

REMINGTON-UMC

Big Game Rifles

The First Duty Of Any Rifle Is To Shoot Straight

The things that distinguish Remington-UMC Big Game Rifles from all others of their class are certain fundamental refinements invented and used exclusively by the Remington Arms-Union Metallic Cartridge Company.

High Power Slide Action Repeaters with the famous Remington-UMC Slide Action feature: Six shot; Hammerless; 22 inch Ordnance Steel Barrel, patented quick-adjustable Straight Bar Rear Sight and new design Copper Bead Front Sight. Chambered for .25 Remington, .30 Remington, .32 Remington and .35 Remington cartridges.

Autoloading Rifles—Five shots at one loading—you simply press the trigger for each shot. Automatically ejects empty and loads the fresh shell. Made with the famous Remington-UMC Solid Breech; Hammerless; Positive Safety Device; Chambered for .25 Remington, .30 Remington, .32 Remington and .35 Remington cartridges—and the new 22 calibre Remington-UMC Autoloading Rifle, shooting the 22 Remington Autoloading Cartridge.

Look for the dealer who displays the Red Ball Mark of Remington-UMC. He has these Remington-UMC Rifles in stock now, or can get them for you.

To keep your gun cleaned and lubricated right, use Rem Oil, the new powder solvent, rust preventative, and gun lubricant.

CALIFORNIA HOME OF THE NOBLES

Attractive Bungalow of Nine Rooms Built by Mr. Noble.

The accompanying cut shows the bungalow home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Noble of Monrovia, Cal., former residents of Phillips, with Mr. and Mrs. Noble standing in the yard.

Mr. Noble, who is a carpenter by trade, planned and built the bungalow and it is just as they wished it to be.

The size of the bungalow is 34x56, cement front porch with nine rooms, living room, den, dining room, cabinet kitchen, center hallway, bath room, three bedrooms, and screen porch with laundry trays. The rooms have hardwood floors and paneled walls in the living, and dining rooms, den and hallway. In the living room there is a fireplace and built in seats and large buffet and window seats in dining room; book cases and window seats in den.

The finish for the rooms is selected slash grain Oregon fir stained golden oak, dull finish.

One can tell from the above description and photograph that it is a most attractive home and many Phillips friends wish that they might be able to drop in on them. In a letter received from Mrs. Noble she says: "It is good to feel that the old

BURGLARY AT UPPER VILLAGE

The Store of Haley & Russell Entered and Various Things Taken.

Following the burglary in Daggett & Will's store at Strong a few nights ago another was perpetrated in Phillips last night at the store of Haley & Russell at the upper village.

The thieves entered by breaking a window in the rear of the store. It is hard at this time to know just what has been taken, but they have discovered the loss of two pairs of shoes, a box of hose, hats, cigars etc.

A light felt hat which was taken was found in the road in front of Clarence Fairbanks' near Evergreen cemetery, an orange was also dropped.

Many think it is the same crowd who entered Daggett & Will's store while others think it is another party.

friends have not forgotten us. You ask if we are ever coming back. It is very doubtful, although I should love to visit all the dear old friends and neighbors more than words can express. Perhaps we can some time. But you should come out here. This country is all right. It is delightful the year round, we think.

A Daily Bath for the Eye.

A daily "eye bath" is an excellent means of preserving the sight and beauty of the eyes, and is particularly valuable for persons who motor a good deal, for nothing is more injurious to eyes than frequent contact with dust. Dissolve one teaspoonful of boracic acid powder in one pint of rose-water. Every night pour some of the lotion into a glass eyebath, add enough hot water to render it tepid, and bathe each eye in turn by opening and shutting it in the lotion.

Guaranteed.

"What makes that man start laughing when he tells a story?" "He always announces that it will be a funny story, doesn't he?" asked Miss Cayenne. "Yes." "Well, I suppose he laughs to show that he has the courage of his convictions."

OLD FRIENDS GATHER AGAIN

Not So Largely Attended But the Occasion Much Enjoyed.

The annual reunion at the Reed schoolhouse in West Phillips last Wednesday, August 12, was a pleasant occasion, but not as largely attended as most of the former gatherings. The weather was ideal, and judging from the merry laughter and hearty hand shake those present were enjoying themselves to the fullest.

At noon a nice picnic dinner was served, consisting of baked beans and coffee (furnished by the association) and all kinds of nice pastry brought in boxes and baskets.

The afternoon's program consisted of the following:

Singing, Best be the Tie that Binds and He Leadeth Me, by congregation with Miss Mabelle Hutchins at the organ.

Prayer, Rev. M. H. Hutchins
Address of welcome, Mrs. Mary Reed
Response, Daniel Orr of Bangor
Remarks for the good of the Ass'n,

Bion Wing
Report of Sec. read by Mrs. C. E. Dill
The business meeting was then held and the following officers chosen: Albert E. Kempton, president; A. J. Toothaker, vice president; Mrs. L. B. Field, secretary and treasurer. It was voted to hold the meeting next year, Wednesday of Old Home week.

It was also voted to have but one committee chosen on entertainment and one on table and grounds, and they to choose any other assistants they may need. A. B. Toothaker was chosen on table and grounds and C. E. Dill on entertainment. Norman Calden was chosen ice cream committee.

The next was singing, Sweet Bye and Bye after which the company listened to a very able address by Rev. M. S. Hutchins on The Develop Maine Movement.

Recitation, Mrs. Fred Bangs

CAMPING AT TUMBLEDOWN

Pleasing and Instructive Entertainment at Church---Mrs. Decker Gives Dancing Party.

(Special Correspondence)

Weld, August 17, 1914.—Frederick Wardrop of Boston spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Root at Lake View Camp.

Guests at Mt. Blue cottage are Mr. and Mrs. Burrowes, Mr. and Mrs. Cummings of Portland, and Miss Marjorie McKay of Boston.

Miss Gladys Dutton of Springvale has been the guest of Miss Ruth Austin at Camp Bedlam.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Russell of Farmington visited relatives for a few days last week.

George A. Russell, Miss Millett, Mrs. Sewall Hawes and Miss Hawes of Readfield, were guests of relatives for a few days recently.

Mrs. Arthur Thompson and son Donald of Thompsonville, Conn., are the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Barber Masterman for a few weeks.

Last week was a real gala week in the village. Tuesday evening the Weld Dramatic club gave "The District School at Blueberry Corners," at the Grange hall, before a large and appreciative audience. The Club was organized the past winter with the idea in mind that eventually Weld village may have a town hall, and the money made at the play and old-fashioned dance that followed, amounting to about $30, will go towards that object and it is hoped that these plans will materialize before many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sewall and son of Boston have been staying at J. P. Maxwell's for the past ten days.

Mrs. Philip Stubbs and son Robert of Strong spent a day with Mrs. J. P. Maxwell last week.

A. E. Jones of Topeka, Kansas, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Jones and W. S. Lovejoy of Strong, were the guests of their cousin, Mrs. A. D. Russell, Thursday.

Horatio Bellows of Providence, arrived Friday to spend a week with his family at Glen cottage.

Mr. Tripp of Providence is the guest of his daughter, Mrs. R. O. Dummer.

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Wing and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Leavitt and four sons, all of Livermore Falls, were guests of the Sturtevant's at their camp, Recreation, for the day Thursday.

On Wednesday evening a unique and instructive entertainment was given at the Congregational church to increase the fund for the pipe organ, in the form of a lecture piano recital by Mr. Herbert Stanley Sammond, assisted by Mrs. George H. Lomas, contralto and C. W. Arey, violinist. Selections were given from Schumann, Tscharkonsky, MacDowell, Beethoven, Godard, Doork and Grieg. The features were the Sonata in A Flat, showing the wonderful variety in themes; Gounod's Ave Maria (to demonstrate what Gounod did with what in its original form was a prelude to a prayer) seems almost like a finger exercise; the reading of Longfellow's "The Launching of the Ship," by Rev. C. L. Woodworth; Dvorak's Humoresque, in which the folk song "The Old Folks at Home," is blended with the first theme the second time it occurs, sung by Mrs. Lomas, with a violin obligato by Mr. Arey, and themes suggested by Nature's sounds, and their answers, by Mr. Sammond. About $40 were added to the organ fund, and the large audience of summer and townspeople, testified to the appreciation of the assistance of the summer visitors who are helping so much to make Weld an attractive place to spend the summer.

Mrs. John Decker gave a dance at her home Thursday evening in honor of Mrs. Harris who is staying with her. The guests danced in the barn which was artistically decorated with ferns, banks of pine and ground pine. Among those present were Miss Rosella Harlow, Cambridge; Mrs. Rogers and Miss Broadnack, Jacksonville, Fla.; Mrs. and Miss Spanhelf, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. T. K. Spencer, Boston; Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Bigler, Philadelphia; Teddy Riggs, Newark, N. J.; Miss West and Parsons West, Montclair; John Harlow, Cambridge, and many others.

Last week 20 boys and counsellors from Camp Maranacook, Readfield, Willis H. Morgan, director, passed through the village to camp at the foot of Tumbledown for a week. The counsellors are Chandler Bennett, Springfield, Mass.; Robert Horner, Miles Hapgood, William Howard, Hartford, Conn.; Fred Donnelly, Trenton; Lawrence Clark, Boston; R. A. Dunlap, Windsor Locks, Conn.; Edward Hersey, Providence; and Harry Wyman, chef. The boys in the camp are from Springfield, Mass., Robert Baldwin, Edward Baldwin and Russell Whittier; Hartford, Conn., Cedric Foster, Paul Godard, Charles Taylor and James Taylor; Buffalo, N. Y., Miles Hayden, Providence; Harry Blake, Mark Jewel, Marden Platt; Winchester, Robert Butterworth and Clarence Ward; Brookline, Lawrence and Leland Foster; St. Louis, Fern Hollis; Quincy, Mass., Roy Cleese; Boston, Reginald Clark; Brooklyn, John Griebel.

Hon. C. A. Knight, Mrs. Knight and daughter, Catherine, of Gardiner were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Coburn.

Ira Masterman and Mrs. Flossie Masterman McIntire are occupying Scamman's Log Cabin.

Rev. J. P. Barrett of West Farmington and Rev. T. A. Billington of North Abington, Mass., assisted at the services at the Union church Sunday.

Sunday morning at the Congregational church Rev. E. R. Smith of Concord, N. H., preached a missionary sermon and Mrs. George H. Lomas sang two solos. In the evening Rev. John F. Vickert of Providence had for his subject, "The Biggest Thing in the World." The music for the evening was furnished by a male quartet composed of Messrs. Coburn, Palmer and Welch and George H. Lomas assisted by his son, George B. Lomas, ten years of age, gave piano selections.

Recent guests at The Maples are: Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Crosman, Leonard Crosman, Lisbon Falls; Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Ingalls, Pejepscot Falls; Edward Wolf and chauffeur, Mrs. Edward Wolf, Philadelphia; Mrs. Ben Wolf, New York; George Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hough, Phillips; Paul Hodgkins, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hodgkins; Kathlene M. Hodgkins, Temple.

At the Double Decker for two weeks are Clayton Brackett, Mrs. Verrill, Mrs. Dyer and two children, Mrs. James Otis Kaler and two boys, Miss Lizzie Scamman and Atwood Brackett, all of South Portland, relatives of R. E. Scamman.

Frank Cole, Mrs. Cole and daughter of North Jay are at Shady Nook for two weeks.

MAINE WOODS THE NEXT BEST

H. V. Schieren of Brooklyn, N. Y., says in sending in his subscription to Maine Woods "If I cannot get up to Maine as often as I would like, I can have Maine Woods once a week which is surely the next best thing."

INVEST IN MAINE WITH ASSURANCE OF RETURNS.

"I am thoroughly in accord with this (Develop Maine Movement) and am positive that anyone can invest here with as great an assurance of returns as in any other state," writes one of Maine's leading civil engineers. As an engineer I have explored large portions of northern and eastern Maine and can point out unnumbered places where development work would pay handsomely." This is the testimony of a man who knows. It agrees perfectly with the testimony of hundreds of others who have had an opportunity to make investigation.

The Develop Maine Movement was organized at the instigation of commercial travellers for the purpose of developing Maine's agricultural, mineral, industrial, timber, power and maritime resources. It will accomplish these things by establishing an information bureau that will gather all the facts and disseminate them among the business men in the big financial centers; employ an expert business-getter who will drive home Maine's arguments that the State offers the best opportunity in the country for investment; and will arouse the people to the necessity of "boosting" for every man who tries to do something for the good of his State. Of these three fields of endeavor, the last, the awakening of the "booster spirit" is deemed the most important. Once that is accomplished, the other two will be very easy of accomplishment.

What good will this Movement do the ordinary farmer? It will increase the value of his farm so that it will sell for more. It will build up the towns near him so that he will have a better market. It will open up new crop fields. The increased business will make better railroad accommodations come more quickly. The increase in population will bring good roads sooner by many years. It will help to protect him in the big city markets and open up foreign markets. A dollar invested in a membership in this Movement is a sound investment. It has the hearty endorsement of the master and lecturer of the State Grange as well as of hundreds of other Grangers.

If you want to join and don't know who your local representative is, send the fee of $1.00 to W. E. Lawry, treasurer, Box 374, Augusta, Me. He will send you a membership certificate by return mail.

"BILLY" COOL AS A CUCUMBER

Terrific Electrical Shower Visits Ox Bow.

To the Editor of Maine Woods:

Ox Bow, Aug 10.—An electrical storm, accompanied by torrential rain, passed over the Bow about 11 o'clock last Friday night, going from south-west to north-east. At the climax, a ball of fire shot past and close to our camp, striking a tall poplar about 50 feet from Walter D. Hines' camp loosening the whole bark, tearing off a strip eight inches wide and scattering the pieces all about the yard. Mr. Hines, his son Walter, Miss Anna Wagg and Frank Lynch, who were in the camp were seriously shocked and one of their dogs as well, but to-day are none the worse for their sudden fright. In Billy's camp, about 100 feet from the smitten tree, there was great excitement for a while. Mrs. Billy was at the window lowering the shades and was temporarily blinded and not a little hysterical when the bolt exploded. Your humble scribe was also at a south window as the bolt passed by and his right arm is hardly in normal condition yet.

The tree was split from top to bottom, up and down the crack are numerous splinters, some of them three feet long, giving the trunk, bar of bark, a very unique appearance. The electric juice passed into the ground along a large root which ran directly toward the Hines camp; this root was also stripped of bark or outer shell. The tree was full of sap, and there was no sign of burning. Your scribe passed through a similar experience at Lake View near Lowell, Mass., where a pine tree about 100 feet from our camp was torn open, though the effect on our nerves was not so violent as in this case. Both were too terrifying ever to be forgotten. There's no doubt but that the Dog Star is onto his job; the atmosphere has been surcharged with vapor for several days, and on the day of the great storm was exceedingly oppressive and depressive, breeding electricity till the crash came. No damage to life or property by electricity has ever been recorded at the Bow; and we hope and pray that the good record will be, in years to come,—"Same as last year."

Through the whole fearful bombardment Capt. Billy was as cool as a cucumber, with a lady hanging on to him on each side, while his young daughter Grace, slept peacefully through it all. To be in the fashion we are beginning to have auto accidents. Last Thursday afternoon, Wm. Atkins of Ox Bow, while coming in from Masardis in his auto was met and run into by Doctor Williams of Houlton. Mr. Atkins had pulled far out on the right side, but the young man driving the Doctor's car hogged the whole roadway, so the collision was inevitable. That was the verdict which eight or ten gentlemen rendered after viewing the scene soon after the smash. Mr. Atkins' machine was damaged at least $200 worth of repairs; Dr. Williams' auto was slightly hurt on one side, and he hastened off saying, "When I have repairs made, I'll send you the bill." Several witnesses think he'll have a hard time collecting it. It is said that the young man wanted the doctor himself to drive but that he refused to do so. So much the worse for his case.

Recent arrivals at the Bow have been many. They are: D. M. Gross of New York; G. W. Freeman, of Worcester, Mass.; John S. Niles, Carbondale, Pa.; R. M. Snyder and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. King of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Cooke, Germantown, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Kepple Hall, Dayton, Ohio; and Stewart N. Dunning, Hartford, Conn. Two sports are due at Billy's on Wednesday, and the Kent party from Brookline, Mass., will arrive next Saturday for a long stay at Lake Millmagassett in one of Billy's new log cabins. Your scribe has that great pleasure in prospect, probably for the fly fishing in early September. The mercury stands at 80 degrees as we write; a perfect calm prevails, and the mountains and ridges are covered from sight with a thick veil of vapor and smoke. Potatoes are standing up to duty manfully; oats, ditto; hay all garnered in in the best of condition; prices of all food stuffs are soaring and the prospect is that farmers of Aroostook are in for the rewards of a most prosperous season. We hope they will not be disappointed by the final result.

Yours cordially,
J. C. Hartshorne.

PACIFIC COAST TRAPSHOOTERS SHOW THEIR METTLE.

Known as one of the classic trap-shooting events of America, the Pacific Coast Handicap, which was held at Portland, Oregon, last month, was fully up to its standard in every way, though the shooters faced very windy conditions. Frank Van Atta, of Vancouver, Washington, carried off the honors in the Preliminary Handicap, shooting a Remington pump gun and Nitro Club speed shells for a score of 90 out of 100. The high amateur average for the three days tournament was won by a Portland man, J. L. D. Morrison, who used the same ammunition as Mr. Van Atta and broke 325 out of 350 targets. H. E. Wihlon, of Gresham, Oregon, captured one of the most desired prizes of the meet, the Chingren Trophy, shooting under an 18-yard handicap and breaking 48 out of 50 birds with a Remington pump gun and Nitro Club shells. Last year Mr. Wihlon was rated first among Oregon trapshooters in the Interstate Association's official averages, his record for the season being a percentage of .9292.

FISH AND GAME COMMISSION

The members of the Fish and Game Commission held its first meeting on Monday, August 3, with Chairman Harry B. Austin of Phillips in the chair, Commissioners Blaine S. Viles and Walter I. Neal also being present. The time was devoted to routine matters.

Commissioner Neal said the people on the train on which he was coming from Belgrade Monday morning between North Belgrade and Belgrade stations were surprised and excited over the appearance of a handsome buck deer beside the track. He was a fine specimen and the way he leaped the tall fence and sped away made the eyes of the fortunate passengers snap with astonishment and delight.

Mr. Neal passed Sunday at Belgrade Lakes and he said, by the way, that the white perch fishing there has been and is something immense. Splendid catches of splendid fish is the daily report and many visitors are taking the benefit of it.

CARD PARTY ENTERTAINED

Hydrotherapeutic Treatment Facilities Installed.

(Special Correspondence.)

Poland Spring, Me., Saturday, August 15.—“A hurricane of delight” is the way one participant characterized the dansant on the putting green at the Poland Spring this week. The large orchestra playing on the veranda furnished excellent music for dancers in the ball room of the hotel and on the canvas carpeted green without at the same time, and many of them alternately danced on the polished floor and over the canvas with equal zest. Many New York people were among the most zealous devotees who enjoyed the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Porter Clyde Shannon, Mr. Prescott Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Schmelzel, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pearson, Misses Dorothy and Helen Engor, Miss Alice Guernsey, Miss M. C. Royes, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hicks, Miss S. Blackford and Miss Rochester were prominent among them.

In the card rooms, Miss K. V. Barnum of Brooklyn recently entertained thirty of her friends at a very pretty party. Winners of prizes were Mrs. M. M. Singer, Mr. J. L. Porter, Mrs. C. L. Holbrook, Mrs. C. S. Richardson and Mrs. Rogers Birnie of New York, Mrs. F. R. Thomas and Mrs. C. A. Richards of Boston. Other visitors who were present included Mrs. J. L. Porter, Mrs. Theodore Benedict, Mr. M. M. Singer, Mrs. H. S. Clark, Mrs. W. T. Lawrence, Mrs. Thomas Francis Shaw, Mrs. J. A. Anderson, Mrs. Geo. M. Coleman, Mrs. Wilson Peterson and Mrs. W. W. Ladd.

Several of the passengers from “Kronprinzess Cecile” came to the Poland Spring House this week, including Mr. Dayton Voorhees of Camden, N. J., and Bishop Werhle of North Dakota.

Remarkably good catches of bass have been made this week by visiting anglers. Mr. W. W. Ladd of New York who has established quite a reputation as a successful fisherman has maintained that reputation this week by a catch of 6 fish weighing 12 pounds. Messrs. Geo. W. Elkins, J. G. Lindsay and S. S. Stinson of Philadelphia who are known to the fishes of Poland as the “Terrible Trio” brought in a string of 27 bass one day this week which totalled 37 pounds.

The installation of facilities for hydrotherapeutic treatments, electrical treatments and baths, and a variety of massages, is the latest extension of the Poland Spring estate in the interest of the health and comfort of visitors.

Rooms have been fitted up in a quiet location at the extreme end of the annex to the Poland Spring House, expensive machinery has been provided, and a physician and attendants put in charge.

At present there are two treatment rooms and a rest room. One of the former contains an electric light cabinet for electric baths, while the other which has cement floor and walls is equipped with the machinery for a variety of baths and hydrotherapeutic treatments, and includes a control table of thermometers and gauges to regulate the pressure and temperature of baths.

Among the treatments given are electric light baths, Nauheim baths, high frequency treatment, medicated baths, pine needle baths, oxygen baths and electrical treatments, etc., salt massage, shower bath, needle bath, Vichy douche, rain douche, Scotch douche, local and general massage and Swedish movements, salt rubs, and shampoo rubs.

Many of these treatments and baths have long been famous in foreign countries. They may now be obtained at Poland Spring with exactly the same results to the system that are obtained in Europe. For example, the Nauheim bath can now be taken as well as Poland Spring as at Bad-Nauheim. Carbonic acid is introduced with the water in the same proportion as it exists in the water of that famous spa, and the effects are in every respect the same as those obtained abroad.

ONE MORE MILE STONE PASSED

The Children Made Happy by a Party.

(Special Correspondence.)

Mountain View House, Rangeley Lake, Aug. 16.—“I wonder why we never came to this place before, for it is ideal for our summer vacation, and we shall stay for the September days,” said a New Yorker who came this week for the first time to Mountain View.

The past week has brought many new comers, some to tarry but for a short time, others will remain until Bald Mountain takes on its autumn dress of scarlet and gold.

Tuesday afternoon a large bouquet of American Beauty roses decorated the office and at supper time one at the family table attracted much admiration and the guests when they learned it was the birthday of the popular landlord, J. E. Bowley, commenced to clap and offer congratulations which Mr. Bowley acknowledged, and his host of friends hope, only blessings and joys will come to him as he passes from this to many mile stones along life's pathway.

Mrs. N. R. Schoonmaker and son, Daniel Joseph of Nyack, N. Y., who have spent a number of summers at this hotel, but did not come last year, were heartily greeted on their arrival Friday night and will remain several weeks.

Dr. A. L. Martin of New York City and his brother Alexander Martin of Philadelphia are again passing vacation days here.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Hart and two children of San Antonio, Texas, who have been spending the summer in the north have come to this hotel for their first season and express themselves as being greatly pleased with this beautiful country.

Miss M. M. Gillick of New York is one of those who for the first time are enjoying several weeks' stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Melcher of New London, Conn., while on an automobile trip through Maine spent part of the week at this hotel.

Coming in their Hupmobile car two young gentlemen, Stanley Heald of South Weymouth, Mass., and Albert Vinal of Newton, Mass., attracted much attention as in their novel little car they made quick runs from place to place.

Messrs. James P. Baxter 3rd, of Portland, and friends, S. Walker Merrill of Newton Center, Mass., and F. S. Smith, Jr., of Woburn, Mass., were one of the automobile parties who registered here the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Partridge of Brooklyn, N.Y., after a pleasant week's stay, left this afternoon for a few days at York Camps, Loon Lake.

The Shaker Sisters of Sabbath Day Lake with their pretty hand made articles when here on Wednesday were most kindly greeted and found a sale for many of their things.

Two young ladies from New York Miss Herlick and Miss DeSabey came Thursday for a stay of several weeks.

James H. Hart of Brooklyn, N. Y., accompanied by his four daughters and grand daughter, Misses Ellen M., Adelaide P., Lauribel Hart, Mrs. Clara Hart Bow and daughter Miss Emily Bow, who have been for the past six weeks in Maine, arrived here Thursday and are much pleased with the place and declares it is the most beautiful spot they have yet found.

James H. Peckham of Boston was a week end guest.

Mrs. Richard Katz and son Richard Jr., and daughter, Miss Margery H. Katz of New York have taken one of the camps and plan to remain until the first of October.

Dr. Lucy Jane O'Connell accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Anna S. O'Connell of Lewiston and friend Mrs. Julia E. Miller of Winthrop have taken room at this hotel for a stay of several weeks.

On Saturday afternoon in the music room from 3 to 6 o'clock a most delightful party was given to the children to which all the guests were invited. The children, about 20 in number, came looking “too pretty for anything” and their mothers in evening dress. The Gordon Trio furnished music for marching and dancing. From a large table handsomely decorated with bright red bunch berries and ferns, cake and orangeade were served. There was a peanut hunt which was great fun for the children and Miss Louise Fronefield and Master Arthur Sylvester won the prizes. When the party ended each child was given a favor and as they closed the march thanked Mrs. Arthur Sylvester of Montclair, N. Y., who so kindly planned for, and took much pleasure in arranging this charming afternoon for the little ones.

H. E. Moore of Boston is to-day entertaining a party of five ladies for a ride and dinner at Dead River Pond camps, Mrs. West Bissell, Mrs. R. B. Hawkins, Misses Fiefield, Hammond and Gerould, who were driven from here by Carl Grover with one of the best spans of horses, Teddy and Taft, that ever took trips over these hills.

“We have had fishing and mighty good fishing the last week,” was the answer one fisherman gave when asked “what luck.”

The “Lone Fisherman,” Robert B. Hawkins records a pair of good ones, a 4-pound trout and 4 1/4 pound salmon and his son, Roy O. Hawkins intends to follow in his father's troll and landed a 6 1/4 pound salmon and a number of pounders this week.

Arthur Sylvester of Montclair, N. Y., is very proud of the first salmon he has caught in Rangeley Lake, one a 4-pound and the other 4 1/4 pounds.

A large number of guests this morning attended Mass at the church of Our Lady of the Lakes and not often is finer music heard in the city churches. Miss Anna Ryan of Newton, Mass., sung Gounod's Ave Maria and the Gordon Trio orchestra rendered some very fine selections. The church decorations this summer, which the city people have greatly admired, have been the ferns and wild flowers gathered from the woods close by the church.

HAVE THRILLING BEAR ADVENTURE

Madam Bruin Puts Up Good Fight.

The Oquossoc correspondent in Lewiston Sun says: When Fred Watkinson, of Cupsuptic, and S. S. Lockyear, of Berlin, N. H., surveyors of forestry for the Berlin Mills Company, came out of the big woods the last of the week, they brought a thrilling story of their fight with a she-bear with two cubs, in which both narrowly escaped with their lives. The two men were in Alder Stream Town, in the Dead River region, and had that morning broken camp at Alder Stream Pond, where they had been mapping out land for the company. Each man was laden with a heavy pack basket and both baskets were locked. In the bottom of one, neither knew which, safely reposed a Luger automatic pistol; while Watkinson carried a short handled camp axe. Watkinson, who saw the bear first as she ran down a hill, called: “Hi Scott, see the bear,” as he gave chase with the axe, just for the fun of the thing, expecting, so he says, that she would act like others which he had met and run the other way, much faster than he could go himself. But instead of this the unexpected happened and she rushed at the men in a perfect fury.

The affair took place in a gully, in one end of which was a cedar tree with the two cubs in it. Old Madam Bruin, with great strategy, circled around the two men as fast as she could go, which in spite of her size and apparent awkwardness was at a pace which neither of them could hope to equal; Watkinson in the meantime fighting her off with the axe, while Lockyear, in frantic haste, and with fingers which trembled so he could scarcely undo the fastenings unlocked and dumped the contents of one basket only to find it a case of where the last should have been first, for the pistol proved to be in the one opened last. Watkinson, nearly exhausted from his fight to keep her from damaging their persons, still fought her off with the axe while Lockyear, who had at last unearthed the pistol, shot her dead. Watkinson says that the only thing that saved them was the fact of their being too scared to run.

After Lockyear had recovered some what, from the effect of his frightful experience, they killed the two cubs, having no means of feeding them until they could get out to a settlement. These last were very small for the time of year, not weighing more than fifteen pounds apiece. The large one would easily weigh 350 pounds, if not 400, and with a pound of temper for every ounce of flesh. Lockyear was so nearly prostrated from his fright that he was some time in recovering; while Watkinson frankly admits that he was never so scared in his life and hopes never to be again. Watkinson, who was a civil engineer in the government's employ in Porto Rico, before the climate undermined his health so that he had to come here, has shot and met with many bears while attending to his work as surveyor, but says this is the first time one ever attacked him. He says they are very plenty this year. Cleareyed, with not an ounce of superfluous flesh, Watkinson gives one the impression of the perfect man of the woods. His white teeth showed in a smile, as he said in answer to the question: “What do you think of this country?” “It's simply great, the finest in the world.”

PARTY TAKES TRIP ACROSS THE LINE

Everybody Declares the Fishing to Be Good.

(Special Correspondence.)

Mooselookmeguntic House, Haines Landing, Aug. 16.—The past week more guests than ever before have been enjoying life at this hotel and there is a prospect for a full house for the next month.

Everyone was sorry to say good bye to James Cameron, better known as “the Jolly Kilty,” who this week returned to his home in Portland after a stay of six weeks, during which time he has added much to the pleasure of all.

To-day T. S. Farhood of New York, who has for a number of years been an annual comer to this region, bringing with him the most beautiful laces and embroideries from far away lands, was welcomed by old friends. Mr. Farhood is accompanied this trip by his bride, a beautiful and charming girl from Syria his native home, whom Mr. Farhood has traveled thousands of miles to wed, and they were most fortunate in reaching America the week war was declared.

Everybody says the fishing is good and everybody brings in a good number for the fry pan but Mrs. W. E. Lorchman of Eaglewood, N. Y., is the only one to place her name on the record for she landed a 5 1/4 pound salmon.

To-morrow morning E. L. Rankin and Frank Hendrickson with Tom Canadian, guide, start for a trip across the country through the woods to Canada, going via Cupsuptic and following the trail from there across the line.

A party of four ladies, who have been at Pleasant Island registered here to-night and start for home to-morrow, Miss Virginia Cornahan of Fort Wayne, Ind., Miss Ethel Griffin, Miss Elizabeth Reese and Miss M. Grace Wells of Orange, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Florey of Middleboro, N. Y., are among the new comers who are greatly pleased with life here.

A trio of young ladies, Miss Dorothy and Miss Elizabeth Schmidt of Cincinnati, Ohio, and friend, Miss Helen C. Moller of New York are for the first time spending some time in camp and plan to remain until September.

One of the large new camps in the woods has this week been taken by Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Stewart and maid, Miss Margaret and Master William Alex Smith of Nyack, N. J., who plan to remain for several weeks.

Wm. W. Gillen of Jamaica, N. Y., on Wednesday joined Mrs. Gillen and as guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Warnock of the same city will remain until September.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Pond, well known Bostonians, have taken Wells-mere Camp for a stay of several weeks. Mrs. Pond is a concert singer of note.

Wm. H. Hendrickson of Ridgewood, N. J., has joined his family, who came the first of August and the party are having a most pleasant season here.

Coming from Framingham, Mass., in their touring car, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dunham, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Eber were week end guests of W. H. Moshier.

M. T. Swallow of Quincy, Mass., on Saturday came to spend several

ONE OF THE LARGEST INSTITU-TIONS OF ITS KIND IN NEW ENGLAND.

Bliss Business College, Lewiston, Maine has grown to be one of the largest institutions of its kind in New England. The total enrollment for the last year was 522 students, 90 per cent of whom were taking the combined course of study, which requires two school years for graduation. Out of the great number of the graduating class for the past year not a single one to date is unemployed.

The Bliss system of actual business, which is the result of years of study of its author, F. H. Bliss, published at Saginaw, Mich., and is in use from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean in the largest business colleges of each state. The Gregg system of shorthand is used in the shorthand department and statistics show that out of fifteen hundred cities teaching shorthand in its public and private schools, 947 of these are teaching Gregg.

Stenotype, which is machine shorthand, is taught in this department. Bliss College being the only school east of Manchester, N. H., in a position at present to teach this subject, which is the latest acquisition to modern business efficiency.

A handsome new illustrated catalog has just been published and a copy of same will gladly be sent for inspection to the young men and women who are desirous of bettering their conditions.

Attention is called to their advertisement in another column of this paper.

On Thursday August 27, the Wing Reunion will be held at the Wing Pavilion. A picnic dinner will be enjoyed at noon, with beans and coffee furnished by the association.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks for the beautiful flowers sent to our deceased relative and to those who extended to us their help and sympathy in our bereavement.

Mrs. Bertrand Deraps and family.

Daily Thought.

What I must do is all that concerns me, not what the people think.—Emerson.

IN AND ABOUT PHILLIPS

F. Merton Hammond, superintendent and principal of the Phillips schools, went to Bangor Wednesday noon to look after the transportation of his household goods. Mr. and Mrs. Hammond rented the Methodist parsonage early in the summer and will live there.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Robbins and wife of East Millinocket and two children, Arline and Bertram, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cronkrite for a few days. Mr. Robbins is superintendent and principal of schools in his town.

F. N. Beal was in Portland on a business trip this week and stopped off at Lewiston to hear Roosevelt speak.

GOOD MONEY IN CORNCOBS

Six Factories of Missouri Use Millions of Them Annually for Making Pipes.

Millions of corncobs discarded by farmers are annually turned into an available and useful commodity, worth more than five hundred thousand dollars, by six factories of Missouri. The commodity is the corncob pipe. The six factories produced 28,171,872 cob pipes in 1912.

Shipments were made to Canada, Europe, Asia, South America, Africa, Australia and New Zealand, besides the large number sent into every state of the union.

Not less than 15,000,000 corncobs were utilized for the output of 28,171,872 pipes, allowing two bowls to each cob, and figuring for those which were wasted in the process of manufacture.

The cobs used by the pipe factories were the largest obtainable. Allowing 100 to the bushel, it took 150,000 bushels of cobs. It took 380 men and 72 women to make the pipes. They were paid $155,406.

The raw material put into the pipes cost $288,361, half of which went to the farmers for corncobs. The industry represents an investment of $280,000.—New York Times.

(Special Correspondence)

Rangeley, August 19—Mrs. F. G. Barker of Lewiston is the guest of Mrs. H. A. Furbish for a few days.

Miss Doris Haley left Saturday morning for a visit with friends and relatives in Phillips.

A goodly delegation left for Lewiston Tuesday morning going by automobile to attend the Progressive meeting there with Theodore Roosevelt as principal speaker. The gentlemen were as follows: George Young, Sylvader Hinkley, George Bridgman, W. D. Quimby, Mason Russell, F. B. Colby, William Tomlinson, G. M. Esty, C. W. Barrett and E. L. Haley.

Charles London of Hodgdon, Me., was a recent guest at J. A. Russell's.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Davenport are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter August 15. Mrs. Ada Sprague is caring for Mrs. Davenport and little one.

William Mason of Everett spent the past week, a guest at E. L. Haley's.

A black and white pony recently purchased of Wilton parties by Ira D. Hoar for use at his stable is attracting considerable attention from the younger inhabitants. He was driven through from Wilton by Constantine Harnden.

Rossacres farmhouse and the George Snowman house are being treated to a coat of paint.

Mrs. C. H. Neal and son Maxwell were in Farmington, Tuesday, on business.

Slas Laughton of Farmington was a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Mosher.

Miss Prudence Richardson entertained a few friends Saturday evening in honor of Mrs. F. C. Russell. Music was the principal feature of the evening, and dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

The blacksmith shop on Richardson street recently purchased by G. H. Snowman, has again changed hands having been bought by Bridgman & Tracy who will conduct it in addition to the other on Main street. Mr. Tracy will have charge of the new shop assisted by Herman Hatch.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira D. Hoar made a trip to Kennebago Friday, returning Saturday. Mr. Hoar put his car up at Mt. View and continued the journey by rail, expecting to make a hurried trip back to town in the morning. A dance was in progress at the village and some would be chauffeurs appropriated the car as a means of conveyance. The trip to town was made all right but on the return trip the road being a little slippery from a recent rain, the car slipped off over the end of a water course near the Kennebago road with such damage to the tire that the party, sadder but wiser returned to Mt. View on foot. Just what settlement was made has not been made public, but after a few more lessons of the same kind it is hoped that people will learn not to meddle with other folks' property.

The annual fair of the Ladies Aid was held at the church parlor and vestry Thursday, August 13. The tables were presided over by the following ladies: Gift, Mrs. H. A. Furbish, Mrs. E. P. McCard; aprons, Mrs. F. H. Kempton, Mrs. Hubert Spiller; bags and fancy articles, Mrs. L. J. Kempton, Mrs. A. M. Ross, Miss Alice Sweetser; fish pond, Phyllis Robertson, Mildred Huntoon; white articles, Mrs. H. B. McCard, Mrs. Leon Wright; candy and flowers, Mrs. Ada Sprague, Miss Irene Kempton; ten cent table, Mrs. E. T. Hoar; punch, Mrs. Josephine Marshall; ice cream, Mrs. E. I. Herrick, Mrs. Marion Quimby; cake, Mrs. Mary Haines. The ladies added over $160 to their bank account as the result of their labors. During the evening the pastor served ice cream and cake to the collectors who were on duty when the church money was collected. The weather was very favorable and much praise is due the ladies who were in change of the separate departments. Japanese lanterns were used in decorating the lawn and the interior decorations were of green and white.

Arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Madden, Ruth Margrete Madden, Aug. 17. Miss Susie Russell of North Jay is the nurse in charge.

Miss Thelma Quimby has returned home after an extended visit with relatives and friends down the line.

An exciting ball game was played at the Rangeley Lake House grounds Thursday, between Rangeley Lake House team and Haines Landing team. The final score was 7 to 6 in favor of Rangeley Lake House. A large number from down the lake were present and feeling for a time ran high as both sides had just a little outside help. However everyone pronounced it the game of the season so far.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stewart were up from camp to spend the day recently calling on friends.

J. A. Russell, Mr. Parkhurst and son are enjoying a trip to "Camp among the clouds." Last week the Russell brothers, George, John and Frank, together with Mr. London and Mr. Watts were registered as visitors for a few days.

A good sized audience was present Sunday morning at church. Rev. H. A. Childs used for his subject, "When there was no King." The music was much enjoyed by all. The choir rendered an appropriate anthem and Mr. Buck sang a solo in his usual pleasing manner; Mrs. F. C. Russell presided at the organ.

Announcements have been received by friends, from Mr. and Mrs. John R. Martin of the arrival of a son August 14, weight nine pounds. The young man's name is John Allen Martin. Mr. Martin was formerly employed by J. A. Russell. At present he is living at Meredith, N. H. Congratulations are in order.

Mrs. Frank Fuller and two daughters of Walpole, Mass., who have been visiting Mrs. Fuller, brother, H. A. Look at Kennebago, called on friends about

STATE OF MAINE

Franklin, ss. Supreme Judicial Court In Equity.

C. E. Parker vs. Phillips Hotel Company. To the Supreme Judicial Court. In Equity.

C. E. Parker of Phillips, in the County of Franklin and State of Maine, President of the Phillips Hotel Company, a company duly organized under the laws of the State of Maine and doing its place of business at said Phillips, complains against said Phillips Hotel Company and says:

1. A corporation named and known as the Phillips Hotel Company was duly and legally organized under the laws of the State of Maine, at Phillips, in the County of Franklin, in said State, on the twenty-eighth day of December A. D. 1906.

2. The capital stock of said corporation was fixed at ten thousand dollars and said stock was divided into one hundred shares of one hundred dollars each.

3. Only twenty two of said shares of stock were ever taken, it being impossible to dispose of the remaining shares.

4. With the proceeds of the stock sold the company purchased the hotel lot in said Phillips known as the Barden House Hotel Lot, and took warrant deeds of the same, with the intention of building and completing a hotel and engaging in the hotel business when the balance of said stock should be taken.

5. As time passed it became evident that it would be impossible to dispose of the balance of a said stock and the project to build and operate a hotel had to be abandoned.

6. The company made its yearly returns to the Secretary of State and paid its annual franchise tax to the Treasurer of State until November 21, A. D. 1912, on which date it, the company, was excused from filing returns and paying said franchise tax by W. R. Fittangall, Attorney General for said State.

7. All state, county, town and corporation taxes assessed against said company up to the present time have been fully paid.

8. There are no outstanding debts, dues or demands of any kind or nature against said company.

9. The real estate of said company has been disposed of and the proceeds together with all personal assets have been distributed among the stockholders of the company.

10. There are no outstanding claims in favor of said company for collection or to be adjusted.

11. All of the affairs of said company have been liquidated, adjusted and settled to the satisfaction of the stockholders and officers of the company and there are no existing liabilities against said company and no assets requiring distribution among the stockholders.

12. At a meeting of said stockholders, held at the office of the company, said meeting being legally called, on the sixth day of July A. D. 1914 it was voted to dissolve said company.

Wherefore the plaintiff prays that said defendant company may be dissolved and terminated and that the plaintiff may have such other further relief as the nature of the case may require. And that such notice of this bill may be given to the defendant company as the Court may see fit to order.

C. E. Parker, plaintiff.

STATE OF MAINE,

Franklin, ss. July 6, A. D. 1914.

Then personally appeared C. E. Parker and made oath that he has read the above bill and knows the contents thereof and the same is true of his own knowledge, except the matters stated to be on information and belief, and that to those matters he believes them to be true.

Before me, James Morrison, notary public.

One From Hopper.

At the Lambs one night a number of players, forsaking for once talk of shop, were discussing the wonders of invention and of discovery during the past century, when De Wolf Hopper got fresh.

During the lull in the conversation the tall comedian ventured to observe, with becoming gravity, that to him the most wonderful of inventions was dynamite.

"Why dynamite?" asked some one, falling for Hopper's gag.

"Because there's nothing in the world that can hold a candle to it," said Hopper.

Whereupon they chased him from the place.

Sounds That Way.

Church—I see the average man has within his system the material for 13 pounds of candles, a pound of nails, 800 pencils, bindings for 16 small books, 500 knife handles, 28 violin strings, 20 teaspoonfuls of salt and a pound of sugar.

Gotham—Well, I can't see why he isn't a valuable acquisition to any department store, then.

Trimmed.

Mrs. Styles—Don't you think my bonnet is trimmed beautifully?

Mr. Styles—Yes; and I suppose I will be, when I get the bill.

CLEAN AS A NEW ENGLAND KITCHEN.

Col. Chas. R. Bond of the Eastern Grain Company of Bangor, Maine, recently visited the huge mills where William Tell Flour is made. The Colonel is a dyed-in-the-wool Yankee and he naturally feels that Boston is the hub of the universe in cleanliness as well as in learning.

But the great Ansted & Burk mills at Springfield, Ohio startled him out of his New England conservatism.

He found that flour could be ground bolted and packed for shipment without being touched by human hands at any stage. The sacks are even sewed by automatic machinery after being filled, and the barrel heads are put in by wonderfully ingenious machinery.

ing filled, and the barrel heads are put in by wonderfully ingenious machinery.

The barrels are made the same day they are filled, thereby avoiding any possible accumulation of dust in the barrels. After being made they are transported from the cooperage to the flour mills by an indoor gravity system which protects the barrels from the weather.

But the thing which pleased the colonel most of all was the sanitary way in which the barrels were made. In most cooper shops the grooves are cut and the heads put in by hand. This has to be done in a very warm room while the barrels are hot, so that they will retain their shape. As a result the perspiring coopers soil the inside of each barrel with perspiration.

In the William Tell cooper shop, however, these grooves are cut and the barrels headed by machinery. They are not touched by the men at all, and the insides of the new barrels are as clean as the rip-saw leaves the staves. Colonel Bond remarked that the whole institution was as "clean as a New England Kitchen." When William Tell Flour goes into the barrel it is going into a scrupulously clean new package. It is famous for purity as well as goodness.

MUCH SOCIAL LIFE AT KINEO

Some Record Breaking On the Golf Links---Visit Boys' Camp.

Kineo, Me., Saturday—Sailing parties beneath a rare August moon, numerous social diversions, keen competition in all the sports, and exceptional activity in the many outdoor pastimes, have made notable August's first week at this popular place.

Commodore and Mrs. Arthur B. Waring of New York entertained one of the season's merriest parties on board their yacht, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Conklin, Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Friant, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Mrs. C. A. Judkins, Kineo; Mr. John Reding, Boston; Mrs. N. W. Halsey, Mr. Lionel Allyn, Col. and Mrs. Louis W. Stotesbury of New York, being their guests. Camp fire dinner ashore and dancing furnished pleasure.

At their pleasant camp near Socatan Stream, Mrs. Geo. Nye, Jr., and her son, Robert Nye of Springfield, Mass., had as guests for the day Miss Clarice Paterson, Miss Ellen Cott, Miss Esther Cott, Mr. Paul Feuchtwanger of New York, and Mr. Howard Rowland of Philadelphia. The journey to and from Kineo was made in the Nye's fast boat, the Blitzen.

For the second time this summer the 18 hole amateur record on Kineo's links has been broken. In a medal play contest John Hutchins of Boston made 73, cutting 3 strokes from the score of Mr. Geo. E. Marcus of New York who finished in 76. Mr. E. T. Wilson of Plainfield, N. J., also came under the old record with 75, and won low net cup.

The handsome prize offered by S. A. York of New Haven went to Commodore Waring's yacht, Ioneta, in the weekly power boat race of the Moosehead Lake Yacht Club. Second trophy, given by Henry Sheaffer of Pottsville, Pa., was won by the Blitzen, owned by Robert Nye of Springfield.

Kineo defeated Camp Wildwood in the best game of the season on the Kineo diamond, the score being 7 to 6, and the contest abounding in brilliant plays. Earlier in the week two teams of young ladies contended under the names of White Sox and Red Sox, the Red Sox winning 30 to 17, and the crowd of spectators finding much amusement.

The fishing honor of the week goes to Mrs. Thomas L. Friant, Grand Rapids, Mich., who got one of the season's finest, a seven pound salmon. Mr. A. S. Elliott exhibited the best string, over forty trout caught in West Branch.

The following young men from New York are among the summer sojourners at camp Wildwood. The boys camp near Sandbar, Wendall W. Brown, Howard M. LeSourd, Whitney Hodgman, Wm. E. Barker Jr., and Stephen Conger.

Miss Katherine Potter of East Orange is a guest at the Kineo cottage of the Sheafers of Pottsville, Pa.

The following young men are among the seventy at camp Wildwood, the boys' camp near Sandbar Island: Chelsea L. Bailey, Boston; Phillip Hasseltine, Winchester Keith, H. Glenn Powning, A. Whitney Rhodes, William Stearns, Henry P. Tazzard, Prescott Cummer of Brookline; Richard Hastings, Harold G. Allen, Milton, Mass.; Ralph Brown, No. Scituate; Forbes Getty, Winthrop Palmer, Winchester; Carrath Chapin, Malden; Barron Brainard, Williamstown; Henry R. Frost, Dorchester; Leroy M. Gardner, Providence.

Arrivals at the Mt. Kineo House: Mr. Leon Colliver, Miss Estelle B. Cheney, Mr. L. E. Demelman, Mr. W. W. Demelman, Mr. Edward M. Hurlsey, Mr. W. M. Hurley, Dr. G. Norman, Miss M. A. Maloney, Miss Pyrus Griffin, Mrs. J. T. Norman, Geo. V. Leverett, of Boston; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Towle, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Putnam, Miss Virginia Jennisson, Lowell; Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Renfrew, Master Alan S. Renfrew, Haverhill; Mr. Clarence W. Colburn Fitchburg; Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Horton, Providence; Mrs. F. E. Guernsey, Mr. Sampson Guernsey, Dover, Me.; Mr. A. W. Dodge, Mr. W. C. Logle, Bangor; Mr. Nathan H. Davis and family, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. G. Butterworth, Miss Butterworth, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Reach, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Schmidt, Miss Rebecca Milne Newhall, Mrs. Jas. H. Brooks, Miss Margaret Brooks, Miss Dorothy

Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Walton, Miss Emma Walton, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Prentiss Nichols, Miss F. Henderson, Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Posey, Mr. and Mrs. MacOwen, Overbrook; Mr. and Mrs. James K. Clare and family Ardmore; Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Rowland, W. C. Rowland Jr, Frankford; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kerrigan, Mr. Dwight D. Wiman, Mr. C. M. Smith, Mr. C. Von Helmuth, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Friend, Mr. John L. Martin and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hart, Mrs. J. M. Wilbur, Mrs. W. C. Ferguson, Mr. George Schmelzel, Mrs. Henry Clay Palmer, Miss Palmer, Mr. C. R. Gardner of New York; Judge and Mrs. Julian Mack, Chicago; Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Sexsmith, Bayonne, N. J.; Judge George G. Leverett, Mr. John Reding, Boston; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. E. Cott and family, Englewood, N. J.; Dr. and Mrs. P. Hofman, Jersey City; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Greene, Passaic, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Torrence, Morristown, N. J.

This is a season of record breaking. Twice the 18 hole golf record has been shattered on the Kineo links, and now comes a new mark on the rifle range. For several years James K. Clarke of Philadelphia and John Reilly, Jr., of New York have been tied for high score at 84; Monday Charles M. Clark of New York in competition shot 87, breaking all previous records for the range. Two of Mr. Clark's other targets registered 82 apiece, making the finest score ever made on the Hillside range, 247 for three targets.

Prizes given by Robert Nye of Springfield, Mass., resulted in two interesting motor boat races under Yacht club auspices. The first, a five-mile handicap, was won by the Snipe, owned by Thomas Friant of Grand Rapids, Mich.; the second, a bang and return, went to the Clematis, belonging to the Sheafers of Pottsville, Pa.

E. S. Kinley of Philadelphia and Clinton Sheaffer of Pottsville came through a field of 12 young men in a fine tennis singles tournament; in the finals young Kinley won.

In the weekly baseball game Kineo easily defeated Camp Wildwood 11 to 4. A girls' game between teams dubbed White Sox and Red Sox drew the season's largest crowd, the White Sox winning. One young lady from Worcester made two home runs to the delight of the fans. The strong Guilford team meets Kineo next.

A distinguished party visited Camp Wildwood during the week, the boys' summer camp near Sandbar Island, and witnessed the morning program of water sports. In the group were Lieutenant Commander L. R. Sargent of the U. S. Navy, Major Henry Meyer (retired) of the U. S. Army; Dr. Louis P. Posey, one of Philadelphia's most eminent physicians; Commodore Arthur B. Waring, George E. Cooley, New York; Lyman B. Goff, Pawtucket, R. I.; Jno. C. Cook and James L. Cook of Springfield, Ill.; John Reding, Boston.

Mrs. J. W. McIntyre of Newton, Mass. has been joined by her son, A. R. McIntyre at Kineo. They will take the Allegash trip of three weeks, returning for September.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. White of Cleveland, Ohio, who are at the Mt. Kineo for August, have two interesting sons at Camp Wildwood, W. K. White and R. H. White, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. R. Carpenter and daughter, Miss Marion of New York, were welcomed back this week. They came directly from Germany, just escaping the outbreak of the war.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Staples of Boston, manager of the Touraine, have spent a pleasant week at Kineo.

Mrs. Henry Clay Palmer, the Misses G. C. Leibert, H. M. Leibert, Lillian Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Cooley and Lionel Allyn of New York, made a party recently, enjoying camp dinner at Fox Camp and a sail to the beauty spots about the big lake.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Jennings of Jersey City, including Miss M. L. Jennings and John Arthur Jennings, have opened the Steele cottage for the remainder of the season.

Henry Feuchtwanger of New York has joined his family at their cottage. In the Feuchtwanger party are Paul Feuchtwanger, Mrs. Henry Feuchtwanger, Mr. and Mrs. Austin J. Feuchtwanger and Mrs. Richard Decker. Mrs. A. J., who was Miss Toyo Murai, and Mrs. Decker, who was Miss Aline Feuchtwanger, have always been popular members of the younger Kineo set.

Among recent arrivals at the Mt. Kineo are Mr. E. M. Dollin, Mrs. S. Livingston and family, Mrs. Henry Lahreg, Miss B. Fennell, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Johnson and family of Brooklyn; J. P. Storm and family, Miss Pickhardt, Miss E. Pickhardt, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Tyson, J. J. O'Brien, E. C. Benjamin, G. H. Walbridge, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence G. Freund, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. R. Carpenter, A. E. Pidgeon, H. R. Tompkins, Mrs. Frederick Billings, Miss A. C. Northrop, Chas. W. Danforth of Manhattan; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. R. Wiers Buffalo; Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Eastman, Mr. and Mrs. Geo S. Tracy, Burlington; Mrs. J. B. Stephens, Miss Mabel E. Stephens, Master James B. Stephens, Jr., Montclair, N. J., W. L. Chrisman, Joseph P. Rogers, T. O. Leary, Trevanion B. Dalls and family, Thomas R. Powell, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Dexter, Miss Doris Dexter, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick McOwen, F. T. Chandler, Jr., of Philadelphia.

NORTHERN MAINE FISHING NOTES

Attean Camps, Jackman, Me.,—As the season progresses our Bow trip is gaining favor; and for an outing and real camp sport it hasn't a peer in this section of Maine. All along the line of 40 miles of river there are comfortable camps, and one never gets tired of the early morning plunge, and then a breakfast of trout, broiled to a turn over live coals as only a Maine guide knows how to broil them. Then, home for the canoe and a side trip to some pond or stream where the speckled beauties are only waiting for the fly. We have a party of ladies, Mrs. Charles James and Miss Olithers, Brooklyn, Mass., Miss Esther Conant, Duxbury, Mass.; Miss Ethel Hobart, Plymouth, Mass., who have just completed the trip. They have lots of stories to tell of the scenery, the wildflowers game and wild fowl they have seen, and the culinary ability of our guides. Their only complaint was that their time was all too short. The latest arrivals are: Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Dennison, Williamstown, Mass.; P. T. Coolidge, Gorham, N. H.; Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Redmund, Boston, Mass.; Miss L. B. Raynes, Bangor, Me.; Miss M. L. Judd, Alton, Ill.; Dr. and Mrs. Chas. Tuttle, New Haven, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Meesler and family, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Eagle Lake Camps, Eagle Lake, Me.,—Moose, bear, deer and partridges are seen every day by the guests at these camps. The fishing is improving every day to the great joy of the guests at these camps. The following are registered: Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Titus, New York; Mr. J. W. Townsend, Mr. J. Ed. Townsend, Mr. W. I. Harrold, Mr. F. E. Jackson, Mr. W. T. Sloper, Mrs. H. T. Lindenberg, Mr. A. D. Francis, Mrs. Louise Schusel, Mr. F. Schussel, New York, Mr. W. P. Patterson, Richmond, Va.; Miss Kathleen Sterling, Augusta, Me.; Mr. E. B. Peirce, Lowell, Mass.; Mr. B. Hand, Woodstock, N. B.

Katahdin View Camps, Norcross, Me.,—The following guests are registered at these camps: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Hill, Springfield, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. T. M. B. Nichols, New York; Mr. P. E. Warner, Philadelphia; Dr. and Mrs. Beyant, New Haven, Conn.; Mr. Warren A. Reed and son Clarence, Brockton, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Kent, Cambridge, Mass.; L. E. Eastman, Portland, Me.; Mr. A. B. Tyler, Boston; Mrs. H. G. Dyan, Miss Dorothy and Master Otis, Washington, D. C. They are all having the best of fishing and the camps are filling fast.

PROSECUTIONS REPORTED

The following prosecutions have been reported to the office of the State Commission of Inland Fisheries and Game:

Game Wardens F. E. Jorgenson of Marsardis and M. P. Murphy of Oxbow have reported the payment of a fine of $40 by Eugene Nolin of Sheridan for killing and having in possession a deer in closed season, Aug. 11.

The same wardens also reported the payment of a fine of $40 and costs by C. B. Hayward of West Orange, N. J., for camping and kindling fires on wild lands while fishing without being in charge of a licensed guide, as the law requires.

IN CAMP BIRCHES-IN-THE-PINES

Philadelphia, August 10.

To the Editor of Maine Woods:

Enclosed please find $2.00 to pay my subscription to July 15th, 1915. Your paper is always welcome. It is like a refreshing breath from the pine woods, the next best thing to being on the ground. The heat here is endured by the 'anticipation of soon being in our camp Birches-in-the-Pine on Lovell pond, for which delightful spot we start in our automobile on the 18th.

Yours truly,
S. W. Evans.

YOUNG FAWN AT THE FISH HATCHERY GROUNDS, BEING RAISED.

A pretty sight to a lover of wild animals is the young fawn at the Auburn Fish Hatchery and Superintendent John Stanley is as careful of the little animal as Mr. and Mrs. Deer are, says the Lewiston Sun. The little spotted fellow is now several weeks old and unlike the older deer is rather shy. The two older ones which are now two years of age have become very tame and follow Mr. Stanley about the enclosure and like to eat out of his hands.

They are very fond of new milk for a diet. As a rule deer mate in December and the young are born about the first of June. More often the doe gives birth to two. The buck's horns at the hatchery are now covered with velvet which it is expected he will shed this fall as two years is the customary time for them to do so.

weeks with his wife and son.

The flag is again flying at Camp Houghton on the point as Mrs. E. C. Ashton and sons, Robert and Henry Ashton of Boston have arrived for their annual stay.

A. Warren Clapp of East Braintree, Mass., who has been coming here for a number of years, arrived on Saturday.

The following party, Dr. F. A. Hayden, Dr. E. S. Bennett, H. L. Welch and James Cameron, the first of the week, made a trip to Kennebago, where they had excellent fly fishing.

E. A. Finger is a New Yorker, who for the first time is spending vacation days at this hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Laird and son Everett of East Orange, N. Y., who this summer have been traveling in Europe, but had the good fortune to reach New York a few days before war was declared, came to-day for a short stay with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Kimberly of New Haven, Conn., who are here for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Willets of Flushing, N. J., have received a letter from their daughter, Miss Eliza telling of her safe arrival in London where with a party of friends she is having a most pleasant stay and expects to reach here by the first of September.

NOTES FROM AN ANGLER

(By Robert Page Lincoln)

I do not know but that I have a sort of a brotherly regard for the festive, pugnacious, mettlesome pickerel; a common, worthless little brute you will say, no doubt, but then again, sir, there is always the possibility that you will run into just the sort of a pickerel that will put up a fight for his future existence that may change your opinion. I refer, not to an undersized specimen of this dominant contingent, but to a fifteen, eighteen, twenty or twenty-five pounder. At once, Piscator, you will say: well that indeed is quite a different proposition. It really is, now come to think of it. It is a common heresy to associate all pickere, fishing with the wee little grass snakes or two, three and four pounds.

But listen now: when they do run to a large size, does it not seem as sport to capture such a fellow on light tackle. My friend the veteran, obdurate, stubborn, self-conclusive still-fisherman tells me with much gusto that such large fish are not pickerel as all but muscallonge; and another outdoor neighborhood light has named them great northern pike, but then being a wizard I know very well that they are just large pickerel. I do not know just why. Probably it is because in these lower Minnesota lakes there are no such things as great northern pike; and I could tell a muscallonge two blocks away. However, sometimes the village wiseacres must have their swing and their elation upon offering this needed knowledge really does them a lot of good, more than it would the present humble, inconspicuous scribe. Right after the spawning days the pickerel always are in a striking mood. But toward the latter part of June their native energy and lively pugnaciousness begins to wilt and then you cannot get them at all.

Along in July, and in August, and way up till freeze-up, big fellows may be gotten if you know where to go for them. Show me a sand-bar step-off and I know just where to troll for them. And I know practically to a certainty where those big fellows lie in wait for their prey. I may go days without a strike, but I figure that in the final I will have the big fellow I am looking for and directly my satisfaction reaches the pinnacle of its ecstasy.

No sport in landing a large pickerel? Well, I do not know; it depends upon how you land him. The handline brings home the bacon shortly, and with no bothersome frills and furbishes about it. But then, take a light bamboo rod, and have only a bait line, and jump into the traces of a sporting proposition that even the Light Weight Tackle Club at Catalina might wake out of their inertia with a start. Some big pickerel are sleepy, unambitious dotards. I will admit it. I have caught ten pounders on sunfish hooks, and have landed them without much liveliness. You can pull him right up to the boat and if you sit real still you can reach over and easily insert your fingers through the gills and lift him in; but move around in the boat and directly he will start something. Look out. From then on you fight every inch of the way. If you had thus captured a large pickerel for instance and you had light tackle say, and you had brought a Stevens pistol along to shoot him with, and you had finally gotten him within shooting distance, would you then shoot him, or would you, in the name of the greater sportsmanship shoot him away so that you might fight him for about an hour. I have done it; and I have lost one great big overgrown freight car in just that way. I suffered a relapse and a month after that crept down to the lakes a most humble and self-taught being, a fixed determination glowing like a fiery orb in the realm of my understanding.

A clincher gaff is a mighty available thing whether you fish for large pickerel, muscallonge or northern pike. But the greatest standby of them all is the simple, yet mightily adequate pistol, and the Stevens is a wonderful addition to the piscatorial paraphernalia. Do not listen to the proposition of a club. If you ever hear anyone say that they have clubbed a fish to death, hunt them up, and look them right in the eyes, and perhaps they will admit something different.

What are those back-teeth in the mouth of a muscallonge for anyway. Are they there to keep things that have gone into the capacious maw from coming out again; or just what do they serve in doing? The fourteen and a half pound musky my friend, the president of the wholesale house in Sioux City, tried to lift out of the waters of Lake Emma in northern Minnesota here in June certainly gave him something in the way of scratches that did not look very good. By the inclusion of a clincher gaff, or a pistol, this could have easily been gotten around.

In landing any large fish on light tackle one must do a lot of lively in-rowing. It takes keenness, ingenuity and extreme patience to do it, and if you land your fish you have done something that very few can do and do well. For light tackle you use something like a Heddon two dollar rod, or something even more fragile; the more fragile the greater the chance of the fish snapping it off. An ordinary bait casting line tested to twelve pounds will give a large-sized fish more than a chance of getting away, and the sporting proposition must always be cultured. But no matter what you use, heavy tackle or light tackle, you need always an appreciable lure, and the spoon hook has more allurements contained in its glittering length than all others put together. A singular phase in this spoon hook proposition is that some certain one will take, while all others will be scoffed at. Especially so in the instance of the muscallonge. Northward in Minnesota they use the Skinner spoon entirely, and an oddity of it was presented to me this summer where the size four and three-quarters Skinner proved the very best for muskies; and consider the very small size of it at that. A too large spoon it will seem is unattractive; a tandem spoon likewise; while the small, single spoon is the lure par excellence. The more red on a hook the better; and by hooking on streamers of red flannel you invite many a stolid fighter, battle-scarred and hook-warped. Northward they catch a mighty lot of undersized muskies and they throw them back. If they are super-civilized and non-taking there is a reason for it. Ten small ones take a lure to one over legal size. The legal size for muskies is thirty inches. Under that you throw them in.

A live frog or pork rind, with streamers of red flannel always prove enticing for either muskies or pickerel. But the spoon is the thing; and generally the gang behind, to the single hook is preferable for reasons easily understood. In fishing for pickerel in the latter part of the summer you fish rather deep off of the sand-bars; off juttings of land; and along the edge of the weed beds where they still persist in hanging out in great numbers. Fishing for both pickerel and bass ceases to be a thing of reality with some fishermen about the time that August quits the calendar. They will then stay away from the lakes, properly having absorbed all of the hot weather and few fish. Give me the pleasant days of September and October for my fishing and we will always be on speaking acquaintanceship. These days of autumn cannot be equaled. I will forego the pleasures of early spring angling. I will leave all its lures and enchantments to the greater enthusiasts, but for me, give me the bright and finely colored days of autumn for a little bit of a closer inspection. The bass will then be coming into the shallows and they hang around the shores with a persistency that cannot but lure out the man with the rod. There will now be a chance to procure all the fishing frogs one has a desire to use, and they are certainly a size of the best. But do not fail to try out the underwater artificials. Where they come in a small size, not too full of hooks, they are certainly to be given extra consideration—and for my part I would not miss the backtail combination, South Bend Minnow, the one of rainbow effect; nor would I leave the same small-bodied, single-trailer gang, brown-cracked back Dowagalac at home. Both of these baits I will use this fall, along with the live bait, for I know they will work this year just as they worked last.

Autumnal bass and pickerel fishing has all the earmarks of being the sport par excellence. You have escaped the severe heats of the July and August days. The nights are cooler. The days have a sweetness to them that permeate one through and through. There is no discomfort felt in rowing over the waters, and with that gorgeous display of autumnal finery evidenced on every side, no more fascinating combination is thinkable. You will find that way into late October, the bass will bite with avidity. In truth it is sometimes amazing. Days there are, when, with the exercise of careful ingenuity I have brought in as high as fifteen good bass out of civilized waters. It need hardly be added that the same points must be recognized in bass fishing in autumn as earlier in the season. Extreme cautiousness must at intervals be exercised, for the fish are always on the watch, and may get afraid. The man rowing a water-disturbing boat, who casts his lure into the weeds with the sound of a loud-falling brick cannot hope to have the success of his fellow, who drifts into good fishing waters with barely one sound.

Years of experience has taught me that all of fishing is not the mere act of casting a hook. I have learned that fish are not the fools that mortals take them to be, and that there are some fish that cannot be circumvented by an idle notion, if at all.

In casting for bass and for pickerel, the weedless hook, provided with a spinner or two cannot but help to make your cast more attractive, since the sun, falling upon these blades sends a silvery glitter for a great distance, thus serving to call in the fish. There were many years before I became reconciled to their use, believing them worthless as tackle-box additions. But, using them, I found that they were all that was claimed for them, and since then I have always had several specimens handy in my paraphernalia.

The usual weedless hook has two or so advancing contrivances that serve to keep the weeds away. The only fault that I have to find with them is that they are too stiff, and they do not yield well enough to the snap of the striking fish. The best weedless hook I have ever used is the well known Hunter Weedless,—in fact I now use no other than these for I have found them unequalled. In the first place, two wires serve as weed guards. They are made of excellent material, and after having used one a whole summer I still find it ready for another year's work. These wires are of a material that allows of a give to it, and yet so easily do they spring back that there is hardly a miss in ten strikes. I think if a few more fishermen would inspect their hooks, they would get practically more fish. Always look your hooks over before going out on a trip. They may be dull, and dull hooks often cause the loss of a good fish. Run the file over the point a few times and it will be all right again.

In the autumnal months you will find the bass taking bait the best along in the evening hours. They will then haunt those quiet, mirrorlike bays, and coves, and beside all variety of obstructions, in the water. Here, if you

BIRTHDAYS CELEBRATED

Mr. and Mrs. Hinds Entertain Party at Lunch Island.

(Special Correspondence)

Bald Mountain Camps, Mooselookmeguntic Lake, Aug. 15.—With every camp taken, the guides' house full, one more automobile than can be put into the garage for over night, Bald Mountain Camps are now entertaining more guests than ever before since they were first opened to the public in 1888, and as happy, merry, a company as can be found at any camp in Maine.

On Friday evening the birthday of two popular young ladies, Miss Florence Bodell of Providence, R. I., and Miss Kathryn Flint of North Attleboro, Mass., were very appropriately remembered. In the afternoon the young folks got busy, and after an hour in the woods where they gathered evergreens and flowers, they changed the big office by decorating it handsomely, into a ball room for the occasion and the huge bouquet of Richmond roses on the piano added to the beauty of the room. The guests and people from the cottages nearby were invited. Miss Bodell and Miss Flint both gowned in white, received the guests who offered congratulations for many happy returns of the day. Until a late hour there was music and dancing. Refreshments of punch and fancy crackers were served by Dr. and Mrs. Flint. A host of friends unite in good wishes and hope these charming young ladies will again pass life's milestone here at Bald Mountain Camps.

On Thursday Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Hinds, who are entertaining as guests, Mrs. James Segler of Mexico, and Mr. and Mrs. Connery of Texas, gave an allday picnic, inviting Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Flint and daughter. In the morning by motor boat with three guides the party went over to Lunch Island. The day before they went fishing up to Quimby pond, catching all the trout the law allows, which with other good things that the guides cooked, were served for a feast such as not even a French chef can cook. In the afternoon all played ball and then sailed around the lake returning in time for supper, voting it had been a red letter day down in Maine.

Hon. Geo. D. Bisbee is now with his son, Stanley Bisbee at Oxford Bear Camp. Mrs. Bisbee has this week caught a 5½-pound salmon, the mate to the one her husband landed last week and their son, Stanley, two that weighed 4 pounds.

Mrs. A. L. Salt and son, Lloyd Salt of Summit, N. J., who spent many seasons here, but now have a fine camp of their own on Umbagog Lake spent Friday here where they received a most cordial welcome from old friends.

Rev. P. E. Wilmot, pastor of the Baptist church in Wayne, Penn., accompanied by Mrs. Wilmot, who has been spending some time at Clearwater pond, arrived Saturday and have taken the Wigwam camp for August.

Coming for their first visit to the Rangeleys, Homer Boyer and brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Boyer of Boston, are greatly pleased with life here.

Misses Alta Land, Ida May Foulke, of Brooklyn, N. Y., after a delightful trip of two weeks, regretfully said good bye and left for home Monday.

By the Sunday night Pullman, Dr. and Mrs. Flint and party of North Attleboro, Mass., leave for home, having passed one of the happiest two weeks' outing. They have had good fishing and have a box of nice ones to take home with them. Mrs. Flint has caught a 3¼ and a 3-pound salmon and the Doctor has caught several that weighed two pounds.

Coming in a Pierce Arrow touring are patient, and will use frogs, there is no reason why you should not have luck.

The beauties and fascinations of autumnal fishing are many, and equality are they varied. Not only the fine appreciable weather, but the changing leaves, with a multitude of colors, all serve to make each sunshiny fishing day a red letter in your angling history.

car from their home in New York, the following party who are greatly enjoying life are now spending some time here: Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hanford, Miss Louise Cox and Cortland Taylor.

After a week's stay, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Coburn and daughter, Agnes, of Portland, who came by automobile started homeward today.

Coming in two automobiles, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Ingells of Pejepscot and Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Crossman and son, Leonard, of Lisbon Falls are here for a ten days' fishing trip.

The guests keep busy these days with picnic parties, excursions to Rangeley, camping trips, a day up Cupsuptic where they cook dinner out in the open, fishing, climbing Bald Mountain, a ride to the farm, etc. The days now until September will find a large party in camp.

MAINE WOODS GIVES PLEASURE

West Carry Pond Camps Worthy of All Praise.

New York, August 11.

To the Editor of Maine Woods:

Your little reminder is at hand and I take great pleasure in enclosing herewith $2.00 to cover my subscription to March, 1916. I derive a good deal of pleasure from reading the Maine Woods and, although I don't get to Maine as often as I would like, I am somewhat compensated by reading your paper.

I have been intending to write you about my last trip to Maine. Never having been there for the early fishing I decided to do so this year. I spent about the first ten days of June with Mr. Rufus Taylor, that Prince of Hosts, at his camp on West Carry Pond, and I am frank to say I never spent as enjoyable time fishing as I did while there. In West Carry, Middle Carry and the three Otter ponds a fisherman is sure to get trout, the largest, of course, being in West Carry, where we got square tails up to 2½ and 3 pounds, and plenty of lake trout, the largest one caught while I was there being seven pounds by a doctor from Skowhegan. One evening I hooked a salmon at 7.30 on a No. 8 Professor fly, and it took me until 8.40 before I got him to the net, one of the prettiest-pluckiest fights I have ever had with a fish that weighed only 3½ pounds.

Just a few words for the West Carry Pond Camps. There may be places in Maine where larger fish may be found and caught, but I doubt if there are camps in the state where more comfort, rest, real service and attention can be had than right there and, as for the eating, I never had as good at any place in the woods as Mrs. Adams served out to us. Of all the pastry cooks I have known of she takes the blue ribbon. As for fishing, if one is fortunate enough to have Rufus, or his brother Percy, as his guide, I guarantee that they will get the fish. The scenery is grand, surrounded as it is by numerous mountains and hills, with Mount Bigelow standing out in all its grandeur, the camps on the lake shore at the foot of Round Top, all of this making a panorama that is never tiring to the lover of nature.

I take pleasure in recommending these camps and you are at liberty, if you desire, to publish this letter in your paper. Rufus Taylor and his camps are worthy of all that I have said.

Yours very truly,

H. N. Fiske.

PARTY OF BOYS ON CANOE TRIP

Brown as Beechnuts, but All Enjoyed the Week's Sport.

A party of boys from Camp Cobbossee, the summer school in charge of H. R. Mooney on the Mounmouth shore of the lake, the party being in charge of Consul Augustus Weller, arrived in Augusta Saturday morning, they being on a canoe trip through the Kennebec county chain of lakes and the Kennebec river. The boys were in three canoes and left camp last Monday, passing through Cobbosseecontee to Annabascocook and Maranacook, carrying from there to Belgrade stream, thence through Long pond and Great pond, carrying to Messalonskee stream to Waterville and the Kennebec river. On arriving at Augusta they had their canoes hauled down to the City landing and from there was another carry to the New Mills bridge, from which point their course lay up Cobbossee stream to Horseshoe and Ox-bow ponds to the Outlet, and from there down to camp. In the party were R. Lewenthal, C. Goldberg, M. Webster, M. Josephson, M. Plousky, M. Lawrence and J. Melnick, and all were as brown as beechnuts from their outdoor life. All agreed that they had enjoyed a good time.—Kennebec Journal.

CAMPS FULL AT CHAIRBACK MOUNTAIN

August 5, word from Chairback Mountain Camps, C. J. Henderson, proprietor, reached from Katahdin Iron Works is that the following guests, numbering 25, are at present enjoying themselves at camp:

Mr. and Mrs. William Sparrow and daughter of Northampton, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Ubalde Viguette, Northampton, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Heald, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Milton Smith, Miss Margaret Smith, Elmhurst, N. Y.; Rev. and Mrs. Geo. Barhydt, Bramford, Ct.; Barrent Barhydt, Steel Barhydt, Bramford, Ct.; Lewis Dragon, Arthur Dragon, Edward Dragon, Northampton, Mass.; Mrs. J. B. Stewart, Clarence Stewart, Mr. Grasea, Miss Fowler, Miss Pot-tenger, Elmyra, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Shumway and daughter Reta. Many of the guests are here for a month, while others remain three months.

The fishing is very good, 50 nice trout being brought in to-day by five guests. A fine bull moose was seen from the camps, swimming across the lake a few days ago.

All of these camps have been full through July and all are engaged for August and many for September.

ABOUT MIGRATORY BIRDS

The fish and game department has many inquiries from sportsmen as to the United States laws about migratory birds. The following is a carefully prepared summary of the federal laws:

Open Season for Migratory Birds Under Federal Regulations.

Zone No. 1, (so far as relates to the State of Maine).

Waterfowl, Sept. 1-Dec. 16. Waterfowl as herein used includes brant, wild ducks, geese.

Rails—Sept. 1 to Dec. 1. The mentioned birds include coots, gallinules, sora and other rails.

Woodcock—Oct. 1 to Dec. 1.

Shore birds—Aug. 15 to Dec. 1. Shore birds as herein used includes blackbreasted and golden plover, jack-snipe and yellowlegs.

Insectivorous birds are protected indefinitely.

Band-tailed pigeons, cranes, swans, curlew and all shore birds (except black-breasted and golden plover, Wilson or jacksnipes, woodcock and greater and lesser yellowlegs) and wood duck are protected until Sept. 1, 1918.

All shooting for birds or waterfowl prohibited is between sunset and sunrise.

The above federal regulations do not change the Maine law on partridges. The open season on these birds is the same as provided in the Maine Statutes, Sept. 15 to Dec. 1.

"FATHER OF THE TWO FOOT GAUGE"

Dies at Medford State Asylum at Age of 73.

George F. Mansfield, formerly of Phillips, and widely known as "The Father of the Two-Foot Gauge" died at the Medfield State Asylum, Medfield, Mass., August 14, at the age of seventy three years.

Mr. Mansfield was sent to Medfield as incurably feeble minded. An autopsy showed that by the closing of arteries his brain had been literally starved.

Mr. Mansfield will be remembered as the builder, conductor and general manager of the narrow gauge road from Phillips to Farmington, which was afterward extended to Rangeley. He also built the Bridgeton and Saco River Railroad, and a narrow gauge road from Billerica to Bedford, Mass., which proved to be a disaster.

A number of prominent men were interested with him in this later road. General B. F. Butler, while taking no stock, gave him a check for five thousand dollars with his good wishes. At the opening of the road, with bands playing, flags flying, train decorated with flowers and with many dignitaries, from Governor Talbot to the selectmen of the towns, aboard, the husky little engine forgot its former good manners and toppled over into the ditch.

Naturally, the whole crowd condemned the "two-foot railway" and left Mr. Mansfield and his train crew to their exceeding deep humiliation.

The chagrined inventor, engineer, promoter, faced bankruptcy. At this juncture Alonson L. Brown, of New Hampshire, came to his assistance, bought the road and sold the paraphernalia to the Sandy River Company. The rails were taken up, except where forcible resistance prevented, and rails, engines, cars and other assets were shipped to Maine while the rights of way were taken by the old Lowell Railroad and a standard gauge road built thereon.

From this disaster Mr. Mansfield never fully recovered, yet always hopeful he traveled to the West and South and a number of narrow gauge roads grew out of his "missionary work," from which he reaped no profit. Promoters, with less inventive ingenuity and more business shrewdness, profited by his solution of some important transportation problems of the time.

From many tribulations his body rests at Forest Hills by that of his first wife, who died in 1870.

Through Traffic Problem.

There is a phase of the road question which is state-wide in its application. That relates to the through or trunk lines which accommodate through traffic. To leave the construction and care of these roads in the hands of local authorities must result in uneven and inharmonious gaps, and desultory care, involving practically a failure of such roads for a standard of their utility.

A slo properly built of limestone will be a success.

How the Deaf Hear.

Stanley Robinson, who has been totally deaf since he was ten years of age, explains through the Scientific American how deaf people are conscious of any noise which causes vibration other than merely through the atmosphere. He says that a deaf man can be awakened by an alarm clock if it is attached to the bar of the bed, because the vibrations through the medium of the brass are great enough to rouse him through his acute sense of feeling. Just so a deaf mute can feel a slammed door or a heavy wagon passing over a stone pavement, but cannot be conscious of a bell or a rubber-tired vehicle running on a smooth asphalt street.

Drifting Is Deceitful.

RALLIES GALORE AT KINGFIELD

Pythian Sisters Give Party In Honor of Mrs. Potter

(Special Correspondence.)

Kingfield, August 17.—A republican rally is announced for Tuesday evening at French's hall. The speakers are Hon. Carl Milliken of Island Falls, president of the Maine Senate, and Harold M. Sewall of Bath, nominee for Representative to Congress.

The annual picnic of the Baptist Sunday school was held Friday on Stanley Hill. Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Hutchins opened both of their cottages to the large number of young people who gathered and the afternoon was passed in a social manner, enlivened by selections from the graphophone. About 25 went in a hayrack to the picnic grounds.

Kathleen and Evelyn, the little daughters of Rev. C. J. Longley went to Madison Saturday to visit relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Durrell have been visiting Mr. Durrell's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Butts at New Portland for a few days.

Hon. Halbert P. Gardner, Progressive nominee for Governor, addressed the citizens of Kingfield, at French's hall Thursday evening, August 13. It was an enthusiastic rally, with a good attendance. Music was furnished by Peerless orchestra.

W. T. Greene, Hopkinton, N. H., writes the following letter, which will interest every one who has kidney trouble. "For over a year, Mrs. Greene had been afflicted with a very stubborn kidney trouble. Foley Kidney Pills done more to complete her recovery than any medicine she has taken and I feel it my duty to recommend them."

R. H. PREBLE.

Mr. Gardner was introduced by O. C. Dolbier esq., member of the Progressive County Committee and Progressive nominee for Representative to Legislature. Mr. Gardner spoke briefly on the stand, taken by the Democratic, Republican and Progressive parties concerning National issues and then took up state issues at length.

The first Democratic rally in Kingfield in this campaign was held at French's hall, Saturday at 2 o'clock and considering it was in the afternoon a large audience was present. Congressman Daniel J. McGillicuddy was the chief speaker of the occasion. Cyrus W. Davis of Waterville and Thomas Austin of Farmington nominee for county attorney were present and briefly addressed the meeting, one upon state issues and conditions under the late Democratic administration; the other upon county matters in connection with his candidacy. Mr. Austin also introduced the speakers. Dr. O. W. Simmons, chairman of the town committee presided. Kingfield's candidate and nominee for Legislature, S. J. Wyman, was not on the platform but accompanied the party to Stratton where another enthusiastic meeting was held in the evening. Congressman McGillicuddy the last speaker was at his best and never made in the town which he has many times visited, a greater effort in behalf of his party or its principles. Running rapidly from point to point he took up in succession President Wilson's Administration in general and the Mexican policy in particular, complimenting his manipulation of the Trusts and regulation of big business and his skillful handling of Mexican situation which later Congressman Peters intended to use as campaign matter. The speaker then passed to Interstate Commerce commissioners' trial of the Hartford and New Haven Railroad, the tariff, the income tax Harold M. Sewall's calamity howl of business depression under the Democratic tariff and an account of the three anti-trust bills Covington, Clayton and Raymond bills, now pending in the National Senate, dwelling particularly on the Clayton bill.

ONLY A MASK

Many are not being benefited by the summer vacation as they should be. Now, notwithstanding much outdoor life, they are little if any stronger than they were. The tan on their faces is darker and makes them look healthier, but it is only a mask. They are still nervous, easily tired, upset by trifles, and they do not eat or sleep well. What they need is what tones the nerves, perfects digestion, creates appetite, and makes sleep refreshing, and that is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Pupils and teachers generally will find the chief purpose of the vacation best subserved by this great medicine which, as we know, "builds up the whole system."

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND AVOID DISEASE

When your blood is impure, weak, thin and debilitated, your system becomes susceptible to any or all diseases.

Put your blood in good condition. Hood's Sarsaparilla acts directly and peculiarly on the blood—it purifies, enriches and revitalizes it and builds up the whole system.

Hood's Sarsaparilla has stood the test of forty years. Get it today. It is sure to help you.

DALLAS

August 17.

Nora Thomas is working for Mrs. S. A. Getchell doing housework.

School opened Monday with Stella Getchell as teacher. There will be 16 weeks of school this fall to be divided into two terms of eight weeks each.

While Jennie Steward was out berrying one morning recently her house caught on fire and burned to the ground before any help came. The fire caught on the inside and was so well under way when discovered that nothing could be saved. Besides the clothes and furniture lost Mrs. Steward lost $12.00 in money.

The Misses Cassie, Olive and Alnea Thomas have opened their home for the term of school. Amy Campbell boards with them.

John Steward, Jr., of Phillips was at Cyrus Campbell's over Sunday.

Frank Rowe of Bingham was at True's camp on business last week.

Montford Johnson who has been sick for over a week, remains about the same. Dr. Colby is attending him.

Minot and Gerald Flagg are on the sick list.

Leslie Campbell has been ill with a sore hand caused from a blister.

WORLD'S SUPPLY OF BABIES

About Thirty-Six Millions Are Born Every Year, or Seventy Each Minute.

It has been computed that about thirty-six million babies are born into the world each year. The rate of production is therefore about seventy per minute, or more than one for every beat of the clock.

With the one-a-second calculation every reader is familiar, but it is not every one who stops to calculate what this means when it comes to a year's supply. It will, therefore, probably startle a good many persons to find, on the authority of a well-known statistician, that, could the infants of a year be ranged in a line in cradles, the cradles would extend around the globe.

The same writer looks at the matter in a more picturesque light. He imagines the babies being carried past a given point in their mothers' arms, one by one, and the procession being kept up night and day until the last hour in the twelfth month had passed by. A sufficiently liberal rate is allowed, but even in going past at the rate of 20 a minute, 1,200 an hour, during the entire year, the reviewers at this post would have seen only the sixth part of the infantile host.

In other words, the babe that had to be carried when the tramp began would be able to walk when but a mere fraction of its comrades had reached the reviewer's post, and when the year's supply of babies was drawing to a close there would be a rear guard, not of infants, but of romping six-year-old boys and girls.—Tit-Bits.

INSECT USUALLY TO BLAME

Almost All Infectious Diseases Have Now Been Traced to Some Animal Carrier.

We know now that one kind of mosquito carries malaria and another kind yellow fever. We have learned that the house fly transmits typhoid and the rat flea the bubonic plague.

The body louse, it has recently been discovered, is the intermediate host of the typhus fever germ. The tsetse fly in Africa is the guilty party in transmitting the sleeping sickness.

Indeed, the search for insect-carriers is now the favorite quest of scientific medicine. Whenever the bacteriologist faces a difficult problem in medicine he always begins to look about for some neighboring insect. Scarcely a diminutive form of life is now above suspicion.

That undignified and rather vulgar beast whose popular name is bed bug is now subject to constant scrutiny. There are several diseases that it may possibly play a part in perpetuating. In the old-fashioned mystery the usual recommendation was, "seek the woman." In the modern medical detective story the usual saying is: "Seek the insect.—World's Work.

Moving Mark for Soldiers.

It is likely that in Germany a portion of the soldiers' rifle range work hereafter will be done with moving figures for targets. A test of the new contrivance at the Doberitz range gave good results, and the emperor, who witnessed the tests and himself fired a number of shots, was pleased with the innovation.

Long rolls of paper are unwound past a given point and on them appear in outline marching soldiers, cavalrymen, artillery in full gallop, cycle troops and other moving objects. The instant a bullet strikes the paper the spot of impact is brilliantly lighted and the movement of the contrivance is arrested for nearly a second, giving an opportunity to see the full effect of the shot.

It is believed that the invention will not only improve the soldiers' marksmanship, but will also prove valuable in training them to aim and fire rapidly.

Can Extend Life Fifteen Years.

That the proper use of knowledge now in possession of scientists will extend life 15 years was the startling statement made by Dr. Victor C. Vaughan, president of the American Medical association, at the annual meeting of the organization in Atlantic City. While there is doubt as to the feasibility of such use still Doctor Vaughan claims it can be done with the co-operation of state and municipal governments and he ought to know. The prolongation of life has been a world-wide question for some time. Whether it can be worked out remains to be seen.

New Device for Gym.

A wrestling device that will always be at the gymnasium when its owner wants to exercise, and will do nothing to hurt its adversary, no matter how provoking he may be, is the invention of a Washington man.

The mechanical wrestler, which is made in the form of a man, is placed on a rolling and rocking base. The figure is padded and may be weighted to suit the needs of the individual.

FRENCH ARE THRIFTY FOLK

Family Can Live on the Food That is Wasted by One in United States.

"A French family can live off of what an American family wastes," says Simon W. Straus, president of the American Society for Thrift, who has just finished an inquiry on European economy.

"The principal reason, of course, is in a habit of mind, in a way of looking upon the relative values of efficient living as compared with inefficient and wasteful living. One may be as extravagant with a dollar as with a million.

"The self-denial of the French in food and in other necessities of living often is carried into what I should consider excess, but there is nevertheless thoughtful, intelligent thrift in the French household which contributes to the happiness and well being of every member.

"It is that sort of thrift which I should like to see cultivated in American families—a careful adjustment according to a thought-out plan of the domestic budget, so much for rent, food, clothing, education, the dowry of the daughter, the amusement of every member of the family, the provision for emergencies and old age.

"When a scheme of expenditure is adopted in the French home—and every French home, it is said, is a parliament—every item of expenditure can be made with a certain contentment or even joy because it is known to be a harmonious relation with the whole. This makes French amusements so thoroughly enjoyed because there is no feeling of extravagance on the part of those amusing themselves. They take their amusements and what might be to the observer indulgences happily and without inward sense of discomfort and wrongdoing because these expenses fit into the rational scale of living which has been wrought out earnestly and rationally."

RESCUED FROM WASTE HEAPS

Culm Banks of Pennsylvania Have Yielded 50,000,000 Tons of Coal Since 1890.

An interesting feature of the production of anthracite coal in Pennsylvania is the comparatively recent utilization of the smaller sizes of coal—pea, buckwheat, rice and barley grades—most of which is recovered by washing, both from the coal as mined and also from the old abandoned culm banks.

Since the first washery was constructed in 1896 the total recovery of useful fuel from the waste heaps or culm banks has amounted to 49,329,376 long tons. These figures include only the coal shipped and do not embrace the washery products sold locally or used at the collieries.

Of the total production of anthracite in 1912, 44,000,000 tons consisted of the domestic sizes and 37,000,000 tons of pea, buckwheat, etc.

As a matter of fact, pea coal during the last few years has become an important factor in domestic trade, is now used largely for household furnaces, and probably should be included among the "prepared" sizes. It is no longer sold below the cost of production, like the other smaller sizes.

Vast Forests of Alaska.

We hear much concerning the rapid disappearance of our forests. The vast timbered area of the eastern and central portions of the United States is fast being transformed into a woodless country, becoming very thickly populated and doubtless will never grow much timber again.

In Alaska, which is one of our territories, the timber area is estimated to be somewhere near 30 per cent of the entire land, and there is considerably more than 100,000,000 acres of good woodland, with timber that is of such a value its real worth cannot be estimated.

It will require years to even make any marked impression on such a vast forest. It will also take railroads built into that distant land to bring such vast forests into our home markets.

One Century Ago.

One hundred years ago the musical world observed the centenary of Johann Christopher von Gluck, the melodious German, who yet lives through his operas "Orfeo," "Alceste," "Iphigenia in Aulis" and "Iphigenia in Taurus." While Gluck was a German by birth, his brilliant successes were in Paris. He took the tragedies of Corneille and Racine as models upon which to form the splendor and grandeur of musical harmony. The opera of "Iphigenia" was his greatest work. When it was performed for the first time in Paris in 1774, it was an immediate success, and even the literary circles took up the question of its merits. Jean Jacques Rousseau became an appreciative admirer of Gluck and Marie Antoinette, who was then the dauphiness at Paris, became one of his pupils.

HE IS A SHERLOCK HOLMES

Kansas City Patrolman Clears Up Automobile Accident Mystery With Very Slight Clue.

"Is this Samuel P. Quarles?" the voice asked over the telephone. "Your motor car collided with another car in Penn Valley park, Mr. Quarles?"

"Yes," answered Mr. Quarles. "I have just been reporting the accident to police headquarters. I skidded into a car that had been left stalled by the roadside. I wasn't going more than five miles an hour, but skidded badly. You are?"

"This is a motorcycle patrolman. I wanted to fill out a report."

Monday morning Dr. L. S. Milne's car skidded into the curbing at a park turn on Broadway and was disabled. When the repair man arrived it was found that the disabled car had been rammed into a ditch and badly damaged. No trace of the second car was found save a grease cup that had been broken from a front spring.

With this tiny cup as a clue, O. E. Johnson, a motorcycle patrolman, started out to locate the car. The bystanders laughed as the patrolman slipped the little piece of metal into his pocket.

"Needle in the haystack," said one. Yet Johnson's search was a short one. Almost at once he found the cup to be one used on a certain make of car. Next he went to the particular repair shop where such a car would be most apt to be taken. And there was the car with the missing cup.

Mr. Quarles is a salesman living at 3913 Broadway. His car was leaking so badly after the collision that he drove at once to the repair shop—Kansas City Times.

Wooden Bullets.

A toy repeating pistol to shoot cylindrical wooden projectiles which will be very acceptable to the small boy will soon be put on the market. It is the invention of a Springfield (Mass.) man.

The pistol has a magazine and is fired by means of a spring. It will give the operator good practise in rapid firing at targets. Its mechanism is so arranged that the projectiles will feed as freely into the bore as in an automatic revolver.

SALEM

Aug. 18.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leary returned to Boston Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Plaisted and children of Kingfield visited here this week.

C. J. Richards, formerly of this town called on old friends Friday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Harris, our oldest resident passed away Sunday afternoon. She leaves four sons and four daughters, a number of grandchildren and great grandchildren. She was much respected by all who knew her and had a pleasant word even to the last for everybody. She was stopping with her daughter Mrs. W. S. Heath during the severe shower Tuesday afternoon in which the lightning struck the house and it is thought she must have received a slight shock which hastened the end.

The Now and Then club held an entertainment Saturday evening which was well attended and seemed to be much enjoyed. Ice cream and cake were on sale and $10 was netted. The entertainment was gotten up on a short notice, but there were many words of praise for the performance and those who took part. Special mention should be made of the music by Miss Adley and brother Alwyn and songs by little Miss Thelma Whitney.

Wednesday, August 5, was the 30th birthday of one of Freeman's most honored citizens, Mr. Abner W. Mayo. His birthday was celebrated at their pleasant home by having the annual reunion of the Mayo family. Guests were present from many other towns, including Strong, Wilton, Jay and one guest, Mrs. Sadie Butterfield Look from Mattapan, Mass. It was all a surprise to Mr. Mayo. A collection was taken with which a comfortable porch chair was purchased and presented to him.

Rain Water is Preferred.

When hard water is constantly used in the cooling system a continual deposit is being made in the jacket and radiator by the mineral elements in the water. When possible every advantage should be taken of every opportunity to replenish the cooler with rain water which nature's distillery has freed from all mineral deposits.

Harvesting Alfalfa.

Alfalfa, like all of the clovers, should be harvested for hay before the stalks become "woody," and the leaves turn yellow and fall. This condition of the plant occurs very soon after the blossoms appear.

Feed Potatoes to Cows.

When not too expensive, potatoes may be fed to cows in limited quantities. They should be chopped or sliced and fed raw. 20 pounds being about as large a daily allowance as a cow should receive.

WELD

Aug. 17

There was a ball game Saturday afternoon between Weld and Wilton; score 6 to 3 in favor of the home team.

Next Sunday, August 23, Miss Bessie F. Crowell of Phillips will give an address in the Union church of her work in Allahabad, India. In the evening she will give a stereopticon lecture of the field in India. Mrs. H. G. Hammond of Brooklyn, N. Y., will sing a solo.

Next Friday afternoon The Village Improvement Society will have a sale at the Congregational church, proceeds to go for fire protection.

Dr. Rollins of Woodfords has been in town for a few days.

Rev. J. P. Barrett of West Farmington gave a very interesting address Sunday, August 16 in Union church. Subject, "Home here and hereafter." Rev. Frank Billington of Abington, Mass., assisted in the service.

Sunday August 1 at Congregational church, Rev. E. R. Smith of Concord, Mass., spoke in the morning and Rev. J. H. Vichert of Providence, R. I., at 7.30.

Mrs. Grace Thompson and son Douglas of Thompsonville, Conn., are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Barber Masterman.

Evans Merchant and family of Temple were week end guests of his brothers, James and Orren Merchant.

Potmaster A. H. Jones and Harlow Melendy of Wilton were in town Sunday.

The Best Campmeeting for Years and Well Attended

(Special Correspondence.)

Strong, August 18.—Mr. and Mrs. George Norton of Philadelphia, Penn., arrived in town Saturday night to visit his brother, John F. Norton.

Mrs. Anna Bangs is somewhat improved from her recent severe illness. At the present time she is suffering from asthma.

David Spaulding from West Farmington spent a few days recently with his daughter, Mrs. John F. Norton.

Mrs. Ellen Kilkenny is spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. C. V. Starbird. Mrs. Kilkenny is, however, gaining from her recent serious illness, caused from neuritis.

Harrison Gammon of Villard, Minn., who visited here a few days and then went to North Anson, to visit his brother, E. H. Gammon, returned Saturday to town to spend a few days with friends and attend camp meeting.

A large crowd beside the Strong baseball team went to New Sharon Saturday to witness the ball game resulting in victory for New Sharon 8 to 7. The afternoon was ideal and a delightful time was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Goldsmith of Paris were in town recently the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs.

THE JOY OF DANCING EXERCISE

Very few men or women seem to care to Tango or to Dancing Exercise unless they are assured the feet in from aching feet that Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic powder to be shaken into the shoes, always gives. Since the tendency to hold Dancing parties has become almost a daily and hourly necessity in every community, the sale of Allen's Foot-Ease, so the Druggists report, has reached the high-water mark. Sold Everywhere 25c. Trial package FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted Le Roy, N. Y.

Lorin T. Hunter.

Dr. C. W. Bell recently sold his mare, Brooky Patchen, to Mr. Landers of Stratton.

Theodore Will of Lisbon Falls spent Sunday at the Will summer home, and was the guest of his father Edd Will.

Mrs. Abner Page of Kingfield was in town last week calling on friends. Rex Parsons of Dead River was in town last week with a party of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Look and son, Berchard returned from Porter's pond Sunday where they had spent a week in Dickey's cottage.

The Allen campmeeting is in full swing now. There are several excellent sermons every day. Everybody is saying, "The best campmeeting for years." There were ten decisions for Christ the first two days. The attendance is good. Next Sunday will be the closing day of the great feast, with able sermons by Dr. Kelley of Washington, D. C., and Evangelist Walsh, who is very popular with the people.

Donald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Johnson, has been very ill the past week. He is, however, gaining slowly.

Miss Beattie Burns, who has been with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Partridge at Farmington for the past few weeks, has arrived home.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve for Skin Eruptions

Infection and Insect Bites Dangerous Mosquitoes, flies and other insects, which breed quickly in garbage ponds of stagnant water, barns, musty places, etc., are everywhere. Every time they bite you, they inject poison into your system from which some dread disease may result. Get a bottle of Sloan's Liniment. It is antiseptic and a few drops will neutralize the infection caused by insect bites or rusty nails. Sloan's Liniment disinfects Cuts, Bruises and Sores. You cannot afford to be without it in your home. Money back if not satisfied. Only 25c. at your Druggist.

Chinese Maze of Canals.

The canal system in China is the most extensive in the world, with the exception of Holland. Wherever the lay of the land permits the Chinese have made a canal. Thus they are enabled to carry the products of their labor to market at a minimum expense.

Every Street in Phillips

Has its share of the proof that kidney sufferers seek.

Backache? Kidneys weak? Distressed with urinary ills? Want a reliable kidney remedy? Don't have to look far. Use what Phillips people recommend. Every street in Phillips has its cases. Here's one Phillips woman's experience.

Let Mrs. Alorzo Record, of Pleasant Road, tell it. She says: "I cannot say too much in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills. They are the only remedy that ever gave me relief from backache and kidney trouble. I had suffered so much that I was discouraged. I had a very lame and sore back and it was hard for me to stoop. The secretions from my kidneys were unnatural. I had heard a great deal about Doan's Kidney Pills and finally got a box at Cragin's Drug Store (now Preble's Drug Store.) They soon relieved me and it wasn't long before I was cured."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Record had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

PIANO TRUTHS

When you place your order for a piano with a city piano dealer you may make up your mind to this fact that you are paying him from $50 to $100 above the wholesale price of the piano to cover his "SELLING EXPENSE" and they charge you their profit on top of that. I CHALLENGE ANYBODY TO DENY THAT FACT PUBLICLY.

In an Oregon paper of recent date there is an account of the graduation of Leaton Alanson Rice, only grandchild of the late Frank Sweet and his photograph. Among other things it says: Leaton Alanson Rice, son of Mrs. George Sturtevant of this city, who was graduated with the Lebanon High School class last week, has made a record in scholarship. He is the youngest student in the county to finish the four years' high school course at the age of 16. He was born at Myrtle Creek, Oregon November 7, 1897, and finished the eighth grammar grade at the age of 12 years, after attending school just 29 months. His schooling consisted of 29 months in the public school, 34 months in high school. The lad is not only apt in scholarship but is ambitious and practical. Frank Sweet was a brother of Timothy Sweet and Mrs. Amanda Edwards of Phillips. He died many years ago. He married in the West and always lived there after leaving Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Larrabee have been the guests of friends in Portland recently.

Roy Atkinson of the Boston Post, who is passing his vacation with his mother, has purchased a Victrola from George McL. Presson to furnish music for the terpsichorean trippings in the perfection of which he is occupying his spare time, says the Franklin Journal.

The Granges in Maine now number 527, the latest to be organized being Glenwood Valley Grange, instituted July 6 by State Secretary, E. H. Libby.

The weekly newspaper should be well sustained wherever it is established. It is a public benefit as certainly as any business enterprise in the place. There may be weeks in the year when the reader thinks the paper is dull, but that is not always the Editor's fault. There are weeks in the year when a single copy may be worth a whole year's subscription.

The last Old Orchard excursion of the season, Saturday, Aug. 22, is advertised in another column of this paper, giving special rates for the round trip. Tickets are good going Saturday and returning Monday.

Cheerfulness.

What, indeed, does not that word cheerfulness imply. It means a contented spirit, it means a pure heart, it means a kind and loving disposition, it means humility and charity, it means a generous appreciation of others and a modest opinion of self.—Thackeray.
