

Tobacco Should be Smoked Up As Soon as it's Cut Up

Then it is bound to be fresh—to smoke cool and sweet—because the natural moisture hasn't a chance to escape. That's the reason experienced smokers stick to the good old Sickle plug—slice off a fresh pipeful as they need it—and get all the original flavor and fragrance that have been pressed in the plug, and kept there by the natural leaf wrapper.

These smokers could save a minute's time by getting their tobacco already cut up—but they know it would also be dried up, would burn fast and bite their tongues.

You'll find solid satisfaction in smoking Sickle. And you'll get more tobacco, because there is no package to pay for. Your dealer sells Sickle.

AN ARKANSAS FISH DOG

Ye Maine Sports Listen to this Fish Story from the Ozark of Arkansas

To the Editor of Maine Woods:

Lu Verne, Iowa, July 1913.

As I notice you sometimes print fish stories I am sending you a clipping from the "Newton Nugget," a newspaper printed down among the big hills of Jasper county, Arkansas. There are no railroads in Jasper county, but the newspapers are neither dead nor sleeping, nor do they hesitate to publish any good news items that come their way. The writer is personally acquainted with the people mentioned except Mr. Moore. We are well acquainted with the editor of that Newton Nugget. Here is the story as it appears in said paper:

"Stanley Crandall, owner and editor of the Harrison Republican and owner and publisher of the Newton Nugget, Jasper, came to this city with I. V. Sawyer and spent Monday and Tuesday fishing—not with rod and reel but with dog and gun.

The fish dog is a new feature in Jasper and his service to the fish hunters corresponds in every detail with that of the best trained bird dog to the professional quail hunters, except that instead of carrying the fish in his mouth from the place where they rise to the top of the water after being killed by a bullet from the gun of a fish hunter standing on a high bank, the canine thrusts his tail in at the mouth and out at the gill of the fish, sometimes stringing as many as a dozen upon his tail which he elevates high enough to keep the fish from slipping off, before he returns to his master. Editor Crandall accompanied Hon. W. W. Moore, Monday, on a very successful fish hunt. Tuesday Mr. Sawyer joined with the Moore-Crandall fish hunting expedition, and we think the trio exterminated big black bass, temporarily, in Buffalo river. It is a novel and inspiring sight to see a dog making regular trips from amid stream to the shore with his tail strung full of black bass, some of which weighed 7 pounds. Mr. Crandall's legion of friends here enjoyed his visit and hope he will come to Jasper again when he is ahungered for fish, and bring his friend I. V. Sawyer."

GOOD FISH TAKEN FROM THE POOL

Tennis Court Nearly Completed—
The Van Dusens Arrive in Their Cadillac

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Upper Dam, July 14—The middle July has come and from most of the cottages the stars and stripes are flying, which tell that the families, who for years have been coming here, have returned, and the hearty greetings exchanged as one by one they come back to meet again and fish from this famous pool, tell more than words of the welcome given. And the grasp of the hand and but a word spoken tell of those whom all miss, but do not forget.

"This is cold weather, but if you had such hot weather as we have at home, why we should stay there," said one of the late comers.

The fish in the pool seem to know the place for them is to hide away in the deep water under the dam and wait for warmer days before they rise to the fly. Yet there have been some records taken from the pool the last week, the lucky number of seven salmon having been recorded.

S. H. Palmer from Milford, Penn., caught one of 3 pounds and one of 3 pounds, 9 ounces, but he had better look out for his laurels as his son, Stephen H. Jr., has been sending the fly over the pool and brought a 3 pound, 5 ounce salmon to net.

Tom W. Miner of New York, who has not until this week caught a record on the fly from the pool took two, one of 3 pounds, 11 ounces the other 3 pounds, 4 ounces and now can talk fishing with his wife who is the only lady that has taken a record fish on the fly this season.

James C. Dougherty of Syracuse, N. Y., landed a 3 pound, 9 ounce salmon.

Wm. B. Fair, just to prove he has not lost the art of fly fishing landed a 4 pound, 1 ounce salmon on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Van Dusen of New York city are again at home in the cottage built for them three years ago. They came in their Cadillac touring car and report the roads far better than last summer through the White Mountains. When Mr. Van gets busy in the pool there will be something to report, if he catches as many as he did last year.

Everyone was glad to welcome Mrs. William B. French of Boston, who has been an annual guest here for many summers and comes to stay until September.

Dr. and Mrs. James W. Wister and daughter, Miss Suzanna, and little son, Daniel and nurse of Philadelphia are happy to return for another season. They arrived last Friday.

Rev. Fr. John D. Colbert of Wakefield, Mass. who has been coming here for years and who was in Europe last season, many friends are glad to greet at Upper Dam again. He is accompanied by his nephew, John B. Welch, of Winchester, Mass., and Boston Tech., 1914, arrived last Thursday.

The tennis court is nearly completed and the young folks are anxiously waiting to play their first game on the new court.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Little of Boston were here for over Sunday.

Miss Black Lovell of Portsmouth, N. H., is greatly enjoying her first visit at Upper Dam.

This morning Mrs. John S. Doane returned to Boston for a few days and Mr. Doane keeps open camp here.

TO ENLARGE HATCHERY.

Walter I. Neal, inland commissioner of fish and game, in company with Blaine S. Viles, State forestry commissioner, have returned from Mosquito, where they have been for the purpose of enlarging the fishery there so it will carry double its present capacity of 700,000 trout.

The fishery, which is one of the best in the state, is not able to keep up with its orders and large demand are continually pouring in upon the commissioners to furnish other waters with fish from this hatchery.

GUEST AND "BILLY" GO A-FISHING

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Ox Bow, July 7—Ox Bow was not so far away but that we had a fine celebration "the night before," thank to E. J. Whitehouse of N. Y., a guest at Libby's hospitable caravansary. It took almost two hours to set it off, and the display, which was a varied one, gave great pleasure to the many people present. Since the 4th, "things have settled down to the usual summer level and from now on till winter, and even then, no doubt many autos and buck boards will climb the ridges and slide down their sides on their way to the lakes and beyond.

Recent rain and warm sunshine have pushed the potatoes ahead finely and all other vegetables as well. Reports from all points show that fishing is first-class.

Billy and I went up-river to Hayden's brook last Saturday and returned with 14 nice trout. Billy did the wading, and all the catching while I stayed by "the stuff." We got back home in season for a trout supper prepared in Billy's oven, imitable way. Shall I ever forget it? No, never. To-day we start for a two days' hike to the dead water with canoe and grub for the trip. Billy says the water is just boiling with hungry trout, not large but plentiful.

The bridge is being put in shape, or, rather, the highway, and the leve raised for a much needed improvement.

Sunday a largely attended Sunday school concert was held at the church, Rev. M. M. Smyser, pastor, assisted by Rev. H. B. Stock, of Carlisle, Pa., and J. R. Hemminger of the same place, a very fine gospel singer. An interesting program was greatly enjoyed by the large audience present.

Some guests at Libby's: E. J. Whitehouse, Irvington, on the Hudson, N. Y., R. K. Wood, Ardsley, N. Y., Jas. A. Stellman, Pleasantville, N. Y. They are up river with Willie Fleming, Ed Junkins, Sam Pelky and Frank Murphy as guides.

M. P. Whaples, F. H. Comstock and D. C. S. Comstock, all of East Hartford, Conn., are on the war-path with Will Ambrose, Mel Murphy and Ellis Currier as guides.

R. L. Payne and wife, of New Va., are just leaving to-day to come again for more good trout.

BASE BALL AND TENNIS

The Rangeley Lake House base ball team will play their opening game about the middle of this month and the team will be a first class one. Briggs, Dingley, Wood and Goodspeed of last year's regulars are now hard at work rounding into form. Marble Shields and ex-Captain McClellan are due here soon. The latter has been twirling swell ball of late and is bound to be heard from. About 20 recruits will fight for positions and the regulars are bound to have to work hard for their jobs. All challenges for this season should be addressed immediately to Kenneth A. Wood at the Rangeley Lake House.

The tennis court is in excellent condition and the tennis team has been reorganized at the Rangeley Lake House and the players are now hard at work for the season. Wood, Marble, Goodspeed, Heyl, Vail and Shields will all be on hand and a successful season is looked for. Kenneth Wood will receive all challenges until the new manager is elected. The first tennis tournament of this season was played Saturday and won by Miss Marice Chaffin and Kenneth Wood, who defeated Dr. Bush and Miss Addie Wood in the finals, 6-3, 2-6, 6-2. The features of the match were Miss Chaffin's service and Miss Wood's net playing. Miss Ruth V. K. Eisenhower of Philadelphia, who several years ago won the House championship in tennis is rapidly rounding into her old time form and is the logical choice as this year's winner. Her backhand Lawford which was her weak point two years ago has been greatly improved. Golf, tennis and base ball are now the much talked of coming events.

True Anglers Use

The Williams Barbed Hook

Because it is guaranteed to catch and hold better than a barbed hook, yet you can remove the little fish without injury. Yearlings, spawn, and their killing wastes thousands of eggs, this means certain ruin to a glorious sport. The Williams Barbed hook is a scientific and a practical lure, no mechanism, just its ingenious shape. It stands for a SQUARE deal to the future of the sport: a SQUARE deal to the little fish and a SQUARE deal to yourself as a sportsman. Imported standard flies, $1.60 per dozen, bait hooks 25 cents.

NEW MANAGER FOR

MAINE CENTRAL

General Satisfaction Throughout the State at Promotion of Mr.

George S. Hobbs

It is doubtful if promotion ever brought more satisfaction to the people generally than the selection of Mr. George S. Hobbs of Portland as the vice president and general manager of the Maine Central railroad. The railroad is one of the greatest enterprises in the state and it is especially gratifying that the newly elected manager is a native of Maine, being born in the town of Wells. He is a brother of W. J. Hobbs, vice president of the Boston and Maine railroad. Mr. Hobbs is a thorough railroad man as he has been connected with it for many years, and has been second vice president and comptroller for the past five years and will bring much knowledge and experience to his new office. He is conceded to be one of the ablest business men in the state and the people of Maine are confident of his great ability to handle big affairs. He is broad minded, fair in his dealings and is always willing to listen to both sides of the story and give the people as well as the railroad a square deal.

At the age of 15 Mr. Hobbs entered the employ of the Eastern Railway Co., as clerk. He went West in 1886 to assume the position of auditor of the Marquette, Houghton & Ontonagon railroad in Michigan, returning four years later to become superintendent of car service of the Boston & Maine. He was auditor of the Southern railway three years until 1897 when he came to Portland as auditor of the Maine Central. He was promoted to comptroller in 1902 and was elected second vice president five years ago.

LAKE HOUSE

NEARLY FULL

Automobile Parties Find Good

Roads---Picnics and Horseback Riding is Enjoyed

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Rangeley Lake House, July 16—The middle of July finds nearly 175 guests here, which is more than the usual number before August, when the number will be over 200.

While everyone from the city, as well as the farmer who has tons of hay cut, would like more sunshine, and warmer days, yet this is surely comfortable weather.

The automobile parties claim the Maine roads are better than they find through the Adirondacks.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay S. Jones, their son, Douglas and nurse of Brooklyn, N. Y., are here again for another summer. Mr. Jones is one of the best golf players who comes to the Rangeleys and soon tournaments will be announced and the beautiful cups won.

Mrs. Frank H. Ellis of Philadelphia has this week joined her sister, Mrs. C. R. Adams, for a few weeks' stay.

Mr. and Mrs. George Batters, Miss Batters and Master George of Montclair, N. J. have come for their first trip and express themselves as very much pleased with this place.

Miss Dickev and Miss Elvira Dickey of Philadelphia came Thursday for a month's sojourn.

Mrs. Wm. C. Allen of Portland, who is among the annual comers for the mid summer days, was welcomed on her arrival this week.

D. M. MacHether of Boston was here for the week end.

Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Kelley of Philadelphia were so much pleased with their stay at this hotel in 1912, they have returned for another season.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Look, their daughter, Miss Marjorie, and son, Master Vernon J. Cook, of Baltimore, Md., are among the new comers who remain until September.

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Rich, William L. Jr., and W. J. Hosford of New York, who are touring Maine in their automobile, were here for over the Sabbath.

Mrs. C. A. Morse and daughter, Miss Marion and maid of Chestnut Hill, Mass., have taken rooms here until August.

Everyone had a welcome for Mr. and Mrs. George G. Schaefer and their three charming daughters the Misses Schafer of New York, who have been spending the summer here for several years. They came in their touring car via Quebec and Jackman and report a most delightful trip.

Judge and Mrs. J. K. Beach of New Haven, Conn., are here for a 10 days' stay.

Mrs. E. S. Goodale of Watertown, N. Y., and Miss A. R. Young of Lewiston were here for over Sunday.

Mrs. W. H. Bliss and son, H. M. and daughter, Miss Margaret Bliss, of Chestnut Hill, Mass., have taken rooms at this hotel for July and then will go to their beautiful summer place on the Kennebago road.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Klopman and Miss V. D. S. Mendes of New York, who are touring in their automobile reached here from Bretton Woods, the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Harman, Miss Elsie and Miss Helen Harman of Plainfield, N. J. are among the new comers who remain several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry E. Connors of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. John E. White of Waterville were among the week end guests.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Nuckols of Hartford, Conn., en route for Kennebago, registered here Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Ward, Mrs. J. F. Hall and Charles F. Crossman of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., were among the automobile parties who have tarried here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. George S. Perry of New Bedford, Mass., are at this hotel for a 10 days' stay.

Mrs. Philip Ruxton of Brooklyn, N. Y., came Tuesday to spend some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Ledelely of the same city, who came in May to remain until October.

Dwight Prouty of Framingham, Mass., registered this week for a 10 days' stay.

Coming from Hartford, Conn., in their touring car Jas. H. Tallman, Mrs. Leonard A. Ellis, Miss J. B. Woods en route for Quebec made a short stay here the first of the week.

On Sunday morning the following party of merry young people went to Kennebago Lake House for dinner: Dr. E. A. Bush, Messrs. Kenneth, Luther and Alton Wood, Raymond Adams, Norton Goodspeed and the Misses Rachel Marble, Ruth Eisenhower and Addie Wood. The party went by buckboard, horseback and "hiked it" over the road, all declaring they had a great day.

Misses A. F. and C. E. Day and Nathan B. Day of Brooklyn, N. Y., are spending a few days here.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Paige, Masters Francis and Richard Paige of Boston spent part of the week at this hotel.

Much sympathy is felt for Donald Briggs, one of the popular clerks in the hotel office, who was recently called home on account of the death of his father, Dr. Frederick C. Briggs that occurred in Montreal. Dr. Briggs was well known and much liked by many friends in this part of Maine and his death will be mourned by a large circle of friends.

Last Thursday afternoon Miss Rachel Marble, the "daughter of the house" and a party of eight of the young folks from the hotel, about 4 o'clock took their supper, went over to the Gilman farm, where they made hot coffee and cooked steaks and enjoyed Miss Addie Wood's famous "cheese dreams." In the evening the farm house echoed the laughter of the happy company as they played hide-and-seek, sang songs and told stories. Miss Gladys Gilman, who is now in Switzerland was not forgotten as the key locked the door and the merry makers drove home.

The Gilman cottage on the lake shore has been leased until September by Mrs. A. W. Simpson of New York and the party came this week. Mrs. Simpson, who has spent several summers in this region is a charming lady, who has made many friends while here who wish her a happy summer.

Among those who enjoy horseback riding and galloping over the hills is Francis Bellamey of New York, who is here for the first time and very enthusiastic over the country.

F. W. Emery, the Boston angler, who with Emery Haley, his guide, has been fly fishing at Kennebago for a few days, has returned home.

There is always a large number on the golf links every morning and the days are not half long enough for the many pleasures waiting the happy summer guests at the Rangeley Lake House.

Miss E. S. Back,	101	14—87
Mrs. F. Back,	101	14—96
D. E. Paris	126	25—101

The following coming events on the Oquossoc Golf link, July 19, will be played: Medal Play handicap; July 26, Bogey, handicap and and during the month of August there will be some great work done as there are some very fine players in this region and they come from all the private camps and hotels for miles around:

Aug. 2, Medal Play handicap.

Aug. 9, Gravestone handicap.

Aug. 16, Bogey handicap.

Aug. 29, Medal Play handicap.

Aug. 30, Selected sholes.

Great interest is already being taken in the Women's championship which will be played on August 11 and on August 18 comes the Men's championship.

ALWAYS GOOD LUCK AT THESE CAMPS

S. C. Harden, proprietor of Camp Eothen at Long Pond was in Phillips this week and made the Maine Woods a call. He reports business good at his camps.

Several parties have recently returned home and they all had excellent luck fishing. Mr. Harden is one of the best guides in Maine and he has trails to several ponds which are comparatively easy to make and where one is always sure of good fishing.

Another attraction at these camps is the trip to Saddleback mountain, only about three miles. One passes eight ponds on the way, to this mountain and the scenery cannot be surpassed.

OUR PAPER WELL THOUGHT OF.

Calais, Me., July 11, 1913.

To the Editor of Maine Woods:

I am enclosing you $1 for the renewal of my subscription to the Maine Woods and will say that no periodical comes into my home that is as well thought of as the Maine Woods. My business as a land surveyor and scaler of logs in years that have passed, brought me in many instances in touch with many places mentioned in the paper, making it very interesting to me. It is now six years since I got through and gave up the business that I followed for 40 years. So you can realize what pleasure it is to me to get and read the Maine Woods.

Yours very truly,

LETTER OF EXPLANATION

Some Enquiries Answered In regard to Game Laws of Maine

To the Editor of Maine Woods:

Newburyport, Mass., July 5—In your issue of June 26th the change made by the last legislature in the non-resident hunter's license fee, you state that the $25 fee is only for hunting deer and smaller game is $1 I have before me a copy of the "Maine Woods extra," which purports to be a copy of the "public laws of the state of Maine passed by the 76th Legislature, A. D. 1913." I have carefully read chapter 206 relating to the fish and game laws and fail to find any mention of a non-resident hunting license for $15. Section 51 of said chapter 206 reads "persons not bona fide residents of the state shall not hunt for any bull moose, deer, ducks, partridges in October, Nov. and Dec. Such license shall be issued upon payment of twenty-five dollars to hunt bull moose, deer, ducks, partridges in Oct. Nov. and Dec. But to hunt ducks, partridges and other birds up to Oct. 1st a license fee of five dollars shall be paid. A person having paid the fee of five dollars may procure a license to hunt bull moose, deer and other wild animals and wild birds during the open season on bull moose and deer by paying an additional fee of twenty dollars." If this copy of the law is correct, then I fail to understand the English language if your statement that "the $10. cents additional to the $15 for non-residents hunting license is required only for moose" is correct I trust to receive an explanation.

Very truly,
S. W. Morse.

We have received the following letters in regard to the non-resident hunting license since we published the statement in reply to a communication from Mr. Hunting in our issue of June 26 that the $10 additional was for hunting moose only.

We supposed we were correct as we went to good authority for our information and the gentleman in question was very much surprised when he found that the law read differently.

As Hon. H. B. Austin was a member of the committee on Inland Fisheries and Game of the last legislature he has kindly written a letter of explanation for the benefit of the readers of Maine Woods, which we publish below.

Boston, Mass., July 15.

To the Editor of Maine Woods:

There has been considerable difference of opinion hereabouts as to the exact interpretation of some of the game laws passed at the last session of the Maine Legislature, particularly with reference to the amount of a non-resident's hunting license for the coming season. Personally I had supposed that the fee for hunting deer, birds and smaller game would be $15, with an additional charge of $10 if one desired to hunt moose. Several of my friends, however, one of whom is connected with the Boston Globe maintain that a non-resident hunter can do no hunting in the Maine woods after the deer and moose season opens without the payment of the full license fee of $25. This difference of opinions among non-resident sportsmen apparently is not confined to this immediate vicinity, as I note in your issue of the Maine Woods of June 26, on page 7, there is printed a similar inquiry from a subscriber, C. H. Hutting of Hartford, Conn. Your reply to his letter states "that the $10 additional to the $15 for non-residents' hunting license is required only when the non-resident wishes to hunt for moose, and that the $15 license covers deer, bear and all smaller game."

I have since received, however, a copy of the 1913-14 revision of the Maine Fish and Game laws, which, on page 43, under section 51, clearly states that non-resident hunters cannot hunt during the open season of deer and moose without the payment of the $25 fee. Also I am in receipt of a letter from Chairman Wilson of the Fish and Game Commissioners, dated July 10, in which he also states that "if a non-resident wishes to hunt after Oct. 1 in Maine the fee would be $25." I would suggest that this fact be given due prominence in the coming issue of the Maine Woods, in order that hundreds of other sportsmen throughout New England, who have been as much in the dark as brother Hunting and myself, may know the exact facts and make their hunting plans accordingly. The impression is rapidly gaining ground among non-resident sportsmen that the state of Maine is fast killing the goose which has for so long laid many of her golden eggs. Hundreds of us who believe most thoroughly in legal protection of both hunting and fishing are considerably loath to pay in addition to our carfare, board and guide expenses, a fee of $25 for practically no other purpose than the privilege of hunting deer and partridges. A moose may be seen and even shot once in a blue moon, but no man to-day who wishes to secure a good specimen of moose will stop on the Maine side of the Canadian boundary and it may also be said that good deer hunting may be had in northern New Hampshire upon payment of a license fee of but $10.

The law in New Brunswick for hunting deer, caribou, or moose calls for a total payment of $50 which a non-resident must pay before hunting any of the three species of game mentioned.

If the state of Maine through its Legislatures should exert the same diligence to protect its inland fish and game from the depredations both in seasons and out, of the lumber camps and other native hunters, that it seems so desirous to maintain over the few non-resident hunters, it would take a long and most efficient step forward in the conservation of its wild life, and the pleasure of hunting and fishing not only for those of us of this generation, but those to come in future years.

Yours truly,
H. A. Robinson.

Farmersville, Ohio, July 18.

J. W. Brackett Co.,

Gentlemen: I am somewhat interested in the game laws of Maine and will ask you to tell me by enclosed card what changes there are in the deer and moose law, or rather the changes in the license law. I have been told the license to hunt deer and moose is $25 instead of $15 as before. I have been asked several times in regard to the changes but was not sure about it; thought perhaps it was raised only on the moose but would like to know if it includes deer also.

Yours truly,
L. Kentz.

To the Editor of Maine Woods:

In accordance with your request for an explanation of how the non-residents hunters' license came to be raised from $15 to $25 I would say that as a member of the committee on Inland Fisheries and Game of the last Legislature which revised the fish and game laws I was much surprised to notice that according to Section 51 of the revised laws which relates to non-resident hunters' licenses, "Such licenses shall be issued by the commissioners of inland fisheries and game upon application in writing and payment of $25 to hunt bull moose, deer, ducks, partridges, woodcock and other birds and wild animals during their respective open seasons and in the manner provided by law in October, November and December."

Early in the last session of the Legislature an order was passed providing for the arranging, collating and revision of the fish and game laws by a committee consisting of the Commissioners of Inland Fisheries and Game and the Legislative Committee on Inland Fisheries and Game and empowering this revision committee to employ legal counsel for the above named purpose. This committee organized at once and held frequent sessions throughout the winter as the amount of work entailed proved to be enormous. The laws were carefully gone over section by section as fast as they were worked into shape for revision, private and special laws were dropped from the statutes as far as the committee deemed it advisable, their idea being that a much simpler and less bulky code of laws was needed. But, notwithstanding the constant and hard work of the Commissioners and counsel and of the Legislative committee, the laws as revised, could not be gotten into shape for enactment in a body until the closing hours of the session and not until too late to advertise and give public hearings upon the proposed revision by sections as originally planned.

The fight in the legislature over the proposed four years close time

IN SUCH PAIN WOMAN TORE HER CLOTHES

Testifies She Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Malone, N. Y., — "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has certainly done me a lot of good. I first heard of it when I was a girl and I always said that if I ever had female trouble I would take it.

"I suffered from organic inflammation and would have spells when I would be in such pain that I would tear my clothes. One day my husband got the neighbors in to see what the matter was but they could not help me. My first thought was for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I sent my husband out for it and took it until I was entirely cured. I am a woman of perfect health and my health and happiness came from Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine. You may rest assured that I do all I can to recommend your wonderful medicine to my friends." — MRS. FRED STONE, Route No. 3, Malone, N. Y.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills.

on moose was prolonged until the last week of the session which was devoted to enacting laws and was finally compromised by a proposition to cut down the open time to one month instead of six weeks as formerly and to increase the non-resident license to hunt moose from $15 to $25. I never heard the proposition to make this increase in the non-resident license to $25 to apply to any other game hunting excepting moose, discussed in or out of the committee and not until the laws were published did I have any idea that such a provision was embodied in the revised law.

I have absolutely no explanation to offer as to how this provision came to be embodied in the law as now written and if any other members of the committee have any knowledge whatever of the reason for it I should be very glad to hear from them.

I know it was not the policy of this committee to sanction any changes in the laws which would tend to keep from the state any part of the large number of visiting sportsmen who annually come here to hunt deer and game birds, but on the other hand it was their policy to try and simplify our fish and game laws and thus make them easier to understand by not only non-resident but by our resident sportsmen.

I think I can speak for the Legislative committee in expressing regret that during the closing hours of the Legislature it was impossible to go over again the whole law in detail and by a few further changes improve what otherwise I believe to be the best code of our fish and game laws ever enacted into law.

Harry B. Austin.

NOTES FROM EAST SUMNER

Catches Some Good Brook Trout On West Branch--Pickerel and Hornpout Also Rising.

(Special to Maine Woods.)

East Sumner, Me., July 7—Seldom Barrett and Morris Fogg have done quite a lot of work around their cottage at Shagg pond. They have built a cosy little stable for three horses which is a wonderful improvement over having to keep the teams over a mile from camp. Seldom says, "It gives one much more time to smoke."

Percy Redding recently caught a salmon at Shagg pond that weighed 3½ pounds.

Allie Barrows of East Sumner caught a large pickerel and a black bass from North pond the 5th, the latter weighing 3½ pounds.

A few days ago Corey Bonney caught 11 brook trout on the West Branch. All were 10 inches and some more than 10. There seems to be no trout at all here on the East Branch.

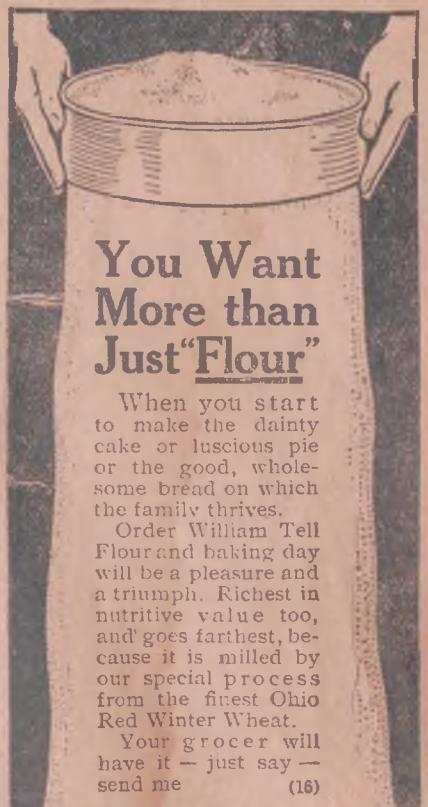

Bert Thomas called here Saturday and we held a hearty conversation for a good half hour, the subject being coon dogs, silent trailers and open trailers the advantages pro and con. Of course we both had to admit that we loved to listen to the beautiful music from the open trailer. Still we are well aware of the fact that coons have great advantage in reaching their dens or bad places in ledges with the open trailer, where with the noiseless dog it is a case of compulsion, of climbing the first tree at hand or fight.

Just a few days ago Harold Spaulding and my two sons, Lionel and Irving spent the afternoon on Labrador pond in Floyd Varney's boat. When they returned home they had a string of pickerel and hornpout four feet in length.

July 8 Wesley Hammond, a former neighbor, and his family went through here by auto on their way to Kennebeco on a vacation.

MANY FISH RECORDED

Young Men in Port Lodge--Steam- er Florence Again Making Daily Trips.

(Special to Maine Woods.)

The Barker, Mooselookmeguntic lake, July 7.—The Goodfriend party of New York have chartered the motor boat "Red Spot" and have Gard Hinkley for guide. They fish every day and Miss Ruth Goodfriend has the last week recorded three salmon that weighed as follows: 3 pounds, 4½ pounds and 3 pounds each, but Miss Goodfriend will not give up fishing until she gets a big fellow.

Meyer D. Rothschild, wife, son and daughter of New York city left for home this morning after a pleasant week in camp.

Oscar Parker was their guide and Mr. Rothschild has recorded a pair of salmon 3½ pounds and 3½ pounds and Master Rothschild a ten year old lad brought to net a 3 pound trout.

A party of five young men from Boston are for July located in Port Lodge cabin. These young men are M. L. Lourie, A. B. Lourie, R. H. Wyner, E. N. and I. A. Wyner. They are having the time of their lives, boating, bathing, swimming, fishing, etc. R. H. Wyner is a fine swimmer and this morning with ease, took a swim over to Bowley rock and back to the wharf.

Myer Dana and son of Boston are here for a ten days' stay.

Palmetto Camp is taken until September by Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Rosenberg, their daughters Mildred and Grace Rosenberg and governess of New York city.

Mrs. S. Brady of New York and their daughter are here for a month's sojourn and have rooms in the hotel. Their friends, Mrs. S. Wohlaner and daughter, Miss Lulu B. are with them.

E. Banner of New York, who is here for a month with Oscar Parker guide, caught a 3 pound salmon and a 3½ pound trout this week.

Two well known Boston ladies, Miss Maud M. and Miss Alice E. Rockwell are in camp here, while their brother Geo. A. Rockwell, a Boston lawyer and two friends of the same city, Messrs. Wm. J. De-Normandie and B. P. Mann are at Arlington Lodge with Austin Hutton guide.

Capt. Barker has recently purchased a Ford touring car that he will use for his guests to take trips over the country.

The steamboat Florence which is all dressed out in new paint and has a new engine, is making daily trips over the water. Capt. Nate Barrett at the helm.

VALUABLE VACATION INFORMATION.

Vacation time usually suggests to the readers of this journal thoughts of New England and the "hub" of New England is Boston, where any trip to any point in that vast recreation country always starts. There arises the question—"what hotel shall I stop at when passing through Boston?"

The Commonwealth Hotel, on Beacon Hill, answers this question in a thorough and delightful way. It is situated on one of the highest points in the capital of the old Bay State, in fact, one can actually see Boston Light, nine miles distant from the windows of its upper floors, comfortable, away from the noise of the city and yet within easy walking distance of every point of interest. It is a delightful place for ladies to stop at, unaccompanied by gentlemen, being a temperance hotel, under the management of Storer F. Crafts, one of the country's best known and most successful hotel managers. It might be added that it is located opposite Boston's historic and beautiful State House. Rates are reasonable running from $1.00 per day up. Better write at once for handsomely illustrated booklet.

MANY DEER ARE SEEN

Dixville Notch Trip Popular-- Party Enthusiastic Over Wild Beauty of Maine

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Lakewood Camps, Middle Dam, July 11.—The middle of July finds the fishing good and the water cool and delightful.

Yesterday the tourists on the steamboat when coming through the Narrows had the rare sight of seeing five deer in their native home. They were taking a promenade along the shore and stopped for a drink in the lake and did not seem to think they were attracting any attraction.

To-day a huge eagle was seen to make a flight over the Narrows.

A party coming down the lake for their first trip, although they have traveled much in this and foreign lands said, "we have never taken a more beautiful sail, and through such a vast wilderness, why don't people write more of the wild grand beauty of the Rangeley lakes?" It is like the beautiful things we have all around us, although we know of the charms of this region, we forget others do not.

Mr. and Mrs. Nath. N. Thayer of Boston after a most delightful stay of six weeks, regretfully started homeward yesterday, and although they have been coming to the Rangeleys for many years said, "we have never had better fishing in all the years we have cast the fly on the waters."

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Burlingame and daughter Miss Katherine of Providence, R. I., are here for their first season. They have the bungalow and are greatly pleased with the place. They had good fly fishing although no large ones have as yet come to their net.

Coming to this wild country for the first time, Mrs. R. Marshall Truitt, her two sons, R. Marshall Jr. and Samuel Stokes Truitt and Mrs. E. V. Wistar of Germantown, Penn., are now happily located in one of the log camps for a stay of several weeks and are very enthusiastic over the country.

Lee Bailey and party of New York, made a stay of several days here this week.

On Sunday the following party of people from Andover: Gladys B. Pratt, Eva M. Ratcliff, Walter M. Colby and Harry Roberts of Lewiston were here for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Kolbe, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Palsky, Akron, Ohio, who are touring the country in their automobile left their car in Portland and spent part of the week here. They were greatly delighted with the country and had a most enjoyable outing.

Prof. C. H. Wiswell of Lexington, Mass., who is here for several weeks was on Wednesday joined by his wife for the remainder of July.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Crabtree, Chas. B. and Miss Crabtree and Miss Seely of Newburg, N. Y., were here this week on their way home via Dixfield Notch and White Mountains.

Misses K. W. and B. Stevens of Philadelphia are here for the first time enjoying life in a log cabin.

William S. Livingston, Jr. who arrived the first of June has returned to New York for a short stay.

The Union Water Power Company are now taking the flowage of water over the new dam at the Pond-in-the-River.

There have been a number of parties return home this week but others have taken their places and soon the August days will find a packed house.

The walk on the road from here to Sunday cove has a great attraction for those who enjoy the birds and wild flowers and often a deer is met on the way.

The travel from here through Dixville Notch, stopping at the Balsams then making the trip to Quebec or through the White Mountains promises to be more popular this year than ever before.

REST ROOM AT STATE HOUSE.

Superintendent of Buildings, McFadden has transformed the coat room adjoining the private office of State Librarian Prince into a cosy and attractive rest parlor for visitors to the Capitol. Supt. McFadden found half a dozen discarded easy chairs with a pretty center table, around the State House and this furniture, which would bring only low prices for second hand articles, he decided to utilize "at home" so he dug up a rug somewhere in the building and with the chairs and table made the parlor for the public's benefit. It is especially, appreciated by lady visitors after making a tour of the State House. So, also are those easy rocking chairs on the east veranda, another of the superintendent's innovations.

BANGOR PARTY TOP LINERS AT LAKE SEBASTICOOK.

Lake Sebasticook, July 7.—The fishing season at lake Sebasticook has opened with a rush says the Bangor Commercial. Saturday and Sunday were pretty busy days here, and the lake was dotted with boats from daylight until darkness blotted out the scene. Summer visitors have arrived by the carload and cottages are already at a premium. The catches of white perch have been large and the size of the fish has equalled any previous record.

In spite of the fact that many new boats have been put in commission this season, there is a demand for every one of them. The various resorts around the lake were well patronized and everything looks favorable for the biggest season that lake Sebasticook has ever seen.

For the benefit of the uninformed it may be well to state here that lake Sebasticook lies wholly within the town of Newport, its western shores being but five minutes' walk from the station at Newport Junction, which is the railroad name for the village. Newport village is an up-to-date, hustling community, with all the modern improvements including sewers, electric lights and a plentiful supply of water from a spring-fed lake, which lies a few miles above the town on the northerly side of Stuart hill. To reach lake Sebasticook by rail, take any of the Maine Central R. R. trains to Newport Junction and a short walk up Water street to the boat landing. In making the trip by automobile simply take the regular route between Bangor and Waterville, which passes directly through the village of Newport.

Automobile supplies and repairs, fishing tackle and sporting goods may be obtained at several places in the village. One of the best hotels along the route is located at the upper end of Main street while summer hotels, cottages, camps and vacant lots for those who wish to pitch a tent are scattered along the shores of the lake. If one cares for scenery, a short drive to the top of Stuart's hill at sunset will disclose features undreamed of, even by many of the residents of the village at its base. Eastward from the foot of the hill stretches the silvery waters of lake Sebasticook, broken by innumerable points clothed in Nature's garb of green. In the near distance the deep blue of the Dixmont hills make a perfect background for the beautiful village of Newport. Away to the northward, 50 miles as the crow flies glorious old Barren mountain looms above the horizon but a few shades lighter than the blue sky around it, standing guard over another of Maine's jewels lake Onawa, which lies at its very base. The view to the westward after sunset, is in striking contrast to the delicate tints of silver, blue and green which make up the scenery. The background now is a vivid orange, red and yellow against which the clean-cut peaks of Mt. Abram, Bigelow, Saddleback and many lesser mountains in Franklin county, stand out like clean-cut cameos. A visitor at the lake, who has lived in Maine all his life, went into ecstasies one evening last week over a Sebasticook sunset, remarking that he had never seen its equal in the past. Mere words cannot describe its varied attractions, but one trip to lake Sebasticook will convince the most skeptical.

So far as could be learned the top liners at the lake Sunday were the members of a Bangor party who engaged the launch Winona for the day and consisting of the following gentlemen: Charles L. Chalmers, John L. Chalmers, Edward T. Hatten, Harry S. Blake, Chas. L. Bachelder, L. C. White, Harold White, Paul White, John Moran, Chas. P. Taylor. The party arrived by auto and train Saturday afternoon. They made their headquarters at the Club House, but took their meals at Ferncliffe Inn, the new resort at Woodland park. The catch was made about one half mile off Turner's shore and the fish were certainly beauties, many of them running over 14 inches in length. The members of the party were expert fishermen without an exception which accounts in a great measure for the large catch. The party thoroughly enjoyed the pleasures of lake Sebasticook, not the least of which were the delicious meals served at Ferncliffe Inn, and returned to Bangor Sunday evening well satisfied with their luck.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar L. Olsen, Mr. and Mrs. Edw. A. Forseth, Miss Anna J. Forseth, Earle Craig of Bangor, Nelson Morrison of Montreal and Miss Jennie Johnson of Boston spent the week end at lake Sebasticook.

DUNN MOUNTING HIS TROUT

Deer Skylarking Around--And Signs of Beaver Very Much In Evidence

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Saddleback Lake Camps, Dallas, July 15.—There is a jolly crowd visiting at Saddleback Lake camps consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford W. Beers, and Mr. and Mrs. John P. Cushing of New Haven, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Dunn of Parks Hill, N. Y., with their children Allison and Rebecca Dunn and Mr. and Mrs. James Weensmith of Taunton, Mass. The main cabin has been enlarged; the new office is very commodious. Two new camps have been put up and a busy season is being enjoyed.

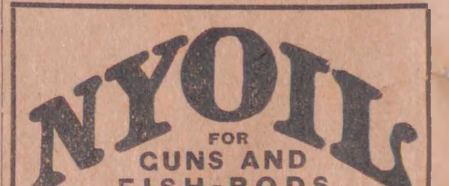

Allison Dunn is mounting his 2½ pound trout, caught on a Parmachenee Belle.

A new fire patrol station has been established on Saddleback mountain and five miles of wire has connected it with these camps and by a switch to the outside world. This station will prove of great service to the whole Rangeley region. Wm. Haines is the fire warden in charge.

While a party was enjoying the evening fishing in the south cove, they were startled at a great splashing in the water. Looking at the shore they saw four deer skylarking in the pads very much as kittens would play in the back yard. It's nothing to see from four to six at a time almost any day.

While exploring the beaver section the other day we were amazed at the number of poplar trees, some big ones too, that the beavers had gnawed down. The paper pulp men have probably seen this, too, as their wood choppers are taking out some of the standing poplar.

Mr. and Mrs. Blackwell are keeping up their reputation as obliging and cheerful landlords. The table is bang up and those pies—did you ever eat any of them?

State Assessors Making Trip-- Party Count Nearly 30 Deer--- Many Automobile Parties.

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Mooselookmeguntic House, Haines Landing, June 28--J. E. Stevens and cousin J. S. Stevens of Lewiston spent the Fourth enjoying the quiet and coolness of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Headlaund of New York are here for a visit and expect to catch the largest fish in the lake.

Dr. F. A. Hayden of Portland has returned again for a short time. Dr. Hayden is one of the most enthusiastic fly fishermen; Quimby pond appeals to him. Together with Welch and Tom Canadian as guides, he manages to catch the limit each day and states that is the only "real" way of catching fish.

The many friends of Miss Lillie Hannery of New York welcomed her again at Mooselookmeguntic House. On her last trip here she caught one of the largest fish of the season and this years hopes to beat her former record.

While New York, Boston and the whole country are suffering with the extreme heat the Mooselookmeguntic House, as usual, is the coolest spot in the region. The thermometer on the hotel piazza registered 81 the hottest day we have had. The thermometer ranges from 70 to 74 with a fine cooling breeze across 12 miles of water.

"There's luck in No. 13" said Roberts, manager of the telephone exchange of Rumford. "We had boat No. 13 and we caught two 6 pound salmon to-day. This proves that 13 is not the hoodoo generally believed."

Dr. A. H. Spicer of Westerly, R. I., Seth Thomas and E. A. Thomas, of the Thomas Clock Co., of Thomaston, Conn., are located in Camp No. 3. While the Thomas Brothers have been here before, this is Dr. Spicer's first trip to the Rangeley region.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Carpenter of Pawtucket, R. I., are back at Crow's Nest, their attractive camp on the high rock next to the hotel. They have as a guest their friend Miss Annie T. Green of Providence, R. I.

Miss J. C. Nickerson of Searsport, who drove her own Peerless touring car reached here Wednesday afternoon. Miss Nickerson was accompanied by Mrs. H. E. Nickerson, Mrs. F. E. Roulstons, Miss R. M. Ross and Miss J. C. Nickerson also of Searsport. They came Wednesday from Skowhegan via Dead River and were very enthusiastic over the scenery and said, "we had no idea there was anything half as beautiful in Maine as this region." After a short stay in one of the cabins here they started for the White Mountains.

Everyone had a kind greeting for George O. Coon of New York on his arrival here this week after an absence of two years. Mr. Coon came here several years ago in very poor health. For months he lived in one of these log cabins spending most of his time out in the open and now he comes in perfect health and declares "I owe my life to the months I spent here, is it any wonder I love the Mooselookmeguntic House?" As Mr. Coon came up the steps "Brownie" the dog knew him at once and went to meet him and in every possible way told how glad he was to see him. With Ed Lowell for guide Mr. Coon will try his luck fishing for a few days. Thursday he was joined by his friend E. S. Foster of Boston and together they visited every familiar spot on the lake. "Each spot" said Mr. Coon "is full of the pleasantest and happiest recollections to me and I am surely coming back in September as I haven't spent half time enough here."

FOREST AND STREAM PUB. CO., 127 FRANKLIN ST., NEW YORK

log cabin the ideal way to spend the summer, but cannot understand why the laws of Maine allow the plug fishing, which is surely not the way the true angler wishes to catch one of the gamy trout and salmon.

The Little Brown Tea House on the trail is now open and many of the tourists tarry for a cup of tea as they pass by.

July 13--The last week has been a busy one here, several families have come for a long sojourn and the register tells the fact that there have been over 100 arrivals more the first half of July this season than last and more are booked for a longer stay in the cabins than ever before.

Saturday a special steamer was engaged by the people here to take them on Rangeley lake to Mingo Springs to watch the game of base ball between the West Rangeley and Haines Landing teams. The party came home late in the afternoon cheering for their own team as the Mooselookmeguntic team won 13 to 7.

Richard Hoe with Frank Fall for guide had a great time on a camping trip this week to Lincoln pond where they had excellent fly fishing and counted nearly 30 deer. Richard got some extra good shots with his camera, showing the deer in their wilderness home. Mr. Hoe, who is here with his son and daughter is nephew of Col. Richard Hoe the inventor of the Hoe printing press, that was made in New York, but was first used in London, England, by the London Times.

Franklin County people are always bragging about their fast horses and the city people who come and go over the carry to Haines Landing are now talking about the handsome bay horse with black points "Arius" owned by Mrs. Mabel Burns, who handles the reins with much skill as she often drives over the road. Arius not only won the silver cup offered for the championship of New Hampshire on the ice at Strafford where he made the fastest quarter in 29 1/2, but on the track at Rangeley without training and driven by Mrs. Burns made the fastest time ever recorded on that track for half a mile 1.09. Arius is a great pet and will put his nose into the pocket of a friend for a lump of sugar and seems to enjoy the compliments that are given him. He was foaled by Garett Wilkes, son of Onward, dam Fanny Duroe (dam of Lirus 219 1/2) a Iowa Duroe, grandam Dutch by Carisian and bred in Iowa and made the record of 2.16 1/4 at Holyoke, Mass., and will no doubt beat his own record some future day.

Game Warden Ed Lowell on Saturday returned from a trip to Umbagog lake where he was looking after the law breakers. W. L. Brown of Upton has learned that beef, even if high is much less expensive than deer meat in July. Brown shot two deer and was arrested, taken to Bethel before Justice Albert Bennett of Gil-ead and fined. He paid and settled the cost and we hope is a wiser man, for our Maine fish and game laws are made to keep and the people are only too anxious for the wardens to attend to their duty.

The State Assessors and party, who are making their annual trip to this region registered here Saturday, they are Hon. J. J. Dearborn of Newburg, Hon. B. G. McIntire, who is accompanied by his wife and daughter Miss Kathleen of East Waterford and Hon. E. M. Johnstone and wife of Brownville. To-day the party took a trip to Kennebago and the first of the week will stop in Phillips.

G. W. Jennan, Jr. of New York Princeton College 1915 has joined a party of friends for vacation days here.

Mrs. Hiram Snyder of Ridgewood, N. J., Mrs. W. H. Hendrickson and her three sons, W. H. Jr., Frank D. and J. B. Hendrickson, who have taken camps here for their first season, express themselves as greatly pleased with the place and the young men think they never found such a fine place for vacation days.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Morris and son Dorrance and Mrs. E. P. Swift of New York city are here for a long stay. Mr. Morris is chief engineer of the Cape Cod canal.

The following party from Stanford, Conn., who were touring through Maine in their automobiles tarried here this week: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Roberts, Miss Dorothy, John E. and Franklin Roberts. They reported the roads in excellent condition and were greatly pleased with the grand scenery they found in Maine.

Rudolph C. Hedlund of New York, well-known organist and his wife find this an ideal place for rest and recreation.

"Is anyone going fishing these days?" Oh yes, every day one can count from six to 20 boats out on the clay banks plug fishing.

Master M. H. Taylor and brother J. C. Taylor, of Philadelphia with Harry Nelson, guide, caught a 3 1/4 and a 3 pound salmon this week. Mrs. Taylor, accompanied her boys and guide for a two days' trip over to Richardson pond, where they had good fly fishing and saw several deer.

Camping trips to the different ponds seem to be quite the fad, as this is a most central location to take such trips in all directions.

Kenneth Wilson of Bowdoinham of Bates college 1916 is acting as clerk and assisting Miss Richardson in the postoffice.

Mrs. Austin Bruff has this week been joined by her sister, Miss Edna W. Birdsell, of New York.

Edward Bunner, a young gentleman from New York, is one of the merry party of young people now here and the days are crowded with pleasure for them, boating, fishing, bathing, tennis, camping and mountain climbing in the day and dancing, music and cards in the evening.

HOW JIM POND WAS NAMED

Fish and Game Found in Abundance--Many Nearby Ponds Afford Opportunities for Tramping and Fishing

(Special to Maine Woods.)

Eustis July 14--The name Jim pond is unconventional but it is true. There were three trappers whose historical names were James, Timothy and Sutton. They separated at the Dead River and struck out for new trapping grounds into the unexplored wilderness. Sutton made his headquarters on a stream which appears on the map as Sutton brook; Timothy located on Tim pond and James on Jim pond. This pond is the center of the township bearing its name up among the Appalachians in Franklin county in the northwestern part of the state within 20 miles of the Canada line, some distance northeast of Rangeley lake.

Jim lake might be a better descriptive name, as the body of water on the shores of which the camps are located is three miles long and one and a half miles wide. It is irregular in outline and the bold, ledgy mountains which shadow the deep clear water give a picturesque setting of remarkable beauty. The lake is 2450 feet above sea level, in the heart of the wild forest, yet easily and conveniently reached and with daily mail facilities.

The atmosphere here is delightfully pure, dry and balsamic. The relief from the air of the cities and sea coast is commented upon by all. The refreshing vitalizing effect of the life in these woods is an old story.

The cabins of Jim Pond Camps, seven in number, are on the western shore of the lake. Those who contemplate a sojourn in a Maine camp for the first time will be interested to know that the cabins are built of logs, cut on the spot and fitted up in true backwoods style, yet with every reasonable convenience for comfort. Each camp has a stove and there is plenty of firewood. An open fire is agreeable nearly every summer evening and in the hunting season there is no trouble in keeping warm.

The fish in the lake grow to a very large size. In Little Jim pond, 25 minutes' walk from camp, are found the large brown and rainbow trout besides ordinary brook trout. The north branch of Dead River is a mile from camp, affording most excellent trout fishing. There are two inlets to the "home" pond; trout in both. Trails from 15 minutes to an hour long radiate in all directions from Jim Pond Camps, leading to other smaller lakes, rivers and streams, among which are Little Jim, Shallow, Greenbush and Butler ponds; North Branch Dead River, Northwest Inlet and Jim Pond streams. There are numerous small ponds made by beavers, full of trout that rise freely to the fly.

The deer are here in great numbers and are a common sight through the summer. Guests who stay into September are generally persuaded by the sight of such an abundance of game to remain at least a week of the hunting season to take or send home the two deer which the Maine law allows each to kill. The deer greatly outnumber the moose, yet the woods have moose signs in plenty and on a tramp from Jim Pond Camps the sportsman sees either moose tracks or peelings and when least expected, the moose itself, a sight never to be forgotten. There are also bear, foxes, wildcats, fishers, beavers, duck and partridge waiting for the hunter.

For particulars in regard to Jim Pond Camps see the ad on page 8 of this paper.

Service Counts!

The million dollar "Hump" at Mechanicsville is the latest development in freight yard construction.

A freight train is backed up the slight incline to the "Hump." There the train is broken up.

The cars are then carried by gravity each to its classified track.

The older method required backing the entire train to place one car.

This is only one of many ways devised to give you the best freight service on the continent.

MANY NEW COMERS AT YORK CAMPS

Party Go to Hunting Camp to Have Real Bona Fide Outing

(Special to Maine Woods).

York Camps, Loon Lake, July 14—Every thing running smoothly and everybody having "the time of our lives" at the camps.

Some have to leave and return to the busy life in the outside world; but when one goes others come and whether or not according to the rule of four minus one plus four will soon have the cabins full to overflowing.

The Rourke party of three left last week and among the new arrivals to take their place and make things lively about the lake and woods are: Miss Sally Peters of New York city, Messrs. Harry Markun and Monroe Robert Mayer of New York city, Miss Susannah Usher of Cambridge, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Neilson of New York city, Dr. G. P. Long of Brooklyn, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Small of Boston and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Kilborn, Jr. of Portland.

So much has been said and written about fishing and the big catches in and about the lakes of Maine, we will refrain from saying more than "there are just a good fish" as ever were taken out, still in Loon lake waiting for the fly that looks enticing enough for a strike, and Dr. Green and Mrs. Green, Dr. Long and Mr. Ralph Neilson are after them "believe me."

Parties are going and coming from York Camps on Loon lake to the hunting cabins where with their guides they have the real virgin woods, not yet desecrated by the axe of man, in which to enjoy the perfect simple life. Dr. and Mrs. Raymond with their guide returned Saturday from an ideal outing.

Messrs. Markun, Mayer and MacNamara with the nature loving gentleman Mr. Bartram and their guide, Lee Wilcox, left yesterday for one of Mr. York's hunting camps where they purpose having a real bona fide outing in the beautiful woods of Maine. Too bad we could not have some of Mr. Bartram's interesting wood-lore tales with which—like the tales of Hamlet's dead father he will cause each and every hair to stand on end like the quills on the porcupine. Could we get them first hand we might be tempted to lengthen our columns.

The two new fireplaces made of immense rocks with picturesque inlays of quartz and wide concrete mantels are greatly admired by the guests at York Camps.

Truthful James.

NEWS NOTES FROM MINGO

Mingo Hill, July 15—The glorious Fourth passed quietly with us on our hilltop from which point of vantage we saw the many motor boats, steamers and smaller crafts passing down the lake to the shoot and other contests at Mountain View, and back again. On such a day one can realize how numerous the motor boats have become on our lakes, ranging from the modest motor dory to the flashing hydroplane. Crafts with sails are still conspicuous by their absence and since the pretty sloop owned and sailed by James Munyon, Jr., for several years has been out of commission and rotting on its ways at the springs the lake has seen no sails until this summer. Recently Mr. Baldwin, an old time guest at Mountain View has braved the tricky winds with a sailing canoe and to-day this canoe and another lashed together with long poles, forming something like a catamaran, although different from that by having a sail on each canoe. This novel contrivance seemed to be quite seaworthy as it braved the gales prevailing that forenoon but evidently lacked the ability of sailing into the wind as its owner was unable to get back to Mountain View by sailing against the howling westerly wind and ran into Mingo Springs.

Last Saturday we had a ball game on the hotel field, the West Rangeleys being pitted against a strong team from Haines Landing gotten up by Herbert Welch who also is a member of the West Rangeleys, but this time he showed his friends on our local team some pretty fast ball playing, his nine winning out easily by a score of 13 to 8 in seven innings. The game was called en innings. The game was called while the visitors were at the bat in the first half of the eighth with three scores more to their credit and only two men out, the insistent tooting of the "Rangeley's" whistle calling the boys from down the lake from the field.

To-day the West Rangeleys went to the village to play the Lake House team the game ending in a tie after nine innings with the game 2 and 2 game called on account of rain.

To-day is St. Swithens day and if the old superstition that rain to-day means 40 days more of it, is justified, we certainly are doomed to have a wet summer, for a threatening sky from early morning with occasional sprinkle has finally resulted in a decided down pour as night closes in. Hayng has just commenced and the first outing is still unharvested and looks like a total loss. The outlook for this year's hay crop is not encouraging.

Daniel P. Hays, a prominent New York attorney has recently moved into his bungalow which was built this season for him by his guide, Fred Fowler, on a shore lot he bough of me between Mingo Springs and Oakes' camps. Mr. and Mrs. Hays, with their daughter, Bessie, have enjoyed camp life greatly with Fred as cook and general factotum, although they came near to losing his services for good about a week ago. He was setting up the kitchen range when he fell heavily upon the stove pipe cutting a bad gash in his hand. The cut severed two arteries and being alone he had hard work stopping the flow of blood but finally succeeded on applying a tourniquet and getting to the Springs where Dr. Ross, who was hastily summoned dressed the wound taking several stitches to close it. Fred pluckily resumed his duties and was rowing his boat the next day.

Our family of deer are still with us, a large buck with horns showing plainly. Although in the velvet it showed up in a little grove close to our camps one forenoon recently and came out within 50 yards of us while the whole family, stood in the doorway and looked him over with an opera glass. He strolled off across lots towards Hay's camp, where loud hammering was heard and in a short time came out of the grove between our camp and the hotel as tame as domestic cattle. Another day Farmer Nile, while digging his potatoes, was startled by a loud whistle in the grove behind him and turned just in time to see a deer disappear among the trees. This was also near the middle of the day and close by both our homes.

Baggage, express and freight are being badly delayed and some times lost or stolen en route to this point. Guests at the Springs are still without trunks which should have reached here weeks ago. I had perishable goods delayed two days over schedule time and a shipment of four pieces of freight came in detachments, the first lot, in four days and the last box ten days from date of shipment. The last one had been robbed of most of its contents on the way.

Would it not be worth while for the railway employers' unions to devote some of their energies to improving their members both as to their efficiency and their honesty.

The firm from which I purchased the goods has a foot note on its letter sheets which appeals to me so strongly that I am sending it along hoping that you will publish it and so help along a much needed reform by the discontinuance of stilted unnecessary and insincere phrases and addresses in correspondence.

This is it: "We have never heard a good reason for the use of "dear Madam, dear Sir, yours very truly," and other similar phrases in business correspondence. For the sake of accuracy, brevity and economy we have discontinued their use."

Willing Panhandler.

Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia, was accosted one day by a drunken panhandler, who asked for a dime. The archbishop gave him the dime and said: "My friend, don't you think it would be possible for you to walk in the straight and narrow path?" The panhandler straightened up, "Who? me?" he asked. "Show it to me. I used to be a tight-rope walker."—Saturday Evening Post.

One Mistake He Made.

"Your son seems very clear-headed." "Yes; he's a smart boy. Only he made a mistake once. He said, 'Father, now is th' time to fail,' so we failed, and made good money from it. Only if we had waited till th' next week we would have burned out!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.
