MOUNTFORT, Anne

Coaticooke, Province of Quebec, Canada
ANNE MOUNTFORT

Born an awfully long time ago in Coaticook, Prov. of Quebec, Canada, buried, I don't know just when, at Mount Hope Cemetery, Chicago. In between these two, went to school in Canada until eleven when the home was broken up, came to the United States with mother to be with her people. Have lived in Indiana, Pennsylvania, Washington, D. C., Chicago, San Francisco, San Diego, New Orleans, Key West, Seattle, El Paso and two or three more places in the United States, forgotten now, several different places in Canada and Mexico, but chiefly in Alabama, mostly in Birmingham and Mobile. Have done practically everything either male or female humans do--flew a plane before I drove a car, prospected along with the desert rats in the mining section of Nevada. Have haunted art centers from coast to coast and from Canada to the Gulf, known poverty to where I had insufficient food, and opulence to the point of private railroad cars and all that goes with it. Now old and forgotten, with neither friend nor relative, I am in the one section of which I knew nothing, because the only roof I owned (and it's about to leak), bought because mama didn't care for Alabama summers, is here.
Dear Sir — Yesterday I wrote asking to renew "Modern Herbal" 2 vols., but did not have many interruptions so finished making notes today and am returning it now. It's a dandy book. I am also sending you a couple of my little Progress booklets which I hope you will accept for the library. They are eight little fellows, made last summer.\n sell — & they did — but maybe they'll come in handy this same time. If the herb doesn't come this in a day & if you couldn't renew it — I shall owe you 6c or so, but I'm not ashketing it as I think it will get there in time. Let me know if it does not.

Yours truly

Dear Miss Mountfort:

I have received the copies of DROGEO LAND, which you so kindly presented to the State Library, and I find them quite charming. The prints used as illustrations are very attractive, and the contents of the book are delightful. I can readily understand its popularity with the summer visitors, and I am indeed glad to have copies for the library.

I am taking the liberty of mailing one back to you, and asking if you would be willing to inscribe it for our Maine Author Collection. Some years ago this project was started, and since then, through the generous contributions of our writers, the collection has increased until now it numbers several hundred inscribed presentation copies of books and pamphlets. I am always greatly pleased to be able to add another name to our roster of Maine authors.

In connection with this project, we maintain a biographical file, in which we keep any information that our writers are kind enough to permit us to have. We like, of course, significant dates, the birthplace, education, subsequent achievements, and any interesting information that occurs to the writer. We would be very grateful for any such material on you and your work, and will appreciate it if, at your convenience, you will write us a few paragraphs for the biographical file.

Again may I express my very sincere thanks for DROGEO LAND, and extend to you a cordial invitation to visit the library and the Maine Author Collection when you are in Augusta.

Very truly yours

Dear Miss Mountfort:

On February 23 we mailed to you a copy of your delightful booklet, DROEGO LAND, asking you if you would be so kind as to inscribe this copy for our Maine Author Collection, an exhibit collection of the work of Maine authors.

Since we have not received the booklet, we wonder if perhaps it may have gone astray in the mails.

We would also be extremely appreciative of any biographical information which you may be willing to send us, as of course we like to have all the material possible on our writers.

We enclose a return label for your convenience in returning DROEGO LAND, if it has not already been mailed. May we again assure you of our gratitude for the gift copies of these most interesting booklets.

Very truly yours

Dear Sir — Please, please pardon my unnecessarily delay. I haven't even had the brave I had, have no legitimate excuse but the explanation is this. While Proctor was at the printers last summer, a York county free woman friend looked thru my carbon — it was very neatly, a decent first draft inked piece was at the printers, but mine was pretty bad. She wanted me to do one of her county would finance it. I'm du-tirely alone in the world & it not often anyone evidence that much inherent or faith in me. I wanted to do the best I could. York is bigger as far as happen to go. I have a single track mind—it's tired york day & night & Sundays for the rest. Your letter came & I was much flattered but laid it on one side. York next day your second letter came—not finished, I will have to be gone over & some 60 wood blocks out, but temporarily I have a little time, started on my returned miss, by now 14 strong, & when I came to yours, all nearly clipped totgether, I wondered "what kind of red miss, is that?" I was born in Coaticooke Prov to one, buried in Chicago at least my stone is all jified, but I suppose you want the

Dear Miss Mountfort:

We have received the autographed copy of DROGEO LAND for the Maine Author Collection, and also the biographical information which you so kindly and humorously wrote for us.

Thank you very much!

Dear Sir—Under separate cover
I'm sending a couple of "Witch Trot Land" if you'll do me the honor to accept them for the library. I think they're a whole lot better as well as bigger, than Drogos was.

Yours truly,

Dear Miss Mountfort:

We have received the two copies of WITCH TROT LAND, and find them delightful, as well as valuable historically. The woodprints are fascinating -- we presume they, like the DROGEO illustrations, are your work.

Please accept our very sincere thanks and appreciation for your kind generosity.

Very truly yours,

Dear Miss Mountfort:

Thank you very much indeed for the attractive GRANDMOTHER'S HERBS AND SIMPLES. This contains a great deal of useful information, and is so charming in appearance that it will be a prized addition to any person's library.

We are very grateful for your kind words, and for your generous presentation copy. This is being placed in the Maine Author Collection, and we will appreciate your sending another copy, with a bill, so that we may have one in our general lending section.

Very truly yours
