THE ANNUAL HELD AT PARISH HOUSE

The King's Daughters Have Their Usual Enjoyable Evening

Nearly 30 members of the King's Daughters met at the Parish House last Friday evening for their annual. Mrs. C. H. McKenzie had planned a little surprise for one of the members, Miss Cora Wheeler, as her birthday fell on this date. A post card shower was given her and she was remembered with several gifts. A birthday cake ornamented the centre of the refreshment table, brilliantly lighted with candles and Miss Wheeler happily thanked the members for this very pleasant surprise.

The nominating committee, Mrs. Eva Toothaker, Mrs. E. B. Currier and Mrs. Edward Greenwood, presented the following list of officers for the next six months:

Pres., Mrs. O. H. Hersey; V. Pres., Josephine Larabee; Sec. Mary McKenzie; Treas. Emma Greenwood; Executive Committee, Mrs. O. H. Hersey, Mrs. C. F. Chandler, Mrs. F. N. Beal; Finance Committee, Mrs. J. W. Brackett, Mrs. DeBerna Ross, Mrs. H. F. Beedy; Visiting Committee, Miss Cora Wheeler, Mrs. E. B. Currier, Mrs. F. W. Atwood; Flower Committee, Mrs. N. H. Harnden, Mrs. D. F. Hoyt, Mrs. F. S. Haley; Lookout Committee, Mrs. Eva Toothaker, Mrs. Proctor Smith, Mrs. Will Leavitt; Entertainment, Mrs. Everett Knapp, Janet McKenzie, Mrs. Fred Morton.

The entertainment committee had prepared several entertaining games, and the prize winners were, Mrs. Arno Pratt and Miss Carrie Toothaker. A grab-bag caused much amusement as the members pulled the strings to receive their valuable gifts. Charades were also acted, and not the least among the enjoyable features was the tasting party.

Mrs. Mittie Saulsbury of Brewer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Voter, became a member at this meeting. Although Mrs. Saulsbury will not be present at many of the meetings she wanted to be identified as a member and have the pleasure of attending when it is possible.

From the report of Mrs. O. H. Hersey, the secretary for the past year we take a few interesting items. In September $10 was sent to the Orphan Home at Augusta and a box of clothing. In October sheets, pillow cases and night dresses were sent to a needy case. At Thanksgiving time 48 boxes were distributed among the aged, sick and shut-ins, and a dinner sent to one family. Flowers have been sent to 17 during the past six months. Post card showers have been given to several members who were ill. Through the efforts of the circle the cemetery fence has received a new coat of paint. Thanks are due Mrs. E. B. Whorff who contributed $15 for the California Perfume Co. coupons to the treasury. During the year the average attendance has been 18. Miss Janet McKenzie has missed but two meetings, the least of any member. Number of members at the present time 8. There have been eight added the past year. No death has occurred in the circle the past year.

The meetings have been characterized by the spirit of harmony and have been pleasing and interesting. The entertainment committee has been untiring in their efforts to provide something for the social hour for each meeting.

The circle has adjourned until September.

WHAT IS BEST TIME TO FISH?

Do Fish See Man on Bank?—Or is Early Morning Preferable to Early Evening?

Fishing probably has about it more wholesome two-sided points for debate than any other sport. There is the salt water against the fresh, the bait against the lure, the dry fly against the wet, wading upstream against wading downstream, bass versus trout, and so on ad infinitum. Each of these questions, however, becomes debatable only when specialists get together. The devotee of the one style waxes warm at hearing another hobby upheld. But there are points to angling which affect everyone who fishes, regardless of bait, tackle, water or kind of fish. Of such questions the two most frequently brought up seem to be whether a dull day is better than a bright one, and whether it is better to fish at sunrise, just after sunrise, late in the afternoon, et cetera, et cetera, etc.

The preference between fishing on a fair day or fishing in the rain is apt to depend on the degree of one's passion for angling. The genial old soul that never forgets the bottle of "snake bite" for the day's outfit and prefers to loll around in the stern of a boat waiting for the red top of a gaudy bobber to disappear bottomward, leaving a trail of little silvery bubbles in its course is seldom a rainy-day fisherman. James, aged eight, is on the other hand, never so happy as when there are signs of rain on a morning during summer vacation. He is the firmest of believers in bite very well then, equally as well as at any other hour, this may really be said to be the preferable part of the day for the sport. But it cannot be denied that the late hours of the afternoon, and more particularly sunset and dusk, offer some tip-top opportunities. It is a great time for insects to come out and skim the water, and the varieties of fish that make a meal off such food are more alert then than earlier in the day. They do not always bite, however, when they are alert, and a carefully-cast fly may bring no results at all when many fish are jumping, which is one of the many anomalies that go to make fishing so interesting. And it is this same persistent characteristic of the sport which makes it next to impossible to settle any of the debated points. It's club-house casting at best, all of it.—Springfield Republican.

EXCITING BATTLE ON WHARF

Portland Man Catches Monster Salmon at Mingo.

(Special to Maine Woods)

Mingo Springs, Rangeley, Maine, June 16—Just as the various people here who had been eating breakfast were moving about preparatory to beginning the day's duties today, a thrill of intense excitement moved swiftly through the entire place. "John 2d," the bell boy, came flying into the room, his face and voice expressing astonished wonder. "All come out and see Mr. Carter land his big fish from the wharf," he cried. "He has just about got a whale, I guess." Thereupon, we who were standing about began to file rapidly down the walk to the float. On the wharf stood J. A. D. Carter of Congress street, Portland, Me., putting up the prettiest fight I have ever witnessed with a monster salmon. Never

"he has wonderful staying qualities," and a few such skillful methods soon brought him to net and he was a gorgeous green, black-backed salmon with great big, black spots as large as a nickel on his silvery sides, while his great fins and tail looked like small Japanese fans as they stuck up out of the water, cleaving along, while the fish was bodily submerged. He will do to start the "record list," says some one. "You bet he will," says our genial proprietor, C. H. Cole, and Mr. Carter proceeded to his casting as unruffled as though no unusual happening had disturbed the morning hours, so far as he was concerned. Mr. Carter's big fish weighed a trifle under 9 lbs. and will go to grace the platter of a famous physician in New York, who no doubt will wish he could have witnessed the capture that thrilled and spelled for us the words genuine sport.

Mr. Atkins the well known trapper and guide is entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Cooper from Bridgeport, Conn. They plan to go up soon to Billy Soule's new camps at Millmagasset for two weeks or more. Mr. Cooper plans to stay all summer.

BARTLETT WRITES ABOUT FOXES

East Sumner, Me.
June 15, 1914

To the Editor of Maine Woods:

A few weeks ago I wrote an article for the Sun, about the capture of what I then supposed to be a valuable litter of baby foxes, and spoke about some of them being very dark in color and as Silver Foxes are very rare in this section of the state, and the Sun a daily of very wide circulation, the news spread like wild fire. As the writer is known as a sort of acting, walking and talking encyclopedia for a number of sporting magazines and newspapers, several of them copied my letter as published by the Sun.

And the public very quickly began to come, old and young, from far and mal will weigh, naturally these people did not buy and of course no one blames them either, for if they turned trump of course they would win, and on the other hand if the surface hair of these foxes turned up red it is easy to note how wide the difference.

And God bless me, every surface hair that I have seen on the four darkest ones is as black as a coal with a silver tip, and the other four of the same litter are turning much better than I ever expected they would. I have had some pictures taken of them, but at this writing they are not finished, but will furnish the Maine Woods with one in the near future, so if the editor will allow it space in its esteemed columns, all of its readers will be permitted to look at a picture of a handsome litter of baby foxes.

I do not feel rich by having what is termed as extremely good luck in finding these puppies, and of course do not expect to have such stock as I am going to mention in the first quality Prince Edward Island silver foxes for breeding purposes which rose from $10,000 per pair in October 1912 to $13,000 per pair in January 1913 and from April 1913 to $18,000 in June 1913 and a single female fox has produced 40 descendants within several years. The average weight of a healthy specimen is 11 to 12 pounds and they are certainly in a class by themselves as to other animals by weight, even considering the Jersey cattle.

The record price for any pelt of a fur bearing animal was for an Island black fox skin and is said to have been between $3,800 and $3,900; this price was at a second sale.

My little daughter Alice Julia 11 years old wants me to tell the Maine Woods that she recently caught a brook trout here in the twenty mile river that weighed two pounds and two ounces and measured 14½ inches in length, about 20 people saw the trout and they all say it is the largest one ever taken from the river.

Yours respectfully
Emerson P. Bartlett

ONE OF THE OUTLYING PONDS AT WEST CARRY LAKE.

Ingraham of Bristol, Conn., being one of the lucky fishermen, getting 41 lbs. in three days. Fly fishing bids fair to be good through June and July, as a number are now using the fly with good results.

A. J. Wilson, proprietor, Outle house and camps, Moosehead, Me., advises that the following guests have registered at his hotel and camps: C. H. Stevens, Marlboro, Mass.; H. C. Dunkham, Woban, Mass.; J. H. Adair and C. C. Whitcomb of New York; Chas. S. Ashley and J. Dawson of New Bedford, Mass.; E. Parks and A. Holbrook of Newport; Mr. and Mrs. McKee of Orono, Me.; Horace Cristy, Worcester, Mass.; Miss G. H. Hammett, Troy, N. Y.; H. A. Eames, L. B. Jewell of Hartford, Ct.; Mr. and Mrs. John Cross of Lawrence, Mass.; Dr. F. L. Chase, Dr. J. C. Stirk, J. Oelbermann and Walton of Philadelphia.

The fishing is found excellent here and fly fishing is now good where his guests enjoy fishing off the dam only a few feet from the hotel and camps. Many salmon are being caught, the largest weighing 7 lbs. taken by W. J. Robinson. Among the lucky ones at these camps recently were: Mr. Barnum, 5 trout, 3½ and 4 lbs., 3 lakers, 1 salmon, 4 lbs. Mr. Eames, 2 salmon, 5 and 5½ lbs. Mr. Bullock, 6 trout, 3, 3½ and 4½ lbs., 3 lakers, 3½ and 4 lbs., 1 salmon, 5 lbs. Miss H. Hammett, 13 trout, 2 to 5 lbs., 1 laker, 4 lbs. J. B. the theory that the number of fish in the stream and their hunger is in direct ratio to the number of clouds in the sky.

There is, of course, a great deal of basis for the cloudy day preference. No one who has ever walked along the edge of a trout stream or fished from a bridge where the game was visible in the water beneath can deny that fish see. What they see is more of a question. That they see the figure of the fisherman as he is doubtful. The most generally accepted theory is that they see only shadows, cast on the surface of the water. If this is so the shadow seen by the fish is invisible to the human eye, for they will dart away when one standing on the bank feels certain he has kept out of sight completely. This may be due to sound, or to a delicate responsiveness to vibrations. Accurate statistics would be interesting, but in a general way it would seem as though success and failures were about evenly divided between bright days and dark ones.

As to the choice between early morning and other times of day, it may be taken as fact from the first that the middle of the day is a very poor time for fishing. Almost the only occasion when this may be said not to hold true is on a day when the sky is overcast. Then midday is just about as good a time for fishing as any other. Just after sunrise is certainly the pleasantest time of the day to fish, and because the fish usually once, or for an instant did I observe an inch of slack line, while the reel zipped and hummed, alternating with the steady turn of the handle, as Mr. Carter brought his fish back again and again, near enough for us to see his gleaming sides and silvery scales. He was a fighter from the moment the hook sunk ruthlessly into his jaw and it was a sight to stir the pulse of the most phlegmatic fisherman to see him rush, then sulk away at the bottom of the lake. Up, up and flash! out of the water he comes! Away again—first here and then there, working dangerously near the ragged rocky foundation of the new wharf in process of construction. There are many of them here and the water is deep. Mr. Salmon evidently wants to cut the line, to relieve the intense strain that never for an instant is allowed to slacken. Zip goes the reel and away goes 50, yes 100 feet of line at a rush. Mr. Carter, cool, steady, self-possessed, speaks in a quiet voice, "Guess he thinks he will cross the lake!" But, no. "There he comes," cries a dozen voices and my heart leaped up in my throat, almost choking me, when I saw the monster gleaming and shimmering in the sunlight. "Ten pounds," says one. "Eight," says a careful "hedger," who is afraid to voice his convictions that this fish does weigh much more. "Some fish," says the man who is afraid to guess at all. "Yes, he will go all of eight," says Mr. Carter and there was a quiet assurance in his voice, such as men have who know. "Well, we must give him some air," says the nimrod, near, to see this litter of fox pups, and at this writing there have been over 200 people here to see them, and only three of these people had ever seen a litter of young foxes even red ones, as small as these were when I first got them.

After looking at the puppies about two minutes 98 per cent of these visitors asked me what I fed them on. Now they have meat of some kind, hedgehog, woodchuck, fowl or fish, for their breakfast every morning and bread and milk at night and all are growing like little pigs, and are improving in color, consequently in value fast.

I priced them on two occasions before their surface hair started, but as it is in the quality of the goods, that counts in foxes and not what the ani-

RESULTS OF FOX FARMING IN P. E. I.

The legislative Assembly of Prince Edward Island passed twenty-nine public acts during 1913, the two most important relating to the fox tax and the automobile traffic. The tax on fox pups was placed at 1 per cent, of their value, and under this arrangement the island government collected over $37,000 during the summer of 1913.

The island's esoteric fox industry was responsible for much of the general atmosphere of prosperity. Whatever may be true as to the ultimate soundness or unsoundness of the silver-black fox breeding movement, it resulted in the influx of two or three millions of dollars of outside capital to Prince Edward Island during 1913. At the end of the year there were 130 incorporated fox companies, with an authorized capitalization of $13,760,900. The spring crop of young foxes was poor, the average per litter being less than two whelps. This scarcity forced prices higher than ever, and the owners of foxes which had increased secured double and treble their original investments. The magnitude of the black fox industry in eastern Canada and New England is hardly realized by the general public. Since the world's supply of all

SPORTING NOTES

A party of Augusta gentlemen in which were A. N. Soule, W. E. Swift, H. H. Stuart and Charles D. White, returned Sunday evening from a brief visit to Pleasant pond, Caratunk, making the journey by automobile. No statement was made regarding the trip except that they had an enjoyable time but as Pleasant pond is among the famous fishing resorts it is safe to guess that they did not come home empty-handed.

A hearing before the State Commission of Inland Fisheries and Game was held recently at the Belgrade hotel, Belgrade, on the petition recently received asking that the commission cause to be issued such rules and regulations to make unlawful the taking of black bass from the water, so called the Belgrade chain of lakes, by any device than an unbaited artificial fly from June 15th to June 30th, both dates inclusive. A law has been in effect for several years but it is claimed that a new law leaves a loophole for "fish hogs" to take fish off the spawning beds, as undoubtedly this year the fish will be on the beds somewhat later than June 15, owing to the cold weather and high water.

The hearing was well attended and much interest was manifested in the matter. The decision of the commission will be announced later.

Schoodic, June 18—Lake trout have been biting fast the past week in Schoodic Lake. The fishing, which on account of cold weather earlier in the month has not been up to the usual standard for June, has lately more than met the expectations of Schoodic fishermen. Among those making good catches this week have been Benj. S. Luther, Springfield, Mass.; P. B. McCord, Neil Cable, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Kiltrick, Millinocket, Misses Emily and Isabel Powell, Greenwich Conn.; Mrs. R. H. Cable, Lewis Bell, guide; C. P. Reynolds, B. & A. R. R., Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Reed, Asbury Park, N. J.

The largest fish reported was a fourteen pounder, taken near Birch Point.

Howard Wood, Chief (and popular) Warden for Piscataquis County, was a visitor at the camps last week, coming up from Moosehead Hatchery with the yearly Schoodic allotment of square-tail fry.

FIND BEAVER UNDER A TREE

Many Seen In the Locality of Reddington Last Fall

(Special to Maine Woods.)
Kingfield, June 17, 1914.

Ray Woodcock, Joe Mitchell and Harry Chipman of Carrabasset were going from Mr. Woodcock's house to Reddington Pond, three miles away on a fishing trip a few days ago when they ran onto a beaver under a tree at Reddington stream near the pond. The beaver did not seem frightened and Mr. Woodcock got near enough to him to take the picture.

The men walked along to the pond and here they found another beaver under a rock on the shore which they caught in their hands, by the hind legs and held up by the tail for another picture. This beaver they kept for about half an hour and then let him go.

Last fall there were many beavers in this locality.

Reddington Pond is about 13 miles from Kingfield.

COMMON BAD-SMELLING SKUNK

Mr. D. F. Lantz, assistant biologist at the department of agriculture at Washington, has just now issued under date of June 4, 1914, Farmer's Bulletin Number 587, which treats exclusively of the common and malodorous skunk. Mr. Lantz as much as possible divests his very factual tale of all technical wordings, confining himself as much as possible to simple and plain words, such as farmers can understand.

Considering the skunk as a valuable fur-bearing mammal, it is now one of three costly fur-bearers existing in any numbers upon this continent. The other two are the mink and the muskrat, neither one of which can survive for long if the farmers continue to drain their swamplands. Indeed, the mink already approaches utter extinction because of the very high price paid for its fur by the dealers, though the muskrat stands a far better chance of the two, because it gives birth to many litters of young in a year, and the entire species is very prolific.

But as the Alaskan seal is now nearly extinct, the Pacific sea otter are practically out of existence, and black and silver gray foxes mostly profitable to sell for breeding purposes, rather than for raw furs, the fur hunt in the winter has narrowed down to the above three species.

For the purpose of marketing, skunk furs are divided into four grades, always remembering that skunk furs grown at the far north are the silkiest and most valuable.

Of the first rank and value is the so-called black skunk skins, which are black all over except a white spot above the neck and near the head.

Of second value is the fur with a single white stripe half way down the back.

Of third value is the fur with a white stripe clear down the back and tail.

Fourth in value is a broad double white stripe clear down the back and tail.

A skunk pelt of first rank is very rare and may be worth six dollars, at least dealers out of town offer that much, but when such furs are ordered and shipped, the prices really paid are seldom more than one half the above sum.

If skunks can be made to reproduce their kind in confinement there are prospects of rearing skins in yards and outbuildings, though this point is not definitely settled as yet.

As persistent and almost perpetual enemies of all noxious insects the American skunk has endeared itself to the farmer, and finds an honored place in Farmer's Bulletin, 387. They can be easily-fenced from the hen pen and the henyard. They thrive and grow fat with skunk's oil on white grubs, locusts, wire-worms and all injurious insects. At least twelve States have enacted laws placing a close time upon skunks. They are no longer clubbed and persecuted by the farmer and his sons, but old and young allow Mister Skunk and his stink-pot a wider berth until all danger of the skunk's emitting a bad smell has passed.—News.

$50,000 INITIAL FUND RAISED FOR SHOOTING TOURNAMENT AT THE PANAMA PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION OF 1915.

Among the important events that will attract attention among men of all nations at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition to open in San Francisco February 20th, 1915, is the grand prize shooting tournament under the auspices of the San Francisco International Shooting Festival Association to be held in Shell Mound Park from August 8th to September 26th, 1915 for which event the association has appropriated $50,000. in prizes for a beginning. The tournament will include contests for soldiers, sailors, veterans, peace officers, civilians, militia, cadets, students, members of rifle and pistol clubs and marksmen of all nations and countries, irrespective of affiliations.

The tournament will include contests with rifles, pistols and revolvers; short and long ranges, natural and artificial light and an endless variety of weapons and targets.

The association is composed of the leading shooting societies of the Pacific Slope, working harmoniously with but one object in view—to make the tournament the most successful in history.

The $50,000 appropriated by the association for prizes is merely a starter. To that sum may be added fully as much more and, perhaps twice as much contributed by individuals, firms and corporations and by shooting societies that will send teams to take part in the contests. What can be expected in prizes for this event may be measured by what San Francisco has achieved on former occasions. At the 1901 Bundes shooting festival held in Shell Mound Park, prizes aggregating $125,000 in coin, medals, trophies and other tokens, were distributed. At the shoot of the San Francisco Schuetzen Verein, in honor of its Golden Jubilee, in 1909, the prizes awarded aggregated over $40,000.

The Shell Mound range occupies an ideal location on the eastern shore of the San Francisco bay, facing the Golden gate, with a full view of the opposite shore, yet far enough to be out of reach of bullets. An almost even temperature all year, never too warm nor too cold, steady light, cloudless sky, almost entire absence of wind during the greater part of the year, and ample vacant space in the wake of the bullets. The range is but a short distance from San Francisco, Oakland, Alameda, Berkeley, Fruitvale, Richmond and a number of other thriving cities and towns, within thirty minutes by any of the numerous steam and electric cars, ferry boats and street cars, passing the range every few minutes until after midnight. Additional ferry boats will be operated during the exposition between the Exposition grounds and the Alameda shore close to the Shell Mound Park Range.

IMPROVEMENTS AT POLAND SPRING

Many Familiar Faces Among the Guests.

Poland Spring, Maine, Saturday June 20—The books are full at Poland Spring and the season well under way for golfers and fishermen. More of the visitors at each of the hotels are returning early than ever before, and many are taking advantage of the excellent fishing in the Poland Lakes. Over 200 pounds of lake trout were taken from the lakes by visitors during the month of May and the early part of June, and the opening of the bass season on Tuesday of this week was celebrated by Mr. Geo. W. Elkins of Elkins Park, Pa., and Mr. S. B. Stinson of Philadelphia with a catch of ten fish weighing 14 pounds. Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer M. Singer of New York were also successful on Tuesday, bringing in a string of three fish which totalled five pounds.

Among the minor changes at Poland Spring this year is the addition to the Ricker Estate of the residence formerly known as the "Campbell Cottage" which was the property of Philadelphia visitors until this year. The cottage is now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Garret A. Hobart Jr., of Paterson, N. J., who arrived for the season the first of the month. Mrs. G. A. Hobart, Sr., is at the Poland Spring House for her usual season visit.

A well-known visitor of the last week was "Hap" Ward, who with Mrs. Ward and Mr. and Mrs. E. R. West of Boston are touring Maine in an automobile. Mr. Ward is the famous actor, formerly a partner in the celebrated firm of Ward and Vokes.

A large improvement in the laundry facilities at the Poland Spring House is one of the most noticeable changes since last season. The old laundry has been entirely renovated, enlarged, and new machinery of the latest pattern and most ample capacity has been installed. Adjacent to the new laundry, a large entrance hall for employees has been constructed, excellently equipped and arranged so as to give the utmost of light and air. A new help's kitchen next the dining room in the ell, gives ideal opportunity for the preparation of meals and service of the same. These, with a few minor enlargements of dormitory space, are the chief changes on the hill this year, and contribute directly to the comfort of the employee and indirectly to the benefit of the visitor.

Garret A. Hobart Jr. of Paterson, N. J., is foremost among the trap shooters on the range under the hill. Several improvements have been made in the placement and operation of the traps, and an active season with the clay birds is planned for.

NOTES ON BATES COMMENCEMENT

Phillips was well represented at Bates this week in the persons of N.
P. Noble and D. F. Field, the former being a graduate of the class of
'77 and the latter '94; also L. J.
Brackett of Boston whom Phillips partially claims as he lived here for some years. Of the 11 members composing Mr. Noble's class 10 were present. The class of '94 won the the trophy for the best attendance of the graduates of that class. They hired Whittier Cottage and were informally "at home" for the three days. This class won distinction by burning "Anna" and at this time thought it fitting to hold a memorial service and the solemn rites were again performed at the conclusion of the parade Tuesday morning, when the class of '94 headed by D. F. Field in a clown's suit and mask marched the class in the parade with Brackett and another classmate bearing Anna-Anna-lit on a stretcher wrapped in crepe and guarded by an escort of footmen.

The ceremony was performed in front of the grandstand before an admiring audience. The gentlemen of this class wore crimson and blue hat bands and the ladies carried blue parasols with a large bow of crimson ribbon tied to the handle and the letters '94.

In the 50 yard race for former all-star men, Brackett won first and received the cup. He also presided as official prize presenter. In the ball game between the alumni and
'varsity aggregation, Brackett occupied a position in the outfield. A hot game of tennis was played on the Parker Hall courts. Brackett and Carl Milliken '97 defeating Clifford '08 and Burrell '97. The score was 6-1, 4-6 and 0-6.

Mrs. Sadie Brackett Costello of Lewiston, formerly of Phillips was a graduate of the class of '98 and 14 of the members of that class met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. B.
Costello Monday evening for a little reunion.

Really a Good Idea.

"Is your wife going to wear her diamonds to the grand opera?" "Of course," answered Mr. Cumrox. "We can't all appreciate music, and we ought to try to make grand opera interesting even for those who go merely to look on."

Bladder irritations, kidney troubles, dull headaches, weariness, pain in back and sides, all show the kidneys need to be toned up, strengthened, their regular action restored. Foley Kidney pills will do it surely and quickly. They give good health, freedom from pain, a return of appetite and sound sleep. Try them.

The Soft Answer.

It is hard telling just what attitude to take with regard to the allegations and alleged misstatements and unkind remarks of other people. It does not pay to be too thin skinned. Besides, the other fellow may have been misquoted; and even if he said it, this saying sometimes does not make it so. Ignoring a thing of that sort brings it to the quickest death in the world and turns bad feeling into good. There is a book that says: "A soft answer turneth away wrath."—Los Angeles Times.

BIG MEETING STARTS JULY 2

Committee Calls for Contestants

A Most Successful Meeting Expected---Long List of Contests and Prizes Prepared---Reduced Rates on Railroads.

The Nineteenth Annual Outing of the Maine Sportsmen's Fish and Game Association will be held at Mountain View House, Rangeley Lakes, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 2, 3 and 4.

In its location in the heart of the famous Rangeley region; its surroundings, and its accommodations, the Mountain View House last year proved itself to be an ideal place for the outing. With the experience of last year to build on, even better entertainment can be afforded this year.

It is a practical certainty that this year's outing will be the biggest in the history of the association. We have taken in about 75 new members since the beginning of the year.

With the help of Dr. I. Gould of Bangor, who will have charge of the shooting, the list of shooting events has been revised and greatly enlarged. Read it over, and you will see that it excels anything of previous seasons. To the rifle and pistol events have been added trap shooting as a special attraction.

We want more contestants in the shooting events than ever before. The prize-list should be a big incentive for everyone who can shoot to bring his rifle or shotgun and take part. There are seven silver cups, five of which will be the permanent property of the winners of this year's events.

The other prizes include rifles, shot guns, pistols, rods, fish lines, cameras, canoes and money purses. It is the biggest list of prizes ever offered.

Special hotel rates at Mountain View House of $2.50 per day have been secured, which is very reasonable for the class of accommodation offered. Address L. E. Bowley, Mountainview, Me., for reservations.

The outing is not for members only. Everyone is welcome. Make up your own party and bring them along.

Many automobile parties from all parts of the State are planning to attend.

tend. The trip will be worth while. Accommodations for machines will be provided.

The Maine Central Railroad will sell excursion tickets open to all, July 2, 3 and 4 inclusive, good to return until July 7th.

Also stations Fryeburg, Me., to Cumberland Mills, Me., inclusive, sell excursion tickets to Oquossoc and return at rate of fare and three-fifths the round trip.

For time of trains see M. C. R. R. summer time tables dated June 22.

At the business meeting Friday evening we wish a large attendance to discuss matters important to all Maine sportsmen. Invitations have been sent to a number of well-known men competent to address the association on these subjects, and we expect some very interesting speakers.

Billy Hill, the crack shot of the Remington-U. M. C. Co., will attend and his exhibitions of trick and fancy shooting will be one of the features. Mr. Hill has more calls for exhibitions than he can fill, but makes it a point to attend the Fish and Game outing.

For those who wish, a side trip can be made to Kennebec Lake, twenty minutes from Oquossoc by rail, where the fly fishing is excellent. Arrangements have been made for steamboat rides on the big lakes.

SWAMPED WITH LETTERS

The following extract taken from a letter recently received from Ray B. Berry, Secretary and Treasurer of the Northland Fur Reservation gives another example of the advertising worth of Maine Woods.

We expect to do some more advertising in the Maine Woods in the very near future. The small ad of May 14 swamped us with letters from those who wished to sell their stock.

With the kindest regards, I am
Sincerely yours,
Ray B. Berry

THE FISHING NEVER BETTER

Big Catches Since May 27th-- Dr. Foss Gets 25 Nice Ones at Spencer Stream

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Spencer Lake, Maine

June 15, 1914.

I thought I would write this report of what the fishermen have been doing here since the camps opened. Since May 27th they have caught 37 lake trout that weighed 268 3-4 pounds, the largest 11 pounds. Three of these weighing 24 pounds have been caught in the last ten days. I haven't kept the weight and number of salmon and square tails, but yesterday there were ten salmon caught and eight square-tails. The largest salmon 4 1-4 pounds, the largest square tail 3 1-2 pounds. Dr. Foss of Rockland went to Spencer Stream today and back, bringing home 25 nice trout several weighing a pound. The fishing is the best we have ever had.

The first of July I think we could show you as good fly fishing as you have ever seen.

John B. Carville.

GOOD FISHING AT CARRY POND

Automobile Service This Summer From Briggs' Landing to Bingham

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Carry Pond, Maine,

June 17, 1914.

The fishing at Carry Pond has been good this spring. At this writing the fly fishing is unusually good.

About 115 guests have registered to date and everything points to a successful summer trade.

Mr. Lane has improved his telephone by putting in a metallic circuit from Briggs' Landing to his camps, giving service on the New England line without any switch at Briggs' Landing.

Mr. Lane has just purchased a new automobile which he will run through the summer months from Briggs' Landing to Bingham.

Herman Harlow formerly of the "Ledge House" Dead River, will run the machine.

SPORTING NOTES

Game Warden Charles C. Chadbourne of Sanford is circulating a petition which is addressed to the next Legislature, requesting that body to enact a resident hunters' license law, and a large number of signatures have been secured already. Mr. Chadbourne states that such a law would put a stop to many evasions of the non-resident hunters' license law by residents of other states who claim a residence in Maine during the hunting season. This practice has been especially noticeable in towns near the New Hampshire line.

Doesn't This Prove ITS TRUE WORTH?

L. Decker & Son of Clinton, Maine, write us this:

"We commenced selling 'L. F.' Atwood's Medicine in 1868. There are not many days when we do not sell from one to three bottles."

Clinton is NOT a big city. It's only one of hundreds of places where even a bigger demand exists all the time.

The reason? "L. F." Atwood's Medicine, for over 60 years, has afforded relief from stomach troubles, biliousness, constipation and liver complaints.

Try it to-day—be benefitted and convinced.

NORWICH WOMAN HAS GOOD LUCK

Large Booking for July and August
--Other Notes from the Barker.

(Special to Maine Woods.)

The Barker, Mooselookmeguntic Lake, June 20,—One would think by the weather that time had turned backward in its flight to last November, for this is more like a cold, late autumn day than the month of roses.

But the June bride is here, and happily located in Lynn Lodge is the bridal couple from Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Schloss, who arrived this week. Mrs. Schloss, nee Miss Miller, spent a season several years ago at this delightful place with her parents.

Mrs. Jacob Goodfriend and her daughter, Miss Ruth, arrived last evening to spend another season in Valhala Cabin. They spent several days in Boston attending the Harvard Commencement as Mrs. Goodfriend's son, Harry, graduated from Harvard and in a few days sails for Europe for an extended trip, and will this year be missed from the merry party of guests at this hotel. Mr. Goodfriend will join his family in a short time and with their old, guide, Gard Hinkley, will no doubt, as in years past, do the honors of landing many of the big trout and salmon that are in the lake.

The wind has blown so this week that the fishermen enjoyed camp life, piling on the big logs in the fireplace, popping corn, telling stories and reading. But some of the ladies have been the brave anglers and the lucky ones too, the last few days.

Mrs. B. W. Gage of Brooklyn, N. Y., with Harry Nelson, guide caught a 3 pound salmon and her daughter, Miss Margaret Gage, with Oscar Parker, guide, a 3 pound trout.

Edward R. Grier of Hartford, Conn., and friend, Sears B. Condis, Jr., of Boston have been here for a few days' outing. Mr. Grier with Will Lufkin, guide, landed a 3 pound trout.

The best fish story and the biggest fish, Mrs. C. H. Fresbie of Norwich, Conn. has to her credit, Bob Martin, guide. One day she landed a 3 pound trout and the next it was a 5½ pound salmon that took her hook, and then gave a free exhibition of high jumps and long runs, before he could be reeled to the net. This gamy salmon was sent home to be the proof of the adventure, which the party, regretfully leaving Camp Comfort on Monday morning will have to tell. The party includes Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Fresbie, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Young of Norwich, Conn., and their friend, Mrs. Nichols of Providence, R. I., who plan to return another year.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. D. Barnjum of Boston, and Mr. and Mrs. Orris Vose of Madrid were here this week while on an automobile trip.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Oppenheimer, three children and maid of far away San Antonio, Texas, are very happy here in one of the log cabins to remain all summer, and are greatly pleased with Maine and life here at The Barker.

Capt. Barker spent part of the week in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Hickey of Cambridge Mass. are among the new comers, who are much pleased with

BIRDS MUST BE SAVED

Dr. W. T. Hornaday, one of the leading naturalists of the world, and an eminent authority on bird and animal life, head of New York's famous zoological park, is conducting a nation-wide propaganda against the slaughter of useful birds. "The American people" he says, "must awake to a realizing sense of certain facts that seriously affect the cost of living. The 5,000,000 men and boys who are slaughtering our birds, are levying tribute on every American pocket-book." He says the codling moth and curculio apple pests cost us about $8,250,000 a year for spraying operations and $12,000,000 a year in shrinkage of value in the apple crop. The chinch bug wheat pests sometimes cost us $20,000,000 a year. The cotton boll weevil costs the cotton planters $20,000,000 a year. The tree-insect pests cost the nation $100,000,000 a year. While the grasshoppers, cut worms, army worms, wire worms, leaf hoppers and other insects cost the nation annually more millions than can be counted separately. He urges with all his great ability, backed by thousands of enthusiastic followers, the enactment of legislation that will put a stop to the ruthless killing of robins, blackbirds, doves, the bobwhite quail, and insect-eating shore birds.

FIRST BIRD AND GAME CENSUS IN WASHINGTON STATE.

(Special Correspondence.)

Spokane, Wash., June 22.—As a result of the first bird and game census ever taken in the state of Washington it is announced by R. B. Wales of Spokane, state game and fish commissioner for eastern Washington, that the counties east of the Cascade mountains harbor 2,485,447 game birds, 14,820 deer, 163 elk, 20 caribou, 2,925 wild goats and 500 wild sheep. In eastern Washington also are uncounted rainbow trout, eastern brook trout, bass, crappies, perch, bullheads, sunfish, whitefish, salmon, sturgeon and carp.

This is one of the first censuses of the kind ever taken in the United States, according to Mr. Wales, and it was made by county game wardens and their assistants in accordance with plans outlined by the United States government.

Spokane county, with 800,000, leads in number of Bob White quail. This county also heads the list in number of fishing licenses issued last year, with 6,008. The game fund of Spokane county is $5,251.80, the largest in eastern Washington.

In this county 426 pairs of Hungarian partridges were purchased and liberated during the last year, while 250 pairs of the same kind of birds, 25 dozen pairs of Bob White quail, 10 dozen scaley partridges and four pairs of eastern prairie chickens have been purchased by the county and are to be liberated soon.

Estimates of big game in eastern Washington revealed conditions surprising to Commissioner Wales, as it was generally believed big game was practically extinct in this section. Ferry county reported 5,000 deer and 20 caribou; Okanogan and Stevens counties, 3,000 deer each. Columbia, Spokane, Chelan, Garfield, Kittitas, Pend Oreille and Yakima counties reported deer in numbers ranging from 100 to 1,200 each.

NIGHT TRAPSHOOTING MATCHES BY AUTOMOBILE LIGHT

Trapshooting after dark by means of automobile lights! This is not a mere fancy, though perhaps it started as such, but an accomplished fact. Every little while there is something new under the sun; here is the latest in the sporting world—with neither sun nor moon.

For the first time anywhere a tournament with artificial light from automobiles was recently held at Los Angeles, Cal. Excellent scores were made. The possibilities of after-dark trapshooting which are suggested by this remarkable event are pretty attractive to sportsmen who are looking for more targets to break and more worlds to conquer.

This is how it happened: "Wild Bill" Ruess and J. H. McDuffee, frequent visitors to the traps, started the ball rolling. As trapshooters will, they fell into a dispute as to which was the better shot. Ruess claimed the honor for Ruess, McDuffee claimed it for McDuffee. Of course, the proper method of breaking the deadlock was to try out the question at the traps. So there they went—with a large company to see the fun.

It was evening, however. Friends who had listened to the discussion declared it would be impossible, under the conditions, to break more than five targets out of twenty-five.

With the lights from two automobiles trained at cross angles above the trap house, Ruess took his place.

He broke 22 out of a possible 25, and McDuffee followed with 21, after they had tied the score. The clay birds had been whitewashed for the occasion.

Judge Gavin W. Craig, of the California Superior Court, and Chief Deputy District Attorney Joe Ford, who participated in the novel sport, were immediately converted and are planning a mammoth night trapshooting tournament. In many places in other parts of the country it will doubtless be a common sight before long to see enthusiastic trapshooters starting off with their Remingtons, as the dusk thickens, to spend an evening at their favorite pastime.

CHAMPIONSHIP TRAPSHOOTING SCORES AT THREE STATE SHOOTS

The trapshooters of Indiana are not in the habit of letting anybody get away with the state championship without showing his mettle, and the contest this year was no exception. Against a notable field, D. C. Rogers of Logansport, shooting a Remington-UMC Pump gun and Nitro Club Speed shells, won the coveted honor by breaking 235 targets out of a possible 300. Seventy-five shooters participated in the three days' meet, showing that there was no lack of hard fighting in the various events. The state team championship went to Mr. Rogers and George Wagner of Peru, Ind., both shooting the Remington Pump gun and Nitro Club shells, by a score of 559 out of 600.

Out on the Pacific Coast the interest in trapshooting is quite as zealous as in the Middle West, and Oregon recently had as enthusiastic a state shoot as Indiana. The championship went to Henry F. Whilon of Gresham, a sportsman whose reputation for good work at the traps has long since reached the East. His score was 98 out of a possible 100. He used the same make of gun and ammunition as did Mr. Rogers in Indiana and also—speaking of state championships—the man who carried off the highest honor at the South Dakota shoot last week. This was P. J. White of Watertown, whose score was 97 out of 100.

ARMY AND NAVY ENJOY TRAPSHOOTING

Not only on land is trapshooting in vogue, but also on the seas. An increasing number of United States warships carry traps and the other necessary equipment for the enjoyment of the sport by both officers and men. Breaking "clay pigeons" is a sport in which many hours are passed when the big sea fighters are lying at anchor waiting to take part in maneuvers or are otherwise not engaged actively. The clear-sky "background" afforded makes the shooting of the targets a bit easier than is the case on many trapshooting club grounds.

Clay "bird" shooting is a favorite pastime also among army officers, and clubs have been organized at many of the posts in the United States and our insular possessions. Manila is not too hot or Alaska too cold for the soldiers to enjoy the sport that brings memories of home.

HIGH HONORS FOR SOUTHERN TRAPSHOOTERS

Two of the most important trapshooting occasions in the Southland's calendar for the year, the state shoots in Maryland and Mississippi, attracted even more interest and attention than usual. This sport seems to be growing rapidly in popularity with Dixie's sportsmen. At Baltimore, where the shooters of Maryland gathered and competed, D. F. Mallory of that city captured the state championship by breaking 97 targets out of a possible 100, shooting Nitro Club Speed shells. In Mississippi the palm was won by G. M. L. Key, who shot a Remington Pump gun and Arrow Speed shells for a score of 92 out of 100.

GOOD ROADS

GOOD ROADS PROVE BENEFIT

Improved Highways Increase Attendance at Rural Schools—States Making Greatest Progress.

While it is true that various factors contribute to increase or decrease the attendance at schools in given sections of the country, it is worthy of comment that in the states having a high percentage of improved roads a much larger percentage of the students enrolled regularly attend the schools than in the states having a small percentage of improved roads. In five eastern and western states, which have a large mileage of improved roads, the average attendance of enrolled pupils in 1908-9 was 80 per cent, while in four southern states and one northwestern state, which are noted for bad roads, the average attendance for the same year was 64 per cent—80 per cent in the good roads states as against 64 per cent in the bad roads states. In the states first named 35 per cent of the roads have been

A Good Road in New England.

Improved, while in the latter group of states there are only 1 1/2 per cent of the roads improved.

That improved roads would benefit our country school system there would seem to be no doubt. Improved roads make it possible to consolidate or centralize the schools and to establish graded schools in the rural districts. Such schools centrally located will accommodate all of the children within a radius of from four to five miles. In many communities having the advantage of improved roads commodious buildings have been provided, more competent teachers have been employed, and modern facilities for teaching have been supplied at a minimum cost. For instance, since the improvement of the main highways in Durham county, North Carolina, the number of school houses has been reduced from 65 to 42, of which 17 are graded and have two or more rooms and employ two or more teachers.

There are at the present time about two thousand consolidated rural schools in the United States. It appears that Massachusetts, Ohio and Indiana have made the greatest progress along these lines, and it is rather significant to note that in these states about one-third of the roads have been improved. According to statistics of the agricultural department there was expended in 1899, $22,116 in Massachusetts for the conveyance of pupils to consolidated schools, but in 1908 the expenditure for this purpose amounted to $292,213. In Indiana the expenditure for this purpose in 1904 amounted to $86,000, while in 1908, $290,000 was expended. This expenditure for transportation reflects, in a general way, the extent and progress of this new educational movement. It must not be understood that this is an additional burden, as the expenditure thus made is saved in other directions.

F. O. Smith and party fished the upper Sandy River or outlet of Sandy River Pond, Saturday last. An early start was made from home, the day and roads were ideal and the party congenial. Fishing on the stream was excellent, and results were all that had been anticipated. The party returned at night, tired but happy.

The annual strawberry festival of Lemon Stream grange, occurred Saturday evening last. Quite a good many members were away from home, so the attendance was not quite up to that of former years, but the program was excellent and the feast under the able management of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Turner assisted by Miss Nellie Greenwood was all that the most exacting could require. Those present enjoyed it to the full, and those absent have a big regret coming their way.

The Ladies Aid meet this Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. L. J. Hackett. This is the last meeting of the Aid until the heated term is passed.

This is the season for vacations and those who cannot spend weeks away from their work, occasionally enjoy a full day's outing. Such was the case with our R. F. D. carrier, E. H. Hackett and substitute carrier, E. E. Barker, with an auto from the auto livery of L. G. Hackett, Roland Hackett, chauffeur. These gentlemen took their families on a sight-seeing trip to the capital. Going by way of Kent's Hill to Winthrop, where they went a few miles out of their way to enjoy an especially beautiful view, and skirting the shores of Lake Maranacook, they proceeded to Augusta. After doing Augusta, the party visited the Soldier's home at Togus. At this season of the year the beauties of nature added much to the enjoyment of the trip.

Orlando Weeks and daughters, Katie and Dorris, spent Sunday at Sweet's pond.

George Stevens of Farmington was in town the first of the week.

Schools throughout the town close this week after being in session nine weeks.

Mr. Wright, of Boston, who has conducted several automobile parties through here on their way to camps at Kingfield, stopped for refreshments at the New Vineyard House with a party of seven in two autos, not long ago, and Friday last, made another halt for refreshments, having a party of five. The New Vineyard House is receiving more automobile patronage this season than ever before, and deservedly so.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wilson and daughter, Helen, of Auburn, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Turner several days last week. In a few weeks Mr. Wilson will be here to put the new steel on Union hall.

Life

The poet's exclamation: "O Life! I feel thee bounding in my veins," is a joyous one. Persons that can rarely or never make it in honesty to themselves, are among the most unfortunate. They do not live but exist; for to live implies more than to be. To live is to be well and strong—to arise feeling equal to the ordinary duties of the day, and to retire not overcome by them—to feel life bounding in the veins. A medicine that has made thousands of people, men and women, well and strong, has accomplished a great work, bestowing the richest blessings, and that medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. The weak, run-down, or debilitated, from any cause, should not fail to take it. It builds up the whole system, changes existence into life, and makes life more abounding. We are glad to say these words in its favor to the readers of our columns.

OBITUARY.

CHESTER WHITNEY

The sudden and unexpected death of Chester Whitney, Sunday morning June 14, at 6.30 o'clock, removes from Madrid one of the oldest and most respected citizens, and calls forth many expressions of sorrow. Chester Davis Whitney was born in Madrid, August 9, 1834, and met of his life was spent there. In 1855 he was married to Miss Naomi Huntoon. To them were born four children, Mrs. R. G. Cole, Mrs. J. E. Drake and Vance C. Whitney with whom he lived. One boy died in infancy. His second wife was Mrs. Sarah Sumner who survives him, but who, owing to serious ill health was in Southern Pines, N. C., with her daughter, Mrs. Cephas Patch. Much sympathy is felt for her in her great loss. Besides, he leaves one uncle, Ezra Whitney of Rockland; one brother, R. G. Whitney of Farmington; four grandchildren and several cousins.

In early life he was converted to Christ and all these years has been an active Christian. Every religious service he attended was made better by his presence, and also by his testimony whenever an opportunity was given to witness for his Master.

His life work is done but his character, counsel and true worth will still live on and he will ever be remembered as a kind neighbor and devoted husband and father.

The funeral was held Tuesday at 10 o'clock at the schoolhouse in Madrid village, conducted by undertaker, C. F. Chandler, Rev. M. S. Hutchins officiating. The floral tributes were many and beautiful, the casket being completely covered.

MOTOR TRUCK LINES

Method of Transportation That It Is Believed Will Solve German Problem.

TRAILER WAGONS TO BE USED

Idea Is to Replace the Short Railroad Lines That Are Too Costly to Operate—No Engineering Difficulty Said to Be Involved.

In Germany there are numerous short lines of railroad that require more capital in proportion to their receipts than the longer lines. In general they pay from two per cent up and manage to pay their running expenses, but there are some that do not pay expenses and are constantly demanding more capital. As the government is expected to furnish this capital, the question has become a burning one in the kaiser's realm. Out of it has grown renewed activity for the establishment of motor truck transportation to replace short railroad lines, either electric or gasoline, with the odds in favor of the electric, or the combination of electric and gasoline.

But in solving the question the use of trailer wagons must be considered. The trailers are connected with the motor and may consist of several, as was demonstrated in the practical experiment made by Chief Engineer W. A. Th. Muller of the railroad department, which is represented in the drawing herewith.

It was discovered that there is no difficulty in making a curve with a train of numerous trailers and that every individual wagon would follow its leader and that all of them move in the general direction of the motor containing the power. In this way it was easy to haul 26 tons of freight distributed among six trailers. On smooth street haulage the capacity reaches 55 tons.

It has been found by actual experience that the ordinary motor truck was too cumbersome for light freight or passenger traffic and the new motors have been considerably reduced in weight without interfering with their hauling capacity, the question being one of power.

This method of transportation promises to spread everywhere throughout Germany, where the railroads are under government control, and it may be that the new system of motor truck transportation will come under government control as being for the public benefit.—Popular Electricity.

Every Street in Phillips

Has its share of the proof that kidney sufferers seek.

Backache? Kidneys weak? Distressed with urinary ills? Want a reliable kidney remedy? Don't have to look far. Use what Phillips people recommend. Every street in Phillips has its cases. Here's one Phillips woman's experience.

Let Mrs. Alorzo Record, of Pleasant Road, tell it. She says: "I cannot say too much in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills. They are the only remedy that ever gave me relief from backache and kidney trouble. I had suffered so much that I was discouraged. I had a very lame and sore back and it was hard for me to stoop. The secretions from my kidneys were unnatural. I had heard a great deal about Doan's Kidney Pills and finally got a box at Cragin's Drug Store (now Preble's Drug Store). They soon relieved me and it wasn't long before I was cured."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Record had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. N. K. Whittemore of West Farmington entertained the members of the Congregational Church Choir of Wilton on Saturday evening. Mrs. Lona Wilkins, who was organist at that church for nine years, joined the party there. Mrs. Whittemore served a delicious luncheon and after all were seated at the table, Mrs. Carl Whittemore with well chosen remarks presented to Mrs. Wilkins a very handsome chain and pendant as a token of their appreciation of her services for so many years. At the 12th annual work horse parade held recently in Boston, the following well known Franklin County men acted as judges: Gorham Dummer of Weld, Scott Swett of Wilton. Dr. J. H. Rollins of Portland was also one of the judges.

An interesting tax case was heard in the local Municipal Court before Judge Currier C. Holman. The action was brought by Tax Collector, Cony M. Hoyt of Phillips who sought to recover from Everett L. Hewey of Wilton a poll tax and the tax on horse levied in 1911. The defense was that Hewey was a resident of Madrid on April 1, 1911, and as such was not subject to the taxes levied against the defendant in Phillips. It was admitted that Hewey paid a poll tax in Madrid. Judge Holman ruled that the nature of the tax was such that inhabitancy on April 1st, would govern and found for the defendant.

Mrs. Alfred McCausland of Gardiner, who was here to attend the graduation exercises of her nephew, Ernest Almon Kempton, was to return to her home Monday, but was detained by the sudden death of her mother, Mrs. Margaret Kempton. She returned to her home Thursday noon.

At a recent session of the local Municipal Court the case of James H. Jodrey of Wilton against Leonard Luce of Phillips was heard before Judge Holman. The action was brought to recover $16.68 alleged to be due for sawing and hauling lumber and for supplies. The defendant filed an account in set off. C. N. Blanchard appeared for Jodrey and J. Blaine Morrison for Luce. Judge Holman found for the defendant, the judgment amounting to $1.32.

Hersey; the second, $3.00 and the third, $2.00, the last two being given by Rev. M. S. Hutchins, have been completed and resulted in the following: Berilla McKenzie, first; Irma Sampson, second; Bruce Davenport, third.

At the conference of Congregational churches held at Wilton recently the following resolution was passed: We reaffirm our allegiance to the principal of state and national prohibition, and we commend the enforcement of our state law under Governor Haines and the faithfulness of Sheriff Small and County Attorney Morrison in enforcing the law in Franklin County.
