

MOST ENJOYABLE ANNUAL HELD

The Swanee River Minstrel Co.
Give a Good Show.

The King's Daughters held their customary "Annual" at the Parish House, June 25th, with the largest attendance in years, there being about 50 present.

The president, Mrs. Ida Hersey, had planned to open her spacious home for the occasion, but circumstances having arisen which made it inconvenient for her to do so, the affair was held in the Parish House.

The by-laws of the circle having been changed providing that the officers shall be elected but once annually, in December, instead of semi-annually, no election was held or reports given, as these will come, hereafter at the close of each year. The circle members are busy as always doing works of kindness and helpfulness, "In His Name."

There are now enrolled 95 members, of these about 15 are non-residents. The dues are 60 cents per year. The regular meetings are held the first and third Friday evenings of each month, excepting during the months of July and August, when no meetings are held.

The clothing department, which for several years has been in charge of Mrs. Nan Leavitt has been transferred and cases of need of articles from that department should be reported to Mrs. O. H. Hersey of Sawyer St., who now has them in charge. The emergency closet, maintained by the circle and containing articles for use in the sick room is still in charge of Mrs. E. B. Currier. These articles are loaned without charge to anyone for use in sickness. It is hoped they will be freely asked for, that they may contribute as much as possible to the relief and comfort of the sick.

The entertainment committee have planned for about three special entertainments during the year, for the enjoyment of the members attending the regular meetings.

The first of these was the mock wedding at Mrs. Addie Parker's April 15th, the second was a minstrel show at the Parish House on the occasion of the "Annual" June 25th, and the third to be given about November, (Continued on page five.)

COME AND HELP TO CELEBRATE

Good String of Horses in Every Class.

The following horses have been entered for the races from Farmington: Nancy Forbes, Frank C., Phyllis D., Ralph Wilkes; Silk Forbes, Skowhegan; Gypsy B., Topsham; Fannie Etta, Ruby Wilkes, Strong; Nan T., Kingfield; Echo, Lady Warwick, Kimpton, Phillips; Barney Greenlander, Oquosoc; Midget, Portland; Leona Patchen, New Portland; Rena, King Kimpton, Rangeley; Grey Bird, West Farmington; Jingles, No. Monmouth; Peter Pan, Wilton.

The prospects look bright for some good horse racing the 3rd in Phillips. There will be three classes, the 2.25, 2.30 and 3.00. There are 11 entries in the 2.25 class; 13 in the 2.30 and nine in the 3.00 minute classes.

The local people will be especially interested to see the horses tried out which have been entered by Messrs. G. D. Bangs, J. W. Russell and George Thompson.

Dr. J. H. Rollins of Portland has arrived in town and will drive Midget. The Dr. is never so happy as when behind a good stepper and it will be celebration enough for him to just hold the reins and see her go, even if he doesn't happen to win out.

The committee for the sports in the forenoon is working hard to offer a good program. Everyone is invited to join in the parade and help to make it a banner one.

The horrors will start at 8.30 from the upper village. Get in line.

ONE KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Farmington, Me., July 1.—One was killed and four more or less injured when an automobile driven by Clifford Bangs of Farmington went over an embankment and turned turtle. Harold Titcomb, a well-known Farmington young man, lost his life.

The party consisting of Clifford Bangs, driver, Harold Titcomb, Ray Currier, Harold Trask and Frank Jordan, were coming from West Farmington to Farmington. The auto driven at a reckless rate, skidded and hit a telephone pole. The driver lost control of the machine and it went over the embankment and turned turtle, taking all of the occupants with it. None of the injured are in danger.

RANGELEY PROUD OF NEW STORE

Mr. Rowe One of the Prominent Citizens of the Town.

Rangeley, May 29.—The formal opening of O. R. Rowe's store, which had been undergoing repairs and alterations for some few weeks past was opened to the public Friday and Saturday, May 28 and 29. Many visitors were welcomed during the two days and words of approval and commendations were heard on every side at the many changes. Large bouquets of carnations were in evidence and during the afternoons victrola concerts were given. Every lady was presented with a dainty souvenir, an automatic tape measure.

The original lot on which the building now stands formerly measured six rods on the street and extended back ten rods, but recently Mr. Rowe sold a lot 25 feet wide next the E. I. Herrick store to E. T. Hoar and still has plenty of room.

Two years ago the building was placed on a cement foundation and with the recent improvements Mr. Rowe now has one of the most attractive and up to date stores in Franklin county.

The floor dimensions are 46 by 40 and two floors are occupied by this progressive young merchant in his business. The upper floor of the building he kindly donates for the use of the Boy Scouts who have fitted it up as a hall, where their meetings are held.

Besides a full line of dry goods, ladies' and gentlemen's furnishings, boots and shoes, he conducts an undertaking business succeeding G. M. Carlton as undertaker two years ago last April. The dry goods business was purchased seven years ago April 14 of G. A. Proctor.

The new store, as it almost seems like, is much more convenient than formerly, the petitions having been removed making one large room. Hardwood floors have been added, also a steel ceiling. The delicate green tint of the ceiling, the white woodwork and oak frames of the cases make a pleasing color combination. An 8-foot wall case with sliding doors for hats and a 9-foot wall case with 6-foot sliding doors for dresses, are among the improvements. Six new silent salesman show cases, making a length of 38 feet give much added room for the attractive display of goods. The store is well lighted, particularly from the

THINGS MOVING AT THE BOW

Portland Party See Big Game as Well as Catch Fish.

Oxbow, Me., June 18.—On Tuesday last, Walter D. Hinds drove his Stevens-Duryea racing car from Portland to Oxbow, a distance of over 300 miles, arriving at 7 o'clock p. m. H. A. Haskell of Portland came with him.

Saturday, Messrs. H. C. Lord, Chas. S. Lord and George McCutchin, all of Portland, arrived at the Bow by auto from Masardis. Mr. Chas. Lord's new cabin was occupied by him on this visit. It is a fine specimen of log rolling and construction, and is placed on a high elevation near Mr. Hinds' camp, on land bought of Frank Currier. Sunday morning the whole party of five and three guides, set sail for the upper waters of Umcolcus stream intending to be gone ten days if all goes well.

There have been no new arrivals at Libby's the past week. On Sunday Isaac Libby came over from Grove Hill in his new car with his family, including Mrs. C. C. Libby. Sunday was such a fine June day that in the afternoon all the autos in the Bow and elsewhere were out filled with families and friends of the owners.

The Aroostook river is crowded with railroad ties belonging to the Phairs. On a recent trip down from Millmagassett we were greatly hindered by several jams and were compelled to carry around them. On the way we saw a moose, seven deer, including a doe feeding a week-old fawn, and several fish hawks, one of which, poised in air, dropped from his aerial watch-tower, pounced upon a fish, had a hard time lifting it from the water, but finally succeeded and sailed off to his lofty perch for an evening meal. The fish itself may have been a perch; we couldn't tell.

Billy is making good progress on a new bath room for one of his new cabins at Lake Millmagassett. We spent a few days with him there lately and had a confounded good time. George Fleming of the Bow was his helper, and your scribe did the kitchen and chamber work. Early each evening we set out for a fishing trip to the ledges where we built a roaring fire on the rock at the water's edge and by the light of the fire we caught a miscellaneous lot of trout, perch, sunfish, smelt and eels, two of the latter fish weighed 4 lbs. each. Now the eel is a fine pan fish, much as it resembles a snake. Its flesh is white and juicy and the flavor above reproach. Billy was called off from his work by the arrival of Mr. Hinds and party of five, so we did not get the two days' fishing which we had planned to have. Billy surely will be obliged to go up to finish his work on the bath room, and your scribe hopes to go too. On this first trip up we got some elegant trout, one of 2½ pounds at the dam on Millmagassett stream, and again coming out.

Lately the weather has been cold, but much rain has fallen making all things fresh and thriving.

All in camp are well.

To the Editor of Maine Woods:

Oxbow, June 21.—Mercury 56 to 80 degrees and fine weather. Potatoes and oats are on the jump.

If this letter appears to you to be a filler, instead of a worthy story, just shunt it into your capacious wastebasket and no one will be sorry, or wiser. Things here remain as they have been, and doubtless will stay as they are till after the "glorious 4th"; the day of all days which we, as a nation celebrate with liberty verging on license. The day in these parts, in former years, has hardly been noticed. We see no reason why some patriotic man or woman can't arrange for a basket picnic, and a brief service in our little church on the hill.

Our Portland party of five sportsmen and three guides have just returned from Lake Millmagassett, where they spent two or three days as guests of Capt. Billy Soule, keeper of the camps. They found good fishing there, and at many points on the way up and down stream, besides on several side trips of much interest. Walter Hinds took a 3½ pounder at the salmon pool on a Montreal fly. They brought out nearly 100 brook trout to the Bow.

On a recent trip to the upper reaches of Umcolcus stream, about seven miles from our home camp, a large number of half-pound and one pound trout were caught. The party estimated that they had seen, in two days, nearly 100 deer; also one moose. Billy has a log cabin on Umcolcus, not far from the fishing grounds, but this party did not use it. They camped on the ground far beyond the first dead water.

Our own observation leads us to reckon this region a first-class place for both deer and fish. It is easy of access; a short walk of three miles from the home camps brings one to the river and the dead waters. Umcolcus at the Bow is now a thin ribbon of water and men are driving teams on its bed in search of river gravel for repairing roads. A belated trout is occasionally pulled out of the stream, almost sure to be small but very toothsome nevertheless. Railroad ties in vast numbers have all passed by and the Aroostook is now clear of all obstructions making navigation easy and pleasant with plenty of water.

"Who that hath the plunder heeds the pain?" Yes, black flies and skeeters and 'no-see-ums' are out in force, of course, but the usual treatment of dope in liberal doses did the trick of sickening them and driving them to cover. The smudge, too, is an all powerful ally in any case, and when it can be made to do double duty—give light for night fishing, as it often does, as well as smoke for keeping insects away, then we have a notable example of the power of mind over brute force.

Our new pastor, Rev. N. B. Acraman, is fast gaining the respect and esteem of all the people. Last Sunday (and last Sunday week) large audiences were present. The music was fine. Mrs. Judkins played the organ and the pastor, with a strong voice, led the singing. Sunday school, led by Mrs. Ida Smith, precedes each service. About 50 scholars are enrolled. Mr. Tarbox, our efficient schoolmaster, has a large class of young men and boys.

Our daily mail brings us the daily papers, so we are kept posted, as well as others are, as to all that is published about the great European war. It has been well said that "this war is the most horrible and most brutal of all the wars recorded in history." "Never before have so many men, women and children experienced the brutality and horror of war." "It will be difficult henceforth to pretend that war is anything but the greatest of follies, and the greatest of crimes." We hear much about 'Peace Sundays,' and 'Peace Conferences,' but the time is at hand, we think, when all nations in all the earth should unite on a certain day in beseeching the Supreme Arbiter of the Universe to settle this strife forthwith, in His own omniscient way, using the present leaders, as his unwilling agents. "He turneth the minds and hearts of men even as the rivers of water are turned."

"He maketh wars to cease in all the earth." Why not this one? "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble." "He ruleth in equity and in truth."

A very interesting six-page letter from Rev. M. M. Smyser, recently pastor at Oxbow, now in Yokote, Akita-Ken., Japan, laboring as a teacher and preacher, has been received. In it he gives a rescript of his personal diary, telling of his efforts to learn the Japanese language, and of his and Mrs. Smyser's labors among the people of northern Japan. Many social events are narrated in a lively, interesting fashion. Numerous earthquakes and severe snowstorms have caused them much trouble, but the health and happiness of his family have been under all difficulties.

Ex-Secretary Bryan's action reminds us of an Irishman and his bull. The bull broke out of pasture onto the railroad; a train hove in sight; the bull scented trouble and decided to resist. The engine struck the bull full force, despite the warning bell and whistle and shunted him into the ditch. The owner was notified and when he saw the bull was dead he said, "I admire your pluck, but d— your judgment." Nevertheless, we believe there is a large section of Americans who would like to see Mr. Bryan's ideas of a peaceful settlement of all European disputes fully tried out.

Our two schools are likely to remain in session until after the 4th of July because of the loss of two weeks in the spring, waiting for a teacher. This plan seems only fair, though some parents object on account of the hot weather which is now upon us.

Repairs on our one and only highway are going forward rapidly.

Yours cordially,

J. C. Hartshorne.

BIG TROUT AT OTTER POND

The Trout Are There. Catch Them if You Can

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Otter Pond Camps, June 21, 1915.

The big trout of Otter Pond await your call and he will give you a battle worthy of your skill, for when he strikes and you have set the hook firmly in his jaws a royal battle has begun for with his strength he runs the line off from your reel at will and tugs and pounds in frantic efforts to escape; he has you nerved up and tests your ability in your method to make the kill. Time and again you think you have him under control and well in hand to land your prize but you misjudge his strength and size for the very moment you think the contest ended he darts away with speed and determination blended, rushing hither and thither in mad efforts to break loose. You give and take as your mind seems best, but keep a cool head and in time your skill will do the rest. Anglers often relate some great catches they have made on certain waters to a friend who will say, "Now if you will guarantee me that kind of fishing I will pack up and go." "Hold on," the honest angler replies, "I guarantee nothing. The trout are there, catch them if you can; it's all up to you and the trout for you know how capricious they are."

Otter Pond Camps are easily reached, for to Lake Moxie, Maine, you go by rail, then by auto ten miles in the famous valley of the Kennebec of Arnold fame, cross the river and then three miles by buckboard trail, but the pace will be so slow you can easily overtake it, if camera hunting you go.

The camps are located at the head of Otter Pond; at an elevation of 1200 feet to the right is Otter Pond Mountain, and the camps are built at the head of the pond and command a view of it and of South Mountain beyond which makes a pretty and picturesque background and lends enchantment to the scene. The shores are clean and the woods are green for fire has never marred the surrounding country. The air is dry and pure. A spring, one hundred yards from the camps, runs gushing out from between the rocks, pure as Poland ever was, with a thermometer test of 42 degrees, just the same as ice water at its best, and is never failing in its flow.

Upper Otter, where the camps are located, is one mile long with the green woods extending to the very edge. It is fed by springs from the bottom, at the foot of the pond. A five minutes' walk over a wide, shady and easy trail brings you to Lower Otter Pond nearly as large and as round as a cartwheel with a hub in the middle (known by some as the sunken island) with beautiful scenic mountain effects. Both the upper and lower ponds contain plenty of trout though I believe the upper contains larger ones and more of them. Lower Otter has yielded trout up to five pounds in weight while the maximum for Upper Otter is eight pounds to date. But mind you, gentle reader, no matter where you go, you don't get large trout every day or every week else in time they would be very rare indeed. This is true everywhere as far as fishing is concerned. Owing to the fact that these waters contain a lot of insect life, you can always see them breaking and feeding on the floating flies during the warm July afternoons, rather unusual elsewhere, but such has always been the case on these waters. September affords fine trout fishing on these ponds and last September many beautiful square tails were taken on the fly. It was rare sport indeed.

Little fishing has been done here this season so far but the few times Oscar Hall, Chas. W. and Wm. J. Epting went they have always returned with a substantial mess. The record of Mr. Hall, for the three times he has wet his line, and then only a couple hours at a time, is extremely creditable. He caught 16 trout, the largest was caught in Upper Otter and weighed six pounds. The remainder were caught in Lower Otter, the largest weighed 2½ and 2½ pounds, the balance averaged 1¼ pounds. The few times the Messrs. Epting went out for a couple of hours' fishing resulted in 12 trout, the largest weighing 2 lbs. 6 oz., 2 lbs. 2 oz., 1½ lbs., 1 lb. 10 oz., the balance averaged one pound.

Messrs. Epting saw a trout floating on the surface, belly up. They netted him and thought him dead, a handsome trout that would weigh fully four pounds. They noticed while the skin was not torn, that there were red spots or markings about the size of a fingernail just the color of the pigment which is so pronounced in the late fall. These markings were identical on each side, not many, and it was thought he had been caught by a fish hawk, who dropped his prey and the spots were produced by congestion made by pressure of the cushions back of the claws when the hawk grasped the trout. Nobody could offer any other explanation. When taken out of the net he was apparently dead.

While looking him over his jaws and gills moved once or twice and he was given a chance to recover by being returned to the water immediately. The six-pound trout caught by Mr. Hall was a very handsome fish, most beautifully marked and symmetrical. The measurements were—length 21¼ inches, girth 15 inches, tail six inches and reminded me of the good old times and catches we used to have many years ago with our almighty good friend, "Billy Soule." Mr. Hall had a great fight with his trout as he forgot to take his net with him and called George McKinney to help him. The same thing happened last June when William Walton of Philadelphia, Penn., was in the same predicament. He had made a few casts when he hooked a 4½ pound trout and as it was growing dark and he had no net, he yelled with all his might, "George, George, come and help me."

Mr. George McKinney has a good set of camps, a fine truck garden and his wife, who is a good hostess, sets a fine table.

Deer are seen daily on the shores of the pond and it is no uncommon thing to see half a dozen or so feeding on the shores of the pond during a few hours of fishing.

"For round about both far and near, Are streams for trout and woods for deer."

"Old Sport."

When You Want a Thing Done RIGHT, Do It YOURSELF

Real tobacco flavor depends upon the leaf being preserved in its natural state, possible only by pressing the leaves into plug form and keeping it in by covering it with a natural leaf wrapper. The natural flavor and strength of tobacco escape when cut or granulated.

Take a Plug of Sickle that is even thoroughly dried out so that when you whittle it off it crumbles into dust, but it will burn and smoke smooth and cool as it has all of its original tobacco flavor preserved, unevaporated in Plug Form.

Whittling a pipeful is little trouble, amply repaid in both quality and quantity. Try this experiment and judge for yourself.

OUR FIRST NIGHT IN A TENT

Vacation Stories, Number 3

(Special Correspondence.)

Scranton, Pa., June 1915.—Camping out was a new experience to my wife and I, and our little daughter, but the "flavor" of the Maine woods had drifted to us in our city home and we determined to try our hand at it. I knew of a beautiful creek where the trout leap joyously and "rise" to the hook when in a hungry mood so we got the little family together, hitched up old Dobbin—our Ford touring car—and started on a trip into the camping region. Our outfit was rather bulky but what kind of a stunt cannot a Ford get around? At any rate we found room in that car for everything we could possibly want. We had heard stories of a Ford car turning three somersaults, down a steep bank, being set right again, and starting on its way as if nothing had happened, so we pinned our faith to our little touring car and followed our compass north into the Pine Tree State.

We spent two or three hours upon the camping ground after we arrived, setting up the tent, arranging our sleeping quarters, and preparing supper. Then, we sat under our porch tent roof, and listened to the sound of the brook as it rippled and splashed over the rocks and pebbles on its way to a large river. In the growing twilight we saw a trout leap now and then, in some still pool, and my arm began to twitch for I loved to hold the limber rod, and cast the tempting fly for brother trout to swallow, hook and all.

"I believe that campfire is making me drowsy," murmured my wife. "And I am sure I am ready to turn in," I replied, "for I'm tired to death." We soon crawled under our woolen blankets, and found a comfortable sleeping place on our patented canvas camp bed. This waterproof bed was eighty-four inches in length and just the width of the tent—seven and one-half feet. The canvas was thirty five cents a yard, and was made of three strips of the cloth, stitched together; a one and one-half inch hem on the selvedge edges, a foot hem on the cut edges. An awning maker stitched the bed as directed, with double lines of stitching of strong tan shoe-thread, and put four grommets into each side for ropes, for the price of sixty cents. Through the foot-hems we put large cut poles about eight inches thick; into these poles we fitted two smaller poles to keep the canvas from collapsing; also two similar poles were fitted into these large poles to divide the bed into three sections, and came just beneath the canvas.

"I stuffed all these waterproof bag with hemlock boughs," said my wife,

"and they make pretty good pillows, don't they?"

"Sure," I assented "and we can use them again for carrying baggage." The waterproof canvas bed was the cover for our blankets when strapped onto the automobile. My wife objected to the prolonged song of the whip-o-will but the sound of the brook soon put her into dreamland. The little daughter fell asleep prophesying great fun on the morrow, and finally, I fastened the latch strings of our portable house, and sought my section with relief. The cold, still moonlight night seemed to hover over our little home like a protecting angel, and our first night in a tent was a vastly more delightful experience than we had anticipated. When we awoke at early dawn the sun shone in upon us, after we lifted the side curtain, and the brilliant sparkling brook, in plain view, was a picture never to be forgotten.

FAMOUS BASS FISHING IN JULY

Salmon Fishermen Predominate and Are Having Good Fishing

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Packard's Camps, Sebec Lake, Me.—Fishing continues very good at this resort, the bass are rising to the fly in great shape, and good sport is being had by the two lone bass fishermen that are at the camps.

The salmon fishermen predominate and are having good luck. Mr. E. W. Coburn of Roxbury, Mass., has caught 22 salmon the past week, the largest weighing four pounds. Mr. W. M. Phillips of New York City with Walter Arnold, guide, caught six salmon in one day's fishing, the largest weighing five and one-fourth pounds. This fish was a fighter and it took 35 minutes to bring him to the net.

Mr. M. B. Spensley of Baltimore, Md., has caught 18 salmon the past week. Walter D. Greene of New York City is making good catches, and Mr. S. B. Fowler of Boston catches just what he wants served at his own table. Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Rideout of Boston, also have some good fish to their credit, and Mr. Edward A. Selliez of Philadelphia, is whipping the small ponds with his flies and is having good luck catching square tail trout.

Many fishermen are booked for the first three weeks in July for the famous salmon and bass fishing that is always to be had at Sebec Lake in July.

LURE OF THE OPEN.

You know the way it gets you 'til
You can not work or rest
Because the call of out-of-doors
Makes tumult in your breast.

It gets you at the office and
It follows you right home,
This whisper of the springtime that
Invites you forth to roam.

Where little streams are laughing down
Through wooded dells to make
The world more rich with music e'er
They vanish in the lake.

And dancing waves are waiting to Bear forth your bark canoe
To where the noon-day campfire smoke
Floats upward to the blue.

These are the things which haunt your heart,
And hundreds more you know,
Make up the call that summons you
To just break loose and go.

FRED S. TOMLIN WINS NEW JERSEY STATE TITLE.

By winning the Individual State Championship Cup on June 5th, Fred S. Tomlin of Penn's Grove, N. J., put the finishing touches on his phenomenal shooting records at the three-day tournament of the New Jersey State Sportsmen's Association over the traps of the Smith Gun Club of Newark. The competition was keen in the championship contest throughout. Tomlin, shooting Nitro Club shells, scored 97 out of a possible 100, while C. B. Pratt and F. Hineane, both using the same brand of shells, took second and third places, with scores of 96x100 and 95x100, respectively.

EVERYTHING LOVELY AT GREAT POND

Former Warden Dies Very Suddenly.

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Great Pond, June 22.—Isn't it great to be the editor of anything as fine as the "Maine Woods" are now! The dainty shades of green have given place to the darker, heavier shades; the blossoms have gone and give promise of abundant fruit when the trees are garbed in their green and gold. It is all so quiet and lovely here it is hard to realize the suffering and desolation in foreign lands.

Everything is going on the same. Automobiles are coming and going with their jolly fishing parties.

Edgar McIninch is entertaining a party of friends at Camp Snuggery at Brandy pond.

T. H. McIninch and wife are taking a walking trip of a week up river Mrs. Ella McPhee is keeping house for them.

Mr. Guy Patterson is building an extension to his "We-Suit-U Camps," Great pond. Eugene Foster of Amherst is carpenter Mrs. Foster chef.

Miss Inez Williams has been in Brewer to attend the graduation of her cousin, Miss Arabel M. Rowe.

Mr. Blanding, who is somewhat of a naturalist, has released his salamander and adopted a turtle.

Deer have been seen in the field quite near the house several times.

This community was shocked by the sudden passing of John Laughlin. As he was coming down Great Pond from one of his trips in the woods, quite near the shore he fell from the canoe lifeless; probably heart failure. Mr. Laughlin was warden for some years.

GEORGE W. YORK, FORMER M. C. TREASURER, DIES SUDDENLY.

George W. York, who retired from the position of treasurer of the Maine Central only about a month ago, died suddenly last week at his home in Portland Mr. York has not been in good health for a long time past and this was the reason for his retirement from the position he has held for so many years. Nevertheless, it is not thought that he realized that his end was so near. He went to the Maine General Hospital a short time ago for what he thought was a trifling difficulty and was supposed to be well over it.

Mr. York was a native of Portland and all his business life was passed in the employment of the Maine Central in the financial department. He was graduated from the Portland high school 43 years ago and almost immediately became a clerk in the old Maine Central offices on Commercial street. He gradually rose through the different grades in the office until at the retirement of J. A. Linscott from the position of treasurer some 22 years ago, he was appointed to the vacancy.

He was a member of the old Portland Cadets and of numerous clubs, including the Cumberland club, the Portland Yacht club and the Elks. He was also a member of the Masonic fraternity. Mr. York is survived by Mrs. York, who has lived in Denver, Col., for some years owing to the condition of her health, which made it impossible for her to remain in this climate in cold weather and by two brothers F. H. York and Frank W., who succeeded him as treasurer of the Maine Central on his recent retirement. He was a man of most lovable character and had a host of friends everywhere who will be greatly shocked to learn of his sudden demise.

Vice President Hobbs in speaking of him said he found Mr. York in the office when he came to the Maine Central and that he had come to admire him both as an official and as a man. He was scrupulously exact in his official duties, with his work always strictly up to date and absolutely accurate. As a man he found him possessed of most lovable qualities and he expressed his deep regret first in his retirement from the position he has held so long and then in his sudden demise so shortly afterward.

Rev. Howard Gilpatrick Has a Narrow Escape from Death.

Rev. Howard Gilpatrick, a Congregational minister at Stratton figured in a serious automobile accident at West New Portland last week when a car which he was driving went over a bridge spanning Carrabasset stream. Rev. Mr. Gilpatrick accompanied by his wife had just crossed the bridge and started up a rise of ground, when the engine was stalled. Mrs. Gilpatrick alighted and the car which her husband was attempting to manipulate was backed between the railings of the bridge and into the stream. Fortunately however, it only partially went into the water, because of a gravel bed close under the bridge. It was a drop of about thirty feet and the machine striking on the rear, jackknifed and turned over on Mr. Gilpatrick. Willard Gagne of Skowhegan and others happened to be in the vicinity when the accident occurred consequently help was near at hand and the man was hastily removed from his precarious condition in an apparently unconscious condition. He was taken to a nearby home and a physician who chanced to be in the neighborhood, was soon on the spot. The machine was removed from the stream in pieces. Advices from New Portland indicated that the unfortunate clergyman had sufficiently recovered to go to his home.

WORCESTER MAN BECOMES INSANE

William C. Hetzel of Worcester, thought to be connected with a Massachusetts firm of contractors, was taken violently insane at the Carrying Place above Bingham, whither he had come supposedly on a vacation outing. Deputy Sheriff Thomas Collins was notified and the demented man was removed to Bingham. The village lock-up in that place did not prove strong enough to hold him, however, and he succeeded in breaking the handcuffs which had been placed on his wrists. Sheriff Thompson was notified and on Saturday the man was brought to Skowhegan by Deputy Sheriff Collins and his assistants. The officer's hands were red with blood, due to his being bitten by Hetzel, who after he was placed in the jail raved almost constantly day and night and took practically no nourishment. On Tuesday he was removed to the State Hospital for the Insane at Augusta, accompanied by Sheriff Thompson and Deputies Lashon and Foss. In preparation for the journey which was made by auto, the maniac was clothed with difficulty and kicked Sheriff Thompson before he was chained. When being driven through the town he caused something of a sensation by his shouts.

But little is known of the unfortunate man, except that he has a brother supposed to be living in New York City. Word was sent to this relative but he has not come east to make investigations. It is understood that the firm by which he was employed has written, however, to learn of his condition. Hetzel is prepossessing looking, of fine physique and great strength. He was well dressed and appeared to be even in his delirium well educated. He claimed that he was to have been married to-day, but whether this is fact or the fancy of a disordered brain has not been determined.—Independent Reporter.

FISHING FOR BASS, CAUGHT A SALMON.

One of his longed hoped for experiences was realized by Charles K. Bispham, the Philadelphia millionaire, camp owner and all round sportsman of Sebago lake, Thursday afternoon of last week shortly before dark. He was trolling for bass and hooked and landed a big salmon weighing 12½ pounds.

MADRID

June 9.

The writer was a caller at Orris Vose's camps situated in Madrid on the old Beech Hill road to Rangeley recently, and judging from the large number of sleds and other implements used in the lumbering business Mr. Vose will not have many "idle moments" for some time to come. Very noticeable was the perfect order maintained throughout the different buildings, there seemed to be a place for everything and everything in its place. Not the least of the attractions is "Happen Inn," the private camp of Mr. and Mrs. Vose, so situated that one has a view of the other camps, as well as the surrounding country. Mrs. Vose does good work with the camera and has quite a collection of pictures, among them two large loads of pulp wood hauled from Saddleback. Both were drawn by two horses, the largest hauled during the winter of 1914, measured 8 cord, 56 feet, the other hauled last winter measured 8 cord, 44 feet. I came away with the impression that Mr. Vose was not only a good business man and up-to-date in system, but ably seconded by his wife.

Sandy River Grange held a special meeting last Saturday and conferred first and second degrees on Mrs. Lydia Dunham, Arleen Dunham and Mrs. James Dunham. Several more names are to be added at the next regular meeting, July 17th. A very interesting program by the lecturer Mrs. Hattie Hinkley was much enjoyed.

Rev. M. S. Hutchins will preach at Madrid village next Sunday, July 4th, at 3 p. m. All are welcome.

Schools closed last Friday. Several pupils will take the state examination for High school at the Stowers schoolhouse, date to be announced.

F. A. Richardson was suddenly called to Boston the first of the week on business, which will detain him a part if not the whole of next week.

Seymour Berry met with a serious accident last Tuesday while working on the road. A rock which he was trying to pry out in some way slipped, throwing him several feet down an embankment, injuring a rib and shaking him up generally.

The hay crop does not seem to fulfill early predictions, and bids fair to be very light in this section.

Avoid Colds.

If you want to avoid colds in your house, watch for the first sneezes and try to keep the germs from spreading. Make the victim cough or sneeze in his handkerchief, and after the handkerchiefs are soiled put them in a special dish, cover them with water and boil them for fifteen minutes.

Arrange Pleasant Memories.

It is a witty and a keen saying that "pleasant memories must be arranged for in advance." The way to have a happy road to look back over is to make it happy as one travels along, by doing kindly and loving things, and by recognizing all the possible opportunities for cheer and courage.

How Could He?

A physician says freedom from worry is essential to the treatment of locomotor ataxia. But a man who could keep free from worry with locomotor ataxia could recover from an amputated head without treatment.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Got In Wrong in the End.

They're so particular about the English that is used in one of New York's big high schools that it is considered quite as much of a disgrace for a boy to make use of a slang expression in the classroom as it is for him to stick pins in his teacher's chair—and get caught at it. Part of the plan to discourage boys in the use of slang is to have them write essays on their daily conversation. One boy of fourteen turned in a really well-written essay which was surprisingly free of grammatical errors and totally devoid of slang. At the end, however, he offered this: "The majority of people, after all, who do use slang, are low-brows and roughnecks."

Explanation of Boundary.

Why the northern boundary of Delaware should have been circular in form is often a source of wonderment. It came about in this way: After William Penn had obtained a grant of Pennsylvania he was desirous of owning the land on the west bank of the Delaware to the sea. He procured from the duke of York, in 1682, a release of all his titles and claims to Newcastle and 12 miles around it, and to the land between this tract and the sea. A line that was the arc of a circle of a 12-mile radius was then run with Newcastle as a center. When the three "lower counties" on the Delaware became a state they retained this boundary.

Mountainous Greece.

Greece is extremely mountainous, the only plain region worthy of the name being found in Thessaly. In this province is a large quantity of undeveloped water power, furnished by torrents which sweep through the plains in the rainy season, doing great damage, their course for the remainder of the year being marked by dry ravines.

Owing to the extreme modesty of the young proprietor it was not possible to secure his picture to give with this sketch. He is the son of Eben and Mary Ella McLaughlin Rowe and was born in Rangeley in December, 1880. His early education was secured in the public schools of Rangeley, supplemented by a year at Wilton Academy. His first occupation was as clerk at the Big Store, where he was employed seven years during his stay. He next entered the employ of G. A. Proctor, whose business he purchased after working for him 11 months.

Aside from his business, Mr. Rowe is something of a joiner. He is a member of the Rangeley F. B. church and clerk of the same; president of Franklin County Sunday School Association and supt. of the local Sunday school. He is also prominent in fraternal circles, being a charter member of Kemankeag Lodge F. & A. M. No. 213; Oquossoc Lodge K. of P.; Entwistle Lodge I. O. O. F.; Oquossoc Grange and Sons of Veterans. He is also manager of Evergreen cemetery and town treasurer.

In June 1901, he married Miss Ida Huntoon and they are both prominent in social and musical circles, Mr. Rowe being skillful at both the piano and cornet. They have one son, Kenwood.

Through courtesy, perseverance and industry he is able to occupy the place which he holds in the community and his many friends wish for him the best of success. He is also something of an automobile enthusiast and when the cares of business will permit enjoys long trips in his Buick car.

All excepting the interlocutor and pianist were well made up to impersonate colored folk. For the time being these were named Tambo and Bones "end men" and "discomposers of polkry," "Verbena," "Carnation" "Arabella" soprano soloists. "Dinah and Rosie" interlocutists, the interlocutor and "Tambo" whistling soloists. These artists (?) were supported and assisted by "Pansy," whose baby was "a regular carbon copy of its father." Susanna, whose husband "will never marry again, even if she should die," Miss Jones who didn't want to pay five dollars a dozen for a picture of only nine children and the cute little pickaninnies, Topsy and Lily White, in their song and dance and excellent acting. The following is the program:

should be no more expensive than the traffic warrants, and the materials of which the road is constructed must be suited to the traffic.

Cobble stones are good roads for heavy drayage and asphaltum pavements are excellent for pleasure vehicles, but they are certainly not interchangeable in usage. It would be as foolish in many cases to have an asphaltum pavement on a country road, as a dirt street in the busy traffic district of a city.

Too often people lose sight of the repairs needed in order to keep roads good, and that is not done without expense. In fact, the maintenance and depreciation charges are usually greater for good roads than for ordinary roads, but good roads are worth the extra expense, and they are, therefore, good business.

Many people speak of the surface of a good road as though it were an arch which must support the weight of traffic, but the chief concern in properly constructed good roads is the wear on the road surface material, caused by the grinding action of wheels and the suction action of rapidly moving automobile tires, which remove the fine dust and binding materials, exposing the coarser and more compact material.

Macadam, one of the most famous road builders, laid down three rules for making a good road: (1) Good Drainage, (2) Better Drainage, (3) Still Better Drainage; or, in other words, "A good road has a tight roof and a dry cellar." Proper drainage to prevent water from getting into the road from beneath and a good surface to cause the rainfall to run off before entering the foundation, will insure a good road, because a well-packed earth foundation will sustain the weight of ordinary country traffic without breaking through. If the surface is not preserved, the foundation of the road will be damaged, and this applies to dirt as well as rock roads, for in many cases we find that earth roads are the most advisable kind of good roads and all that the traffic wants.

It is necessary to keep the roof tight. Do not allow holes to remain in the road surface, for if they are not repaired the water will collect in them and run through into the foundation, causing "chuck holes."

PUTTING CHICAGO ON THE SHOOTING MAP.

By Al Blanco.

One of the best indoor rifle and revolver shooting competitions which has taken place in the Middle West in recent years was the Second Annual Rifle and Revolver Tournament of the Sportsmen's Club of America, held at the White City Stadium, Chicago, from May 29th to June 6th.

While the shooting matches were directly under the auspices of the Sportsmen's Club of America, in connection with the Second Annual Sportsmen's Carnival, the competitions belonged to the Chicago Shooting Association and the Illinois State Revolver Association.

The leading spirit, and the man responsible for the success of the tournament, for a success it certainly proved to be, was Capt. Edward Bittel, whose indefatigable efforts to make the tournament successful could bring no other result. Assisting Capt. Bittel was Mr. John Turner, one of the best rifle shots in the State of Illinois.

The program was a varied one and included all kinds of shooting beginning with the high school boy, taking in the civilian rifle shot, the revolver enthusiast, the police, and last, but not least, the ladies.

The range was an impromptu affair, but it really proved to be a permanent and practical arrangement. About a dozen targets with trolley arrangement for sending and receiving targets were used with much success.

The bad weather rather dampened the start of the shooting, but with the beginning of good weather, the first of the week, the shooting platform was crowded afternoon and evening.

Among the noted rifle and revolver men present was Col. W. H. Whigham, president of the United States Revolver Association, who, in the writer's presence, recorded a score of 97 out of the possible 100 with the revolver at 60 feet. It was a pretty bit of championship shooting.

With the arrival of Alfred P. Lane from New York, interest in the revolver shooting was quickened and a number of prominent shooters came to the range solely with the object in view of watching Mr. Lane perform. It will be recalled that Mr. Lane was the only contestant in the Olympic games of 1912 who won three gold medals and who now holds the championship of the world for revolver shooting.

Mr. W. P. Northcott, one of the prominent local shooters, demonstrated his ability to shoot the revolver in championship form by taking a high place in several of the matches.

Sergt. Werner, of the Chicago police, shot very well in the pocket revolver matches.

Probably the most prominent rifleman present from the Middle West, was Mr. C. T. Westergaard, who ranks among the foremost in Scheutzen rifle shooting in that section. Mr. Westergaard is a wonderful off-hand shot and ranks with the foremost riflemen in America. His ability to shoot in the sitting and lying down positions was well demonstrated by his high score for the Individual Championship of Chicago.

Another of the rifle shooters of note was Mr. Walter Wolff, of the Centennial Rifle and Revolver Club, who has done some very fine shooting in the Short Range League matches, both indoors and outdoors.

Along the ladies, the honors for high score rested between Mrs. Bittel and Mrs. Wolff. These ladies were the center of interest and their good shooting was the subject of favorable comment.

High school boys were much in evidence throughout the shooting, indicating that Chicago is gradually awakening to the fact that rifle shooting may some day become a part of the schoolboy's education.

It was the writer's privilege to meet, for the first time, a number of the prominent pistol, revolver and rifle shooters of the Middle West, and, without any mental reservations, can say that these men are good sportsmen in every sense of the word.

The arrangements for handling the shooting were superb, and too much praise cannot be bestowed upon Capt. Bittel—a thorough gentleman and a good sportsman. The committee is to be congratulated upon initiating a series of rifle shooting matches which should greatly stimulate the sport of shooting in Chicago and its vicinity. Other large centers might well emulate the example set by the sportsmen of the Windy City.

The shooting came to a conclusion on Sunday, June 6, and the tournament will go down in history as being the best that has ever been held in the Middle West.

Just So.

MUCH INTEREST IN BALL TEAM

Week-End Pullman Bids Fair to be Very Popular This Summer.

(Special Correspondence.)

Mooselookmeguntic House, Haines Landing, June 27.—Everyone forgot about fishing and talked base ball for the last few days, and owing to the efforts of Frank Fuller, the energetic manager of the Mooselookmeguntic team, a game was arranged with the Strong boys on Saturday, June 26, on their own grounds. At high noon several automobiles left the "Landing," loaded with players and "rooters." After a delightful ride through the mountains via Madrid and Phillips, Strong was reached and the game started. The Mooselookmeguntic boys were leaders from the start, and held the game down until the last half of the ninth inning when the Strong boys made two runs. The rooting was vigorous for both teams and had the game been a closer one, it would have been a "hot" one. The game closed with a score 10 to 2 in favor of the Mooselookmeguntic team, and the following is the batting list: O'Brien, 3 b.; Levesque, p.; Bearce, 2 b.; Cameron, 1 b.; Fuller, c.; P. Thomas, c. f.; D. Niles, l. f.; M. Thomas, r. f.; G. Pillsbury, s. s. As the Mooselookmeguntic team have won four games out of five this season, we have just cause to be proud of the record. In the near future Strong will come to Rangeley and we hope to see "Our Boys" trim them again.

Mrs. J. B. Burns, who, with Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Page is now living in Jamaica Plains, Mass., is passing a few days here.

Dr. F. A. Hayden was here for over Sunday, long enough to greet old friends and promise to return in July for a longer stay.

Dr. C. M. Bisbee and Geo. G. Brown of Rumford, with Dick O'Brien had some good fishing the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Peaslee and son Waldo D., came across the lakes from Upton and made a short stay at this hotel. While with C. C. Murphy of Rangeley, Mr. Peaslee was looking after the Coe estate, which includes thousands of acres of land in this part of the state.

Prof. and Mrs. J. Kelley of New York were so much fascinated with log cabin life, they have returned for their third season, and with Frank Fall guide, the next day after their arrival, came in with a 5-pound salmon and expect to land others over 3 pounds before they go home.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Bartlett of Boston and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Dudley of Concord, N. H., while on an automobile trip to the Rangeleys greatly enjoyed several days in camp here and with Geo. York guide, Mr. Dudley landed a 4½ pound salmon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest H. Grant of Wellesley Farms, Mass., who are at Packard's Camp with Fred Fowler guide, have had a jolly good time on a camping trip up Cupsuptic stream the last few days.

Lieut. and Mrs. Charles B. Amory, Jr., of U. S. A. are much pleased with this, their first visit and in one of the camps near the hotel are greatly enjoying log cabin life.

Miss Cecil Brown's sister, Mrs. W. H. Corliss and Miss Eva Corliss of Lynn, Mass., are here for their annual visit.

Another party from Lynn, W. Howard Hutchinson and son, Stanley came last evening for a ten days' trip.

It is not often such a severe hail storm is known in this section as was watched with interest for half an hour this afternoon, when the hailstones larger than beans fell until the ground and wharf were white as in mid-winter, but later the sun came out and there was a beautiful sunset.

We are sorry to learn that Mrs. H. L. Welch has been very ill the past week and is being cared for by Miss Maud Soule, a trained nurse from Rangeley.

One of the evening pleasures at this hotel is the musical. Miss Corliss plays the piano, Miss Brown the violin and Prof. and Mrs. Kelley are both fine singers.

The tennis court is now being rolled and made ready for those who play the game.

The week-end Pullman, that leaves Boston Friday evening and reaches Ogunosoc in time for breakfast Saturday morning at any of the hotels, and returns Sunday night, taking one back in time for business on Monday morning, is to be a very popular train this summer, as the first train of last Sunday proved.

FISHING NEWS FROM NORTHERN MAINE

Bangor, Me., June 25, 1915.

Camp Fairview, Shinn Pond, Patten, Me., E. F. Fowler, Propr.—The fishing has been extra good at the above resort for trout and salmon. The largest trout, a four pounder was taken by Mr. Charles Henry of Westboro, Mass. Mr. John W. Fairbanks was among the early fishermen and Charles E. Newton made his seventeenth visit to camp, and both had their usual good luck. Guests in camp at the present time are Mr. W. D. Allen, Frankfort, N. Y.; Mr. A. Tine, Utica, N. Y., with Irving Myrick as guide; W. D. Jones, Utica, N. Y., and F. J. Tine with Sol Gonier, guide; P. W. Johnson, Lynn, Mass.; H. M. Beverly and Henry Turner, Ayer, Mass.; Tat Peary guide are at the Jerry Pond Camps. Fly fishing has been good for the past two weeks, a two-pound trout and one and one-half pound salmon giving good sport to the proprietor. Mr. Tine and party have brought in one four-pound salmon, one three-pounder and three smaller and two good trout.

Hook Point Camps, W. W. Sewall, Propr., Island Falls, Me.—The fishing for trout and pickerel is very good at these camps, several parties having got over 100 at a catch. The son of the proprietor, got one trout that was 18 inches long and weighed 3½ pounds, and another man came back to camp with 45 fine trout, and everybody reports good luck. Pickerel also seem plentiful and of good size; one was taken near the camps that weighed over 3 pounds. There are also plenty of bass and perch to be caught as soon as the law is off.

Camp Phoenix, Sourdahunk Lake, Chas. A. Daisey, Propr.—This famous fishing resort has been up to its usual high standard this spring, many fine catches of square tail trout being taken daily. Among the earlier fishermen at Camp Phoenix were, F. E. Sturdy and O. P. Richardson of Attleboro, Mass.; Guy C. Haynes, Norcross, guide; Geo. L. Hurd, Providence, R. I., Sonny Francis, guide; Rudolph Leibroek and Dr. A. B. Sherburne, Portsmouth, N. H., Chas. A. Daisey, guide. All of these fishermen report excellent fishing.

Hunt's Kidney Pond Camps, I. O. Hunt, Propr.—Fishing is reported excellent at these camps. Among the early fishermen are Frederick B. Hyde and Mrs. Hyde of Washington, D. C.; the Knickerbocker party of Greenfield, Mass., and F. P. Sherwood of New York City.

Camp Uno, Chas. H. Collins, Propr., Rainbow Lake, Norcross, Me.—Fishing in Rainbow Lake is up to its usual high standard this season, and many nice large trout are being taken on the fly.

Camp Ketchum, H. V. Iredell, Propr., Norcross, Me.—Many large catches of large and small square tail trout and togue are reported from this camp, (one of the prettiest spots in the Maine woods). The earliest fishermen were Y. Vandenburg, New York City, A. T. Cummings, Boston, who speak in the highest praise for the genial proprietor.

All other camps and well known haunts, reached from Norcross, are doing equally as well this year. Many good catches of togue, square tail trout and some salmon are being taken in abundance on Third Debsonag Lake this year. A good set of camps run by Sam'l. N. Smith and Fred D. Spencer both of Norcross, are located on this pretty sheet of water, which, by the way, is an ideal home for the whole trout family, being very deep and clear.

Packard's Camps, Sebec Lake, Me.—Conditions on Sebec Lake for the past week have been perfect in every way for the fishermen. The bass have been rising to the fly in good shape and the trolling for salmon has been good enough to satisfy anyone but a fish hog. E. E. Rideout of Boston, is having good luck on the small brooks catching trout, while Mrs. Rideout employs her time casting her flies among the boulders along the rocky points and deep coves of Sebec Lake, and many an old inhabitant of those secluded places has darted from his hiding place at the feathered lure and been made to put up the fight of his life before coming to the net. Mrs. Rideout is a true fisherwoman and kills only what bass she wants served at her own table in camp. Mr. E. W. Coburn of Roxbury, Mass., has made the record catch of landlocked salmon at Sebec Lake. In 25 days' fishing, he has caught 261 salmon, the smallest weighing one and three-fourths pounds and the largest weighing five and one-half pounds, and there were many fish in this lot that weighed three and one-half pounds each. All these fish were caught on a single hook with live bait, and only a small percentage were killed. Mr. Samuel B. Fowler of Boston is enjoying the pleasant days on the lake and in the woods, but refuses to catch any fish that he does not want to eat. N. B. Spensley of the U. S. S. Vestal, is having good luck trolling, and brings in a good catch every day. A. N. Stowe of Dorchester, Mass., was at the camp for a few days and had good fishing, but made no record catches. Charles E. Cawl and Louis V. Elbert of New York City, came through to camp in their car. Their best one day's catch was nine salmon, the largest weighing four pounds. Edwin Pratt and Mr. Childs of New York have just arrived at the camps. Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Greene of New York City are making good catches each day. A number of well known fishermen and their wives are due to arrive this week and stay for the good fishing that is always to be had at Sebec Lake the first of July.

WATERFOWL KILLE BYD ALKALI

Fresh Water Said to Be Only Known
Remedy for Strange Malady

Washington, D. C., June 1915.—The strange malady which has been killing wild ducks by thousands in the marshes around the Great Salt Lake each year, seems to be caused by an alkaline poison, according to a preliminary report of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's investigators. Fresh water is believed to be the only remedy yet discovered.

As the flats around Great Salt Lake dry after high water, salts and alkalis crystallize on the surface of the ground. When light rains form pools on the flats, or when a steady wind blows the water across the dry barrens, the soluble salts are taken up by the water. Duck and other waterfowl are eager to feed on the newly flooded lands and imbibing these salts and alkalis are poisoned and die.

The quantity of water which has reached the lake through the Bear, Weber, and Jordan rivers has been greatly reduced within the past 15 years, and in consequence stagnant pools have formed over large sections of this region. In these pools the alkalis and salts leached from the soil by irrigation are frequently deposited. In dry seasons the conditions become much worse and the number of poisoned birds is enormous.

The remedy for the situation which is killing vast numbers of waterfowl and affecting not only the region around the Great Salt Lake, but the abundance of birds elsewhere, is to prevent the formation of stagnant water. At the mouth of the Jordan River there are only two points—the Mallard Holes and the Duck Puddles—where under normal conditions stagnation should occur. At the mouth of the Weber River, however, the situation is more difficult. The birds elect to use the shallow flats along the north channel and it is probable that less than 10 per cent of those that gather there at the end of the summer are alive at the beginning of the shooting season, October 1. If the north channel were ditched and the water thus prevented from spreading on the shallows, the ducks would be driven to use the better drained south channel and conditions would undoubtedly improve. When the irrigation dams are opened in September and there is an abundance of water, the north channel flats could be flooded again in order to attract the birds for the fall shooting.

A still more serious problem are the extensive flats at the mouth of the Bear River. The area is too large to make drainage practicable, and the only solution appears to be to increase the water supply during July, August, and September. It has been suggested that if more water were allowed to pass the irrigation dams across Bear River, reservoirs might be established and a supply of fresh water obtained for the summer months.

In the absence of such means of relief it is recommended that men be stationed on the marshes to gather up the sick birds and pen them on fresh water. So many birds might be saved in this way that it seems the results would justify the comparatively slight expense. Some 586 ducks were brought into the Duckville Gun Club in a little more than a month, and of these, 73 per cent recovered. By separating the weak birds from the others it is probable that the percentage of recoveries could be greatly increased. It is also possible that the birds which have recovered may become more or less immune to the poison. In order to obtain information on this point, aluminum bands were placed upon the 270 of the birds which were released last year, each band bearing the inscription "Notify the U. S. Department of Agriculture." Anyone finding one of these banded birds is requested to report it to the Department. The investigations are being continued this season both with a view of confining the findings of last year and of suggesting preventive measures.

HIGH SCORES MARK TWO STATE SHOOTING.

C. H. Reilley, Jr., of Salt Lake, on May 28th, and A. J. French of Watertown, on June 3d, won the State Championships of Utah and South Dakota, respectively. Reilley, shooting Nitro Club shells, broke all but one of his quota of 100 targets, while French, using the same brand of shells, scored 98x100 in the championship event. By very consistent scoring, Reilley also led the field of amateurs on all targets for the entire shoot, with 383 breaks out of a possible 400 to his credit.

A New Questions and Answers Department of Interest to Shooters

FOLLOWING THE SHOOTING SPORT IN CHICAGO.

A short time ago I spent a few days in Chicago in attendance upon the Rifle and Revolver Tournament of the Sportsmen's Club of America. It was my first visit to that city and I fell in love with the place at once.

Chicago has a very live aggregation of shooting enthusiasts who are doing everything possible to boost the sport of shooting in all its branches.

I have always noticed that when a sporting goods dealer spends a little time and trouble on his shooting customers, the interest in the game is considerably stimulated. The Chicago dealers have given some thought to the "service" part of their business, which is undoubtedly quite a help to the shooters who have been and are working to advance the shooting game with such promising results.

Chicago is to be congratulated on a very successful tournament.

R. W. J., Brooklyn, N. Y.

After a shoot at the traps, I want to clean my gun and put it away for two weeks or more. How do I do it? I have been using smokeless of the generic brand covered by the name "Dupont."

"A" replies to use hot water—follow with 3 in 1 Oil.

"B" replies to use a dry brass cleaner and 3 in 1 Oil.

"C" replies to use a dry brass cleaner and vaseline.

"D" replies to use ammonia and vaseline.

"E" replies to use kerosene, followed by ammonia and 3 in 1 Oil.

"F" replies to use turpentine and followed with vaseline.

(Now if I were using the good reliable old black powder I would not have to ask for I have barrels—both rifle and gun—in perfect condition. One a birthday present in 1869. The six answers I have quoted are real, and each one claimed that the solvent used by the others positively injured the bore of the gun. My own experience has led me to think that dry cleaning or hot water did it satisfactorily.

Ans. The best method of cleaning a shotgun barrel is by using a good nitro solvent oil and a brass cleaner such as the Tomlinson or a wire bristle cleaner. If the barrel is scrubbed out with a brass cleaner soaked with a nitro solvent oil (plain oil is not satisfactory) then rub dry with rags, and again thoroughly oiled with a nitro solvent oil, the barrel may be left two weeks or very much longer without chance of rust. Use a nitro solvent oil. Do not use a plain oil or a nitro solvent which is not also a lubricant.

FOR MOTHERS

Hints on Child Welfare

Every proud mother likes to see her children strong, well and happy. The way to have pride in your children is to train them to good habits of body, as well as of mind. Teach them cleanliness; tell them that fresh water, pure air and sunshine are as good for them as for birds, flowers and trees. Don't give children medicine unless they need it. When they do require something for their bowels or stomach, you can safely give them "L. F." Atwood's Medicine. Many mothers have learned to have confidence in it, because when they were children their mothers gave it to them. A dependable household remedy, used for over sixty years in thousands of families.

Would like to have some information on the following cartridge used with Colts New Service and .44 Smit & Wesson Special Revolvers, such as the accurate range and penetration of the .44-40, .45 Colts and .44 S. & W. Special cartridges in the above named revolvers. If you do not have the information, possibly some of the readers may have information on this subject. Also how does the .44 Special Smith & Wesson Revolver compare with the .45 Colts New Service using same length of barrel?

Ans. The .44 S. & W. Special: Ballistics: Muzzle velocity 737 ft. seconds, muzzle energy, 296 ft. lbs. .44-40 muzzle velocity 1028 ft. seconds, muzzle energy, 469 ft. lbs.

.45 Colt, muzzle velocity 800 ft. seconds, muzzle energy, 354 ft. lbs. The choice between the various arms is of course a matter of personal preference.

A. F., Los Angeles, Cal.

1. What governs the number of grooves, the twist of rifling and the depth and width of rifling grooves?

Ans. The velocity of the bullet, the weight of the bullet; its sectional density and the material of which it is made.

2. What is the relation of the twist to the velocity, energy, trajectory, accuracy, range, penetration and recoil?

Ans. Twist has nothing to do with the velocity, energy, trajectory, range, penetration or recoil, providing it is anywhere near right. The twist must be such that it will spin the bullet fast enough to keep it point on but not so fast that it will wobble.

3. Why does the 25-35 cartridge require one turn in eight?

Ans. As in answer to question one there are a number of factors that determine this. A long small calibre bullet with high velocity requires a much faster twist than a short stubby bullet at low velocity.

4. Why is the 30-30 Winchester one in 12 and the 30-30 Savage and Marlin one in ten?

Ans. Two different makers who make rifles to handle the same cartridge do not necessarily use the same twist. Slight changes in twist frequently have practically no effect one way or the other on the shooting qualities of a cartridge.

5. Why is the 32-40 one in 16 for all arms and why such a difference from the 30-30?

Ans. See answer to question 3.

J. B. J., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Can you tell me if dampness in a closet caused by plaster sweating in a new house will effect paper shells and cartridges in boxes after one month? I opened the closet and found mould on shoes, belts and holsters and some rust on rifles. Living in the city I have no place to try them out. Would you advise getting a new supply before going into the woods this fall?

Ans. There is always a chance that the dampness will have a bad effect on the paper shells through swelling the paper so that they will not fit into the chamber. Metallic ammunition is not effected by dampness. It might be better to be on the safe side and get new shotgun shells. Your metallic ammunition if of a reliable make is O. K.

THE PLACE FOR REJUVENATION

Accomplished Young Ladies to Spend Vacation Here

(Special Correspondence.)

Mountain View, Rangeley Lake, June 26.—"Just the place I have long been looking for. This must be the region to build up bodily and to refresh mentally all who seek rejuvenation in the life out of doors," was the way a new comer expressed his first impression of the Mountain View House. Frank Cavalli, a New Yorker, after an absence of four years declares that, "In all my travels in this and far away lands I have found no more home-like and attractive spot, and I am glad to be back again and enjoy the piscatorial life of which the Europeans have no conception and in no spot on the other side did I find, except in Finland, where trout and salmon can be caught as well as in the Rangeleys." Everyone is delighted to meet Mr. Cavalli again and during the summer he will be joined by Mrs. Cavalli, who has been in Germany for the last four years with her daughters to perfect their musical education, and on account of the war were compelled to leave last October. Miss Katharine is now an accomplished violinist, who has taken lessons of Theo. Spiering, one of the greatest teachers known, who, on account of the war, returned to America. It will be a great pleasure for her old friends again to hear the young lady draw the bow. Miss Louise Cavalli is a pianist of great ability and the coming of these charming and talented young ladies promises much to those who are guests of this hotel.

Stealing the wild flowers that are found in great variety in this location is one of the pastimes that many now enjoy and the camps are decorated from nature's garden.

Paul Fera of New York was the first of the week joined by his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. Schemmerhorn and son Howard, who are as much delighted with this region as Mr. Fera, who on account of business, had to return home to-day, but hopes to return later in the season.

Mrs. R. S. Barnhart of Grand Rapids, Mich., who came in May, her daughter, Miss Harriet and son, Stanley accompanying her, were to-day joined by her son, Willard Barnhart 2nd., of Yale 1918, and other members of the family are coming later. The party are looking forward to their first summer of camp life in the Rangeleys with great pleasure.

Day, Bradford, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Kinsman, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Penny, Augusta, Me.; Dr. John R. Paxton, New York City; C. H. Wyman, Dexter, Me.; C. F. Bulfinch, Mrs. Mabel Dearbon, Arthur Connor, Lynn, Mass.; J. H. Haley, Hartland, Me.; W. E. Lunt, Lisbon, Me.; H. C. Bell, Brunswick.

LARGE FISH ARE CAUGHT AT CAPENS

(Special to Maine Woods.)

The Capens, Moosehead Lake, Capens, Me.—Some of the largest and best fish are being caught at Capens at present time.

Saturday, June 12, five square tails weighing 3 and 4 pounds each and several other fish were taken by children. Sunday, June 13, Aaron Capen caught two large salmon, one 8 pounds and 3 ounces, the other 4 pounds, both taken from the wharf, also three square tails.

On the evening of June 13th, Fred Le Francis of Cambridgeport and B. S. Agnew of New York caught two nice salmon, three square tails and four other fish.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Belknap and Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Whitten of Boston brought in 14.

TAKES ONE HOUR TO LAND SALMON

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Trout Brook Camps, Mackamp, Me.—Fly fishing at this resort has opened up in good shape. A 6-lb. pound was taken by Mr. Melanson on a fly. It took him one hour to land him as he was a fighter.

Mr. Geo. Harmount of Spokane, Wash., took a number of big ones last week.

There were some 300 trout and salmon taken at this resort, mostly on a fly last week, and indications are that this week will beat the record of last.

MASTER WILSON A GOOD ANGLER

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Outlet House & Camps, A. J. Wilson, Moosehead, Me.—Only a few fishermen here now, but plenty of fish, and nearly all good sized ones.

Those brought in on Monday, June 14th, were: Mr. John Wing, Bangor, five large trout and lakers; Miss G. L. Hammett, Troy, N. Y., five trout; Mr. J. S. Cross, Lawrence, Mass., two salmon, one weighing five lbs., and one 2½ lbs., and nine trout averaging three pounds.

Junior Wilson, eight years old, and son of the proprietor, caught a very handsome 4½ pound speckled trout off the shore in front of hotel, and two from the dam, weighing one and two pounds.

ALL AROUND THE STATE

United States Marshal John Wilson has been fishing in Moosehead and, of course, the number of trout in that body of water was materially decreased. He returned Monday night to his home in Auburn and all his friends had trout for breakfast or dinner the next day. He reports that the fish are biting well, though it goes without saying that when an expert like the marshal appears the fish swim right along and hook themselves on his line.

Warden J. Howard of Ridgelyville reports to the department of inland fisheries and game the finding of A. B. McIntire and Creston Knox of Peru. Each man paid $26.29 for catching 14 short trout in the tributary to Worthley pond.

Gov. Curtis and staff and officers from the local forts were the guests of the management at the Portland exposition Thursday evening of last week. The party made a complete tour of the show and the governor was presented with a huge "pie" containing a contribution from every exhibit.

Another Bangor woman enters the list of successful woman fishermen and lands an 11½ pound salmon, Mrs. Carl Anderson performing that feat last Sunday, being the second Bangor woman to land a fish this year. She lost a fine one before securing the big fish.

Game Warden Willis of Bath was called to Woolwich Tuesday morning by the news of the death of a buck deer which occurred under unusual circumstances. The deer was crossing the road at William Carleton's place at 5 o'clock Tuesday morning and collided with an iron gate and broke his neck. On the arrival of Game Warden Willis, the carcass was removed to Hunnewell's stable at the ferry and disposed of to parties who are fond of deer meat. It weighed nearly 100 pounds.

Warden Emery S. Bubier of Phillips reports the finding of two men for fishing in the closed inlet to Saddleback lake, Franklin county. One was fined $22 and the other $20.

THE "ONE EYE-BOTH EYES" SCRAP.

As to whether it is better to trap-shoot with both eyes open or to shut the eye not directly concerned with the sighting, seems to be a source of considerable worry to some shooters, especially beginners.

If a shooter is possessed of a pair of normal eyes, undoubtedly the proper way to sight a shotgun is to keep both eyes wide open and focused on the target in a natural and easy manner. The advantages of sighting in this way are a clear view of the entire field, including that part which would be otherwise cut off by the gun barrels, and freedom from the eye strain, which results from any unusual use of the eyes.

I should certainly advise all new shooters to learn to shoot with both eyes open, unless some actual optical defect makes it impossible. Older men, who have been shooting for a great many years with one eye sighting, will find some difficulty in changing, as constant practice will have crystallized into a second nature the habit of closing one eye. A point to be considered, however, is that you have nothing to lose by test, as it is easy enough to go back to the old system again, if necessary.—A. P. Lane in Target Tips.

"LIFE."

The poet's exclamation: "O Life! I feel thee bounding in my veins," is a joyous one. Persons that can rarely or never make it, in honesty to themselves, are among the most unfortunate. They do not live, but exist; for to live implies more than to be. To live is to be well and strong—to arise feeling equal to the ordinary duties of the day, and to retire not overcome by them—to feel life bounding in the veins. A medicine that has made thousands of people, men and women, well and strong, has accomplished a great work, bestowing the richest blessings, and that medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. The weak, run-down, or debilitated, from any cause, should not fail to take it. It builds up the whole system, changes existence into life, and makes life more abounding. We are glad to say these words in its favor to the readers of our columns.

GET RID OF HUMORS AND AVOID SICKNESS

Humors in the blood cause internal derangements that affect the whole system, as well as pimples, boils and other eruptions, and are responsible for the readiness with which many people contract disease. For forty years Hood's Sarsaparilla has been more successful than any other medicine in expelling humors and removing their inward and outward effects. Get Hood's. No other medicine acts like it.

WHY LADIES SHOULD LEARN TO SHOOT.

There are many reasons why ladies should go in for both trap and field shooting. After 31 years of nearly continuous shooting, I can truthfully say I know of no other recreation that will do so much towards keeping a woman in good health and perfect figure than a few hours spent occasionally at trap shooting, and as I am learning new stunts nearly every week, I am quite sure, providing that a woman has fairly good health and eyesight, she is never too old to learn.

Either shooting clay targets or game in the field, there is just enough exercise to do good, not to say anything about the fresh air you breathe.

Many ladies are afraid to start shooting on account of the gun kicking. If the gun is heavy enough, not overloaded and fits you properly, you will find little if any recoil. I would, however, suggest using a rubber recoil pad, fitted to the end of the stock. I heard a gentleman say a short time since that he was going to buy his wife a 20-bore and start her at the traps. He wouldn't think of using such a light gun himself and he couldn't have given her a worse handicap to begin with, for while a 20-bore is a pleasure to use on game in the field, a 12-gauge, full choke (not less than 7 1-4 pounds), is what is needed for trap shooting.

At first you should have some of your gentlemen friends, who know how it should be done, give you some instructions. If you do not care to go to some gun club, have him buy a hand-trap and throw the targets easy until you learn to break some and gain confidence. As to dress, something loose so that your every movement will be free; your shoes should have a low, flat heel, so as not to throw you forward. The hat should be wide enough to shade the eyes and fit snugly, but comfortable on the head. All your clothing while at the trap should feel part of yourself.

When you are going after a target, concentration means everything.

After the first few weeks you will find yourself looking forward to your afternoon at the gun club, where judging from my personal experience I can safely say you will be a welcome guest.—Annie Oakley in Portland Press.

Spectacles Known to Ancients.

There are evidences in ancient writings that some sort of a spectacle was used at an earlier period than that in which de Spina lived, but to what extent or with what effect is not known. WHEN HER BACK ACHES

A Woman Finds All Her Energy and Ambition Slipping Away.

Phillips women know how the aches and pains that often come when the kidneys fail make life a burden. Backache, hip pains, headaches, dizzy spells, distressing urinary troubles, are frequent indications of weak kidneys and should be checked in time. Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only. They attack kidney diseases by striking at the cause. Here's proof of their merit in a Phillips woman's words:

Mrs. Alonzo Record, Pleasant St., Phillips, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are the only medicine that ever gave me relief from backache and kidney trouble. I suffered so much that I was discouraged. I had a very lame and sore back and it was hard for me to stoop. The secretions from my kidneys were unnatural. I finally got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Preble's Drug Store and they soon relieved me. It wasn't long before I was cured."

Price 50¢, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that cured Mrs. Record. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
