SUCCESSFUL SONS OF WELD.

Newman Brothers Worth More Than a Million in Kansas.

The following communication from Samuel Farmer of Arkansas City, a Maine man and former resident of Franklin county in reference to George and Fred Newman, also formerly of Franklin county, now wealthy residents of Emporia, Kansas, will be of interest to readers of the MAINE WOODSMAN. In a former letter Mr. Farmer spoke of the success of A. A. Newman another brother and a resident now, of Arkansas City.

He says: "I visited Emporia to attend the annual meeting of an oil company in which I am a stock owner, and Mr. Fred Newman was elected president of the company. I was quite surprised at the attentions shown me by the two Newmans, George and Fred, who introduced me to their foreman and showed me over their premises.

George is understood to be the sole owner and proprietor of his mammoth department store carrying a stock of $125,000 on an average and quite a multitude of clerks and he himself giving his full attention to business.

Fred C. Newman is president of the Citizens National bank of Emporia and one of the biggest stock owners. This bank has increased many thousand dollars each year under Mr. Newman's management and is one of the sound banks of the state of Kansas.

Mercantile and banking is not the only business carried on by the Newman's in Emporia as they are among the biggest farmers in the county.

They own two farms only a mile outside of Emporia. George W. Newman's farm of 450 acres is valued at $50,000 with a $10,000 house on it for his workmen and with barns and sheds to house his herds of cattle, hogs, and horses and hay, consisting of 300 hogs, 350 head of cattle and 500 tons Alfalfa hay. Over 100 head of his cattle nearly all of the Short horn, Durham stock 3 or 4 years old, fat as butter, will weigh on an average of 1,500 pounds each, are now ready for the market and will sell for about 8 cents a pound.

Fred C. Newman, who took me out and showed the farms and stock drove all around both farms and I must say it was the best show I ever saw. All the fields were as level and smooth as a house floor.

Fred's stock consisted of 400 hogs, all the red Jersey breed and they are beauties all thoroughbred and numbered with a tag giving their breeding. They are sold at auction and generally bring around $15 each when shoats. They have a long shed divided off into suitable pens for the brood, sows and pigs. He has 250 cattle mostly Herefords and full bloods.

They have vats in the ground with a roof overhead to keep the sun off, the vat being filled with water in which the hogs bathe on hot days. George has 4,000 acres pasture in Chaise Co. There may be the equals of the Newman brothers, A. A. Newman of Arkansas City, Kansas and George W. and Fred C. Newman of Emporia, Kansas but not within the writer's knowledge. There are many readers of the MAINE WOODSMAN who are well acquainted with Franklin County, Maine, and the town of Weld where these gentlemen were born and raised to manhood.

We are proud to report believing these three brothers own and are in possession of property equal to nearly one and a quarter million dollars much of which is in sight. We doubt if another county in Maine can boast of so many successful financiers as Franklin county of which we all should be proud. Also Maine can boast of three brothers, the Washburns, all of which have been members of Congress.

The only thing I am ashamed of Maine for is a Prohibition law that has been in force for fifty years and never prohibited intemperance at all.

Wheat is selling here for $1.00 a bushel and farmers are feeling good. One of our old neighbors will get three thousand dollars for his crop of wheat and corn this year. The wheat is up and looking fine, the ground is in as good shape as could be desired having had plenty rain and no killing frost as yet.

Phillips Water Works Case.

Company Insists That Village Corporation Must First Agree to Buy.

Corporation Claims That According to Contract the Water Company Should Appoint Appraiser. Hon. Herbert M. Heath Is Selected by Corporation. Water Company Refuses to Choose Their Man. Case Goes to Law Court In December on Questions of Law.

At the December term of the Law Court sitting at Augusta will be heard the bill in equity brought by the Phillips Village Corporation to compel the Phillips Water Company to carry out the terms of a contract entered into Sept. 15, 1896, one article of which provides that the corporation was to have the right to purchase the company's entire works and rights at the expiration of ten years from the date of the contract for 10 per cent additional to the appraised value.

The appraisal should be determined as follows: That said Corporation in case it availed itself of its rights under this contract should select one appraiser, said Water Company one appraiser, and those two select a third, and that said committee of appraisal so formed and created, after due notice and hearing given all parties interested, should appraise and fix the value of said water-works and all the property of said Company, and that the said Corporation should have the right to purchase and take over said works, rights and franchises of said Company at the amount of said appraisal, with a sum added thereto amounting to 10 per cent thereof.

Corporation Selects Appraiser.

The corporation selected Hon. Herbert M. Heath of Augusta as one of the appraisers through a committee chosen at a meeting of the corporation August 27, 1906, consisting of D. F. Field, W. A. D. Cragin and S. G. Haley and on Dec. 1, 1906 served notice to that effect upon the Phillips Water Co.

The meeting also instructed the committee to employ counsel to prosecute proceedings to compel the Phillips Water Co. to join with the Village Corporation in fixing a price upon the property.

Took No Notice.

The bill of the complainants further says that the Phillips Water Co. paid attention to the notice and refuses or neglects to appoint a second appraiser so that a third may be chosen by them and the contract be carried out according to agreement.

The complainants quote chapter 162 of the private and special laws of 1905 which provide that "said Phillips Village Corporation, at any legal meeting called for that purpose may vote to purchase the entire works and rights of the Phillips Water Co. for such sums of money as may be adjudged payable according to the terms of Article 10 of the contract entered into between said Phillips Village Corporation and said Phillips Water company; or in accordance with the terms of any other contract hereinafter entered into by the same parties. Said Phillips Village corporation shall, after such vote, and payment of the purchase price to said Phillips Water company, receive from said Phillips Water company an assignment and transfer of all the works and rights of said Phillips Water company. And shall thereafter own and operate said works and exercise and enjoy the rights and franchise of said Water company as fully as if granted to it direct."

"The Phillips Village Corporation is hereby vested with the authority to raise such sums of money as are necessary for the payment of the purchase price of said works or in payment of future extensions, additions, or improvements of the same, by assessment upon the polls and property within its territory, or by the issuance of bonds of the Corporation and to execute its mortgage of the above works and rights as security for their payment."

Attorneys E. E. Richards and Frank

W. Butler of Farmington and D. R. Ross of Phillips are the attorneys for the corporation, the bill of complaint being signed by G. B. Sedgely, N. H. Harnden and J. B. Morrison as assessors.

In the complaint appear the articles of agreement entered into between both parties. Article eleven contains this:

"And in consideration of the above promises and agreements of said company, the said Corporation hereby agrees to pay said company for the use of water for the purposes aforesaid and in the manner and on the conditions aforesaid, the sum of eight hundred (800) dollars per annum, for the said term of twenty years, said sum to be paid in forty equal semi-annual payments.

Answer Of Water Co.

In answer, the Phillips Water Company in substance says that the Phillips Village Corporation must first signify its consent to purchase the water works before the appraisal is made. They deny the legal authority of the corporation or its assessors to enter into any contract other than for a water supply, and also claims that said Phillips Village Corporation should elect at the expiration of said ten years, whether or not it will purchase and take over said entire works and rights at such appraisal as named in said contract, and that whatever right or option to purchase was thereby given to the said Phillips Village Corporation, must and should be exercised before the said appraisal; and that to entitle said Phillips Village Corporation to an appraisal, it should signify its consent to and agree to purchase said entire works and rights at the sum to be found, or that might be found, by said appraisers with ten per cent, additional."

The defendant company admits having paid no attention to the request to appoint an appraiser because the Phillips Village Corporation was never legally authorized to enter into a contract with them except for water for the extinguishment of fires.

The Company's Proposition.

In the bill appears a proposition made by the water company to the committee in which they agree to select with the Village Corporation a civil engineer who will make a preliminary appraisal of the property and make a report upon it. The water company agreed to pay one-half of the expenses saying that they believed it would save several thousand dollars to both parties as they thought that the expert would fix a value on the system above that which the village corporation would vote to pay. This letter was signed by J. J. Moore and E. H. Gowing of Boston, who are the principal owners of the water works.

To this the committee replied that as a committee they had no authority other than to proceed to obtain the appraisal under the terms of the contract.

Judge Enoch Foster as counsel for the defendant company appeared at the September term of court before Judge Savage who ordered the case sent to the Law court on questions of law.

A Similar Case.

A case quite similar arose in Farmington and was sent to the Law court, the court deciding that the appraisal should be made first which is the contention of the Phillips village corporation. The water works system is variously estimated to be worth from $30,000 to $65,000. The decision of the Law court will be awaited with great interest.

ON THE FRONTIER.

Excellent Play Admirably Acted Drew Big Audience.

"An excellent drama admirably acted," was the unanimous verdict of the packed house that greeted the reproduction of "On the Frontier" at Lambert hall, Wednesday evening for the benefit of the graduating class of the Phillips High school. That Phillips possesses in an unusual degree, amateurs of professional ability was clearly demonstrated and the unstinted applause bestowed by the delighted audience was indicative of this. The audience overflowed the seating capacity of the hall, large delegations coming from Strong, Rangeley and nearby towns.

The drama, with almost the same cast, was given here last April, but last night's performance was even more finished and smoother and went with a dash and swing that savored of professionals and much careful study and conscientious work on the part of the cast.

It is doubtful if there could be found anywhere in Maine in a town of the size of Phillips amateurs who excelled the principals in the cast. H. B. Austin as John Benton, the ranchowner, N. P. Noble as Col. Norwood 11 U. S. Cavalry, Mrs. Flora C. Pease as Mrs. Benton, Miss Blanche Kenniston as Stella Norwood, Mrs. Montie Cragin as the ranchers daughter, D. F. Field as Lieut. Stevens, D. R. Ross as Capt. Grandby and T. J. Seller as Pedro Alvarado.

Equally excellent were others in minor parts, Elma Byron as Miss Plympton, the schoolmarm, John Russell as Dr. Waters, Mrs. Everdene S. Austin as Charlotte Ziegler, H. H. Berry as Sergeant Ziegler, R. H. Brann as Lieut. McNeil, Norman Butler as Major Weymouth.

Especially striking was the work of Harry B. Austin, Flora C. Pease and Mrs. Montie Cragin as husband, wife and dashing daughter of the Catawba ranch, and equally clever were N. P. Noble, as the colonel, and Blanche Kenniston as his wife, while the difficult role of Lieut. Stevens was well taken by D. F. Field with whom D. R. Ross as Capt. Granby shared honors. T. J. Seller's impersonation of the Mexican, vaquero was lifelike and clever.

The performance on the whole was a credit to the town and to the participants. A large sum was realized.

PRECIOUS RECORDS SAFE.

Steel Protective Cases Being Put In County Building.

The County commissioners have ordered from the Office Bank and Library Co., of Boston, steel vault fixtures both for the probate and the clerk of court offices in the county court building which are now being installed and which will provide safety for the valuable records of both departments.

The vaults when completed will be fire proof with steel pigeon hole boxes for the records, the whole being inclosed with a steel covering to protect them from fire or water.

For years these precious documents have been kept in ordinary vault rooms without any other modern fire protection. Throughout Maine these steel devices for precious records are being generally placed in the county buildings and the people of the county who have valuable papers recorded can feel assured that they are amply protected from fire by the new system being installed.

The Stoddard House.

The Stoddard House, Farmington, is being interiorly transformed from ancient to modern. A steel ceiling and electric lights have been put in the dining room, making it a most attractive room, and the office has been attractively painted and papered in red and green, and new mission furniture installed. Throughout, the hotel has been entirely renovated and under the proprietorship of W. S. McLellan the famous old hostelry has decidedly taken on a new lease of life.

ENGLAND'S APPLE TRUST.

COMBINATION CONTROLS PRICE OF MAINE APPLES IN LIVERPOOL.

John Crossley, Liverpool Apple Buyer Purchases Largely In Phillips and Franklin County, Says England Needs a Theodore Roosevelt to Curb Trusts. In Business 30 Years Will Come to Live In Maine.

John Crossley, of Liverpool, England, was in Phillips this week and purchased 1,500 barrels of apples for export. Mr. Crossley has been in Franklin county several weeks with headquarters in Farmington and has purchased several hundred barrels of the fruit for shipment across the pond.

Mr. Crossley states that the crop of Franklin county this year is one of the finest he has ever seen and he has been 30 years in the apple buying business and has made eight trips across the pond but has never been in Franklin county before whose fame as an apple growing section reached him in the West.

Maine apples Mr. Crossley says have the call in England and bring higher prices than from elsewhere. The average price they bring now is from $3.50 to $4.00 a barrel. Mr. Crossley says that the crop is very plentiful and despite that fact growers are storing their apples and holding out for bigger prices which he believes will not come. The money panic has had a serious effect upon the market and in his opinion apple growers face losses.

English buyers refuse to buy in large quantities at present prices. Western shipments of Maine apples contracted for early in the season are not going out because of the buyers were unable to get ready currency and in order to get rid of the apples that were already on their hands it was decided by most of the growers to consign them to the commission houses in Portland for shipment to England and get what price they could for them.

The buyers in England fully realizing the situation refuse to buy at present prices. If the prices in England do not change for the better it will mean that the immense quantity of apples now on hand here will not be shipped as has been the custom in the past.

Mr. Crossley ships to his brother, Samson Crossley, with offices at Liverpool, Halifax and Birmingham. Speaking of English methods in handling American apples Mr. Crossley said:

"I wish we had a Roosevelt in England to give England a trust busting lesson. I endeavored to break up the combination that controls the sale of your Maine apples and they floored me, drove me out of trade as it were. I wanted to give the exporters a chance to sell in the open market but the trust outgeneralled me using methods akin to those of the Standard Oil in this country.

The bulk, say nine tenths of your apples, are sold to a limited number of buyers (about 300) and to sell your apples you have to join this commission. The half dozen auctioneers have signed not to sell to anyone not in the commission and the commission will sell to none but these auctioneers. Thus they control the price and with their big commissions prevent prices from raising. The Liverpool Green Fruit Co., is one of England's worst trusts. It controls the number of buyers although the exports, especially of apples, grows yearly.

Maine apples are the great favorites in England and on the continent. They sell for a cent apiece on the stands there and are cheaper, I find, than as sold in this country as are many of your American export goods.

Mr. Crossley is seriously considering making his permanent home in Maine. He has a family of twelve children—a regular Rooseveltian family he calls it—and he has become so well impressed with American life, its advantages and opportunities as compared with England that he says he shall in all probability bring his family to Maine in a few months to reside permanently.

AMONG THE CHURCHES.

Rev. Mr. Hutchins preached at the Union church on Sunday morning a sermon from the text in John i, 4, "And the life was the light of men." With your permission I will change a word in this passage, saying: "The life is the light of men." With your permission I will wrest the passage from its setting, perhaps, and speak not in regard to the past with its work, its light, but upon some conditions of the present. The enemy of life is darkness, and many kinds of darkness are to be found in the world. There is the darkness of ignorance, the darkness of sin, the darkness of sorrow. But it is of none of these that I wish to speak, but rather of that which is peculiar to this present time, the darkness of the twentieth century. We are in a period of transition where many things that were once deemed certainties are found to be less firmly established than we thought, and often the mind is troubled. But these disturbances do not call for discouragement. They are a natural corollary of a transitional period attending which there must be some deplorable conditions. To be sure there is in the business world much to trouble and disconcert. Many instances of conduct which fails in honesty and integrity are before us. But are not these in a large measure due to changed conditions throughout the commercial world which call for the adjustment of new methods of business. It is a period of transition.

EX-BANKER TESTIFIES.

FINANCIER Wm. J. F. REYNOLDS UNABLE TO WALK. Munyon's Rheumatic Remedy Made Him Well.

Mr. Wm. J. F. Reynolds, ex-banker and financier writes: Phila., Oct. 29, 1907. "I was perfectly helpless with rheumatism. I could not walk. I could not stand. My feet, ankles and knees were terribly swollen and I had not known a night's rest for more than a year. I used every available remedy known, with little or no relief. A friend advised Munyon's Rheumatism Remedy and reluctantly I tried it. The first bottle relieved and I purchased another. Before the second bottle had been half used I was absolutely and perfectly cured. I never felt better in my life than I feel now. "I shall always be but too happy to give a fuller account of what Munyon's wonderful Rheumatic Remedy did for me and cheerfully invite any sufferer to visit or correspond with me upon the subject. Wm. J. E. Reynolds. 1313 Arch St. MUNYON'S 3 X RHEUMATISM CURE seldom fails to relieve in one to three hours, and cures in a few days; price $1. Equally so is it a time of transition in household life. Let a boy from a remote country district find his way to a city, unless he were told about them he would fail in the proper use of even the most common articles of the city home. A multitude of inventions and improvements have brought into common use a great number of articles of which he has no knowledge. The manner of living is in a transition change, and time and instruction are necessary before one can adapt himself perfectly to new surroundings. Society is passing through the same stage of development, and is not free from the errors arising with the destruction of the customs and traditions of former years. Medicine is likewise passing through a period of transition. He is not now thought the wisest physician who soonest resort to the knife, or whom most quickly prescribes for the patient the greatest number of drugs foreign to his system. Many schools of medicine have arisen, called by various names, and employing many methods, but we are coming to see that he who works along the lines most in harmony with nature's own efforts to free the body from disease is accomplishing the best results. In religion also we are passing through a transitional period of thought. The chief thing is no longer the outward ceremonial life and its strict observance, and in passing away from that ideal of piety there is sometimes confusion over the real life and truth in religion. If in this age of interest and transition we are thinking our way to the truth there must be an objective point for thinking something upon which we may rely. Science has not fathomed the unchanging truth. Its statements must again and again undergo correction. We receive as we think, some new knowledge, and lo, it gives place to something of later discovery. Philosophy with its former systems of thought gives way to newer reasonings. Criticism destroys much that we had regarded as fixed. We must have something that will endure. We have this statement which is true for all time "The life was the light of men." In the past, today, adown the future, everywhere, a mong all people, it is the lips here spoken of the light of Jesus that gives light. Always men have been groping as in the dark, seeking to find what are the highest possibilities of life, seeking to learn what is worth their striving. What has Jesus, who came to give light shown to those thus groping? He has shown the dignity and character of human kind. We have seen as it were the stars shining out of the darkness, and though their light is sometimes obscured, yet we believe that still they are shining. Here is our human life of Jesus, ours, sinful and disappointing, his in perfection pointing to the life possible for us. Nothing could swerve him from his purpose to do the will of God. He might be stirred by compassion or by indignation, might meet calmness or zeal, sorrow or joy; he could walk the way of pain and of martyrdom, yet he was always true to his purpose. He has shown us the heights possible to human character. He has revealed to us also the character of God. In sending Jesus to lead us to that which is high, to show us what dignity and glory of character he designed for his children upon earth, God has shown his loving remembrance of us. Doubts will sometimes come, in times of discouragement and despondency, and with the doubt we falter in the way; but Jesus always had the assurance of God's presence. From this came his strength, the consciousness of oneness with the father. Jesus has shown us what we call salvation the way between us and God. There is a measure for many things, but for influence there is none. Should I release my hold upon this book it would fall toward the earth. You say the law of gravitation compels it to do so. The earth draws it toward itself and the book moves to meet the earth. But we are told that also, though in an infinitely less degree the book draws the earth toward itself, and while we see the book move toward the earth just as surely although imperceptibly is taking place the outer motion. The influence of gravitation we say, there is also a spiritual gravitation and to the soul that reaches toward God he draws near. In some way, we may not be able to tell how it is done, the death of Jesus has opened the way between God and man. For ages the hope of salvation was centered in the church and conformity to her institutions. It is no longer so. It is no longer centered in creeds saying this I believe, and this I believe. It is no longer centered even in the Bible. God forbid that I should be understood to say one word in disparagement of the Bible, for it does of a truth contain God's sacred word to us. But the hope of salvation is centered in Christ. When all the unrest and questioning of the present are ended we shall find that he by his life has given us light, has shown us the possibilities of our own lives, has revealed to us the character of God, and has shown us how to draw near to G d and know salvation.

Dancing Proves Fatal.

Many men and women catch colds at dances which terminate in pneumonia and consumption. After exposure, if Foley's Honey and Tar is taken it will break up a cold and no serious results need be feared. Refuse any but the genuine in a yellow package. W. A. D. Cragin, Phillips; L. L. Mitchell, Kingfield.

West Phillips.

The threshers have been and gone and have done good business in this place. Chas. O. Dill and son have a gasoline engine and it is a great improvement on the old-fashioned machine. Grain turned out light and some did not thresh at all on account of the damage done by grasshoppers. Bert Kempton is getting out pulp timber on his No. 7 lot and is preparing a road to haul to the railroad when snow comes. The road is less than half a mile from his operations. The local deer hunters are improving the moonlight nights as yet with no results.

West New Vineyard.

The schoolhouse in the White school-house has opened with Miss Anna Gould as teacher. She must give the best of satisfaction as this is her third term in that school. Miss Norton says it is one of the most pleasant schools she ever taught. Miss Florence Luce of Strong is teaching in the Guild district. Mrs. Joe Turner is gaining very slowly. Pearl White of Readfield is helping Mrs. Turner with her work. Mrs. Bean is working for a few weeks in the family of Frank Prestor. Edgar Savage and family visited Sunday with his uncle, John Savage. Urban Savage has bought and moved onto a farm in Freeman. The many friends of Mrs. Maude McKenney will be pleased to learn that she is on the gain, after a hard run of typhoid fever. Apples seem to be a drug on the market. It is hard on the farmers as they looked forward to a good fat pocket-book after the sale of their apples. The early frost and freeze ruined many apples in Franklin county. Ed Parker was a heavy loser in this part of the town. Fred Luce, Howard Wright and Ray Cottle may be numbered with the successful deer hunters as they each brought in a fine deer last week.

Thanksgiving.

The season of Thanksgiving is at hand and the history and experience of another year present themselves for consideration by a prosperous and discriminating people. Not every such period of time can bring the maximum of prosperity and happiness to the community, and it is well to remember that adversity as well as success is a force that develops the powers and opportunities of the individuals and the State. The citizens of Maine are proud of their State, industrious and confident, and for many rewards and blessings that have been vouchsafed them, they are reverently thankful. Now, therefore, I, William T. Cobb, Governor of Maine, hereby appoint November 28, as Thanksgiving Day, and ask all our people to manifest their gratitude by such an earnest observance of this beautiful and time honored custom as will cheer the hearts of the unfortunate and be acceptable to God from whom our bounties fall.

INSURANCE

IS IMPORTANT

It is doubly important to insure with the best and strongest companies. I give the promptest attention to the adjustment of laws and represent such companies as the following:

The Aetna Assurance Co. of Hartford, Conn. The Phoenix Assurance Co., of Hartford, Conn. The Home Assurance Co., of New York. The Niagara Fire Assurance Co., of New York. The New York Underwriters Assurance Co. of New York. The Fire Association Assurance Co., of Philadelphia.

Those who realize what a vast difference there is in Companies, in their standing in the business world and in their methods of doing business know that the companies named above stand for the very best that there is in insurance.

SAVAGERY OF A CENTURY AGO.

Poor Woman's Execution Then a Matter of Little Moment.

The hanging of a woman, which in these days calls forth public protests, was apparently a matter of indifference to our grandfathers and grandmothers, says the London Chronicle. It was in the nineteenth century that a woman found guilty of some trifling offense was sentenced to death. By chance the warrant for her execution was not sent to the high sheriff, and she remained in prison for about three years, acting as a jail washerwoman, and occasionally, as a favor in acknowledgement of her good behavior, going out, as was then the custom, as washerwoman to private houses. But a clerk looking through the home office records found the warrant that had never been dispatched, and it was thereupon promptly forwarded to the sheriff for due process. The woman was found by the turnkey at the wash-tub in a house in the town—Aylesbury. "Well, missus," said he, "you are to be hanged. The warrant has come at last, and we must carry the sentence out to-morrow morning at the latest." "Werry well, then," the wretched woman submissively replied, "I suppose I must go," and having washed the soapuds off her arms departed with the official. She was duly hanged next morning. From all which it would seem that barely a century separates us from a condition of primitive barbarism.

FEARED FOR NIECE'S FUTURE.

Peculiar Bent of Child's Mind Dimayed Uncle.

"I hate to think it," grimly said Uncle Timrod Totten, "but I am mightily afraid my little 10-year-old niece, Luella, is going to cause a great deal of worry and unhappiness in the world when she grows up." "What makes ye think so?" asked old Squire Belcher, who had come over to borrow a whiffletree. "She seems to be a real nice, thoughtful, good-tempered child now." "Well," was the explanation, "t'other day, our gray gander got tangled up in a discussion with the shepherd pup, and when the fracas was over there was skurcely a feather left on the fowl. And little Luella took and dyked him out in a pair of draw-pantaloons—and a chim-slip, I mean—of white cloth sewed by her own fair hands. And, somehow, I can't help fearing that when she attains an appropriate age she will wear nose-glasses and several double-chins, and go crusading against all the common and unimportant indelicacies that human flesh is heir to."—Frabunge.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves. This clearly explains why as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds; it strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help. If you would have strong hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with British Scientific Farming.

A new era in British farming seems to be developing from the experiments at the Cambridge university farm at Impington. During the last eight years all known varieties of wheat have been collected, and, while most of them could not be acclimated, a few have been selected for resistance to rust, good cropping capacity, free milling quality, stiff straw, etc., and have been crossed with British wheat so successfully as to promise an immediate increase in value of 10 per cent or more. Like improvement of barley and other plants is anticipated.

Merely Preparatory.

"I don't mind telling you," said the pretty girl confidentially, "that I want to take a thorough course in cooking in order to fit myself to be a good wife." "You are doing the right thing, my dear," said the matron in charge of the cooking school. "May I ask how soon you expect to be married?" "How should I know?" rejoined the pretty girl, daintily rolling up her sleeves. "I haven't found the man yet."

Superlatively Parliamentary.

"There's a motion before the house," says Mme. President, holding the gavel so that her rings came into the foreground. "What is your wish regarding it?" "Mme. President," begins the new member, rising with a flutter. "Mrs. Justine," recognizes the president. "I move that the motion be carried."—Chicago Evening Post.

Alphabetical.

The kindergarten children are struggling with the alphabet. "Who can tell what comes after G?" asks the teacher. Silence reigns. Again she questions: "Doesn't anyone know what comes after G?" Then Carleton raises his hand. "I do," he says. "Whizz. Gee whizz."—Woman's Home Magazine.

West's Mills.

With the first day of November 1907 came the sad tidings of the death of Master Ernest A. Norton of Anson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ruel B. and Lillian E. Norton formerly of West's Mills. Mrs. Lillian E. Norton (nee Lillian E. Chapman) died of cancer 2 years ago the 21st of last March. Little Ernest had often heard his mother's voice, as he had remarked since her death. Ernest loved the water, and once while fishing he said he heard a voice up in the air say: "Come with me." He said it was his mother's voice and he said, "yes I'm coming." Precious darling has gone to join his mother and baby sister in Heaven. Ernest was a great favorite among all, and has left a father and one brother, Percy, one year older, and two younger sisters Bertha and Gladys, relatives and school-mates to mourn the loss of a loving and joyous companion. Ernest was very fond of music and especially of the hymns his mother used to play and sing with him. Two of his favorite pieces that were sung to his mother's funeral he loved and often sang.

Are you waiting angel mother
Thinking strange of my delay
Did the loving angels tell you
That your child was on the way?
"Yes, I'm coming Mother,
Coming, slowly down the river side,
Where the veiled and mystic boatman
Waits to bear me o'er the tide."

The Water Contract.

THE contention between the Phillips Village Corporation and the Phillips Water Company resulting in a bill in equity being brought by the corporation to compel the Phillips Water Company to carry out the terms of the agreement entered into September 15, 1896, for the purchase of the water works system, seems to hinge on the interpretation of the contract. The Phillips Water Company says that the Phillips Village Corporation must first agree to purchase the water system and that then they will agree to have the appraisal made. The Corporation contends that the appraisal should be made first and that it so understood from the first.

A similar case arose in Farmington between the corporation and the water company. It went to the Law court and the court said that the company should agree to the appraisal being made first which was finally done and the matter so settled.

There is no question but that the Phillips Village Corporation is desirous of providing the community with water at a most reasonable rate and of the best quality possible and that it is actuated solely by a spirit of progress and modernity in the municipal ownership of such a public utility as the water works. Many Maine towns and cities have adopted this plan and it has proven satisfactory generally, several water districts having been created by last Legislature and recently an appraisal was made of the water works system of Livermore Falls.

The quality or appearance of the water furnished for the past month to Phillips can surely be improved upon.

Naturally, the water company wishes to drive the best bargain possible with the corporation and the corporation is acting for the benefit of the citizens and water users. The objection of the water company to appoint an appraiser as the corporation has done will be passed upon and the contract interpreted by the Law court next month and the WOODSMAN hopes that the matter will be satisfactorily settled in favor of municipal economy and progress.

Looks Like Summer.

It looks like the good old summer time to see six passenger cars filled with people and baggage going over the line of the Sandy River railroad between Phillips and Farmington. Never in the history of the road has there been such traffic at this season of the year as at present. Some of the best deer hunting in Maine is what is responsible for the traffic in a measure. The progressive improvements in progress at Farmington end of the line reflects the progress of the railroad and the growing importance of the northern section of Franklin county.

AN idea of the increasing scarcity of white pine timber is given by the New York F. O. B. quotations, on a basis of carload lots. "Uppers" of the best grade, costs $97 to $114 a thousand board feet and the "selects" or next lower grade cost $79.50 to $99.50. Men who are not yet middle-aged remember the time when these grades could be purchased at $15 to $25 a thousand feet. The present quotations on quartered white oak, which are $75 to $80, offer another comparison which indicates the condition of the market for white pine.

As usual turkey prices are high and the usual cry about the vanishing gobblers is raised. Still somehow the Thanksgiving turkey will show up in Franklin county's homes next Thursday despite the Wall street panic.

MAINE WOODS and WOODSMAN until Jan. 1, 1909 for $1.50 to new subscribers.

PROBABLY NOT ON PAY ROLL.

Father's Occupation Would Likely Be News to Lord Clare.

"The late Frederick McNally had occasion," said a Chicago lawyer, "to consult me about an infringed copyright. Mr. McNally said he thought there would be no trouble about correcting this infringement. The thing, he believed, had been innocently done. The man who had done it was an amateur in publishing—unsophisticated—like a girl his father used to tell about in Ireland. This girl was the daughter of a poor man, and every week or so she used to come to the village rectory with a pheasant or a hare to sell. The price she asked was low, and for a time the pastor bought of her. Then somehow, his suspicions were aroused. The next time the girl called, he said to her sternly: 'It is good, fresh game you bring, my dear, and your price is always reasonable; but do you come by all these pheasants and hares honestly?' 'Oh, shure, yes, yer reverence,' said the young girl. 'My father is poacher to Lord Clare.'"

Wore Out the Snow.

My old friend Crabtree of the real early Oklahoma days tells this tale about an early day snowstorm: "One day after many days of dry weather a big snow came and visited our drought-stricken land. The faces of the farmers were all smiles, because it meant a wheat crop. But alas! an old-time wind came up from the south that blew about 40 miles an hour and drifted the snow northward for a day. Then came an 80-mile-an-hour wind from the north that drifted it back south again. This condition of wind continued daily until the snow storm was blown and worn out and not a snowflake could be found anywhere in the county."—Watonga Herald.

Streets With Queer Names.

Edinburgh has some queerly named streets, among which are Jacob's Ladder, Gabriel's Ladder, Coffin land and Cuddy lane. It is, however, in the "close" that this ancient city figures best. There are, for instance, Hole in the Wall close, Little Jack and Big Jack close, Lady Stairs, Heave-Away and Long closes. The last is one of the shortest of these, and in that resembles Crooked and Turnaggin lanes in London, the former being as straight as a die and the latter so narrow that a vehicle in it cannot possibly turn again.

Valuable Dwarf Palm Fiber.

The fiber of the dwarf palm—a tree until lately regarded as worthless or harmful—is developing an important industry in Algeria. Factories are multiplying, and to these the natives bring the palm leaves, which are transformed into vegetable fiber by a steam carding machine, and then spun and braided. The material has the advantage over horsehair of being proof against moths and insects. It is being used for mattresses, woven products, harness and carriage work, military bedding, various tissues, and even hats.

Queer Breed of Chickens.

"It does me good," said the girl who has just returned, "to get back to a country where they serve a whole chicken." You know then where you are at. At my pension in Paris they had chicken for Sunday dinner. That is, they called it chicken, but a lot of us were of the opinion that it was a giant centipede. Every Sunday while I was there they put a leg in each plate when the chicken course came around. There were 13 of us. Did you ever see a chicken with 13 legs?"

MARRIAGE IS RECORDED.

Copy of Record of Kilgore—Searles Union Received In Farmington.

It appears from recent developments that there was a marriage ceremony performed in Berlin, N. H., between Harry Kilgore of Phillips and Guida Searles Lake Lovejoy, a copy of the certificate having been obtained by Franklin county officials recently. Kilgore and the Searles woman are still in the Franklin county jail where they were placed on the charge of adultery and have been unable to secure bail. Kilgore has friends and relatives who refuse to put up the $300 bail bonds required.

With the evidence of a marriage between them the charge will doubtless be changed to bigamy when the case comes to trial next term of court. The extreme penalty is five years for bigamy.

Cured of Bright's Disease

Mr. Robert O. Burke, Elnora, N. Y., writes: "Before I started to use Foley's Kidney Cure I had to get up from twelve to twenty times a night, and I was all bloated up with dropsy and my eyesight was so impaired I could scarcely see one of my family across the room. I had given up hope of living when a friend recommended Foley's Kidney Cure. One 50 cent bottle worked wonders and before I had taken the third bottle the dropsy had gone, as well as all other symptoms of Bright's disease. W. A. D. Cragin, Phillips; L. L. ADAMS-HINKLEY.

Marriage of Rangeley Young People
Happy Event.

A very pretty home wedding took place at the home of Mrs. Rosa Adams, Sunday evening, Nov. 10 at Rangeley. The contracting parties were her eldest daughter, Miss Francis Adams and Mr. Bernard Hinkley both of Rangeley.

At 8.15 the bridal couple, attended by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bush marched from an upper room to the parlor, to the strains of the wedding march which was played by Mrs. Charles B. Harris. They took their places in the bay window in front of a bank of evergreen and artificial roses. The room was also decorated with green and white crepe paper.

The bride and bridesmaid were dressed in white silk, Miss Adams carried bride roses and Mrs. Bush carried carnations. The groom and best man wore the usual black. The ceremony was performed by Mr. Frank E. Russell, the single ring service being used.

There were 25 friends and relatives to congratulate the happy couple. Among them were Mrs. Sarah Ross grandmother of the bride, who is over 85 years old. Refreshments of ice cream and cake also brides cake were served.

Presents as follows:
Glass pitcher with silver top, Mrs. Rosie Adams; syrup pitcher and butter dish, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Brackett; salt shaker, Muriel Brackett; parlor lamp, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Ross and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ross; glass fruit dish, Gayle Ross; fancy cups and saucers, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Harris; large hand painted salad dish, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bush; glass pitcher, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ross; $1.00 Fern Soul; 50 cents, Inez Brackett; one half dozen napkins, Mr. Leeman Wilcox; $1.00 Clyde Wilcox; salad set, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Blodgett; $1.00, Mr. and Mrs. Alp Brackett; silver spoon, Maggie Brackett; silver butter knife, Mr. and Mrs. Ara Ross; glass set, one half dozen spoons, 3 large spoons, one pair pillow slips, Mrs. Sarah Ross.

No Offense Intended.

Robert Browning once found himself at a dinner at a great English house, sitting next to a lady who was connected with the highest aristocracy. She was very graciously inclined and did her utmost to make conversation. "Are you not a poet?" she finally asked. "Well," said Browning, "people are sometimes kind enough to say that I am." "Oh, please don't mind my having mentioned it," the duchess hastened to say, with the kindest of smiles. "You know Byron and Tennyson and others were poets."

Troubles of an Amateur.

"I thought you had gone to raising bees," said the man from the city. "I don't see any signs of them around here." "I had half a dozen colonies of the finest bees I could get," answered the suburbanite, "and a whole library of literature on bee raising; but they swarmed one day, and while I was looking through my books to find out what was the proper thing to do when bees swarmed the blamed things flew away, and I've never seen 'em since."

WHEN THE OTHER MAN IS HIT.

Misfortunes of Others Frequently
Cause of Self-Congratulation.

"I wonder why it is," said the melancholy man, "that, when we hear of misfortunes that don't come very close to us, there is usually a feeling—well, I won't call it one of superiority of fate, but certainly one of recognition of the fitness of things by which we are not picked out for such evil case. And we are careful to give ourselves all possible credit for exemption. Jones, you hear, has failed. Poor Jones. You know him, and you know that if you had been in his place you would have seen the signs of disaster and taken warning. Brown's son has made a runaway match. Well, well! That is tough on the Browns, but it is clear that they didn't understand bringing up a boy. And so it goes. There's a preening of the feathers, an assumption of an air of conscious rectitude. Does it come from innate selfishness? Or is it because there has been no personal experience of sorrow along the lines indicated?"

MODERN DEMAND FOR SILENCE.

German Newspapers Protest It Is Being Carried to Extremes.

"How the times change!" says a writer in the Frankfurter Zeitung. "In the days of our fathers no description of a homelike, cosy room was complete without a reference to the ticking clock. It was this gentle sound which emphasized the quiet of the place. People had no nerves in those days. To-day the thought of a machine ticking off the seconds and striking the hours is a source of worry and distress. Time is going, but they do not wish to be reminded of it continually; no clock is better than the ticking machine. And now to meet the requirements of the nervous people, a factory at Schramburg is making a noiseless clock." In an article on the same subject another paper says: "The anti-noise craze has made disagreeable and unendurable some of the noises which once were music to us, and soon we will find a way to silence the birds and to muffle the sound of the rustling leaves."

East African Religious Ceremony.

Recently a strange ceremony was performed at Changamwe, East Africa, to bring rain. A house-to-house visit was made among the natives by a self-appointed committee who collected from each but the sum of two annas. With the total thus collected an ox was purchased. A procession was then formed, in which all the available children took part. After the procession had proceeded around the district for a period of two hours, the ox was sacrificed, prayers from the Koran being sang by the children. The meat of the ox was then boiled in pots by adult participants and given to the children to eat until the whole was consumed. The bones and remaining offal of the carcass were later put in a sack, carefully carried to the sea and thrown into deep water. Circumstantially rain fell for a few hours on the succeeding day.

Harm in Roentgen Rays.

According to a Danish medical journal the Roentgen rays were recently used upon a boy 5 years old, who was treated in hospital for a disease of the hair. After 25 applications of the rays the lad was sent home cured. But whereas his nature had previously been bright and intelligent, now he became absent-minded and unreliable, and was sent back to the hospital. He has been for some time since under medical observation, and the pronouncement of the doctors attending the case is that the Roentgen rays can easily penetrate the thin scalp of a child and have an undesirable influence on the brain.

The Earth Does Move.

Yes, noble Galileo, thou art right. "It does move." Bigots may make thee recant it; but it moves, nevertheless. Yes, the earth moves, and the planets move, and the mighty waters move, and the great sweeping tides of air move, and the empires of men move, and the world of thought moves, ever onward and upward to higher facts and bolder theories. The Inquisition may seal thy lips, but they can no more stop the progress of the great truth propounded by Copernicus, and demonstrated by thee, than they can stop the revolving earth.—Edward Everett.

NORTH FRANKLIN GRANGE.

Successful Meeting and Discussion on Fruit Held Nov. 16.

North Franklin Grange held an interesting and instructive meeting Saturday, Nov. 16, with a large attendance. Bro. Dana Sweet was present from Aurora Grange. After the regular business was disposed of a recess was declared for dinner when all passed to the dining room, where the tables looked very inviting and if one may judge by appearances was duly appreciated by those that partook. One brother in particular we were very anxious about, he being a small man and one to preserve peace, but there was nothing small about his appetite, lots of good advice was offered but he heeded it not.

The recess for dinner having expired the meeting was called to order and placed by the Worthy Master in the hands of the lecturer. The topics discussed were on fruit and very interesting. There was a fine display the tables reaching nearly the length of the hall were well filled, Bro. F. J. Tothall having 32 varieties, others contributed but in smaller lots. It is hoped these meetings will be held again and that canned fruit, vegetable, and skin to fact everything raised on the skin will be seen in the display.

trouble of eight or ten years' standing. I suffered the most severe backache and other pains in the region of the kidneys. These were especially severe when stooping to lift anything, and often I could hardly straighten my back. The aching was bad in the daytime, but just as bad at night, and I was always lame in the morning. I was bothered with rheumatic pains and dropsical swelling of the feet. The urinary passages were painful, and the secretions were discolored and so free that often I had to rise at night. I felt tired all day. Half a box served to cure me, and three boxes effected a permanent cure."

Mr. R. W. Bennett, a traveling man, who spent Thursday in Phillips went to Farmington Friday and on the way to his hotel picked up a ladies shopping bag. In it was a bank book on the People's bank of Farmington made out to Mrs. Stevens of Chesterville besides $127 in bills. Mr. Bennett returned the shopping bag to the bank and Mrs. Stevens was notified. She has cause for giving thanks on Thursday next and Mr. Bennett can surely enjoy Thanksgiving with the thought that he has made one woman happy and grateful to him.

Senator Harold M. Sewall and Sheriff John Ballou of Bath passed through Phillips Saturday evening in Mr. Sewall's auto on their way to the happy hunting grounds around Flagstaff. They had driven through from Bath and said the roads were excellent for autoing.

For the past three or four weeks Phillips city water users have been getting milk-white water from their faucets—a sort of liquid air brand as it were—which allowed to effervesce and settle becomes transparent enough to discover considerable real estate floating about in it. A travelling man at a local hotel mistaking a glass of the white fluid for milk the other day delivered a caustic lecture on the bogus brand of milk dealt out by Phillips milkmen. They say that air has gotten into the water system. It looks as if the water was first run through a bed of chalk. Small fish have come through the pipes also of late.

Charles Folsom, of Waterville a book agent who recently canvassed Phillips and vicinity was found dead Monday morning a mile below Wilton station, his body frozen stiff. It is supposed that the man, had started to walk home on the track when he was struck by the last Saturday train. There are no trains Sunday and none of the hunters out in the interim came across the remains.

Phillips will be interested to learn there is a move to set off Dixfield village from the eastern part of the town, the part to be set off going as far as the Carthage line.

"I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be paid off," writes G. S. Clark of Westfield, Iowa, "for my rescue from death by Dr. King's New Discovery. The ominous dry, hacking cough quit before the first bottle was used and two more bottles made a complete cure." A Woman's Back

Has many aches and pains caused by weaknesses and falling, or other displacement, of the pelvic organs. Other symptoms of female weakness are frequent headache, dizziness, imaginary specks or dark spots floating before the eyes, gnawing sensation in stomach, dragging or bearing down in lower abdominal or pelvic region, disagreeable drains from pelvic organs, faint spells with general weakness.

If any considerable number of the above symptoms are present there is no remedy that will give quicker relief or a more permanent cure than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It has a record of over forty years of cure. It is the most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve known to medical science. It is made of the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots found in our forests and contains not a drop of alcohol or harmful, or habit-forming drugs. Its ingredients are all printed on the bottle wrapper and attested under oath as correct.

Every ingredient entering into "Favorite Prescription" has the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice—more valuable than any amount of non-professional testimonials—though the latter are not lacking, having been contributed voluntarily by grateful patients in numbers to exceed the endorsements given to any other medicine extant for the cure of woman's ills.

You cannot afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for this well proven remedy or known composition, even though the dealer may make a little more profit thereby. Your interest in regaining health is paramount to any selfish interest of his and it is an insult to your intelligence for him to try to palm off upon you a substitute. You know what you want and it is his business to supply the article called for.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original "Little Liver Pills" first put up by old Dr. Pierce over forty years ago, much imitated but never equaled. Little sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

THE PHILLIPIAN IS OUT.

Notable Number of Phillips High School Paper Being Distributed.

The Phillipian, the organ of the Phillips High school, made its appearance this week and the board of editors and the recipients of the number say that there isn't a High School number printed in Maine that can touch it. It consists of 32 pages, handsomely printed with a striking cover design of an Indian girls head by Arthur Shepard of Phillips. The merchants contributed generously in the way of advertisements which greatly encouraged the board of managers and it has been decided to issue another number graduation time. A picture of the High School adds to the attractiveness of the number. The number is dedicated to Miss Lura H. Dennison, who for many years has been first assistant at the High School and whose ability and faithfulness as a teacher the scholars highly appreciate.

Among the articles contributed is Reminiscences of Two Days In Naples by Grace I. Bartlett, former assistant in the High school. There are several contributions showing marked originality and literary ability. The editorial staff is as follows: Editor in chief, Gladys E. Dutton '08; assistant editor, Susie M. Davenport '08; literary, Edith F. Morton '08; school notes, Birdena M. Plaisted '08; quotations, Hazel E. Beedy '08; exchanges, James A. Norton '09; business manager Rinaldo A. Brann '08; assistant business manager, Roland S. Hinds '08. The press work was done at the MAINE WOODSMAN office.
