March 5, 1753, that he has a record of his age at home -- that he lived in Brunswick when he first entered the service -- and after peace was declared he removed to Freeport where he has ever since resided, and where he now resides. That he enlisted as a volunteer each time he has stated except the last when he was drafted -- That he served at first as a private and afterwards as a Sergeant. -- That he has but one written discharge and that was given him by Col. Poor, and he has lost it. That he also has a Sergeant warrant in that Regt. but has lost that also.

Respectfully,

Commissioner.
John Dunning, 2/6/1753 - 7/11/1839, age 06. He was born after his father had died. He is buried in Maquoit cemetery beside his wife. He was a soldier in the Revolution and lived in Freeport on the Bunganuc road, near the present town line with Freeport. At the time the line was at the Bunganuc stream. He m. 1/18/1783, Rebeka Spear, b. Brunswick, about 1763, d. 1/3/1809, dau. of Robert Spear and Annie Skolfield. Sinnett calls her Deborah but the name on her stone is "Rebekah wife of John Dunning of Freeport". John Dunning was on the Committee of Safety in 1778.

Cumberland County Deeds, 167 - 47, 1/12/1839, John Dunning of Freeport, for love, to son James, land in Freeport, being part of what is called Dummer's claim, being the homestead where I now live, conveyed to me by Thomas Campbell. (Thomas Campbell was his sister Margaret's husband.

Cumberland County Deeds, 167 - 48, 1/12/1839, John Dunning of Freeport, for love, to son Robert Dunning, land in Freeport, being S.W. half of land conveyed to me by James Dunning deed of 1781, where Robert Dunning now lives.

Capt. James Dunning, 8/14/1705 - 4/5/1841, drowned at sea. He was a seaman all his life. Sinnett gives his name as John, but it is James on his headstone and on the above deed. He is buried in the Mann Cemetery on Flying Point, or at least there is a stone there. He m. (1) Mary Pickerman who died 8/10/17, age 35, probably dau. of Robert Pickerman and Betsey Busch. He m. (2), 1819, Deborah Rogers, 3/8/1790 - 4/11/1867, age 69 years, 1 mo., dau. of Jeremiah Rogers and Abigail Curtis, buried in Mann Cemetery. The inscription on one headstone commemorates both her and her husband, but does not say that he was buried there. His body may never have been recovered.

Child by Mary Pickerman:

John James Dunning, b. Freeport, 3/13/1815, d. 8/5/1895 at So. Freeport, a carpenter, m. 7/3/1843, Elizabeth Dunning Morse, b. Freeport, 6/13/1815, d. 12/14/1906, dau. of Ephraim Morse, b. 11/11/1777, d. 1852 and Sarah Stanwood, d. 8/24/1848, age 59 years, 10 mo. John J. Dunning and Elizabeth are buried in the So. Freeport Cemetery.

Mary Pickerman Dunning, b. Freeport, 6/30/1844 d. 1906, lived in So. Freeport, m. 5/21/1865, Horace Bartol Townsend, b. Freeport, 3/11/1830, d. Freeport, 1907, son of Enoch Townsend and Cele Clementine Hoyt of Freeport, all are buried in So. Freeport Cemetery. He was a ships captain, shipbuilder and steamer captain.
Children of Capt. James and Deborah Rogers:

Jeremiah R. Dunning, b. 12/13/1820, d. before 1849, m. 1843, Caroline Chase, 1826 - 1860, by Rev. E.G. Parsons. She is buried in Wood Lawn with her second husband. Sinnett gives this man's name as Jeremiah K. Dunning, b. 12/13/1820 and says that Jeremiah R. Dunning was b. 5/4/1838 and was lost at sea. He gives no date for the death of Jeremiah R. Dunning. It is highly improbable that there were two by the name of Jeremiah living at the same time in the same family and there seems to be no record of these births. It seems more probable that Jeremiah R. Dunning was lost at sea not long after the birth of his dau. Caroline. Caroline C. Dunning was m. 5/31/1849 to Capt. Isaac Lambert, by Rev. E.G. Parsons, Clementine Dunning, 1846 - 1891, buried in Wood Lawn Cemetery, m., 10/3/1869, Charles N. Richardson, 1848 -

Edith Marion Richardson, 1870 - , m., at Freeport, James Tyler moved to Hollis, Maine

Clementine Dunning Tyler, 1898 -

William L. Richardson, 1873 - 1951, m., 1899, Ernest L. Rogers, 1872 - 1935, son of Andrew Seth Rogers and Francene Pitts, buried in Webster.

Caroline A. Rogers, 1901 - , m., 1930, Herbert H. Hawkes

Eleanor E. Rogers, 1902 - 1946, m., 1921,

Herbert F. Lunt, 1892 - 1966, son of John Lunt and Helen Kodick, buried in Grove Cemetery.

United States District Court for the District of Maine

On the 17th day of Aug., 1832, personally appeared in open Court before said District Judge, John Dunning, a resident of Freeport in the County of Cumberland, in said Maine District to make the following declaration ——

That he entered the Service of the United States of America under the following named officers and served as herein stated, viz: That about the first of May, 1775, at Brunswick, he enlisted in as a private for eight months in a Company of militia commanded by Capt. James Curtis, marched with said Company to Cambridge where he served three or four months and was then ordered to Newbury Port and from there said Company went in boats to Deer Isle, Penobscot and that he continued to serve there and in the vicinity guarding the coast till the last of December following, when he was discharged and returned home. The first day of April, 1776, at Falmouth (now Portland) he again enlisted as a private for eight months in a Company of militia commanded by Capt. Lithgow, Col. Mitchell's Regt. and was stationed first said Falmouth where he served till sometime in Nov. following when he was discharged. That in June 1778, he again enlisted for eight months at Brunswick and served as Sergeant in a Company of militia commanded by Capt. Tyler in the regiment commanded by Col. Poor in the Massachusetts line. That he joined the Regt. at Fishkill in the state of New York and marched from there to White Plains and returned to West Point where the Regt. was stationed the greatest part of the time. That he continued to serve in the Company till Feb. 22, 1779 when he was discharged and returned home. That in May, 1779, he again enlisted in a Company under Capt. Curtis for three months and went from Falmouth (now Portland) to Bayonne?, so called, and there he served till Aug. following, then returned to Harpswell & Brunswick and served till Sept. and was discharged

The said John Dunning further states that he was born in Brunswick March 8, 1753, that he has a record of his age at home. That he lived in Brunswick at the time he first entered the service, since after the Peace was declared he removed to Freeport where he has ever since resided and where he now resides. That he enlisted as a volunteer each time, he has stated, except for the last when he was --?.--. That he had but one written discharge & that was given him by Col. Poor and he has lost it. William Dunning family

William Dunning, b. 1700, d. 1739. He removed from Brunswick at an early date. Mrs. Moody said that he tried to induce the rest of the family to leave Brunswick, rather than face the danger and discomfort of the Indian Wars. That was probably not the whole reason for his wanting to leave. He had gone to York on business (the County Seat) and had met Deborah Donnell and had fallen in love with her.

He m. Deborah Donnell, 11/26/1724, b. York, Maine, 5/5/1705, d. 1/25/1772, age 67, in York. She was dau. of Benjamin Donnell and grand dau. of Thomas Donnell. Her mother was Mary Harmon, dau. of John Harmon. William Dunning was ancestor of the Harpswell branch of the Dunning family.

He was a farmer and cordwainer and having a good sense of business, he accumulated considerable property, both in York and Brunswick.

He owned lots number 26 and 27 in 1739. He bought 200 more acres in Brunswick in 1742.

(No date) Upland and marsh in Brunswick, to William Dunning in right of his father, Andrew Dunning: 2 lots nos. 26 and 27, and 2 lots of salt marsh, Maquoit, and 3 small lots of Merriconeag, part on the Gurnet side, part on the west side, to make 3 acres in all.

He was appraiser of the estate of Nathaniel Haynes of York.

Deed dated 11/26/1757:

William Dunning of York, Maine, cordwainer, in consideration of the love I bear to my son Andrew Dunning of the same York, mariner and for and towards his settlement in the World, do grant unto him and his heirs and assigns, one Moity of half part of that 100 acres of land upon the easterly side of Merriconeag Neck, which 1 purchased of Henry Gibbs, 12/7/1742.

Registry of Deeds of Portland, Maine, 6/6/1777, William Dunning, husbandman, to Robert Dunning of Brunswick, Maine, Gentleman and to Anthony Woodside, husbandman, for 133 pounds, land in Brunswick which I purchased of the Proprietors, lots 25 & 27, (Lot 25 must bear lot 26)

Capt. (Deacon) Andrew Dunning, 7/11/1727 - 3/28/1803, age 76, by Rev. Isaac Lyman, 5/16/1791, Hannah Shepard, 1726 - 12/28/1811. Both are buried in the old Harpswell burying ground. The name is spelled Dunning on Andrew's stone and spelled Dunning on his wife's stone.

He moved to Harpswell prior to 1758. In 1753 he was a Selectman and Town Clerk.

He was made a Deacon 6/17/1767.

In 1773 he was on a committee to reply to a letter on the Colonist's rights, and again in 1774.

He was a Commissioner of Inspection, Correspondence and Safety, 1775 - 1777, and again in 1783.

In 1777 he received 12 shillings for recording the Declaration of Independence.

He was a soldier in 1747.

In 1762, he kept a store with Alexander Wilson.

Maine Census of 1790: Harpswell, Andrew Dunning (head of family) "Himself, grandson Aaron, under 16, wife and daughter Sarah."

He followed the sea in his younger years and settled at "High Head", Harpswell, on land given to him by his father.

Samuel Dunning of No. Harpswell wrote, "This Andrew Dunning farm contains 100 acres and I live on half of it, in a house which I built 40 years ago. The other half with the old buildings are owned and occupied by George A. Barnes. It is said that Andrew Dunning went 24 successive winters to the legislature.

Hannah Dunning, b. York, 2/22/1752, J. Chesterville, Maine, 1/31/1845, K. (1), 9/29/1783, Hugh Alexander, 1750 - 1847, son of William Alexander and Jean Wilson, as his second wife. He had been married to Catherine Ewing who had died about 1785. K. (2) Joseph Foster.

Aaron Dunning, illegitimate son of Hannah was b. 11/4/1779, d. 7/17/1861, age 81, according to cemetery records. According to Mrs. Moody, he was b. 11/8/1778, d. 9/11/1860, age 81-10.

He was adopted by his grandfather and lived with him.

M. (1) Elizabeth Stanwood, 9/2/1785 - 10/16/1835, dau. of Ebenzer Stanwood and Martha Given; m. (2) Mrs. Elizabeth (Stanwood) Gould, 1/7/1794 - dau. of Samuel Stanwood and and Elizabeth Larrabee. Aaron and his first are buried in Pine Grove Cemetery, Brunswick.

The house at Federal and Cleaveland streets in Brunswick was built by Deacon Aaron Dunning, maternal grandfather of George Bowker. It was apparently built on leased land that was later conveyed to Aaron Dunning by Robert Dunning. Aaron in turn, conveyed it to Joseph McKeen, 8/12/1826.

Remarks:

1723 year not given, entered 1723

at Fort George at Brunswick

Reported, "Rob. Cunning", detained with others on Col. Halsey's order.
There is no record of Robert Dunng's birth except that he was born overseas. He was killed by the Indians, along with his brother Andrew Dunng Jr., 3/22/1724.

Mrs. Moody, who was a Dunng descendent and did a great deal research on the Dunng family, says that Robert may have been the oldest son of Andrew. Her reasons were:

"He was present at Town Meeting, 9/16/1719, which meant that he was of age on that date. He owned land in Brunswick, lot No. 10. Entry in Pejepscot Papers: Dec. 19, 1719, lot no. 10, on the east side of Maquot road, 97 acres, granted to Robert Dunng for 5 pounds. Also on the same date: lot no. 13, 3 acres of Merriconet marsh, for 5 pounds later sold to Robert Spear.

He probably had a daughter, Jane, born about 1717, d. 8/15/1781, who married Alexander Potter, b. 1711, d. in Topsham, 4/4/1800, age 99.

An extract from a notebook, dated 6/8/1827, "old Mr. James Dunng, who died about 65 or 70 years ago. Said James Dunng came from Ireland and brought one child who afterward was the wife of old Mr. Alexander Potter, who was the grandfather of David Alexander of Topsham."

This must be discounted, because if Jane Dunng had been a daughter of James, she would have been mentioned in his will, which she was not.

It is very possible that if Jane Dunng was a daughter of Robert, James would have taken her to bring her up, when Robert was killed.

There is no absolute proof that Jane was a Dunng, but Rogers family tradition maintains that she was such, and diligent search has failed to find otherwise.

Robert Dunng was a member of Capt. Giles Company in 1723 - 1724. According to the records, he settled in the west end in 1722.

He is recorded as a key witness in the first law suit to be heard in Brunswick.

He was detailed to duty with Capt. Giles Company by Col. Westbrook.

William Dunng administered his estate in, 10/4/1726, indicating that he had property and possibly he was married. Nathaniel Dunng, in a paper written in 1831, had this to say; "In the year 1724, Andrew and Robert Dunng, as they were crossing the Androscoggin River, at Mason's rock, were shot by the Indians. One of them fell into the river, and the other received a ball in the arm which disabled it entirely. But, with the other arm and one oar, he succeeded in reaching the Topsham shore, thereby escaping from the Indians. But he died the next day in Consequence of his wounds. The brothers were buried together in the graveyard at Fort George, on the spot where Robert Merrill built his store. (1831) From part of the gravestone, which was discovered two years since (1829) and is now in possession of John Dunng, it is ascertained that Andrew Dunng was 20 years of age. The age of Robert is unknown."

The graveyard mentioned has long since disappeared. It was located where the present underpass is now located.
Mrs. Moody names several other persons who may have been his children, but the only one who appears valid is Jane.
As we have said, if she had been a daughter of James she would have been mentioned in his will. He also stated that Mary was his eldest daughter and she was born in 1733.

Andrew Duning, Jr. was b. 1704, according to the old headstone mentioned in the story of the death of Robert and Andrew at the hands of the Indians in 1724. He was buried in the graveyard at Fort George, between Bow and Mill streets, which was covered by buildings for years. It is now entirely obliterated by the underpass under Maine street.

Andrew Duning Jr. served for 69 weeks and one day in Capt. Giles Company, in 1723 and 1724, which is the longest period of service of any who were enrolled in that company.

York Deeds 14-24 Sept. 25, 1730

In a deed from Rowland Norton of Salisbury, Mass. for $29 to David Duning of 97 acres in Brunswick. It is stated "said land being ½ of two lower-most lots in Herriconeag, Andrew Duning quming the other half Capt. David Duning was one of the most prominent men in early Brunswick. He was born in 1705 or 1706 and died 8/16/1793, at the age of 88. He was a soldier in Capt. Giles Company, 1723 - 24, and in Wm. Burns's Company in 1746. He was a Capt. of Militia and Capt. of the Alarm List, during the Indian Wars. He received his commission from Gov. Shirley in 1743.

In 1735 he was a signer of the petition to the General Court for the incorporation of the town of Brunswick. He was a selectman in the first government after incorporation, in 1739 and again in 1742.

He was the first Representative to the General Court in 1742 - 1743 and again in 1746.

In 1747, he was a Commissioner to the General Court with a petition for protection from the Indians and again in 1753.

He was a Commissioner to Col. Cushing for the abatement of taxes to soldiers in 1757.

David Duning was 17 years old in 1722 and lived in Maquoit with his father and mother. This was his home during the 1722 - 1724 war with the Indians. He did testify that at one time they lived in the old stone fort.

He was called Denin in his marriage intentions.

He was married by Rev. John Morehead of the Presbyterian Church of Boston, called the "Church of the Presbyterian Strangers" in Boston 12/5/1735, to Mary Todd of Londonderry, N.H. She was born about 1710 and died 8/16/1784, in Brunswick, Maine. She was daughter of John Todd and Rachel Nelson and a sister of Capt. Alexander Todd of Londonderry, N.H.

David Duning lived back from 12 Rod Road (Maine street) about where the Fire House now is. He erected a strong timber garrison house or blockhouse. It was two stories high, forty feet long and twenty two feet wide. The second story projected out over the first and the walls had loopholes to enable the inmates to fire upon the Indians when it was required. There was a tower on top from which the teams could be watched on the way to the Merriconeag Marshes. (Harpswell).

He was living there in 1772 and his son John ran a tavern there until 1807. It was at this tavern that the committee met and then walked to the area donated for Bowdoin College to survey the site. This Inn which was called Washington Hall was burned in the middle 1800s. When John converted the garrison to an inn, David Duning built a smaller house nearer the street in which he died.

After his first wife died in 1784, David Duning married again. On 1/29/1788, he married the widow of Adam Hunter, of Topsham. She was the former Mary Lithgow and was a sister of Martha Lithgow, wife of James Duning his brother. Both were over 80 years old when married.
David Duning and his first wife, Mary Todd, are buried First Parish burying ground on the Mere Point road (12 Rod Road). They are buried to the left of his father, Andrew. His name is spelled Duning on his headstone. His second wife, Mary Lithgow, is probably buried in Topsham, in the old North cemetery, beside her first husband Adam Hunter, but there is no marker.

Deed: to Capt. David Duning, Gentleman, and to Jere Moulton, Esq., each one half of the old fort on Haquoit road adjoining Lot No. 1, Nov. 14, 1761. This was the famous Mill Privilege called the Fort Right. It was deeded to them by Belcher Noyes, the Proprietors' agent, for 133 pounds, six shillings. The Fort Right included all the land north of Mill street and Mason street, between Town Landing and the upper dam.

Jeremiah Moulton is the same man who was a leader of the expedition which raided the Norrigwock Indian tribe with almost a complete massacre of the tribe.

In 1767, David Duning bought 1/16th of Royalsborough (Durham) or 6 lots, number 9, 74, 91, 113, 143, 153. He sold Lot No. 9 to Lemuel Jones. Lot No. 113 was inherited by his son Andrew. Lots No. 143 and 153 were inherited by his heirs. Lot No. 91 was deeded to his daughter Elizabeth (Dunning) Stackpole, thereby deciding the destiny of the Stackpole family, in Durham.

Letter from B. Noyes, Boston, to E. Freeman at Brunswick, Nov. 12, 1763. "As for Capt. Duning, you should not have trusted to his generosity; he is but an Irishman and we have had much trouble with him in times past!"

(Note by Mrs. Moody: - No one hated the Irish more than the Dunings, who were rabid Scotch Presbyterians.)

In another letter from B. Noyes to E. Freeman, June 24, 1771, "James Potter has sold his right to David Duning. Capt. D.D. has been all his days a trespasser and a secret enemy to our interests!" He is speaking of loss to the Proprietors by the selling of timber rights to David Duning.

A deed registered Sept. 25, 1730, conveyed to David Daneing, (also spelled Deaning on the same deed.) 97 acres on 12 Rod Road, boundaries, East - Amogen River (Androscoggin), North - James Meaxon, West - Proprietors' lands. 12 rods were reserved through the land for a county road. Also ½ of about 6 acres of meadow, being half of the two lowermost lots in Merriconeag, Andrew Duning owning the other half. His name is spelled Duneing on the verification copy, dated Sept. 28, 1730.

June 21, 1790, David Duning, Brunswick, Gentleman, to Andrew Duning, yeoman and John Duning, Gentleman, 230 acres in Brunswick, being lots 4 and 5, and 7 and 8 and ½ my right in the old Stone Fort.

Portland Registry of Deeds: John Duning of Brunswick, Maine, Gentleman, executor of the will of his late father, David Duning, to Robert Dunning of Brunswick, Gentleman, land in Durham.
Capt. David Duning liked to fish for salmon with a dip net. One day while he was fishing at the falls, another man, using a net with corks to hold it up, was sitting on Middle Rock. The man seeing his floats bob under the water, drew in his nets and with it drew in David Duning. It appears that David in reaching over to dip out a salmon, had slipped and fallen into the river. He floated down until he was caught in the man's net. (It would be interesting to know when the last salmon were caught in the Androscoggin.)

Middle Rock upon which one of the piers of the old Topsham bridge was located.

Capt. David's son, Deacon Andrew Dunning, was the first postmaster of Brunswick. The Postoffice was established in 1793 and was kept in his dwelling on Maine street, just north of Noble street, until shortly before his death. His estate remained in the family until the late 1800s. Mr. Dean Swift distinctly remembered being sent to Deacon Dunning's for letters when a boy. He said the Deacon kept them in a desk in a corner of the room. It was customary for the citizens to look over the letters themselves and select therefrom such as bore their address.

Robert D. Dunning, who succeeded his father in 1801, kept the postoffice on the corner of Dunlap and Maine streets. The following is not accurate as to location, as the location of the old fort was far from the Maine Central R.R.

"In 1907 some of the Dunning, on which the old stone fort George had been located, was sold, after it's long ownership by the Dunnings, to the Diamond Match Co. This property is situated on the south side of the Maine Central R.R., beginning at the west side of land owned by O.T. Despeaux on Spring street and extending to the Growstown road. The tract comprises 70 acres. George A. Dunning, great, great grandson of Capt. David Duning was the grantor.

Deacon Andrew Dunning, b. Brunswick, 11/9/1736, d. in Brunswick, 7/31/1800, in his 64th year. He was Deacon of the First Congregational Church in 1772, a Commissioner of Correspondence, Inspection and Safety in 1776 - 1777, Selectman of Brunswick in 1779, 1780, 1781, 1786, 1787, 1789 and 1790. First postmaster of Brunswick until his death.

M., 1768, Elizabeth Dunlap, b. Nobleboro, 7/16/1742 (1740 on the stone, which is probably right) d. 3/4/1801, age 61. They are buried in the old Brunswick burying ground on the Mere Point road.

They lived in a house on the hill opposite the site of the present First Congregational Church, which land was sold to the Church by Robert D. Dunning. The house was near where the corner of Noble and Maine streets are now located. This farm was given him by his father.

He lived opposite the Congregational Church in his father's house. This house was remodeled and set back from the street in what is now the corner of Noble street. It was occupied by Prof. Robinson at one time. "His house was occupied by his sisters Margaret and Susan and by his uncle John Dunning." He sold the lot to the church on which the church now stands. He succeeded his father as postmaster of Brunswick. He made the survey of the present town line between Brunswick and Freeport. He was a captain in the 1312 militia; selectman of Brunswick in 1811 and 1814 - 1816; Rep. to the Gen. Court of Mass. in 1805 - 1812, 1814 - 1816; member the Maine Constitutional Convention in 1819; an Overseer of Bowdoin College 1805 - 1833. According to contemporaries, "His decision on any dispute in the Congregational Church was final!"

He left Brunswick in 1825 at the age of 16. He had sufficient money to take him to Boston, where his cousin was in business and agreed to employ him. He also had a $10 gold piece, dated 1817, given him by his aunt Hannah O'Brien, of Brunswick. During his long life he never parted with his pocket piece and it is still in possession of the family. After a year in Boston, he went to Phila. Pa., where his cousin James O'Brien was in business in wholesale dry goods, in the firm of Dunbar and O'Brien. He made frequent trips on horseback to Indiana and Ohio, collecting for his firm and he later became a member of the firm, Dunbar, O'Brien and Dunning. About 1852, he formed the firm of Robert D. Dunning & Co., doing a commission business in all sorts of products, cotton, wool etc. with branches in Clarksville, Tenn. and Memphis. At the outbreak of the Civil War, this firm had many outstanding accounts, which became impossible to collect by the Northern firm, forcing it to the wall. During the War, Mr. Dunning had various positions under the U.S. Government, in the Philadelphia Mint and in the Asst. U.S. Treasurers Office in Phila. He retired in 1882.

John Dunning, 9/19/1738 - 2/10/1831 in Brunswick, age 93.
He was a land owner in Brunswick in 1757, a soldier in Capt. Gatchell's Company, served in Capt. William Litchfield's Company in 1776, for 9 mo. and 14 days. In 1778 he was on the Committee of Correspondence, Inspection and Safety. He was a selectman 1791, 1792. In 1779 he was allowed 3 pounds and 14 shillings for care of Prisoners. He was an Innkeeper and was a chorister in the Congregational Church, 1786.
He stated that in his youth there were only two buildings within half a mile of the Fort where he was born, one of these being the house of James McFarland. Soon after his marriage he built the Samuel Jackson house at the corner of Union and Pleasant streets. This is the house directly across from the Catholic Church on Pleasant street. (The Fort where John Dunning was born was the garrison house of David Duning.)

of Cumberland, and State of Maine, in consideration of the sum of five cents to us paid by the Inhabitants of the Town of Brunswick aforesaid, the receipt whereof we do hereby acknowledge, do hereby release, remise and forever quitclaim unto the Inhabitants of Brunswick, all our right title and interest in and to the following described tract or piece of land now partly used and improved as a public highway, and commonly called the twelve rod road or Maine Street, and bounded as follows; beginning at the North West post in Jacob Abbott Esq's fence, in front of his dwelling house — thence running across the road on a course seven degrees South, ten rods and eight links to the house occupied by Russell Stoddard; thence South twenty degrees East, forty six rods, thence South three degrees East twenty four rods, thence South seven degrees West fourteen rods and twenty links to a stone post at the Southwest corner of Joseph McKeen Esq's store, thence West seven degrees North across the street to Robert D. Dunning's yard in front of his dwelling house ten rods and eighteen links, thence North until it comes in a direct line with the North end of said Robert D. Dunning's house about one rod and eight links from the North east corner thereof, thence North ten and a half degrees West eighty-two rods to the first boundary marked A in the plan thereof which is hereunto subjoined.

To have and to hold the same to them the said Inhabitants of Brunswick, their successors and assigns, to their use and behoof forever, for the following purposes and those only, that is to say, a space near the center thereof as marked in said plan (ghl) containing one hundred and fifty-six rods conveyed by the said John O'Brien and Robert D. Dunning, and fifty-nine rods conveyed by the said John A. Dunning, in all two hundred and seventeen rods to be reserved and used as a public walk or Mall, for the of black alder. This long existed in the western portion of this tract. Wheeler states that in surveying for the railroad in 1846, C. J. Noyes, Esq. went over the top of his rubber boots in this locality.

About 1825, a group of interested Brunswick citizens, from all walks of life, met and with axes, shovels, hoes, and the like cleared the land and opened the stream that crept through the swamp on the west side of Maine Street. This was the first attempt to improve the neglected area. Later a committee was named to collect funds to fence the entire area of the Mall. This was removed in 1902 leaving an open park.

In the middle of the Mall was an open pond, walled for protection but this was filled in because of the objections of the residents west of Maine Street who said it made their cellars damp.

For many years the care of the Mall was under the Village Improvement Association, with the town annually appropriating funds for its care.
