Dear Dr. Doby:

It is most interesting to learn of your new book, DISCOVERERS OF BLOOD CIRCULATION, and to know that we can claim you as an adopted Maine author. The book sounds like a spirited and authoritative work, and we hope that you will be happy with its reception.

The Maine Author Collection, here in the State Library, is a permanent exhibit collection of books written by Maine people, native or adopted; and books about the state. Most of the three thousand volumes are inscribed presentation copies, and we also gather biographical and critical material about our authors so that we may have as complete information as possible. The books and information are available to students and visitors, and form a valuable and fascinating unit of Maine's contribution to literature.

DISCOVERERS OF BLOOD CIRCULATION would be a distinguished addition to this exhibit, and we should be delighted and appreciative if you are interested in the collection and agree with us that the book should be in the Maine exhibit.

Our very warm wishes go to you for its success, and for your continuing satisfaction with Maine as a home.

Sincerely yours

Dear Mrs Jacob,

I thank you for your interest in my book and a few days ago I sent you a copy of it. It might give pleasure for some people to read it, who are interested in the history of sciences and furthermore it might provide some college and university students some important data in that line.

Sincerely yours

Dear Dr. Doby:

Thank you very much for your friendly letter and for the copy of DISCOVERERS OF BLOOD CIRCULATION for the Maine Author Collection. Glancing through its pages convinces us that not only serious students, but also everyday readers in desultory pursuit of knowledge, will find much of interest here.

It is especially gratifying to have a book of reliable information written in such attractive style.

We are fortunate to be able to make you welcome in Maine, and we appreciate your interest in, and gift to, the Maine Author Collection.

Sincerely yours

hmj
