SEBEC FISHING.

Excellent fishing has been enjoyed at Sebec lake the past week. Most of the fishermen have devoted their attention to the salmon pool at Wilimantic where the fish are usually caught during the first two weeks of the spring season.

FISHING AT BRYANT’S POND.

Within a week several of the summer cottages will be occupied. Those to arrive first will be the Kinsmans, Majors and Freeman families.

There is nothing discouraging here about the opening of the fishing season. Harry Crockett caught a 11½ pound salmon from our lake Wednesday. The fish measured 31½ inches in length. It was sent to Nash of Norway to be set up. Thursday Dr. C. L. Heath captured a red spot that measured 20 inches and weighed 4½ pounds. Fish are biting better this season than any year in the past. The lake has been stocked with salmon and trout for twenty years. The smelts are nearly out of the lake, making the prospect better for good fishing grounds in the future.

FISHES FROM BEDROOM.

Webster Rowe has the advantage of everybody else in Skowhegan in the matter of catching trout. A brook runs within two feet from Mr. Rowe’s house and enters into the Kennebec River. While strolling along the brook one day Mr. Rowe saw several trout in it and when he woke up the next morning he felt that he wanted some trout for breakfast. So he took his seat in the bedroom window with a fishing pole in his hand and the hook carefully baited and succeeded in landing two speckled beauties, which he and his wife had for breakfast. Then to tantalize the appetites of the citizens of Skowhegan he caught two more that were about a foot in length which he had placed in a local store window.—Express.

THE LOOKOUT SYSTEM.

Forest Commissioner Mace Believes it Saves Much Property Loss.

Forest Commissioner Mace believes that the lookout system saves much property loss by fires in the Maine woods. “I firmly believe,” said he Wednesday morning in conversation with a reporter, “that the only thing that has saved Maine from being visited by forest fires as disastrous as those that have visited Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Vermont is the prevalence of the look out system under the direction of the Maine Forestry District.

The men at the lookout station are thoroughly familiar with the geography of the district over which they are stationed and by taking regular observations every hour during the day are able to discover the fires in their very beginning and have crews of men sent out to fight them before they reach dangerous proportions.”

The forest commissioner received word Wednesday morning from Chief Warden A. B. Haynes of Norcross that a fire was in progress at the head of Pemadumcook lake in Penobscot county. Chief Wardens Haynes and Morris L. Woodman of LaGrange with a crew of 25 men are fighting the fire.

BELGRADE LAKES.

Fishing for Trout Good According to All Reports.

(Special to Maine Woods). Belgrade Lakes, Me., May 22, 1911. Just a line to let you know trout fishing is still good at Belgrade Lakes. Many fine specimens have been reported during the week, and yesterday the 21st some extra good ones were caught.

Early in the morning Leon Farnham, young son of Alger Farnham, the guide, brought in from Long lake a fine 5-lb trout.

Judge Lee and Mr. Healey, guests from Providence, R. I. took home with them last night a couple of fine trout, weighing little less than five pounds. Fred Boynton and MacKelvey guides.

J. M. Lessem reports meeting a party from Augusta in open row boats a lady in the party catching two trout weighing five pounds each. Pretty good for the lady.

Mr. Dudley at The Belgrade last week had a good catch of five fine trout, all good ones, the largest five pounds. Linnie Morrell guide.

Capt. Jorday on Friday was much pleased with his catch of a 7½-lb salmon, the largest he ever had the pleasure to capture. The captain says the bass are coming from deep water and it will soon be good fly fishing.

Herbert L. Kelley of Boston, who with four friends has been occupying his camp on the shore of Great Lake for several days returned last night with a good showing of fish.

Great Pond Fishing Association put into the stream here 30,000 salmon the past week. The association is doing all that is possible to keep the fishing good.

FISHING AT SWEET'S.

Pond Seems to Improve in Togue and Salmon Fishing.

The fishing at Sweet's Pond, New Vineyard seems to be good.

Leland Look caught five togue on Saturday that weighed 22½ pounds and was done at 10 A. M. Dissatisfied in being unable to secure a boat at Varnum's early in the week, Norris Morton, Barrett Rawsdell and Henry West, as a last resort started for Sweet's. West is named last, but is far from being last, so far as fishing for that day is concerned.

The others are all-round hunters and fishermen and can give a lot of points on the game but as it transpired Henry didn't need any.

Figuratively and literally he fished all 'round them, catching two lake trout which weighed 7½ pounds and 7 pounds 2 ounces respectively and the other got what Paddy "Shot at."

We also learned that a Farmington man caught a 6-lb salmon.

FLY ROD'S NOTE BOOK.

On the steamboat I met Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stewart one day this week. They were on their way to Forest Lodge on the carry between Middle Dam and Umbago.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Meyers of New York who have been spending the winter in California are coming to Lakeside in their automobile in a few days, and with guide Stewart and wife will spend the summer at the lodge. Frank has had Ernest Haley build him a beauty of a naphtha boat that he will put on Umbago Lake.

It is most interesting to talk with the anglers, who for nearly half a century have fished at the Rangeleys, coming here before the railroads and telegraph, and when telephone had not been invented.

Mr. W. D. Brackett of Stoneham, Mass., who is now at Upper Dam is the only person who car's his fish and keeps them alive until he is ready to start for home. His fish car is attached to his row boat and as soon as a fish is netted the hook is carefully removed and the fish put in the car where he swims about all day as they row over the lake and at night placed in a larger car, or a box of slats that is kept in deep water in a cool place near the shore.

When a fish is wanted for the table the guide kills the size ordered, and like a happy family, the others remain until Mr. Brackett is ready to go home when he kills as many as he wants, and the others are allowed their freedom. With years of experience Mr. Brackett finds the best way to pack fish is in dry moss, this he gathers soon after his arrival and puts in the ice house from which it is taken when needed and the fish packed in it are kept dry and from the air, and when given to city friends they are as hard and fresh as when first caught.

DANIEL H. TOOTHAKER.

Daniel H. Toothaker, son of Nathaniel and Sarah Hoar Toothaker was born in Rangeley Dec. 28, 1840. He was the eleventh child and the youngest son in a family of nine brothers and three sisters of whom there remains but one member, Mrs. Carrie Brackley of Phillips.

His boyhood was spent in Rangeley. Later his father moved to Phillips and Mr. Toothaker remained with his parents upon the farm until entering the army, being in the 28th Maine regiment. He returned from the war a very sick man and has always suffered from disease and lameness caused by the experiences of army life.

In 1864 he was married to Miss Rhoda A. Libby of Avon, who survives him. After living a short time in Phillips he moved to Berwick, Maine, where he has ever since resided.

To Mr. and Mrs. Toothaker were born four children. The only son died in childhood. There are living, Mrs. D. W. Scott of Dawson No. Dak., and Mrs. N. W. Randall and Grace E. of Berwick.

Mr. Toothaker has lived a life of honesty and uprightness. In a large degree has he given sympathy and helpfulness to a multitude of friends. The ties of home and kindred were exceedingly strong, through years of pain and disease his cheery nature brightened the war.

He had been for many years a member of the Free Baptist church, and was also a member of the G. A. R. and I. O. O. F.

His death occurred May 11, 1911, at his home in Berwick, where the funeral services were held Saturday, May 13th.

Keep the Balance Up.

It has been truthfully said that any disturbance of the even balance of health causes serious trouble. No body can be too careful to keep this balance up. When people begin to lose appetite, or to get tired easily, the least imprudence brings on sickness, weakness, or debility. The system needs a tonic, craves it, and should not be denied it; and the best tonic of which we have any knowledge is Hood's Sarsaparilla. What this medicine has done in keeping healthy people healthy in keeping up the even balance of health, give it the same distinction as a preventive that it enjoys as the wisdom of the old saying that a stitch in time saves nine. Take Hood's for appetite, strength, and endurance.

RANGELEY STREET SPRINKLING.

Will Money be Used for Dust or Leaves.

The town appropriated $100.00 for street watering at last town meeting. There is talk of not using the fund until fall and then make an effort to keep the leaves, falling from the trees, wet down so that they will not fly about as in former times. There is some dispute as to whether this is in accordance with the intent of the voters.

WELD POND FISHING.

Field Party Have Good Luck and Think Fishing Improving.

D. F. Field of Phillips returned from a fishing trip at Weld last Monday after having what he considered the best trip in many ways that he had enjoyed at his summer camp on the shore of Weld Pond. Mr. Field is very fond of Weld and he usually has good luck there. Being interested in the pond he naturally notes with interest the fact that the fishing there is not only holding its own but actually increasing. This year six friends were with him in camp. They were: Frank W. Hubbard, A. H. Emery, Charles F. Galvin, Dr. F. D. Carter, of Boston; R. C. Wilson and G. L. Mead of New York, and they had for guides Bernie Houghton, Bert Brown, Mel Childs and Percy Ford. The cook was Sherm Howard. The total catch was 62 fish, meaning trout and landlocked salmon only. They didn't count the bass and pickerel although they caught quite a number of them.

FISHING AT THE BARKER.

Trout and Salmon Come to the Net At This Resort.

(Special to Maine Woods).

The Barker, Maine, May 22, 1911. Everything is humming here and seven of the camps are taken. The Barker, which like everywhere else is too warm, has the cool breeze from off the mountain side and across the lake, so that all are enjoying life out of doors.

The fishing has been great the past four days and a number of boxes of trout and salmon have been sent to city friends to prove the stories that will be told later about "the big fish we caught at Mooselookme-guntic."

On Wednesday night Mr. and Mrs. George R. Felt, Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Arnold of Peabody, Mass. arrived and for ten days will be at home in "Camp P. N." The next morning they opened the fish record for, besides a number of two pounders Mr. F. T. Arnold with Gene Soule for guide caught two trout, one of 4 pounds and the other 3 pounds. Mrs. Geo. R. Felt, with James Stewart guide was the first lady to have the honor of catching a record fish and it was a gamy salmon of 6¼ pounds that she handled with much skill. On Friday Mrs. Arnold landed a 3-pound trout.

For years the Norwick Conn. gentlemen have fished these waters, but last year wet their lines in another part of the state.

On Wednesday evening Mr. W. B. Young and son E. Lewis Young, accompanied by Mr. C. H. Frisbee and Mr. Fred Symington of Norwich, Conn. came for a two weeks sojourn and occupy Yapeechu camp. On Thursday E. Lewis Young with Oscar Parker guide took his first record trout, one of 3½ pounds.

Mr. C. H. Frisbee of Norwich, with Chas Turner guide, caught a 3½-lb trout and Mr. Fred Symington had a big fight with a 3-pound salmon. Saturday Mr. C. H. Frisbee, Chas. Turner, caught a 4-lb trout and W. B. Young brought in his first record fish, a 4-pound salmon.

On Monday the following party of gentlemen, after a number of days here, returned home. They had a fine lot of fish to take home and sent out a box. Messrs. W. F. Dobbins, J. P. Bradley of New York, E. P. Langley of Lewiston and C. A. Bradley of Portland. They were so much pleased with the place they plan to return for a longer stay in June.

Mr. J. A. Smith of Portland, the Maine Manager of the Standard Oil Co. accompanied by his wife came here for over Sunday. Mr. Smith hooked a salmon off Bowley rock that kept him busy for nearly an hour before he was brought to net. It was a 5-pounder that Mr. Smith proudly show to his friends at home. Mrs. Smith caught a 2½-pound trout.

Mr. John Fox of Boston is here for a ten days' outing.

The Boston camp is taken by three gentlemen from Newton, Mass.: Messrs. Charles J. Brown, W. O. Deleno and J. W. French. Mr. Deleno has been coming here for many seasons. They have for guides, Gard Hinkley and Robert Toothaker.

Sunday only two record fish were recorded, both salmon. Mr. F. Symington landed one of 5½ pounds and Mr. E. Lewis Young a 4½-pounder.

A MOST POPULAR ROUTE.

Scenery Beautiful Through White Mountains and Rangeley Lakes.

For many years the trip through the White Mountains and the Rangeley Lakes has been declared by those who have traveled to be one of the most picturesque in America.

It has not always been easy to make connections around the country but now that men of wealth and the railroad companies and hotel men have taken the matter up and spent thousands of dollars, the trip will be a quick and easy one.

Three forty horse power automobiles, carrying twelve and sixteen persons have been purchased.

One of them will be run on the five mile carry from Middle Dam to Sunday Cove on Umbagog Lake, as this is no longer a carry road, but a good automobile road.

A new steamer fifty feet long, has been put on Umbagog Lake.

Two of the automobiles will run daily from Errol to Colebrook via Balsams.

Thus one can every morning leave the Rangeley Lake House, take the 8 o'clock boat cross the lake and meet the special train that the railroad officials are to put on and a person going this route will take breakfast in their own home in New York the following morning.

The automobiles, steamers and trains will commence this new route on June 27, 1911. No doubt this will be a very popular route to Quebec as well as New York.

HUGS THE EQUATOR.

Strip Upon Which the Starry White Coffee Flower Blooms.

It is only on the world's waistband that the starry white coffee flower blooms. Only between the fifteenth degrees, north and south of the equator, can the tree be successfully grown and on those altitudes which are between the 3,000 to 5,000 feet mark. Left by itself the plant will grow to a tree twenty-five feet in altitude; but, as man is not usually over two yardsticks high, the bearing shrubs are kept by pruning under a maximum height of ten feet, so that they can be easily handled.

The seeds are thickly sown in the nursery, but as soon as babyhood has passed and the tender sprouts are able to bear a breath of wind or changes of temperature they are transplanted into orchards. They are set pretty far apart so that while young and not yet bearing the soil may be utilized with parallel rows of corn, bananas or plantain. A thrifty shrub grows berries when three years old and continues to bear during twenty years from three to six pounds of beans. Its glossy green leaves remind one of the laurel, and the fragrant, white, five petaled flowers—the perfume varying in different countries and localities—grow in clusters of from three to ten each in the axils of the branches. Well regulated streams of water run through the orchard to secure lusty growth, but when the berries begin to ripen the water is turned off lest the fruit be too succulent. The twin beans or nutlets ripen within a mass of pulp that looks like a dark red cherry, or in tint and size rather like a cranberry. This pulp, when perfectly ripe, is delicious to the taste, but when dried it is taken off either by hand or, as is usually the case in present day operations in Brazil, by most modern machinery.—St. Louis Republic.

CORPS OF ROGUES

French Foreign Legion a Unique Military Body.

CRIMINALS FILL ITS RANKS.

It Gathers Recruits From the Social Outcasts of All Grades of All Other Countries—Iron Discipline and Brutal Punishments.

The French Foreign Legion is unique. There is no other military organization like it on earth. It was first raised in 1831 for service in the then newly conquered colony of Algeria. The officers are French officers, of course, but the ranks are made up of outcasts of all social ranks of all other countries. It is understood that recruits are simply seeking refuge from the arm of the civil law. The corps has done excellent work against the Arabs and is always placed in the forefront of the fight.

The Foreign Legion exists but to march. To this one end its whole training is devoted. To fall out on the march is the one unpardonable sin in a legionnaire. The system of marches is brutal. No matter what the distance, it has to be completed in one stage. Forty miles, fifty, sixty—no matter—it is done straight off the reel, with, of course, brief halts for rest. But there is no general halt until the whole distance is completed. If a legionnaire faints on the march he is tied to a baggage cart which rolls on. He then either has to march or he is dragged along. "Seeing this done for the first time, I thought it brutal, but later I learned to understand the reason for it," said one who had served in its ranks.

The legionnaire who straggles in the desert is lost. Hundreds of men have died a dreadful death in this way. The Arab women pounce upon them, lying helpless in the sand, and, with shrieks of fiendish delight, proceed to torture and mutilate them before killing them outright.

A legionnaire's pay is only a half-penny a day. True, wine in Algeria costs only a penny a quart, and tobacco three pence to fourpence a pound. But—a halfpenny a day!

His rations, too, are of the scantiest. Two meals a day only are served—breakfast at 10 o'clock in the morning and supper at 4 in the afternoon. Each meal is exactly alike, consisting of a thick soup made up of meat and vegetables, with bread, and every other day a small quantity of wine.

The discipline is ruthless in its severity; the punishments are cruel in the extreme. For grave offenses, like desertion, insubordination or striking a superior officer, death is frequently inflicted, or, failing that, the offender is sent to serve in the penal battalion on the edge of the Sahara desert. This nearly always means a slow and painful death in place of a quick and comparatively painless one.

Minor offenses are punished with from twenty to a hundred days in prison or with "cellule," which is solitary confinement in the dark plus starvation. I have seen strong, robust men so reduced after doing thirty days cellule that they have hardly been able to stand, yet they had to resume their ordinary duties nevertheless.

Not long since two other dreadful forms of punishment were in vogue—the "silo" and the "crapaudine." The silo was just a deep hole in the ground shaped like a funnel, into which the victim was cast. He was given no blanket or other protection from the weather.

The sun beat upon him by day; the cold night mists penetrated to the marrow of his bones. He could not lie down, for the bottom of the silo sloped to a point. He just crouched, a huddled heap, until not infrequently death mercifully relieved him from his sufferings.

The crapaudine consisted in trussing a man as a fowl is trussed, his hands and feet being tied together on his back in such a manner that they formed a sort of semicircle.

This resulted in such frightful cramps that the pain sometimes drove men mad. Both the silo and the crapaudine, however, have now been abolished. But in the field and on the march an offender is still punished by being "spreadeagled" and bound to four stakes driven into the ground.

To escape from these tortures men mutilate themselves, usually by cutting off one or more fingers, or they will purposely make themselves ill. One favorite trick is to take a drink from the sewers under the Arab prison. This loathsome draft almost invariably brings on an attack of typhoid of a peculiarly malignant type.

Others, more enterprising, try to desert, but they rarely succeed. Mostly they meet with dreadful deaths at the hands of the wild Arabs of the desert. The only class of recruits who are treated with special favor are those who have previously been officers in some other army. These are usually made corporals on enlistment and afterward sergeants. But even under the most favorable conditions life in the legion is the life of a dog.

She Meant Well.

The late Sir Wilfrid Lawson, the rigid apostle of temperance, while on a week end visit made the acquaintance of a sharp young lady of seven, to whom, on leaving, he said: "Now, my dear, we have been talking some time. I am sure you have no idea who I am."

"Oh, yes, I have," the little missy replied. "You are the celebrated drunkard."—London Graphic

THURSDAY, MAY 25, 1911.

A New York subscriber writes: "I am glad that Maine Woods runs some local news in its Outing edition
I am interested to read it and I know others that are.

The salmon weirs on the Penobscot are beginning to make good catches and the steamer Rockland brings more of the big fellows to Bangor every trip, says the Commercial. A drop in the price of salmon is expected as a result.

A bear trap belonging to T. B. F.
Bates of Oakland is on exhibition that was made by a blacksmith in Lubec in 1787 because the bears were so thick in that locality that year. Twelve bears were caught the first year with it. The present owner has had it in his possession for 35 years and he has caught one bear with it during that time. The trap has a heavy spring on each side of the jaws and on one of the jaws there are five large teeth and on the other six. The jaws make an opening 12 x 14 inches. Altogether it is a relic well worth seeing.

When you think about advertising it is natural for you to think of Maine Woods.

The owner of a Maine fishing and summer resort hotel complained to another man in the same business
the other day because, as he said, Maine Woods didn't publish as much news from his place as he thought we ought to.

The man listened to the complaint and then asked two questions, as follows: "What do you do to get more news from your place in Maine Woods?" and "What other paper prints so much news from your place as Maine Woods?"
That ended the conversation.

"Big game has wintered splendidly in the Maine woods," said J. W.
Brackett of Phillips, chairman of the Inland Fish and Game Commission in discussing the situation Saturday.
"I have just received a letter from Frank J. Durgin of The Forks, one of the best wardens, in which he tells me that all the deer he has seen were fat and plump and seemed to be in excellent condition. They have been able to get plenty of browse throughout the winter.

"I have had similar letters from wardens all over the State, which show that the conditions described by Mr. Durgin are general. The big game has been favored with two good winters in succession. The winter of 1910-11 was colder, especially in the latter part, but the deer were always able to get feed. So there is no reason why the man who goes after deer next fall should not get plenty of shots.—Exchange.

FISHING FROM WHARF.

Fly Rod Takes a Hand and a Fish
at South Rangeley.

Talk about fishing! This is what caused a good laugh one day this week.

The steamboat Quossoc reached the wharf at South Rangeley one night about fifteen minutes before train time. Half a dozen men and boys were fishing off the wharf, but they had caught nothing but chubs. Fly Rod was on the boat and a guide said, "Why don't you fish while waiting?" Laughingly she said,
"please pass me a worm," and much to the disgust of two city ladies Fly Rod calmly put the worm on the hook, and the Captain passed her a chair. In less than no time a pound trout was landed, taken from the hook and another worm on, and when the train pulled in she had three good trout. "Just to see if I can fish you know," Fly Rod had to take these up to the Tavern for breakfast.

MARKSMEN AT DEERING.

Team to be Feared is Said to be Stoneham.

The Portland Press says: With first place in every event that they shot in, the members of the Deering high school rifle team returned home from Boston Wednesday evening, where they have been competing in the first annual rifle tourney of the National Rifle academy.

Of course, it is possible that one of the Boston teams yet to shoot will beat the scores on the Deering

Brookline high by the score of 927 to 911, a margin of 16 points. Floyd was the individual high in this event, with 95 standing and 96 prone. The Brookline individual scores have not yet been made public.

In the four-men team match, the boys did not do so well, Floyd was also high in this event with 192.
Coxe was second with 186, while the best that Knight and Coffin could do was 179 and 180, respectively.

This makes a total of 737 out of a possible 800. The prize in this event was the DuPont trophy, just like the one won by Deering last week for there is a medal for second place, there will be a pretty race between Floyd and Fassett for the prize.

No scores have been made public in the bulls-eye match. In this match each target was merely an enormous bulls-eye, and three shots were fired on each. The one coming nearest the center will be the victor. As this match is open to the civilian and military teams, the school boys will not stand much of a chance of a prize position, but about the best dead-center on the Deering was made by Corp. Fassett.
Another match that the local boys team, but so well did the boys shoot, that the Massachusetts lads will have to do better shooting than they have done for some little time to do so.

The only team that the local boys have now to fear is the Stoneham outfit. Last year this team defeated the Brookline boys, but this year not much is known of them other than the fact that they have been practicing hard for this very match.

All of the scores that have been made public are unofficial as yet, as no official scores will be given out until the close of the tournament Saturday evening. In the five-men team match, Deering won overett tied for second with 47 each. As the championship of Maine. The Brookline team was to shoot yesterday afternoon, but the scores have not yet been learned.

In the individual matches, the Deering boys covered themselves with glory. In the continuous re-entry match Floyd is at present high gun with 49-49-50, a total of 148 out of a possible 150. Coffin and Knight are tied for second for the Deering team with a total of 145.

In the single entry match, Portland boys are also in the leading positions. This match consists of but five shots, with no re-entry. Say-ward is first with 48, Floyd and Fassett are tied for second with 47 each. As shone in was the medal match. To every one who made ten 42's or better at 75 feet, a bronze medal was given, and to anyone who made 10 44's or better a silver medal was given. Now it doesn't seem very difficult to make those scores, but at 75 feet the bulls-eye looks so small that it is quite a hard stunt to do. Coxe and Floyd of the Deering team qualified for both the bronze and silver medals, and Coffin, Fassett and Sayward qualified for the bronze medals.

The medals will be awarded just as soon as the tournament comes to a close.

H. H. FIELD,

President & General Manager.

STAR PERFORMANCE WITH A
STEVENS POCKET RIFLE.

R. R. Bennett, president of the Herron Hill Gun Club of Pittsburg, Pa. and former president of the Pennsylvania State Sportsmen's Association, recently performed a wonderful feat with a Stevens Pocket Rifle fitted with Stevens Telescope Sight—at a distance of 35 feet. Five tacks were stuck into a card an inch and a half square, one at each corner and another in the centre. Mr. Bennett knocked the tacks out consecutively.
This certainly shows wonderful marksmanship and also remarkable accuracy of the Stevens Pocket rifle.

DEERING HIGH WON.

In the rifle match shot recently Deering High won one more victory, defeating Portland High by the score of 921 to 863. This is the final match in the league series and their victory makes Deering High qualified for the championship with Morris High and the Culver Military Academy. In all probability the tie will be shot off some time next week and the crack Deering High team can be banked on to give the other contenders a run for the championship honors. The Myles Standish Club, Deering High will compete for the Dupont trophy which carries with it the State championship.

LAKE TROUT ANGLING.

TROLLING OUTFITS THAT ARE PUT UP ESPECIALLY.

Fish Rushes into Depths and Then Turns Quickly and Charges Back Toward the Boat and to Sulk When the Time Comes.

If the lake trout had the habit of the other trouts and their close relatives, the chars, and would rise to the fly, not even its lordly relative, the salmon, could do more to put the skill and endurance of the angler to the test. But the lake trout hasn't that habit. It is distinctly a troll fish, and one that is erratic and capricious to a degree—different waters require different methods of trolling.

During the spring months, as soon as the ice thaws out, the lake trout, wherever they dwell, are found near the surface, and they feed from sunrise until sundown. In June they begin to go deeper, as the surface water rises in temperature. The angler accommodates his tackle to this lower depth, and if he does not then tempt the trout to his troll between early morning and noon, he might as well haul in his line and wait until next day. In July and August and early September the fish go still deeper to find cooler water. During October, as the spawning time approaches, the trout are uneasy, shift and capricious, and are caught at all depths and times of day.

During much of the lake trout season, therefore, the troll line must be heavily weighted, large oval lead sinkers being woven in with the line at intervals and so nicely balanced that the line draws through the water like a piece of wire. Two and sometimes three trolls on lines branching out from the main line, 75 or 100 feet apart, and consequently at different depths, are used. The line is coiled in a flat circular box on the bottom of the boat in front of the fisherman, who plays it out as he rows along. When the line is out the fisherman runs one hand through a loop in it, and as he rows the boat by slow, short strokes the troll is kept jumping forward in the water.

When a Trout Strikes.

When a trout strikes a troll he does it with a savageness that rarely results in his failure to close on the big hook securely. Notwithstanding the great weight and length of the line and the tug of the sinkers, that strike is telegraphed unmistakably up the line to the fisherman, who instantly drops his oars and hauls in hand over hand, the line being deftly coiled in the box as it is hauled in—provided the fisherman is an experienced one in handling the tackle. The tyro, excited and elated over the hooking of his trout and the efforts in landing it, will be likely to forget all about the line, and when he at last succeeds in bringing the fish to gaff he will find his line in such a wild and matted tangle on the bottom of the boat and about his legs that the rest of the day will more than likely be passed in straightening out his tackle.

A big lake trout is not so easily brought to the boat. The lake trout is a sturdy and obstinate creature and it is no uncommon thing for one to "go back" on the fisherman three and even four times, even with the advantage the latter has in the use of such tackle—"going back" being the local term describing the fish's determined halt in its involuntary course toward the boat and its vigorous rush back into the depths in spite of the fisherman.

The Seth Green Rig.

Another troll used by lake trout fishermen is known as the Seth Green rig. This is a gang of ten small hooks, arranged in pairs and making a formidable aggregation of barbed points. A pearly hued small fish, known locally as the sawbelly, which abounds in the lake, is attached to this gang, and, although when the trout are fished for at a great depth this troll has to be kept at a proper position by a sinker weighing something like a pound and which must be dragged along on the bottom by the angler as he rows, many lake trout fishermen on Lake Keuka make it their favorite lure. The use of this heavy leaded line and the Seth Green rig is unknown, or at least not practiced, on Lake George, or the Adirondack or Maine lakes.

The lake trout, when hooked, does not leap from the water like his royal cousin, the salmon, but he rushes into the depths of the lake until the opposing force of the line held taut from the hook in his jaw wears on him and he turns and charges back toward the surface, plowing through the water this way and that way, surging back to get the slack of the line. Handled with light tackle, such a lake trout well vies with the salmon in testing the skill and endurance of the angler.

Use of Live Bait.

Experience does not seem to prove that live bait is received with favor by lake trout, although old-time anglers say that in the early days before the spoon troll came into use still fishing with live bait was the most successful method of angling for lake trout.

The common everyday sucker of the Adirondacks and Maine lakes is netted for the purpose of baiting a buoy. The suckers are chopped into small bits. These are taken to the spot selected by the fisherman as favorable for the purpose and are thrown into the water, where they sink to the bottom. The spot is marked for identification by anchoring a piece of board or some object that will float over the place, and this is known as the buoy. The place is baited with the bits of dead sucker for two or three days. Then if there are any trout thereabout they will have collected to feed on the planted sucker bait.

The fisherman simply anchors his boat at the buoy, drops into the water a line with a sharp and well barbed hook on it, baited with sucker bits similar to those with which the buoy is planted. If he gets a nibble at his bait so gentle as to make it seem barely possible that it isn't the work of some small minnow he must give his line a quick and stout jerk just the same, for that gentle, scarcely perceptible nibble will be a lake trout at his hook and the fish will never bite any harder, no matter how big and heavy he may be and must be hooked at once or he won't be hooked at all.

Taking Bait at a Buoy.

It is a singular fact that a lake trout trailing a troll will go for it with a savage rush that will startle the inexperienced angler, but in taking the bait at a buoy, no matter how big and lusty it is, will indicate the fact by the slightest nibble. The quick jerk of the hook upward almost always fastens in the fish's upper jaw and the trout must be hauled up as rapidly as the fisherman can fetch in his line hand over hand without giving it an instant's slack until he has lifted his fish over the side of the boat. Give an inch of slack line to the trout hooked in this way and the agile fish will unhook itself in a jiffy. It is one of the inexplicable things about this great member of the trout family that it will not notice as a rule the most lively and attractive minnow on a hook, although the angler might offer it to it all day, but will take with avidity a chunk of dead sucker almost any time.

In the nomenclature of the Adirondacks lake trout are always just trout brook, trout being "speckles." On Lake Keuka and Seneca lake the lake trout is called salmon trout, a misnomer, as there are no salmon trout in our waters. Lake George people know it as lake trout always. In Maine they call it the togue. It is the longue of Vermont waters. Canadian fishermen know it colloquially as forktail. As the tuladi it is known in New Brunswick, siscowit on Lake Superior, and Mackinaw trout among the fishermen of Lake Huron and Michigan.

In the deep, cold waters of the great lakes and lakes of the far northwest the trout has grown to be of a weight of 100 pounds, and one of 40 and 50 pounds is not so rare as to excite comment, but in the smaller waters of the East a 15 pounder is above the average. With one such on his line, though, and although his tackle may be heavy and its construction all in his own favor, the angler will find a bout before him to occupy his strength and tax his skill to the utmost.—Bangor Commercial.

POLAND SPRING HOUSE.

The Poland Spring House is sending announcements that the hotel will open on June 1st, as usual. This is the thirty-six season of this famous hotel. We wish to call special attention to their advertisement in another column.

THE BOSTON WORK HORSE PARADE.

The 9th Annual Work Horse Parade will be held in Boston on Memorial Day. It will be the largest yet given. The entries number about 1200, and embrace every kind of hitch from a single horse to a team of 14 horses.

In the Old Horse Class there are about 70 entries, and this is always the most interesting part of the Parade.

There are 5 new classes this year.—Championship Classes open only to horses that have already taken three or more first prizes in previous parades. These classes are for light weight, middle-weight, and heavy-weight work horses, and they will include some of the most beautiful work-horses to be found anywhere in the world.

The number of judges will be reduced this year by a new system from about 75 to about 30, and Franklin county, Maine will be represented by the following: Dr. J. H. Rollin, formerly of Phillips; R. G. Dummer, of Weld; W. L. Butler, of Phillips; L. E. Bowley, of Rangeley.

FISHING AT UPPER DAM.

Some Good Fish Taken Here the Past Week.

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Upper Dam, Me., May 20, 1911.

With the sky as clear and blue as it can be and the air warm as August, the fishermen are spending their time out of doors and lunching on the lake shore.

The fishing is fine, "never better" declare some. Everyone is contented and happy. The only thing wanted is rain, rain, rain, and even the scream of the loon and the bark of the fox at night are signs that fail.

Mr. W. D. Brackett of Stoneham, Mass., who arrived on Monday evening is here for his forty-first spring's fishing. He never has missed coming annually. A host of friends have welcome to give him. Ernest Grant is Mr. Brackett's guide and a 4½-pound salmon. A 6¾-pound trout are their big ones. The one and two-pounders do not count.

Mr. Clarence R. Young, of New York City is this year accompanied by his friend Mr. J. W. Brandt. Guides Elmer Woodbury and Clarence Harlow. Mr. Young the first afternoon out caught five trout and salmon the largest a 2½-pounder. "I did not come for the fish, so much as for this air and spring water, for we New Yorkers can't buy the same air in our big city," said Mr. Young. His son, John C. Young is to join the party tonight. They will remain several weeks.

Dr. Wilmont L. Marden of Lynn, Mass. and Mr. E. B. Terhune of Boston have taken one of the cottages for ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Morrison of Bangor returned home Friday after five days of "the greatest fishing you ever heard of" declared Mr. Morrison, who met out for a "little more fishing" before the morning boat left and caught four trout that weighed 11½ pounds. Mrs. Morriso was high line and all the gentlemen took their hats off to her. Every day she caught all the law would allow. The largest was a 5½-pound trout, and a 4½ pound salmon. Ten that weighed three pounds and over were not counted. Mr. Morrison's largest was a 4½-pound trout and several that weighed from two to three pounds each. Orren Dyke, guide.

The most contented fisherman here is Mr. Freeland Howe of Norway, who spends part of his time in the pool by himself. He darts over the water, while his guide in the boat takes a nap. Mr. Howe has been using some imported flies tried on a number 18 hook. It is good sport and takes time and skill to land a fish taken on such a tiny hook. Friday he caught sixteen trout and the largest just as they netted him spit out a smelt five inches long. The trout only brought the old steel-yards down to the 2-lb. 14-oz. notch.

The water is so low in the lake, not a boom of logs has reached the dam. Without rain they will wait up the Cupsuptic until another spring.

Misses A. M. Alger, Edwin A. Tellow of Taunton, Mass. are here. Oscar Dyke and George Robertson are their guides.

Frank Philbrick is guiding Messrs. G. H. Sampson and W. F. Craig, of Lynn, Mass. They took eleven trout and salmon, the smallest 1½ pounds, and the largest 4 pounds.

Mr. W. D. Nelson and Mr. Chas. H. Baker of Lynn, Mass. have been taking life easy and recording few fish.

On May 18th the first record fish was caught in the pool, nearly a month earlier than last year. (No fish taken from the pool is recorded unless taken with a fly and weighing three pounds or over.)

Dr. Albert F. Griffith of Brooklyn, N. Y. with Hart Richardson guide caught it, a 3-lb. salmon. One day last week trolling he caught one 6½-pound trout and one 4½-pounds. The next day he caught five trout that weighed 15 pounds, and another day fly fishing, he caught eight good fish the smallest a 2-pound trout and the largest a 3-pound salmon. This is the Doctor's first visit to the Rangeleys and he is greatly delighted with the region.

RANGELEY AND PICKFORD'S.

Fishes and Folks Seen and Caught at Lakes.

(Special to Maine Woods.) Rangeley, Maine, May 21, 1911. Sunday was the hottest day of the season thus far in Rangeley.

Will Tibbitts was out from Kennebago Sunday night.

Harry Look and family have gone into Kennebago for the summer.

Proprietor Grant of Kennebago recently opened his business for the season.

J. Lewis York of York's Camps was in town Friday.

At the Pickford Camps business has started up and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ahrnke of Weehauken, New Jersey, who are guests there are finding some very good fishing. Mr. and Mrs. Ahrnke arrived the day the ice went out of the lake and this is their fishing record from May 13 to May 19: May 13th Mrs. Ahrnke two salmon, 2 and 5 pounds; Mr. Ahrnke, salmon 3¾ pounds; 14th Mrs. Ahrnke, two salmon 3¾ and 3¾ pounds; 15th Mrs. Ahrnke, two salmon 4 and 4 pounds; 15th Mrs. Ahrnke, two trout; Mr. Ahrnke, one trout and one salmon, 3 pounds; May 16th Mrs. Ahrnke two salmon, 3¾ and 5 pounds; 16th Mr. Ahrnke one salmon, 3 pounds; 19th Mr. Ahrnke, 5 trout and 4 salmon. This is the second season this party has been at Pickford's and they are enjoying it very much and plan to remain about two or three weeks.

Pickle's taxidermist store and Kimball's clothing store are having a new front with large plate glass windows which will add much to the appearance of these buildings.

As it is about time for the out of town auto's to be coming into Rangeley it may be of interest to know that 400 different automobiles were in Rangeley last season and a larger number is expected this year.

PHILLIPS AND VICINITY.

Ralph Cragin, who is treasurer of the Union Oil Company of California, writes his father, Mr. W. A. D. Cra-gin as follows: This letter is mostly adventure. This morning at about 3:30 Mr. McVean and I started in the machine for Tia Juana, the papers had an extra out last night, stating that a large force of Federals had left Ensenada and were expected to attack Tijuana this morning at day break, so we intended to be on the spot when the festivities commenced and we were there by daylight, but the Federals didn't show up. We loafed around until about 5:30 and when there was nothing doing we ran the sentry line of American soldiers and beat it across from Tia Juana to Tijuana. The insurrectos invited us to stay to breakfast, which we would have done but for the fact that Mr. McVean had to get back to town and make the trip to Escondido. They escorted us all around the town, showing us where they advanced upon the town, and just how they attacked, and the funny part of it all is that out of about 150 men that I saw, I saw only one Mexican and one negro, the rest were all young Americans, and a good clean looking bunch too, it would surprise you to see how clean they can keep, shaven and washed, and are pretty fairly clothed and well armed and mounted. They have some awfully good saddle horses, and all are armed with Winchester or Mauser rifles and all carry side arms, mostly heavy Colts.

Mrs. S. L. Twombly was ill in bed for a few days last week, but is now much better.

Miss Tressie Carroll, who is working for Mrs. H. H. Field was in Rangeley over Sunday.

Mrs. J. F. Hough was in Redington over Sunday.

J. Scott Brackett was home from Hebron Academy from Friday until Tuesday of this week.

Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Ross were at the former's parents, Mr. and Mr.
Raymond Ross over Sunday.

Mrs. D. F. Field and Mrs. J. W.
Brackett were in Portland a couple of days this week.

Mrs. Eliza Toothaker of Auburn has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Evelyn Howland the past week.

The Sandy River and Rangeley Lake Railroad cars look very nice in new paint.

Headaches and Their Treatment.

In treating a headache, there is one safe rule to follow:—Never use any medicine containing acetanilid or similar coal-tar derivatives without the advice of your physician. They may give temporary relief, but they almost never reach the cause of the trouble and are likely to weaken the heart. The most common form of headache, frequently called sick headache, arising from a disordered stomach, may be avoided by care in the choice of food. Shun pastry, candy and rich food, take time to eat, chew your food thoroughly and keep your bowels in good condition by using one-half to one teaspoonful of L. F. Atwood's Medicine after each meal. This old reliable remedy has been a perfect blessing to thousands for sixty years. Get a bottle today, and prove it for yourself. Any dealer has it for thirty-five cents, or we mail a free sample on request. L. F. Medicine Co., Portland, Me.

CARNIVAL OF THE SEASONS.

Held at Grange Hall by King's Daughters Proves Successful Affair.

The Grange hall at the upper village was a scene of gaiety last Saturday afternoon and evening when it was opened to the public by the King's Daughters with their Carnival of the Seasons.

In the windows of the hall were suspended white maltese crosses bearing the purple letters I. H. N. (In His Name) the colors and emblems of the society.

As one entered the hall the eye was centered on the four booths of the seasons, viz., spring, summer, autumn and winter. The spring booth was made of white and was profusely decorated with flowers, heralding spring. This booth contained a large assortment of white embroidered linen, towels, neckwear and other articles and was presided over by Miss Avilla Hersey, Mrs. Lydia Harnden and Mrs. Addie Parker.

The second season was represented by a house of green crepe paper made in lattice work and decorated with pink roses, with the word "Summer" in pink on the green background. At this booth was found pin cushions, embroidered aprons, dust caps and many articles of fancy work, the sale of which was conducted by Mrs. Cora Beedy, Mrs. Bertha Chandler, Mrs. Winnifred Harden and Mrs. Mima McLaughlin.

The next booth was made of festoons of purple and white crepe paper with decorations of autumn leaves, clusters of pictured grapes, corn, and purple and white chrysanthemums. "Autumn" in purple letters plainly told the season for this booth, at which Miss Sarah Toothaker, Miss Cora Wheeler, Mrs. Josephine Larabee and Miss Daisy Davenport pleased the customers with pictures, sofa pillows and necessary articles for this season of the year.

The last season, or the winter booth, was robed in white and represented a hunter's lodge with the cartridge belt, powder horn and gun, and other paraphernalia required for the hunt. This booth was under the able superintendence of Mrs. Eva Toothaker and Mrs. Frances Record and contained comforters, holders, slippers, and many other warm articles for winter.

The ice cream table was visited by many customers, the day being the first real warm one that had been experienced for some time. The ladies in charge of this table were Mrs. Fred Morton and Miss Elizabeth Toothaker.

The domestic table, where were found cakes, pies, salads, sandwiches, and other good things which the Daughters know how to make, was presided over by Mrs. Edith Haley and Miss Christie Aldrich.

The candy table was well patronized and Misses Dallas Voter and Algje Pratt were the ladies who measured the sweets to the customers. Both the domestic and candy tables were decorated in purple and white, the society's colors.

At the foot of the hall the visitors could be refreshed by Russian tea, plain tea and coffee, which was poured by Mrs. Mae Hopkins and Miss Blanche Kenniston in Japanese cups and saucers, while the partaker of these draughts were seated at tables daintily arranged with pretty dishes. Two coffee percolators and a 5 o'clock tea kettle added to the beauty of the arrangement of the serving table.

The memory table, where the contributions of the absent members of the circle were displayed, was conducted by Miss Celia Whitney and Mrs. Etta Smith.

Despite the extremely hot day the Carnival was well patronized and a neat little sum was realized for the circle to reward the ladies who had worked diligently and untiringly for the affair, which was a success socially as well as financially, and much credit is due those who had the entire work in charge.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

May Term Opened Last Week. Had Some Cases of More Than Ordinary Interest.

The first case brought on for trial at the term of court which opened on Tuesday forenoon of last week, was that of Marshall D. P. Thompson of Kingfield vs. James B. Soule formerly of Groveton, N. H. now of Portland. H. S. Wing of Kingfield and E. E. Richards of Farmington were counsel for plaintiff and Augustus Simmons of North Anson for the defense.

The action was to recover a commission of $6,000 Thompson claimed was due him as agent for selling timber land belonging to Soule. The case occupied all day Wednesday, going to the jury a little after 6 o'clock P. M.

The jury brought in a verdict for $1,425 in favor of Thompson. The tract of land Thompson claims he had a part in selling is in the northeast part of Mt. Abram township and comprises 12,800 acres.

The court Thursday took up the case of W. D. Murphy of Wilton vs. Miss Catherine M. A. Morrison of the same town. Blanchard appeared for plaintiff and Butler for the defendant. The action was brought to recover a balance of $106.27, alleged to be due for wages for the labor of plaintiff in the printing office of the defendant from Oct. 1909, till April 1910, at $18 per week.

Miss Morrison claimed that plaintiff had not kept the terms of his contract with her, had not labored diligently, honestly and faithfully in her behalf. He kept no proper books of accounts and paid out money on her account which she never authorized him to do, among them a bill of $28 for type-setting in Boston. The jury reported a verdict for the defendant.

A case tried on Friday was that of Ralph W. Knowlton of Farmington vs. Otis M. Moore of Strong. The plaintiff sued defendant to recover pay for a harrow and seeder he sold the defendant a year ago. The price agreed on was $37. The defence was that the harrow was taken on trial, found it unsatisfactory and returned it. Verdict for plaintiff $38.66. Fenderson for plaintiff; Butler for defendant.

WHAT I WENT THROUGH

Beforetaking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Natick, Mass.—"I cannot express what I went through during the change of life before I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in such a nervous condition I could not keep still. My limbs were cold, I had creepy sensations, and I could not sleep nights. I was finally told by two physicians that I also had a tumor. I read one day of the wonderful cures made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it, and it has made me a well woman. My neighbors and friends declare it had worked a miracle for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth its weight in gold for women during this period of life. If it will help others you may publish my letter."—Mrs. NATHAN B. GREATON, 51 N. Main Street, Natick, Mass.

The Change of Life is the most critical period of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

MAKING TROUT BITE AGAINST THEIR WILLS.

Ever try to catch fish when they did not seem to want to bite and when folks didn't land a one? Well, I have tried to catch fish and caught 'em, too says a correspondent in the Adirondack Enterprise.

There was one warm day not long ago, when it was too bright, and too still to catch trout. That is it seemed that way. There were trout in the brook and folks knew they were there, but they would not be caught. Some tried worms, others tried flies, but there was nothing doing. I tried it myself with first worms and then flies and when I say there was nothing doing, I know what I am talking about. It seemed as though dynamite was about the only thing you could raise them fish with, and, of course, we were just out of dynamite.

When I was walking along home, all tired, sore and disappointed, for I thought some of myself as a fisherman, I kicked at some rotten stringers of an old walk in front of the house. As the dirt flew I caught sight of a white grub. Now, somebody had told me that a white grub would catch a trout when nothing else would.

I got that grub and started. I did not wait to get more than one grub because I did not want to get fooled on fishing any more that day; I did not want to spend the time digging grubs if they was no good and I did not want to spend the time offering grubs to trout if the trout didn't care a cent about grubs.

But that one grub created so much disturbance in that hot, still brook, that I was upset for a minute. A trout weighing a little over two pounds took hold of that grub as though he wanted it and I felt ashamed of myself to think that I had tricked such a handsome fellow to bite a poor thing like a grub.

I kicked that old walk all over farm and got a grub every time or pretty nearly every time I kicked. I got a trout with about every grub that was not kicked to death and when I finally blew in home that night, I had the finest bunch of trout ever exhibited in the month of August. How many? Let's see; I got a grub every other time I kicked the old walk and I got a trout with about every other grub, which would make enough trout for anybody.

This is no yarn or sell about white grubs, just the same, for nine of those trout weighed thirty pounds and you can catch trout on white grubs, too. They will take hold of a white grub when they will not touch anything else.

BELGRADE LAKES FISHING.

Trout Record for Big Fish is Quite Remarkable This Spring.

(Special to Maine Woods.)

North Belgrade, Me., May 19, 1911. Tearful April has wept itself away in the flowery lap of blue eyed May while beautiful golden June days bring with them the grand fishing, boating, camping and auto driving, which calls forth the sportsman from his cares and monotony of city life; brings him to those beautiful fields where every breath of air and ozone instills happiness and inspiration. Considering the unpropitious weather the fishing is very good, but a few warm days would make it unsurpassed. There have been some very fine catches, some of which are: Thomas A. Bennett, of New York City, 3 trout weighing 14 1/2 pounds, also one 5 1/2 pound; Mr. E. S. Foise of New York City, 4 trout weighing 12 1/2 pounds, one pickerel weighing 5 1/2 pounds; Mr. Davis of Waterville one trout 5 pounds. Mr. Wheeler of Oakland two trout 4 1/2 and 3 1/2 pounds. Mr. E. G. Herbert and Mr. P. C. Levett of Augusta, caught nine weighing 30 pounds. Guided by Thos. Levett, of North Belgrade, Me. Mr. Manson Cowen of Sidney caught one trout weighing 7 1/2 pounds.

FISHING WITH DOGS.

Ainus Make Pets Drive Salmon and Trout Into Shallow Water.

The Ainus of Sagalin island, off the Siberian coast, have a unique method of fishing for salmon trout with dogs. The waters about the island are wonderfully clear, and from a boat the bottom of the water is distinctly visible, and innumerable salmon trout may be seen swimming. The Ainus, when about to fish, take with them a number of dogs. At a certain point all the men and dogs come to a halt. Then half the men and dogs move farther along the water's edge, about 200 yards.

At a concerted signal the dogs are started from their respective points and swim straight out seaward in single file in two columns. At a cry from the Ainus the right column wheels left and the left column wheels right, until the heads of the columns meet. Then, at another signal, all of them swim in line toward the shore.

As the dogs near the shore, increasing numbers of fish appear in the shallow water, frightened forward by the splashing of the advancing column of dogs, which, as soon as their feet touch bottom, pounce upon the fish with lightning rapidity.

The animals promptly bring the fish which they have seized to their masters, who cut off their heads and give each dog the head which belongs to him as his share of the catch. The dog that catches nothing gets nothing. It is believed that the dog drill of the Ainus is entirely unique. It is considered that the dogs, many of which have been captured from the forest, are still half wild.

IN AND ABOUT RANGELEY.

Items Pertaining to Fishing More or Less.

(Special cor. to Maine Woods).

Rangeley, Maine, May 17, 1911.

Everybody is fishing!

Mr. Joel Wilber of Phillips is in Rangeley for the spring fishing with Eben Harnden as his guide.

Mrs. E. C. Gilman of Bradford, Mass. will be here in a day or two.

Guide Harold Fuller has employment at Indian Rock.

Every train is bringing a larger number of people into Rangeley and there is a considerable business already begun although the ice hasn't been out of the lake about a week. There are indications of a good season.

Miss Cornelia Crosby, better known as "Fly Rod" is among the recent arrivals at Rangeley.

The steamboat is now making regular trips to South Rangeley.

The Rangeley cornet band is having a band stand placed on Main street and there will be a band concert each week for the summer.

As the ice has gone out of the lake people are beginning to come into Rangeley, for the early fishing.

Mrs. John Marble and daughter Rachel arrived Monday night.

The fishermen are getting after it more and more each day, and a large number of the guides have already begun their work.

The first trout of the season was caught in Haley Pond by Gus Chateau, May 8th, and by Frank Marchetti, May 9th.

Harold Burns and Verne Stuart of Rangeley have caught good trout in the lake since the ice went out.

Dr. Chas. S. Stuart got a 7½ pound salmon last Saturday.

The little son of a Rangeley guide Master John Tibbetts brought home a three pound trout the other day.

A Mr. Emery who is in Rangeley for the early fishing caught a good trout weighing 4½ pounds.

Men are at work on the base ball grounds near the Rangeley Lake House.

The work on the projections of the Rangeley Lake House is nearly completed and it will make a decided improvement.

MOUNTAIN VIEW HOUSE.

Damon Party Arrived From Fitchburg Monday Night.

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Mountain View House,

May 16, 1911.

Last Saturday when the ice had all left the lake, it looked as if the good old summer time had come to stay and soon Landlord Bowley had moved into summer quarters, and was ready to welcome the first guests.

Mr. Frank Plummer the clerk for years, took a hand at pulling the row boats into the float and piling wood into the office fire. Everything about the place is in perfect order and never was there a better prospect for a big season's business.

There is no doubt but what there is many a big fish soon to be reeled in for on Monday night the Damon party came.

This year it is the trio Messrs. M. B. Damon, F. I. Nichols of Fitchburg, Mass. and Mr. F. J. Pierce of Gardner, Mass. and their old guides Al Sprague, Rube Wilbur and Cliff McKenney are all ready to take them out to "wet a line."

Mr. Harold Cross and his sister Mrs. G. J. Ewing of Fitchburg are also with the party for their first visit.

It may be expected great fish yarns will be reeled off as soon as these fishermen commence to "reel them in."

A party of traveling men were here for over Sunday, and Mr. R. W. Keay of Boston caught just eleven handsome trout weighing from three-fourths to two pounds each. It might not do to tell of the others who fished all day and caught nothing.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Davis of Auburn spent Sunday here.

The flag is flying over at Lake Point Cottage as Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Fowler of New London, Conn.,

Arrived last Thursday for the season. They were accompanied by their son Mr. Harry Fowler and Mr. J. Williams. Mr. Fowler is making many improvements about the place.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowley have moved into their cottage for the summer. The roads about here are very dry and in good shape for the automobile, and several parties have written they are coming.

RANGELEY TAVERN.

Many Guests Already Here For the Fishing.

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Rangeley, Maine, May 17, 1911.

It this season is a little late Nature has done a wonderful amount of work in a very short time, for a week ago the ice had not left the lakes, and now the fields are green, the trees fast leaving out, while coming and going over the lake in all directions are the steamers and the puff puff of the motor boat, and the dip of the oars of the row boats is heard.

Everyone who has the good fortune to come here receives from Mr. William Marble, who has charge, the kindly welcome that makes everyone feel at home. Everything here at the Tavern is perfect, and the crew of workers over at the Rangeley Lake House will have all in readiness for the opening on June first.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Marble and Miss Rachel Marble have arrived from Portland.

The first angler to arrive on May 9th was David Magie, Jr., of East Orange, N. J., a member of the Megantic Club for many years, and one who has a host of friends in this region.

Mr. Magie was met here by his old guide Ed S. Jones of Stratton, and as he never catches a fish, except by fly, we wonder if he would eat one, caught by a real State of Maine angle worm? "I am just here to be happy and regain the lost nerves and good health and there is no place or doctor like life in the Maine wilderness," said Mr. Magie.

Yesterday just for a change they made a trip to Loon Lake and for practice Mr. Magie put out the fly and landed one 3½ pound salmon and several smaller ones.

Next week Mr. Magie and guide start out for the summer stopping at Loon Lake and Kennebago en route to Megantic, and when September days are here we have no doubt, but what they will return in perfect health.

Thursday, May 11, Mr. F. W. Emery of Boston came and was on the lake as soon as it was clear with his old guide Vid Hinkley. May 12 they had the lake to themselves and even the salmon were glad to hear Mr. Emery's hearty laugh, and he reeled in four record salmon that weighed 3, 3½, 3¾, and 5 lbs each. The following day three more salmon 3½-lbs and two that weighed 3¾ pounds each.

May 14th a 5-lb salmon May 15th a 4¼ pound trout and a 5½ pound salmon and one of 3 pounds, and May 16 four fine salmon gave him great sport, two weighing 3 pounds each, one 3½ pounds, and a 4¼ pounder. If the fishermen who read these fish facts come at once they can have as many of them as they can catch as but one or two were killed.

Saturday night Mr. E. Ledeliey of Brooklyn, N. Y. came for the summer. He always rows his own boat and handles his own fish. A 3½ pound salmon was sport enough for first day out. All summer we hope to tell fish stories about Mr. Ledeliey.

Mr. James A. Ludington of Fitchburg, Mass. returned home Monday after a week's rest and as he gained nine pounds and caught four record salmon the largest 4½ pounds, he can tell a good story. The first of June he will return with Mr. and Mrs. E. Crocker.

A party of seven who are to be employed by the Megantic Club left here, by buckboard, for the club house this morning.

On Monday there were twenty guests registered here and seventeen yesterday, that tells that the summer business has commenced.

There has never been a season when so many guests were booked in advance for the Rangeley Lake House, and there is no doubt but what the season of 1911 will find hundreds more people at the Rangeleys than ever before.

AMONG THE CHURCHES

Union Church, Phillips.

Melvin Sherburne Hutchins, pastor. Calendar for week ending June 3. Sunday, May 28: Memorial Sunday. 10.45 Morning worship, sermon before the G. A. R. "The New Patriotism;" 11.45 Sunday school; 7.30 "Footprints of Jehovah."

Thursday, June 1, 7.30 P. M. mid-week prayer meeting.

All are invited to attend these services.

At the Union church Sunday morning Rev. M. S. Hutchins preached upon "The Gospel of the Seedtime," using the text Eccle. 11 : 6, "In the morning sow thy seed, and in the evening withhold not thine hand."

We love the spring time as it comes again with its awakening of leaf and bud, and brings us again nearer to the divine soil. We say divine soil, for it is God's creation. We say divine soil, because of our relationship to it. From it our bodies are formed. From it comes nearly between common and low, a difference between filth and good honest dirt.

This divine soil which receives the seed and nourishes the plant, gives to the seedtime a message, a gospel.

The gospel of the seedtime is a gospel of faith. It is like a fairy story to my little girl when I tell her that from the little brown seed which she sees me put into the ground will come the beautiful plant and flowers, or food for our eating. Yet because we have faith we year after year, plant the seed and the world is fed. In this world there is constant struggle. We meet doubt and cynicism. But the lesson of the seedtime is a lesson of faith in the triumph of the good which is at work in the world.

The seedtime has the eloquence of the opportune. There are those who in their haste prepare and plant their gardens while the cold of April yet lingers. Others fearful one's delay so long that June finds them hurried with work that should have been done. There is a wise time, an opportune time, and the Gospel of the seedtime tells us to watch for opportunity. If we have failed in our endeavors, be not discouraged but watch for a time for opportune effort.

The Gospel of the seedtime is a gospel of law. We know we must choose the seed for that which we wish to grow in our gardens. The teaching of Christ was that as a man sowed so should he also reap. Life sometimes tempts us to deviate from the ways of uprightness. The gospel of the seedtime says that so doing we shall reap evil.

The gospel of the seedtime is a gospel of patience. Prof. Tubbs last winter told us that the rocks of the earth proved that for millions and millions of years God had been preparing the world for mankind. Long ago he began to reveal himself to a race which was to tell others of the revelation. Man has not yet attained to God's desire for him, but he has not ceased his work for humanity. A child will dig for the seeds planted but yesterday to see if they are yet growing, but God teaches us more and more patience. The minister and the church may find the results for which they work and pray long delayed in coming, but the world is that, in due season they shall reap if they faint not.

And the gospel of the seedtime is a gospel of hope. Even now we look forward to the harvest days. To be sure there are sometimes drouths and sometimes famine, but take it all in all, throughout the earth there is seedtime and harvest. In life, hope says: It is better farther on, "Weeping may endure for a night; but joy cometh in the morning."

Let us sow good deeds, let us trust in God, let us give kindness and sympathy, and at harvest time we shall find with rejoicing, you and I, a sweet fellowship with Jesus.

OBITUARY.

MRS. MARY E. PHILLIPS.

Mrs. Mary E. Phillips, of Phillips, Maine passed to the higher life at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hiram Phillips, May 9, 1911.

The deceased was born in Winthrop, Maine, May 27, 1818. The most of her girlhood days were spent in Strong, Maine. When 17 years of age she went to New Portland where she taught her first school. She was married to John Phillips in 1839 and their married life was blessed by the birth of nine children, four of them still living, three daughters and one son.

When Mary Hinkley Phillips was living at Kingfield sixty years ago the Free Baptist church of that place was organized and she was among the number to be baptised in the river near the village and join the church.

For all these sixty years she has held her membership with this church, although not always living in the place. She was the oldest member and was always true and loyal in the cause of the kingdom. Her sweet christian spirit and firm faith in her Lord are most commendable. Surely she is now wearing the crown of life for she was faithful unto the end.

A brief service was held in Phillips, Friday morning, and the remains were taken to Kingfield where a more extended service was held. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. L. Arthur White, of Rangeley, Maine a former pastor of the Kingfield church.

Do Ghosts Haunt Swamps?

No, Never. It's foolish to fear a fancied evil, when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps and marshes, bayous and lowlands. These are the malaria germs that cause ague, chills and fever, weakness, aches in the bones and muscles and may induce deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters destroys and casts out these vicious germs from the blood. "Three bottles drove all the malaria from my system," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. C., "and I've had fine health ever since." Use this safe, sure remedy only. 50c at W. A. D. Cragin's, Phillips; Chas. E. Dyer's, of Strong; L. L. Mitchell of Kingfield; Riddle's Pharmacy, of Rangeley.

ENGINES AND AGENTS.

Reliance Man Does and Deserves Big Business.

Mr. J. T. Luce of Allen's Mills was in Phillips last Friday on business in connection with the sale of gasoline, mill machinery, etc.

Incidentally Mr. Luce placed an advertisement in Maine Woods and asked us to say a word about the Reliance engine, based on our own experience.

We are pleased to say that we have found the Reliance thoroughly reliable. We use two sizes to run the Maine Woods' presses and type setting machine and are glad to recommend them.

Mr. Luce does a big business in Maine Woods territory and one reason for it, in our opinion, that he looks out carefully for the interests of his customers. In other words, he is accommodating and painstaking. He has put in many days time in this vicinity without compensation, laying it up for the future in satisfied customers.

It's Your Kidneys

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles. A Phillips Citizen
Shows How to Cure Them.

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame, weak or aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is just where the danger lies. You must cure these troubles or they may lead to diabetes or Bright's disease. The best remedy to use is Doan's Kidney Pills. It cures all ills which are caused by weak or diseased kidneys. Phillips people testify to permanent cures.

Elbridge Dill, Phillips, Me., says: "I am very willing to endorse Doan's Kidney Pills. While I did not have any serious trouble from my kidneys, I at times felt in need of a kidney remedy. When suffering from a dull ache across my back and a weakness of the kidneys, I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a box from Cragin's Drug Store. I used them according to directions and the trouble from my kidneys soon disappeared. My back is now strong and I feel better in every way."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo New York, sole agents for the United States.

A correspondent who seems to be very much incensed, writes us that he objects to having the rocks above the Phillips bridge used for advertising purposes. He says that the same thing was done years ago when T. L. Page ran the Elmwood Hotel here and there was such a fuss made about it that the unsightly marks were taken off and nothing of the kind has been attempted again until now. He says he objects and that everybody else would if they had the courage to kick.

Miss Miriam Brackett of Howard Seminary, will be the guest of Miss Mildred Prior at her cottage at Onset, Mass., where Miss Prior will give a house party from Saturday until Wednesday.

Is there anything in all this world that is of more importance to you than good digestion? Food must be eaten to sustain life and must be digested and converted into blood. When the digestion fails the whole body suffers. Chamberlain's Tablets are a rational and reliable cure for indigestion. They increase the flow of bile, purify the blood, strengthen the stomach, and tone up the whole digestive apparatus to a natural and healthy action. For sale by W. A. D. Cragin.

Finally we tried Dr. King's New Discovery, and are pleased to say that one bottle effected a complete cure, and our child is again strong and healthy." ## BREAD.

Bread is the oldest, most nutritious best and greatest food product in the world, but how little people know how to use it and how to eat it.

One cannot masticate bread too much, it needs to be thoroughly saturated with the saliva to transform the starch it contains, into sugar. This enables it to be readily acted upon by the digestive juices of the stomach.

The first and most essential point is, it must be so appetizing that it induces you to chew it, and keep chewing it. That is why the Celebrated William Tell Flour has been so successful everywhere—it is made with that idea in view.

Mr. Burk, president of the Ansted & Burk Company, in his 45 years milling experience, has given this matter much time and close study from a scientific and hygienic point of view.

William Tell Flour is made with a peculiar wheaty flavor that is appetizing—you like to chew it and keep on chewing it and when you finally let it go, it is digested quickly, furnishing complete nutrition and avoiding the formation of all gases; you come up smiling to the next meal and like Oliver Twist, want more.
