"ANDREW WALKER 1808 - 1899

"He is best known for writing eleven volumes of diaries, with an entry every day from Jan. 1, 1851 to Aug. 13, 1897. These are available in the Kennebunk Free Library, and are very popular with local history buffs. They are a rare and lively combination of history philosophy, genealogy, personal opinions, - and a little social scandal for good measure! His portrait hangs over the fireplace in the library.

"He grew up on a large farm in the Town House area in Kennebunkport. The farm was on both sides of what is now called "Walker's Lane ", and it included both of what are now Arundel Cemetery and the Kennebunkport Historical Society headquarters. He was a trader in Kennebunk for 53 years, the last 32 of which were in the building west of the brick building of the Brick Store Museum. When he retired in 1888, he renovated this building and gave it to the "Free Library Association of Kennebunk" in memory of his only daughter, Lucy, who had died two years before.

"He was a director of the Ocean National Bank for 40 years; Town Treasurer for 15 years; Town Clerk for 13 years; very active in the Congregational Church on Dane St., and also in the Democratic political party He was the last born of eleven children and also the last to die.

Compiled by Roger D. Gonneville, 1989"

"Death of Andrew Walker

"Mr. Andrew Walker, an aged and respected citizen of this town, died early Tuesday morning at his residence on Main Street, at the advanced age of 90 years, 8 months, 19 days. He has been gradually failing in health for several years, but prior to that time was remarkably strong, and deeply interested in all that pertained to the welfare of the town. Mr. Walker leaves no immediate family, having lost a wife in 1879 and an only daughter in 1886.

"He served in the town as clerk for 13 years, between 1844 and 1857, and as treasurer for nine years and also in minor offices at different times. He had, up to the time of his sickness, the most complete records of the town and the doings of its prominent men, in existence. In 1835, he with his brother Palmer, under the firm name of P. & A. Walker, opened a store in Kennebunk village, which continued until March 14, 1840, when the firm was dissolved, A. Walker continuing the business until 1888, when he gave up business owing to failing health, making almost 53 years of continuous business career.

"He donated to the Free Library Association the land and building used by him as a furniture store and fitted it up for the use of the Library, as a memorial to his daughter Lucy, whose early death he never ceased to mourn.

"In 1808 he compiled and published the Military and Naval History of the Citizens of Kennebunk, who took part in the civil war. At the time of his death he was the senior director of the Ocean National Bank, having held that position for 40 years.

"We understand he made several public bequests in his will.

"Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon, conducted by Rev. G. A. Lockwood, pastor of the Congregational church, of which the deceased was a member. The remains were interred in the family lot in Hope cemetery. The Bank and places of business were closed during the services as a tribute of respect to one who, through his long life of integrity, won the esteem of his fellow men."

(The date "July 21, 1899" is written on the photocopy of the obituary. Whether this is the date of Andrew Walker's death or of publication is not known.)

THE DIARY

The Diary comprises eleven volumes covering a period of 46 years, 8 months and 12 days:

XI	Mar 18, 1894	Aug 13, 1897	1,245	247

Andrew Walker's objectives in keeping the Diary were expressed in the opening entries of Volumes I and II:

"PRIVATE an(sic) CONFIDENTIAL

"Kennebunk, Jan. 1, 1851

"I Andrew Walker propose to write a short diary in this book of such events in this quiet village and vicinity as come to my knowledge. By the term events I include whatever may be suggested to my mind at the time of writing, whether of a private or public nature, my own thoughts or the thoughts of others. In short whatever may come uppermost, that I shall try to express. How long the diary may continue remains to be seen.

"PRIVATE and CONFIDENTIAL

"Kennebunk, April 19, 1852

"On the first of January 1851 I Andrew Walker, commenced a Diary and have continued it until the present time. The principal objects I had in view in keeping this diary were, - - - - -

"First, in order that I might by constant practice acquire a greater facility in expressing my thoughts on paper.

Second, noting down many events in this vicinity that now seem of importance but will presently dwarf into mere littleness, other events now insignificant in our eyes, but one day will assume an an(sic) air of important magnitude.

Third, the pleasure or information to be derived in subsequent years in knowing how events were considered at the time when they transpired and what my opinions were at that time. I recollect of reading somewhere, 'As a woman likes to view herself in a glass, so a man likes to see himself in his diary'."

Walker was 42 years and almost two months of age when he started the Diary and 88 years and just over 9 months of age on the date of the last entry. He died one year, eleven months and a few days after that entry.

From a note in Library files:

"WALKER DIARIES

"Diaries were sold at auction at the Curtis place on Grove Street, Kennebunk.

"They were bid for and bought by Henry Parsons, who gave them to the Library.

"Sylvia Cousens kept them in her house until, in the 1960's, President of the Board of Trustees Nelson Hall got them back to be kept in the Library, where they have been ever since.

As told by Elsie Hall
9/27/82"

In 1986 the eleven volumes of the Diary were photo copied and bound. From the bookplate in the front of each volume:

"This memorial of appreciation is to honor LOUISE WALKER DAY of Alewife for her diligence and accomplishment.

"She effected completion of an important trustee project by having the Andrew Walker Diaries printed, bound and microfilmed for Kennebunk Free Library."

DIARY INDEXES

Each day's entry includes a marginal note stating either the principal item in the entry or what amounts to its subject in Walker's words.

Each volume includes an alphabetical "index" covering its contents. Index references are sometimes the marginal notes but often the names of individuals, organizations, events or places discussed in the entry; thus there may be multiple references for an entry. References listed under a given letter are not alphabetized and are most generally in page-number sequence.

Some volumes contain material in addition to the daily entries:

Many volumes contain lists of first lines of poems.

Volume 1 includes a list, at the end, of real estate transactions from late 1845 to 1852.

Volume 2 includes, on page 218, under the title "Monetary", notes of financial transactions between certain members of the community during the period June 1852 - January 1861.

Volume 10 includes two discussions of working conditions in shipyards. The first, untitled, on pages 248-251, discusses ships carpenters' wages. The second, entitled "Ten Hours System in Kennebunk", on pages 252-256, discusses working hours in shipyards.

References to many of the items included in this material have been included in the Diary indexes. The real estate transactions list, monetary notes, wages and working conditions items have been included in the computer index, see below, as topics as have many of their details.

CARD INDEX

Apparently shortly after the Kennebunk Free Library acquired the Diary in the 1960's, a comprehensive card index covering all eleven volumes was compiled by and/or under the direction of Robert T. Cole, a Kennebunk businessman and library trustee.

The index comprises more than 725 cards on which are listed more than 3,950 names and topics with over 28,680 volume and page references, almost 1.7 times the number of daily entries in the Diary. It appears that the names and topics listed include those in the indexes in the Diary volumes plus additional items gleaned from reading the entries.

Compilation of the card index was a significant contribution to making the information in the Diary available to researchers. Unfortunately, as with the indexes in the Diary itself, complete alphabetization of the material listed was not feasible. As a note with the card index states:

"10/10/89 Alphabetizing on file cards in Walker Diary is off.
Top line signifies where card is placed in the file, but the names below may be out of order."

COMPUTER INDEX

In the summer of 1994 a project to protect the index by making easy reproduction possible led to the idea of compiling it on a computer program. The project also expanded the usefulness of the card index by truly alphabetizing all listings and cross-indexing complex items under multiple headings. The addition of more than 1,100 cross-index references expanded the index to more than 5,900 names and topics and over 32,400 volume/page references.

The cross-indexing appears to be especially helpful, bringing together multiple references to such topics as churches, railroads, places mentioned, etc.

More detailed information about the computer index will be found in the User Guide.

COMPUTER INDEX USER GUIDE

The original Diary consists of eleven volumes covering the period January 1, 1851 through August 13, 1897:

Volume	First Entry	Last Entry
I	Jan 1, 1851	Apr 18, 1852
II	Apr 19, 1852	Jul 21, 1854
III	Jul 22, 1854	Feb 17, 1858
IV	Feb 18, 1858	Nov 2, 1862
V	Nov 3, 1862	Apr 10, 1869
VI	Apr 10, 1869	Jun 20, 1875
VII	Jun 21, 1875	Mar 29, 1880
VIII	Mar 30, 1880	Dec 31, 1884
IX	Jan 1, 1885	Sep 29, 1889
X	Sep 30, 1889	Mar 17, 1894
XI	Mar 18, 1894	Aug 13, 1897

Users whose interests are limited to specific time periods may wish to refer to the indexes in each volume of the original Diary.

This (computer) index is an alphabetical listing compiled on from a card index which was in turn taken from the indexes in the original Diary.

The "Legend" column of the index contains symbols identifying listings in the following terms:

"a" Additional listing; continuation of a listing containing more volume and page references than can be entered on one line.

"s" See cross-index listing(s) at other words used in original listing.

"c" Cross-index listing.

Lines not preceded by a symbol, or preceded by "a" or "s", are as taken from the card index. Those preceded by "c" were created for this index.

Some listings are sufficiently complex that they have multiple cross-index listings:

s Boston & Maine Railroad
c Maine, Boston &, Railroad
c Railroad, Boston & Maine

Note that cross-indexing will bring "Maine" and "Railroad" listings together.

Similar consolidation will occur for categories such as banks, churches, clubs, mills, place names, etc.

Cross-indexing also compensates for inconsistent listings:

s Alfred, Trip to c Philadelphia, Trip to c Trip to Alfred s Trip to Philadelphia

The index includes listings for numerous (at least 178) vessels, some listed in the card index under the name of the vessel, others under the category "Ship". Most included an indication of the kind of vessel; bark, schooner, ship, etc. Listings for vessels are cross-indexed in as many ways as possible:

s Alaska Ship
c Ship, Alaska

s Ship, Bourne, John B. Ship
c Bourne, John B., Ship Ship
c John B. Bourne, Ship Ship

In each listing, the first "Ship" is the listing category; the second is the kind of vessel.

Most listings are personal names, in the form:

Surname, Given names or initials, Title:

Barker, John W., Capt.

Because of their number, (sea)captains (84), physicians (37) and clergymen (102) are cross-indexed under "Capt.", "Dr." and "Rev.", respectively. The original listings for these categories are not preceded by the "s":

Barker, John W., Capt.
c Capt. Barker, John W.

Names or topics are followed by "v 1" through "v11" numbers to identify volumes and numbers indicating pages in the Diary. In most cases, a space occurs between the last page reference for one volume and the identification of the next volume. In some cases that gap has been eliminated to avoid excessive short listings.

References are in paragraph form rather than on individual lines by volume in order to reduce the length of the index. Consequently, volume references may run over from one line to the next.

A few card index entries showed volume references without page references and vice-versa. Question marks (?) appear in this index representing the missing information. Similarly, a question mark was entered when spelling or writing in the card index was unclear.

Although considerable effort was expended to make this index correct in terms of the card index, the great volume of material almost guarantees errors.

Users who uncover errors, identify questioned entries or find possible additional listings are urged to bring them to the attention of Library personnel for action.

COMPUTER TECHNICAL INFORMATION

This document was compiled on a Leading Edge Model D2/Plus "286" personal computer using the application "Microsoft Works", Version 2.0, running under "Microsoft DOS", Version 5.0.

The files generated for the project have been copied onto a 3.5" computer disk, which has been delivered to the Library. A printout of the files on that disk (its directory), in the order in which they appear in the final document, appears at the end of this section. The files ending in ".WPS" were prepared using the word processor segment of the application and those with ".WKS", the computer index, were done with the spreadsheet segment.

The total document contains about 755,000 bytes of which about 706,000 are in the index. Because of the 640K limitation of the 286 microprocessor, the index was compiled in four files ranging in size from 144,000 to 194,000 bytes, permitting two files to be open at once. The division also lessened the possibility of printer problems.

The document was printed from the application using a Panasonic KX-P1123 24-pin dot matrix printer emulating an Epson LQ-850. A limitation of this printer is that it will print no closer than 1.7" from the top of a page. Under the circumstances, even though the top margin is set at 0" in the application, the printed output will still have an upper margin of 1.7". Paradoxically, the printer will accept the bottom margin as set in the application. Top and bottom margins for this document have been set in the Works application in recognition of these limitations.

The word processor files have been set to print in near letter quality (NLQ) Roman 10 point type with both side margins at 1.5". The index is set to print in NLQ Roman 8 with the left margin at 0.75" and the right at 0.5". These settings permit sixteen Volume/Page References per line in addition to the Legend and Names/Topics columns.

The best environment for reprinting or correcting the document is obviously a 286 or better personal computer equipped with "Works" or "Works for Windows". The word processing files may also be opened in "Microsoft Word" and the spreadsheet programs in "Lotus 1-2-3", Versions 1A or 2, with some restrictions.

Assuming the availability of a Works application on a hard disk, reprinting and/or correction of the document should start by creating subdirectory on the hard disk and copying either the entire 3.5" disk or the desired files into it. (Filenames are printed at the lower left hand corner of each page.)

If a printer other than the KX-P1123 is to be used, the file format may have to be edited.

Simple corrections of spelling, volume or page references, etc. may be made as required and the page on which they appear reprinted.

Additions to the index, or corrections that increase the number of lines in it, require more extensive action. Blank space has been left at the end of each alphabetic section to allow for expansion. As new material is inserted, following lines will be moved toward the end of the section in a ripple effect. When additions are completed, pages beginning with the first page on which a correction was made through the end of the alphabetic section must be reprinted. (If the blank space is exhausted, the first page number of following files must be adjusted accordingly and all reprinted as desired.)

The corrected file should be copied onto the 3.5" disk.

DIRECTORY OF WORKS\WLKRDY\*.*

(Note: This page was printed in two steps. First from the file, leaving a large blank space in the center. DOS was activated, the directory of the disk called up, the page manually inserted and aligned in the printer and the directory printed using the "Print Screen" key.)
