MAINE WOODS.

Published Weekly at Phillips, 7th.
News of the North (Towle Woods and Country.
The Maine Woods has formidable energy to read, but if you are not in the right mood, it can be very difficult to get through. The volume contains a mix of updates on local events, discussions on forestry and conservation, as well as advertisements for local goods. The text is interspersed with illustrations and images, which add to the overall experience.

The position of publisher is clearly stated on the cover, indicating a long-standing tradition of local journalism. The text is printed in a classic serif font, which gives it an authentic vintage feel.

In summary, this version of Maine Woods is a valuable resource for anyone interested in the history and culture of the region. It offers a unique perspective on life in the 19th century, with its focus on forestry, conservation, and community events. The text is well-organized and easy to read, making it an enjoyable read for both experts and novices.

FARRINGTON FIRE.

Farrington, Maine, May 16, 1902.

A bad fire occurred in Mr. W. B. Walshe's lumber yard in this place, Tuesday afternoon, a strong wind making the business worse. The fire broke out in the village.

It is reported in the local papers that the fire was started from the buildings as rapidly did it spread. Mr. Walshe, who is the owner of 36t. four logs, piles, yard ground and water, was carried in to the large factory. The greater number of the owners of the factories were not present at the time of the fire.

The loss is estimated by Mr. Walshe, and by Frank Ames, also arrived. The fire has been allowed to stand at $600, receipts for $200. Mr. Walshe had his property insured for $1,500, and Mr. Ames had his property insured for $1,200.

A Reception By Music Pumps a Pleasure Event

WINDHAM, W. H. JONES.

SUNDAY, May 16, 1902.

Mr. and Mrs. Norah Harriman of Strong visited their daughter, Mrs. Harry Harriman, on Saturday night. The Harrimans have been having a very pleasant time in the past winter. Mrs. Harriman has been an invalid for some time, and has not been able to attend church. She is playing with a 20-pound ball and has done it a number of times. Mrs. Harriman is a subscriber to the Review.

I. F. Palleydon, a local writer.

I. F. Palleydon, who has the usual amount of work and a number of things to do, has not had the time to write as much as he would like. He is planning to go to the town at some time and has been working on his book. He has also been working on the village.

M. W. D. Mullen will sell three more acres of land to a Mr. Connolly, a well-known farmer, near the village.
