GENERAL ORDERS.

HEADQUARTERS, AT BOSTON, JULY 14, 1807.

By His Excellency JAMES SULLIVAN, Esq.
GOVERNOR AND COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

The President of the United States, having required of the Executives of the several States their respective proportions of One Hundred Thousand Militia, including Officers, to be organized, equipped, and held in readiness to march at a moment's warning, for the necessary defence of the Country; of which number Eleven Thousand and Seventy-Five is the proportion of the State of Massachusetts, and that number being carefully apportioned on the Divisions of the Militia of this Commonwealth, is made according to the Schedule annexed.

The Commander in Chief directs, That the Major-General of each Division shall cause the number in the annexed Schedule, set to his Division, to be immediately detached, including a suitable proportion of Officers, and that the same detachments consist, according to the President's requisition, as nearly as may be, of one tenth Cavalry, one twentieth Artillery, and the residue Infantry.

That the Major-Generals of each Division cause the same detachments, as soon as made, to be organized into Companies, Battalions, and Regiments. The Officers and Men to be properly armed and equipped for service, and held in readiness to march at a moment's warning.—Returns are to be immediately made to the Office of the Adjutant-General, of all the detachments, Companies, Battalions, and Regiments, with the names of the Officers of each, that subsequent General Orders may be given without delay, as well for forming the Militia, detached into Brigades and Divisions, as for the exercise of the several Corps, in order to render them perfect in any duties they may be called to in the defence of their Country.

Those Corps, thus formed by detachments from the Militia, are to be held in service for the term of six months after they shall be called into actual service by the President, and shall arrive at the place of rendezvous.

The Commander in Chief relies upon the promptness and alacrity with which the Major-Generals, and all under their orders, will act in the present exigency of our Country. He has also the pleasure to hope, that after those detachments shall be made, a great part of them may be relieved by the patriotic offer of volunteer Companies to take their places.

JAMES SULLIVAN.
SCHEDULE—referred to in the foregoing Order.

THERE will be detached from the 1st Division 1016 men, including Officers:
These to form 1 Regiment of 8 battalions of Infantry—2 companies of Cavalry, and 1 company of Artillery.

- Legionary Brigade, - - - 386
- First Brigade, - - - 323
- Second Brigade, - - - 307

- 1016

From the 2nd Division, 1018 men, Officers included—to form 2 Regiments, each of 2 battalions of Infantry—1 company of Cavalry, and 1 company of Artillery.

- First Brigade, - - - 443
- Second Brigade, - - - 375

- 1018

From the 3rd Division, 960 men, Officers included—to form 1 Regiment of 3 battalions of Infantry—3 companies of Cavalry, and 1 company of Artillery.

- First Brigade, - - - 603
- Second Brigade, - - - 357

- 960

From the 4th Division, 1158 men, Officers included—to form 2 Regiments, each of 2 battalions of Infantry—3 companies of Cavalry, and 1 company of Artillery.

- First Brigade, - - - 563
- Second Brigade, - - - 595

- 1158

From the 5th Division, 1411 men, Officers included—to form 2 Regiments, viz., 1 of the Militia in Plymouth and Barnstable Counties, of 3 battalions of Infantry; and 1 Regiment in Bristol County of 3 battalions of Infantry—1 company of Cavalry, and 1 company of Artillery.

- First Brigade (Plymouth) 546
- Third Brigade (Barnstable) 547
- Second Brigade, - - - 518

- 1411

From the 6th Division, 1831 men, Officers included—to form 2 Regiments, viz., 1 Regiment of the men, detached from York County, to consist of 2 battalions, and 1 Regiment of the men, detached from Cumberland and Oxford Counties, of 3 battalions of Infantry—3 companies of Cavalry, and 1 company of Artillery—viz.,

- First Brigade, (York) 764
- Second Brigade (Cumberland) 763
- Third Brigade (Oxford) 304

- 1831

From the 7th Division, 1153 men, Officers included—to form 2 Regiments, each of 2 battalions of Infantry—3 companies of Cavalry, and 1 company of Artillery.

- First Brigade, - - - 569
- Second Brigade, - - - 594

- 1153

From the 8th Division, 1311 men, Officers included—to form 2 Regiments, each of 2 battalions of Infantry—2 companies of Cavalry, and 1 company of Artillery.

- First Brigade, - - - 607
- Second Brigade, - - - 704

- 1311

From the 9th Division, 554 men, Officers included—to form 1 Regiment of 2 battalions of Infantry—and 1 company of Cavalry.

- First Brigade, - - - 295
- Second Brigade, - - - 259

- 554

From the 10th Division, 663 men, Officers included—to form 1 Regiment of 2 battalions of Infantry—and one company of Artillery.

- First Brigade, - - - 249
- Second Brigade, - - - 349

- 663

WILLIAM DONNISON, Adjutant-General.